Cut into pieces for serving and dip in fine crumbs. Then in 1 beaten egg to which you have added 1 tablespoon cold water, then in crumbs again. Have fat almost smoking hot—about ½-inch deep in pan—and drop in the fish. Turn over when under side is golden brown. When both sides are golden brown fish will be done unless fillets are extra thick. Drain on unglazed paper. Sprinkle with salt and serve with tartare sauce—which is merely mayonnaise to which you have added some finely chopped sweet pickle and olives and parsley.

I believe I have mentioned smoked whitefish to you before but if you have missed this delicacy be sure to pick up a little sample piece next time you visit the fish store. Broil this and serve it with lemon. It is a new fish treat.

Stuffed Lake Whitefish

Have the fish dealer bone a large whitefish but do not let him separate it into fillets—merely have him take out the bones so it can be folded back into shape again. Wash and dry the fish. Stuff with 1 cup cooked celery, 3 tablespoons minced onion sauteed in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons sage, about 2 cups day old crumbs, ¾ teaspoon pepper, and some chopped sweet pickle if desired. Mix these together, press firmly in the cavity in the prepared fish, tie together, and brush skin of fish with melted butter or cooking oil, or lay 2 strips of bacon on it. Sprinkle with salt, paprika and pepper. Bake at 425 deg Fahr. for about 30 minutes—test to see if fish "flakes" at thickest part. Remove from heat and served as soon as done. Serve with lemon wedges dipped in chopped parsley.

Baked Halibut with Herb Sauce

In bottom of baking pan place 4 thin slices salt pork; cover this with 1 sliced onion, a broken bay leaf, then place halibut steaks on it. Mix together with a spoon 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Spread this on top of the fish. Mix together ½ cup soft bread crumbs and 1 tablespoon melted butter, and sprinkle these over fish. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 40 minutes or until fish will 'flake' at bone. Drain off fat from baking dish. Stir 3 tablespoons flour into it, then stir in 1½ cups hot milk, and add shake of salt, pepper and cayenne. Cook, stirring until thickened. Pour around fish, and serve at once.

BONAPARTE'S IDEA

Napoleon Bonaparte originated the idea of add and even house numbers for different sides of the street.

SUBMERSIBLE MAGGOT

The rat-tailed maggot, living under water, breathes air by extending its tail to the surface, like a diver's airline.

MORE FORD TRUCKS
in use in Canada than any other make

Bonus* Built to LAST LONGER

* MILLION-DOLLAR CAB
* EXTRA-STRONG FRAMES
* POWERFUL V-8 ENGINES
* EXTRA-TOUGH AXLES
* EXTRA WORK RESERVES

Ford Trucks are built with extra value—and extra-strength—in every vital part. They give you more truck-engineered features . . . a wider range of utility . . . extra features for driving ease and comfort. That's why Canadians everywhere use more Ford Trucks, on more jobs, than any other make!

*BONUS: "Something given in addition to what is usual or strictly due."—Webster's Dictionary

I MUST HAVE ECONOMY!

Every dollar saved is a dollar added to business profits. That's one reason why owners choose an economical Ford F-47 Pickup.

I LIKE EASY HANDLING!

The Ford F-47 Panel Truck is a "natural" for delivery service . . . gives fast response in traffic, easy parking, short turning radius.

I HAUL BULKY LOADS!

The Ford F-135 Truck gives you the right combination of wheelbase, body accommodation, and power for extra load space—with maximum savings.

I NEED PULLING POWER!

The Ford F-155 Heavy Duty Dump Truck Chassis "pulls through" when the going's tough. It has "what it takes" to stay on the job.

MY JOB'S LONG HAULS!

Owners' records show they stay on schedule with a Ford Truck Tractor. Ford Truck dependability reduces "time out" for repairs.

6—In Memoriams

DRURY—In loving memory of our Dad, William Drury, who passed away March 21, 1945.
But still the empty chair,
Reminds us of the face, the smile
Of one who once sat there.
—Ever remembered by son and daughter-in-law Ken and Lillian.

DRURY—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, William Drury, who passed away March 21, 1945.
There's a sad but sweet remembrance,
There's a memory fond and true,
There's a token of affection,
And a heartache still for you.
—Ever remembered by wife and daughter June.

DRURY—In loving memory of a dear brother, William Drury, who passed away March 21, 1945.
While you, dear brother, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
—Ever remembered by his sister Annie and brother-in-law Abe.

DRURY—In loving memory of William Stanley Drury, who passed away March 21, 1945.
The rolling stream of life rolls on.
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of one who once sat there.
—Sadly missed by George and Margaret McNabb and family.

HAYES—In loving memory of Walter M. Hayes, who passed away four years ago today, March 21, 1945.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
His weary trials and troubles are past;
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
Till God called him home to suffer no more.
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

RIDDELL—In loving memory of Mrs. S. C. Riddell, who passed away March 20, 1947.
—Ever remembered by husband.

Stanley Cup Playoffs Starting In Detroit

TORONTO, March 21 (CP) — The Stanley Cup playoffs start Tuesday with Montreal at Detroit in one semi-final best-of-seven series and Toronto at Boston in the other.

Second game in the Detroit-Montreal playoff series will be played in Detroit March 24 with following games in Montreal March 26 and 29. The next three games, if necessary, will be at Detroit March 31, at Montreal April 2 and at Detroit April 5.

The Maple Leafs will stay in Boston for their second playoff game March 24, returning to Toronto for the next two games March 26 and 29. Three more games, if necessary are listed for Boston March 30, Toronto April 2 and Boston April 3.

Weekend Stars

By The Canadian Press

Ted Lindsay, Detroit left-winger, who scored both goals as the Red Wings edged Montreal, 2-1, Sunday night.

Kenny Smith and Grant Warwick, Boston forwards, who each fired two goals as the Bruins walloped Toronto 7-2.

Tony Leswick, New York winger, who scored once and assisted on two other goals as the Rangers upset Chicago 5-1.

Billy Reay, Montreal pivotman, who tallied twice and set up another marker Saturday as Canadiens beat Chicago 3-1.

Civilian Plane Crashes Three Britons Killed

BERLIN, March 21—(AP) — Three Britons were killed and one injured in the crash of a British civilian plane flying the Berlin air lift, the British Military Government announced today.

Full details were not available, but the announcement said the plane was a four-motored Halton civilian version of the old Halifax bomber, and that it crashed near the Schleswigland airfield in Schleswig Holstein Sunday night.

The last previous fatal air lift crash occurred March 15 when a British civilian plane crashed while approaching the RAF's Gatow Airfield in Berlin. Three also were killed then.

Today's deaths brought the total fatalities in the air lift to 44—28 Americans and 16 Britons.

2 Million Fans Attend NHL Tilts

NEW YORK, March 21—(AP)—Led by Chicago, the National Hockey League drew 2,409,765 fans during its regular season which ended last night, figures compiled by the Associated Press showed today.

The total of 108,277 is short of the third consecutive record of 2,518,042 established last year. It also is the third consecutive season that the league has drawn better than 2,000,000 fans.

Sharpest decline took place in New York where the last-place Rangers performed before 366,278 rooters, a drop of 100,776 from their 1947-48 turnout.

Following is the breakdown:

	1948-49	1947-48
Chicago	491,494	491,345
Toronto	317,409	418,856
Boston	406,227	412,948
Detroit	402,153	394,199
New York	366,278	467,054
Montreal	336,204	333,645
Total	2,409,765	2,518,042

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Three members of the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League were honored in pregame ceremonies at the Detroit-Montreal game Sunday night in the Motor City. Capt. Sid Abel drew three of the awards — as the "most valuable player," for most goals, and for most points. Defenceman Bill Quackenbush, who has played 74 straight games without a penalty, was named "most sportsmanlike." Centre Max McNab was tagged the "best rookie."

Calumet's fabulous Coaltown equalled the world's record time for the mile and a quarter on Saturday in winning the $20,000 Gulfstream Handicap by seven lengths at Miami. Coaltown, ridden by Jockey Ovie Scurlock, was timed at 1:59 4-5 — equal to the world record set by Saint Andrews II on June 21, 1939, in Brighton, England. Three Rings was second and Calumet's Armed was third.

At London, Canada's Sudbury Wolves Saturday night defeated Streatham of the English National League 7-4 in an exhibition hockey game. Jim Russell scored twice for the Wolves, while Joe Tergesen, Bud Hashey, Bill Dimock, Emil Gagne, and Tom Russell added single counters.

Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League have announced the purchase of Sam Mulholland, 19-year-old forward, from Philadelphia Rockets of the American Hockey League. Mulholland will report to-day and may be used in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The 1949 two and three-year-old futurities for harness horses will be raced at London, Ont., Hal. B. Watson, secretary of the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society, announced Saturday at Toronto. He said the three-year-old futurity would be worth more than $6,000 with a purse of approximately $2,000 for the two-year-old race.

Art Jackson, 18, Negro boxer who collapsed Friday while training, died in a Toledo hospital Sunday of a brain haemorrhage. Police said the fighter struck his head on the floor when his chair collapsed shortly before a workout and it was not known whether this or a blow struck in the ring caused his death.

At Aspen, Colo., the North American ski championship were won Sunday by two members of the daredevil French national team. George Panisett won the Slalom event to nose teammate Jean Pazzi, winner of the Downhill Saturday, for the men's title.

Out On $5,000 Bail On Currency Charge

TORONTO, March 21—(CP) — Max Layefsky of Chicago, 40-year-old wholesale jewelry merchant, today was remanded to March 28 on $5,000 bail for infractions of the Foreign Exchange Act.

Police said he was taken from a Chicago-bound plane Sunday night with $2,580 in United States currency in a secret coat pocket.

Half an hour after Layefsky's arrest, police raided a downtown hotel room and arrested Norman Meyer and Saul Berstein, both of Chicago, on a nominal charge of vagrancy.

Police said they have started an investigation into the Toronto business activities of the three men, but they gave no indication of what the dealings involved.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Just eight years ago tonight Joe Louis successfully defended his world's heavyweight title for the 15th time, knocking out Abe Simon in the 13th round of a 15-round bout at the Olympia in Detroit. The giant Simon fought a sensational battle for 13 rounds but finally wilted under Louis' savage punching [illegible].

Boston Takes 2nd Place Trounces Maple Leafs 7-2

By JOHN HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Flying fists ushered out the 1948-1949 National Hockey League season on Sunday night as the four top teams jostled rudely for choice playoff positions.

Detroit Red Wings won the league championship going away but right to the bitter end it was doubtful who would take second place—Boston Bruins or Montreal Canadiens.

Boston finally clinched the berth by a single point with a 7-2 victory over the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs, while Montreal was losing a tough 2-1 decision to Detroit.

The third game of the Sunday night closing program meant nothing to the Stanley Cup playoffs. In it, last-place New York slapped down fifth-place Chicago 5-1.

Goalie Bill Durnan of Canadiens ended the season with only 126 goals scored against him — 19 less than his nearest competitor, Harry Lumley of Detroit. That made Durnan the winner of the Vezina Trophy as the best back-stop in the league.

Roy Conacher of Chicago won the scoring championship with 68 points—28 goals and 42 assists That was two points better than teammate Doug Benley's 66.

The final week-end of play brought plenty of action. On Saturday night, the Canadiens downed the Hawks 5-1. Billy Reay led the Montreal scorers with two counters while Tod Campeau, Roger Leger and Joe Carveth scored the others. Metro Prystal counted for Chicago.

Disastrous Week-end

Toronto started off a disastrous week-end with a 5-2 pounding from Detroit.

Sid Abel, Pat Lundy, Gordon Howe, Pete Horeck and Don McNab scored the Detroit goals, four of which came before Toronto tallied. Harry Watson and Bill Barilko counted for Toronto.

Sunday night's games — with key teams meeting — were far more lively and trigger-tempers were going off all through the Montreal-Detroit tussle. Some 25 penalties were called, totalling 109 minutes. Detroit 16 of them for 75 minutes. At the end of the second period, a near-riot broke out, and four misconducts were handed out. Detroit's Ted Lindsay drew four minors, a misconduct and a game misconduct.

Until the last period, it looked as if Montreal would win the game and hit the wire ahead of Boston. The Habs took a 1-0 lead in the second after a scoreless opening frame. Murph Chamberlain, scrappy Canadien veteran, fired in that first goal—his 100th of a 12-year NHL career.

But in the tense last period, Lindsay offset his penalties with a pair of goals that gave Detroit the victory.

Also Lively

The Boston-Toronto game also was lively. Toronto, last year's Stanley Cup winner, held the Bruins scoreless in the first period, but after that the roof fell in. Kenny Smith and Knobby Warwick each scored twice for the Bruins, with Milt Schmidt, Fern Flaman, and Johnny Peirson getting one each.

Cal Gardner and Teeter Ted Kennedy were the Toronto scorers.

In the Chicago-New York fixture, Tony Leswick, Buddy O'Connor, Alex Kaleta, Pentti Lund and Nick Mickoski scored for New York, the last three counting in the final period.

Chicago's lone goal was tallied by Gaye Stewart.

Ask Daley Name Conciliation Man

TORONTO, March 21—(CP) — The United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) today asked Ontario Labor Minister Daley to name a conciliation officer in the wages contract dispute between the Union Local 1005 and the Steel Company of Canada in Hamilton.

At opening of negotiations the Union proposed a $3.48 weekly wage increase and a 40-hour week, but union officials said the company declined to make any counter offer.

Action to appeal to the Labor Minister followed a meeting of Local 1005 and consultation with representatives of workers at two other primary steel plants at Sydney, N. S., (Dosco) and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., (Algoma).

Buck's Address Now Cancelled

OTTAWA, March 21 —(CP)—A wall of "cold protest" awaited Communist Tim Buck at Carleton College today, but the national Labor-Progressive leader won't be appearing there as planned.

His sponsor, Ralph Cook, president of the college's two-man Labor-Progressive Party, cancelled the Communist's scheduled appearance at the college in a last-minute announcement Sunday night.

The college became the centre of a storm of controversy and protest when decision was announced that Tim Buck would be allowed to speak in the assembly hall before 1,500 students today.

T. Frank Ahearn, wealthy Ottawa business man and former member of parliament for Ottawa West, announced cancellation of a $3,000 pledge to the college, because of what he termed speeches at the college of a "radical and pink nature."

Cook's statement cancelling Buck's appearance followed one from the Students' Council, announcing a two-pronged attack against Buck when he appeared at the college.

Matter Is Subject Lesson-Sermon

"MATTER" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon, which was read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world including First Church of Christ Science, Peterborough on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel."

Selections from the Bible included the following from Romans 8:5,6: "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. Fore to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" included the following: "The lines of demarcation between immortal man, representing Spirit, and mortal man, representing the error that life and intelligence are in matter, show the pleasures and pains of matter of be myths, and human belief in them to be the father of mythology, in which matter is represented as divided into intelligent gods."

Engineer Makes Locking Plate

SAULT STE. MARIE, March 21—(CP). — Louis Gagnon, 39-year-old engineer, has invented a new locking plate for joining the ends of steel rails which he claims will eliminate the present Clickety-Clack of railways, improve passenger safety, and cut maintenance costs.

The invention is designed to transfer the weight of locomotives and coaches from the present connecting bolts to a reinforced base plate, creating greater stability and preventing one rail from sagging against the next as the train crosses the rail joints.

Gagnon left by plane Sunday for Ottawa where he will discuss his device with railway and government officials.

Up Pensions For Teachers, Lowest $600

Total Cost 3 Million Teachers Pay 6% Of Salaries

By The Canadian Press

What Ontario Education Minister Dana Porter called "a new deal in superannuation," a bill amending teachers' pensions was given second reading in the Ontario Legislature Monday night.

It increases payments to the present 1,000 superannuated teachers, and provides for a minimum of $600 and maximum of $3,000. Teachers' contributions to the fund are increased from four to six per cent; the government pays four per cent.

If pensions payments in any year exceed contributions to the fund, the province will make up the difference. This was not likely to happen within the next 30 years, Mr. Porter said. In the meantime it is estimated that present superannuation fund of $50,000,000 will have grown to $140,000,000.

It will cost $3,000,000 to provide for these pensioners for the balance of their lives.

Want Bigger Pension

Opposition members said in approving Mr. Porter's superannuation bill it did not increase pensions sufficiently, particularly in the case of persons already superannuated.

Mr. Porter said the bill's "sweeping changes will mean that within 10 years teachers will be retiring at pensions which will be twice as much as they are today."

Pensions will be increased from 60 to 70 per cent of a teacher's salary. The pension will be based on the teacher's average salary during the 15 years preceding retirement.

"Under the old act, the percentage was based on the whole contributory period, which includes the earlier years of service when the average salary was lower," Mr. Porter said. "Also during the last four years the average of

Police Clash Over Shooting

BELLEVILLE, March 22—(CP)—A Provincial Police constable and a Provincial Police inspector clashed angrily today as a Royal Commission continued to probe a nine-year-old double shooting. Provincial Constable J. E. Keays whose allegations led to the commission's appointment suggested that Inspector Ward Kennedy was not telling the truth.

"You are the last person in the world who should cast doubts on someone else's evidence," the inspector retorted angrily.

The inspector was the second person to testify today about the shooting of John Miki by Sgt. J. A. Stringer of Navan, Ont., in 1940 after Miki had shot down Constable Harold Dent.

Constable Keays charges Sgt. Stringer lied about the shooting and contradictory evidence he unearthed was suppressed.

Editor Testifies

George Paterson, night editor of the Ottawa Journal, who covered the shooting for the Journal, testified that Constable Keays wanted to lay a charge of manslaughter against Sgt. Stringer.

The inspector and the constable clashed again when Inspector Kennedy said he had investigated a report that another transient had been around Navan, 12 miles from Ottawa, during the shooting.

"I'm suggesting you did that because there was some doubt that Miki shot Dent," Constable Keays said.

"No, certainly not," the inspector shouted back.

Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay said the evidence that Miki shot Dent seemed completely definite.

Cons. Keays asked Mr. Paterson about a story appearing in the Journal on Jan. 8, announcing the appointment of a commission

Mr. Paterson said the story was a Canadian Press despatch which he had edited and put in the paper. One paragraph was written in the Journal office and added to the story. It said there were "harsh words" exchanged between Cons. Keays and Sgt. Stringer.

"What were the harsh words?" Cons. Keays asked.

Ex-Convict In Chicago Arrested In Jewel Theft

TORONTO, March 22—(CP)—Toronto police officials said today an ex-convict is in custody in Chicago in connection with the theft of an estimated $80,000 in diamonds from three safes in the downtown Kent Building Monday. They said the man, recently released from a United States penitentiary, is known to have been in Toronto last week and is believed to be an acquaintance of two Chicago jewellery salesmen, now in custody here on vagrancy charges.

"The ex-convict was in Toronto last week but we missed him," an investigating officer said. "We traced him to Chicago and instructed police there to pick him up."

Question 30 People

A total of 30 persons here and in Hamilton were questioned last night as police continued their extensive search for traces of the two armed, masked bandits who raided three jewelery firms on the eighth floor of the Toronto building.

Police said they are investigating a black-market ring dealing in stolen jewels with contacts in Toronto, Montreal, Chicago and New York. They expressed the belief that the $80,000 gem robbery was planned by an American gunman but carried out by Toronto or Hamilton safecrackers.

Rewards totalling $2,000 were offered today for information which might lead to the arrest of the safecrackers who scooped up only the most expensive items from the safes broken open in the offices of Ben Libman, diamond setter, and the Superb Jewellery Company, both in the Kent Building.

2 Caught In Act Of Taking Safe

MIDLAND, Ont., March 22—(CP)—Two suspected safecrackers gave themselves away today when they knocked a telephone receiver from its hook while trying to move a half-ton safe from a coal company office.

Police said they were informed of the conversation by the telephone operator, Mrs. V. A. Quackenbush. Arrested outside the coal firm were Kenneth Frazer, 26, and Russell Crosby, 22, both of Orillia, Ont. Police said the pair had put the safe in the rear of a stolen auto which would not start.

First prize is $38,000, second $23,000 and third $15,000. They will go to holders of tickets on horses that run first, second and third in the Grand National.

Ban Political London Parades

LONDON, March 22—(AP) — Home Secretary Chuter Ede Monday banned political processions within the 700-square-mile London Metropolitan Police District for the next three months.

The action came after members of Sir Oswald Mosley's Fascist "Union Movement" clashed in London's east end Sunday night with Communists and other opponents.

About 20 persons, including eight policemen, were injured during the outbreak. Several hundred police struggled for several hours before they could subdue the rioters. The demonstrators used their fists and threw firecrackers, steel ball-bearings and glass marbles to make police horses lose their footing.

Ede told the Commons that Police Commissioner Sir Harold Scott asked for the ban on political processions because police powers now are "insufficient to prevent serious public disorders" if Mosley parades are allowed.

Hurrying To Name Peace Delegation

NANKING, March 22—(AP)—The Nationalist representative in Communist-held Peiping urged the government today to name its peace delegation.

Urgency was stressed in a telephone call to acting president Li Tsung-jen from liaison officer Huang Shi-han. Huang said he believed the Peiping Communists would agree to peace talks when the delegates were named.

Li immediately ordered the new cabinet to assemble here. They include the new foreign minister, Fu Ping-chan, ambassador to Moscow.

Li and Premier Ho Ying-chin are reported to have drafted a list of delegates. If acceptable to th Communists, they will go to Peiping for the peace talks.

Snake, Mosquito Plague Follows Flood's Wake

SYDNEY, Australia, March 22—CP—A plague of snakes, scorpions and mosquitoes has come in the wake of flood waters that have been sweeping through the "drought" areas of western Queensland and New South Wales.

Residents of the small town of Windorah in southwest Queensland are forced to keep smudges burning day and night to ward off the flies and mosquitoes. Horses and other animals have rushed into the smoke and pushed people away in their efforts to get away from the insects.

The fresh rain that fell Monday is expected to cause further floods, with a general increase in hardship for people in isolated towns and on ranches.

Small towns surrounding the basin of Cooper's Creek have been without fresh food and mail for three weeks and are likely to be isolated for three weeks longer at last.

Dr. Allen R. Vickers, Queensland's "flying doctor," has been helping pilots of the government's chartered aircraft to fly essential foods into towns and ranches where it is possible to land light planes. Where landing is impossible, the food is dropped.

The heaviest rain in many years has fallen over the entire west country. Before last Christmas the same area was in the grip of the worst drought in its history. Many small ranchers were ruined.

At Townsville, a city of 35,000 on the Queensland coast 900 miles north of Brisbane, more than 50 inches of rain has fallen since New Year's. Before Christmas, Townsville citizens dug wells in their back yards to supplement their strictly-rationed water supply.

CSU Calls Strike Against CN Ships

HALIFAX, March 22—(CP)—Members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) today were on picket duty alongside the Canadian National Steamships passenger-cargo vessel Lady Rodney here and strike action has been authorized by the crew of the Canadian Challenger, another CNS ship.

The union's Atlantic organizer, H. C. (Bert) Meade, said, however, strike votes would be taken on the company's other three vessels when they reached port from the British West Indies. These were the Lady Nelson, Canadian Cruiser and Canadian Constructor.

Two Pilots Killed At Maxville

Believe RCAF Plane Has Engine Trouble; Crashes On Farm Hill

OTTAWA, March 22—(CP) — Two air force headquarters pilots were killed today on a routine practice flight when their two-seater Harvard aircraft crashed near Maxville, about 50 miles east of Ottawa.

Following report of the accident, a ski-equipped Harvard left Rockcliffe air station to make positive identification of the bodies of the two men. Meanwhile, their identity was withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

The crash occurred about one mile east of Maxville on the farm of John Christie, and the Maxville telephone operator notified officials at Rockcliffe. The plane was reported to have crashed at 10.55 a.m.

RCAF officials said the flight, which left Rockcliffe at 9.30 a.m. EST, was a normal AFHQ practice flight, designed to keep headquarters pilots in practice as fliers.

Mr. Christie's wife gave an eye-witness account of the crash. In a telephone interview, she said the single-engined plane apparently developed engine trouble at a height of about 5,000 feet.

"The plane seemed to be trying to make a forced landing on the field. There are six barns close together and it looked like they were trying to keep from hitting the barns.

"My husband saw the plane hit the ground just over a hill about a quarter of a mile from our house. All I could hear from inside the house was a loud bang.

"Mr. Carman Rowe, who lives next door, hurried down to the crash with my husband.

"They found the plane twisted but pretty well in one piece. The two men were still in the cockpits.

"Mr. Christie immediately put in a call to Dr. John Mutch in Maxville. He came out here as fast as he could.

"He said the two were killed instantly the plane hit the ground. It didn't catch fire."

Missing Sister Sought In Death

MILWAUKEE, March 22—(AP) —The investigation of the slaying of pretty Patricia Birmingham, 16, turned today to a search for the victim's missing sister.

The girl from suburban West Allis, missing since Feb. 10, had been shot twice through the head. Her body, weighted with a heavy, concrete building block, had been dumped into the Milwaukee River near the harbor entrance. She had not been raped.

The grisly slaying came to light Sunday as firemen, dragging the river for another body, found the girl's body.

Patricia's sister, Kathleen, 17, has not been heard from, police say, since she left home with all her clothing Friday night. The girl left a note saying she was eloping with Milton Babich, 19, West Allis, with whom she had been keeping company.

Police hope they will get in touch with their homes when they hear about Patricia. They also hope that the two may be able to add something to what police know about the victim's movements on the day she disappeared.

Four youths, 15 to 17, who were taken into custody shortly after Patricia's body was found, were released by police Monday night after almost 24 hours of questioning.

First Maple Syrup Costing $6 Gallon

BRANTFORD, March 22—The first maple syrup of 1949 has been offered for sale here at $6 per gallon, a dollar less than it cost a year ago. The supply is light, but a good run of sap is expected. J. L. McQuay, agricultural representative, said warm days and cold nights are needed to give the run a good start.

Last week, the run was on in Brant County. Trees have been tapped in Norfolk, Oxford and Haldimand counties.

PETERBOROUGH'S FIRST and only member of parliament to hold Cabinet rank since Confederation, Hon. George N. Gordon, KC, died today after a few days' illness. Mr. Gordon was in his 70th year.

Hon. G. N. Gordon Ex-Minister Of Crown Dies

By HARRY THEOBALD

The Honorable George Newcombe Gordon, K.C., Peterborough's only member of the Dominion Cabinet and of the Privy Council of Canada since Confederation, died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 5.30 a.m. today. He was 69.

Mr. Gordon was stricken with paralysis of the left side Wednesday March 16. His condition could not be determined immediately in its probable eventual development, and the announcement of his illness was generally withheld until yesterday in the hope that indications might encourage hopes of some recovery.

The news of his death this morning was received throughout the city with a deep sense of shock in spite of the serious aspect of his condition.

Leader In Community

For 45 years Mr. Gordon had been a leader of many affairs of this community, with interests that reached out in many directions and also into many lifelong friendships. It could be said that the impact of his personality was felt almost with his arrival as a young barrister in the law office of the late Judge Daniel O'Connell who took him into partnership. His career was fashioned in this city taking him in its zenith to the rank of Minister of the federal Cabinet and the inner council of the nation.

In the municipal administration of Peterborough he was for 12 years an alderman, four year a trustee of the Board of Education, four years City Solicitor, and all times a vigilant and vocal citizen.

Liked To Be With Men

One of his chief characteristics was a sociability and a desire to be among his fellows that remained with him until the day he disappeared from down town Peterborough, the day before he was fatally stricken.

G. N. Gordon had a full share of success, and also knew the sting of reverse. He made friendships, but also he kindled animosities, particularly in his vigorous political campaigning. In between he did many thoughtful and kind things which transpired only by chance. They were private kindnesses actuated by the warmth of his spirit.

HON. G. N. GORDON

Live On Squirrels, Rabbits For Six Weeks After Parents Go Away

Only Covering Youngsters Have Between Them Part Of Blanket, 2 Coats, Rags; Police Carry Them In Blankets Half Mile

BANCROFT, March 22—(ENS).—Five small children, all under the age of seven, have been living in appalling squalor, with practically no clothing and very little food in a backwoods shack in Mayo township, east of here, since February 1, it has been revealed here by Red Cross and Provincial Police officials. As a result of investigations carried out by these organizations, the father of the children, Allen Turncliffe, has been lodged in the County Jail at Belleville on a charge of non-support. The Children's Aid Society of Belleville also took part in the investigation.

Through the Belleville branch of the Children's Aid Society, four of the children were placed in a receiving home in Belleville, and the other one, a boy of 6, was admitted to Belleville General Hospital because he was suffering from a bad case of impetigo in both legs. Evidence was unearthed that the children, who had been left in the care of William Landry by the parents, had been subsisting to a large extent on squirrels and rabbits snared by Mr. Landry. Only other food in the bush shack was some flour and potatoes.

Sleeping In Attic

Investigators found all the children had been sleeping in the attic of the shack, located some 20 miles east of Bancroft, with only a part of one blanket, two old coats and some rags serving as bedclothing. They were also living under a major fire hazard, as two stove pipes passed up through from the lower room, neither of which was more than two inches from the wooden floor.

The shack was visited, following receipt of a complaint, by Corporal S. W. Palmateer, of the Bancroft detachment, Provincial Police, and vice-president of the local Red Cross, acting on behalf of Mrs. R. W. Blatherwick, Red Cross president, and by William Lockyer, superintendent of the Belleville Children's Aid Society.

Arrange For Clothing

After inspecting the premises and questioning Landry, the investigators returned to Bancroft and reported to Mrs. Blatherwick, who arranged for complete sets of clothing to be supplied the youngsters. She then arranged with Mrs. Halstead, supervisor of the North Hastings Red Cross Hospital here, to have her full staff in readiness to bathe the children on their arrival enroute to Belleville.

Corporal Palmateer and Mr. Lockyer, this time accompanied by Provincial Police Constable W. Fitzsimmons, returned to the shack. Since the children had so little clothing, each one was rolled in a blanket and carried half a mile to waiting cars. They were taken to the Red Cross Hospital where they were given a good bath by the nurses and clothed by Mrs. Blatherwick and Mrs. R C. Marston.

Mr. Landry informed the officers that he had been left in charge of the children on February 1 after the parents had left for Belleville, where Mrs. Turncliffe had since given birth to a son. Landry said the parents had left no money with him to buy food or clothing for the tots

RCAF Scouring Quinte Area For Lost Plane

TRENTON, March 22—(CP) — Despite poor weather conditions, RCAF aircraft today continued the search for an American light plane missing since last Wednesday with two United States businessmen.

The missing men, Harry T. Barenbrugge, 45, of Elmira, N. Y., and Stewart M. Johnson, 41, of Mansfield, Penn., were en route from Buffalo to Montreal.

Two RCAF planes picked up the search early today, one swooping low over the mist-mantled Bay of Quinte area working eastward. The other patrolled densely-wooded country north of Trenton to the west.

RCAF officials here said aircraft from Ottawa also joined in the search, patrolling the St. Lawrence river from Kingston to Ottawa to Montreal.

At Wiarton about 130 miles northwest of here, it was reported today the search had extended to the Georgian Bay district following information given police by a farmer at nearby Oliphant.

Police said William McKenzie reported he had heard a low-flying aircraft pass over his farm in a snowstorm last Wednesday. He said the plane appeared to be in trouble and was headed inland, away from Georgian Bay, when he heard it.

Will Investigate Windsor Hospital

WINDSOR, March 22—(CP)—Mayor Arthur J. Rheaume announced today that he would seek a full investigation into the administration of the city-owned Metropolitan General Hospital.

The announcement followed a closed meeting Monday night of the hospital board at which Mrs. C. S. Sanborn resigned as a member.

The Mayor, who is contacting Provincial and Federal departments of health to determine the best way to bring about an investigation, said he was taking this action as Mayor of the city and not as a memmber of the Hospital Board.

Mrs. Sanborn resigned after the Board passed a motion of confidence in the hospital management by a vote of six to four.

Reds Ready To Meet Currency Situation

Don't Plan To Restrict Use Of East Mark By West Berlin Residents

BERLIN, March 22—(AP)—The Russians disclosed Monday night they are preparing plans to "meet the situation" presented by the ban on Soviet-zone currency in the western sectors of Berlin.

Col. Alexander Jelisarov, Acting Russian Commandant of Berlin, denounced the ban as a step to "deepen the split in Berlin." He asserted it would hurt the people and the economy in the Allied zone, and "cannot inflict any serious prejudice" on stability of Soviet zone currency.

In the first official Russian statement on the order Jelisarov said:

"In an endeavour to help the population of Berlin's western sectors, the Soviet Military Administration does not intend to carry out any measures restricting the use of the mark of the German bank of emission (the east mark) by residents of the western sectors in the Soviet sector of Berlin and in the Soviet occupation zone."

The statement contrasts with actions Monday of Russian-controlled German police, who attempted to stop west Berliners from dumping their Soviet-zone marks.

The dumping started almost as soon as the Allied powers announced Sunday that they were outlawing Soviet-zone currency on the west side of the border.

Jelisarov said in his statement that instructions were going out "to the financial experts (of his zone) to meet the situation prevailing" under the ban. He gave no clue as to what sort of plan was being hatched up by the experts or expected from them.

The Allied order had been expected for some time. The west-zone mark long has been banned in the Soviet zone. The Russians contend the fight over which currency should be valid for all Germany is a big factor behind their blockade of Berlin.

The western powers predict their ban will help the economy of west Berlin by tying it more closely to the rest of west Germany which, they report, is developing faster than the Soviet zone.

Deficit Of $2,932,240 Announced For TCA On N.A., Overseas Services

27% More Passengers, 106% More Ton-Miles Of Air Express, Air Cargo Carried In 1948, Says President In Report

OTTAWA, March 22—(CP)—Trans-Canada Air Lines had a combined deficit of $2,932,240 on its North America and overseas services during 1948, Trade Minister Howe reported to the Commons today. The TCA annual report tabled by the Minister showed an operating deficit of $757,119 on North American operations and of $1,509,733 on overseas services. Interest charges brought these up, respectively, to $1,183,022 and $1,750,218.

The 1948 figures compared with a combined 1947 deficit of $1,624,739, made up of a North American deficit of $1,761,042 and an overseas surplus of $136,303.

Expansion in many directions was shown in the report signed by President G. R. McGregor.

It noted a 60-per-cent increase in TCA's carrying capacity; reduction of the Montreal-Vancouver flying time to 13 hours, and the heaviest air traffic on record.

Revenue-miles flown increased by more than 2,000,000 over the previous year, while the airline carried 27 per cent more passengers, 532,555, and 106 per cent more ton-miles of air express and air cargo.

President McGregor observed that the general introduction of four-engined aircraft — 20 pressurized North Stars—had been largely responsible, through additional speed and comfort, for the rise in air travel and air shipment. He said the company is well-satisfied with their performance.

For the future, the President said, there is no immediate likelihood of large route extensions. The primary effort for 1949 will be to improve the quality of service on present routes.

"There are good prospects of higher revenues and of further reductions in operating costs per unit of transporatation performed" Mr. McGregor said. "This is the key to air line stability everywhere."

Police Arrest 6 For Intimidation

ASBESTOS, Que., March 22 — (CP)—Provincial Police arrested six persons here Monday night on charges of intimidating in the month-long strike of 5,000 Asbestos workers. The arrests were the first made since the walkout started Feb. 14.

Those arrested, five men and one woman, were taken into custody when police in a surprise move raided the home of Roger Beauchemen, who police allege is one of the strike leaders.

Monday night's raid was staged after a police constable attempted to serve a warrant on Emilien Richer, a striker, who police allege had threatened bodily harm to an employee of the company.

Clubhouse Burns Can't Send Aid

HULL, Que., March 22—(CP)—Flames Monday night roared through the Glenlea Golf and Country Club, five miles west of here, destroying the two-storey frame structure within an hour. Loss was estimated at $70,000.

Breaking out in the kitchen, the blaze raced through the structure and within minutes turned it into a huge bonfire.

Hundreds of district residents, noting the red glow in the sky, six and seven miles away, rushed to the scene only to stand by, without being able to help. No firefighting apparatus was available.

Club officia's appealed to the Hull Fire Department, but since the club was outside the city limits the request was passed on to Hull's Mayor Alphonse Moussette for approval. No equipment was dispatched.

Faulty wiring in the kitchen stove was believed responsible for the blaze. A few patrons and waiters escaped without injury. Machinery to keep the golf course in shape was destroyed, along with furnishings and fixtures.

Flames raced through the front wooden walls, and within minutes reached the roof, setting off a red glow which could be seen both in Hull and across the Ottawa River in Ottawa, about seven miles away.

Leaves Stalled Car Hit By Another Auto

LINDSAY, March 22 (CP) — Sixty-one-year-old Larry Moore, Fenelon Falls, is in hospital here suffering from injuries received when he jumped from a stalled car and was struck by an on-coming car. Moore, who suffered a broken left leg and cuts and bruises to his hands and face, was one of four passengers in a car driven by Albert Jackett, 21, Fenelon Falls, which stalled on No. 35 Highway, north of Lindsay.

Jackett attempted to flag down a car driven by Fred Webster, 41, Woodville, but when he saw the car coming at him he yelled and the occupants of the stalled car jumped in all directions. The Webster car struck the Jackett car, bounced and struck Moore, who leaped from the stalled auto onto the highway.

Gets 3-Year Term

MONTREAL, March 22 (CP)—Montreal's mysterious 16-year-old "boy in brown" bandit Monday was sentenced to three years in reform school. The youth "pulled" his biggest and most successful robbery on Saturday night at detective headquarters when he stole 35 bottles of soft drinks destined for the police.

Opposition Plans Vote Against Bill On Controls

OTTAWA, March 22—(CP) — Parliament is expected to meet on this annual budget day with one ear tuned to the routine echoes of the nation's affairs and the other cocked for news of economic and electoral import from Hon. Douglas Abbott.

Finance Minister Abbott's budget is due to come down at 7:30 p.m. EST, but before that the Commons likely will wade through further complexities of foreign exchange, steel, timber, rent and price control measures.

Before the House when it assembles at 11 a.m. will be a Progressive Conservative amendment to the government's general bill for extension of controls, plus the likelihood that the official opposition will vote against the control measure.

The amendment, proposed by Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton), would break the general control bill into separate statutes for its 12 segments, so the House might vote for or against each.

The official opposition has contended that it approves rent control but will not be forced into voting for an omnibus bill incorporating other controls of which it does not approve.

With Mr. Fleming's amendment due for certain defeat, Progressive Conservative members said after Monday night's sitting that they will vote against the general control bill when it comes to a division.

A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West) also indicated that pretty plainly on the floor during the debate when he expressed objection to "grab-bag" legislation, particularly on controls for steel and timber.

Justice Minister Garson defended the legislation—in the form of an extension of emergency transitional powers—declaring the government has not violated the rights of parliament in the matter of controls.

Before that, the Commons gave second reading to extension of the Foreign Exchange Control Act. Progressive Conservatives expressed dissent to the bill without carrying their protest to a recorded vote. They merely shouted "on division" as the measure went through.

Government announcements during the day included:

1. Transference of the industrial defence board from the defence to the trade department.

2. Announcement by Trade Minister Howe that the new international wheat agreement will have no effect on the Anglo-Canadian contract.

3. Transference of responsibility for dealing with recommendations of mercy and capital in other criminal cases from Justice Minister Garson to Solicitor-General Jean.

The evening's debate on the foreign exchange control measure saw it moving part way through committee stage, where it remained for the time being when Finance Minister Abbott had to leave the House to work on his budget. It was due to come back up today.

During the committee stage, John Diefenbaker (PC — Lake Centre) declared that harsh interpretations of the rule sometimes are made at the Canada-United States border.

OBITUARIES

MRS. MARGARET CAMPBELL

Mrs. Margaret Campbell, 98, of Lot 6, Concession 13, North Monaghan, died on Monday at her residence following a lengthy illness. She was born in Port Hope, daughter of the late James Leslie and Jessie Clark, and has lived in North Monaghan for the past 65 years. Previous to that she lived in Baillieboro. Her husband, John Campbell, died a number of years ago.

She leaves two sons, Linden and Fred, and a daughter Mary (Molly), all at home and another daughter, Mrs. Jessie Chambers of Otonabee township. A brother, Dr. H. C. Leslie, lives in Hamilton. She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church.

Funeral service will be held on Wednesday at the Belleghem Funeral Home at 3 p.m. The Rev. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

THOMAS McGUIRE.

Thomas McGuire, 59, of Water St., Hastings, died on Monday in a Peterborough hospital following a short illness. He was born in the village, son of the late Thomas McGuire and Sophie Sucee, and has lived there all his life.

He leaves his wife, the former Rosella Lajoie, and four daughters, Mrs. B. J. Barton, (Bernadine) of Hastings, Mrs. Thomas Convey (Leanore) of Dartford, Ont., Miss Joan McGuire of this city and Miss Margaret at home. There is one son, Gilles, also in Hastings, a sister Mrs. R. H. Flagler of Belleville and a brother John McGuire of Toronto.

Mr. McGuire was an employee of the Breithaupt Leather Company for the past 35 years. He was a member of Mount Carmel Church and one of the oldest members of its Holy Name Society.

Funeral will be from the family residence on Thursday to Mount Carmel Church where requiem mass will be said at 9 a.m. Burial will be at Mount Carmel Cemetery.

Up Pensions

teachers' salaries throughout the province has steadily risen. The full effect of this will show in a steady increase of pensions in the next 10 years."

Get $600 Year

The bill also provides that teachers now on pension under the old scheme will receive at least $600 a year. All present pensioners will receive an increase of at least $120 a year. Dependents of pensioners "under certain conditions" will receive pensions at half the rate paid pensioners. Partial pensions will be paid teachers who have taught for 25 years.

Government concessions have apparently quelled an incipient revolt by municipalities over terms of bills to extend provincial aid to municipal fire and police departments.

The Legislature today resumed routine consideration of legislation after giving second reading to the two disputed bills in a night sitting Monday. By a unanimous vote the House approved the principle of a bill to aid municipal fire departments, after Attorney-General Blackwell indicated he would delete clauses opposed by municipalities. The House then voted by 47 to 15 to give second reading to a similar bill concerning municipal police departments.

Attorney - General Blackwell told the Liegislature that in committee stage he would move an amendment to "delete entirely" clauses providing that fire departments must satisfy the Ontario fire marshal that they are efficient before the full grant is made. Other amendments would make the regulations governing superannuation plans more flexible.

Will Get Proportion

He said also that municipalities would receive a proportion of the cost of new equipment in cash regardless of whether the equipment was paid for immediately or by deferred payments.

Similar amendments, he said, would apply to the police bill.

Mr. Blackwell added he was aware municipal councils were just as concerned with the importance of national security as was the government.

The attorney-general's statement brought commendation from C.C.F. Leader E. B. Jolliffe for the minister's "flexibility — unknown in recent years." Mr. Jolliffe was glad to see that the government had "surrendered to some extent to the indignant municipalities," and he said he would support the measure.

In later debate on the police departments bill, Mr. Jolliffe said that not "by any means" had all objections been removed, referring to notes appended to the bill. One section which should have been marked "amended" was not so marked. Mr. Blackwell said he had made no commitment that there would be some "small revision in principle."

MORE ABOUT—

Mr. Gordon leaves his only son Mr. Wilmot B. Gordon, the third barrister on the male side of his family; one sister, Miss Edith Grace Gordon, Toronto, also a lawyer; and three brothers, Ernest A. Gordon, of Gary, Ind., Ralph W. Gordon, and Harry N. Gordon, Toronto. He was predeceased a year ago by his wife, the former Laura Emily Buckley, daughter of Wm. A. Buckley of Brighton whom he married Sept. 17, 1906.

Called To Bar In 1905

Mr. Gordon was born at Brighton, Ont., April 15, 1879, son of James Wilmot Gordon and his wife, Elizabeth Newcombe. His father was a barrister in Brighton, and the influence of his home and his father's office was an atmosphere that directed Mr. Gordon to the study of law. He was educated in the public and high schools of the town, followed by the law course at Osgoode Hall, Toronto. He read law with the firm of Clute, McDonald, McIntosh and McCrimmon, Toronto, and was called to the bar of Ontario in 1905.

Those years of his youth in Toronto, from 1900 to 1904, must have been replete with interest and activity. He was not only engaged in his studies at Osgoode Hall and the law firm of which he was articled, but he also found time for newspaper work in Toronto, an experience to which he often referred with satisfaction of remembered enterprise as a reporter.

Mr. Gordon came to Peterborough in 1905, and entered into law partnership with the late Judge Daniel O'Connell. The offices of O'Connell and Gordon were over the premises of the hardware store of Campbell and Best. That association continued until 1913. Subsequently he became senior partner of the firm of Gordon, Widdifield and O'Brien, from 1914 to 1922.

In his later years he and his son, Mr. Wilmot B. Gordon, shared the same suite of offices on George St., and it seemed to his friends that Mr. Gordon was gradually unburdening himself of the heavy practice which he had built up. That tendency appeared to be more noticeable after his son returned from military service.

Aggressive Personality

Soon after arriving in Peterborough, Mr. Gordon identified himself with the Liberal Association of which he was secretary from 1906 to 1912. His ability as a speaker and his aggressive personality projected him into the forefront of every activity to which he gave his support. It was this forthright spirit and talent of leadership that deepened the loyalty of his friends and sharpened the opposition of those who were aligned against him, as in politics.

Mr. Gordon was elected to the council in 1912, serving two years, and in 1914 he was appointed City Solicitor, and in the same year he was elected to the Board of Education. Those were crowded and eventful years for the young lawyer, and particularly in his controversy with the older members of the Board of Education. Mr. Gordon had a flair for publicity which appeared in most instances to be incidental rather than intentional or of design.

He was sincerely interested in people, understood their reactions and thinkings, and it was of his nature that he exerted a wide and warm appeal. His four years on the Board of Education were followed by re-election to the city council for three years.

Elected To Parliament

Mr. Gordon advanced from the municipal to the federal field of politics in the by-election of Feb. 7, 1921, which he won by a majority of 1295. He was one of five candidates in that campaign. Mr. Gordon was nominated by the Liberals of Peterborough West; Roland Denne was the official Conservative candidate; J. Hampden Burnham was an independent Conservative; Thomas J. McMurray, was a Labor candidate and James C. Campbell of South Monaghan was United Farmer.

That election was virtually precipitated by J. H. Burnham, Conservative member for Peterborough from 1911 through the period of The First World War. The Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighan had succeeded Rt. Hon. Robert Borden as leader of the Union Government, but Mr. Burnham questioned in the House the validity of the continuation of the Union Government. That question was projected into two bye-elections, one in East Elgin and the other Peterborough West. The Liberals captured both seats. The result was that the Peterborough reverse in February was followed by the general elections December 6th that year, the defeat of Arthur Meighan, and the rise to power of Mackenzie King.

The success of G. N. Gordon in the Peterborough by-election was one of the hingeing factors in the political fortunes of Mr. King who last year relinquished the leadership of the Liberal party in Canada. In the December campaign Mr. Gordon defeated his local rival, the late J. H. Burnham by a majority of 2,565.

Deputy Speaker

Mr. Gordon was elected Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons, March 26, 1922, and fulfilled with impartiality and distinction the responsible duties of that office. Preceding the general elections of 1925, he was appointed Minister of Immigration and was sworn in as a member of the Privy Council of Canada. That was in September. A month later, the Hon. Mr. Gordon was defeated in the general elections by the late E. A. Peck, K.C., and resigned from the government Nov. 13.

Mr. Gordon retired to his law practice, but retained the confidence of the municipal voters of Peterborough as indicated by his return to the city council as Alderman at two periods, 1937-39, and 1940-43, altogether twelve years as a member of the council. His interest in the progress of the city was an abiding attachment and an advocating of ideas for its improvement. He was a frequent contributor to the Examiner with suggestions to the council and other municipal bodies, and also occasional criticism.

Letter to City Council

One of the last letters of his dictation before his illness, was read at the meeting of the Council Monday night. It was a request for permission to remove several trees immediately west of his Hunter St. residence to open the sunlight to a rock garden which he wished to plant.

"In view of the serious condition of Mr. Gordon," said Mayor M. J. Swanston, "I think we will just hold this for a little while."

Of Mr. Gordon's practice of law in Peterborough it may be said briefly that for years he was a prominent advocate in the sittings of the Supreme Court of Ontario, achieving a success that also attracted briefs to him from out of town.

His final law partnership was with Mr. Alex L. Elliott, K.C. He was a past president of the Peterborough Law Association, was a former trustee of Trinity United Church, was an honorary officer of the Caledonian Club which strongly appealed to his Scottish ancestry. He was also a member of the Peterborough Club, the Ontario Club, Toronto, and the Independent Order of Oddfellows of this city.

The contemporaries of Mr. Gordon, particularly in the spectacular days of his career, will always remember him as a rousing political speaker. In that respect he was of the old school of forensic politics, heated condemnation of the opposition and approval and praise of the platforms and personalities of his own party. And the effects probably balanced in counter antipathies, a stirring of feelings and activities in his own camp that were generally offset by bitter reactions among the stalwarts and followers of the opponents. The trend in more recent years has been toward moderation in reference to personal adversaries, and concentration on the increasingly important affairs of the Canadian people. In his heyday Mr. Gordon was a colorful and vehement speaker who became widely known throughout the country.

The body is resting at the Funeral Home of A. Comstock and Sons and the funeral will be held on Friday at 3.00 p.m. in the Trinity United Church. Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon and Rev. Dr. James Semple will officiate and burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Tribute Paid

"We have lost a worthy citizen who was keenly interested in everything that pertained to the welfare of Peterborough," declared John R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Civic Hospital, in paying tribute to Hon. Mr. Gordon.

Mr. Gordon was a man of strong opinions, sound in his judgment, and of a generous disposition, said Mr. Marshall, who stated that Mr. Gordon was always willing to help any good cause or any needy persons. He had known Mr. Gordon as an intimate and loyal friend for the past 27 years.

Mr. Marshall paid a special tribute to Mr. Gordon, for his enthusiastic support at all times of the Civic Hospital's work.

Experience Valuable

James Hamilton, former mayor and alderman, said: "The experience and judgment of Mr. Gordon were always valuable assets to the council. He was not only critical at times, but always constructive in his proposals for the benefit of Peterborough and its citizens. We had some arguments at times, but 'G.N.' quickly forgot them. That was one thing I especially remember. In our relations he never carried any disputes beyond the occasion of them. They were forgotten the next day."

City Clerk, E. A. Outram: "Mr. Gordon had a special ability of sizing up a situation in council and bringing it in clear focus for everybody. He would sum up the facts and from them propose, usually in a motion, a course which often immediately appealed to the council as the right course. In that way he contributed a great deal in the saving of time in the council's business. I'd like to say that Mr. Gordon was always friendly and helpful to me. He would often go out of his way to telephone me or call at the office to discuss matters."

Tribute From The Bar

Members of the Peterborough Law Association will feel the loss of Hon. Mr. Gordon "very keenly," as he had played a prominent part in its deliberations for many years past, Ralph Standish, president of the association, stated today. Mr. Standish also paid tribute to Mr. Gordon's outstanding services to the life of his city and country, in his capacity as Alderman, member of Board of Education, City Solicitor and Minister of Immigration.

Mr. Standish recalled that Mr. Gordon's practise extended over a wide area and that he had been practising in Peterborough since 1905, being appointed a King's Counsel in 1921. Mr. Gordon rendered fine service to the association, particularly during his term as president.

Mr. Standish extended the sympathy of the association to Mr. Gordon's son, also a past president of the association, and said the members were certain that he would always uphold the fine traditions which his father set.

Turncliffe, Landry said, had visited the shack only once since, staying just long enough to pick up his Family Allowance cheque, and still leaving no money for the support of his family. This was on February 18.

Upon being questioned, Landry told Corporal Palmatier that he was just on the point of going to the police for assistance when the officers arrived on the scene. This was because he had snared the last rabbit and shot the last squirrel in the vicinity. The investigators verified this statement when they found about 40 rabbit skins and 50 squirrel skins which had been well preserved and which would bring an average of ten cents each.

Donate Food

Mr. Landry said two local merchants had also furnished food in the amount of about $50.

On investigating the sleeping quarters the officers found that the eaves were not tightly closed and that in some places a man's hand could be shoved out through. The same thing was found in various parts of the roof.

The three older children begged th officers to take them away with them so that they could get something to eat; they especially asked for chocolate bars.

The six-year-old boy who was taken to the Belleville Hospital was practically unable to walk because the impetigo sores extended for several inches up and down the back of his legs.

The children were taken into Belleville by Constable Fitzsimmons. The charge against the father was laid upon instructions of Lt.-Col. B. C. Donnon, K.C., Crown Attorney, of Belleville. The accused was picked up by police in Belleville.

Names of the children are: Carol, 7; Freddie, 6; Rosie, 5; Shirley, 4; and Betty 15 months.

ing charges of manslaughter against Sgt. Stringer."

Once, Malcom Robb, counsel for five of the officers, interjected that: "Now we seem to have the Ottawa papers on trial."

He said Cons. Keays should not call a man as a witness and then try to discredit him.

Cons. Keays asked Mr. Paterson to read the newspaper accounts of the shooting and the inquest. One said the Sergeant killed Miki on the first shot, the other said he killed him on the second.

Mr. Robb produced a newspaper account of the coroner's inquest which said George Smith of Navan testified at the inquest.

Mr. Paterson said the clipping came from the Ottawa Citizen. He had covered the inquest, he said, but could not remember if Mr. Smith testified.

Inspector Ward Kennedy of the Provincial Police Criminal Investigation Branch was called next. As a constable he had gone to the scene of the shooting.

Takes Fingerprints

Inspector Kennedy said he had fingerprinted Miki's body after the shooting. He testified July 9, at the second session of the coroner's inquest.

"We've been told by Inspector Cousans and Sgt. Stringer that Constable Keays was not competent to investigate the occurrence," Constable Keays said. "Do you believe he was?"

"I'm wondering now," the inspector said. 'At the time, I had no doubt of your ability. But looking back now I would want some other person to investigate."

He said he had found the constable an honest and conscientious officer during the year he knew him.

The inspector and the constable then demonstrated the way in which Sgt. Stringer shot Miki. The inspector stepped from the witness box to a dais in front of the bench while the constable knelt on the floor.

He asked how it would be possible for a bullet to pierce Miki's head on a flat trajectory. Inspector Kennedy said he could not predict the path a bullet would take entering a body.

Sgt. Stringer had testified a .45-calibre Colt automatic would hold up to 11 cartridges.

Constable Keays produced an automatic, removed the barrel, and asked Inspector Kennedy to load it.

"I got seven in it," the inspector said after loading the cartridge clip.

The report on the shooting by Deputy Commissioner A. J. McCreedy said the gun had six shells in it when it was found beside him. Two had been fired at Dent. Constable Keays said either Miki had reloaded or Sgt. Stringer lied when he said Miki fired three times.

"I would have to see Miki's gun," Inspector Kennedy said.

56-Mill Rate For Cobourg Up Three Mills

COBOURG, March 22—(ENS)—Cobourg's tax rate for 1949 will be 56 mills, an increase of three mills over last year, it was revealed at Monday night's council meeting. It was pointed out by finance chairman Roy Dodge that the rate would have been 59 mills this year but as the town had a surplus of $10,000 from last year, it was possible to lop three mills from the 59. The increase is made up by a $10,000 debenture payment on the trunk sewer, $1,899 on housing, $4,310 on employees' pensions and $4,000 for extra assessors to do the new re-assessment for a total of $21,109.00 more than last year. This year, while the Collegiate estimates are down $3,000 on account of a surplus, the Public School estimates are up $3,000, Reeve Dodge explained.

How Rate Set Out

The tax rates will produce the following amounts: local improvement 1.28 mills, $4,368.90; Collegiate Institute 4.28 mills, $14,608.50; Separate School, 12.75 mills, $4,606.58; Public School, 12.75 mills, $38,911.73; county rate, 9.17 mills, $31,299.04; direct relief 1.02 mills, $3,481.46; Parks Board 1.00 mill, $3,413.20; general rate 26.50 mills, $90,449.80. Total amount to be raised by taxes $191,081.85. Total amount to be raised through taxes and other receipts $275,637.46.

Total controllable expense amounts $139,518.08 and total uncontrollable expense amounts to $136,119.38. The uncontrollable items are made up by school estimates, collegiate debenture, wartime housing project No. 1, trunk sewer and sewage disposal site, utilities debenture payment, rate and local improvements by-law.

In the uncontrollable expenditures, highways and streets committee estimates are $49,943.00, public buildings and printing $7,000.00, protection to persons and property, police, fire, water and light, $28,486.88, market $2,100.00, health and sanitation $7,400.00, Board of Parks Management $3,413.20, finance committee $21,500.00, sundries $12,400.00, direct relief $3,500.00, grants $3,775.00.

Drew Hopeful Income Tax Cut

TORONTO, March 22—(CP)—Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew Monday night expressed the hope that the federal budget tonight will contain reductions in personal income tax scales.

"Along with our insistent demands for reduced levels of taxation and the removal of nuisance taxes, we went on record at our national convention in October as being in favor of an increase in the personal income tax exemption to at least $2,500 for married persons and at least $1,250 for single persons, with an increased exemption of $200 per child for dependent children," he said.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the Toronto-St. Paul's riding nomination convention, Mr. Drew added: "Nothing however can now undo the harm which has resulted from the heavy overtaxation since the war. The high cost of building houses, which has had much to do with the shortage of houses, is to a great extent the direct result of this unsound policy. So is the excessively high cost of living. There is no doubt that as these taxes are reduced, the cost of living will start to come down."

Young Woman Hurt When Car Overturns

COBOURG, March 22 — Miss Freda Tapscott, 28, suffered a possible skull fracture late Monday afternoon when her car overturned on the outskirts of the city.

Miss Tapscott, who is employed at Port Hope, was driving in Division St., N., near the town line when the car went out of control, rolled over three times and pinned her in the wreckage.

She was taken to Cobourg General Hospital for emergency treatment and then to Toronto General Hospital for diagnosis.

Robber Gets 8 Years

MILTON, March 22 — (CP).—Leo Adams Monday was convicted of armed robbery two years ago of a bank at nearby Campbellville, 30 miles east of Toronto. Judge Archibald Cochrane sentenced him to eight years in Penitentiary. Some $105,000 was taken from the Campbellville branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia in the afternoon robbery July 8, 1947. Most of the loot has been recovered.

DONALD CAREY, 13, was dragged into a pit at the St. Louis Zoo and seriously clawed by Snowball, the 1,000-pound Polar bear Saturday afternoon. Donald had climbed the fence and was sitting with his legs dangling over the side of the concrete moat. Snowball reached up, grabbed the legs and dragged Donald into the moat where he and his mate Frisky, attacked the boy. Keepers brought up automobiles and honked horns, finally frightening the bears away from their victim. Within a few minutes, keepers had Donald safely out but in a serious condition.

Three Employees Sue For Wages

Two lumbermen and a laborer sued Henry Ketchum, Warkworth in city police court Monday for wages totalling $288.40 for work done by them at Jack's Lake in December and January. Magistrate W. R. Philp K.C., ordered payment within nine days, distress warrants to be issued in default of payment.

Ketchum faced three charges and in each instance he said the men had signed agreements to wait until the end of January for their wages and then had laid charges under the Master and Servants Act before the end of the month.

Frank G. Foster, prosecuting counsel, said the complainants came to him in January and he had told E. F. Sheehy, counsel for the defence that he was acting for the three men. Mr. Foster said that Mr. Sheehy who was financially interested in the work at Jack's Lake, had known that he could have got in touch with the men through him, but no effort had been made to settle the debts.

Mr. Sheehy said they had tried to help the men out by giving each of them $50.

Mr. Sheehy told the court that there had been difficulty in paying the men promptly because owing to weather conditions, it had been impossible to get the logs from the camp into Peterborough and Mr. Ketchum was paid only on delivery. He had four or five hundred dollars worth of logs there.

Duke Laing, who sued for $117.66 in respect of wages owing to him for the period Dec. 21-Jan. 18, said he worked for Ketchum from Nov. 30 and quit on about Jan. 16.

Ketchum said that the arrears owing to Laing would be paid "as he went along." Ketchum said the wage was $4 a day.

John MacDonald said he should have been paid every two weeks but $81.40 was owing to him. Neil John Shaw, a labourer who said he had been working on the road, was claiming $89.89.

Dies In Hospital Following Accident

MARMORA, March 22—(ENS).—William O'Brien, son of Mrs. John O'Brien of Marmora, died in Belleville Hospital on Saturday, where he was a patient, having sustained a fractured skull when felling a tree near his home at Cloyne.

He was an employee of the Sawyer Stoll Lumber Company, which has lumbering operations in that district. The accident occurred when he was cutting wood for the family needs.

He leaves a wife and three children besides his mother and other close relatives in Marmora. The funeral was held today.

Six Half-Naked Chorus Girls Fail To Shock Staid Birmingham, Second To Strong-Man Act

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., March 22—(AP)—Six chorus girls naked from the waist up who were expected to shock staid Birmingham played second fiddle Monday night to three men doing a strong-man act.

The occasion was the opening performance of the French Folies Bergere in this city, which once made dancer Anna Pavlova wear tights.

Under Birmingham rules a moving nude is against the law. So the six semi-nude girls had to remain perfectly motionless during their act.

This they did, lying on a tier of steps leading to a fiery furnace while a dancer depicting the devil cast other fully-draped chorus girls into the inferno.

But first-nighters gave their loudest applause to the three almost bare men—Les Trois Milles—who did the strong-man gymnastic act.

The consensus of first-nighters was:

"Very ordinary. Nothing to write home about. They must have cut out a lot."

City censor Mrs. Kitty McKie said: "I think it is a very reasonable show. There is nothing to be shocked about."

More had been expected by Birmingham.

Will Add Estate To Girls' School

COBOURG, March 22 —(ENS)—It was learned yesterday that the Provincial Government had purchased the beautiful Rowe estate at the east end of the town, adjoining the present Girls' Training School, for use as an additional unit to the school. This will mean three luxurious American summer homes that have been acquired to house the Ontario Training School for girls. The amount of the purchase price was not revealed but it is a palatial brick home built in 1906 on 11 acres of grounds. It is assessed for $39,500.

LAST OF BARKER BOYS DIES

DENVER, March 22 (AP). — The last of Oklahoma's notorious "Barker Boys" died with his boots on— Authorities Monday identified Lloyd (Red) Barker, 51, who was slain last Friday, as the last son of "Ma" Barker. Ma, with her sons, rated high on the public-enemy list during the prohibition era. Barker's wife, Jean 37, is charged with firing the shotgun blast that killed Barker as he entered their home.

A Lost Nickel And A Penny Balloon Lead Seven-Year-Old Indianapolis Boy To Death

INDIANAPOLIS Ind., March 22—(AP)—A lost nickel and a penny balloon led a little boy to his death Monday.

Seven-year-old Johnny Dunz found the five-cent piece on a street near his home. With two older brothers and a sister at his heels, he dashed around the corner to a confectionery store to buy toy balloons.

"I want an orange one," Johnny shouted in his excitement. The clerk gave him an orange one, and handed similar colored balloons to his brothers, Martin, 12, and Ray, nine, and his sister, Cora, 13.

As they ran from the store the smallest of the four fell. The balloon lodged in his throat. Two neighbor women ran to the scene and applied artificial respiration.

The boy's father, James Dunz, a truck driver, ran into the crowd of neighbors which had gathered and clutched Johnny in his arms. But police said the boy already was dead.

Shift Responsibility

OTTAWA, March 22 (CP). — Responsibility for dealing with recommendations for mercy in criminal cases has been transferred from the Justice Minister to the Solicitor-General, it was shown in an Order-in-Council tabled Monday in the Commons. Solicitor-General Jean already had charge of the Remissions Branch which deals with parole, and his duties now will include advising the Cabinet on clemency recommendations in capital and other criminal cases.

The Grand Alliance

The world needs peace, and if western countries have been forced to seek and secure it through an armed alliance such as the North Atlantic Treaty whose terms were made public on Friday, the necessity was imposed by Soviet Russia. If the peace that results has a Metternichian quality, the fault is Soviet Russia's. Metternich's policy at least gave most of Europe peace for a generation after Napoleon's wars. If the North Atlantic Treaty can ensure peace for a generation—and Article 13 sets the minimum duration of the treaty at twenty years—it will be, as Mr. St. Laurent expressed the hope in the House when tabling the document, of historic importance. Given twenty years of peace, world conditions in the next generation may not require so forceful a rod.

* * *

The North Atlantic Treaty is undoubtedly a forceful document. Article 3 affirms that the signatory nations "by means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid, will maintain and develop their individual and collective capacity to resist armed attack". That means that the signatory nations are committed to a continuous and large armaments program. Article 4 provides for consultation together when the "territorial integrity, political independence or security of any of the parties is threatened".

* * *

Articles 5 and 6 are the core of the Treaty. An armed attack against one or more of the signatory nations in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against all. They agree, if such attack occurs, to take such action as is deemed necessary, including the use of armed force, to restore and maintain the security of the North Atlantic area. The defensive extent of the Treaty is shown by the definition of "armed attack" in Article 6, which in its entirety reads:

> "For the purpose of Article 5 an armed attack on one or more of the parties is deemed to include an armed attack on the territory of any of the parties in Europe or North America, on the Algerian departments of France, on the occupation forces of any party in Europe, on the islands under the jurisdiction of any party in the North Atlantic area north of the Tropic of Cancer or on the vessels or aircraft in this area of any of the parties".

* * *

To implement Articles 3 and 5, and to ensure adequate preparations and immediate action should the need arise, a Council will be established. The Council will be so organized as to meet promptly at any time, and it shall set up immediately a defence committee, which will presumably be closely related to the military committee of the five Brussels Pact countries which now have a military headquarters and chief-of-staff.

* * *

Canadians can be thankful that the Treaty is now in form and will shortly become effective. They can be proud that Canada has taken such a leading part in bringing it into existence.

* * *

There are loop-holes and not as many teeth showing as some people might have hoped. Nevertheless, it is as strong a Treaty as the constitutions and usages of the participating countries can permit. This question has already been raised: "Will a seizure of power by communists in one of the signatory states be considered an attack against it and the others?" The terms of the Treaty do not include reference to such a contingency. That is wise as history shows. The Concert of Europe was established after the Napoleonic Wars to manage Europe's affairs. Metternich, a conservative opposed to change, proposed and had incorporated in the Protocol of Troppau (1820) this clause:

> "States which have undergone a change of Government due to revolution, the results of which threaten other States, ipso facto cease to be members of the European Alliance....If, owing to such alterations, immediate danger threatens other States, the Powers bind themselves, by peaceful means, or if need be by arms, to bring back the guilty States into the bosom of the Great Alliance".

Such a proscription which would dictate the kind of government a state should have was too illiberal even for the strongly anti-revolutionary England of 1820. England did not accept it, and soon drifted away from the Concert of Europe, which caused its collapse. A liberal country today could not accept any similar proposal against communism incorporated in the North Atlantic Treaty. An internal revolution is not automatically a reason for another country to wage war.

The Russian Concept Of Freedom

In our Third Column today we reprint an article from The Presbyterian Record, which we admire for its clear presentation of a complex subject—the attitude of Soviet Russia toward religious freedom, and toward freedom in general. Mr. Shein points out what we have often called to the attention of our readers, which is the fact that the church in Russia has never been a free agent but always an instrument of the state and always an instrument of oppression. The Greek Orthodox Church is admirable in itself, but like all churches it can suffer from bad direction; in Imperial Russia it was directed by the state, to suit the state's purposes, and it was no better than the illiberal state which it served.

All freedom is relative. Churches do not possess absolute freedom in Canada, or in any other country; the fate of our Doukhobors is evidence that Canada does not tolerate churches which run contrary to our national notions of proper religious teaching. Nevertheless, churches are very free here when compared with the churches of Russia — though the fate of a Canadian clergyman who felt impelled to preach communism, or polygamy, or nudism would probably not be a very happy one, for churches not only help to establish social patterns but are themselves conditioned by those patterns. In Russia the churches, like every other aspect of the national life, must conform to the great central pattern of Soviet ideology. As the Russian church is not a preaching church or a critical church, this is not too difficult.

The Russian idea of freedom is, by our standards, a queer one; quite literally, they cannot call their souls their own. But as they have never known anything better we must not assume that they are envious of our freedom or that they think it good, for every nation tends to think of itself as the norm of mankind. Whatever benefits the Revolution may have brought to the people of Russia, it certainly brought them no advance in freedom.

C.N.R. Deficit

C.N.R. annual deficits are as inevitable as winter until the whole basic financial system under which its books are kept is revised. That cannot be done unless there is a change in the paper evaluations on railway shares which the C.N.R. absorbed many years ago. The deficit for 1948 was, however, remarkably large. Since taxpayers have somehow or other to find the money for the deficit, it should interest them to know why the deficit was so large.

Business was good, traffic heavy. The C.N.R. is healthy. Nevertheless, the operating deficit was $33.5 million dollars in 1948, more than double the 1947 deficit, and approaching the levels of the pre-war deficits.

The railway lost money because it has not been able to charge more for its services. True, a freight rate increase was granted last year by the Transport Board. The resulting gain was $54 million dollars, but there was a drop of three million dollars because of reduced freight traffic. The net gain was therefore $51 million dollars. This was wiped out by higher costs due to increased wages and the higher price of equipment. These increases totalled $67.6 million dollars. Therefore the railway's financial position worsened by almost seventeen million dollars.

There seems in these figures to be a good argument for the Transport Board granting the railway the right to further increases in rates. The argument is strengthened by the fact that there is one item of eight million dollars of further uncontrollable expense this year—wage increases granted last summer, when a general railway strike threatened.

Religious Freedom In Russia

By LOUIS SHEIN
In The Presbyterian Record

THE problem of religious freedom in Soviet Russia must be considered under the general concept of Soviet view of freedom as a whole. In order to understand what the Soviets mean by freedom, we must first consider certain factors which are basic to the Soviet regime.

✧ ✧ ✧

SOVIET Russia has been an enigma to both foe and friend ever since it came into being in 1917. To the Western world, the Soviets stand for the incarnation of evil itself, which seeks to destroy all moral and spiritual values. On the other hand millions of "native" races in both Asia and Africa regard Soviet Russia as their Messianic liberator from imperialistic exploitation and oppression. Perhaps that is what Molotov had in mind when addressing the Supreme Soviet in November, 1947, he said, "We are living in an age in which all roads lead to Communism." The present successes of the Chinese Red armies seem to bear out part of that boast.

✧ ✧ ✧

HOW can we account for the remarkable ability of the Soviets to maintain their powerful position both at home and abroad in spite of world opposition and in spite of the recent war with Germany? There are some who would ascribe this success to the tyrannical force the Soviets are employing to maintain themselves. While this is partially true, it is not the whole answer. We must look for other factors to find the full answer.

✧ ✧ ✧

RUSSIA has a population of approximately 193,000,000 people. Out of this number, 104,000,000 were born after the Soviet Revolution of 1917. In other words, more than 50 per cent. of the population are not more than 31 years of age. These have never known any other system. They are children of the Revolution, brought up and nurtured in Stalinist orthodoxy. The fact that there are slave camps where millions of Soviet citizens are smarting under the oppressive yoke of the M.V.D. (Secret Police), does not in any way destroy their faith in the absolute rightness of their system. They simply regard the existence of such camps as part of the "class struggle," indispensable to the achievement of a "classless" society.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN their blind allegiance to Stalinism they fail to see that it is no longer a struggle between the Proletariat (working class) and Capitalists, but between the broad masses of the people and the new Soviet aristocracy, or more correctly, politocracy. This politocracy is made up of higher officials of the Communist Party and the militarists, who receive their directives from the omnipotent Politburo. In spite of the low standard of living as compared with Western standards, their faith in Stalinism is unshaken. The Soviet citizen knows that Revolution involves sacrificies and hardships in order to bring about the "New Kingdom."

✧ ✧ ✧

HARDSHIP has always been part and parcel of Russian existence. Hence, the Soviet citizen does not compare his standard of living or his present achievements with the Western world, but with pre-Revolutionary times. He knows for instance, that under the Tsarist regime, almost 90 per cent. of the population could neither read nor write, whereas under Stalinism, there is practically no illiteracy. He also knows of the great educational opportunities for workers and peasants hitherto unknown in Russia. He knows of no racial discrimination in his country, an achievement which the Western democracies would do well to copy. He is therefore willing to forego the ordinary amenities of life for the sake of an apocalyptic tomorrow. Such is the new Soviet man.

IT is in such context that we must consider the Soviet view of freedom in its relation to religious freedom. It should be pointed out that the Russian people have not known any kind of freedom for the past three centuries. The Church was always part of the State and ruthlessly controlled it. When the Soviets first came into power they promised freedom to all, except to the ruling class. But the newly-granted freedom was of short duration. A new era of Red terror set in, and every expression of freedom was ruthlessly suppressed by the dreaded Cheka Secret Police (later known as OGPU, N.K.V.D., and recently as M.V.D.)

✧ ✧ ✧

A BREAK occurred in this oppressive policy with the appearance of the new Soviet Constitution in 1936 which promised freedom to every Soviet citizen, including all those who were hitherto deprived of civil rights. The new Constitution also promised religious freedom. Russian orthodox Churches were allowed to re-open, and the Church received the official sanction of the State. This was first hailed as a new departure in Soviet policy. But the Church soon learned that this new religious freedom meant freedom under the Kremlin. All higher officials of the Church had to be "approved" by the State, which meant virtual appointment by the Kremlin.

✧ ✧ ✧

SUCH capitulation of the Church to the State is possible for two reasons. First, because the Russian Orthodox Church was always closely bound up with the State and the Fatherland, or Mother Russia. After the Tartar invasion of 1224, the Church became part and parcel of Russian life as a whole, and by 1480 the Church was firmly established as a national Church. The Holy Synod of the Church was made up of the Metropolitan of the three cities of Kiev, Moscow, and Petersburg (now Leningrad), the Exarch of Georgia, and five or six bishops appointed by the Tsar, under the presidency of an Oberprokuror, a layman, appointed by Peter the Great to be his "Seeing Eye." So that there never was religious freedom in Russia in the Western sense.

IN the second place, because the Russia Orthodox Church is essentially a liturgical Church, where preaching is not central in the Reformed Churches, it is possible to carry on worship services without incurring the wrath of the State through preaching. For preaching as understood in the Reformed Churches would of necessity have to direct itself against an atheistic State. So that according to the Soviet view of freedom, which means freedom to do the will of the State, the Church has religious freedom.

That religious freedom in Russia is circumscribed by the Soviet concept of freedom may be seen from the fact, that no religious teaching is allowed to minors under 18 years of age. This is based on the idea that after 18 years of age, the mind is not so susceptible to teaching as it is in its formative stage.

IS there no freedom in Soviet Russia? The answer is that there is a relative freedom which can hardly be called freedom in the Western sense. There is for instance, what the Soviets call "Socialistic" freedom to criticize conditions considered to be detrimental to the well-being of the State. One may "freely" criticize writers, musicians, artists, factory managers, minor officials, etc., and denounce them as traitors and saboteurs, provided that that criticism is in line with the existing Stalinist policy, whatever it may happen to be at the time. In other words, freedom in Soviet Russia is a volatile and flexible term, contingent upon the "Party line" for a particular occasion.

SOVIET policy, whether it is in relation to freedom, foreign policy, or any other problem, is always in accordance with the "Party line," and that "Party line" is determined by existing circumstances. That is the reason why Soviet ideological acrobatics are always a source of despair to the Western mind which regards such acrobatics to be inconsistent with human reason. But such "inconsistency" is always consistent with the "Party line."

✧ ✧ ✧

SOVIET freedom may be defined negatively as those acts or actions which are not in opposition to the State. But what constitutes "opposition to the State" is not very easy to define. It is usually defined as a political or ideological difference with the official State policy, meaning of course, the policy of the Politburo. But this definition is so broad and inclusive that it may be anything from stealing a chicken to seeking to overthrow the government. If the stealing of a chicken is considered to be a hindrance to the poultry industry, then it becomes an act of sabotage, hence an offence against the State.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER example of Soviet "freedom" is the existence of sham trade-unions. Soviet trade-unions, unlike trade-unions in Capitalistic countries, cannot stage any strikes, since it would constitute a major offence agains the State. The only "freedom" that is left, is the freedom to do the almighty will of the State, whatever it may happen to be at the time. It is only in the general context of the Soviet view of freedom that the problem of religious freedom must be considered.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Kremlin is not slow in taking advantage of the "freedom" granted to the Orthodox Church in utilizing it for its own political ends. In that case the Church will become a ready tool in the hands of the State as it always was under the Tsars. Under such circumstances no great spiritual revival should be expected in Russia. A Church that is willing to surrender her spiritual freedom for the sake of a "regimented" freedom would do well to remember the words of our Lord, "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" This is not said in criticism of the Russian Church's attitude, because she is undergoing great tribulation, and we wonder what the Reformed Churches would do under similar circumstances? Think on these things!

Lifetime In One House

A sentence of casual interest appeared in a news item about the death of a very old lady. It read, "She died in the house where she was born."

In England and other European countries, readers would not likely run across such information. Were it published, the readers would wonder why it had been mentioned, what was so unusual about such a circumstance. Where space is at a premium and the population teems, people tend to stay put.

The fact that it is somewhat unusual for Canadians and Americans to stay in the one house during a lifetime—except of course in farm areas—marks the North American continent as young in point of development.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh? (Gal. 3: 2, 3.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith....

This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would....

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law. (Gal. 5: 5, 16, 17, 22, 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. (Matt. 4: 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying, Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. (Matt. 5: 1-5.)

Letter To The Editor

FARMING AS A CALLING

Sir: A speaker described as 'friend of farmers', last week, asked farmers to look on farming as 'business' and cut costs.

Words are easy, it is deeds that count. We would like to see him demonstrate (without backing) how to do business with the weather and how to make a business thrive selling wholesale and buying retail. How, now that butter, cream, milk (and probably cheese) is going down, can we buy separators, milking-machines, coolers, refrigerators etc.

He also asked farmers not to listen to Socialists and Communists. He has not done this in spite of provocations and has (with few exceptions) consistently repudiated advances made by them. It is the urban who has 'inclined the ear'.

Had the farmer looked on his farming as 'just business' Canadians and others would have seen the 'pole horse' long before this.

A true farmer regards his farming as a calling (the exception proves the rules). As a minister feeds souls, he feeds bodies. A soul cannot exist without a body, just as a flower does not survive minus its roots.

If ministers, poets, artists, musicians counted the costs first it would be a poor world, and a starving world if farmers should do just that. Christianity only will save the world and it is a drama that must be lived, with the universal everybody language of love and goodwill the doctors of faith and hope and the law of good neighbourliness and good fellowship. But of course make friend of the mammon of unrighteousness: that when ye fail etc. Luke 16: 9.

A BRITISH OPINION

Undeclared War With Church Growing Worse

By LARRY ALLEN.

WARSAW, March 22 (AP). — The undeclared war between the church and state in Poland is growing more bitter, but the new Roman Catholic Primate Dr. Stefan Wyszynski, is holding his fire.

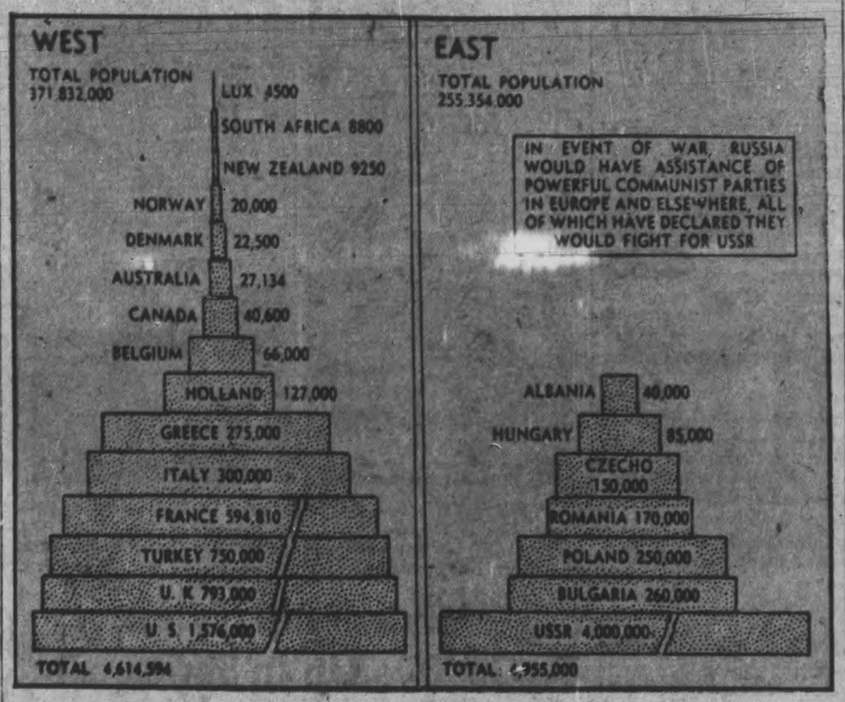
It is no secret, however, that he does not like what is happening in this 96 per cent Roman Catholic country under a Communist-led government. Likewise it is obvious that he has given the nod to Catholic bishops who are boldly criticizing the government in pastoral letters.

The most recent letter was issued by Bishop Stanislaw Adamski of the Katowice Diocese who charged the government was abolishing the teaching of religion in the schools and removing crucifixes from schoolrooms. The government promptly denied this.

Roman Catholic circles claimed 34 priests were seized by the security police for reading the pastoral letter The government denied knowledge of such arrests.

But that is only part of the story Tall, blond, blue-eyed 47-year-old Archbishop Wyszynski knows there is tough sledding ahead.

Here are some of the reasons: The government says it does not interfere in any way with the Roman Catholic church and its activities. Simultaneously, it has promised "severe punishment" for those priests who use their pulpits for political purposes.



Priests complain they are not permitted to visit the condemned in prisons.

Numerous newspaper articles charge that the Roman Catholic priests refuse to officiate at the funeral services for Communists. Others accuse some priests of "exploiting" peasants in farming church-owned lands.

Other articles accuse priests of using their confessionals to advise underground bands to kill Communists and all other adherents of the Warsaw regime.

The manufacturers of artificial ice became widespread about 1900.

EAST - WEST STRIKE BALANCE OF POWER—The chart above shows the estimated strength of armies in both the East and West blocs, and the total population in each area. While the population of the West exceeds that of the East by well over 100,000,000, the huge Soviet army brings the two segments into a virtual balance of armed power. Broken lines in bars indicate those bars are not in scale.

Support Urged In Development Of Great St. Lawrence Waterway

Strong support for the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway development was given in an address delivered by W. E. Ross, assistant to the President of Canadian General Electric Company, Ltd., Toronto, to the Peterborough Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon on Monday in the Empress Hotel. Mr. Ross, speaking on "Power and Prosperity," scored the "fallacious" idea that had sprung up in recent years that we have in Canada an unlimited supply of water power. "We cannot afford to be complacent about this matter," said Mr. Ross, adding that, of all the provinces of Canada, Ontario was in the greatest danger of running out of water power sites."

In enlarging upon his advocacy of the St. Lawrence Seaway, the speaker declared that because "Lake Ontario is perpetually maintained at a practically constant head above the St. Lawrence," the seaway, "if, as and when we get it, will be stable and not subject to variation of flow from year to year." He addressed himself to the Peterborough Rotarians thus: "If you get a chance to say you want the St. Lawrence Seaway, I hope you will do so."

Mr. Ross said that, while it was quite true that abnormal conditions in regard to rainfall have played a large part in reducing the output of our existing power stations, it was his personal belief that "a part of our trouble is due to our failure to keep the installed horsepower curve on its natural rate of expansion in the five years from 1935 to 1940."

Develop Larger Sites

Mr. Ross asserted that it should be realized that "for the sake of economical development and construction costs, we have to develop large sites in anticipation of load demand." Experience should have taught us, he said, "that the load growth will rapidly take up the so-called surplus and at the same time create a further demand." The Province of Ontario only ranks third among the provinces, insofar as available sites are concerned, but is second in the amount of horsepower developed.

The speaker declared that "We have been impressed by the personal inconvenience caused to us by power shortage in our own province, but not, I am afraid, sufficiently impressed with the related loss of production. If we have been observant, we will have noticed that this same shortage has existed in other provinces, in certain states to the south, and in some other countries of the world."

Mr. Ross said that a major need in Canada was "more goods for more people at less cost." To attain this, "we need a continuous supply of electrical energy at reasonable rates." If we are to continue as "a strong, healthy and prosperous nation, we as citizens should employ every democratic means to encourage or—let me say—demand the steady and wise development of our electrical powr systems."

The speaker deplored the fact that one-third of Canadian homes are not yet wired for electricity, also that latest available figures show that only 32.2% of our wired homes have refrigerators, only 23% have electric ranges. He said that the average domestic consumption of electricity in Canada "is only about half or perhaps less than half what it should be, indicating that there are a lot of people who don't have all the pieces of equipment they would like to have.

Pioneered the Field

Development of electric power in Canada in its early days was described by Mr. Ross as "phenomenal." The Dominion has always "pioneered in the electrical game," he said. The first transmission line, from St. Narcisse to Three Rivers in Quebec, when it was installed, was the longest in the world. In 1900 we had only 175,000 h.p.; at the beginning of 1948 this figure had risen to 10,490,923.

Canada today, said the speaker, needs more production, both of basic materials and processed goods. More production means more work, "and in this day and age we must not suggest that it be accomplished by more physical effort or by longer working hours. We, therefore, need something to implement our working force, and that 'something,' to me, is obvious—kilowatt hours."

In a reference to Communism Mr. Ross said that one way to ward it off is to make it possible for the working man to obtain, in addition to food and clothing, some of those things he makes at prices "which the ordinary person can pay." This, he said, means technological development "and the use of power rather than brawn."

The speaker was introduced by Ian MacRae, works manager of the Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd., and thanked by Ross Dobbin, general manager of the Peterborough Utilities Commission.

Porter Receives Birthday Cake

TORONTO, March 22—(CP) — While CCF members of the Ontario Legislature sang "Happy Birthday Royal Commission," Agnes Macphail (CCF-York East) Monday night presented Education Minister Porter with a cake with four candles.

CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe said the cake marked the fourth birthday of the Royal Commission on Education, appointed March 21, 1945.

He could not wish many happy returns of the day.

Mr. Porter accepted the cake for the Commission, which has yet to make its report.

"To satisfy the Honorable Members that the work of the Commission will close at the earliest possible moment I shall blow the candles out."

He made it with one blow.

Beer Drinking Drops Sharply

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Eng., March 22 (CP) British brewers view the falling off in beer consumption with a low moaning and a wringing of hands.

In two years Britons have cut down their beer drinking by 200,000 barrels a month and now find a meagre 2,500,000 barrels sufficient for their monthly needs.

True, they still spend about about £500,000,000 ($2,000,000,000) annually on beer, but the government takes more than half of this in duty and the brewers feel the tax is too high.

"The price of beer today is too high for the average man," said an official of a well-known brewing company. "An increasing number are refusing to pay eight pence and nine pence for draught beer that cost only four pence and five pence before the war."

Most of the beer sold today contains from four to five per cent alcohol whereas it was seven or eight per cent in pre-war times.

Most drinkers agree that the beer of today is only a watery imitation of the pre-war drink and even inferior to the wartime brew.

Report Quints Born

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 22—(AP)—Several Santiago newspapers published Monday unconfirmed reports of the birth of quintuplets in the village of Guallaquinga, in central Chile The newspaper accounts said four boys and one girl were born to Natalia Rojas. The despatches said the mother and babies were taken to a hospital at La Serena and were in good health. A correspondent in La Serena checked hospitals and talked with health authorities there but reported he found no trace of the quintuplets

Will Invite Churchill

TORONTO, March 22 (CP). — City Council decided Monday to extend a formal invitation to Winston Churchill, British wartime Prime Minister, to visit Toronto during his forthcoming North American tour. The city's action was objected to by Communist Alderman Charles Sims, who said: "I don't believe the visit of Mr Churchill to North America is going to do any good."

Mail Cheques By May

OTTAWA, March 22 (CP). — Extra pay cheques to members of the Hong Kong Expeditionary Force will be mailed to more than 1,500 Canadians before April 30, Army Headquarters said Monday. Defence Minister Claxton announced in the Commons last week that the members of the ill-fated Hong Kong force had been brought under the special Pacific pay provisions.

Bewdley Band Once Thrived On Sour Notes

By DAVE KISSOCK.

Bewdley had a band, that was in 1913. The band thrived on sour notes. I feel privileged to criticize because I contributed my quota of sour notes with a valve trombone.

The band had one musician and he was the bandmaster, Bert Kent. He knew music and could play any instrument from a triangle to a clarinet. He insisted that the band was to be known as the Bewdley Silver Band — why "silver" no one knew, unless it was because all the instruments were brass

Among those present were Bill Kennedy, Walt McClung, Norman Gaynor, the Smith Brothers, Hec and Carl, and others. Hec Smith was a husky lad in them days and chose the trumpet, with which he helped Bert Kent carry the tune. Carl Smith, the smallest member, chose the big bass horn. Sure enough you could look behind the horn and there was Carl. He would puff out his cheeks, go blue in the face, and boom! out would come a bass note, which seemed to surprise Carl as much as it would the rest of us. Thus encouraged he would grin with satisfaction and prepare for the next boom

Slide Trombone

Walt Jones, then the village blacksmith of Bailieboro, now straw boss of a road gang for the Highways Department, insisted on a slide trombone, evidently he liked to keep things moving, so he procured one and worked it in and out merrily; of course, hitting the right note was a secondary consideration, and besides a few more sour notes did not matter.

The walls of the old Orange Hall where the band practised, fairly bulged and likely blushed. Finally the bandmaster thought we could try the open air with a few simple ditties. We sure could use air and you can interpret that a number of ways, and they all fit

So we ventured forth and gathered at the pump at the Rice Lake Inn. We soon collected an appreciative audience. Every dog in the village gathered and lent his voice to the number, which either improved it or did not, which was a matter of choice.

We played in front of all the business places, and Major Mulholland's collecting donations, which was really hush money or a nuisance tax, for no one insisted that we stay and play some more.

Then came the war, also came a fire which demolished the Orange Hall and the Bewdley SILVER Band, of brass, was no more. If we had listened closely we may have heard cheers.

Bert Kent, the one and only local musician, became bandmaster of a military band, that's how good he was. Some time after the war Bert gave up the ghost, maybe thwarted in his ambitions.

Sid Smith, star forward of the Pittsburg Hornets, is the 1948-1949 scoring champion of the American Hockey League. Official figures released credit Smith with scoring 112 points in the 68-game season which ended on Sunday. Smith will receive $300 from the league for winning the title. Smith scored 55 goals and 57 assists. Carl Liscombe of the Providence Reds, the defending champion, finished second with 102 points. Liscombe tallied 118 last season, a circuit record. Smith and Liscombe wound up in a tie for goal-getting honors at 55 each. Liscombe's linemates Roger Bedard and Harvey Fraser, finished third and fourth in the scoring race with 90 and 89 points respectively. Paul Gladu of St. Louis placed fifth with 85 points. Wally Stefaniem of Philadelphia, led the playmakers with 63 assists.

With his 48 goals topping the loop, Ray Powell had 106 points for the scoring leadership in the United States Hockey League, it was announced at Minneapolis to-day. Frank Ashworth of Tulsa finished with a 96-point total and second place. Bing Jukes of St. Paul was in third place with 84 counters.

At Philadelphia, Arthur King, Canadian and Empire lightweight champion from Toronto, Monday night outpointed Eduardo Carrasco of Peru in an eight-round boxing bout. The Toronto fighter weighed 137½, Currasco 133.

At Jacksonville, Fla., Cary Middlecoff rolled down birdie road to the top $2,000 prize in the Jacksonville open golf tournament Monday. He fired a 33-36—69—three under par—on his final 18-hole round for a 274 total. The victory here made him the top money winner of the year.

Gromyko Attends UN

LONDON, March 22 (AP). — The Moscow radio said to-day that Andrei Gromyko, Chief Deputy Foreign Minister, has left Moscow for New York to attend the coming session of the United Nationals General Assembly. Gromyko will head the Soviet delegation, the broadcast said. This apparently means that Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky will not be present.

Doleman's Rink Captures Dobbin Trophy

By HERB MARTIN.

In a really well played game, Harry Doleman's rink came through last night, to win the R. L. Dobbin Trophy in the annual Leads' and Second's bonspiel. He defeated J. Ashmore's rink 13-4 and, while the score might indicate that the game was one-sided, it was not the case. Each one of the ten ends was well contested and the curling was just a little above the average. All of these boys did well. They are the coming curlers of the club.

The rinks:

First—H. L. Dobbin Trophy — G. Widdis, W. Westram, F. Hallawell, H. Doleman, skip. Total 13.

J. Begley, R. Roake, G. Hancock, J. Ashmore, skip. Total 4.

It is quite likely that the finals of the vice-skips' bonspiel will be played this evening.

It is understood that seven mixed rinks from Bobcaygeon will be guests here on Wednesday evening.

In the Grays playoffs last night M. Cruthers defeated L. Ackford 12-9 and, when we left the rink, S. Lowe and M. Cruthers had just commenced the semi-final game. The winner of this game meets Dr. R. Clark this evening, for the club championship and the Harry F. Foote Memorial Trophy.

Playing in Toronto yesterday in the big mixed rink bonspiel, T. Doughty's rink lost their first game and then won their second. We have no report on how they came out in their third game.

The rink was: Mrs. T. Doughty, B. Scott, Mrs. G. Wood, T. Doughty, skip.

Results of Ladies' Games

Mrs. V. Selkirk won from Mrs. G. Green.

Mrs. I. Hall won from Mrs. D. Clarke.

Mrs. O. M. Steer won from Mrs. T. Doughty.

Mrs. J. Fanning won from Mrs. J. Bruce.

Bergman Parley Nearly A Riot

ROME, March 22 — (AP) — Swedish actress Ingrid Bergman tried to hold a "press conference" Monday. It turned into a near riot.

The blonde beauty nearly fell to the floor once the pushing began. It never stopped until a squad of roly-poly hotel waiters punched a hole in the mob and hustled her upstairs.

Miss Bergman arrived Sunday night from Hollywood to star and co-produce a film with Italian director Roberto Rossellini.

Miss Bergman did her charming best but the odds were against her. Nearly 300 shouting and milling reporters, photographers and movie fans fought their way into a mirrored salon of the Excelsior Hotel where the conference was scheduled.

At first she smiled, then looked grim and finally scared.

Miss Bergman answered a few questions which nobody could hear.

The Rossellini started to get worried about his star.

"Let's go," he ordered. But the crowd stood its ground and pushed back. The doors finally were pried open and Miss Bergman was popped out.

"Maleducati" (poor manners) shouted Rossellini. "This is a horrible demonstration of bestiality."

"Badly organized," retorted a reporter.

McCready Faces Tough Job Of Unmasking The Marvel

If the notorious Masked Marvel is ever to be unmasked in Peterborough that stirring event is likely to happen on Wednesday night. The Mask meets Earl "Moose" McCready than whom there is no greater foe of mysterious matmen who hide behind hoods. McCready has little respect for such goings-on and makes no bones about what will be the outcome of Wednesday's battle. There will be no time limit to save the secretive wrestler this time as there was last week. Big and powerful and chock-full of wrestling science Earl McCready thinks there will be only one outcome to the bout and that will be a Mask defeat and consequent unmasking.

Wee Willie Davis, whose great size belies his nickname, will be on this card in the semi-final bout. The gigantic Davis, who is also known for his Hollywood villain roles, meets a tough opponent in the fast-flying Mickey Gold. Masterful Mickey thinks he is just the boy to spoil Wee Willie's return here.

The local mat star Nick Vicchiarelli gets another chance in his feud with Sammy Gotter. Gotter is breathing fire and brimstone over his disqualification loss here three weeks ago and thinks he can make Nick like it legally this time.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

It is always interesting to see the transformation of an umpire-baiting (or referee-riding) player into an ump or ref. Doug Vaughan of Windsor writes that Johnny Allen, former big league pitcher, is becoming an ump. Says: "Johnny didn't like umpires. He was completely democratic about it. He hated them all, the long, the short and the tall. Maybe he had a childish aversion to blue serge suits. Anyhow, any guy who put on one became Allen's enemy. Now Johnny is wearing one and it will be interesting to see what happens to the first manager who comes storming out of the dugout to protest a decision. The betting in most quarters is that he will be met by a left hook to the jaw. However, some observers disagree. They are betting that it will be a straight right."

First football meeting of the year for the local ORFU senior "B" Panthers is slated for South Beach on April 1. A dinner meeting for prospective players and officials of the gridiron club. It's at 6.30 p.m., and if the fellows will meet at six in the "Y", transportation will be arranged. Big plans afoot already for the football campaign in the autumn, with possibly a spring training grind put into effect. Money is being raised for the club now and some new players may be added to the squad.

Money Series Open

With the NHL schedule wrapped up over the week-end, Stanley Cup playoffs commence on two fronts tonight. Maple Leafs are in Boston for games tonight and Thursday, returning to Toronto on Saturday. Canadiens open their semi-final serial in Detroit this p.m. Each series is a best-of-seven affair. Hawks and Rangers didn't make the gravy train and Leafs didn't have too much to spare as Detroit, Boston, Canadiens and Toronto finished in that order. While one has to lean toward the Wings for finishing well out in front, anything can happen in the sawoffs, and Maple Leafs might have enough late drive to down Boston and then capture the cup. Who knows?

Legion unravelled the Nylons right in Kingston last evening with a 13-2 decision before close to 3,000 fans—some from Peterborough. That makes it two in as many starts of their best-of-five OHA senior "B" semi-final series, the scene shifting to the Belleville arena tomorrow night. Likely a lot of local fans will take that one in as it is probably going to see the finish of the Kingston crew for this semester. Unless the classy Legionnaires fall apart, and that is most improbable—the way they're travelling now. Haven't heard how the Brantford-Grimsby nor the Orillia-Sarnia series made out, but survivors of those two were to clash in semi-finals, winner playing the Legion-Kingston victors for the Ontario crown.

Loved That Space

Nothing much to it last night. Ned Vitarelli's fast-stepping pucksists really took to the large Kingston surface and they were flying all through. Went in front 4-1 in the first frame and had a 3-1 margin in the second, then dunking the biscuit six times in the third without a comeback. The shell-shocked Udall got awfully sick of seeing Bob Greenlaw, Joe Rochetta and Bill Crowley roaring on on him repeatedly. With Bert Hill, Reg Stewart, Bob Parnell and Sixty Coombs also decorating his doorstep too often as unwelcome visitors. All the Legion defence and Goalie Nicholls looked good, and in fact it was a fine bit of work by the squad as a unit.

* * * * * *

These Legionnaires are hotter than certain hinges right now and look good enough to pick up the provincial marbles. They're hungry and hustling—and also drilling nightly when not playing. Not fooling at all. Incidentally, we've learned that it was Ed McMaster, a taximan, who donated new sweaters and sox to Legion. And Cec. Wolff is giving the club new jerseys for practicing. Good stuff. Four years ago, Legionnaires started out as more or less a second-rate intermediate squad. Some promising young fellows just getting their skating legs back after seeing war services. They kept improving and won group honors last year. They're better this season and it'll take a mighty good senior "B" club to knock 'em off. Too bad mild weather hit local ice with Legion on the provincial prowl.

Influenza Outbreak

LONDON, March 22—(AP) — The ministry of health said Monday an influenza outbreak in Britain's larger cities caused 321 deaths last week—300 per cent more than during any week last year. So many workers have influenza in industrial Warwickshire that factories there may have to close. The ministry said the outbreak could not be regarded as being of epidemic proportions.

Say Visas Withheld

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP) —The leader of the forthcoming "World Peace" Conference claimed Monday night that American visas for 12 European and South American delegates have been denied or revoked. Dr. Harlow Shapely said the action affected four British delegates, four Italian, three French and one Brazilian, and called on the state department "to take immediate action to grant the visas."

Legionnaires Rip Nylons To Go Two Up In Series

Legionnaires ripped through the Nylons 13-2 in Kingston last night for their second straight victory in the best-of-five OHA Senior "B" semi-final playoffs. Nearly 3,000 fans (a number from Peterborough) saw them finish considerably stronger than the homesters on a large ice surface to practically clinch the series. The third game will be in Belleville on Wednesday night.

It was 4-1 in the first frame and 7-2 going into the third, when Legion racked up six goals without a return in a speedy and clean contest. They played good, hustling hockey every heat to earn the duke handily. Kingston fought back and threatened at times but were well beaten after two chukkers. But seven penalties were handed out, four to the winners.

Led Scorers

Once again, Legion's classy first line led the attack, Bob Greenlaw figuring in on six goals, Joe Rochetta on five and Bill Crowley on four. Bert Hill and Reg Stewart clicked nicely to be in on three apiece, with Bob Parnell and Sixty Coombs getting in on a pair each. Chum Fryia got the other. The four defencemen showed up well all thorough and Goalie Ross Nicholls was tough to beat. The whole team clicked well as a machine. Catlin was always dangerous for the Nylons, going one way, with Gerow and Partis effective in spots.

Harrison had a good try early and a rush by Ned Vitarelli and Bob Greenlaw nearly clicked. Then the Parnell line tested Udal with McKeown later robbed by Nicholls as play was fast and even early. Partis made the big crowd cheer when he scored in close on a nice pass from Catlin. Ned Vitarelli went off for interference but returned in time to see Crowley slap home Rochetta's forward pass, and then Crowley got a neat one from R. Greenlaw right after. Legion went ahead 4-1 when Coombs hit the twine on a smart finishing play with Stewart's inside pass near the finish of the frame.

Kingston Counts

Toodie Greenlaw's penalty to start the second heat for holding did no damage but Catlin later was thefted inside. Then he got through fast with a pass from Gerow to get the only other Kingston counter. It was speedy and close again for a space with plenty of noise from the fans. A drive by Fryia and T. Greenlaw almost paid off. McKeown went over for tripping but was back when Stewart scored in a hot scramble, assists going to Hill and Coombs. Two more tallies hit the mark within 24 seconds, Bob Greenlaw in each case taking a faceoff pass from Rochetta to race in and burn the disc by Udall. Crowley came close, and then Mortimer was gated for hooking as the period concluded.

Bob Greenlaw threatened to start the third and he scored a bit later from Rochetta as he streaked up the side while Joe stalled in cagey style and then slipped him the puck in close. Partis went away for holding and Bob Parnell dented the hemp with a high angle drive. Fryia was close, too, as Legion kept pressing against the tired Nylons, at full strength, and Stewart got another nifty with a hot shot from Hill's pass-up. Crowley was robbed and, with Kerluk off for slashing, Fryia bashed home his rebound. Parnell went over for hooking but returned to score a dandy, going around the net with Hill's pass. A Gerow-Catlin rush threatened, but Rochetta ended the scoring late around the net, aided by R. Greenlaw and Crowley.

The teams:

Legion—Goal, Nicholls; defence, Vitarelli and Godfrey; centre, Rochetta; wings, R. Greenlaw and Crowley; alternates, Parnell, T. Greenlaw, Fryia, Hill, Stewart, Coombs, Burns, and Mortimer.

Kingston—Goal, Udall; defence, White and Kerluk; centre, McKeown; wings, Joyce and Greenham; alternates, Gerow, Partis, Catlin, Sweetman, Blake, Stephenson, Koys and Harrison.

Referees—J. Crombie and L. Heffering.

Bancroft Triumphs

BANCROFT, March 22—(ENS)—One of the fastest hockey games here this season saw Bancroft take an 8-4 exhibition victory over Madoc of the TVL. It was 3-3 in the first period and 6-3 for the homesters after a rougher second stanza with tempers flaring as the ice became sticky. One Madoc player was guilty of several offences and at one time refused to go to the penalty bench when ordered—being replaced there by another Madoc player.

Play was speedy in the third as Madoc fought hard in an attempt to catch the smart local squad. A Madoc goal was disputed and disallowed by the referee. Play was held up some time during the argument. No serious injuries were encountered but there were some minor cuts. More than 500 saw the game. J. O'Toole of Coe Hill was referee, with Tom O'Shaughnessy and Jack Young linesmen.

Quakers Lead With 3371 In Men's Loop

Quakers moved closer to top place in the YMCA Men's Five-Pin League when they blanked Aberdeens 6-0 while the league-leading Artists were shut-out by B'nai B'rith. Quakers are the hottest team in the loop having scored over their opposition for the last five weeks and not losing a game. As has been the case for the past few weeks they were again high team last night with a 3371 total and a single game of 1316. Three of their bowlers topped the 700 mark.

In the other games Commercials won from Tip Tops 4-2 and CPC whipped Jay Bees by the same margin.

Ab Guerin topped the individual scores with a neat 757, Tom Curvin and Herb Shacker were next in line with 726, Eddie Dixon 712 and Bob White 707.

Hughie Siddall had high single of 337, Curvin 330, Guerin 321, Bob Shadgett 310 and Dixon 301.

Barrie Retains Jr. Crown Trounces Marlboros 8-4

By The Canadian Press.

Fresh from their eighth straight playoff victory, the free-wheeling Barrie Flyers today awaited the series with their next opponents along the Memorial Cup trail.

Cup finalists last year, the Flyers last night made a clean sweep of their playoff games in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A Series by defeating Toronto Marlboros 8-4 in the fourth game of their best-of-seven series at Toronto.

Previously, coach Hap Emms' charges downed Windsor Spitfires, winners of the league schedule, in four straight contests.

The Flyers now will meet Porcupine Combines, winners of the NOHA for the all-Ontario title.

Dates of the series have not been announced officially but it was reported in Toronto last night the first game has been tentatively arranged for next Saturday afternoon in Maple Leaf Gardens at Toronto. It was also unofficially reported that the series would be a best-of-three set.

Right At Home.

The Flyers were right at home as they displayed superior hockey savvy and rugged back-checking. They weren't waiting for opportunities to knock twice as they drove into a 3-1 lead in the first period and held a 6-2 margin at the end of the second.

For the slim crowd of 6,735 fans, the Dukes just didn't have what it took. They suffered too many lapses and had to struggle as hard in this, their last game of the season, as they did in making the league playoffs after losing 16 of their first 20 games.

Gary Gordon and Sid McNabney led the Barrie marksmen with two goals apiece. Rick Hogg, Gord Pennell, Real Chevrefils and Paul Meger counted one each. Toronto goals were by Don Windley, Howie Lee, Murray Grenke and Red McKennell.

Gordon started the Flyers off before the first period was 29 seconds old. The Dukes got that one back minutes later when Windley scored on a pass from Ron Hurst and George Armstrong but McNabney and Hogg tallied to give the Flyers a 3-1 edge.

In the second session McNabney lengthened the Flyers' margin with a goal at the five-minute mark. Lee drove back for the Dukes but Gordon and Pennell retaliated with counters.

Chevrefils and Meger counted in the third period for the Flyers and McKennell and Grenke tallied for the Dukes.

A Donnybrook in the second period resulted in six players receiving major penalties.

It started when Lorne Pirie of Toronto began flinging arms at Barrie's Harold Hopper. Hurst barged in to help Pirie and the two teams joined in. When referees Bill Morrison and Norm Locking stopped the fracas, Bob Bingley and Stan Long joined Hopper with majors as did Windley, Hurst and Pirie.

Sawyer Hopeful Things Better

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 22 —(AP)—Eddie Sawyer sees 1949 as "the year of the big if" in the National Baseball League, with his Philadelphia Phillies prepared to spring a surprise.

As optimistic as a fellow can be who finished sixth last year, Sawyer finds hope in the problems of others. The 37-year-old Sawyer came from the Toronto farm club to take over the job of bossing the big club last July after Ben Chapman was replaced, expects no miracles. But he thinks improvement is to be expected.

"We have added power in Bill Nicholson and Eddie Waitkus. Sure, we gave up pitching in Dutch Leonard and Monk Dubiel. But Leonard is going on 40 and Dubiel was a must for Chicago. He was their key man in the deal. Hank Borowy and Russ Meyer, who came to us from the Cubs, are going to help.

"We'll do better than a lot of people think."

The outfield should show a definite improvement in power with Nicholson in right, Ritchie Ashburn in centre and Del Ennis in left. Johnny Blatnik, a fine "spring hitter" will be held in reserve.

Waitkus, a sure fielder and .296 batter at Chicago, gets the call at first. Eddie Miller, moved over from shortstop, has the nod over Buddy Blattner, ex-Giant acquired in the draft, for second base.

Name Conacher Leading Scorer

MONTREAL, March 22 (CP)—The National Hockey League office made it official to-day—Roy Conacher of Chicago is the 1948-1949 scoring champion.

Final figures show the Black Hawk sharpshooter with 68 points on 26 goals and 42 assists, which topped Doug Bentley, his Chicago linemate's 23 goals and 43 assists for 66 points.

Detroit's Sid Abel led the goal-getters with 28 markers, while Bentley's 43 assists headed that department.

Bill Durnan of Montreal, who captured his fifth Vezina Trophy in six years, led the netminders in shutouts, with 10, and had the best goals-against average, 2.10 per game.

Wild Bill Ezinicki of Toronto, although he missed eight games because of injuries, still took the penalty honors in a breeze, racking up 145 minutes in penalty time. Defenceman Bill Quackenbush of Detroit, Toronto's Harry Watson, and Buddy O'Connor of New York, all went through the season without drawing a single penalty.

Investigate Charges

TORONTO, March 22 (CP). — Officials of the Ontario Milk Control Board announced Monday that they would investigate charges that milk from non-tested herds and non-inspected barns was being sold in Toronto for 18 cents a quart, the ceiling price. The charges were made last week by L. B. Jolly, a Peel County farmer.

Reinforcements For Two Teams

BOSTON, March 22— (CP). — Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins, both reinforced with eight forwards and two goalies, clash to-night in the opening game of Series B of the National League's playoffs for the Stanley Cup.

Toronto's call-ups are topped by Pittsburg Hornets' star left winger, Sid Smith, who copped the American Hockey League's scoring honors. Others from Pittsburg are Eldred Kobussen, Rudy Migay, Frank Mathers, Bob Dawes, Fleming Mackell, and Goalie Baz Bastien.

Bastien has been leading goaltender in the AHL for three straight years and this season led the loop in shutouts with six. He ended the season with an average of 2.57 — 175 goals scored against him in 68 games.

The Leafs, who finished the regular season in fourth place, are also drawing two forwards and a goaltender from Toronto Marlboros who won the Ontario Hockey Association's Senior A title on Saturday. They are forwards Bobby Robertson and Ray Hannigan, and goalie Howie Harvey.

Jack Gelineau, former netminder and captain of McGill University's hockey team, who was signed in mid-season, has been ordered to "stand by" as the Bruins' spare goalie.

Other Boston call-ups are Silvio Bettio, Arnie Kullman, Phil Maloney, Ross Lowe, Clare Martin, Cliff Thompson and goalie Gordon Henry from the Hershey Bears of the AHL, and Gordon Young and Lloyd Durham from Tulsa Oilers of the United States Hockey League.

County Forms New High School District

County Council which began its March meeting today, gave third reading to a bylaw making the formation of the high school district known as Suburban Peterborough District retroactive to January 1, 1948. This moves the date of joining back a year.

Purpose of this bylaw was to take advantage of an increased Department of Education grant estimated at nearly $12,000.

The usual method has been for the Peterborough Board of Education to bill the County for the number of pupils attending PCVS from rural areas. For last year, and billed this year the cost of these pupils amounted to approximately $28,000; the total cost of County secondary education was $34,957, thus indicating the large proportion of the cost was payable to the city of Peterborough.

County Receives Grant

At present the City receives a 25 per cent grant from the Department and this percentage is lopped off the County bill.

However, if the Suburban Peterborough District pays the education bill instead of the County, the grant on the approved cost is raised to 70 percent.

A rough estimate puts the saving at $12,000, minus the grant on those County pupils boarding in the city, or making their own transportation arrangements.

During this transitional period the raising of funds for education appeared as though it would be particularly heavy—the cost of last year had to be met, as well as the current expenditures under the new plan of three High School districts.

Four municipalities still remain out of the plan: Dummer, Douro, Ennismore, and Galway-Cavendish. Their educational budget will be met by taxing them according to the County equalized assessment of 50 per cent, and each of the four levying municipalities for the remaining 50 per cent.

At present there are more than 200 students from outside municipalities attending PCVS.

The difference in grant was described by K. O. Birkin, school inspector for Peterborough East, as the difference between the 25 per cent and 70 per cent grant on the approved cost of education for the Suburban Peterborough District.

"As I see it, it would help the whole county," Mr. Birkin told members of Council.

"I don't think we can afford to pass this up," said Reeve Melville Johnston of North Monaghan.

Must Approve By-law

The by-law must still be approved by the Minister of Education before it becomes effective.

A resolution passed without dissent that the Educational Reserve Fund be brought into this year's current revenue. The reserve is about $6,500.

The four municipalities who are outside the new secondary school scheme were urged to set up reserve funds of their own.

TWO RHYTHM BAND TOTS, members of winning Prince of Wales School group at the Kiwanis Third Music Festival, explain some of the finer points to Past-President E. G. Pridham, Left, and Adjudicator G. No Bylaw Exists Banning Negroes In City

Following publication of Mrs. Beverly Crerar's letter in The Examiner Monday concerning the legal position of Negroes in the city of Peterborough, city police say that there is no bylaw forbidding Negroes to remain in Peterborough longer than 24 hours. City Police Chief Thompson told The Examiner today that when Mrs. Crerar telephoned the police station to enquire whether such a bylaw existed, the information supplied to her was given in error.

City Clerk E. A. Outram also said "there is no such bylaw and never has been in either the city or county of Peterborough."

Mrs. Crerar intimated that the police had today notified her of the error. "I would not write the letter before taking steps to ascertain whether there was a restriction," she said.

Park St. YPU Presents Play

The Young People's Union of Park St. Baptist Church presented a Biblical play in the church basement on Monday. Entitled "The Seamless Robe", the play depicted the faith of the widow Bethiah, the healing of the crippled girl Azubah and the ultimate conversion of the group of women who met every day at the well. There are to be repeat performances tonight and Friday.

The play is a re-enactment of the Bible story, simply portrayed by a small group of actors. Production was under the direction of Olive Tedford and Eric Bills was responsible for some realistic eastern scenery.

Joy Barkwell played the part of the widow; Dorothy Rogers, the mother of the crippled child and wife of one of Christ's followers; Roy Rogers, the husband; Irma Dayman, the child; Jean Rogers, Naarel, the sceptical disbeliever; Brenda Rogers, another woman at the well and Arden Clements, Vyrtle Sisson, Gordon Herzog and Kenneth Sutton, Roman soldiers.

The scenes were each preceded by sacred music sung by the cast and Eric Bills and Nancy Lane with a piano accompaniment played by Alberta Whan.

WRONG DEPARTMENT

Firemen went to Peterborough Co-op Services on Monday afternoon, but the arrival of a plumber might have been more appropriate. A pipe in the sprinkler system froze and burst. This automatically set off an alarm at the fire station.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

The request of the Allied Labor Council for use of the Riverside Bowl for their Labor Day program Sept. 5 was granted by the council Monday night in a motion by Aldermen Anglesey and Young.

PLAN NURSES RESIDENCE

Authority to City Solicitor Huycke to draft an agreement with W. & W.R.L. Blackwell and Craig, architects of the new Civic Hospital, to prepare plans for its nurses' residence was phrased in a motion by Ald. Dick Raine and Ald. Doug Miller at the council meeting Monday night.

ROTARY GUESTS

Guests introduced at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club Monday in the Empress Hotel by Syd Black included: G. H. Michell, of Adelaide, Australia; Russ Baer, manager of Radio Station CEHX; Samuel Killen, of Ennismore; and E. V. Elliott, and J. E. Girven, of Peterborough.

CLEAN FACES

City downtown streets are being cleaned of ice and sand by the Works' Department. Snow scrapers for which there has been little use on city skating rinks scraped the sand to the side of the street, where it was put in trucks. This spring street-cleaning encouraged some store managers to set employees to washing their sidewalks with hoses.

WIN TOURNAMENT

The Cribbage Club of the Peterborough branch of the Canadian Legion, for the second year won the annual cribbage tournament, held in their hall on Saturday evening. They defeated the Toronto "Originals" team by a score of 6,838 to 6,767. Competition for the cup was very keen. Frank Bell was captain of the local Legion team.

ANOTHER JOB FOR THE FORESTER

The County Council today heard a communication read from Charles Kingan reporting that timber along the Old Hatton Road, near the second bridge on the way into Jack's Lake, was being cut. Council referred the matter to the District Forester, A. B. Wheatley.

HASTINGS NOT YET INCLUDED

A by-law was passed at the last session of the County Council to permit the village of Hastings to enter the Norwood District high school area. But there is still a delay in the matter because the Department of Education has not yet received a similar by-law from the Counties of Northumberland and Durham allowing the village to join.

HONORS AT FESTIVAL

Bancroft pupils did well at the Kiwanis Music Festival on Tuesday afternoon. The Girls' Chorus of the Public School took the award for their singing of "Star Lullaby" (Treharne), and Grade 6-7-8 won third prize in the highly-competitive School Chorus class. They were under the direction of Miss Theda Anderson and Edward Alexander. Pupils were taken through the Quaker Oats Co. before returning to Bancroft.

Youth Acquitted On Charge Stealing Battery

Three conflicting accounts of the whereabouts of Murray Nice, 19, of 581 Douglas Ave., charged with stealing a car battery on March (1) were given at city police court Monday. Nice, who faced two other charges of stealing batteries was acquitted on the first charge, remanded on a $500 bail on a second charge and a third was adjourned.

Detective Constable Clark told the court that he was policing the CGE car parking lot with Constable McMillan when he saw a car driven onto the lot. The accused got out and approached a second car. He lifted something out of this other car, carried it to the car he had driven to the lot and drove away. Detective Clark said he and Constable McMillen drove around the city in a police cruiser and after some time found the car in which Nice had driven away, parked outside a lunch bar. They went into the bar and arrested Nice and Lorne Fontaine.

Detective Clark said he had recognized both Nice and the car he was driving, when he saw them on the parking lot. He had known Nice for a number of years.

Found Three Batteries

The detective said that the boys were interviewed separately at the police station but both had denied having been at the parking lot that night. As a result of what he overheard when they were put into the police cell together, he found three batteries in a car parked outside Nice's house.

The charge on which Nice was acquitted did not concern the battery which the detective said he saw taken from the car on the parking lot. He had discovered to whom that battery and one of the other three found in the car outside Nice's house belonged, but the charge on which Nice was acquitted, was in respect of the third battery belonging to a person unknown.

Found Car Without Battery

The detective said he returned to the CGE after finding the three batteries and found a car from which a battery had been removed and he thought the unidentified battery had been taken from it.

When Nice gave evidence he said he had not been on the parking lot that night. Reminded that he was making this statement on oath, he said he was positive he had not been at the lot that night.

Nice said that on the night in question he was at home until 8 o'clock and then he and Lorne Fontaine had gone out for a drive around the city. They had driven up and down George St. a number of times and had called at a lunch bar for refreshments. He said they had driven back to Fontaine's house and he had stayed in the car while Fontaine had taken some cigarettes in. Then they went to the lunch bar and were arrested there.

When Fontaine was cross examined he gave a different account. He said he saw Nice at 7.15 p.m. and did not see him again that evening until they met in the lunch bar at 10 p.m.

SURPRISED?

Busdrivers are the subjects of many jokes, but Saturday night the joke was on the busdriver. One driver picked up a female passenger who was rather wobbly. She sat directly behind the driver. After having gone two blocks the busdriver thought he had bugs in his hair. Something kept tickling the back of his head. Finally he made a grab for the troublesome thing. When he saw what he was holding, he became speechless. It was a long feather attached to a pillbox hat. The woman mumbled:

"Well, you didn't have to take my hat."—D. G.

Lindsay Girls Winners In Vocal Class

"A fine silvery tone—a polished refined version," was the verdict of Adjudicator G. H. Heath-Gracie on Monday night as he awarded top honors in the soprano class (under 21 years) to Miss J. Dunn of Lindsay.

It was the final adjudication of the day after morning, afternoon and night sessions at the current Music Festival sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Runners up were Miss B. Chase of Lindsay whose solo had "very attractive color" and was "creditably artistic," and Miss D. Ferguson of Peterborough.

Praise for Band

High praise for the Peterborough Citizens' Band, under Bandmaster W. H. Peryer, was also given by the adjudicator. It was the sole entry in the Brass and Reed Bands class, and their selection was "The Golden Dragon" (King).

Highlight of the afternoon entries was the School Chorus for Grades 7 and 8. Entries were received from seven schools in the district including Port Hope, Bancroft, Millbrook and Lakefield.

The adjudicator paid tribute to the level of musical organization in the province which is organized by Roy Fenwick for approximately 7000 schools.

"You have a very remarkable well-knit organization for school music," he said.

With a fund of humorous anecdotes Mr. Heath-Gracie told the assembled schoolchildren of the change in attitude that has risen on the subject of school music since he was a boy.

He also had words of praise for schoolteachers; "The only reason teachers stay in that profession is because the goal is always over the horizon."

Prince of Wales Wins

Prince of Wales School choir won the school chorus class. Mr. Heath-Gracie said their performance "had something behind it we call inspiration." It was an example of "fine artistry," and revealed "some of the most delicate shades of color."

Port Hope Public School came next with Bancroft Public School taking third place.

The adjudicator counselled better diction and articulation on the part of many of the groups and advised music teachers to employ more staccatto to give a light, comical touch.

Here are a list of the results:

Piano Solo (under 10 years)—1 B. Wills, 2 L. Myles, 3 R. Pitchford, Peterborough.

Girls' Solo (under 15 years) — 1 A. Westaway, Cameron; 2 R. Grandy, Omemee; 3 E.Lewis, Hastings.

Piano Solo (under six years) — 1 E. McClelland, Port Hope; 2 S. Muspratt, S. Monaghan; 3 G. Hancock, Peterborough.

Girls' Chorus—1 Bancroft Public School (under direction of Miss Theda Anderson).

Rhythm Band—1 Prince of Wales School, 2 King George School.

School Chorus, Grades 7 and 8 —1 Prince of Wales School, 2 Port Hope Public School, 3 Bancroft Public School.

Piano Duet, under 17 years — 1 F. Schwartz, N. Schwartz; 2 B. Goodman, J. Bullied; 3 J. Estlick, P. Zacks.

Tenor Solo—1 W. Perry, Lindsay, 2 R. Davidson, Lindsay, 3 K. Wilson, Lindsay.

Piano Solo—1 A. Smith, Peterborough; 2 F. Herlihey, Lindsay; 3 G. Ingham, Millbrook.

Contralto Solo—1 L. Magahay, Lindsay; 2 E. McBride, Port Hope; 3 J. Winslow, Millbrook.

Bass Solo—W. Dawson, E. Hawara, Peterborough.

Violin Solo (under 18 years) — 1 B. Anderson, Peterborough.

Male Quartette—1 D. Landry, K. Wilson, B. Davidson, J. Moore.

Soprano Oratorio—1 B. Chase, Lindsay; 2 J. Dunn, Lindsay; 3 I. Whalon, Peterborough.

Soprano (under 21 years)—1 J. Dunn, Lindsay; 2 B. Chase, Lindsay, 3 D. Ferguson, Peterborough.

Dixon House Forms Junior Fire Brigade

Plans for the Neighbourhood Council's Junior Fire Brigade are well under way from a report given by Leo Belanger to the executive of the Council Monday night. They decided that boys from 12 to 18 would be allowed to join. After an interview with Fire Chief George Smith Mr. Belanger told the Council the Department was behind the project. They hope to start the brigade in about two weeks.

Several of the younger firemen will talk to the members of the Junior brigade discussing with them ways of preventing fires and the procedure of putting them out. The brigade is to be primarily for the prevention of fires in the area.

Mr. Belanger reported plans for the Junior Police Department in the area. They are to receive the co-operation of the Police Department.

Further plans were discussed regarding the Branch Library in the Dixon House. Members of the executive reported a number of inquiries about the library.

W. HAROLD YELLAND was returned as president of Branch 52 of the Canadian Legion on Monday night. Well-liked when he served on the executive for several years, his popularity increased last year when he was president. He is a veteran of the First World War.

Harold Yelland Re-elected Head Of Legion

W. Harold Yelland was re-elected for his second term as president of the Peterborough Branch 52 of the Canadian Legion at the annual meeting Monday night. Nominations had been accepted at the January and February meetings.

C. H. McWilliams is the new 1st vice-president, succeeding George McNabb. Louis Durkin, 2nd vice-president was elected by acclamation in February. The executive for the new year is A. R. Bennett, H. G. Kelsey, C. H. Stuart, G. G. Torrance and Arthur Wagstaff. Oran Varty was returned as the Sergeant-at-Arms.

After the business part of the meeting Mr. Yelland turned the chair over to Rev. W. J. Gilling, one of the Padres of Branch 52. Mr. Gilling appointed scrutineers and had the ballots distributed. When Mr. Yelland was returned to office, he again took over as chairman.

Two members of the Legion whose applications had been accepted in February, Gerald Creighton and John Trayling, were initiated. Harold O'Connell, W. W. Cowling, S. Wawrykow, Robert J. O'Donoghue, Elmer Down, Frederick James McMurray, and William Oliver had their applications accepted and will be initiated at a future meeting.

OBITUARIES

JAMES DOUGLAS JOHNSTON

Funeral service for the late James Douglas Johnston, 54, was held on Saturday in Toronto. The Rev. Dr. Johnston of Eglington United Church officiated and pallbearers were fellow employees of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Burial was at Fife Cemetery in Otonabee and graveside service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. James Semple of George Street United Church.

Mr. Johnston was born in Peterborough, son of the late William James Johnston and Agnes Jane Thompson. He had been with the Canadian Bank of Commerce for 31 years, for the last 20 in Toronto, and before that in Smith Falls and this city. He was a member of Eglington United Church.

He leaves his wife, the former Lillian May Fife, a daughter, Miss Ruth Johnston at home, and a sister, Miss Florence Johnston of this city.

GEORGE E. CROSSON

Requiem mass for the late George Edward Crosson, 81, of this city was said on Monday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The Rev. James Greenan was celebrant of the mass and pall-bearers were all former associates at the Peterborough-Brinton Company. They were Wilfred Jones, A. Rose, J. McMartin, E. McMasters, G. Lackie and M. Rundles. The Rev. J. J. Killen officiated at the graveside service and burial was at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Mr. Crosson died on Saturday following a lengthy illness. He was born in Worcester, Mass., son of the late Patrick Crosson and Mary McMahon, and had lived in Peterborough for many years. Until six years ago, he worked for Peterborough-Brinton Company and was highly esteemed by both management and fellow workers. He leaves no immediate relatives and was a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

D. R. Michener Named As PC Candidate

TORONTO, March 22 (CP) — D. R. Michener, former provincial secretary of Ontario, has been nominated to contest the Toronto St. Paul's riding for the Progressive Conservative party in the next Federal election.

Mr. Michener, chosen at a nomination meeting here last night, now is executive assistant to the party national leader, George Drew. Since 1935 the St. Paul's seat has been held by Douglas Ross, Progressive Conservative, who is retiring.

City Sells Factory Property To Sealright For $30,000

Sale of the Aylmer St. factory property under lease to Canadian Sealright Co. for $30,000 was authorized by the City Council Monday night. A by-law introduced by Ald. Dick Raine, chairman of the manufacturers committee, authorized execution of conveyance of the property to Canadian Sealright, to whom the lease had been assigned by Nashua Paper Co. Sealright was thereby exercising the option of purchase given by the city in the first place to Nashua Paper.

Removal of a restriction against the location of undertaking establishments on the east side of Rubidge St., between Simcoe and Charlotte Streets, was effected in a by-law introduced by Ald. James Gillespie, representing Ald. Adam Sands, chairman of the legal committee.

This amendment of a former bylaw affords permission to A. Comstock & Sons to transfer their funeral home from Water St. to the southeast corner of Simcoe and Rubidge Streets. However, it must first receive the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board.

City Clerk Outram explained that the Board would arrange a meeting to hear any opposition to the lifting of the existing restriction, and would direct that the date and place of the sitting would be locally advertised.

Street Expenditure

A formal bylaw read by Ald. H. Dodds provided for the estimated expenditure of $128,500 on roads and streets in the city this year. This is required as the basis of the Ontario government's road subsidy.

The Department of Highways had previously contributed to the city the equivalent of one mill in the tax rate. This year the Department is paying one-third of the expenditure. The former subsidy would have amounted, according to the the taxable assessment to approximately $38,000. The new basis of assistance should provide a sum slightly in excess of that amount. One-third of City Engineer Chalmers' estimated expenditure this year would be around $42,000.

Another Dodds bylaw authorizes construction of a sewer on Frank St., west of High St., but not beyond the slope to Western Ave., and a second sewer on Monaghan Road north from Rose Ave., to a point beyond the Braidwood Ave. intersection.

Third reading was given bylaws for sewers on McFarlane Ave., St. Luke's St. and Hazeldean Ave. They had been held up in the second reading for approval of the Municipal Board and Department of Highways.

Lumber Pile

Permission to Ventilating Shades Company to pile lumber on the property west of their plant on Reid St., was granted in a motion by Ald. Dick Raine, seconded by Ald. Doug Miller.

'Canadian Ventilating Shades have no intention of going into sawmill operations," said Ald. Miller. "They require space for drying purposes."

The company's property is bounded by Reid, Murray and Downie Streets and the Jackson Park Creek. It has been idle land. In passing the motion the council stipulated that the enclosing fence planned by the company should be of attractive picket type within the general meaning of being "suitable and not detrimental to the locality." The area is 2½ acres.

14 Accused Of Spying

LONDON, March 22 —(AP)— Fourteen Albanians charged with spying for Yugoslavia went on trial in Tirana Monday. The Albanian telegraph service quoted by teleradio reported the 14 also are charged with having organized and participated in a terrorist organization, with supplying economic and military information to Yugoslavia and attempting to flee to Yugoslavia.

Vienna Family Welcomes Rotary's Parcel

Grateful thanks and appreciation for a gift parcel of food sent by the Rotary Club of Peterborough on February 5 to Edwin Witzmann in Vienna, Austria, were extended to the club in a letter from Mr. Witzmann which was read at Monday's luncheon of the Peterborough Club in the Empress Hotel by Secretary Les Woodruff. The recipient of the parcel wrote that it helped greatly to supplement the meagre supply of rationed food his family is getting at the present time.

"It is a great comfort for my family and myself to know that we have such generous friends," said Mr. Witzmann, "otherwise we would despair with regard to right and justness in this world." He wrote that he and his family "owed much to Rotary International, who gave you our name and address. Perhaps we owe them our life."

Mr. Witzman said that he was born in what was formerly Austria-Hungary and learned the trade of ironmonger. Under the provisions of the Treaty of St. Germaine he later became a Yugoslav citizen, at one time serving as secretary of the Rotary Club of Krainburg, Yugoslavia. When the Germans took over Yugoslavia he was forced into the German Wehrmacht in 1944 and in December, 1945, he was released from Russian captivity and sent home to Yugoslavia. On his arrival he found that his family had been told to move on several days earlier. They were driven over the border and eventually reached Vienna, where, because he was a foreigner, Witzmann was unable to get work in his own trade.

Assistant Plumbing Inspector Appointed

Frank Scott, 232 Edinburgh St., was appointed assistant plumbing inspector, on full time, beginning April 1, "at a commencing salary of $2,300 a year plus $200 a year car allowance" by the council's adoption Monday night of the report of the welfare committee presented by Ald. P. J. Anglesey, chairman.

Another clause was: "That this committee endorses the position of the family relief board of Kitchener in urging the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, to make provision for the continuation of family allowances beyond the age of 16 years, in cases of children who can be medically certified as being totally incapacitated."

Study Group Meet

The Study Group of Queen Mary Home and School Association was joined by groups in the city, Lakefield and Bridgenorth, at a meeting of about 60 in the school auditorium Monday evening. The program opened with Mrs. G. Reader, vice president of the Association as chairman, and all sang the national anthem and the "Lord's Prayer." Lorraine Bacon played a most pleasing piano solo. Mrs. Norman Hughes, contralto soloist, contributed two beautiful selections and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Thos. Williams. The film, "Your children and you" was shown for the first time in this city, and afterward Mrs. D. Rostocky led a panel discussion on the points of child psychology brought out. The film was a recipe for bringing up a child to the age of five, showing readjustments necessary in the family to meet situations coming up in best possible manner. Discussion of what might be done under other circumstances brought out many helpful hints for mothers of children in that age group. Tea was served in the rotunda of Queen Mary group under convenership of Mrs. Fred Dobson.

DOROTHY DIX

Man Needs Backbone to Rid Home of Sponging Relatives

Dorothy Dix

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Please tell me what is the obligation of a man to his in-laws. My wife's sister and brother have been living in my home for the last eight years and I am fed up with both of them. The brother is lazy and drinks and the sister never thinks about anything but playing bridge. Neither of them pays a nickel for the upkeep of the home.

Now I am far from a rich man and I have growing children who must be educated, and I would like to come home from work just one day and be able to sit down with my own family and not have Brother and Sister right under my nose. Do you think I am selfish in wanting this?

ANSWER: I don't think a man is selfish because he wants his home to himself without its being cluttered up by his wife's relatives. That is what he married for, and it is no more than he has a right to expect.

But how to attain this domestic Elysium is a problem that not even Solomon himself could solve. For the parasitic relative is always with us. He, she and they infest almost every home, and how to get rid of the pests nobody knows. Or, if he does, he hasn't the nerve and the backbone to apply the remedy.

Assert Self

I think you should assert yourself and refuse to be victimized any further by your wife's brother and sister who have camped in you home. As they are prefectly healthy, they should get out and support themselves. When you allow them to sponge on you, you do them more harm than good because you weaken their morale, and they will never make any effort in their own behalf until they are forced into it.

So, in my opinion, if you will button up your pockets and put "Keep Out" instead of "Welcome" on the doormat for your wife's relatives, you will do yourself and them a good turn. After all, when a man marries a girl, it is not incumbent on his to support all of her family.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Two years ago I married a man whom I loved very dearly. I still do, but he is hard to take because every time we have a quarrel he runs to his mother, and naturally she takes his side and very often suggests that he stay with her for a while. This burns me up, but I love him so much that I always forgive him and take him back.

What do you think of a husband like mine?

FORGIVING WIFE

ANSWER: Well, I think your husband is a poor, childish creature if when you quarrel he runs home to Mother and pours into her ears all of his woes. I should think you would tell him to stay with Mother and let her baby him.

And if Mother had a grain of sense, she wouldn't sympathize with him and "poor boy" him. She would tell him that if he had a bit of manliness about him, he wouldn't tell even his mother about his wife's faults, and instead of running away from the responsibilities of marriage he would brace himself up to meet them with courage and dignity, instead of sniveling over them like a little boy.

But if you really love your husband, why don't you stop quarreling with him? It takes two to make a family fight, you know. So, instead of disputing with him, agree with him the next time he starts something, and it will leave him flat with nothing to say.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I have been married for 15 years and have always gotten along fine together. However, a few months ago he decided he was getting young again and craved the bright lights, so he ups and leaves me. However, last week he returned and said that he wants to come back to home and Mother.

Would you advise me to take him back?

A LONELY WIFE

ANSWER: Surely. He has had his lesson and he will be the most housebroken husband in the world when once he gets back to his own fireside. A lot of men who think they have gotten too young for their wives find out their mistake when they try stepping out with teen-agers, and they are glad enough to come back to their old wives.

bengaline with navy and white straw hat, and corsage of red roses. The bride's table was in color scheme of yellow and white with silver holders of golden daffodils and matching candles also in silver holders. The table had a white damask cloth and was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Serving the guests, who included only immediate relatives, were the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Martin of Hamilton, and Mrs. Keith Blair.

For their wedding trip to Toronto, Timmins and North Bay the bride and groom left by car. They will live a short distance south of Millbrook.

Dorothy Starr To Live In Sudbury

St. Luke's Anglican Church was the scene, Saturday, of the wedding of Dorothy Pearl Starr and Lorwell Clifford Henry (Bud) Murphy of Sudbury. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert D. Starr, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Murphy of Winnipeg. Ther ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. J. Gilling. Miss Joyce Wyatt played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Audrey Starr. She chose a two-piece dress of blue wool crepe, navy accessories and corsage of red roses. The bridesmaid was in navy brocade dress with matching accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Alvin Aldred attended the groom.

A reception followed at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sutherland, Parnell St. The bride's mother assisted to receive, attired in navy print dress and matching accessories.

The couple left later by train for Sudbury where they will make their home.

Radio In Your Bonnet Complete With 2-tube Set

Radio in your bonnet: Could it be a superhatrodyne?

NEW YORK—(NEA)—"Hey, lady, you're talking through your hat."

"It's very possible, young man, my hat is a radio, you know."

By means of a chapeau now being produced as the Radio Hat, complete with two tubes, an antenna and an earphone, it will be possible for a woman to go shopping and tuck her favorite soap opera atop her curly little head.

Likewise, the whole family can go to the movies at night, yet each member can stay tuned to his favorite evening entertainment.

Probably the greatest advance in our civilization since the whirling beanie, the Radio Hat consists of a two-tube radio set built into a tropical helmet. The control dial is set forward, above the eyes, flanked by two tubes. A circular antenna is set jauntily toward the rear. When the soap opera is over, the antenna is a fine spot for drying out handkerchiefs.

Inside the hat's lining, in a quarter-inch-thick arrangement, are the wiring, resistors, condensers, tuning coil and other parts. A standard earphone fastens to the hat on one side. Power comes from a small pocket battery.

The hat comes in a giddy array of colors, including canary yellow, lipstick red, turquoise, chartreuse, tangerine, lavender blue, and something called chimeric cerise. But the color is permanent, no matter what program is coming through the hat.

A FEW ANSWERS TO COMMON QUESTIONS ABOUT MINIT CURL

Because one capsule gives several home waves, each complete MINIT CURL application costs only from 6c to 10c. Yet no home permanent, no wave set, no other method known will give your hair more lovely, more manageable, more natural looking curls and waves.

- Fastest home waving method known.
- Makes permanents unnecessary, yet if used between permanents MINIT CURL reconditions hair and your expensive permanents last longer. Use any curlers.
- Different from cold waves, your MINIT CURL cannot "go wrong." Just shampoo your hair to take wave out.

CURLS AND WAVES HAIR AS YOU SET IT

- "Do" hair at home without permanent waving.
- Independent laboratory tests place MINIT CURL first of all hair waving preparations tested.
- Highly recommended. Professional Look.

Always ask for Marlene's MINIT CURL. There is nothing "just like it."

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
GET MINIT CURL . . . use one capsule. If your first trial doesn't delight you return remaining four capsules for money back.

Takes Senator Davies To Task For Family Allowance Objections

OTTAWA, March 22 — (CP). — A rebuke administered to Senator W. Rupert Davies by a fellow Ontario Liberal, Senator Arthur Roebuck, for the former's stand on family allowances, marked the end of the Throne Speech debate in the Red Chamber. Senator Roebuck took Senator Davies to task for saying that the family allowance plan would "help the thriftless and penalize the thrifty."

Senator Davies sat quietly through his colleague's long speech, interrupting only once.

He said he wished to be quoted correctly and read from his March 17 speech:

"When family allowances were first talked about I was opposed to them, not because I begrudged help to needy families but because I felt they would help the thriftless and penalize the thrifty.

"However, I listened to the debate in the other place (House of Commons) and also in this House and was won over to support the measure. I am still in favor of it but think we have gone far enough."

Not Misquoted.

Senator Roebuck said he had not misquoted Senator Davies and that the latter, in discussing family allowances, "took every whack at the legislation that he had in his bag of tricks."

To say that parents of children under 16 years of age were thriftless "is a suggestion so unworthy that I do not believe the senator from Kingston meant what he said," Senator Roebuck commented.

Senator Roebuck said 84 per cent of the children in Canada were supported by only 19 per cent of the gainfully employed.

He said the Family Allowance Act, by June 1949, will have added $1,000,000,000 to the purchasing power of the mothers of Canada.

Senator Davies had said mothers who got the allowances said their children don't have to work after school.

Praises Mothers.

"God bless such mothers," said Senator Roebuck, "who would preserve for their children the time allotted for play."

If allowances had made it impossible for employers to get boys to work after school, robbing the 'playgrounds for messengers to ride bicycles through dangerous streets delivering parcels for a pittance, sell newspapers on busy corners or sweep floors in factories . . . then I am all for allowances."

He added:

"I presume there are some people too stingy to reproduce their kind but why dignify that type of selfishness with the honorable title of thrift?"

The burden of raising the next generation of Canadians fell upon less than one-fifth of the working population, "Shall we whose nightly rest is unbroken begrude some financial assistance to those who are bearing the entire cost and inconvenience of perpetuating the nation?"

Senator Davies had said he would vote for broadened allowances legisaltion but wondered "where all this paternalism is going to end?" Why, asked Senator Roebuck, "vote for a measure one disapproves to the point of damning it as paternalism?"

"The Senator from Kingston is worried about the effect which "all this governmental generosity is going to have on the rising generation.'

Has It In Mind

"He does not refer to the effect of this generosity upon those who pay for it but I fancy that was not entirely absent from his mind."

Family allowances were costing each Canadian about $19 a year; about $1.58 per capita per month. "I do not think we are going generosity-bankrupt," he said.

'The honorable Senator quotes Lloyd George as saying 'It is awfully cold at the top.'

"Oh, no it is not. At the top you will find steam heating, plush furniture and oriental rugs. It is cold only at the bottom.

"At the top it is not the atmosphere that is cold but rather some of the people who get there."

Senator Davies had wondered if children of today would have the ambition that past generations had, had talked of the allowances as "sliding down the mountain side to the green and pleasant valleys."

"Is this," said Senator Roebuck, "not overdoing somewhat the possible demoralization by luxury a mother might buy her child with $5.90 a month? It may be a long time since the honorable Senator bought a pair of children's shoes."

Seek New Liquor Sale Vote For Owen Sound

OWEN SOUND, March 2—(CP)—A petition seeking a vote on the sale of liquor and beer in this city, under local option since 1906, is in the hands of City Clerk Alan S. Stewart. The petition carries 3,319 names.

The petition will be forwarded to the Liquor Licence Control Board, which will set a date for the vote.

Owen Sound went dry May 1, 1906, after voting 1,263 to 762 in favor of local option. It has remained dry since, despite votes in 1909 and 1912.

The petition asks a vote on five of the eight possible choices: Government liquor stores, government beer stores, women's beverage rooms, men's beverage rooms and cocktail lounges.

Norwood Woman Dies In Alaska

Mrs. Melinda A. Howson, former resident of Norwood, passed away March 11 at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Skuse of Juneau, Alaska, with whom she had made her home since October 1946.

Born in Otonabee Township, May 17, 1862, Mrs. Howson was the daughter of the late James J. Carter and Sarah Jane Fife. She was predeceased by her husband Benjamin C. Howson, many years ago and later by a daughter Mrs. W. H. Buck (Mildred). Besides her daughter, Mrs. D. W. Skuse (Lilian), she is survived by one brother, C. W. Barter, Juneau, three sisters, Miss M. A. Carter, Mrs. H. N. Cameron, and Mrs. R. J. Leeper and three grandchildren James, Gerald and Greta Buck of Norwood

A member of the United Church of Canada, she took an active interest in all its organizations, for some time teaching a class in Sunday School and being president of the W. M. S. and superintendent of the Mission Band for a number of years.

The funeral service was held on Monday, March 14, at 2 p.m. from the C. W. Carter Mortuary Chapel, Rev. Samuel McPhetres conducting the final rites. During the service, Mr. Ernest Ehlers sang two hymns "Dear Lord and Saviour of Mankind" and "Face to Face."

Pallbearers were Clifton K. Tisdale, Lester Linehan, Henry Harmon, Monte Grisham, George Skuse and Charles Skuse.

Interment was in the C. W. Carter family plot within the I.O. O.F. section of Evergreen Cemetery, Juneau.

11 People Injured In 3-Car Accident

BRADFORD, March 22 (CP)—Eleven persons were injured, three seriously, in an accident involving three automobiles and a truck on Highway No. 11 last night near Bradford, 35 miles north of Toronto.

Driver of one of the cars, Albert Wales of Shanty Bay, was charged with drunk driving. Police said the car operated by Wales sideswiped another car, which went out of control and caused a pile-up.

Seriously injured were three Barrie persons, Mrs. Edna Scott who has a fractured skull, Hugh Wallace shoulder and back injuries and Watson Bonnie, pelvic injuries.

Pay Too Small

BUENOS AIRES, March 22—(AP)—Argentina will tell Britain she failed to fulfill her 1948 meat contract because the British Government paid so little for beef, farmers refused to bring their cattle to market. Government officials are preparing a statement explaining why Argentina has fallen 90,000 behind schedule on the Andes agreement.

Investigate Death

FARMINGTON, Mo., March 22—(AP) — William Mahurin, 52, was held today while police investigated the death of his wife, whom he married three months ago through a "Lonely Hearts" club. Mrs. Mahurin was found dead on a farm near here which she and her husband bought three weeks ago. She had sold her home in St. Louis.

Crusading Committee

GARY, Ind., March 22—(AP)—A crusading committee of 900 Gary women Monday night decided to ask the aid of Indiana's governor to help enforce law in Gary and end alleged vice and gambling conditions. The committee has made previous demands to Mayor Eugene Schwartz for a clean-up of the city.

Youth Convicted, Says Intends Fresh Start

Douglas Kirkpatrick, aged 18, was sentenced today to six months definite and one indefinite in Ontario reformatory when he was convicted on a plea of guilty to stealing the sum of approximately $340 from Thomas E. Balgne in North Monaghan Township and one month to run concurrently on a plea of guilty of stealing $15 from Jean Love, RR 5, Peterborough.

Sentence was given by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court.

In answer to questions from the magistrate, Kirkpatrick said he had no trade and no home. He said he intended to leave this district after serving his term in the reformatory and to make a fresh start.

Funeral Service Held For Thomas Davidson

HAVELOCK, Mar. 22—(ENS)—The funeral of Thomas Davidson, 72, of Seymour Township, took place here, Monday. The service, conducted by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, was held in the Curtis' Funeral Parlor and the body was placed in the vault at Maple Grove Cemetery. Burial will be later in Pine Grove cemetery.

Mr. Davidson was a life-long resident of this district. He was a son of the late John Davidson and Margaret McGowan. A retired farmer, his death took place on Friday, following a long illness.

Surviving are two brothers, Wesley and Robert of Seymour Township.

Negroes Compete

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP) — Negroes competed Monday night in an event sponsored by the American Contract Bridge League for the first time in the league's 21-year history. Four Negro women from the Municipal Bridge League played as teams entered American-League competition.

Injured In Storms

NEW ORLEANS, March 22—(AP)—Two persons were killed and about 50 injured Monday by storms which hit two scattered areas of Louisiana and Mississippi. Tornadoes and windstorms also hit areas of Texas and Arkansas but no casualties were reported in these states.

Reds Of Italy Lose 700,000

NEW YORK, March 22 (CP)—The New York Times said in a Rome dispatch today that the Italian Communist Party has lost 700,000 members in the last year.

Quoting Defence Minister Randolfo Pacciardi, the dispatch said the party's strength was "decreasing rapidly," while the "forces at the disposal of the Italian government had reached such a degree of efficiency and organization as to be in a position to crush any insurrectional movement if it were attempted without the support of foreign powers."

Paciardi is a member of the Government Party, the Christian Democrats, a middle-of-the-road group

Pacciardi is a member of the general strike for political reasons, which would be a premise to insurrection," would have a chance to succeed in Italy now.

EVERBEARING RUNNERLESS
STRAWBERRY
Fruits from seed the first year: easily grown. Bush form, about one foot high. No runners. Hardy perennial. Bears abundantly from early summer till killing frost. Has an intense luscious flavor and aroma like that of wild strawberry; rich and juicy. Neat compact bushy growth makes it highly ornamental as well as valuable in vegetable, fruit or flower garden, borders, etc. A showy pot plant too. Though smaller than commercial strawberries Mont Rosa is the largest fruiting of any variety we know from seed, surpassing the popular solemacher and similar types. Its unique bush form and exquisite flavor place it in a class by itself for every home garden. Seed supply is limited. Order early. (Pkt. 25c) (3 pkts. 50c) postpaid.

Sequels Popular In Hollywood

BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 22 (AP) —The fear of overdoing a good thing never seems to bother Hollywood.

Glowing with the success of Red Skelton's "Fuller Brush Man," Columbia now plans a "Fuller Brush Girl." The girl will be Lucille Ball.

Speaking of sequels brings us to Bill Holden, who is co-starring with Ball in "Miss Grant Takes Richmond." He has been in "Dear Ruth" and "Dear Wife" but says to count him out of the planned "Dear Mom."

People and Things

Vera Ellen always danced alone in films until the "Slaughter" number with Gene Kelly, which was the main attribute to "Words and Music." Now the gal dances with Kelly in "On The Town" and Fred Astaire in "Royal Wedding."

Deborah Kerr is glowing about British reviews of her work in "Edward, My Son." Until now the Britons had been potshotting her for deserting their industry for Hollywood....

Joan Bennett isn't touchy about being a grandmother. "If I'm old enough to have a daughter who can have a child, why shouldn't I admit it?" she said on "The Blank Wall" set.

Play Crokinole

SPRINGVILLE, March 22 — (ENS)—North group of Springville Women's Association held a progressive crokinole party in the basement of the church recently. Mrs. G. McIntosh was in charge of the crokinole and St. Patrick's Day games. Karl Dunford, playing for the women, won ladies' first prize. Bernard Preston won the men's first and Mrs. Elwood Johnston the consolation. Lunch was served by Mrs. O. J. Dunford, Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Reddick, Mrs. Staples and Mrs. E. Johnston.

Aided 80 Abortions

CHICAGO, March 22—(AP)—Mrs. Olive Janes, 40, who police say told them she helped perform 60 to 80 abortions in the basement of her home, was held Monday on a charge of murdering Mrs. Roberta Danks by abortion. Nathan Kinnally, assistant state's attorney, said Mrs. Janes made a statement Thursday that she helped Dr. Edward Rosenzweig perform an abortion on Mrs. Danks Feb. 12. Dr. Rosenzweig died suddenly Thursday night, a few hours after the statement was reported.

Stone Industry Is Facing Crisis

LONDON, March 22 (CP) —Britain's abbeys, palaces and country homes may fall in decay, with no new stone buildings built to replace them, unless more masons are trained.

A works ministry report on Recruitment of Masons points up the danger.

Unless the rate of recruitment of masons can be raised, the stone industry will cease to exist in many areas. Quarries will be forced to close due to lack of demand for stone and the ancient British craft of stone-working may disappear.

The report said that if the craft does not attract enough apprentices, new building will be impossible and repairs to church, public and other buildings will be delayed.

Then maintenance of the country's architectural treasures will be in jeopardy.

The Building Apprenticeship and Training Council, which prepared the report for the ministry, said 550 masons should be recruited annually. At the present the rate was only 128. It recommended that the government should consider measures to encourage stone building and preservation of the craft.

Main causes for the decline were said to be increased use of alternative materials, greater simplicity in architectural design, importation of worked stone from other countries and the extended use of machinery.

Says Christianity Needed In Business

OMEMEE, March 22—(ENS)—Trinity United Church Women's Association met at the home of Mrs. R. E. Brooks for the March meeting.

The Scripture passage was read by Mrs. E. Bradburn, and the topic, Lydia the Business Woman, was dealt with by Mrs. T. J. Pogue. Mrs. Pogue emphasized the need of Christianity in business and every-day living, as exemplified by Lydia, who was the first convert on the continent of Europe. "The best advertisement for Christianity is a Christian," she said.

A spring tea was suggested and it was decided to hold one in the basement of the church on April 19. In connection with the tea there is also to be a sale of home-baking and a parcel-post sale. The following committees were appointed: table committee, Mrs. R. E. Brooks and Mrs. V. Lang; menu committee, Mrs. T. J. Pogue and Mrs. W. Weir; parcel-post committee, Mrs. D. Hicks, Mrs. Evelyn McPhee and Miss O. Wilton.

Mrs. H. Laidley sang an Irish solo, accompanied by Miss L. Race.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. D. Deyell, on April 27.

River Rises 5 Feet In Two Hours

Etobicoke Prepares To Evacuate; Brampton Threatened

TORONTO, March 23—(CP)—Residents of suburban Etobicoke river communities today prepared to evacuate their homes, if necessary, as the river level rose more than five feet in two hours Tuesday night and threatened to overflow its banks.

At nearby Dixie, cellars were flooded and a service station was temporarily marooned when a four-foot wall of water rolled through a drainage gap. Mailboxes were torn down and several roads were covered with a foot of water.

Further up river, at Brampton, barricades were stretched across doorways as flood waters rose nearly 10 feet to the danger point. However, town engineer D. T. Black said he was satisfied the town would not be flooded because of the absence of ice blocks.

Nearly half a mile of No. 9 highway west of Orangeville was under water today, two feet deep in places.

In Scarboro township, rising waters of the Rouge river and Highland Creek cut off motor traffic in some districts but the waters were slowly receding.

The Conestoga river went on the rampage Tuesday night, resulting in a flash flood which invaded stores and home cellars in the Galt area. Water rose nearly 10 feet to the 13-foot level, close to the danger mark.

STARVING CHILDREN LEFT by their parents in a bush shack in Mayo township, several miles from Bancroft, are seen after being brought to a Children's Aid Society receiving home at Foxboro, north of Belleville. From Left, they are Shirley, Betty Ann, Carol and Rose Turncliffe. All are under 8 years of age. Father Allen Turncliffe faces charge of non-support. They were abandoned 46 days ago.

Pack Of Lies Mother Says Children Fine

Declares Husband Always Provided For Young Family

BELLEVILLE, March 23—(CP)—Mrs. Allen Turncliffe today described as "a pack of lies" reports five of her children were abandoned and left to starve in a backwoods shack for 46 days.

The 25-year-old mother, clutching Robert William who was born here 15 days ago, defended her husband, Allen, who today faces a charge of non-support. Turncliffe was arrested near Belleville Tuesday.

Meanwhile a welfare official here said legal steps were being taken to make the five children wards of the Children's Aid Society. The youngsters, all under eight years, were found four days ago in a tar-papered, three-room shack near Bancroft, 75 miles north of here.

Everyone Against Him

"I know everybody is against Allen back in Bancroft," said Mrs. Turncliffe, who was interviewed in the Bay of Quinte Shore Home where she has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Boomhower.

"Allen has been a good husband to me and the children were always well taken care of," said the dark-eyed Mrs. Turncliffe.

Meantime, in a receiving home at nearby Foxboro, seven-year-old Carol Turncliffe admitted a liking for squirrel meat but said she never wants to return to the backwoods shack.

"I liked the squirrels better than the rabbits," she said. "We only cooked the legs you know. They were good. Uncle Bill made soup with them."

Uncle Bill is William Landry, Mrs. Turncliffe's brother, who snared rabbits and shot the squirrels.

Two-way Reductions Planned In Rates, Exemptions Retroactive to January 1

Ease Luxury Taxes On Jewelry, Luggage, Cosmetics

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—A happy-days-are-here-again budget, spiced heavily in favor of the voter in the "little" or "middle" income group and featuring major income-tax slashes, was put forward today by the government for public and parliamentary study.

For tax relief, the experts said it outdid other budgets in Canadian history. It did provide these concessions:

1. The lifting of basic income-tax exemptions from $750 to $1,000 for single persons; $1,500 to $2,000 for married; $100 to $150 for dependent children; $300 to $400 for other dependents, plus a general reduction of existing tax rates and certain minor concessions—all retroactive to Jan. 1 this year.

2. Abolition of the so-called, war-induced "nuisance" taxes, including those on soft drinks, candy, chewing gum, railway berths and parlor car seats, transportation tickets, telegrams, cables, long-distance telephone calls and extension telephones—effective immediately.

3. A major reduction—from the present 25 to 35-per-cent rate at retail to a 10-per-cent rate at manufacturer's level—in the war-dubbed "luxury" taxes applying to jewelry, cosmetic and toilet preparations, luggage, handbags, matches, smokers' supplies, pipe, ashtrays, cigaret lighters, pens and pencils and desk sets—effective immediately.

In the income tax brackets approximately 750,000 Canadians were relieved of all income tax liability by the 32-per-cent average cut.

Business Hit

Business didn't do so well in this budget.

Finance Minister Abbott, presenting the accounting to the Commons Tuesday night, conceded that he was juggling the Corporate tax structure to lighten the burden on the business man who earns under $10,000 a year and increase it on the big fellow whose profit runs above that figure. Present concessions for mining, oil and gas exploration and new mines are being continued and extended.

There are no change in the general eight-per-cent sales tax or the levies on postage, succession duties, tobacco or liquor.

An enthusiastic clatter of applause, with a mingling of approval from the Opposition benches, greeted Mr. Abbott's two hour deliver of the 18,000-word text, despite a cold which deepened his voice at times.

Election Budget

Parliamentary observers agreed this was an election-year budget, patterned to meet the demands of the voters and they got support from J. M. Mcdonnell (PC-Muskoka-Ontario), opposition financial critic, who told the Commons following Mr. Abbot's address that it was nothing more than a "bribery budget."

Mr. Abbott himself told the Chamber he was budgetting for a surplus of $87,000,000—against $575,000,000 last year—and that the revenue-loss to the government through the tax relief would

Predict Bread Price May Go Up By At Least One Cent

TORONTO, March 23.—Future bread prices were uncertain Tuesday night as grain brokers, millers and bakers received news that the wheat subsidy had been removed and the ceiling prices on bread lifted.

Opinion among some bakers was that bread in the better qualities would be raised from 1 to 1½ cents a loaf. Others said the future of bread prices depends on the Canadian Wheat Board.

A statement from the wheat board was expected today.

The wheat board is expected to determine whether wheat for domestic use will be sold at the prevailing $2.05 per bushel British export price, or whether a lower domestic price will be maintained. Under the wheat subsidy of 46½c per bushel paid to domestic millers, cost of wheat per bushel to Canadian millers was actually $1.58.

May Go Up

Bakers pointed out that if the price is raised to meet the British export price the cost of flour will increase by about $2.07 per barrel. The estimate that 190 loaves of bread can be made from a barrel of flour. Costs would increase slightly more than one cent a loaf, they said.

"Bread is already underpriced," one bakery executive said last night. "If the cost of flour goes up, bakers will have to raise their prices accordingly."

He estimated the price rise would range between one and two cents per loaf. Ottawa sources pointed out, however, that lard and shortening prices had recently declined sharply and might curtail any sharp rise.

Commodities remaining under price control orders of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board are now confined to citrus fruits, canned citrus fruit juices, cabbages, carrots, imported new potatoes, imported grapes and the primary forms of iron and steel.

Union Meeting Said Packed By UE Workers

After a dispute with their president members of the Independent Outboard Marine Workers' Union, at a special meeting on Tuesday night voted to hear not only the scheduled speaker C. H. Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers of America, but also C. S. Jackson, district president of the UE.

The meeting was originally called by the Independent Union to discuss proposed affiliation with the USWA. C. H. Millard, MPP, was the invited speaker.

According to C. R. Sullivan, UE district representative, when the meeting opened a motion came from the floor that a representative of the UE be invited to speak as well. Earl Davies, president of the union, and chairman of the meeting, ruled the motion out of order, said Mr. Sullivan.

Mr. Sullivan told the Examiner today that a vote of non-confidence in the chair was proposed, and when it carried President Davies vacated in favor of the vice-president, J. L. McGuire.

Denied by Fenwick

This phase of meeting was denied by M. J. Fenwick, district USWA representative. He claimed that no vote was taken on the motion and that Mr. Davies retired from the chair voluntarily.

Fenwick claimed further, that when he stepped up to the microphone to introduce Millard "a "couple of drunken hoodlums came up to the table and told me ot get away from the mike, or else."

He said that the meeting was packed by UE sympathizers "of the 60 that were there about 40 were adherents of the UE; the Steelworkers supporters were decidedly in the minority."

Send For Jackson

The meeting was slightly delayed while C. S. Jackson was sent for. He arrived with two local UE representatives, John Rowley and C. R. Sullivan.

It was agreed that each speaker should be given half an hour to present his case, and Jackson, as first speaker, would be given five extra minutes for rebuttal.

"There were no further disorders once the boss arrived," commented Fenwick sardonically.

Jackson said he regretted that two CIO unions would fight over a plant, and he thanked the workers for giving him a chance to present the UE case.

The UE district president challenged Millard to have "a free, democratic vote taken among the production workers," so they could choose which union they desired.

Millard replied that he was agreeable to the vote, but believed that the Ontario Labor Relations Board would consider the Outboard plan as a single unit and would not split the existing

Nora Henderson Dies In Hamilton

HAMILTON, March 23 (CP) — Nora Frances Henderson, former member of the Board of Control and well-known municipal counsellor, died in hospital today. Her mother died a few months previously to Miss Henderson.

Miss Henderson was an Alderman for three years and member of the Board of Control for 13. She retired from council at the end of 1947.

She was elected as an alderman for Ward One in 1931 and had been continually in office as alderman or controller until her retirement.

She was Hamilton's first woman alderman, and first woman in Canada to be a board of control member.

Ex-Editor

The young English girl who came to Canada in 1913 rose to become women's editor of the now-defunct Hamilton Herald.

Her political courage was shown during the white-hot strike of the summer of 1946, when she walked through picket lines at the Steel Company of Canada plant as a demonstration of a citizen's right to do so.

Largely as a result of this incident, a thousand or so of her constituents gathered outside the Hamilton City Hall and sang, without smiling: "We'll Hang Nora Henderson from a Sour Apple Tree."

But the following January she was elected to her 16th consecutive term of office in Hamilton's city government, heading the polls.

Judge Gives 2 Constables Lesson In Legal Questions

BELLEVILLE, March 23—(CP).—Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay today gave two Provincial Police constables a brief lesson in legal question-and-answer methods and warned that his investigation was bogging down in "verbiage." Constable J. E. Keays, 44, and 12 years on the force, was questioning Constable G. R. Purdy, 23, and nearly two years on the force about reports Constable Purdy wrote on a 1947 traffic accident.

Mr. Justice Mackay, a royal commissioner, took over the questioning himself at times, when Constable Purdy's answers became as involved as Constable Keays' questions.

Constable Purdy is the tenth witness to appear before the commissioner's inquiry into the conduct of Crown and police officers.

One of the reports was a routine accident report Constable Purdy made out after Leroy Woods was involved in a traffic accident. This report listed Woods' condition as "unknown."

The other was a report submitted to Staff Inspector T. Doyle during a Provincial Police investigation of the handling of the case. This report said Woods was drunk.

It took nearly half an hour to get an explanation of the apparent discrepancy from the dark-haired police rookie who is one of the eight men accused by Constable Keays.

When he made out the accident report, Canstable Purdy said, he believed the Crown was going to withdraw drunk driving charges against Woods.

Cottage Empty Skeleton Appears

WHALEBONE CORNER, Essex, England, March 23.—(AP).—Who put the skeleton in Ada Kent's cottage?

Miss Kent, old-time actress, disappeared 10 years ago.

Twice since 1939, the cottage at this Essex beauty spot was searched. Not a trace was found of the aged spinster. Tuesday police broke in at the request of a bank where Miss Kent had a small deposit.

They found a well-dressed skeleton neatly laid out. On a table was an untouched supper tray and a bottle labelled "poison." Near the body was a volume of Shakespeare, open to "Romeo and Juliet."

Was the skeleton that of Miss Kent? How did it get into the twice-searched cottage? Murder, suicide, natural death?

The coroner has ordered an inquest which will try to find the answers.

Tax Still High Conroy Declares

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP) — The 1949 Federal budget, while a step in the right direction, falls short of meeting the needs of Canadian workers, Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said today.

"The Congress has for some time urged the government to establish exemptions of $1,500 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons.

"These figures are a conservative estimate of the amount required to maintain a decent standard of living, and certainly taxes should not be imposed at a level where they force down living standards," Mr. Conroy said in a statement.

"Depite the apparently rosy picture presented by the new income tax tables, the full effect of the budget will not be known until price changes resulting from the removal of ceilings and subsidies comes into effect."

Exchange Board Will Continue

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP) — The Commons voted today 146 to 37 to adopt the Government bill continuing the Exchange-Control Board for another two years, rejecting suggestions by the Progressive Conservative party that it be kept in operation for only one more year.

The vote came on third and final reading and was forced by George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, as he carried his opposition to the measure to the last legislative step. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The CCF and Social Credit parties voted with the government.

Before the vote was called, Mr. Drew renewed his fight against th legislation, charging that the Board has been used to control exports and imports beyond the spirit of the law.

Wake Enjoyed Gov't Pays Bill

OMAGH, Northern Ireland, March 23 (AP)—They had a wake in County Tyrone and it was all on the National Health Service.

The family spent £21 ($84) on the funeral and £7 on the wake. Then the undertaker turned in a bill for £28. For didn't the law say funeral expenses were allowed?

The undertaker set down £2 for whisky and 13 shillings for beer. The rest he knocked off for cigarets, tobacco, matches and clay pipes to sustained the mourners through the two nights of watching over the corpse.

The County Welfare Committee studied the bill for some time. Finally they ruled it was all right this time, but never again.

In the future the committee will allow expenses up to £10 — for burial alone.

Israeli Troops Leave Soil Of Lebanon

EN NAQURA, Lebanon, March 23— (AP)— Israel and Lebanon signed an armistice agreement at the Customs House here this morning.

The armistice pact, second signed by Israel with one of her Arab neighbours, was hailed by the head of Israeli delegation as "the beginning of an era of peace and happiness for our part of the world."

Three main points of the armistice call for evacuation of Israel forces from Lebannese soil within 10 days; restoration of the Israel-Lebanon border to the position of last June 15, and a reduction of their frontier armed forces.

Mine-fields in the mountainous former battle areas will be cleared by both sides, but each will maintain an armed force along the border which the armistice limit to not more than 1,500 men for each.

BULLETIN

WINDSOR (CP) — The life of Miss Mildred Maybee, former superintendent of the Metropolitan General Hospital, whose resignation last month touched off the present controversy over the hospital's operation, has been threatened, she revealed to-day. Miss Maybee confirmed reports she has received three threatening telephone calls at her home since she resigned. One was from a man and two from a woman, she said.

Believe Peace Conference Communist-Front Affair

WASHINGTON, March 23 — (AP)—The "World Peace" Conference opening Friday in New York is viewed by the United States State Department as one of a series of moves by Moscow to oppose the new North Atlantic Security Pact and further other Soviet aims.

Officials said today this was why the United States Government is barring 11 delegates from Britain, Europe and South America.

However, 21 from Soviet Russia and Eastern Europe are permitted entry, and the State Department explained this apparent contradiction this way:

The 21 are official representatives of their governments, and are entitled to official visas. They are not excludable under immigration laws. The others, however, are not attending the conference as foreign government officials, and are excludable.

The State Department emphasized Tuesday it is standing firm despite an appeal to State Secretary Acheson from Dr. Harlow Shapley, Harvard astronomer. He is chairman of the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, which is sponsoring the three-day meeting.

In New York, Governor Thomas E. Dewey said in a statement that he believed the scheduled meeting was "a Communist-front affair" but would make no move to prevent it.

Moscow's interest in the New York meeting was evidenced by the composition of its seven-man delegation, which includes Dmitri Shostakovich, internationally known composer. The chairman is Alexander Fadeyev, novelist and chairman of the Soviet Writers' Union. Records received by the State Department show that he has charged British as well as American leaders with following Nazi policies.

Do Own Investigating Windsor Hospital Told

TORONTO, March 23 (CP). — The Board of Governors of Windsor's Metropolitan Hospital will have to do their own investigating of their hospital's administration.

Health Minister Kelley said on Tuesday night he had received a telegram from Mayor Arthur Reaume of Windsor asking for such a probe and had replied that in his belief the investigation should be carried out under the direction of the Hospital Board.

"Will await advice from chairman of the Board," his wire added.

Soft Drinks, Candy Cheaper In Budget

OTTAWA, March 23,—(CP).—The budget ushers back five-cent soda pop and chewing gum. These national institutions, which vanished under the burden of wartime taxes, became possible again when Mr. Abbott's budget knocked about two cents in taxes off soft drinks and a cent off gum.

He also lifted a one-cent burden from chocolate bars, but these now are selling at eight cents. The indicated bar price now would be seven cents.

Danish Police Guard Parliament

COPENHAGEN, March 23 — (Reuters). — Extra police were on duty outside and inside the Danish Parliament Buildings today when the Lower House began its debate on the invitation to sign the Atlantic Pact. Newspaper correspondents covering the debate were checked at several points before being allowed into the Chamber.

Denmark's Communist Party ordered members to rally outside Parliament later to-day for what was expected to be the biggest demonstration in the party's history. Police officials said they had taken every precaution against disorder.

To-day the Social Democrat Deputy, Julius Bomholt, opening the debate for the government, said adherence to the Pact was Denmark's only course.

"We do not believe that Russia is preparing for war and we do not share the Communist view that America is a warmonger," he declared. "But an isolated Denmark is a finished Denmark."

Newfoundland Starts Tax July 1, Pays For 6 Months

OTTAWA, March 22 —(CP)— Newfoundlanders, due to become Canadians on March 31, will not start paying Canadian income tax, even at the reduced rates set in Tuesday budget, until next July 1.

That was one of the matters agreed on when the two countries met to discuss terms of union. Canadian government officials said the delay in collections of the island was necessary to permit establishment of the payroll reduction plan there.

Newfoundlanders will pay income tax only for the last six months of this year.

Newfoundland corporations, however, will not enjoy the same concessions as the individual taxpayers. The corporations will start paying taxes at the Canadian rates as soon as union is consummated.

Mr. Abbott made it clear any corporation tax concession granted by Newfoundland prior to union will have no effect on federal corporation tax rates when the island becomes a province.

Under the terms of union, it was agreed Canadian tax laws will fully apply in the new province which is expected to rent the personal income tax field to the Dominion.

At present the seven provinces which have tax agreements with the Federal government are required by it to collect a five-per-cent corporation tax.

Newfoundland will not be required to collect a similar five-per-cent corporation tax if the collection means the breaking of an agreement under which the island granted tax concessions to corporations.

Britons Bet Shirts On Cromwell Horse

LONDON, March 23 — (AP).— Horse-playing commoners by the thousands have bet their shirts on an eight-year-old gelding ridden by a peer to win the historic Grand National Steeplechase on Saturday.

They are so sure Cromwell will romp home that they have made him the 5-to-1 favorite—absurdly short odds for this unpredictable race.

Forty-six horses are expected to start the 4½ mile grind over the murderous fences of Aintree.

Turf writers of nine national Sunday papers printed in London have tabbed four different horses as likely winners. Besides Cromwell they have picked Cavaliero, Cloncarrig, and Royal Mount.

Final call of British bookmakers on odds will be made Friday.

More Trouble Reported On Destroyer

Say Latest Incident Happens In Shanghai, Handled On The Spot

VICTORIA, B. C., March 23 — (CP) — Vice-Admiral Harold Grant, Chief of Naval Staff at Ottawa, said here Tuesday there had been an "incident" aboard the Canadian Destroyer Crescent, now at Shanghai, similar to the disturbance aboard HMCS Athabaskan.

Admiral Grant did not give the date of the Crescent incident, but said it was since the trouble on Athabaskan. The latter vessel is in the Caribbean on training manoeuvres.

He did not elaborate on the nature of the disturbance, but said it had been handled on the spot by the ship's commander, Lt.-Cmdr. David M. Groos, Victoria, as was the case in the Athabaskan trouble.

He attributed the incidents to the fact that there was considerable switching of crews in order to give as many men as possible sea time. This made it difficult for the men to settle down.

The trouble aboard the Athabaskan occurred while the ship was in a Mexican port last month bound for the manoeuvres in the Atlantic.

It concerned mainly routine duty plans and was described by naval authorities as a "minor affair" in contrast to first reports which called it a "mutiny."

At Shanghai, naval authorities said the Crescent left port March 10. The British naval attache said he had heard of no incident.

members into production workers and salaried workers.

The USWA would abide by the result of a legitimate referendum vote, he said.

A proposal that both unions desist from sending propaganda literature into the plant while the workers were making up their minds was made by Millard.

This was refused by Jackson, who commented: "This is some more fancy footwork by Mr. Millard. He has nothing in the plant at this time, while we have more than 300 members; and we feel obliged to keep them informed."

Out Of Order

Fenwick told the Examiner today that they believed the meeting was out of order in inviting Jackson to speak. And he said the UE members of the Outboard plant "came with the apparent intention of disrupting the meeting."

Both the UE and the USWA are trying to become the accredited bargaining agency at the Outboard Marine Co.

$47,241 FROM METERS

Wabash Railway Strike Ended

ST. LOUIS, March 23—(AP)—A strike that halted operation of the Wabash Railroad for a week ended late Tuesday.

The 3,500 operating employees on strike were ordered by their four brotherhoods to return to their jobs immediately pending further talks with the company. The railroad also called on some 8,500 non-operating employees to return to work. They had been laid off as a result of the strike.

Arthur K. Atkinson, Wabash president, said the workers began returning to their jobs promptly. Freight trains will begin moving this morning, and some passenger trains by this afternoon. The railroad expected to restore complete service by Thursday.

The road operates through Southern Ontario between Detroit and Buffalo, using tracks of the Canadian National Railways.

Find Cameron Farmer With Wound In Head

LINDSAY, March 23.—(CP)—Grenville Hewie, 47-year-old farmer from Cameron, eight miles north of here, is in hospital today in serious condition with a bullet wound in his head. Hewie was found Monday in the woodshed of his farm by his father, Peter Hewie, 77. Provicial Police, who are continuing the investigation, said the bullet entered the corner of Hewie's right eye and shattered his skull.

Savings Bonds Sale Totals $248,000,000

OTTAWA, March 23 —(CP)—Sales of the third series of Canada Saving Bond, offered to the public last October, total $248,000,000 to date, Finance Minister Abbott reported Tuesday night in his budget speech of the Commons.

This compares with total sales of $288,000,000 in the second series offered a year previously.

Budget Highlights

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—Highlights of the fiscal portion of Finance Minister Abbott's budget speech:

Estimated surplus of $575,000,000 for the 1948-49 fiscal year, compared with $670,000,000 for 1947-48.

Total revenue for year estimated at $2,768,000,000, a decrease of $101,000,000.

Total expenditures estimated at $2,193,000,000, a decrease of $6,000,000.

Estimated net debt at end of fiscal year $11,800,000,000, down $578,000,000.

Canada's reserve of gold and United States dollars now at $1,065,000,000 against a low of $302,000,000 in December, 1947.

Post-war inflation appears to have "run its course" and the government believes it "quite possible" there may be some decline in cost of living this year. Prices of some commodities may be down at year-end.

Government expects "something like" the present level of employment and income will continue throughout coming year.

Belmont Man Fined

For conducting a transportation business along Highway No. 7 without being licensed to do so, K. A. Heaslip, Belmont township, was fined $40.10 at city police court today. A written plea of guilty was accepted by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

On a written plea of guilty to driving without a chauffer's license, Ronald L. Patrick, Frankford, was fined $10 with $2.50 costs.

Ray Hopkins, Lakefield, was fined $5 with $2.50 for driving a car, the rear license plate of which was not illuminated.

Federal Grant Of $65,000 Aids Hospital

The federal government's financial assistance to new hospital construction is providing $65,000 of the cost of the addition to St. Joseph's Hospital now being built.

This information was received by the Examiner from Mr. Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., who said that the grant had been appropriated by the Hon. Paul Martin, federal Minister of Health.

When the work was begun last year it was understood then that it was made possible by the contributions from the city council and the provincial and federal governments. The federal grant is on the basis of $1,000 a bed. The new wing will include in its accommodation 65 additional beds.

Oliver Criticizes Salary Raise

TORONTO, March 23—(CP) — Liberal Leader Farquhar Oliver is expected to criticize Ontario Cabinet Ministers in the Legislature today for taking back $2,000 in salary voluntarily given up by the Liberal Government of former Premier Mitchell Hepburn.

Mr. Oliver tried Tuesday to have the Legislature consider a bill that would reduce Cabinet Ministers' salaries from $10,000 to $8,000. He withdrew his motion, however, when Provincial Treasurer Frost assured him he would have a chance to debate the issue during consideration of Departmental estimates.

The Legislature approved estimates of the Municipal Affairs Department but there was no chance to discuss Ministers' salaries.

The Legislature will continue with estimates today and Mr. Oliver will probably have his chance during consideration of Highways Department estimates.

CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe asked Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar if he intended to introduce legislation to guarantee municipalities that they would not receive less revenue under the new system of municipal grants than under the one-mill subsidy system, which now is discontinued.

"I don't think any legislation will be necessary," the Progressive Conservative Minister said. "I know municipalities will trust me that they will get a square deal."

Budget Items

Budget features two-way income tax relief—higher exemptions and lower rates; both retroactive to Jan. 1.

Basic income tax exemptions boosted from $750 to $1,000 for single persons and $1,500 to $2,000 for married.

Exemptions raised from $100 to $150 for each dependent child under 16 and $300 to $400 for other dependents.

Higher exemptions will take 750,000 present taxpayers off income tax rolls.

Under new low rates three-quarters of remaining taxpayers will pay an average of 15 per. cent. on taxable income.

Employers authorized to stop deductions immediately for employees now tax-exempt; refunds to be made as soon as possible.

New low deducations for remaining taxpayers expected to be in general effect by April 30. Overpayments to date will be credited on 1949 income tax returns.

Other minor reductions and concessions in income tax also announced.

Price ceilings removed from flour, bread, butter, sugar, molasses and certain fruits and vegetables—effective today.

No over-all price increases expected to result from price-ceiling removals.

Price ceilings remain on citrus fruits, canned citrus fruit juices, cabbage, carrots, imported new potatoes and imported grapes.

Subsidy of 46½ cents a bushel on wheat used for domestic consumption being withdrawn today; bread price future uncertain.

Retail purchase tax of 25 per cent. on jewelry and similar articles reduced immediately to 10 per cent. at manufacturers' level, instead of present retail level.

Tax on cosmetics and toilet preparations (25 per cent.) reduced to 10 per cent. immediately.

Tax on luggage, handbags, etc. (now 35 per cent.) reduced to 10 per cent. immediately.

No changes in succession duties, liquor taxes, tobacco taxes, general sales tax.

Wanting Peace But Not At Any Price

BERKELEY Calif., March 23—(CP)—Viscount Alexander today told the student body of the University of California that the Democracies want peace but not "peace at any price."

The Canadian Governor-General said certain "extremely evil and dangerous" world forces have to be resisted if the heritage of democracy is not to be lost.

Viscount Alexander, who had American troops under his command in the Second World War, said in an address prepared for delivery that he welcomes plans for mutual aid throughout the western world—an indirect reference to the Atlantic Treaty.

"I believe this is the best way of ensuring against a third world war," he declared.

"Peace we pray for, but not peace at any price," he said.

"We shall not be worthy of the heritage handed down to us by our forbears," he added, "unless we are prepared to stand up for our ideals and, if need be, fight for them."

In these shifting times of trouble and uncertainty," Lord Alexander said, "it is some comfort to know that the western nations are aware of the dangers which threaten, and it is heartening that at last they are moving towards a policy of mutual defence.

"In this move towards security and the defence we all value, we may well inquire whether time is on our side."

Woods was acquitted of drunk driving and convicted of dangerous driving.

Constable Keays alleges a miscarriage of justice in the case, claiming Constable Purdy filed false reports on the case.

Constable Keays clashed with Commission Counsel C. P. Hope as the Commission began the thirteenth day of its public hearings.

Constable Keays suggested Mr. Hope had not been carrying out his duties as Commission Counsel to present all the evidence before the commission.

Mr. Hope had asked if the constable was serious in his statement that Gerald Smith drove the truck that carried the body of John Miki away from a bush near Navan, Ont., where Miki was shot.

Mr. Hope said the truck had been driven by a man named Saunders and he would produce him as a witness.

"I submit that Cons. Keays has been acting as Commission Counsel," Cons. Keays said. "Mr. Hope has examined only two witnesses."

Visits Home

Constable Purdy said he had visited the home of Constable Keays who had asked him to write a letter admitting there had been an injustice in connection with the prosecution of Leroy Woods in 1947.

Woods was acquitted of drunk driving and convicted of dangerous driving. Constable Keays' charges that Constable Purdy filed a false report on the accident.

Constable Purdy, 28, denied that he broke out crying in front of Constable Keays during the conversation at the latter's home in 1948.

He said he went to see Constable Keays at the request of Constable C. Siple, another member of the Belleville Provincial Police Detachment.

The visit was on Oct. 28, he said.

"I'm suggesting the visit was on Oct. 18," Constable Keays said.

"It was not."

"Did you not go to Bowmanville the next day to talk it over with your father?"

"I did not."

Made Notes

Constable Purdy said he had made notes of his talk with Constable Keays because he knew "there was something in the wind."

Constable Keays asked whether Constable Purdy and Corporal Ervine had visited the scene of the accident Nov. 17 or Nov. 18. Constable Purdy said Nov. 17, but admitted it could have been the 18th when he was shown Cpl. Ervine's diary which listed the visit on Nov. 18.

Constable Purdy had submitted a report on the Woods case during an earlier investigation.

"You wrote and typed this report yourself and nobody helped you in framing it?" asked Constable Keays.

"Yes," Constable Purdy said.

Constable Keays said the accident report did not refer to Woods condition but the case report said Woods was intoxicated.

Constable Purdy said that he had believed the drunk driving charges would be withdrawn so the accident report did not say Woods was drunk.

Several times the Commissioner took over the questioning as both constables began using involves sentences in their questions and answers. Once he stopped Constable Keays from asking a "not very fair" question and another time he said Constable Purdy's reply was "not very intelligent."

Escorted Cars

Constable Purdy said he and Corporal Ervine had escorted a group of 75 or 80 cars on June 7, 1948, for approximately 40 miles to Trenton and back to Belleville.

"So the party that won the election had a celebration?" asked Constable Keays, referring to the June 7 Ontario election."

Constable Keays said a quantity of liquor was unloaded from two Provincial Police cars when the procession stopped in Trenton.

"There was no liquor, no beer, no intoxicating beverages taken out of my car," said Constable Purdy. "I'm hardly that foolish to have liquor in a Department car."

"Did you carry any liquor from Corporal Ervine's car?"

"I did not."

"Did you see any one take liquor from a police car?"

"I did not."

Malcolm Robb, counsel for Constable Purdy and four other officers, then began questioning the young constable.

He said neither he nor Constable Keays had any opportunity to investigate the Woods case the night Woods was arrested.

Always Too Busy

Constable Purdy said he seldom asked Constable Keays for advice because he was not as "approachable" as Cpl. Ervine. He suggested Constable Keays was short-tempered and always appeared to be busy.

He said he wanted to withdraw the charges against Woods because he hadn't made an adequate investigation and felt he "might be made a fool of" by a defence lawyer at the trial.

He said he was "excited" when he went to see Mr. Donnan. The Crown Attorney, about the charges.

"You were under a complete misapprehension when you put in the accident report?" Mr. Robb asked.

"Yes."

Constable Purdy said there was no truth in Constable Keays allegation that Cpl. Ervine and Mr. Donnan interfered with the investigation.

Music Teachers Praised By Festival Adjudicator

High praise of the quality of music teaching in the Peterborough district was offered Tuesday afternoon by G. H. Heath-Gracie, adjudicator of the third annual Kiwanis Music Festival, as it went into its second day in Murray Street Baptist Church.

In his adjudication on the work done in Class 126, Mr. Heath-Gracie declared: "There are some good teachers in this district; not only are they good teachers, but they are also giving the parents a very honest bargain. All these children have been well and truly taught," he said. The parents should be grateful to them for "the hard core of good teaching" with which their children have been statted out on their musical careers.

Mr. Heath-Gracie told the audience that "the whole future of music in Canada depends on little groups such as this class." Stressing the value of the training they are receiving, he said these children will "grow up to be much nicer people" because of it. Addressing himself to the children, he urged those getting low marks not to be downhearted, as "sometimes the child receiving the lowest marks turns out to be the best musician in the end." Some are slower in maturing musically than others.

In Class 126, piano solo, under 12 years, winners were announced as follows: 1, E. A. Stevens; 2, B. Woodcock; and 3, L. Battley, all of Peterborough. Marks of the three winners were 88, 86, and 85 respectively.

Winners in Class 143, piano solo, under 17 years, Tuesday afternoon were:—1 F. Schwartz; 2 N. Schwartz; 3 E. Stevens, all of Peterborough. There were 10 entries in this class.

In Class 59, girls' solo, under 11 years, also run off Tuesday afternoon, the winners were:—1 S. Moore, of Lindsay; 2 S. Fulton, of Bobcaygeon; 3 S. McMillan, of Port Hope.

School Choirs

Next class to be run off was Class 98, school chorus, Grades 1, 2, and 3. Winners were announced as follows:—1 King Edward School; 2 Prince of Wales Primary choir; 3 Port Hope Public Schools.

Class 99, school chorus, grades 4, 5, and 6 was won by Queen Alexandra School with 87 points. Port Hope Public School came second with 85 points, and Queen Mary School, third with 84 points.

The adjudicator in announcing the winners in this class commented that "school music is largely a matter of vitality" and "must be adjusted to the essential differences in the pulse beat of a child and that of an adult." Children should be taught, not just music itself, but "by means of music how to be alert creatures." He declared that music is one of the mediums of education and "not an end in itself."

The final class of the afternoon was Class 97, boys' chorus, which was won by Port Hope Public School, with 85 points, Queen Elizabeth School, Smith, coming second with 82 points. These were the only entries in this class.

The first class heard from in the evening session was Class 77, girls' chorus, two-part, under 17 years. This class was won by Form 9E, Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School, with St. Andrew's Girls' Chorus, Peterborough, placing second, and Millbrook Continuation School, third.

Next evening class was Class 79, intermediate church choirs, under 18 years. Under the heading of "'intermediate chorus" Lakefield High School placed first and Millbrook Continuation School second. St. Andrew's Intermediate Boys' Choir came first in the choir section of this class.

Only One Entry

In Class 155, piano duo, open, there was just the one entry, D. White and E. McGee of Peterborough.

Class 24, baritone solo, was won by D. Landry, with J. Moore second and C. Shewen, third, all being of Peterborough.

In Class 14, vocal duet, any adult voices, winning entrant was announced as W. Perry and J. Dunn of Lindsay, who received 90 marks. Mrs. Brown and E. McBride of Port Hope came second with 89 marks, while E. Elson and B. North of Millbrook came third with 78 marks.

The adjudicator said the singing of the first and second place winners in this class was exceptionally good, being "one of the best performances in this whole fine music festival".

Class 20, soprano, was won by Miss J. Dunn, of Lindsay, with 86 points. Second was Miss I. Whalon, of Peterborough, with 86 points, and third Miss J. Jackman, Peterborough, 80 points.

The final class of the day was Class 15, vocal duet, any adult voices, which was won by W. Perry and J. Dunn, of Lindsay, with 91 points, second being Mrs. DeCarron and Mrs. Bener, of Campbellford, with 86, and third, R. Davidson and C. J. Moore, of Lindsay, 85.

Morning Events

The first class of the day, run off at 9 Tuesday morning, was Class 144, piano solo, under 16 years. Winners in this class were: 1, Faye Schwartz; 2, Natalie Schwartz; and M. Hayward, all of Peterborough.

Next event was Class 90, boys' duet, in which the winners were: 1, F. Taylor and K. Hallett, of Lindsay; 2, Terence and T. Hawkins, of Peterborough; 3, B. Kilborn and R. Kilborn, of Peterborough. The adjudicator in his comments on this class declared that the first place winners had "a pair of lovely voices." He said the first voice had "a high silvery quality" and the second voice was "a bit husky". Both had "a fine degree of artistry, with eloquent phrasing."

Commenting generally on this class (90), Mr. Heath-Gracie stated that all of those entered in it did their work well, but would have to learn to "be more friendly, all inclusive, and not so dispassionate."

Discover Broken Rod Wreck Prevented

COBOURG, March 23—(ENS)—A brake rod which fell from a passing train at the Kingston Crossing yesterday afternoon and was impaled in the planks, was spotted by two men in a truck before any serious results could occur. The rod was partly inclined over one rail and was seen by A. Cadman and C. Boagwy of Toronto as they drove over the crossing in a truck. They hailed a passing car and told the driver to notify police and the CPR station and then each went up the tracks a distance on either side of the crossing to flag any rail traffic. Corporal Douglas Wilson of the provincial police went to the scene and to make sure the railway was notified, radioed his station to call the railway agent. A crew was sent out and the iron was removed.

Kidnap Burmese Aide

RANGOON, March 23 (AP)—An aide of the Burmese foreign minister was kidnapped Tuesday night by a gang armed with submachine-guns, the English-language newspaper Nation reported today. It said eight men held-up Thakin Pu, aide to Thakin Nyawnyein, when he came out of a Rangoon movie house.

Trace Movements Of Robber Suspects

COBOURG, Mar. 23 (ENS)—Police, investigating the weekend robbery of clothing store here, have traced the activities of the men responsible from when they arrived in Cobourg until their departure. Chief W. J. Carey said yesterday that he and Constable H. Pearse learned that three men, answering the description of the three who were seen hanging around the store last Thursday, had stayed at a local hotel on Saturday and part of Sunday.

One of the trio registered at the hotel on Saturday morning but it was ascertained that two others joined him later. They had no baggage but when they called a taxi on Sunday morning they lugged several boxes and suitcases to the cab and were driven to Port Hope where they caught the noon bus for Toronto. Police learned yesterday that the three got off the bus terminal in Toronto but, from there on their movements are still under investigation. Chief Carey said that he was sure that they were the same men who broke into a Port Hope sports store last week.

Hastings Plans Three Summer Activities

HASTINGS, March 23—(ENS)—Summer activities of local organizations were discussed at the Council's March meeting in the Town Hall last week. C. Glennie and H. Chennell told council of the Legion's plans for the July 1 program and branch 106 was granted permission to use Front St. on that date. The section of the street between Bridge and Victoria Sts. is to be closed to traffic from 6 p.m. July 1 to 6 a.m. the following day.

The recreational centre committee was granted the use of the same section of the street on the night of July 20-21.

The Orange Lodge Order was granted permission to hold the Orange Walk on July 12. Frederick Scriver and L. Humphries made this application to the council.

Robert Collins asked the Council to have a tree in front of his house cut and it was decided to have this done.

Decline In Cost Of Living Predicted In Budget Talk

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott told the Commons Tuesday night in his budget speech it is "quite possible" there may be some decline this year in the cost of living.

While he conceded some further increases in the official cost-of-living index might occur in a "few" items, he thought it "unlikely" that any significant increase will take place, unless there are serious crop failures.

He noted the "welcome" halt in the rising index and said it has remained almost constant—it now is at a near-record peak of 159.5—since last September at a level of about 60 per cent above prewar. He went on:

"The time now has come, I believe, when increased expenditures by consumers can be met by increased supplies of goods without endangering either our price structure or our exchange position."

Mr. Abbott referred several times to the increased supply of domestic goods and expressed belief the post-war world price inflation appears to have "run its course."

Price Index Levels

"Since the late summer," he said, "the price indexes have levelled out both here and in the United States—the two countries in which a free price market most nearly exists. In some sectors of the price structure, where the increases had been particularly great, prices have begun to recede to more healthy levels."

This did not mean there were not some acute shortages, as in steel or in housing, or that there may be considerable "ups and downs" in individual prices from week to week and month to month.

"But the general assumption which I feel justified in making at this point is that when we come to the end of this year and look back we shall find that the price level as a whole will be no higher than it now is and that the prices of some groups of commodities at least will be somewhat lower."

The pressure of consumer demand for supplies was "slackening." In some cases, there was the occasional emergence of "surpluses and of bargain sales by retailers—something which we had almost forgotten to be a normal part of business at certain seasons of the year."

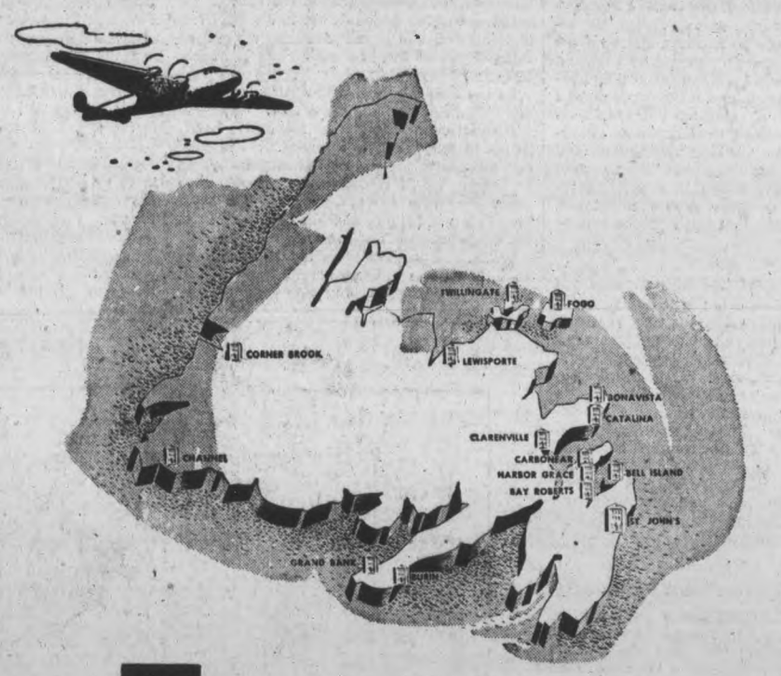
Mrs. H. Cathcart Is Laid To Rest

SPRINGVILLE, March 23.—(ENS).—The funeral of Mrs. Harold Cathcart, who died March 18, was held from the family residence at Springville on Monday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. S. Reddick and the Rev. Dr. James Semple.

The many beautiful floral tributes and the exceptionally large funeral bore testimony to the high respect and esteem in which Mrs. Cathcart was held by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Her illness had extended over most of the last year. During that time her acceptance of pain and suffering was an inspiration to those who came in contact with her. It was with profound sorrow that the community learned of her passing.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, her entire life had been lived in the Springville district. After her marriage, March 15, 1919, she resided west of Springville on the Cathcart homestead until 1929. At that tme, the family moved to the Baptie farm at Springville, from where the funeral was held.



Mrs. Cathcart was a member of Springville United church and was sincerely interested in all its activities. She was a past president of the Women's Association and as Community Friendship secretary of the W.M.S., had unfailingly given of her time in visiting all those who were ill or shut in. It can be truly said that in the training of her family, in the church and social life of her community, she always did her duty faithfully. To the family she leaves the greatest of all heritages, the memory of a life well lived.

She is survived by her sorrowing husband, by two daughters, Mrs. Lorne White (Dorothy) of Port Hope, Mayme, a teacher at Queen Elizabeth school, three sons, Manson who resides at home, Donald, on the Cathcart homestead, Harold Jr. at home, and a niece, Mildred Brown of the Ontario Girls' Training School at Cobourg.

Pallbearers were Talmadge Bryan, William Patterson, William Armstrong, Stephen Dundas, Ira Robson and John Cathcart.

Interment was in Little Lake cemetery.

Acquit Immigrant

TORONTO, March 23—(CP)—George Nesterenko, 22-year-old Russian immigrant charged with automobile theft and drunk driving, was acquitted Tuesday after he told the court that he would face "certain death" if convicted and sent back to his native Ukraine. He claimed a Communist had spiked his drink.

Spend 50 Million On Newfoundland

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—The Federal Government probably will spend more than $50,000,000 in Newfoundland during the first year of union, Finance Minister Abbott said Tuesday in his budget speech.

He said special estimates will be introduced later to provide for expenditures in Newfoundland and he estimated they will "probably exceed $50,000,000."

The amount will cover family allowances, old-age pensions, veterans' benefits and other payments which normally go to the provinces as well as the first year's instalment of $6,500,000 in federal grants-in-aid to help Newfoundland in the early years of union. The target date for the completion of union is March 31.

It has been estimated that the Federal Government will be able to raise $27,000,000 revenue in Newfoundland. This would leave it with an apparent deficit of $23,000,000 on the first year's operations.

Canada's Net Debt At $11,800,000,000

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—Canada's net debt, which skyrocketted during the war years, has been whittled from its peak $13,421,405,490 to $11,800,000,000 Finance Minister Abbott disclosed Tuesday night in his budget speech.

The net debt was a mere $3,152,559,314 at the outbreak of the war. Heavy wartime expenditures sent it up by leaps and bounds, but for the last three years government surplus have been used to cut it down.

In the 1948-49 year, which end March 31, it was reduced by $575,000,000.

The funded debt now stands at $15,600,000,000.

The Late G. N. Gordon

The death of the Honourable George Newcombe Gordon, P.C., robs Peterborough of her most colourful citizen. In our obituary columns we have recorded at length his political career and his municipal service; in this brief and imperfect tribute we should like to write of him as he was known to his fellow-citizens, and as he will be remembered by them. For he will be remembered: neither friend nor enemy will quickly forget him.

* * *

He was at all times a man of forthright speech and strong convictions; he hated a mealy mouth, but he respected a courageous opponent. As many Peterborough people have cause to know, he was a kindly man in his private life, but in public controversy he spared no one; a principle was always more to him than a man, and it must be said that he loved controversy for its own sake; the heat of the battle was his native element. He was one of those rare men of whom it can be said that they are without fear, and like such men he attracted warm allegiance and unrelenting enmity. That was as he liked it; he had no wish to be universally popular, and we may suspect that he liked a firm opponent better than he liked a wishy-washy adherent. Of him it may well be said that his Yea was his Yea, and his Nay was his Nay.

* * *

The late Mr. Gordon devoted a great part of his energy, keen intelligence and vigilance to the affairs of this city and it can truthfully be said that no day ever passed that he did not give some thought to its improvement. In public addresses, in private conversation and in the letter columns of this newspaper he made his opinions known, and speaking for The Examiner we may say that even when we disagreed with him we were always conscious that we were dealing with a man who was a stranger to self-seeking and mean motives; even when his opinions might seem ill-considered, there was nothing small about him. Peterborough will miss him, and his name will long be held in honour.

Peterborough Music—Past And Present

The death last week of R. J. Devey recalls to many residents the musical animation in Peterborough thirty and forty years ago. The years from 1905 to 1915 might almost be called the golden decade of music in the city. Now many of the principal participants have gone: John Renwick of George Street, R. J. Devey of St. John's, Rupert Gliddon of the Peterborough Conservatory. Martin Chenhall whose career overlaps the period and who only a few months ago retired as organist of St. Paul's was another music-maker who gave the musical impulse direction. His Male Voice Choir was a well-known and healthy organization.

Other names come to mind — Joseph Cunningham whose music store was a rendezvous for enthusiastic amateurs, Miss Margaret McCabe at the piano, Dorothy Allan as soloist, George Chandler, sure voice, John Crane the banker and fine amateur organist, Asa Huycke, a musician-born. What a host of people there were, singing, playing, acting and all enthusiastic performers and listeners. The old Conservatory was a din of pianos, violins, trumpets and sol-fas on Saturdays. There were the "Twilight Musicales" on winter afternoons. Special teachers came weekly from Toronto to augment Mr. Gliddon's competent staff. Rupert Gliddon himself would teach or play any instrument on call. His direction of the 57th Regimental Band was hearty, skilful and fruitful, and a large band it was, touring here and there, playing heart-warming music. What great entertainment were the Devey light operas, and how many thousands of our citizens delighted in them! And there was the natural musician Asa Huycke, writing the words and music for "The Message of the Bluebird", a full-length operetta. A musically thriving place Peterborough was then.

The surge of musical activity subsided and enthusiasm waned about the time movies became popular. Later luminaries flashed — like Charles Peaker. The Madrigal Choir of Dorothy Allan Park achieved distinction. Musicians carried on, but the temper of the times was different, and active participation in musical affairs was not a general joy.

There are reassuring signs that music now has a fresh impetus in the district. For instance, this week there are 580 entries and 1,500 participants in the Kiwanis Musical Festival. The Kiwanis Club is to be congratulated on sponsoring so valuable an event. Concerts are attracting large audiences. The city has some accomplished professional musicians and teachers. Enthusiastic amateurs are not lacking. Perhaps a new golden decade is at hand, and the gramophone and radio which seemed to turn active makers of music into passive auditors may prove to be the cultivators of a wider interest and a more sensitive and enthusiastic musical activity than Peterborough has ever had before.

Amending The Succession Duties Act

The payment of succession duties on inherited money has long been recognized as a legitimate means of raising money for governmental expenses. There have been complaints, however, that in many cases succession duties have caused hardship to inheritors; it is very rarely that money is left to someone without a measure of responsibility being attached to it, and sometimes the responsibilities and the succession duties have combined in such a way as to make an inheritor worse off than he was before, or to embarrass him for several years. Amendments are now before the Ontario Legislature to correct this state of affairs.

At present wives and children are exempt from succession duties on estates of less than $25,000; on estates exceeding that amount succession duties may be very high and they must be paid within a comparatively short time; governments do not like to wait for their money, however long an inheritor may have to wait for the full use of his inheritance. The amendments propose that the exempted estates be all those which are worth less than $50,000, and that the time for payment be extended in such a way that an inheritor can pay without crippling himself. We think that most people will agree that these new terms are fair.

In our society most men are anxious to leave their families enough money to enable them to go on living in the style to which they have been accustomed. Wives, unmarried daughters, invalids and dependents of many kinds have a right to feel that the death of their protector is not going to add the misery of straitened circumstances to the pain of bereavement. The proposed amendments to the Succession Duties Act would do much to give them this assurance.

Italy In The Western Camp

The De Gasperi Cabinet favoured Italy's taking part in the North Atlantic Treaty talks, and last week the Parliament gave narrow approval. It is therefore likely that Italy will become a party to the Treaty. Its hesitation is understandable. The greatest power in the new group is the U.S.A. Her arms are far distant, farther than those of Britain in 1939 when war crushed the Poland to which Britain had given guarantees of aid. Further, Communists are numerous in Italy. In fact, at the General Elections less than a year ago there was some fear on this side of the Atlantic that the Communists would gain control of the Italian Parliament.

Italy had to choose between East and West. The choice was really made when it accepted Marshall Plan aid, and that aid proved to be effective. Western political ideals and American dollars won the support of the Italian people in the elections last April. Political democracy is assured of continuation in Italy, barring war. The Defence Minister said on Monday that the Italian Communist Party had lost 700,000 members in the last twelve months. It is a significant defection, and good proof that E.R.P. is accomplishing its ends in Italy. A stable economy and a measure of prosperity—small as it now is in that country—are safeguards against Communist agitation.

There are still a million and a half Communists in Italy, but they are a definite minority, powerless in Parliament, and, as the Foreign Minister said, they cannot use illegal means because "the government forces are overwhelmingly superior to theirs". Italy is committed to the Western camp. It is the responsibility of all western countries to ensure that it does not suffer thereby.

The U.S. Government has put out a pamphlet explaining how to tell the sex of a melon. Here is our way: we rap it, and if it gives a hollow sound it is male; if it raps back it is female.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

Still More Untidy History

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

HISTORIAN Gourlay on Love and Marriage:

"There must be marriages or the race must cease. Ever since Jacob went to see Rachel and kissed her ruby lips, when they met at the well, and we are far from saying that this was the first meeting or demonstration of the kind among our wandering species; it is probable that the custom is as ancient as the race; nothing offensive, wrong or in bad taste could be said of the lovely, unstained and blushing Eve when she first opened her eyes on the dignified, manly form of her lover and lord in the pure innocence, submitted cheeks and lips to receive the salutation as evidence of love at sight, without shame and with a modesty unsullied and becoming, the situation, and the circumstances; no stealthy invasion of the neighbours rights in the case; so in this young world of the Ottawa Valley, when kindred spirits met, there were harmless and friendly greetings, nemine contradicente."

I HAVE left the original punctuation. This is not the first time, nor will it be the last, that a sentence on love has got out of hand. Opportunities for Rachels to meet their Jacobs were fewer in those days, and religion provided the best of them. Camp meetings especially were good occasions for pairing. There was one great meeting near Goulborn:

"Whole families from far away, Clarendon and Hull, and many other places were there encamped in board huts, tents and sheds. Many preachers were there and many sermons daily delivered to the vast, attentive audience. Prayer meetings followed the sermon and were greatly prolonged, some one leading till exhausted, his voice was lost in the responses and another started up to take his place. . . General Booth is contriving ways to bring together the working young people of London and elsewhere for acquaintance in order to marriage. In this light this camp-meeting must have been a great success, for we were told that about 60 marriages took place shortly after it broke up."

IN his "Faust" the German poet Goethe gives Mephistopheles some famous lines in which he expresses his vexation at the way the human race continues to multiply through all handlings and disasters. Early days in the Ottawa Valley would have driven Mephisto pretty near mad:

"Mrs. Kennedy was a McDiarmid, a good woman; their family like that of Jacob's was thirteen; but unlike his in that they were twelve girls and a boy. The girls married wisely and are mothers of numerous interesting offspring. . . . Samuel Dow took up land in 1816 on Rideau front. After him came Johnathan Marble Dow with a family of five daughters and three sons located near the Dows, and in the same rowboat with him William Thompson with three sons and six daughters, settled on the farm on the Richmond Road."

✧ ✧ ✧

HISTORIAN Gourlay lets Religion have a lighter side: "Religion is the one thing needful, and the one thing fallen men dislike, nearly as much as they love its antagonist, sin. When a stir is got up, many are willing to hope for the best from such Herculean efforts as are sometimes put forth for it. Some fancied themselves possessed with demons, or at least attacked by them. Mr. Watts, an old elder, told me of some cases, but we said, you do not believe in such possession now? "Oh, yes I do, but it was a lazy devil."

✧ ✧ ✧

"CAPTAIN Maxwell seems to have been the most devout man among them. He assembled the people on Sundays and read the services of the Church. He did it well and was highly esteemed among his contemporaries. A little note is told at his expense though only arising from adventitious circumstances. One very cold morning the Captain was reading the lessons for the day from the Old Testament. He has come to "Spake unto Moses saying" and added in a soft undertone "Pat McElroy—put a stick in the stove". The boys still insist that this is in the original."

✧ ✧ ✧

"THE story runs that the Kirk minister was visiting and met a boy who had gathered together some sand, muck and dust available at the turn of a little run. The minister says: "Well my lad, what are you doing here?" "I'm making a kirk, sar." "Have you a door to it?" "Aye yondher it is," pointing to an opening in the end of the heap. "And windows?" "Aye, sar" pointing to scores he had made in the sides. "Have you got pews and a pulpit?" "Oo aye, di'nt ye see them there?" pointing to some ridges. "Oh yes, I see they are all right, but have you a minister and congregation to occupy it?" "Na, sar, I ha na got dhirt enough to mak them."

Liquor Figures Can Mislead

NOTING a $36,000,000 liquor profit by the Ontario Government in the current fiscal year, The Toronto Star says that "more liquor is being consumed in Ontario than ever before."

The Star's statement is true, but it can't be taken as proof that Ontario's people, individually, are drinking more. Ontario, since 1939, has increased its population by nearly 800,000. That must add substantially to total liquor consumption. Ontario last year had more tourists than ever before in its history. That, too, increased total liquor consumption. Therefore, if we would know the truth about Ontario's drinking habits, whether they are getting worse or better, we must look at per capita consumption, with account taken of the fact that even per capita figures would be swollen by the purchases of tourists.

Further: Increased dollar profits from liquor do not necessarily mean more drinking of liquor; this for the simple reason that since 1939 the price of liquor has in many cases, and notably in wines, nearly doubled. Dollar measurements in liquor consumption (or profits) can be as misleading as dollar measurements in the matter of general trade.

MR. LEWIS SOLVES HIS PYRAMID PROBLEM

Letters To The Editor

FLOGGING IS WICKED

Sir: Your editorial of March 15 advocating flogging of convicted persons is, from the writer's point of view, a practice of the Dark Ages. The administration of the task by prison officials, does not in any degree improve the character of the individual receiving such punishment. Such form of punishment might deter the individual from committing a similar offence. But such treatment does not improve the victim's moral nor mental outlook.

Throughout British history, the whip and various methods of torture were quite in order seemingly. The purpose has been, not so much as to punish the wrong-doer, but rather in a sense, to frighten all others who exist under the law.

We are now living in a more refined and enlightened age.

Our social standards of living today are definitely superior to conditions forty years ago. In years passed, it seemed necessary to engage men for police duty with brute strength and weak minds, for the public in general could not understand then, the language of courtesy.

It is admitted by the writer that men and women sin in this present age, as of old, but surely, with so many scientists in the world today, some suitable form of treatment could be prescribed, such as would reform the general behaviour of sinners, without resorting to sadistic measures.

The writer has witnessed many floggings. The scenes have been most horrible. No gentleman having witnessed such barbarism, would endorse such practices, either publicly or in private. Pouring oil upon the burning house will in no ways quench the flames.

It is the desire of the writer that all prisons be abolished, and in the place of such, something in the nature of a sanitarium or hospital, preferably.

As the body ills require the attention of the physician, likewise the mind also.

An individual often times abuses his body, which in time becomes diseased. He may of course consult his physician, voluntarily, or by force. Would it not appear ridiculous to order the whip for every person guilty of violating the laws of his physical body? Is the mind less important to that of the torso?

Within the past two years there has appeared in the press advertisements for prison guards etc. etc., preferably men with war experience. Why are war veterans preferable to civilians? There is only one answer. War veterans are hard-boiled and consequently not to be fooled with.

What is the sense of preaching Christianity when society wilfully disregards the principles entailed in the Christ doctrine?

"Revenge is mine saith the Lord. I shall repay."

Mr. Editor: The writer would abolish flogging. It is wicked.

ALBERT J. J. STRANGE.

ED. NOTE: The Examiner did not advocate flogging in its editorial of March 15, but invited discussion. Has any reader a comment to offer on Mr. Strange's interesting letter?

THE NOLANS AND THE LIGHT BRIGADE

Sir: "Charge of the Light Brigade"—How often did we as teenagers at school skip through these thrilling words, with but a transient thought for the heroic deed that inspired them—"Into the jaws of death, into the mouth of hell, rode the Six Hundred."

Reading those words we did not expect that we, in Upper Canada, would ever have any closer connection with the personnel of that heroic charge. But later history has proved that the blood of heroes who served in the wars of the Crimea and elsewhere and in the war with Napoleon has mingled with the blood of our young nation and inspired us to greater heroism and endeavour.

There came a day when there came to Cobourg and later to Douro township a family to whom the "Charge of the Light Brigade" meant much. Among the first of the Irish emigrants who came here with the Peter Robinson migration was the Nolan family. They came first to Cobourg, where there was a land office presided over by Major Rogers of Haldimand township. This office served not only Northumberland County, but all territory in what was afterwards Peterborough, which was then being colonized.

This family laid no claim to military glory in the Old Land for themselves. Yet their application for a land grant was honoured by a grant of one thousand acres in Douro. Such large grants were customarily made to half-pay officers with a high record of military service. It was, however, with considerable pardonable pride that Mr. L. Nolan told that it was his first cousin, Captain Charles Nolan, who led the "Charge of the Light Brigade" forfeiting his life in this historic onslaught, as he was struck on the head by a cannon ball. This is but one instance of the heroism and devotion to duty that marked one Old Country family, who chose the wilds of Canada for their permanent home, which they wrested from the virgin forest.

To cross the ocean was in itself something of an adventure in those days. In crossing to England from County Carlow, Ireland, the boat upon which the Nolan family sailed, was laid up for eight days by a violent storm and its sister ship was wrecked. From Liverpool they sailed on a three masted West India tracer, which carried guns for fear of encountering pirates. They were nine weeks and three days crossing the ocean. Landing at Quebec they came by boat, through the dangerous rapids of the St. Lawrence to Cobourg, where they sought for location of their new home in Upper Canada at the land office. Cobourg or rather Port Hamilton, its early name, was a sort of distributing centre for settlers going farther north. From Cobourg they went by oxen and wagon to Rice Lake, their first destination being the ferry-house there, and finally they arrived in a woods at a spot where is now the City of Peterborough. There was then a log store, and a few isolated log huts, but no roads, no churches, no schools.

What Canada needs today is historians who will depict the stories of our country's beginnings with such vividness that they will become a part of the warp and woof of our national life.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness; for they shall be filled. (Matt. 5: 6.)

And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them. . . .

Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her. (Luke 10: 25, 27, 38-42.)

Unconsidered Trifle

A clergyman was dining with his host before the afternoon service. He ate little, explaining that it was not good for a preacher to eat heavily before a sermon.

The hostess could not attend the service, as she had to stay at home to prepare tea.

When her husband came home, she said: "Well, how was he?"

The husband, heaving a sigh, replied: "He might just as well have eaten."

Girls Report Progress To WI

HAVELOCK, March, 23 (ENS) —A review of the work done by the Belmont Girls' Club during the past year under the heading, The Club Girl Entertains, was presented by the leaders, Thelma Dafoe and Norma Fraser at the March meeting of the Belmont Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. Randal Vansickle.

The Institute is sponsoring a drive for used clothing for Europe and the time for receiving donations has been extended to the April meeting.

It was decided to sponsor a dance at the Stone Hall on April 20, when a draw for a bedspread will be held. Mrs. Charles Ellis, Mrs. Alex Keene and Mrs. Robert Wrightly were appointed to organize the dance.

Plans were made for the dressmaking course to be held at the Stone Hall from May 2-6.

Mrs. German Ellis conducted a shamrock contest, the winner being Mrs. George Wright. A reading was given by Mrs. H. Hoard. There was an attendance of 23 members and six visitors.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Vansickle were Mrs. W. Aunger, Mrs. J. H. Toms, Mrs. R. McCutcheon and Mrs. A. Hubble.

D.D.G.M. Visits Marmora Masons

MARMORA, March 23 (ENS)—Official visit of Right Wor. Bro. Stewart C. Wood, DDGM, of Prince Edward District to Marmora Lodge AF and AM 222 attracted Masons from near and far to a banquet served by the St. Paul's Ladies' Guild in Marmora Town Hall on Monday.

Wor. Bro. C. C. Watson, master of Marmora Lodge, was toastmaster. After the King and Craft had been honored, PDGM C. H. Buskard proposed Grand Lodge. In response Rt. Wor. Bro. Wood gave an address on what Masonry should teach its followers. He mentioned that not only had the noble order extolled the dignity of man but it also had not been backward in pointing out the weakness of human nature and the treatment that weakenss should receive.

He digressed on three aspects of Masonic conduct. The duty to recognize the seriousness of the act of living; the duty to be strong since strength is the ideal of a noble life and the exercise of the act of thoughtfulness.

Mrs. L. R. Rundle sang with Bro. J. M. Brownlie as accompanist. Then Wor. Bro. W. G. Chrysler proposed a toast to visiting brethren with selected brethren replying in the lodge session which followed. The Junior Warden's toast given by Bro. S. Sandham followed a message of thanks by the same officer on behalf of the brethren to Mrs. D. Robertson, president of the Ladies' Guild. Marmora Lodge was also toasted.

At the lodge session an invitation was carried out and another address was heard from the Grand Lodge representative.

Girls Sponsor Dance

HAVELOCK, March 23 (ENS) —Belmont Girls' Club sponsored a dance at the Stone Hall on Friday. The proceeds, which amounted to $22.45, will be used to pay the expenses of five delegates from the club to attend Achievement Day at Peterborough early in April. Refreshments were served by the girls.

TAXATION PROBLEM — Tom Pryma, 30-year-old oil company employee at Radway, Alta., wonders what income tax is all about. Pryma says he has been charged more than $600 by the Edmonton income tax office for earnings "on gambling winnings of $1,500 in 1945 and 1946." Pryma declares he has never gambled in his life. While Edmonton tax officials refuse to comment, Ottawa says he has nothing to worry about. But Pryma still wonders what is happening.

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP) — A board of inquiry has placed dual responsibility on the pilot and his company for the eight-fatality crash of an Anson aircraft at Trinity Bay, Que., Feb. 2, the Transport Department announced today.

In its report, the board said the accident resulted from carelessness. It blamed Ken Smith of Riviere du Loup, the pilot, who died in the crash, and St. Lawrence Airways, the company which operated the aircraft.

The crash, 250 miles northeast of Quebec City, took the lives of Smith and his mechanic, Georges Ouellet of Lac St. Agnes, Que., and six passengers employed in bush operations by the St. Lawrence Paper Mills Co.

Direct cause of the crash was the fact that a locking device on the elevator controls was not removed before take-off.

"It was disclosed in the report" the Transport Department's statement said, "that the aircraft took off Trinity Bay runway. Observers stated that the aircraft made what appeared to be a normal take-off, but after reaching a height of about 25 feet it assumed a climbing angle of better than 45 degrees.

"Thorough investigation of the evidence indicated to the board that the pilot was unable to move the elevator control with the result that immediately afer take-off, the aircraft climbed steeply until it stalled, the nose fell and the plane dived into the ground."

In placing blame, the report said the pilot did not complete a cockpit check and control test for freedom of movement, and that the company did not comply with Transport Department Regulations.

Gashed Husband's Eye With Cup, Charge Laid

TORONTO, March 23—(CP)—Mrs. Mary Sala, 31, today was charged with wounding her husband Stephen, 31, after what police described as "a drinking bout between husband and wife."

Sala was taken to hospital Monday night with serious head and eye injuries. Doctors, describing his condition as critical, said he will be permanently blind in the left eye.

Police said they found the man lying on a bedroom floor, bleeding profusely. They charged his wife slugged him with a heavy cup and gored his eyes with the jagged edge.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Two Central Ontario baseball men have been nominated for spots on the executive of the Ontario Baseball Association. They are Al Walker of Oshawa, put up by the Lakeshore League, and Cy Whatley of Peterborough, submitted by the COBL. It is expected that this part of the province will be well represented at the annual OBA meeting here on April 9, and these two chaps might get enough votes to make the executive. We hope so. Following the OBA general session, the COBL will have a meeting here that day to clear the decks for action. At present, three clubs have paid entry fees, Oshawa, Batawa and the Petes. Either Belleville or Kingston is expected to round out the circuit. Meantime, plans are going ahead rapidly for the OBA meeting.

* * * * * *

By the way, it is noticed where Sammy Mulholland of Kingston has been purchased from Philadelphia Rockets of the AHL by Detroit Red Wings and he may be used in the Stanley Cup playoffs pretty regularly. The 19-year-old Sammy is a fine competitor and a nice chap. He will likely be back in the COBL this season if Kingston comes in. Last year Mulholland was voted the most valuable player to his club in the Central League. Each manager and scorer had a vote but could not cast it for a player in his own town. Both Eddie Murphy and this scribe voted for Mulholland, a valuable all-around player.

Mike Going Strong

Mike Rodden sat in the press pew at Kingston the other night as Legionnaires walloped Nylons. Mike holds the long-distance record for refereeing both pro and amateur hockey games. He was a prominent NHL official for many years and still does a fair share of amateur contests. Has blown the whistle during some 50 games down Kingston way this season and the veteran arbiter and sports recorder is still going strong. He was formerly a senior grid coach, too, and is a mine of sports tales. Mike says: "I referee by the book and don't let hockey players get away with interference as so many officials do."

* * * * * *

Legionnaires are pulling out by bus at six tonight for Belleville and their third OHA senior "B" semi-final playoff with Kingston Nylons. At full strength and in grand shape, they're quite confident they'll rub the Nylons out of the puck picture before a big crowd in Bella Villa this p.m. And then step into the Ontario finals. No doubt, many Peterborough fans will motor down the highway—some 65 miles, we believe, by the back way—to see the high-flying locals in action. Kingston have to do or die tonight but we don't think they can halt Legion now. You see, Legionnaires have their sights set on that provincial crown.

Leafs And Detroit

The chips are down now in Stanley Cup semi-finals, and Toronto Leafs acted that way last night in Boston as they blanked the Bruins 3-0. Hefty Harry Watson scored a pair and Max Bentley got the other, as rookies Flem Mackell and Bob Dawes of Pittsburg did their share, too, for Hap Day's band. They go again there tomorrow and if Leafs should take that way from home, we can be expecting Dit Clapper to return to Peterborough maybe late next week. Wings had to fight it out in overtime last eve in Detroit's Olympia to edge Canadiens 2-1 after Richard had tied things up in the third. They go tomorrow, also. The usual announcements of crowds from both centres, as fire regulations are skirted adroitly.

Basketball for local teams booms toward a finish here this week-end in some divisions. At the YW on Friday, Lockeys and Normals open junior girls' finals, followed by Nurses and Neill's in the second of their senior sawoffs, best-of-three. Friday at the PCVS gym sees Uxbridge battling PCVS junior and senior girls in COSSA semi-finals, our senior lasses having 1 0points in hand but the local juniors being down two. And Saturday p.m. in the Collegiate, Toronto Clifton's tote a large lead against Towne Togs in LOBA semi-finals, followed at 8.15 by St. Kitts' boys and PCVS in LOBA juvenile finals, locals needing three points to sew it up. Winner of that goes in against Northern Ontario next.

Tape Recordings Making A Hit

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 — (AP)—Midweek medley: highlights and sidelights in the Hollywood News.

In Hollywood radio circles, everyone is talking about tape. That's the modern method of recording air shows. By using the tape recorder, radio stars are assured of perfect performances, or at least as good as the material with which they have to work.

After seeing the machine work, I'm convinced it can do anything but make Jimmy Durante sound like Dennis Day. It has drawn mike-shy stars like Joan Crawford and Clark Gable to the airlanes.

The appeal is simple: the stars can read their lines as many times as they want; the sound cutter picks the best one. No audience, no nerves, no fear of stumbling before an audience of 20,000,000.

Shows can be taped in the stars' free time or on Sundays, avoiding conflict with film shooting schedules.

Bing Crosby can afford to smile as more and more programs swing to tape records. Not only because he was two years ahead in making the move. His money is behind the tape recording firm.

Teams Battling To Make Sr. 'B' Playoffs

With Grimsby Peach Kings going one up in the fifth game of their OHA Senior "B" playdown series (best of seven) over Brantford Nationals, the scene shifts back to Brantford today. The winner of this series is expected to meet the winner of the Sarnia-Orillia series in provincal semi-finals, survivor of that to take on the winner of Peterborough Legion and Kingston Nylons.

Alan Rose, writing in the Brantford Expositor, seems to favor slightly the Peach Kings in their series, and the Sarnia Sailors—last year's champions—in the other setto. He writes: "Sarnia officials have asked us if there was any team in the east that could give them a battle. We told them Brantford or Grimsby might but we had heard so much about the Sailors that we couldn't get enthusiastic.

"Peterborough Legion played and defeated Kingston Nlyons twice in a best-of-five series in the eastern senior 'B' series. The games were one-sided. The winner meets either Sarnia, Grimsby or Brantford. Sarnia has a big strong team, led by playing coach Dick Kowcinak, a former NHL star, with the Toronto Leafs at one time."

South Dummer Wins Rural League Crown

COTTESLOE, March 23 (ENS) —The final game of the Warsaw Rural Hockey League was played on Saturday night at Warsaw between Warminster and South Dummer teams, with a score 6-2 for South Dummer. Orval Clements counted three and W. Sedgwick, C. Cobb one each for South Dummer. Ivan Lonsberry made the two goals for Warminster. Dr. D. Munro of Warsaw presented the cup to Arnold Cobb captain of the winning team, and Levon Krikorian (Boots) of Warsaw presented sweaters. The coach was Chas. McMillan, Cottesloe.

The line ups:

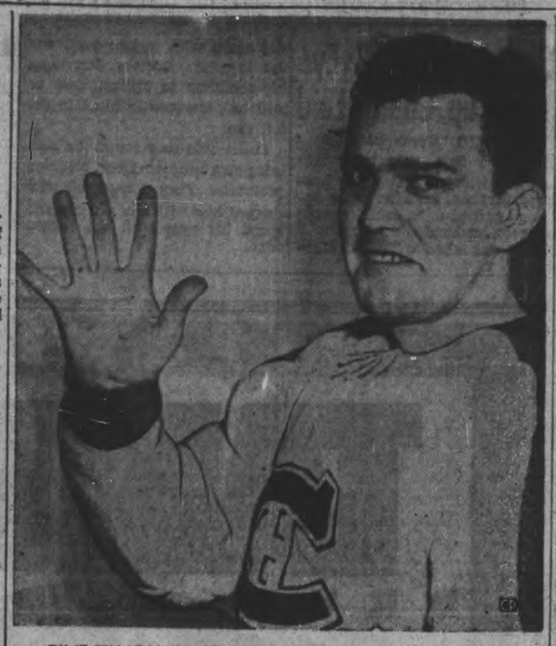
Warminster: — Goal, Reg. Parcels, defence, R. Cooper and I. Eadie, centre, I. Lonsberry, wings, Zinston and K. Clysdale, alternates, K. McCracken. E. Cooper, L. Payne, A. Garbutt.

South Dummer:—Goal A. Cobb, defence, W. Sedgwick, W. Cooper, centre, W. Lobb, wings, O. Clement and B. Kelly, alternates C. Lobb, B. Danford, E. Ireland, E. Sedgwick.

Referee—Ivan Payne. Linesman—Doug. Evans.

Warsaw Gets Win In Rural Playoffs

NORWOOD, Mar. 23 (ENS) — Warsaw won the second of the three out of five finals over Keene on a heavy sheet of ice, the score 6-1, before a good crowd of fans.



Darling from Judge scored in the last two minutes of play. W. Thompson of Keene received a cut over the left eye but was able to resume play. Ivan Watts scored twice in quick succession in the second with Sharpe and J. Watts each getting an assist. McQuaig and Kumpf were given minor penalties for roughing. Mackness scored Keene's goal after four minutes of play in the last period. Although Mackness and the Keene boys went in on the goal, they found Heath of Peterborough hard to beat. I. Watts again scored unassisted at 9.17. Musgrave came out too far and J. Watts from Bill Judge made it 5-1. McQuaig and G. Payne combined on the last goal of the game with three minutes to go, to make it 6-1 for Warsaw. Mackness and Houle were each given minors.

Lineups:

Warsaw—Goal, Heath; defence, L. Short, D. Sharpe; centre, I. Watts; wings, J. Watts, E. Payne, alternates, V. Clements, D. Evans, B. Judge, S. McQuaig, E. Darling, G. Payne.

Keene—Goal, Musgrave; defence, Doughty, R. Robertson; centre, T. McCarthy; wings, J. Houle, B. Thomson; alternates, Dalton, Anderson, J. Mackness, S. Kemot, Pryde, Kumpf, Hawks, W. Thompson, Adamson.

Referee, C. Puffer; Lluesman, Bud Webb.

FIVE-TIME WINNER—Big Bill Durnan, rugged netminder for the Montreal Canadiens, holds out the five fingers of his right hand to indicate the number of times he has been awarded the Vezina Trophy. This cup goes annually to the goalie with the least number of goals scored against him. Durnan is the first NHL net custodian to win the trophy five times.

Hot potato football!

That's what new coach Annis Stukus intends to teach Edmonton's team in the Western Interprovincial Football Union. He makes no bones about his intention of drilling the Edmonton Club along the lines of play used successfully by Toronto Argonauts.

"Today's football fans want to see wide-open football," said Stukus at Winnipeg. "We'll give it to them. We'll throw that ball around so much those other oldtimers will get dizzy trying to find it."

Then big Stuke, on his way west from Toronto to take up the chores of building Edmonton's new entry in the western circuit, made reference to the fabulous "Argo luck."

"Sure, we'll use a lot of Argo's plays," said Stukus. "We'll even put the old Argo bounce to good use. But don't ever think that the Argo bounce is all luck—it isn't. Those boys chase that ball so much they actually wind up knowing where it'll bounce. And that's the way it will be with us."

George C. Machum, Chairman of Canada's British Empire Games Committee, said at Montreal that rumors of appointment of a coach for the track team are groundless.

Machum was commenting on reports that Ken Yost of Winnipeg, who coached the Canadian track entry at the Olympic games in London last summer, was in line for the job.

Machum said no decision at all has been made. The only appointment so far is that of Jack Davies of Montreal as the team's general manager.

First game in the best-of-seven final for the all-Ontario Junior Hockey Championship between Barrie Flyers and South Porcupine Combines will be played at Toronto Saturday.

Dates for the next three games were fixed for: March 28 at Barrie, and March 31 and April 2 at Timmins. If additional games are necessary they will be played at Toronto but dates have not been set.

Alvin Dark, Boston Brave shortstop voted the 1948 rookie of the year in an Associated Press poll, has no fear of the sophomore jinx.

"Sophomore jinx? What's that? Whatever it is," he continued, I'm not going to have it. I intend to have a better year. I'm sure I know the pitchers better, and I've improved a lot in hitting and fielding."

Dark, whose speed, fielding and .322 batting average helped the Braves win the National League Pennant, explained that his unfamiliarity with enemy pitchers was responsible for his slow start last year.

President William Tobin of Chicago Black Hawks said Tuesday that Roy Conacher, Hawks' left winger, will receive a bonus for winning the individual scoring championship of the National Hockey League. Conacher registered 68 points, while his teammate, Doug Bentley, finished second with 66. Conacher is from Midland.

Tobin said that Charlie Conacher would return for his second full season as manager of the Black Hawks. Nettled by the Hawks' fifth-place finish, Tobin said he is prepared to bid as high as $50,000 for a rugged defence player.

New York Rangers of the National Hockey League said Tuesday they had invited two 17-year-old New Yorkers, Eddie Bjorness and Norm Diviney, to try out at their amateur camp at Guelph, this Thursday.

The Rangers said the schoolboys are the first New York City products ever to receive a bid to the camp. Both played with the New York Metropolitans of the Atlantic League this year.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

World's heavyweight champion Jimmy Braddock turned down Max Schmeling's guarantee of $35,000 for a heavyweight title fight in Berlin. It was 12 years ago tonight that Braddock made that decision and instead elected to meet Joe Louis in Chicago. He lost his crown when knocked out in the eighth round of the bout with the Brown Bomber.

—Wee Willie Davis, pictured above, comes in from Hollywood to take on Mickey Gold, the New York Jewish boy, in the semi-final at the Brock Arena tonight. The opener brings together the local boy, Nick Vicchareli in the rubber match with Sammy Gotter of Montreal. Chief concern centres in the main event in which Earl McCready will try to unmask the Marvel. He will be given all night to perform the task as the time limit has been removed. A well-balanced card that rates a packed house.

Detroit Edges Montreal By 2-1 In Overtime Play

DETROIT, March 23 — (CP)— Detroit Red Wings prepared for a long seige here to-day in their quest for the Stanley Cup following Tuesday night's Marathon playoff game that took the National Hockey League champions 104 minutes and 52 seconds to eke out a 2-1 victory over Montreal Canadiens.

Hero of the game was Rookie Max McNab who broke up the game after 44 minutes and 52 seconds of overtime play. The 24-year-old centre, who was born in Saskatchewan, scored the winning goal while Montreal's powerful Kenny Reardon was sitting in the penalty box.

Goaler Bill Durnan did not have a chance on the shot — a 10-footer — which struck defenceman Glen Harmon's leg and dribbled over the goal-line.

One-Game Lead

The victory gives Wings a one-game lead in the best-of-seven series which will be resumed here on Thursday night.

Detroit's first goal was scored by Gordie Howe in the second period when he fired a low 10-foot shot that beat Durnan cleanly.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard sent the game into overtime just eight minutes short of regulation time. He swept down the boards, cut in on the net and rammed the puck between Goalie Harry Lumley's skate and the goal post.

A hard-checking defensive game, it provided a crowd of 13,367 fans with some breathless moments.

Wings held a slight edge on the offensive, outshooting the Montrealers 34 to 31.

The overtime periods saw Lumley and Durnan engaged in a tight netminding duel. Both were brilliant McNab's goal came just four seconds before Reardon's penalty expired. The Detroit players swarmed around McNab after he scored.

But despite the win, Manager Jack Adams and Tommy Ivan were not predicting the outcome of the series. They pointed out that tight defensive play was expected from the start of the series, and they saw no reason why it should not continue.

Coach Dick Irvin's only comment was:

"It was one of those breaks—would have gone to either team."

Reds Trounce St. Louis In 7-2 Victory

By The Canadian Press.

When the smoke cleared from the three American Hockey League semi-final games last night, the Eastern Division showed the same superiority over the western loop that it has all year by blasting the west in all three games.

The highly touted Providence Reds, led by Ray Laplante, drove seven goals past Ralph Almas in the St. Louis nets to emerge with a 7-2 victory.

In quarter-final, best-of-three matches, Hershey hung up a 5-0 shutout over Indianapolis and Springfield defeated Cleveland 8-4.

A crowd of 5,953 saw Laplante spark the Providence attack with two goals, one of them the first of the game when he blasted the puck past Almas at 11.21 of the first period on a close shot from the right side.

Ernie Trigg tied it up for St. Louis at 13.36 during a ganging attack while the Reds were shorthanded, but Roger Bedard put the Reds in front again on a solo at 16.51.

All Providence

From there on, it was all Providence, with Laplante raising a cheer from the hometown crowd when he rapped Jack Stoddard's rebound into the St. Louis goal.

Defenceman Moe Morris made it 4-1 with a 55-foot blast in the second but less than two minutes later Eddie Olson got that one back for the Flyers.

Jackie Hamilton, Carl Liscombe and Stoddard provided the extra Providence insurance in the final period.

Hershey's victory over Indianapolis Capitals came as a surprise to all but the Hershey supporters Hershey, while placing second in the east, ended the regular schedule with 29 points less than the west's Indianapolis and the Caps were expected to have an easy win.

However, Hershey unleashed a power-house attack from the start with Freddie Hunt, Gordie Bruce and Roly McLenahan blinking the light.

The Bears boosted their count when Silvio Bettio and Arnie Kullman connected in the second and third periods respectively.

Beau Jack Suspended By Boxing Commission

BOSTON, March 23—(AP) — The Massachusetts Boxing Commission today reported suspension of boxer Beau Jack and 11 other fighters and managers, including two Canadians.

No details were announced on Jack's suspension except that it was "in co-operation with the National Boxing Association."

Bantamweight Clement Bolduc of Sherbrooke, Que., was suspended for a year from March 7, "for competing in Lowell, Mass., Golden Gloves Tournament as an amateur."

Armand Prince, another Sherbrooke bantamweight, was suspended for a year for "aiding in Bolduc's appearance in an amateur tournament."

Omaha Edges Kansas Dallas Winner Too

By The Associated Press.

Dallas and Omaha are in the lead in the United States Hockey League's playoffs.

Omaha slipped by Kansas City 2-1 Tuesday night in Omaha in the first game of the Northern-Division playoffs, and Dallas crushed Fort Worth at Dallas 8-0 in the opening Southern-Division game.

The Omaha-Kansas City winner will meet St. Paul, pennant-winner of the Northern loop, and the Dallas-Fort Worth winner meets Tulsa, Southern titlist, in the second-round playoffs.

Leafs Blank Bruins 3-0 In Dazzling Playoff Style

BOSTON, March 23 (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs, who started the season in anything but Stanley-cup style, blanked Boston 3-0 last night in their playoff opener with the same form they used to knock the Bruins out of the National Hockey League's semi-finals last year.

Working for their third successive title, Toronto carries a one-game lead into the second tilt of their best-of-seven semi-final series Thursday night in Boston. After that, the games move to Maple Leaf Gardens.

The winner of the Toronto-Boston series will meet the victor of the Montreal-Detroit series for the cup. The Red Wings hold an edge on Montreal after edging the Canadiens 2-1 in their first game last night in overtime.

A packed Boston Garden—13,900—saw the Leafs outplay Boston throughout the game and tally once in each period, while veteran goalie Walter (Turk) Broda held off the Bruin attacks to earn his second shutout of the season.

Early in the first period Toronto got their first marker while Boston defenceman Pat Egan was in the penalty box. With the play buzzing around Frank Brimsek's goal, Bill Ezinicki passed to Harry Watson who slipped the puck past Brimsek on an angle shot from close in.

A Boston attack early in the second session backfired when a shot by Kenny Smith bounced off Broda's pads almost to the blue line. Cal Gardner picked up the loose puck and passed to Watson, who scored with a high shot at 7.25.

Max Bentley got the final goal of the game in the third period, taking the puck on Joe Klukay's clean pass.

Conn Smythe, Toronto manager, said the turning point of the game was when Broda kicked out two Boston shots when the score was 1-0 and Watson came back with his second goal.

Boston players agreed they were "badly outplayed."

Breezes Into Town

VANCOUVER, March 23—(CP)—Yorkshireman Harry Town breezed into town Tuesday without a second to spare and 1,000,000 miles of travel behind him. Aged 80, the textile company salesman is on his 15th trip around the world. He planned his schedule in his Australian home to within minutes of his business engagements. He once wrote a Vancouver promoter he would meet him "at 9 p.m. six months from today." He did.

Abbott Has $575,000,000 Surplus for Year 1948-49

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—A surplus of $575,000,000 for the 1948-49 fiscal year was reported Tuesday night by Finance Minister Abbott in his budget speech to the Commons. This compared with a surplus of $670,000,000 for 1947-48 and of $373,000,000 for 1946-47, when a string of 17 consecutive deficits, caused by the 1930-35 depression and the Second World War, was broken. Revenues for the 1948-49 year, which ends March 31, were estimated at $2,768,000,000 and expenditures at $2,193,000,000. In the previous year revenues were $2,869,000,000 and expenditures $2,199,000,000.

Mr. Abbott gave the figures in the fiscal portion of his speech, which preceded the section containing proposed tax changes for the coming year.

Estimates Revenues

If no tax changes were made in 1949-50, he estimated revenues would total $2,800,000,000 and expenditures $2,390,000,000, leaving a surplus of $410,000,000.

Mr. Abbott made these other points:

1. The post-war price inflation appears to have run its course.

2. Canadians are unlikely to see any significant increase in the cost of living this year.

3. He does not expect in the near future any serious decline in the high level of expenditures in North America, on which Canada's current prosperity is based.

4. Canada's reserve of gold and United States dollars now totals about $1,065,000,000, compared with a low of $502,000,000 in December, 1947.

Cast Aside Pride

5. In the search for co-operation with the provinces, the Federal Government will not let pettiness of spirit nor false pride nor undue emphasis on purely financial considerations stand in the way of mutual understanding and constructive results.

6. The surplus expenditures in Newfoundland during the coming year will total more than $50,000,000.

Mr. Abbott recalled that in his budget speech a year ago he had forecast a surplus of $489,000,000. While revenues had been $86,000,000 greater than he estimated, expenditures were within one per cent of the estimate.

Direct taxes, which include personal and corporate income taxes, the excess profits tax and succession duties yielded $1,369,000,000, or $51,000,000 greater than a year ago. They accounted for 56 per cent of the total tax revenue.

Indirect taxes, which include all customs and excise taxes, yielded $1,072,000,000, or $62,000,000 less than a year ago.

Higher Profits

"The greater yield in direct taxes is a reflection on higher incomes and profits," said Mr. Abbott. "The decrease in indirect taxes is the result of the lower rates of duty under the Geneva agreements, the restriction of imports under the emergency Exchange Conservation Act and the removal a year ago of the amusement tax, the sales tax on prepared and packaged foods, and certain other indirect taxes."

Non-tax revenues from the post office and revenues from investments were $210,000,000, or $32,000,000 greater than last year. Special receipts and credits, chiefly sales of surplus was assets and sundry refunds, amounted to $117,000,000. This was $195,000,000 less than a year ago.

On the expenditures side the principal decrease was $229,000,000 in demobilization, reconversion and special expenditures. This decrease was almost balanced by increases of $203,000,000 in ordinary expenditures and $21,000,000 in the deficits of government-owned enterprises.

778 Million Available

Mr. Abbott said if amounts which could not be classed either as revenue or expenditure were taken into account $778,000,000 was available during the year for cash outlays.

Of the amount, $450,000,000 was advanced to the Foreign Exchange Control Board to finance its increase in gold and United States dollars reserves, and $57,000,000 was loaned to the United Kingdom and other countries to finance purchases of Canadian products.

Report Loans

"Then we made loans and investments in Canada to the amount of $89,000,000, $71,000,000 of which were advanced to the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for housing construction and housing loans," said Mr. Abbott.

"The total for all these loans, investments and advances is $596,000,000, and when you deduct that from the $778,000,000, of cash available you get a cash surplus of $182,000,000.

"To this cash surplus were added $224,000,000 resulting from sales of securities from our securities investment account. Of the resulting $406,000,000 we used $372,000,000 to make a net reduction in our funded debt and the remaining $34,000,000 served to increase our cash balances."

Refundable Taxes

The greater part of the reduction in the funded debt resulted from the repaying of approximately $286,000,000 in refundable portions of the personal income taxes of 1943 and 1944, and the refundable portion of the excess profits taxes of 1943.

Mr. Abbott again defended his policy of budgeting for a surplus in times of prosperity.

"I think most Canadians will regard the policy we have followed as one of simple common sense," he said. "Yet some honorable members opposite have insisted that we should have been less prudent, that we should not have attempted to reduce our debt this year, that we should have borrowed to pay off refundable savings or to finance the recovery in our exchange reserves.

"While arguing that taxes should have been drastically lower, they have also been urging higher and higher expenditures on a bewildering variety or projects.

Ridiculous Idea

"I ask myself how anyone can take as serious and reponsible criticisms of this kind. They ask us to believe that the people of Canada would have been better of this past year had taxes been substantially lower, and our debt substantially higher.

"This is not the case. Large tax reductions last year would have come too early, to be of real value to the public as a whole, because the public's expenditure, even without tax reductions, was a bit too large, and buying pressure forced up the cost of living. Lower income taxes in 1948 would have meant a higher cost of living. . . ."

The improvement in consumer supplies, he said, has brought a welcome halt to the increase in the cost of living. The index of living cost had remained almost constant since September. Decreases in good costs had offset slight increases in other items.

No Big Increase

"Some further increases may occur in a few items," he said, "but I think we are unlikely to see any significant increase in the cost of living this year—unless, of course, there are serious crop failures—and it is quite possible that there may be some decline.

"Prediction in a world so full of uncertainties must always be hazardous, but there is a wide measure of agreement both here and abroad that, barring the three major catastrophes of war, crop failures and widespread industrial work stoppages, the post-war price inflation has come to an end. . . ."

Trade Position

Mr. Abbott reviewed Canada's trade position and said the debit balance with the United States has been reduced by $635,000,000, and the credit balance with all other countries has gone down by $400,000,000, leaving a net increase in the Dominion's over-all credit balance of $235,000,000.

He refered to the loss of some European markets because of the shortage of dollars and said 'to the extent that those markets are closed to us, we must develop alternative outlets."

He added:

"While attempting to overcome the immediate difficulties, we must persevere in working out the construction solution thorugh trade agreements on a wide, non-discriminatory basis, and by other measures of a basic character that will assist those countries that buy from us to find dollar markets for their own exports, in order that they may pay for what they would really like to get from us."

Oppose Barter Deals

He reiterated his opposition to barter deals and said the inevitable effect of these bilateral, discriminatory deal was to diminish the total volume of world trade.

Touching on Dominion-Provincial relations, he said the government was not attempting to centralize power in Ottawa through taxation agreements with the provinces.

"The simple fact is that the tax rental agreements promote and encourage provincial autonomy by making the provincial governments better able to carry out the heavy responsibilities assigned to them by our constitution," he said.

"This government yields to no one its desire to protect their rights and see them financially strong and independent. It yields to no one in its desire to co-operate with them in that kind of constructive partnership which will best enable all governments to tackle and solve the complicated problems of today and give the Canadian people the measure of peace, prosperity and happiness they have a right to expect."

Corporation Tax Rapped By Frost

TORONTO, March 23—(CP) — Ontario Provincial Treasurer Frost termed one of the changes in Federal taxes a "clear invasion" of the Provincial tax field.

Mr. Frost welcomed the tax relief given to both individuals and small corporations in the Dominion budget, but he said an increase of three per cent on corporation income over $10,000 was unjustified.

The budget reduced taxes from 30 to 10 per cent on the first $10,000 of corporation earnings and increased it from 30 to 33 per cent on corporation income over $30,000.

He said the increase was contrary to what the Dominion Government promised to the Provinces when it agreed to a 30 per cent tax, leaving the provinces to levy taxes within a range of 10 per cent.

Earnings of Ontario corporations over $10,000 now would be taxed a total of 40 per cent—33 per cent Dominion and seven per cent Provincial.

"It will only be passed on to the consumer eventually," he said. "If this doesn't happen, it will mean the corporations will have less money to plow back into plant extensions.

Council Passes Borrowing Bylaw

BUCKHORN, March 23 (ENS) Harvey Council has passed bylaw No. 618 authorizing the sum of $7,000. to be borrowed from the Bank of Montreal, Bobcaygeon. Mr. Nelson Windover has been appointed Assessor at a salary of $325. for the current year.

On the proposal of councillors Gordon and Junkin, Stanley Barcroft was appointed chairman of Harvey Municipal Telephone System with the approval of the Municipal Board. The Clerk was authorized to admit that part of the township known as Lot 16, Con. 19 which has been annexed to the village of Bobcaygeon from the 1949 tax roll, Bylaw No. 619 was passed appointing fence-viewers and pound-keepers for the current year.

Mr. Walter Harrison was given permission to build cattle crossings on the 13th Con. office of Lot 8 under the supervision of the road superintendent.

Omnibus Bill Has 3rd Reading

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP) — After fighting heavy seas, the Omnibus Controls Bill—legislative basis for rent and other controls—received a tranquil final reading from the Commons late Tuesday.

Previously by a vote of 149 to 55, the Commons upheld Speaker Gaspard Fauteux in his rejection of a Progressive Conservative attempt to throw another barrier in front of the bill.

He ruled out of order an amendment moved by Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton) which would have referred the bill to the House Banking and Commerce Committee to be split up into separate measures.

The controls include those on rents, food prices, timber and steel.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, said it was "unadulterated nonsense" to argue that specific bills could not be brought in to cover the 12 measures now thrown together in the Omnibus bills.

Won't Permit False Pride Stand In Way

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said Tuesday night in his budget speech that the present government "yields to no one in its desire to co-operate with the provinces."

"This government yields to no one in its desire to protect their rights and see them financially strong and independent," he said. "It yields to no one in its desire to co-operate with them in that kind of constructive partnership which will best enable all governments to tackle and solve the complicated problems of today and give to the Canadian people the measure of peace, prosperity and happiness they have a right to expect.

"In this search for co-operation, it will not let pettiness of spirit nor false price nor undue emphasis on purely financial considerations stand in the way of mutual understanding and constructive results. It will constantly seek out ways of tackling mutual problems and developing practical solutions."

Entering Third Year

The taxation agreements with all provinces except Ontario and Quebec now are entering the third of the five fiscal years covered by the agreements.

The agreements, under which the provinces rented the personal income, corporation and inheritance tax fields to the Dominion in return for lump sum annual payment, constributed to the strength and independence of the provincial governments.

"It is a travesty to suggest, as has been done so many times in this house in recent weeks, that they have weakened provincial autonomy or created an undue degree of centralization in the country," he said.

Business-Like Arrangements

The agreements were business-like arrangements, subject to re-negotiation at least a year before their termination date, and they did not "involve the element of charity nor the surrender of one jot or title of constitutional rights."

Some critics of the government had said the Provincial Governments should be paid fiscal-need subsidies rather than the rentals, based on population and the value of the gross national production.

Fiscal-need subsidies would require the provincial governments to "come hat in hand to the Federal Government and plead for assistance on the basis of need rather than of right."

Mr. Abbott recalled that in the early years of conferderation federal subsidies made up as much as 77 per cent of the ordinary revenues of the original provinces. The amounts derived from the tax rentals and federal subsidies now represented only 23 per cent of provincial revenues.

"If such percentages be the test, it is amply clear that we have far less centralization and make much less use of subsidies than the fathers of confederation thought to be necessary and provided for in making Canada," said Mr. Abbott.

be $369,000,000. His advisers said later this was the highest in history and, in a pre-war year, would have eliminated the entire government revenue.

Year of Little Man

And, in his speech, the debonair Minister said this was the year of the little man as against big business:

"The present economic situation is such that it is more appropriate this year to encourage increased expenditures by consumers rather than capital expenditures by business.

"Business profits are already high, on the whole, and a large part of them are being devoted to capital expenditures . . .

"It would not be wise, I believe, to stimulate increased expenditures of this nature this year by general reductions in corporate taxation. On the other hand, there is, as I have already said, some opportunity to satisfy increased expenditures by consumers."

Then, in a possible hint of future cuts in the next budget, he said:

"We cannot complete this year all those improvements in the form and nature of our taxes that have been started in recent years, but we can carry them a long stage forward."

Modify Dollar Saving

Mr. Abbott coupled with the budget address an announcement of a further modification of the government's emergency, dollar-saving import restrictions and the lifting of price ceilings on a number of food prices still kept under control.

The import relaxations cover such things as lumber, paints, varnishes, bread, flour, sugar and imported apples, celery, lettuce, onions, spinach and tomatoes. No price increases are expected, except possibly in the price of bread. The government subsidy used to keep down the price also is being withdrawn.

Immediate Relief

Mr. Abbott's tax relief for the man who is being lopped off the income-tax rolls is immediate. Employers are being authorized to stop pay-cheque deductions immediately. Refunds covering the amounts these now-freed taxpayers have paid in tax since Jan. 1 will be repaid by the government "as soon as possible."

For those who must continue to contribute to the treasury once weekly or monthly, as the case may be, the new low rates will go into effect within the next few weeks and are expected to be in operation before April 30. They will get credit for what they have "over-paid" since Jan. 1 when they file their tax returns next year.

Mr. Abbott, presenting his third budget since he became finance minister in 1946, told the chamber he was estimating 1948-49 revenues at $2,477,500,000 and expenditures at $2,390,000,000. As for the annual revenue-losses from the tax cuts, he listed them as follows:

Personal income tax—increased exemptions and reduced rates $270,000,000; 10-per-cent credit for dividends $12,000,000; excise taxes repealed $79,000,000; excise taxes reduced $19,850,000.

To a minor degree, these losses were offset by a gain in revenue of $12,000,000 through the new corporate tax structure.

Increase Tax

This provided that the tax on the first $10,000 of corporation income will be reduced from 30 to 10 per cent, but that the rate of income totalling more than $10,000 will be increased from 30 to 33 per cent. A credit of 10 per cent of the amount of dividends received will be allowed against the personal income tax of a common shareholder.

In addition, the present three-year carry-forward of corporate losses for tax purposes is being extended to five years.

For mining and oil companies, Mr. Abbott extended through to the end of 1952 the present tax allowances for mining, oil and gas exploration expenses and extended for 1950 the tax credit for deep-test wells. The three-year exemption for new mines is carried forward to include mines coming into production in 1950, 1951 and 1952.

Repeals Two Levies

In small tax fields, Mr. Abbott repealed both the special five-per-cent levy on the manufacturer's selling price of buses and the tax—50 cents a pound—on carbonic acid gas. Taxes on matches, now at varying rates, will be replaced by a straight 10-per-cent levy while minor additions to the sales-tax exemptions include Malt syrup, lactose and off-the-highway vehicles.

In the income-tax field, Mr. Abbott made a number of minor concessions.

For example, the exemption from the special four-per-cent tax on investment income will be increased from $1,800 to $2,400 while the period for which interest on unpaid taxes accrues while the taxpayer is awaiting assessment will be reduced from 20 to 12 months.

Extend Allowance

The special allowance of $500 off the income of blind persons will be extended to those confined to a bed or a wheel-chair and the medical expense allowance will be extended to include the cost of a wheel-chair.

Generally, under the new, lowered income-tax rates, three-quarters of those still liable will pay no more than 15 per cent of their taxable income. In all, the income-tax cuts average 32 per cent.

The budget speech contained no new tariff changes, but Mr. Abbott announced that the tariff concessions granted last year on imports of United Kingdom cotton and rayon piece goods will not be extended beyond July 1 this year. This may mean an increase in the retail price of these goods.

THEY ARE PAINLESS TOO!—Their Kitchener, Ontario, professional associates jestingly call them "Kick 'em" and "Kill 'em,' but their patients say their attentions are as painless as dentists can be. Dr. J. F. Kickham, left, hails from Souris, Man., while Dr. F. G. Kellem, right, is a Winnipeg native who opened an office in Kitchener after serving with the Canadian Army Dental Corps. Unfortunately they are not partners and cannot carry this name business to extremes.

Note: (1) The above figures show the actual income tax liability of a taxpayer with family allowance children, but in order to arrive at his true net position the amount of family allowance received for his children must be offset against his tax liability. For example, assuming he receives the average family alowance payment of $72.00 a child, a taxpayer with an income of $3,000 and two children would find that under present rates his income tax exceeded his family allowance by $86.00, while under the proposed rates his family allowance payments will exceed his income tax liability by $39.00.

(2) In calculating the above taxes it has been assumed that all incomes up to $30,000 are entirely earned incomes, and that incomes of more than $30,000 include earned income of that amount and additional investment income to make up the total. No account has been taken of the new 10% tax credit for dividends.

Soap Prices Drop

EDMONTON, March 23—(CP)—Prices of soap, shortening and lard are tumbling because of a lower market on oils, packing houses reported. Shortening has dropped four cents in Edmonton and is currently selling at 35 cents a pound. Lard has dropped 10 cents a pound to 25 cents. Locally-manufactured soap has gone down six and seven cents a pound, now retailing at 23 cents.

Steel Shortage Will Continue

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP)— In House of Commons Tuesday Trade Minister Howe denied reports there will be adequate steel by the third quarter of the year. He indicated that timber control will go in a few months, and that there should be a lot more nails around this year.

To Harold Timmins (PC-Toronto Parkdale) who said qualified people predicted adequate steel by the third quarter of 1949 Mr. Howe said it was "misleading" to spread such reports. He "certainly would not" say there would be enough steel by then although the controller had taken a number of steps to ease the shortage by aiding production.

One of these, involving "a complicated transaction" with the United States, would boost nail production by 300,000 to 400,000 kegs and end interference with the supply of wire for fences.

Thirteen months and six days are required to hatch turtle eggs.

County Council Prepares 1949 Estimates

With the rate for educational purposes still to be decided upon, Peterborough county is already budgeting to raise $153,543.01 with a mill rate of 14.244. These estimates were struck on Tuesday at a one-day session of the County Council.

It is believed that when an adjustment is completed with the Peterborough Board of Education regarding students attending PCVS from rural municipalities, the rate will be substantially higher than last year's.

The extra levy for educational purposes is believed to be about two mills.

Because of complications caused by the reorganization of secondary schools into the new high school districts, the total county rate could not be decided upon on Tuesday.

The 1948 tax for all purposes amounted to $169,105.97, with a mill rate of 15.683.

A summary of comparative taxes for 1948 and 1949 is as follows: county and suburban roads, $57,695.10 and $62,078.20; bridges, $5,158.69 and $5,546.75; hospital, $15,476.07 and $10,051.99; and general, $65,718.50 and $75,866.07.

For general taxation purposes the various municipalities will be required to raise $75,866.07 on an equalized assessment of $11,093,493.

The share of the municipalities: Asphodel, $7,445.50; Belmont-Methuen, $2,984.47; Burleigh-Anstruther, $1,178.50; Chandos, $873.04; Douro, $7,608.38; Dummer, $6,639.07; Ennismore, $2,369.07; Galway and Cavendish, $816.01; Harvey, $2,241.86; North Monaghan, $3,461.28; Otonabee, $15,560.07; Smith, $16,286.65; Lakefield, $3,735.11; Norwood, $2,404.96; and Havelock, $2,265.55.

The following is a summary of county esimates which have been decided. (The exact expenditure on education has not yet been decided; an adjustment is now being made with the Peterborough Board of Education):

County and suburban roads, $62,078.20—6 mills.

Bridges, $5,546.75—.5 mills.

Hospital debentures, $10,051.99—.906 mills.

General, $75,866.07—6.838 mills.

ROBINS PAY VISIT

Spring, according to the calendar, officially arrived on Monday, but Thomas Nice, 561 Douglas avenue, really felt sure of it when he sighted five robins in a tree on the grounds of his home on Tuesday afternoon.

REMOVED TAX LAST NIGHT

"When the tax went on I took advantage of it and now when it is removed I believe I should pass it on to my customers" Percy Harrison, Parkhill Road restaurant operator said Tuesday night. Shortly after nine o'clock an Examiner man went into Mr. Harrison's restaurant to buy some chocolate bars and found Mr. Harrison selling them at the reduced prices. There was no waiting until today with him. He had been listening to the radio announcements of the budget changes and tax reductions and gave his customers immediate benefit. W.C.

County Names Caretaker Of Forest Area

To look after its interests in the Peterborough County Forest Area, County Council has appointed a caretaker. He is Raymond Rodgers, 26, of Norwood.

Mr. Rodgers was picked from a list of 19 applicants, four of whom were interviewed. He will begin work on May 1.

His duties will include the planting of trees, firewatching, which is particularly important in dry weather, and general upkeep of the 4,600-acre property. The Forest Area is ten miles north of Norwood, mainly in Dummer township.

The county is presently waiting for the deed to the land from the provincial government.

"We have 4,600 acres there and some day it will be a very valuable piece of property," said Reeve Rork Ferguson, commenting on the appointment. "Our investment there is too big to be left to chance."

The house on the property is nearly completed, Mr. Ferguson said. Work is still proceeding in the upstairs part of the dwelling.

This year 20,000 trees are to be planted in the area.

Health League Short Of Funds

With a bank balance of only $25, Peterborough branch of the Health League discussed the possibility of raising funds by holding a contest, at a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday. It was decided to seek the opinion of the 100 branch members before embarking on the project.

Ben Myers reported that the branch's 1948 expenditure was $250 and an equivalent or larger sum would be needed for the current year.

William Swanser offered to guarantee 10 per cent of the $800 objective.

If the branch was going to pay its way from membership only, it would be necessary to enrol 600 members, Mr. Myers said.

Boxing Council Organized As Authority

A result of the public meeting on boxing held a month ago was the formation of the Peterborough Administrative Boxing Council Tuesday night. Ten organizations took part in starting the Council which is to further boxing in Peterborough and district. Jack Dane, Recreational Director, arranged for the meeting in the committee room in the City Buildings.

Mr. Dane told the members of the clubs and organizations that it was the desire of the Ontario Athletic Commission and the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada that a boxing authority be organized in Peterborough. The Administrative Boxing Council now is the boxing authority in this area.

Dr. Ralph Honey, representative from the Board of Education, suggested a temporary chairman and secretary be appointed. Mr. Dane and Ron Menzies, a Peterborian interested in boxing, were appointed chairman and secretary respectively. They will hold office until the Council is on a firm foundation.

Mr. Menzies said just a year ago an athletic club for boxing and wrestling was started by Gus Mastrianni in a hut in the Exhibition Grounds. Mr. Mastrianni hoped he could train enough boys to put on boxing exhibitions. His only aim was to start a club for the boys, Mr. Menzies explained. But the general public, he added, didn't know Mr. Mastrianni well enough. Most people, he said, were afraid of a reputation of the past clubs.

Mr. Mastrianni explained he had acquired the hut down at the Exhibition Grounds; put lights and windows in it and had the doors fixed. He bought equipment, such as a boxing ring, six pairs of gloves. His expenses totalled over $400. He received $41 from the Peterborough fire department. Every bill is paid with the exception of part of the lighting bill, which is $71.

Members of the Council hesitated over assuming the responsibility of taking over the Mastrianni club in the south-end. They felt that it was too far south. A representative body of boys from all parts of the city is desired. Besides they didn't have the funds and most members didn't wish to start the organization "in the red."

Brockville Arrangements

Corporal L. T. Keeler, Ontario Provincial Police, stated that in Brockville the boxing club was organized by the sergeants' mess and a council similar to the Recreation Commission. He explained that "hit and miss" members were no good, that they wanted members for training who attend regularly. The gate receipts from boxing shows were split 50-50 between the two groups. Each show, he said, had six bouts, three youngsters' bouts from the club and three bouts with outsiders.

After discussing to some length the financial and property problems, Dr. Honey moved that Ron Menzies be chairman of a survey committee to investigate property, facilities and clubs interested in boxing in the city.

Those present were Gus Mastrianni; Henry Nokes, Boy Scouts' Association; Ron Menzies; Bertrand Mason, fire department; Jack Dane, Dr. Ralph Honey, Wilfred Jones, Industrial Athletic Association; the Rev. Father J. F. Coughlan, Catholic priests; Corporal L. T. Keele.; Reginald McMillan, Peterborough police; Isadore Black, Service Club Council; and Rip Van Allen, member of the south-end club.

Represent Premier At Gordon Funeral

Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Prime Minister of Canada and national leader of the Liberal party, telegraphed Tuesday to Mr. Arthur H. Lewis, president of the Peterborough Liberal Association, as follows:

"Mr. Walter Harris has just informed me of the death of the Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C. I would be grateful if you would extend my sympathy to our fellow Liberals in Peterborough, and also if you would represent me at the funeral on Friday afternoon."

THE SAMOYEDE SLED DOG finds its origin is Siberia where they have been pets and beasts of burden for 8,000 years. This breed is intelligent, alert, full of action but above all displays a marked affection for all mankind, an unusual trait in 'husky' sled dogs. This pup held by Mrs. Gordon Bailey of Peterborough is five weeks old and has won most hearts at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show in Toronto.

Crown Lays Second Charge Lawyer Protests Action

Murray Hill, taxi cab driver on a $2,000 bail for a charge of reckless driving as the result of a fatal accident in which he was involved, faced a further charge of careless driving connected with the same incident at city police court today. Hearing of the second charge was adjourned to April 4.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw asked T. J. Carley, KC, counsel for the defence, to consent to an adjournment until after settlement of the first charge but he lodged a strong objection to this.

Mr. Carley said he was surprised at the Crown Attorney's practice of holding a charge of reckless driving over the accused's head when he had already been charged with dangerous driving. He would not consent to an adjournment until after judgment was given on the dangerous driving charge. It was not fair to the accused, he said.

The Crown Attorney stated that he appreciated Mr. Carley's remarks, but he had written to the Attorney-General and had received written instructions to proceed with a charge of careless driving.

PRINT ACCEPTED

"Fox Hunters," an outdoor photograph by Nick Nickels, staff photographer of the Examiner, was one of 140 prints selected from 400 prints in the salon at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show, Toronto. Mr. Nickels took the picture on the second fox hunt in Otonabee Township.

CONVENTION THURSDAY

Convention of the Eastern Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen is being held here Thursday in the offices of Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative. The concluding dinner will be at 6.30 p.m. at the Canadian Legion, followed by a dance.

ADJOURNED TO MAY 2

Arbitration of the J. T. O'Connell property in the south end for housing purposes was adjourned Tuesday until May 2, as suggested by His Honor Judge Smoke in respect for the late G. N. Gordon, KC, representing the owner. The May date was the first one available in Judge Smoke's diary.

SPOTTED ROBIN

Suzanne Calladine, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Calladine, 444 Wolsley Street, Jackson Park, and her playmate, Paul Banks, reported Tuesday afternoon that they had seen a robin hopping around on the ground in the backyard of Suzanne's home.

FILM COUNCIL MEETS.

Peterborough Film Council will hold a meeting in the Public Library auditorium Friday at 8 p.m. Two films, Peoples of the USSR, and The Opening of the Canadian Houses of Parliament, will be shown. The film on Russia shows more than 100 nationalities and took two years to film.

PERMIT TO HIGHLANDERS

The local association of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders received permission from the council Monday to hold a Sunday midnight theatre show. The Highlanders are planning a re-union here. Ald. Doug. Miller said they had thought of asking the council for a grant, but decided to raise the money themselves.

ANOTHER CAUSEWAY

Bobcaygeon Chamber of Commerce has invited Peterborough representation at a meeting in the Rockland House, Tuesday, March 29, to discuss a causeway across Pigeon Lake. Ald. P. J. Anglesey volunteered to represent the Council after Ald. Dick Raine said Monday he could not get away that night. It is understood that Wilson Gemmell of the Chamber of Commerce is arranging for a delegation, and some of the Business Men's Association may go.

TWO ALDERMANIC PATIENTS

Ald. A. B. Burrows was a fellow patient of Ald. James Sands at Civic Hospital Monday for an operation. Expressing his sympathy for the two "absent brethren," Mayor Swanston said he hoped the other members would remain in health, "or we might have to hold our meetings at the hospital."

REFUSE FISH AND GAME REQUEST

A request for a grant by Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association on Tuesday was turned down by the County Council. Reeves Robert Tully of Smith and Jeremiah Mahoney of Smith moved that no action be taken as the request was not in by the January session when such money grants are considered.

APPOINT COMMITTEE FOR CAUSEWAY

A committee to work out plans for the official opening of the Chemong Causeway has been appointed by the County Council. Chairman will be Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore, and the other members—Melville Johnson of North Monaghan, Norman Wilson of Burleigh-Anstruther, Ross Harrison of Smith, Warden William Darling and County Engineer J. D. Kean.

RECOMMEND 1950 GRANT

An Otonabee delegation consisting of Charles Nelson and Fred Easson waited on the County Council on Tuesday afternoon to request a grant for the Otonabee Memorial Rink to be built in Keene. Mr. Easson cited the precedent of Lakefield getting a $500 grant for a rink and asked that, commensurate with its assessment, the Otonabee rink also receive a grant. Mr. Nelson is president of the committee in charge. Both the Deputy Reeve and the Reeve of Otonabee spoke in favour of the grant. Council decided to recommend to the 1950 council that a grant be given; no specific amount of money was mentioned.

Firemen Refuse To Aid In Work At Hall

Objections of members of the fire department to helping in the work of interior alterations at the Aylmer St. station were described by Ald. Herbert Young Monday night as "splitting straws altogether too closely".

The firemen and the council have been exchanging views on an agreement since back in November, and both parties believed recently that the final stage of acceptance and signing had been reached. That was the assumption of the council.

Now, it was reported, they refuse to do any part of the present work of the changing the central office into additional apparatus space. There is also some minor question relating to holiday arrangements.

Not Part of Duties

"Are they tired or haven't they enough time?" Ald. Doug Miller, chairman of the fire and light committee, asked.

"They claim it is not part of their duties," said Mayor M. J. Swanston.

"I think we might return the agreement to them and ask them to sign it," Ald. Hugh Waddell suggested.

An opinion was expressed to the effect that if the firemen were now opposing the agreement to which, it was said, they had given general assent, except on one or two secondary matters of detail, it might as well be scrapped, with the effect that relations return to where they were before the agreement was considered.

Return Agreement

A motion by Aldermen Waddell and Dodds directed that the agreement as it has been drafted and considered by the council and representatives of the firemen's union be returned to the firemen with the notation that "this is the agreement the council is now prepared to sign".

A suggestion of Ald. Doug Miller that the signing should be completed before April 1 was included in the motion.

The attitude of the council was that both bodies had been practically in complete agreement, that the various changes including salaries and holidays had been readily and harmoniously resolved, and the council had been expecting that nothing remained but the putting of signatures to paper.

The action of the council was unanimous.

Market Square Sale Discussed

Negotiations for the sale of a large block of the market square appeared this week to have been advanced by the property committee of the council, Ald. Grant Miller presided at a meeting of the committee Monday afternoon at which the terms of a proposed agreement of sale were discussed. It was one of a series of meetings involving the same question.

Frontages on Charlotte and Water Streets are desired by the enquiring principal for a two-storey building, cost of which is expected to be around $225,000. Two smaller stores would be included in the building, with offices upstairs. If agreement is reached, one of the first things to be done would be removal of the public lavatory on Charlotte St.

It is understood that building is contemplated almost at once with the prospect of completion before winter comes. The discussion Monday halted on some details of taxes which were to be referred to the executive of the merchandizing company. The committee expected that a letter of reply would be received before this week ends.

New Budget Well Received On Main Street Everybody Is Highly Pleased

There was only one topic of conversation on the streets and in the homes and offices of Peterborough today — Mr. Abbott's new "prosperity" budget. It contained good news for everybody, with the possible exception of bread eaters, and ranged over pretty well the whole direct tax structure. Announced were decreases in personal income tax and in imposts paid by the small business man, the budget also eliminating or reducing many of the so-called "nuisance taxes," such as those on soft drinks, candy bars, jewelry, long distance telephone calls, railway berths, etc.

Among the first to feel the beneficial effects of the budget locally were purchasers of soft drinks, chocolate bars, jewellery, cosmetics and toilet articles, luggage and hand bags, etc., and chewing gum. On all of these items the war-induced luxury taxes, ranging from 25% to 35%, were either reduced or eliminated entirely. As far as could be learned in a general survey made by the Examiner, price reductions went into effect at the opening of business Wednesday in all or most of these cases.

The only fly in the ointment appeared to be the possibility of an early increase in the price of bread to the consumer, as a direct result of the budget's announcement that the government was withdrawing its 48½ cents per bushel subsidy on wheat destined for home consumption.

Ceiling Removed

The budget also announced removal of price ceilings on flour, bread, butter, sugar, molasses, and certain fruits and vegetables, effective today. A check of several Peterborough grocery stores revealed that the proprietors did not anticipate any early increase in prices of these items as a result, possibly not at all. One grocer told the Examiner that it all depended upon what the wholesaler would decide to do. He said he might know by the end of the week when he made his purchases of new stock. Ceiling prices went off today on tomatoes, lettuce, and celery, another local grocer said.

The return of the nickel bottle of pop, after a lapse of eight years, brought jubilation to the children particularly, but the manufacturers of soft drinks and the retailers also shared in the general satisfaction over the lopping off of the soft drink tax. As far as could be ascertained following a survey of local beverage manufacturers, the price of soft drinks went into effect immediately on the opening of business Wednesday morning. Two firms definitely confirmed this, while others were awaiting word from their head offices in Toronto.

Expect Increase

One beverage manufacturer questioned by the Examiner said he expected a considerable increase in the volume of business as a result of removal of the luxury tax; he said that undoubtedly many had cut down on their purchases in the past few years because of the seven cent price, particularly since the increase in the cost-of-living brought about by post-war conditions. Elimination of the tax will also ease the furrowed brow of the retailer in another sense, namely, that he will no longer have to do all the "paper work" for the government in which the tax had involved him. All he will have to worry about is reporting on the 8% sales tax, which the budget announced will continue in effect.

Our beverage maker said that this industry had been taxed more severely and for a longer period than other lines of business, for instance, the candy trade, and it was a great relief to be free from this restriction at long last. Complaints from customers had been loud and long over the extra two cents on each bottle.

Several retailers of soft drinks called said that they, too, were passing on the decreased price to their customers as of Wednesday morning.

Elimination of Luxury Tax

Equally jubilant, if not more so, were local jewellers, as they had been campaigning for a long time for the elimination of the 25% luxury tax on jewelry and other items, which was announced in the budget. One jeweller said that there had been "terrific public resentment" over the prolonged continuation of the war-imposed luxury tax. Many people had been putting off buying watches, clocks, etc., because they felt they could not afford to pay the extra amount. This jeweller and others called by the Examiner said they fully expected a sizeable increase in volume of

Dog Control By-Law To Be Enforced Now

Commencing Friday, March 25th, the City by-law which makes it an offence for dog owners to permit their pets to run at large will be enforced. Arrangements have been made for the Inspector of the Humane Society to assist fully the City Police in enforcing the by-law. The Inspector will commence his special duties at once. The other section of the by-law requiring all dogs to be tagged will be enforced also. Tags must be obtained at the Police Station.

Believe Taxation Changes Mean Snap Election

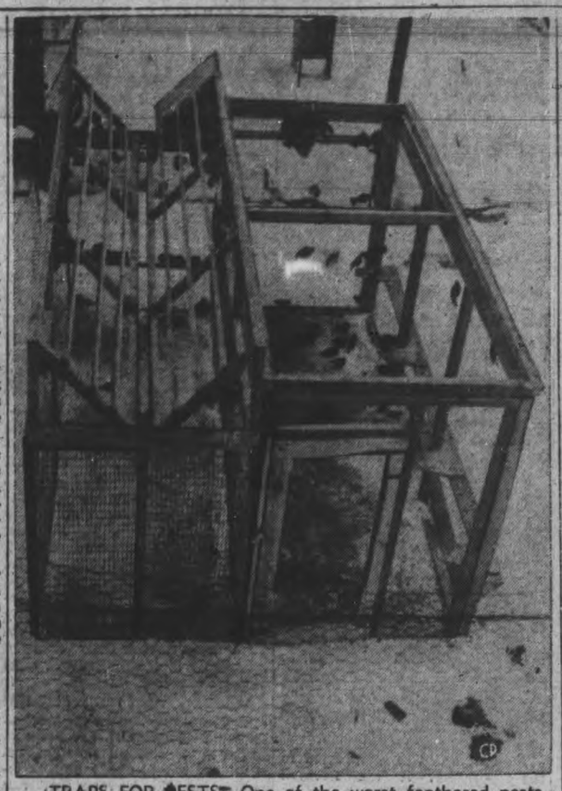
By CLYDE BLACKBURN.

OTTAWA, March 23— (CP). — A budget that leaves more money in the pockets of virtually every Federal tax payer faced Canadians to-day and with it the question of the date of the next general election.

Progressive Conservative circles immediately concluded that the government would follow this real money gift to the people with a snap election.

A "bribery budget" was the blunt description given on the floor of the Commons by J. M. Macdonnell (PC - Muskoka-Ontario), budget critic for the official Opposition who followed the Finance Minister in the debate.

However, the most sage of the Liberal ranks dismissed the idea that the government planned an election this spring. October is the month they believe will be most propitious for the party.



Not Ready Yet

"One good reason against a spring election is that we are not ready," was the answer of a veteral Liberal close to the ministry.

Apart from any partisan considerations the fact remained that 1949 is virtually certain to be a general election year and a budget with such practical relief for the pocket books of the voters could not be looked on as anything but an election budget.

There are numerous practical obstacles in the way of an election in June which about three out of five observers in Ottawa believe possible.

And if it is not possible to have the voting before the end of June expediency dictates that it be put off until October. In July and August great masses of people leave their normal residences for summer resorts. In September great blocks of voters are too busy with the harvest to listen to politicians.

TRAPS FOR PESTS—One of the worst feathered pests in Southern Ontario is the starling. Many devices have been used for the trapping of the birds and two of the latest are shown here. Both are the work of Dr. W. E. Russell of Kitchener. The one at left is a government-designed affair. The birds drop through a central opening running the length and are then trapped. The one on the right is the design of Dr. Russell and works even better than the other. The birds enter a small opening, drop to the ground to eat the bait, and find themselves trapped. More than 1,000 starlings were trapped in one week-end in the device, which costs $15.00.

Need To Extend Overseas Markets Abbott Tells Canadian Producers

OTTAWA, March 23 —(CP)— Canada's reserves of gold and United States dollars have risen to $1,065,000,000 from $998,000,000 at Dec. 31 last and the "dangerously" low level of $502,000,000 touched in December 1947, Finance Minister Abbott told the Commons Tuesday night in his budget speech.

He said this latest total, while "not yet satisfactory," was "much more nearly adequate to safeguard our position against the deficits which could develop without much warning in a trade as large and vulnerable as ours."

Mr. Abbott reviewed Canada's 1948 trade with the world, spoke of the need for maintaining and extending overseas markets, again rejected suggestions that this country enter "barter" trading deals and paid tribute to the United States European recovery program.

In a nutshell, he summarized Canada's trading position for 1948 thus: the debit balance with the United States has been reduced by $635,000,000 while the credit balance with all other countries has gone down by $400,000,000, leaving a net increase in over-all credit balance of $235,000,000.

E. R. P. Some Help

Expressing appreciation for the far-sighted action of the U. S, in promoting the economic recovery of Europe, he said E. R. P. already has overcome some of the difficulties which 18 months ago seemed "insuperable" and is slowly but surely putting back on its feet one of the great productive areas of the world.

"This economic restoration is clearly a prerequisite for a stable and progressive political life in this key area as such it is a matter vital not only to our future economic will-being but to our national safety. To us in Canada, the general and longer-run benefits of European recovery and progress are of prime importance. . . . .

"The future holds many uncertainties, but we can express gratification for the progress that the first year of E. R. P. has witnessed."

Turning to Canada's trade with the U. S., he said the change in this country's reserve position has been "remarkable." The most encouraging feature was the fact Canadian exports to the U. S. had climbed to more than $1,500,000,000 from $1,000,000,000 in 1947.

Better Production

Much of this was due to "improved Canadian ability to produce for, and sell to, the United States market, and of the reductions in tariffs obtained in the Geneva trade agreement."

The exchange problem now was approaching "manageable proportions." While exchange controls would have to be continued, they need "not be so general or severe as to interfere seriously with the free working of our economy."

On the question of future trade, Mr. Abbott said overseas markets in many traditional areas have been declining during the last year under pressure of the dollar shortage and other factors. The government must seek improvement and adjustments which would help to maintain those markets. Where some were closed, alternative outlets must be developed.

Won't Grant Union Any Radio Facilities

BRANTFORD, March 23 (CP) —The United Textile Workers of America (AFL) will not be granted any further use of facilities of a Brantford radio station, it was announced on Tuesday. Ramsey Evans of Hamilton, solicitor for Penman's Ltd., said the company had discontinued its $75,000 libel action against Station CJPC because the station had cancelled all future broadcasts by the union. Mr. Evans said the action is continuing againts two other defendants — Val Bjarnason, Ontario director of the union, and William E. Stewart, international representative.

Will Continue Backlog Policy On Public Works

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP)—The Federal Government probably will continue this year its "backlog" policy of postponing public works where possible, Finance Minister Abbott indicated Tuesday night in the fiscal portion of his budget address.

However, despite the full employment and high construction costs which are jointly responsible for continuation of the policy, Mr. Abbott hinted that it was becoming increasingly more difficult to postpone a number of public works projects.

The "backlog" policy consist of two general principles. The first involves the planning of a number of large-scale projects which could be used to relieve unemployment in depression times. The second consists of postponing all construction work under the control of the government which can be postponed, except in areas where there may be some local unemployment.

Mr. Abbott touched only on the later phase of the plan.

The Finance Minister said the prospective amount of capital expenditure on construction and machinery and equipment, combined with the present export level, "appears likely to be sufficient to sustain incomes and employment this year at around their current levels.

Costs Too High

"Although the supply of construction costs are still abnormally high and there is still evidence of some strain upon the industry."

The government policy, therefore, was to continue the postponement of construction work where possible. However, Mr. Abbott added:

"I must say that it gets progressively more difficult to apply this policy from year to year, as really important requirements for construction of all kinds keeps accumulating—some of them repeatedly deferred since long before the war.

"Other needs, too, are constantly arising—some of them from the necessary expansion in the defence program, others from more constructive developments, such as the need to provide improved airport runways and related equipment to accommodate the bigger and better planes now available.

"We have also given a fairly high priority to construction necessary to permit expansion in our government activities in the field of scientific research and the improvement of techniques and markets for primary production—government operations which we feel are as fruitful as much private work with which they must compete for materials and labor."

BYE-BYE STARLINGS — It's "kaput" for another 200 starlings as John Kunkel of Kitchener dips a basketful of the pests into water after trapping them in new-type traps. The toll of grain and fruit eaten by the starlings is so large they have become one of the major farm pests in Southern Ontario.

Man In Street Pleased With Budget

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP) — "Thanks," said the man to Mr. Abbott, "for taking your hand out of my pockets."

He wasn't exactly the mythical man-in-the-street; he was a corpulent member of the more-or-less affluent parliamentary press gallery.

But his sentiments, by and large, probably echoed those of the little guys across the country on whom the sunshine of Hon. Douglas Abott's budget beamed today with a beneficient candlepower of $369,000,000 a year.

For Mr. Abbott, while keeping an unrelenting grip on the contents of one pocket, did give the little fellow—the worker, the householder, the consumer—all the best of his 1949-50 budget.

He had big slashes in his income tax—or, if he was in the 750,000 who came in under the hoisted umbrella of tax exemptions, no tax at all.

His general living budget seemed due for a cut, too, what with the chopping—or elimination—of taxes on soft drinks, candy, chewing gum, jewelry, cosmetics, luggage, and even his pipes and matches.

On all these articles, the tax eliminations or reductions mounted to $100,000,000 a year, in Mr. Abbott's estimation.

He got no tax cuts on foods—there were cuts on these in the last budget.

He would have to wait a bit to see the effect of budget moves and concurrent action in other directions on his food bill.

For Mr. Abbott handed him two things simultaneously.

He eliminated ceiling prices—effective today—on flour, bread, sugar, molasses, canned fruits and vegetables, and imported apples, celery, lettuce, onions, spinach and tomatoes.

At the same time, he opened the United States border entry more wider to a large number of articles that go on the kitchen table.

Girls Can Have More Jewelry With New Price

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP) — Yes, girls, Mr. Abbott's budgetary sun shines on you also. It means lower prices for ear-rings, purses, lipstick, rouge, powder and a box of chocolates. It offers a weapon against that beast who's been saying the reason he didn't give you jewelry was because it cost too much.

Ear-rings which have been going for a $1.25 a pair, now should be on sale at $1.10—that's what a drop from a 25 to 10- per cent excise tax means.

And if you had an eye on an expensive purse to match Easter outfit, you can afford a second look at the price-tag. If it was $25 Tuesday, you should be able to buy it for around $21 today.

Powder which one sold for $2.50, now should go around $2.20; lipstick, once $1, should sell at 85 cents.

If you like candy, you will be to buy more—for less. A box of chocolates which formerly sold for $1 now should go for around 70 cents—unless the manufacturer decides to increase the price.

If you smoke you won't be able to make cigaret money stretch any further. The sales tax remains on al cigarets although cigaret lighters and ash-trays should show a drop in price.

The government has lifted price ceilings on flour and bread. That could mean a further increase in the 18-cent loaf. Lifting of ceilings on canned fruits and vegetables may cause a change in prices.

Kelly-McMaster

The marriage of Betty May, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Floyd McMaster to Daniel David Kelly, son of Mr. Michael Lawrence Kelly and the late Mrs. Kelly, took place in St. James United Church parsonage Friday, March 18. The Rev. F. W. Craik officiated.

The bride was attired in a powder blue gabardine suit and black accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. Her attendant was Miss Doreen Brethour, also wearing a blue suit with black hat, and her corsage was of yellow roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Duncan Harvey.

After a short honeymoon in Toronto the bride and groom will live in Peterborough.

Background For Easter

BACKGROUNDS for the Easter parade are supplied by these neutral-toned costumes. Brown pin-checked worsted suit (centre) plays up styling details such as triple pockets and flared cuffs with brown taffeta piping. Bow-tied blouse is made of matching brown taffeta. Coat-dress (left) of steel gray woollen sharkskin is a versatile addition to a spring wardrobe. Wheat-toned cashmere velour adds richness to the double-collared coat (right) with its low-pocket silhouette.

Neutral Grays and Beiges United in Easter Parade

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK—(NEA).—Suits, coats and coat-dresses of neutral grays and beiges will be united in the Easter parade to prove their supremacy as background basics for the spring wardrobe.

Aiding and abetting these stylized neutrals in their fashionable contentions are new and richer shades and tone-on-tone color, plus the superlative quality of this spring's woollens and the talents of outstanding designers.

The dressmaker detail of brown taffeta piping is used, for example, by Paul Parnes to accent cavalier cuffs, triple pockets and revers of a suit jacket worn with a brown taffeta bow-tied blouse. What puts this suit into the class of fashionable neutrals is a woollen worsted with a brown pin-checked pattern which fuses colors into a tone-on-tone beige.

Cashmere velour in a wheat tone, as rich in color as sunlit sheaves, has inspired Hattie Carnegie's styling in a spectacular spring coat, called the low-pocket silhouette. With pockets slashed inches lower into its skirt, the double-collared coat is cut to fall in fluid folds that give a paradoxical impression of both slimness and swing.

Steel gray woollen sharkskin with the bluish undertone of a Damascus blade is Philip Mangone's choice of a "neutral" for his new stylized coat-dress. Because of its versatility, this dual fashion will move on to a busy wardrobe life after it proves its supremacy as a basic in the Easter parade.

Mrs. W. J. Gilling Presents Timely Advice to Brides In "Wedding Bells" Revue

Answers to the frenzied questions of brides and brides' mothers are always asking of anyone they feel might "happen" to know were given Tuesday night in "Wedding Bells", sponsored by YWCA Fun Nite Club. Mrs. W. J. Gilling was the charming narrator of correct social procedure to be followed from announcing the engagement to the wedding reception, and also commemtator on 1949 suggestions for principals in formal and informal weddings and on a basic trousseau. She was introduced by Miss Audrey Metheral, chairman, who welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Gilling stressed importance of lists and beforehand organization that leaves the bride and her mother free to arrange little acts of thoughtfulness that make the wedding so completely lovely for everyone. For instance, when the bride and groom are changing for the wedding trip, the groom's parents will never forget the kindness if a bridesmaid is sent to summon them to the room assigned to their son for a farewell in private. It is customary for the bride's parents to do this, since it is their own home. This also leaves the couple free to dash out to a waiting car and friends will have to be quick to get much rice in their clothes.

Invitations

First lists will be guests and there will be four: family friends and personal friends of each. From these the master list is compiled, and Mrs. Gilling warned "Never leave out humble friends to make way for grand acquaintances." When the reception must be small, two lists are made. For those invited to the church the invitation should read "honor of your presence" and no "RSVP" is added; invitations to the reception will ask for "the pleasure of your company". To these the guests should make prompt replies in writing using exactly the same wording in the body of the message. "Promptness will greatly relieve the strain on the bride's mother and she should not be wearied with a long friendly discourse at such a time".

"Write thank-you notes right at the time you receive the gift" Mrs. Gilling suggested. "'Letters reflect the warmth of your feeling and will show a slight formal coldness if written in a bunch several days later." She repeated the importance of keeping cards with the gifts and of keeping a list of gifts and donors.

Choosing Attendants

A pattern is followed in choosing bridal attendants. Matron or maid of honor is the bride's sister. The bridesmaid is the groom's sister or nearest female relative. When unable to fill these positions thus, the bride is free to select intimate friends. The choice of dresses and colors is hers too but unless she is very well-off she is not expected to pay for them, so she should watch the prices as well as colors to suit the girls.

It was unfortunate that young men likely to be groomsmen or ushers were not present to hear their duties defined. They are chosen by the groom who usually asks the bride's brother or nearest male relative to act. He may ask his bride and her mother to choose the flowers, but he will pay for the bride's bouquet and going-away corsage, her mother's corsage, and all boutonnieres worn. He will buy simple gifts for his attendants and ushers, and the bride will do likewise for her attendants.

Duties of Men

The groomsman must see that everyone knows what to do. He should caution the ushers to wear similar suits and ties. They will lead guests to seats, putting bride's friends on the left and groom's on the right, but it is not necessary to offer an arm, though quite correct. Also, they need not lead the bridal party to the altar as is sometimes done. When the bride's mother has entered, late arrivals should slip quietly into back seats.

A slow graceful walk up the aisle, looking neither to right or left should be practised, Mrs. Gilling said. Bridesmaids come first, then flower girls, and the bride on her father's right. The groom stands with his back to the audience and will take one step to the side of his bride when she arrives, but should not turn around.

Fees for the clergymen, organist and caretaker are the groom's responsibility and his best man will place three envelopes with their names on the vestry table during the signing of the register.

Reception Etiquette

A receiving line is formed when the bridal party returns from the photographers. Left to right it should include bride's mother, father, groom's mother, father, bride, groom, matron of honor, groomsman, bridesmaids. "'Do not get involved in conversation with those receiving" Mrs. Gilling said. "'Introductions should be complete and the hostess may then seek them out later.". It is the duty of ushers to circulate and see that guests are acquainted. Too much kissing at a wedding is bad form and should be kept to intimate friends and relatives she advised.

It is proper for the clergyman to propose the health of the bride, and Mrs. Gilling pointed out he should be addressed as "Mr." though it is correct to refer to him as "The Rev." The master of ceremonies will be the bride's father or a genial male relative. He may also call for a toast to the bride's mother but this is not necessary. Telegrams will be opened and read to the gathering by the groomsman.

Lastly, Mrs. Gilling warned the bride to close her eyes when she throws her bouquet. "It is not fair to aim," she said.

Wedding ashions

Experience as a fashion counsellor in England and buyer in Paris enabled Mrs. Gilling to comment expertly on the wedding fashions. First the informal wedding outfit with the bride in a lovely blue dress, dramatically draped at the back, with pink straw fabric hat, flower trimmed and carrying an old fashioned nosegay. The bridesmaid was in pink crepe with matching hat, and the bride's mother wore graceful gown of Dresden blue.

Trousseau clothes were high lighted by a simple blue crepe with dressy cape for afternoon wear. The rounded shoulder line with slight padding was featured. Another wearable dress was of irridescent shantung with the background color picked up in a green milan straw hat trimmed with white roses. A beautiful suit in burgundy was handsomely trimmed with bugle beading and had the pencil slim skirt with the hem turned up like the cuff on a man's trousers. This was something quite new and it looked well. The evening dress selected belied French meaning of trousseau, "little bundle" for it would take quite a large suitcase to handle the full gathered tiers that were the skirt back. Made up in black taffeta, it had a slim straight front, square neckline and puffed sleeves.

The bride was lovely in white for the formal wedding picture and her bridesmaid in a dress of rose, identically styled. A sheer yoke of nylon was inset at the neckline and folds of material brought across the shoulders and to a point at the front. The skirt was gathered into puffs at the hipline. The bride's mother chose deep rose crepe with spidery golden embroidery.

Mrs. Gilling interjected some wedding superstititons current in England. "You will always find a bit of blue sewn into a bridal dress," she said. "Each seamstress working on it sews in a hair from her head so she may share in the bride's good luck. The bride herself will never try on her headdress before the wedding."

Serve Refreshments

An audience, fascinated with Mrs. Gilling's remarks and commentary, enjoyed the program in the YW recreation room. At conclusion they were served refreshments at a mock wedding reception in the Green Room. A three-tier wedding cake on the table made it look authentic.

Mrs. Stewart Wright poured coffee and the models, Mrs. R. L. Cochrane, Mrs. Edward Stephenson, Misses Helen Watson, Margaret Elson, Mrs. E. Davidson, Mrs. H. Watson and members of the Fun Nite group served.

Mrs. F. W. Sullivan was pianist for the fashion revue.

Of Interest to Women

At the Y.M.

Sunday afternoon at the YMCA is never dull when the "Friendship Forum" meets for the weekly banquet. In seven weeks the number of attendants has doubled with the total for March 27 being 40. It is the spirit of friendship and comradeship that makes the meeting so popular, especially to those away from home. Misses Jacqueline Ballantyne and Kay Cameron prepared an excellent lunch on Sunday. Dave Graham played piano for community singing, and a new member Harry Blanchard, played several numbers. The meeting was adjourned in time to leave for evening church services.

Social Situations

SITUATION: Your husband telephones you that he would like to bring a man from out of town home to dinner that evening.

WRONG WAY: Tell him it is impossible, since you haven't planned a company meal.

RIGHT WAY: If you can possibly manage have the guest for dinner, since if you have plenty of food he will not be critical of the fact that it isn't a fancy meal. (Remember, the unexpected guest realizes that he is unexpected and is usually delighted to take pot luck.)

"TIMMY," little crippled boy of Charles Dicken's heart warming story comes to life. A living symbol of the good work done by Easter Seals throughout Ontario, this eleven year old Ottawa boy was unable to walk two years ago. Previously he spent two years in bed. Proper treatment and good care has taught him to walk with the aid of braces. Today, he pensively looks forward to the time when he can once more walk without artificial aid. Easter seals are being sold in Peterborough by the Rotary Club, and 2,000 envelopes have been mailed to citizens in the city and county. The money raised by this appeal throughout the province is used to support three special camps, a staff of trained nurses and travelling clinics. There are an estimated 11,000 boy and girl "Timmys" in Ontario.

DOROTHY DIX

Hereditary Craving Makes Young Girls Love Pirates

DEAR MISS DIX: Why is it that so many young girls are love pirates who seek to take married men away from their wives, when there are so many attractive single men who are to be had for the taking?

A WIFE

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: Well, the first and perhaps the most impelling, motive that drives a girl into having an affair with a married man is the hereditary craving of her sex for forbidden fruit. It is precisely the same cosmic urge that made Eve eat the apple, even though she knew that she was liable to lose her perfectly good home if she did it and bring disaster down upon her head.

The married man is another woman's property and that fact alone makes him more desirable than a single man. It is because the married man represents adventure and the bright face of danger that he has such an allure for so many girls.

Other girls make a speciality of flirting with married men because they think it shows how sophisticated and worldly wise they are. Why a girl should think it shows that she is a super-siren to be able to attract a married man is past understanding because as a matter of fact, he is the easiest thing in the world. He is grateful and flattered that any young girl will notice him. Besides, he knows he is safe. He can always hide behind his wife's skirts and have an attack of conscience when he gets tired of the girl and wants to get rid of her.

Morbid Pleasure

Then there are the girls who flirt with married men because there is something cruel in their natures that makes them enjoy seeing another woman suffer. They get a morbid pleasure out of torturing some wife with jealousy.

Of course, there are some girls who really do fall in love with married men, which is a tragedy; but the great majority of girls who pursue married men have not the justification of the grand passion for their conduct.

Flirting with married men is a favorite sport with many girls, but it is a hazardous diversion, and those who indulge in it generally land behind the eight ball.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been going with a boy for two years and we plan to be married very soon. Now this is my problem: He simply cannot carry on a conversation. He just sits and kisses, and frankly I am fed up on petting. What is your advice?

ON THE FENCE

ANSWER: Well, my child, matrimony is a sure cure for petting, and if the only parlor trick your young man possesses is kissing, he is due to make a mighty dull husband. In picking out a husband, about the most important thing to look for is his ability to entertain you, to keep you amused and interested and feeling that you could listen to him forever without getting tired of him.

The greatest menace to domestic life is boredom. The reason that most husbands and wives who go astray wander from their own firesides is because they were simply bored stiff by the women and men to whom they were married. Don't marry a man who can only entertain you by kissing you.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young married woman with three children. A friend of mine who is a traveling salesman, comes through my town about once a week and we have lunch together, and sometimes take in a movie.

I admire him and he admires me, but aside from that there is nothing to it. Yet people have started to gossip about us. I have made up my mind to do as I please and I don't care what folks say. What do you think about it?

MRS. H. A

ANSWER: No woman in the world can snap her fingers in Mrs. Grundy's face and get away with it. Don't think it is courageous of you to defy the gossips It is sheer idiocy. Your reputation is in the mouths of your neighbors, and what they say will not only disgrace you, but will bring shame on your husband and children.

It isn't enough to be good. You have to act and look good; then you won't care what people say about you. And don't resent the gossips. You can't expect other people to be more careful of your good name than you are yourself.

New Budget

business as soon as the public realized the full implications of the good news contained in the budget. They stated that they planned to pass on the reduction to their customers immediately.

H. G. Cranford, vice-president of the Western Clock Company, expressed pleasure over the elimination of the 25% luxury tax on jewelry. He said that it would apply to watches, wall clocks, and alarm clocks valued at over $10, which his company manufactures here. Originally the tax had applied to all alarm clocks made by the company, but strong representations made to the government by the industry as a whole resulted in last year's budget cutting out the tax on alarm clocks valued at less than $10.00.

Mr. Cranford expressed disappointment that there still remained a 10% tax at the manufacturer's level. He did not think this was entirely fair when the majority of watches made by his company were "working men's watches." He felt that the tax should have been removed entirely, but was pleased that the government had gone a long step in that direction by removing the 25% tax formerly imposed at the retail level. Continuation of the 10% tax meant that the manufacturer was still saddled with the extra accounting work involved, whereas the retailer was now freed of this altogether.

Not quite so happy were bakers, for the budget announced the decision of the government to stop paying the wheat farmers the 46½ cents per bushel subsidy on wheat used for domestic consumption, which has been in effect for some years. The prospect loomed immediately that the retail price of bread might go up from 1 to 2 cents per loaf.

Elimination of the subsidy means, said an official of the Quaker Oats Company, Peterborough, that the millers will now have to pay the farmers an extra 46½ cents per bushel for the wheat which they buy from them. This means that the millers will have to charge the bakers more for their flour, as if they did not they would have to sell flour on the domestic market at less than cost.

One baker questioned said that whether or not there would be an increase in retail bread prices would depend on the price of flour.

Acquittal Ordered On Second Charge

Roy C. Sanderson of Sandy's Cigar Store, Hunter St. W., was acquitted on a charge of inducing persons to stake money on the result of punch boards by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. at city police court today. This was the second charge against Sanderson to be dismissed. He was acquitted on Feb. 17 of offering punch boards for sale for lottery purposes.

After the first acquittal, T. J. Carley, K.C., entered a plea of 'autrefois acquit,' which was admitted by the magistrate today.

Mr. Carley had maintained that Sanderson was already innocent of the second charge by reason of his previous acquittal. The magistrate agreed that the essentials of the two charges were the same.

The charge of inducement was laid against Sanderson and his employee, John Buller, jointly. Buller is to appear in police court on April 4.

WILD GEESE SEEN

Outriders of returning wild fowl, a few geese were reported Tuesday flying over sections of the Kawartha district. They are definite messengers of spring, and will likely be followed in a few days by numerous flights.

CCF NOMINATION BEING HELD

Maurice Ketcheson and J. H. Miles, Peterborough CCF Association, have decided to stand for nomination as Federal candidates for Peterborough West riding. They were proposed as prospective candidates at a recent meeting and on March 24th at the Knights of Columbus Hall one of the above contestants will be chosen. The Association is enthusiastically preparing for a large membership turnout.

Concert Series Executive Named

Mrs. W. B. Brown was elected president of the Peterborough Concert Associatioon at a meeting on Tuesday evening in council room of the Chamber of Commerce. Other executives elected were Norman Finnie, vice-president, Cecil Searles, secretary and Wilson Gemmell, treasurer.

Four new directors, chosen for the coming season, were Dr. Russell Morgan, John Hooper, Mrs. G. Wilson Craw and Christopher Gledhill. Four former directors re-elected to the Board for another three year term were Mrs. Agnes Logan Green, Miss Musa Cox, Mrs. Walter Perry and Robertson Davies.

Past-president John Bradshaw presided and besides the election of officers plans for a membership drive for next year's concert was reviewed.

Turn Away Hundreds Of Volunteers Swarming To Join Foreign Legion

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, March 23 —(AP)—Despite serious losses in the Indo-China fighting, French army authorities are turning away hundreds of volunteers for the romantic Foreign Legion.

Most of the volunteers are German, as are some 6,000 of the unit's 20,000 total strength.

"We can take our pick," said the spokesman, a former officer of the Legion who would give all the typewriters in the ministry to get back. "So we enlist only the best — experienced profesionals, technicians and whatever specialists we happen to need."

The professional standards of the Legion have always inspired respect in military-minded Germany. The Legion would include even more Germans, except that the French authorities have decided that it ought not to have more than 30 per cent of any one nationality.

After the Germans, Spaniards are the most numerous in the Legion. Despite its name, the Foreign Legion is not barred to Frenchmen. Contrary to legend, there is only a handful of British and Americans.

Russians Mainstay

Before the Second World War, Czarist Russians were a mainstay of the Legion. Those who were in have been permitted to stay, but no new Russians, either white or red, are taken now.

About half the Legion's strength is in North Africa, its traditional stamping - ground. Some of the old color disappeared after the war, when the two cavalry regiments were mechanized. Only one "mounted company," which comes under the head of infantry, remains.

Now the Foreign Legion gets the tough assignments in Indo-China where Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh has been fighting the French for two years. This kind of fighting is the Legion's meat, but its accomplishments are still military secrets.

Some 200 to 300 recruits are accepted monthly, on the average.

The old rule still goes—the new Legionnaire can call himself whatever he pleases and no questions asked. The Legion command, however, takes fingerprints and measurements and makes an investigation—to be sure that neither war criminals nor any other kind of criminal uses the Legion as a hideout.

Grisly Mystery Ends

WHALEBONE CORNER, Essex, England, March 23—(AP)—A grisly mystery came to light Tuesday with the discovery of a skeleton in the deserted cottage of an elderly retired actress who disappeared 10 years ago. Police who broke into the littered three-room cottage of Miss Ada Constance Kent found a well-clothed skeleton of a woman.

Denounce Pact

DENVER, Colo., March 23—(AP)—The North Atlantic Pact was denounced Tuesday as "directly contrary to American precedent and history" by the Board of Directors of the National Farmers Union.

Adults And Children At St. Andrew's Tea

NORWOOD, March 23—(ENS)—There was a large number of adults and children at the St. Andrew's Presbyterian supper on Wednesday in the Sunday School room.

White cloths covered the long tables, centred with shamrocks and as an added Irish touch, small green baskets were placed some distance apart filled with small 'praties'. After supper the Rev. R. D. Duncanson was master of cermonies for contest and entertainment.

BNA Bill Authorized

LONDON, March 23—(Reuters)—The House of Lords Tuesday gave third reading to the British North America Bill which authorizes the agreement between Canada and Newfoundland for union. As it has already been through the House of Commons, the bill now requires only the formal Royal assent to become law.

Costly Cheque

TORONTO, March 23—(CP)—Norman Savill said Tuesday he received a compulsory savings cheque for four cents which cost the government 12 cents to send by registered letter.

Council Angry At Magazine Story

TORONTO, March 23 (CP). —A magazine article which described Toronto women as well-fed, energetic, "sleek, ravishing and sexy" drew protests Tuesday from Toronto's City Council.

Controllers Leslie Saunders and David Balfour led the outcry, with Mr. Saunders labelling the Mayfair Magazine article by Allan Anderson, free-lance writer and broadcaster, "an attack on the good name of Toronto."

Interviewed later, Mr. Anderson said his discussion of Toronto women added up to a conclusion that they are more beautiful and better dressed than women elsewhere in Canada

"I can only conclude from the remarks made by City Council members that they think Toronto women are not beautiful and well-dressed."

Margarine Color Changed To Ivory Shade, Will Regulate Moisture

Goodfellow Declares Ottawa Government Should Have Controlled It; Quality Regulations Ignored Until Now

TORONTO, March 24—(CP).—A bill limiting the amount of yellow coloring in margarine was introduced Wednesday in the Ontario Legislature. The bill, introduced by Welfare Minister Goodfellow, restricts yellow or yellow-and-red coloring to 1.6 degrees. Mr. Goodfellow said butter coloring varied from 3 to 5 degrees.

The new ivory coloring of margarine would distinguish the substitute from butter "yet it does not produce a product which would be distasteful to the consumer in appearance," said Mr. Goodfellow.

The bill provides that every public eating place serving margarine shall advertise this fact. Margarine may not be mixed with butter for sale or use in public restaurants.

Every package of margarine must be labelled as such. The package must also state that it is a substitute for butter.

Licences will be issued to manufacturers and standards imposed to regulate quality and other matters such as the percentage of moisture.

Mr. Goodfellow said some margarine sold recently in Ontario contained as much as 30 per cent moisture.

"This government agrees with the brief presented by the Federation of Agriculture—that the Federal Government should have taken steps to provide Dominion-wide uniform regulations to control the manufacture and sale of this product," Mr. Goodfellow said.

Giving the background to the legislation, Mr. Goodfellow recalled the Supreme Court's decision, declaring as ultra vires the federal act prohibiting the sale and manufacture of margarine in Canada.

"The ruling was handed down at an unfortunate time, since no provincial government was in session and therefore the necessary regulations could not be provided," Mr. Goodfellow said. "As a result the product was thrown on the market uncontrolled. Perhaps no food product was ever made available to the public in such a manner by permission of the federal government without steps being taken under the Pure Food Act to regulate the quality and constituent parts of the product."

However, since the federal government has ignored its responsibility to the consumers and to the producers of dairy products, the province felt it should not evade its obligations in the matter and for that reason was taking the steps as outlined, Mr. Goodfellow concluded.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 24 — (CP)—British Columbians will get margarine of an ivory shade too, under legislation introduced in the legislature Wednesday by Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam.

Find Wreckage Of Missing Buffalo Plane

HENDERSON, NY, March 24—(CP)—The wreckage of a plane which disappeared March 16 on a flight from Buffalo to Montreal was found on the east shore of Lake Ontario, about seven miles south of Henderson, today.

It was not known immediately whether the two occupants of the light plane had been killed.

The two men on the flight were Harry C. Barenbrugge, 45, of Elmira, NY, and Stuart N. Johnson, 41, of Mansfield, Pa.

The finding of parts of the wreckage was reported by Sheriff Brayton E. Peck. Peck said the parts, which included a wheel and axle, apparently were washed ashore from the lake.

The Sheriff said the serial number of the plane also was found and that it tallied with the number of the missing four-passenger Stinson.

Air Force rescue units had been searching for the plane since it was reported missing. Flights were interrupted yesterday by rain but were resumed today.

Charge US Ports Bar CSU Crews

TORONTO, March 24—(CP) — Harry Davis, President of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), said Wednesday night that Canadian steamship companies with ships calling at United States ports have been notified that they will be required to place crew lists with the US Immigration Department every two weeks.

Davis, in a statement, said "restrictions" were being placed on Canadians sailing Canadian ships to US ports.

At Buffalo, Arthur J. Karnuth, U. S. Immigration Director, denied that restrictions have been placed on Canadian seamen.

Orders Miners Back

PITTSBURGH, March 24 (AP) —John L. Lewis today ordered his 463,000 idle coal miners to return to work Monday. The order was directed to miners east of the Mississippi who have been idle since March 14 in a work stoppage Lewis said was meant as a memorial to dead and injured workers. Lewis said it also would protest appointment of Dr. James Boyd as head of the United States Bureau of Mines.

Abolish Rationing

STOCKHOLM, March 24 — (Reuters)—Rationing in Swedish restaurants will be abolished as of today. Coupons have been required for butter and meat dishes.

DAVID MAHOOD, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrie Mahood, 539 King George St., who was killed when his body was crushed under a city grader shortly after school Wednesday afternoon.

Boy, 7, Crushed Beneath 10-Ton Grader

David Mahood, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrie Mahood, 539 King George St., was killed 100 yards from his home Wednesday afternoon. Unknown to Ambrose Clancy 69 Hunter St. driver of a city grader, he jumped onto the back of the vehicle for a joy ride. When the driver reversed the boy fell onto the road and the full length of the grader, weighing approximately 10 tons, passed over him. He was killed instantly.

The accident occurred when the lad and his seven-year-old friend Herbert, Tripp, were returning home after going to a nearby store to buy candy. David and Herbert had found a penny while on their way home from school. They each returned to their homes first and then went to the store for the candy.

When they had nearly reached the Mahood home, David jumped onto the garder but could not be seen by the driver.

It was not until Mr. Clancy heard Herbert Tripp screaming that he realised something was wrong. He then saw David's body lying in the road in front of the vehicle.

David, a pupil at Confederation School, was the eldest of three children. His brother is five year old Glen and he has a sister aged one. Only last week he celebrated his seventh birthday.

Mr. Mahood, who served with the Royal Canadian Engineers during the war, is a plaster contractor. He was working in another part of the city when the accident occurred. Mrs. Mahood was in the house. An inquest will be held.

The funeral will be from the Kaye Funeral Home at 2 p.m. on Friday, the Rev. E. C. Moore, St. George's Anglican Church officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

ALBION, Idaho, March 24 (AP) —A blizzard as bad as any during the winter isolated this southern Idaho town today. Drifts three to four feet deep blocked the road from Albion to Declo. Wind closed the road as fast as it was cleared.

Ask Broader Social Security Plan

Low-Rental Housing Program Urged In Submission Of TLC

OTTAWA, March 24 (CP) — All-embracing social security measures on a contributory basis, along with resumption of price controls, lower taxes and a variety of other legislation, were sought today by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in its annual legislative submission to the Federal cabinet.

Canada's biggest Labor Congress, speaking for about 400,000 members, presented these additional proposals:

1. Establishment of a low-rental housing program on a national basis with Federal aid.
2. Extension of the scope of the Federal Labor code adopted last year.
3. Establishment of the 40-hour work week for employees in industries under Dominion Labor Department jurisdiction.
4. A "sound" immigration policy under the Department of Labor, which would balance immigration with Canada's ability to absorb new settlers. A government-Labor-Management Immigration Commission would administer immigration matters.
5. Enactment of a national bill of rights to guarantee citizens' freedoms.

Help For Shipbuilding

6. Aid for Canadian shipbuilding and shipping and amendment of the Canada Shipping Act —termed "a relic of the dark ages"—to bring its labor sections into line with Canadian practices.
7. A coastguard service for both the coasts and the lakes.
8. Establishment of new steel production mills to overcome the shortage of this product.
9. Maintenance of the CBC as a government-owned utility with full control of licences for the operation of all Canadian broadcasting stations.
10. Extension of the voting franchise to all over 18.

The Congress submission, presented by a group of its officers headed by President Percy Bengough, declared "the fear of unemployment and illness has again reared its ugly head among our people." Old age pensioners lived in a state of penury. Even under the present relatively high state of employment, many thousands of workers had exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits and were in dire need.

Social Security

In its broad social security program, which would be on a contributory basis for all citizens, the Congress proposed:

1. A national health insurance act embodying accident and hospitalization benefits and medical, dental and surgical benefits.
2. Substantially large payments for old-age and blind pensioners, without the means test.
3. Inclusion of mothers' and widows' allowances, now paid provincially, and increases in these payments.
4. Extension of the coverage of unemployment insurance to all workers and the increasing of

Use Taxi For Getaway From Toronto Holdups

TORONTO, March 24 (CP) — A gang of shopbreakers used a taxi as a getaway car early today after stealing hundreds of dollars worth of cigarets and cash from two midtown cigar stores. An attempt to rob a third store within less than an hour was foiled when occupants of an upstairs apartment called police.

An investigating officer said the gang "used a taxi cab to drive from one store to another and used the driver as a lookout while they carried out the robberies."

Police said the gang obtained approximately $300 worth of cigarets and more than $30 from the two stores.

Police said they arrested two suspects at gunpoint in a stolen car and found crowbars, pinch bars and a large quantity of cigarets. Murray Lawrence, 21, and Dennis Lane, 23, were charged with car theft and possession of burglar tools. Further charges would be laid later today, police said.

RAPID CONSTRUCTION—A flash fire on March 17 destroyed the home and all the possessions of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brunet of Belleville. They had no insurance. On March 19 at 8:00 a.m. friends and neighbors started to build the Brunets a new house. By 4:00 p.m. the following day, the home was complete even to wiring and paint and sufficient furniture had been donated to furnish it. This photo shows the building before the exterior covering had been applied. The house is 12 feet wide, 30 feet long, and 15 feet high.

$2,000 Pay Cut Continued For Cabinet

TORONTO, March 23 (CP) — Ontario Cabinet Ministers will continue to take a $2,000 pay-cut to avoid what Provincial Treasurer described as having "the name of this government dragged through the political mud."

Mr. Frost told the Legislature Wednesday that because Opposition members had made "very derogatory references" to the government's intention to restore the $10,000 cabinet ministers' salaries, voluntarily reduced to $8,000 by the government of former Liberal Premier Mitchell Hepburn, the ministers would continue to receive the lower salary.

In an uproarious debate, led by Liberal Leader Farquhar Oliver, the government's action was described as "an ignominious retreat."

The debate became too much for T. L. Patrick (PC-North Middlesex), chairman of the committee of the whole house, when government members tried to shout down the loud-voiced Mr. Oliver. Mr. Patrick was unable to maintain order.

E. A. MacLeod (Lab-Prog.-Toronto Bellwoods) described Mr. Frost's explanation of the government's position as "a pitiful recitation of self-righteousness."

Mr. Frost told the House the work of ministers had increased and income taxes were "exceedingly heavy." Service on the executive council should not be limited to those who could afford to serve.

In view of criticism, cabinet members "unanimously urged the Premier to disregard the needs of the situation" and "expressed the desire to reduce voluntarily their statutory salary by $2,000."

Liquor Licence Holiday Asked

TORONTO, March 24 (CP) — The Ontario Temperance Federation, in a brief presented to the Liquor Licence Board of Ontario today, recommended that a holiday be declared on the issuance of further licences until the board is satisfied "all available means of control are adequately functioning."

The 1,600-word brief was presented by a delegation comprised of Rev. M. J. Aiken of Peterborough, Federation president; and Rev. C. S. Despard and Rev. Albert Johnson of Toronto, executive members. It was the Federation's first appearance before the board.

The brief recommended that representations be made to the provincial government immediately for financial assistance to provide a force of inspectors "which shall ... offer reasonable supervision and policing of all licenced premises."

It also recommended that the board undertake an immediate survey of conditions surrounding the sale of liquor to minors, urging that maximum penalties be imposed in all cases of conviction and that court penalties be supplemented by cancellation of licence.

Commission Learns How To Tell Police Cars Apart

BELLEVILLE, March 24—(CP).—The Mackay commission today was told how to tell Provincial Police cars apart. The all-white cars with a black hood, testified Cpl. Sam Ervine, were used for highway patrol work. The black and white cars — called "Holsteins" by provincial officers—were used for criminal investigation work. Plain cars of any color were driven by staff officers.

It all started as Cpl. Ervine and Cons. J. E. Keays kept up a running battle before the commission which is investigating Cons. Keays' allegations of misconduct by Crown and police officers.

Sarcastic questions and equally-sarcastic answers flew back and forth as Cons. Keays questioned Cpl. Ervine about a traffic prosecution in which the constable claims there was a miscarriage of justice.

Cpl. Ervine, a grey haired, Irish-born veteran police officer, stood with his arms folded on his chest.

Cons. Keays, dark haired and 44, strode back and forth before the bench, his voice occasionally rising to a near shout.

Needs Notes

Once Cons. Keays grabbed a report from the table in front of the corporal and demanded that he answer the questions without referring to the report.

"I must see my notes to refresh my memory," Cpl. Ervine said.

Decline To Lay Charge For Baby Snatcher, 2

LONDON, March 24—(CP)—Police declined to lay a "baby snatching" charge against a culprit—aged two.

Passers-by Wednesday discovered the boy about to shove seven-weeks-old Andrew Rolands down a coal hole. The 11-pound baby had already been brushed about the head with a slate, lifted from his carriage and the coal hole's iron cover raised for dropping him six feet to the basement beneath.

Police said this was the fourth "baby snatching" attempt by the two-year-old but they can't do anything about it until he is eight, and eligible to appear in juvenile court.

River Breaks Through Levee

BATON ROUGE, La., March 24 —(AP)—The Mississippi River broke through a levee today and sent residents fleeing from their homes.

The break occurred about 4:10 a.m., about three miles north of Port Allen, across the river from Baton Rouge.

Within three hours the water had moved three miles in from the river. One highway was covered to a depth of three feet.

Sheriff's deputies and volunteers patrolled the roads, urging residents to leave their houses.

Garageman Tied Bandits Loot

BRANTFORD, March 24—(CP) Gas station attendant Art Vickers last night was bound hand and foot by two bandits and robbed of $130 from the station's cash register.

Just before closing time at Kirby's service station, two men asked permission to use the washroom, Vickers told police. When they emerged, one stood near the entrance and pulled a black revolver from his pocket.

They forced Vickers into the grease-pit section of the station and bound him with cord and tape. The attendant struggled for half an hour after the men fled before he was able to get free.

The bandits also took his wallet containing personal papers and $10. He did not know whether the duo escaped on foot or in a car.

This morning, Vickers thumbed through page after page of police photos of known holdup men and other criminals but was unable to identify any as the two who robbed him.

UEW Leader Fired For Editorial

Declares OFL Support Of Atlantic Pact Plain War-Mongering

OTTAWA, March 24—(CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor sharply disciplined one of its left-wing union affiliates today and immediately began consideration of even stiffer measures against a second.

The CCL's Executive Council—its nation-wide policy-making body—suspended from the Council the Canadian Director of the United Electrical Workers Union, Clarence S. Jackson of Toronto.

Then it promptly began dealing with a recommendation from the CCL leadership that the Leftist International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers be suspended altogether from the Congress for defiance of a CCL order that it get out of organizing fields in Ontario.

Jackson was put off the Council, which consists of the Canadian heads of CCL unions, for an attack on leaders of the Ontario Federation of Labor in the UEW News, the official publication of that union.

Charge War-mongering

The editorial, attacking the Federation chiefly because of its support of the Atlantic Treaty, accused the OFL leaders of "union-splitting," "war-mongering" and "using Hitler-like tactics."

When the CCL gathered today to consider its annual legislative proposals to the Dominion Government, the Ontario Federation brought charges against the union.

In its charge, the Federation accused the UEW with a "deliberate attempt to destroy" it.

Later, Jackson said in an interview that the Council had "stepped outside democratic procedure" because it condemned his union without a hearing on the merits of the disputed editorial.

The UEW chief said he had been allowed only to discuss the motion for his suspension, and not the editorial itself.

Train Derailed Inside Toronto

TORONTO, March 24—(CP)—Five freight cars loaded with new automobiles were derailed today on Canadian National Railways tracks north of the Prince Edward viaduct and damage was expected to be heavy.

Ten new motor trucks on the southbound freight, slated for delivery to Winnipeg and Vancouver, were badly damaged.

Actual cause of the mishap was not determined but is believed the train went through an open switch. Eyewitnesses said one car turned over while another jackknifed against a third. The heavy impact caused the cars to topple over.

A CNR official said an emergency work crew is working to clear the tracks and no delay to northbound trains was expected.

The train was engineered by A. R. Barrie of Toronto.

Opposition Blocks West German State

Communist Influence Now Stronger; France Righting Proposal

By WES GALLAGHER

FRANKFURT, March 24—(AP) —The plan to create a Western German state has bumped into increasingly powerful opposition.

Informed observers now give the idea no better than a 50-50 chance of being worked out.

The Communists have been opposed right along to any Western German government. It would leave out their eastern zone of Germany and minimize Communist influence in the west. In this opposition they have found some strange allies.

This opposition includes the strong Socialist party in Western Germany, the French military government and a new German Nationalist movement which aims at a united Germany.

The outcome of the dispute is important.

If the present German constitutional assembly at Bonn fails to adopt a constitution for Western Germany, American and British policy, which calls for setting up such a state, must under go a complete change.

The Bonn assembly early this month worked out its ideas of a West German constitution and offered it to the military governors of the United States, Britain and France. The governors recommended changes which would give less power to the proposed federal government; more power to the states.

The German Socialists, who hold 27 of the 65 votes in the assembly, are insistent on a strong central government with state planning.

The assembly can't adopt a constitution without the Socialists since a two-thirds vote is needed.

France Bars Progress

It is an open secret that French representatives in Germany have worked continuously at blocking the proposed western state. Twice invaded by German armies in recent years, France fears possible revival of a strong Germany.

According to one report, the French consul-general at Munich told German politicians France would support only the entry of individual German states into the western union defence federation. The inference was if the Western Germans banded together they would never get into the European family of nations.

Thus there is a stalemate between the demands of the Socialists for a strong central government and the French opposition to creation of such a federation.

What may happen, one group thinks, is creation of the proposed western state will be stalled while all parties wait for something to happen.

Chief Badly Hurt Fighting Church Blaze

Others Injured As $250,000 Fire Destroys Montreal Church

MONTREAL, March 24.—(CP).—District Fire Chief Patrick Roche was seriously injured and a number of other firemen suffered minor injuries early today in a three-alarm $250,000 blaze which gutted Centenary United church in subruban Point St. Charles early today.

Hospital authorities said that Roche was suffering from "severe internal injuries." He was crushed when the first of two smoke explosions which rocked the structure, toppled a heavy stained glass window and a portion of the stone wall on to him.

Fernando Sartori, 27, a fireman, also was in hospital from injuries received when he was thrown from a ladder 30 feet in the air by the blast.

The church, located at the corner of Charron and Wellington Sts., was built 57 years ago. Hundreds of spectators lined the streets in the darkness to view the fire, believed to have started in the cellar and spreading throughout the entire lower floors of the church before moving upwards.

Rev. Norman Hillyer, minister of the congregation, almost tearfully told reporters that a new organ, bought recently at a cost of $17,000, was destroyed.

Evacuate 15 Families

At least 15 families living in the immediate vicinity were moved out of their homes as a precautionary measure when it was feared that, in the event of another explosion, the church tower might collapse.

School children who a short while ago lost the use of Riverside School when it burned down also suffered. Following the burning of the school, the children were taught in temporary classrooms situated in Centennary Church as well as other churches.

When school time rolled around this morning, some were again without a classroom.

The first alarm was turned in at midnight, and the second and third within an hour. The "under control" was not sounded until 3.56 a.m.

Neighboring buildings, which were separated from the church by a grass lawn about 10 feet in width, were not seriously damaged.

Police Lt. James Moore, who arrived on the scene shortly after the outbreak occurred, said that the fire seemed to "run like lightning through the building."

U.N. Accepts Canada's Peace Plan

Instruct Commission For Indonesia To Seek Agreement

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 24—(CP)—The United Nations Security Council Wednesday night approved a Canadian proposal to end the four-year conflict between the Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic.

By a vote of 8 to 0, with three abstentions, the 11-member council decided to instruct its commission for Indonesia to seek an agreement on re-establishment of the Republican government and conditions for a round-table conference at The Hague.

Russia, the Soviet Ukraine and France abstained on the vote, which Russia demanded.

Dr. J. H. Van Royen, Netherlands ambassador to Canada, told the Security Council that the Canadian proposal was "very helpful" suggestion. But he would not say definitely that he would accept the plan.

Indonesian delegate Dr. L. N. Palar said the Republicans might consider the plan favorably if Republican leaders are released.

The Canadian proposal provides that the UN Indonesian Commission be instructed to reach an agreement for carrying out the council's resolution of Jan. 28.

The resolution called on the Dutch to return the Republicans to Jogjakarta. The Dutch refused, contending that such a move would bring chaos and terrorism.

The commission also is instructed to seek an agreement on the time and conditions for holding the Dutch-proposed Hague conference. The Canadian plan added that if an agreement is reached for holding such a conference, it would be within the terms of Jan. 28 resolution.

Reaffirming Canada's backing of the resolution, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said:

"As one of the members of the council which supported the resolution of Jan. 28 and contributed to its drafting, we continue to regard it as providing the procedure best suited to achieve a just and lasting settlement of this Indonesian dispute.

"Let's not be difficult," Cons. Keays said. "I happen to be asking the questions."

They clashed again when Cpl. Ervine said Cons. Keays referred to patrol officers as "asphalt burners."

The discussion of police cars and "asphalt burners" began when Cons. Keays asked Cpl. Ervine if some officers were set aside for patrol work.

Cpl. Ervine said some men concentrated on highway work.

"So now we have two teams on the force instead of one," Cons. Keays said.

"The only officer who I ever heard say that one type of officer was better than another was Cons. Keays," Cpl. Ervine said.

"Oh, we expected that," snapped Cons. Keays.

As the hearing opened today, Commission counsel C. P. Hope produced the order for payment of witnesses at the coroner's inquest which investigated the deaths of John Miki and Cons. Harold Dent at Navan in June, 1940.

He read the list of witnesses but the name of George Smith was not included.

Constable J. E. Keays has alleged the evidence of Mr. Smith was suppressed at the inquest.

Tells of Accidents

Robert J. Wright, an employee of the Ontario Highways Department, was called as a witness and presented two accident reports filed with the department. Both dealt with an accident Nov. 4, 1947, involving Leroy Woods. One was filed by Cons. Keays, the other by Cons. Purdy.

He testified that Cons. Keays had visited his office to inquire about the reports.

Mr. Wright said there was an erasure on the part of the form dealing with the condition of the driver on the Purdy report.

Cpl. Ervine then returned to the witness stand and continued the description he began Wednesday of the Woods accident.

Cpl. Ervine said it had been suggested that Constable Keays leave accident investigations to "highway patrol officers."

Constable Keays asked if there was any difference between officers.

Cpl. Ervine said some men did little other work but traffic investigations and were supplied with special equipment.

Plenty Of Sarcasm

"That's a very sensible answer for a corporal with 18 years service," Cons. Keays said with no attempt to conceal his sarcasm.

He produced a length of rubber he said he found in a ditch at the scene of the accident.

He said he found it Nov. 20.

Cpl. Ervine said it had not been there Nov. 17 when he examined the ditch. The rubber showed no signs of deterioration and couldn't have been in the ditch for more than one or two days.

"If Cons. Keays testified under oath that he found this in the ditch on Nov. 20 would he be perjuring himself?" asked the constable.

"He might be mistaken," said the corporal.

At the Woods trial, Cpl. Ervine said, he had testified that three guard rail posts, near the scene of the accident, had been broken Sept. 28.

Had No Evidence

Cpl. Ervine repeated that he thought they had no evidence to proceed with the charges against Woods.

Cons. Keays said they had a statement from Woods, testimony that Woods was drunk and a smashed car.

"That would not be sufficient evidence to warrant a charge of dangerous driving?" asked Cons. Keays.

"No," said Cpl. Ervine.

Cons. Keays said Cpl. Ervine could have found another witness, a man called Bronson.

"Bronson was not a man, he was a boy about 16 or 18," Cpl. Ervine said.

"And his evidence was suppressed too," Cons. Keays said.

He asked Cpl. Ervine if it was true if "the contemptible Keays" could not "keep up morale in his own detachment."

"That is true," Cpl. Ervine said.

Reads Report

Cons. Keays read a report he had made out on the accident.

"That report is misleading," Cpl. Ervine said. He said Cons. Keays had not spoken to one of the witnesses, Bruce Pine, until after Nov. 17.

"Are you serious?" asked Cons. Keays.

"I'm serious."

"Are you taking your oath?"

"I'm taking my oath."

"I know you're not trying to mislead the court," Cons. Keays said. "You can't think that fast."

"That's right," Cpl. Ervine said. "One must be careful of you, Keays, because you're such a fast thinker and the rest of us are so slow."

Father Cries As Children Appear In Court

MADOC, March 24 (CP)—A 26-year-old father, who allegedly left five of his children uncared for in a backwoods shack for 46 days, Wednesday was remanded until March 28 on a charge of neglecting his family. Meanwhile the mother defended him as a good husband who had always provided for the family.

Allen Turncliffe apeared before Magistrate J. L. Lloyd, while his wife, staying with friends in nearby Belleville after the birth of a sixth child, described as a "pack of lies" reports the children had been abandoned and left to starve.

Turncliffe indicated he would plead not guilty, and said that, as a veteran of the Second World War with service overseas, he wished to make application for a defence lawyer from the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The five children, all under eight years, were presented to the court by Superintendent William Lockyer of the Children's Aid Society of Belleville. Earlier he had said legal steps would be taken to make them wards of the society.

Father Weeps

Turncliffe, who broke down and wept following his brief court appearance, said: "All I want is my family back."

It was in a three-room, tar-papered shack near Bancroft that police and welfare officers found the hungry, poorly - dressed youngsters four days ago.

"Allen had been a good husband to me and the children were always well taken care of," Mrs. Turncliffe said at Belleville Wednesday. "I'm going to stand by him."

The sores that broke out on little Freddie Turncliffe were reported to have cleared up, and physicians reported there was no evidence of the five having suffered from malnutrition.

IS HE SCOTTISH?

Mr. Abbott's budget pleased the children, who now can get soda pop for five cents, and the workers, whose income tax is less. But there is one person in Peterborough who is displeased. A man with a Scottish accent entered a local travel ticket office and wished a refund on the tax he had paid on a return ticket from another city to Peterborough. The ticket had been bought some months ago.—D.G.

Believe Britons To Take Oscars

By HOWARD C. HEYN.

HOLLYWOOD, March 24—(AP)—The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences hands out its 1948 Oscars tonight, and it looks like Britain's show—at last.

If this be heresay in Hollywood, then build my gallows high. Because I believe Sir Laurence Olivier and his majestic "Hamlet" should win the best actor and best film awards.

Jane Wyman should get the nod as best actress, in "Johnny Belinda." Miss Wyman's only serious worry, I think, is Olivia Dehavilland's performance in "The Snake Pit." And Sir Laurence could be displaced by Lew Ayres, also in "Johnny Belinda."

A British picture has never won the top award. This year, for the first time, two British films, "Hamlet" and "The Red Shoes," were nominated. Other contenders are "Johnny Belinda," "The Snake Pit" and "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

benefits "in line with increased living costs."

The Congress' price control policy includes the resumption of subsidies on basic commodities to bring about reductions in consumer prices and resumption of the wartime 100-per-cent excess profits tax to finance such subsidies and eliminate profiteering.

Price Control Board

To guard against further price increases on necessities, the Congress suggested, the Dominion should set up a price control board—with labor representation—to which applications for price increases would have to be made.

On housing, the TLC asked that the Dominion undertake, in co-operation with Provincial Governments, a "nation-wide low-rental, home-building program financed by national credit and designed to house, under decent conditions, ex-service personnel and those in low-income brackets who cannot afford the high building costs of today."

On taxation, the Congress asked removal of all sales taxes along with boosting of the income tax exemptions.

It sought to have the exemption for married persons lifted to $2,400 and that for single persons moved up to $1,200 per year. Exemption for each child would be $400, and no portion of family allowances would be taxable.

STILL NEED LICENCES

Although the scheduled deadline for the purchase of auto licences is only a week away, drivers of motor vehicles seem in no hurry to obtain them and although the issuer of licences has taken on extra help to cope with the expected crowd, the desk was practically idle all morning today. About 2,000 permits have still to be issued.

Fall Off Ledge

YOSEMITE, Calif., March 24 — (AP). — The death plunge of two Stanford University students down a 620-foot ledge at Yosemite was disclosed Wednesday night with the discovery of their snow-covered bodies. Their battered condition led investigating rangers to conclude they had fallen at least 400 feet. They had attempted to climb the ledge linked by 100 feet of rope, a length considered by veterans as too great.

Canada, 29 Countries Sign Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON, March 24 (CP) — A new international wheat agreement, designed to stabilize world prices the next four years, was signed here Wednesday by 30 countries including Canada.

Another 12 countries indicated they will sign by the April 15 deadline bringing the total of exporter countries covered by the pact to 42. The agreement goes into operation only if a majority of the signatory countries ratify it by July 1.

Under the agreement among the five major wheat-growing countries 456,273,389 bushels will be exchanged each year on a sliding price scale. The top price was set at $1.80 a bushel, with the minimum figure dropping 10 cents annually from $1.50 to $1.20.

Canada would become the major exporter, earmarking 203,069,635 bushels a year for shipment to importing countries. The United States would be the second major exporter with 168,069,635 bushels for shipment followed by Australia, 80,000,000, France, 3,306,934 and Uruguay, 1,837,185.

Obituary

MRS. HARRY T. McFADDEN

Mrs. Harry T. McFadden, 69, of Norwood died on Wednesday in hospital following a lingering illness. She was born in New Hampshire, Addie E., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Heddemon, and has lived in Peterborough for the past 38 years, and had recently moved to Norwood.

Besides her husband she leaves one daughter Miss Sybil McFadden of New Jersey and two sons, Nelson H. of this city and Harry F. of Oshawa. There are two sisters in Lynn, Mass., Mrs. Margaret Dow and Miss Bertha Heddemon, and one brother Joseph in Hampstead, NH. There are also four grandchildren. She was a member of the Salvation Army.

The funeral will be Saturday at 2 p.m from the Comstock Funeral Home, Water Street, to the Little Lake Cemeery. The service will be conducted by Major Charles Watt of the Salvation Army.

$600,000 Fire Destroys Furniture Plant

QUEBEC, March 24 —(CP)— Fire crews today were still pouring water over the smouldering ruins of a $600,000 blaze which Wednesday night razed a furniture factory, saw mill, lumber yard and one large house, in suburban Beauport, in Quebec's east district.

Voluntary crews and snow blowers joined in with fire fighters from Giffard, Courville and Quebec to halt the spreading flames.

No one was seriously injured. The fire broke out about 7 p.m. and blazed away for five hours.

Joseph Grenier, elderly president of Joseph Grenier Co. Ltd., was taken to hospital after suffering a stroke on learning news of the fire.

Three voluntary firemen suffered minor burns and were treated on the spot.

Watchman Collapses

A watchman, Sylvio Parent, was taken home in a state of collapse after he suffered nervous shock, acute indigestion and partial asphyxiation. Parent was in one of the building of the factory when the fire broke out.

The spectacular blaze covered an area of 100,000 square feet and in the early stages lumber-fed flames shot up hundreds of feet into the sky.

Strong gusts of wind which sent clouds of sparks and flaming bits of wood flying, threatened to light up new fire-centres.

Destroyed in the blaze was the large red brick home of Phileas Grenier, secretary of the municipality. The house also lodged another family and the offices of the Caisse Populaire (Credit Bank) of Beauport.

For a while families were evicted from five houses and all furniture taken out on the street on orders of firemen. But volunteers managed to keep flying embers and sparks off the roofs and covered them with snow.

Blockade Means War

LONDON, March 24—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin told the House of Commons Wednesday night that a total economic blockade of Soviet-controlled eastern Germany would lead to war. He contended such a shut-off "means sanctions, and sanctions mean war." He added, however, that materials which could be used in a war against the western powers should not be shipped to eastern areas.

MAKE TWO CALLS

Firemen made two calls on Wednesday. The first was to the residence of A. Hutt, Rubidge St., for a chimney fire; the second was to the residence of J. H. Wood, Park St., for a flooded oil burner.

UEW Leader

He added the action had come "out of the blue" this morning and that it had obviously been done to exclude the UEW from "other issues" beforp the Council. This was evidently a reference to the fight over the Smelters' Union.

Recommendation for exclusion of the Smelters Union came from the Congress Executive Committee headed by President A. R. Mosher.

The action was taken because the Union had refused to obey instructions of the CCL to move out of the fields of Northern Ontario and Port Colborne.

The Congress, expressing itself as dissatisfied with organizing progress in those areas, had decided to do the organizing there itself, later turning over such acquired membership to one of its affiliated unions.

When the Council rose after its morning session, the question of the Smelters' Union suspension was still under discussion.

The broad issues involved in the meetings this week is Communism in Canada's major labor bodies—the 400,000-man Trades and Labor Congress and the 360,000-man CCL.

The Jackson suspension and Smelters' Union issue were the first developments.

PAY REGIMENT

End of the fiscal year pay parade will be held at the Armories Thursday for the 50th Heavy AA Regiment, RCA, and the 37th Heavy AA Workshop, RCEME. From now on the Canadian Army will use the calendar year instead of the fiscal year.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, March 24—(CP)—Prices were steady on a small supply on the local livestock market up to noon. Only 30 cattle and 100 hogs were received and were added to 70 head left from yesterday's trading, reported the Dominion Marketing Service.

A few good light steers sold at $20.60 and some medium to good heifers were $19-$20.25. Butcher cows sold at $13.50-$17 and a few choice fed yearlings were $23.

Hogs were steady at $31.75 for grade A and $31.35 for grade B1. Sows were steady at $24.50, dressed.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 24—(CP)—All coarse grain futures showed a firm trend with prices moving narrowly in a dull session.

Upturns in grain prices at Chicago was held responsible for the firmer trend at Winnipeg.

Routine shipper demand came into oats and barley with commission houses buying in rye.

11 a.m. prices:

Oats—May ⅛ higher at 74⅝A; July ⅛ higher at 71½B; Oct. not open.

Barley — May unchanged at 1.06¾A; July unchanged at 1.00¾A; Oct. not open.

Rye—May 1⅛ higher at 1.16¼; July 1⅛ higher at 1.15½; Oct. 1¼ higher at 1.14A.

Flax—Not open.

Inspections: Wheat this year 961; last year 265; cars of contract 83; oats 83/39; barley 91/20; flax 27/3; rye 18/1; other grains 0/1; total 1185/329.

Lindsay Cadets Judged Highest In Efficiency

LINDSAY, March 24—Headquarters at Kingston report that No. 44 Lindsay Collegiate Cadet Corps was judged the most efficient corps for 1948 in Eastern Ontario Area. In the group of larger corps (with over 150 cadets) Lindsay was followed by Peterborough and Perth Collegiates in second and third places. The Annual Efficiency Rating as based, not only on the Annual Inspection in May, but also on the whole year's work. Inspection Day counts for 40 per cent. and the year's training program at 60 per cent.

Examinations in Morse were conducted by CSM Steele and Sergeant Towers of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals. Twelve passed the first cadet Morse examination and two, the second advanced Morse test.

The signalling classes are instructed by Cadet Instructor R. K. Sturgess, head of the department of Boys' Physical and Health Education. Successful signallers were: Cadets Robt. Colvin, F. Gosling, J. Greaves, K. McKessock, R. Milling, I. Nancekievill, A. Oliver, R. Strickland, G. Tamblyn, C. Taylor, L. Taylor, G. Teel, W. Acheson, P. Eberlee. (Last two were successful in advanced examination.)

Among special events conducted by the corps during the year might be mentioned the trip last October to the Cobourg Rifle Ranges where some 25 cadets enjoyed a day's shooting with .303 rifles and Bren machine guns. A similar event held late in February consisted of a combined Map Trek and Signalling expedition. Armed with maps, compasses and "Walky-talky" radios four groups of cadets started off from different points on a five mile cross country trek near Dunsford—each group finally arrived at the same point near Thurstonia in time for schemes, as well as in regular open air dinner. In such Saturday training, the instructors are assisted by the members of the 4th Field Regiment (SP) RCA with whom the corps is to be affiliated.

Annual inspection for 1949 has been set for May.

Lindsay Collegiate Corps is one of the oldest in the province, as indicated by its number No. 44. It was founded in 1898 and is one of the few corps that has a practically unbroken record since that time. The corps has been fortunate in always having the support of citizens and Board of Education, and in having well-qualified and enthusiastic instructors. At present every man on the Collegiate Staff has some function as a cadet instructor and every man has had military experience in active or reserve forces. The Cadet Instructors include Col. T. H. Eberlee, Squadron Leader W. S. W. Breese, Flight Lieutenants R. A. Patterson, R. H. Martin, Capt. R. A. Cozens, Lieutenants J. E. Staples, R. K. Sturgess, O. R Wells, Messrs S. C. Lonie, H. Staples.

Hastings WMS Meet In McMillan Home

HASTINGS, March 24—(ENS)—Mrs. J. McMillan, Albert St., was hostess on Wednesday afternoon to the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church WMS for their monthly meeting. Mrs. McMillan read the scripture taken from the ninth chapter of St. Luke. Mrs. C. Dodd led in prayer. The topic, "To Whom Shall We Go?" was taken by Mrs. Scott-Fife.

A social half hour followed the close of the meeting, during which Mrs. H. McMillan assisted the hostess with the serving of refreshments.

MISS LOUISE FLEMING

HASTINGS, March 24 (ENS)—Funeral services of the late Miss Louise Fleming was widely attended on Monday afternoon and the many beautiful floral tributes showed how highly she was regarded in the community.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fleming, she lived all her life in Hastings receiving her education at Fleming school. She was a member of Trinity United Church.

Left to mourn is one sister. Mrs. William Thompson and a brother, William J. Fleming, both of Hastings.

Burial was in Trent Valley Cemetery. Pallbearers — Basil Johnston, Jim Moore, Howard Porter, Noel Smith, Alf Forde, Douglas Fleming.

Flower bearers — Walter and Gordon Fleming, Arnold Thompson, Harold Johnston.

Making Progress

COBOURG, Mar. 24 (ENS) — Good progress is being made in Toronto General Hospital by Freda Tapscott of Cobourg, who was badly injured in a motor accident on Monday afternoon on the outskirts of the town. She sustained two fractures of the skull, broken jaw, teeth knocked out, broken arm and fractured leg. Report from the hospital yesterday said that her condition had improved. She was pinned in the wreckage of her car when it went out of control, rolled into a ditch and came up against a Hydro pole.

A Healthy Budget

There is so much general jubilation because of the extraordinarily large tax reductions announced in the Budget that an important underlying feature of it is likely to be overlooked. The Budget is a remarkable sign of Canada's economic and financial good health. It also provides for a continuation of that healthy condition during the next year.

* * *

Despite an increase in expenditure of $200,000,000 Mr. Abbott was able to announce a surplus of $575,000,000. The revenue and surplus indicate a healthy degree of prosperity. The enormous tax reductions promised not only for the coming year, but most of them made effective immediately and many made retroactive to January 1st, would not have been possible if the country were not economically and financially strong. When other countries are maintaining high tax rates or even increasing taxes, Canada is able to lower hers.

* * *

It is a healthy budget for this reason. Higher costs of living this last year have become a burden to many people, tending to interrupt or impede the normal exchange of goods and services, and to interfere with consumers' ability to buy what they need and merchants' capacity to sell what is required. If the tendency had continued unabated, prosperity might have pauperised Canada. The St. Laurent government through this Budget has met the situation in two ways. It has reduced taxes on many items, or wiped them out entirely, so that various goods and services should be cheaper, if the reductions are passed on to the consumers. It has also reduced the income taxes, so that people have more of their money to spend.

* * *

A married man with two children whose income is $2,500 a year now has two dollars more a week for his own family budget. In fact, he now pays all told, only $30 income tax a year. A married man with two children who earns $44 a week now pays no income tax at all. As many as 750,000 Canadians whose incomes were taxable last year will no longer pay any income tax.

* * *

It is a people's budget, for the greatest taxation reliefs have been given to the greatest number of people, that is, to those with lower incomes. It is a confident budget, for the Minister of Finance could not have made such sweeping reductions had he not been confident in the economic strength of the country. Even with the large estimated drop in the national revenue which the Budget has given, a surplus of $87,000,000 is forecast for the year 1949-50. It is a cheering budget—and the cheers which greeted Mr. Abbott in the House of Commons Tuesday evening were speedily taken up all across the Dominion.

* * *

The financial and economic policies of the Canadian Government during the last ten years have been models for other countries, and so successful that the world now envies the economic success with which we have come through the war and the first difficult post-war years. Last year critics of the Government wanted large tax reductions and the dumping of all controls. Last year was an inflationary year. It was too early to grant such wishes. This year prices are becoming stable, goods are in greater abundance, markets are reaching an equilibrium, and some stimulation to employment and industry, rather than a cushioning, is timely. The provisions of the 1949 Abbott Budget come at exactly the right and most helpful time.

Again—Canadian Speech

During the past few months adjudicators in music and drama festivals have repeatedly criticised our Canadian way of speaking, and there are signs that we are becoming more conscious of our national bad habits in this respect. The adjudicator in the local music festival, Mr. G. H. Heath-Gracie, is reported to have said that he rarely hears the letter "r" properly sung in our country, although he has said that he likes the Canadian accent on the whole.

Now there was a time when any criticism of our Canadian speech provoked indignant editorials, protesting that Canadians had no desire to affect an accent which was not their own. Those days have gone. We now know that there is no need for us to try to speak with an imported accent, but we have come to the realization that there is a great difference between a good Canadian accent and a bad one. What we must encourage is good Canadian speech, and we must try to discourage whatever is bad in Canadian speech.

What is bad? May we not assume that whatever falls harshly upon the ear is at least suspicious? In the realm of music we have no difficulty in distinguishing between a man who produces a beautiful tone on a violin and a man who produces raucous and irritating noises; we do not defend the poor player because he is a Canadian and his is a supposedly native style of violin-playing. And so it is in speech; the too-flat "a", the "r" like the growl of a dog, the slipshod dropping of consonants—these are things which we can correct without losing anything of our Canadianism. And, perhaps above all things, we can drop the pitch of our voices so that the characteristic Ontario whine disappears from them.

Good speech is a good recommendation everywhere, and a good Canadian accent is pleasing, vigorous, and often racy. Let us see if we cannot cause adjudicators during the next few years to praise us for our clear, pleasant speech.

The Bible Newly Translated

We have already made reference in these columns to the new translation of the Bible which is being undertaken by a joint committee of churches in Britain. The original suggestion came from the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland about eighteen months ago, and it was at that time that we mentioned it; since that time important steps have been taken to organize work on the great project, and the Oxford Cambridge University Press (a joint organization of which we have not previously heard) has been given the copyright of it. The Press has announced that it is not expected that the new version will displace the Authorized, or King James version, and that many years of preliminary work will be needed before a final manuscript can be expected. Obviously there will be no hurry about it. There is a legend that the Greek version of the Old Testament was the work of seventy-two Jewish scholars who completed it in seventy-two days; each scholar worked alone in his cell on the island of Pharos, and when they assembled on the last day it was found that their seventy-two translations were identical in every respect! We need not expect anything of that kind with the new venture.

What interests us chiefly is the statement that the version will be in "modern" English. One of the many beauties of the King James translation is that it is couched in language which is not modern, and therefore not controversial in the ordinary way. It is written in the language of the Golden Age of English—language which it is not hard to believe is the language of God, so supple, expressive, simple and poetic is it. The new translation will undoubtedly be more accurate, and will have all the advantages of modern scholarship, but in a book of religious inspiration it is a question whether accuracy and scholarship are sufficient substitutes for magical beauty.

A Prompt Entry

The calendar told us that spring should arrive on March 21st. And that welcome if slightly damp performer took the stage promptly on the calendar call. A most timely entry, long-heralded by the mild winter. We cannot take the same delight in early spring that early autumn offers, but spring's prospects are more pleasing. Upon muddy March come April showers and mayflowers—the hepaticas. Upon September's golden afternoons come drear November and winter. Some birds are already back from their southern holiday. Crocuses and tulips are sprouting. Saps running. The promise of tomorrow cheers the slushy muddy today—the early spring about which Lampman has written in his delicate eight-lined Hepaticas:

The trees to their innermost marrow
Are touched by the sun;
The robin is here and the sparrow:
Spring is begun!
The sleep and the silence are over:
The petals that rise
Are the eyelids of earth that uncover
Her numberless eyes.

The Ottawa Citizen refers to some controversy about the place of St. Patrick's birth. We did not know there was any controversy. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says that he was born in Glamorganshire, and that is good enough for us.

From The Critic's Notebook

WHEN THE GOING WAS GOOD, by Evelyn Waugh (Little, Brown). Evelyn Waugh is one of those Englishmen who seems to take positive delight in the discomforts of travel. Merely to go to a civilized country other than his own, to live in hotels and wash every day, has little attraction for him. He must go to Abyssinia to visit Coptic monasteries, or to Brazil to wander through jungles inhabited by pythons as thick as your thigh. The poet Heine said that from his great sorrows he made his little songs: Evelyn Waugh might say with equal justice that from his monumental discomforts he makes his little jokes. This book contains the best parts of four books on travel which he wrote before the war.

Nobody needs to be told that Evelyn Waugh writes well. But there are foolish people who think that because he writes the lightest, deftest, funniest books of our time he must be an inconsequential and trivial man. This book quickly dispels any such silly notion. Waugh is a tough, enduring, hard-bitten traveller in the great English tradition. He is so bitten by Brazilian insects that there is not an inch of his skin which does not itch, but he records the fact without complaint. His only food may be a muck like tapioca, and dried meat which his guide has transported under his saddle, next to a sweating horse, but he merely says that the food was unpalatable. Such travellers amaze those of us who stay at home, but not all of them amuse us as brilliantly as does Evelyn Waugh. R.D.

WE LIVE IN THE ARCTIC by Constance and Harmon Helmericks (McClelland & Stewart). Because so many of us are armchair explorers, such books as this one have a wide appeal. This is a vigorous straightforward account of the adventures of a young American couple who decided to leave the coastal settlements of Alaska to seek the Arctic ranges, and the rivers flowing down to the Arctic Ocean. Their story has both narrative and scientific interest, and manages to convey the rather weird beauty of the lands beyond the circle. The Helmericks try, with this story, to dispel many popular misconceptions about the north. They discovered, for instance, that blubber is not a whim of taste in the Eskimo, but an essential element for life and health; that hunting is possible at temperatures of forty and fifty degrees below zero when absolutely necessary, though fraught with hardship; that the skins of caribou, killed before the hair becomes too long provide warm clothing that makes outdoor life bearable when fire is useless.

They spent the winter of nineteen forty-five in a cabin which they built on the Alatna River, lying entirely within the Arctic circle. This cabin they heated with a stove made from a fifty gallon oil drum, and at times it made their home too warm! The gravest danger was from starvation. In the spring, with big game unobtainable they were reduced to dried meat and water, which will not sustained health without additional fats. Each month they ate their own weight in meat, and emerged in unusually good condition.

Mrs. Helmericks remarks, "Canada has closed down her Northwest Territories to all business and individual enterprise for the sake of protecting native groups". She considers this "a foolish policy", since the Eskimo and Indian equipped with guns are rapidly driving the reindeer and caribou to extinction.

Her description of the spring break-up makes one wish to pack up and start travelling, to see the wonders of the worlds' last frontiers.

"Ice as much as five feet thick forms during the winters in the streams of Northern Alaska, so that the noise, confusion and appalling power of the streams when they break can be imagined, though they can not be entirely realized by anyone who has not actually seen the breakup." H.T.K.

THE SONG OF THE FLEA, by Gerald Kersh (Heinemann). Mr. Kersh does not appear to develop in the usual way of a novelist; there is no visible improvement from book to book. Instead there is always the same looseness of construction, and the same fuzziness about the underlying idea of the book. And there is always the wonderful verve, vivid writing, and brilliant creation of character which makes his books more exciting than those of almost any other living novelist. In this latest creation of his disorderly genius Mr. Kersh tells the story of John Pym, a writer down on his luck, who will probably always be down on his luck because he is too weak to resist the vicious, worthless people who leech on him and exploit his good-nature and essential innocence. Pym's ups and downs hold together one of Kersh's brilliant extravaganzas on London low-life. With all its faults this is a wonderfully entertaining book. R.D.

NO HIGHWAY, by Nevil Shute (McClelland & Stewart). "No Highway", Mr. Shute's eleventh novel is a capable and original piece of work. The theme is post war aviation in Britain, particularly the research branch, and the chief characters are the aeronautical engineering experts at the establishment in Farnborough. Since the writer is a Fellow of the Royal Aeronautical Society, and was one of the chief designers of the R-100, thus he knows whereof he writes.

The "hero" of the story is a near-sighted eccentric, one Theodore Honey. He is an abstract scientist, totally absorbed during his working hours in basic research into crystallization of metals, believed to be due to nuclear disturbances. At first he does not connect this with the obvious consequences when a similar process is detected, leading inevitably to sudden breakdown, in a famous fleet of B.O.A.C. planes. The developments when Mr. Honey, an inside man, is turned loose upon aviation officials and the crew of a plane on the London-Montreal flight, are exciting and amusing. The more so, since his side interests include delving into the British-Israel theory, and dabbling in the realm of the occult.

This novel has much in common with the detective story. The scientific idea is both "motif" and "culprit" and the scientists play the part of detectives. Similarly too, the style is rather cold and spare.

Mr. Shute has managed to make the technical side of aviation clear and interesting to the layman, as well as integrating his information very neatly within a clever and absorbing plot. A civilization which is still producing such forward-looking writers, even on the light side, is not as decadent as the prophets of gloom would have us believe. H.T.K.

Cooks Are Starving

((MELBOURNE HERALD)

COOKS are among the people who suffer from malnutrition through their jobs.

That is one of the conclusions that nutritional specialists at Royal Melbourne Hospital and the Hall Institute have reached in a survey of malnutrition in Melbourne.

Their investigations show that cooks are apt to be highly-strung men. There is much mental and physical stress in the job.

When most people are sitting down to eat, a cook may be anxiously tasting the richest and sugariest work in the kitchen. His appetite becomes dull, and, say the specialists in one of their learned reports, "he not infrequently seeks comfort from alcohol."

There is a story whispered about of the time one of the university colleges asked a governor-general to dinner. His excellency sat down in the college hall with the students and their grave seniors, all formal in there best stiff shirts and black ties and gowns and coloured hoods; grace was said and they politely waited for the soup to come in.

After a while it became obvious that there was some delay, so a man of discretion was quietly sent to the kitchen. He found the cook at the kitchen door swinging a cleaver and a brandy bottle.

A scandalous story, the specialists point out, but an illustration of the sort of temperament you get among cooks, which is one of the factors in their malnutrition.

Truck drivers, travelling salesmen and nightwatchmen are among others who suffer from malnutrition, their researches have shown.

By malnutrition the specialists mean grossly bad eating, not necessarily under-eating. They come across cases of women, for instance, who eat more than enough in bulk, but it is all cakes and sweets. These end up in hospital suffering from serious malnutrition because their diet has been badly out of balance.

The experts say malnutrition is rare in Melbourne at present; malnutrition resulting from insufficient food is rarer still. During the past eighteen months they have treated 500 malnutrition cases at Melbourne Hospital and gone into the cause of 100 of them in detail.

Heavy drinkers head the list with almost thirty per cent. of cases investigated in detail. The specialists say alcohol supplies a lot of calories and appeases the appetite, but it does not provide the vitamins and proteins.

And the experts say, too, that alcohol itself probably contains some poisonous substance, especially some of the cheaper spirits.

There is one cheering thing in the mass of clinical reports in the research institute, though. That is that once the specialists get to work on a case of malnutrition, it generally improves quickly, with the prospect of no serious permanent effects.

The "Hookey" Legend

More than one Canadian adult tends to boast of his wild schoolday exploits. The story of how he stuck a wad of gum on the seat of the teacher's chair is retold down the years. Recalled with relish is the innocent schoolboy prank that caused the names of a young lady pedogogue and a gentleman teacher to be publicly and falsely linked in the wedding columns of the local newspaper. This one occasioned a stern warning from the principal during general assembly, when he thundered that young ruffians who perpetrated such ill-advised "jokes" were heading straight for the penitentiary. But above all, men love to brag of the innumerable times they "played hookey" and went fishing, or to the ball game.

Statistics are now to hand to prove that adults who indulge a taste for impressing their friends with tales of their wild youth are liars, or that the youngsters of today have improved their ways beyond belief. According to a report of the National Committee for School Health Research, in most provinces only a fraction of one per cent of absenteeism in the schools last year was due to truancy.

Schoolchildren of today, insofar as anyone is aware, are no better, and certainly no duller, than those of yesterday. They enjoy fishing and baseball, and to these recreations they have added something called jive. So they have as much reason as their fathers for playing hookey. Nor do they lack alibis, for there must be as many dying grandmothers today as there were 30 years ago. Yet the truancy figures are negligible. What many people have long suspected is obviously true. Those stories of schoolboy recklessness in the good old days are largely fictitious. —Ottawa Citizen.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. (Matt. 5: 7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee. (Isa. 54: 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. . . . Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

Judge not and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven; give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again. (Luke 6: 31, 36-38.)

The Theatre Royal, Bristol

In a cobbled street near the docks in the West Country seaport of Bristol, lies the oldest building in Britain with a continuous existence as a theatre. It is the Theatre Royal, which was opened in 1766, and except for a few years during the war has been open ever since. When the Royal was built King Street was part of fashionable Bristol; now it is business area and the theatre is surrounded by warehouses.

The Royal is a tiny place that seats only six hundred and fifty people. It has been little changed since it was built and much of the old stage mechanism is still extant, including the old "thunder run" in the roof, down which thirty-pound cannon balls were rolled to simulate thunder. The theatre was built by Bristol citizens; forty-eight subscribed £50 each and another £4,400 was provided by various well-wishers of the drama. There was very great opposition from the Quaker element in Bristol, which considered that the erection of a playhouse would demoralise the town but despite their protests the Royal was opened in 1766, with a prologue specially written for the occasion by the famous actor, David Garrick.

And then its great and fashionable days began, when every actor and actress of note played there—including Kemble, Kean, Macready, Foot., Phelps, Grimaldi and the wonderful Mrs. Sarah Siddons. Mrs. Siddons played there in repertory for three years at £3 a week, until the famous Irish playwright, Mr. Sheridan saw her and offered her an engagement at Drury Lane.

In later years the Royal fell on hard times but in 1943 it was taken over by the Council for the Encouragement of Music and the Arts—now the Arts Council—and since 1946 it has been the home of the Bristol Old Vic, an offshoot of the famous Old Vic Company in London. They stage classics, modern plays, and a pantomime at Christmas, and several of their productions have been broadcast in their entirety from the BBC's West Regional studios. Members of the Company frequently appear in other broadcasts and some time ago a BBC feature programme told the history of this unique and charming theatre, whose spell is such that, despite its out-of-date and cramped quarters, the people who work in it would not have it changed for the world.—B.B.C. Contralto Singers Urged To Widen Choice of Songs

Tendency of contralto singers to stick too closely to excerpts from "The Messiah" or "Elijah" in their choice of numbers was deplored by G. H. Heath-Gracie, adjudicator of the third annual Peterborough Kiwanis Club Music Festival, at the evening session of the third day of the festival Wednesday in Murray Street Baptist Church. Bach and Handel also wrote many works suitable for contralto voices, he said, in appealing to these singers to widen their search for singable material.

Outstanding contribution to the evening's program was the singing of Miss Evelyn McBride of Port Hope, whose fine performance of her chosen oratorio selection evoked much praise from the adjudicator and prolonged applause from the audience.

Mr. Heath-Gracie in his adjudication said Miss McBride had a "lovely quality" in her voice, and that her singing was full of "the human sympathy" which the piece called for. He cautioned her, however, against feeling "too self-assured," as she had not yet quite reached perfection in her art. She was awarded 88 marks and first place in Class 31 in which there were five competitors. Second place was awarded to Miss Margaret Scott of Lindsay, with 86 marks. The adjudicator said Miss Scott had a "nice color" in her voice and advised her to exploit to the full "its lovely quality." Coming third was Mrs. Jean Winslow of Millbrook, 85 marks, whose voice was described as having "quality and refinement."

Highly Praised

Miss Scott was also highly praised for her interpretation of "O Thank Me Not" by Mallinson in Class 47, contralto, under 21 years. She was awarded 88 marks for what was termed "a good performance for one of her age." Mr. Heath-Gracie said that this song was not an easy one to sing and that Miss Scott's singing of it showed promise of greater things to come. She was the only entrant in this class.

Another festival entrant winning 88 marks was Miss Janet Estlick, of Peterborough, whose playing of a Beethoven sonata was called "a very good performance in terms of your own age." She was given first place in Class 141. All five competitors in this class "greatly pleased me with their performances," the adjudicator said. He awarded second place to Miss Gwen Budd, of Port Hope, 86; and third place to Miss Faye Schwartz, of Peterborough, 84.

Another outstanding item of the evening was the fine performances of Bruce Davidson and William Perry, both of Lindsay, in Class 38, both of whom were warmly praised by Mr. Heath-Gracie for their singing of the tenor aria "Flower Song" from the opera "Carmen" by Bizet. Mr. Davidson was adjudged the winner, with 87 marks, with Mr. Berry coming a very close second with 86. The winner's voice had "a very attractive quality and dramatic possibilities."

To Build Hall, Hospital As A Memorial

ST. CATHARINES, March 24—(CP)—To commemorate the sacrifice of 81 Ridley College old boys who fought and died in the Second World War, a $350,000 hall and a $100,000 hospital are to be built on the college grounds. It is expected that they will be ready for use by the Autumn term of 1950.

The hospital will be known as the Richard Reynolds Schmon Memorial Hospital, named for a graduate killed in action while fighting in the United States Third Army under Gen. George Patton in France Nov. 5, 1944. Funds for the hospital were donated in part by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Schmon.

The Old Boys' Association, parents of students and friends of the school provided the rest of the funds for the erection of the memorial buildings, just as they made possible the construction of a chapel in memory of the 61 Ridley old boys killed in the First World War.

Begin Work at Once.

Work on the buildings is to be started immediately, Dr. H. C. Griffith, Ridley College Headmaster, announced today on behalf of the Board of Governors.

The memorial hall, to stand between the present school house and Gooderham House, will seat approximately 300 students. Complete with kitchens and pantries, it will contain a new science department with laboratories for chemistry, physics and biology as well as a manual training room. On its facade there will be a tower in which it is hoped some day to instal a carillon.

The 20-bed hospital, with a solarium for convalescent patients will have quarters for its nursing staff and doctors. It will be built just north of the memorial hall, with the approach to it through the archway of Gooderham House. A covered passage will connect the new kitchens in the memorial hall.

Legionnaires Sweep Series Edging Nylons In Third, 7-6

Edging out Kingston Nylons 7-6 in Belleville last night, the local Legionnaires swept their OHA Senior "B" series in three straight games. A fair-sized crowd (including many from here) saw a swell scrap as Kingston dished up a desperate attempt to stave off elimination. They were leading 6-5 with six minutes to go in the third period but Legion had enough push to tie it up and then win out in the final four minutes.

Play was fast, exciting and pretty clean throughout. Legion started strong to gain a 3-1 edge in the first period. Kingston fought back and scored the only marker in the second, and they played on even terms through a hectic third heat. A grabbing penalty to the Nylons in the third, as Legion pressed, cost them two highly important goals. The losers congratulated the victors at the finish. Legion are unsure at the moment as to their next opponents.

Ross Shows

Goalie Ross Nicholls starred once again in a fine chore between the pipes. He was threatened often in this tilt as the desperate Nylons tore in time and again for hot stabs at the net. Bob Greenlaw led the snipers with four points, as Bill Crowley and Ned Vitarelli got a pair apiece. The whole team worked hard but had trouble all the way with the fighting Kingston crew. Joe Catlin and Walt Gerow were always dangerous, with Partis, McKeown and Blake quite effective, too.

In two minutes of the first chukker, Bob Greenlaw banged in a pass from Crowley, but McKeown got it back shortly from White in a scramble on Nicholls' doorstep. Kerluk went off for interference and Hill rapped one home in close from Stewart. Rochetta got the air for cross-checking and a Crowley-Greenlaw thrust came close. Later, Harrison made a good try as play swept back and forth fast and even. A dash by Gerow and Catlin was turned away by Nicholls and, late in the period, Crowley slapped in a pass from Bob Greenlaw to put Legion up 3-1. Kerluk was chased again for interference near the finish of the frame.

Hot Second

Both goalies were kept on the hop in a heated second stanza. Kerluk drew his third penalty for tripping and, in his absence, Kingston counted the only goal of the period. Catlin dented the hemp at close range, aided by Partis and Blake, as they broke fast and worked right in. Kerluk got back but White was gated for hooking. Legion pressed and a Stewart-Hill rush nearly paid off, but he returned with no damage done. Rochetta and Mortimer combined for a nice try, and then Rochetta was waved over for holding. He was back when Gerow got right through but hoisted the bootheel over the net. Coombs got it next for high-sticking in the heated going and Kerluck followed for tripping. Greenlaw knocked over the Kingston goal in a headlong rush as the inning ended.

Kingston kept fighting in the third and nearly took it in a sizzling stanza. Parnell and then Gerow tested the goalies and McKeown got in to score with a hard angle drive on Harrison's pass. Partis put them in front on an in-close stab from a corner pass-out, with Catlin and Stephenson earning assists. Gerow had a good try, but Bob Greenlaw tied it again on Rochetta's corner pass-out. Play steamed up and down and Toodie Greenlaw put Legion in front on smart combination around the net with Vitarelli and Parnell. Kingston tied it once more when Catlin snapped in Blake's pass, and they went in front when Catlin backhanded home a nifty, Gerow and Partis aiding. Play swung back and forth fast but, with White chased for grabbing the puck as Legion threatened, the Legionnaires stormed in to score the tying and winning goals. Bob Greenlaw sewed it up with a slap shot on Vitarelli's forward pass, and then Chum Fryia won it when he took Godfrey's pass and skirted defence fast to wham a high hard one at an angle by Udall. Toodie Greenlaw came close as White returned and Kingston tried desperately the last two minutes.

The teams:

Kingston—Goal, Udall; defence, White and Kerluk; centre, McKeown; wings, Joyce and Greenham; alternates, Gerow, Partis, Catlin, Sweetman, Blake, Stephenson, Keys and Harrison.

Legion—Goal, Nicholls; defence, Vitarelli and Godfrey; centre, Rochetta; wings, R. Greenlaw and Crowley; alternates, Parnell, T. Greenlaw, Fryia, Hill, Stewart, Coombs, Burns, and Mortimer.

Referees—J. Crombie and L. Heffering.

Summary:

First Period:

Legion—R. Greenlaw (Crowley) 2.00.

Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings played the longest big-league hockey game on record 13 years ago tonight when they battled 176 minutes, 30 seconds in the first game of the N.H.L. title series at Montreal. Mud Brunetteau, won the game for Detroit 1-0, when he scored at 16:30 of the sixth overtime period. I was 2:25 a.m. when the game ended.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A meeting at 7:30 tonight in the YMCA of the men's City Softball League. This is open to the executive and all prospective managers and coaches. Drop in and talk things over if you're at all interested in entering a team this season. From what we pick off the grapevine, just two of last year's squads are sure starters at the moment, clubs managed by Johnny Russelle and Stew Richardson—and we're not sure if they'll have the same sponsors or not. Nothing at all definite yet from Knights of Columbus or the Legionnaires. The Metropolitan Club would like to get in, and a Keene team has shown interest. But more again as spring warms up.

Five local lasses' basketball teams swing into playoff action here this week-end. Two important inter-school struggles at the Collegiate Friday, Uxbridge playing junior and senior PCVS squads. Coach Doris Fenner's seniors have a 10-point lead but Coach Marion Bell's juniors are down two in semi-finals. At the YW tomorrow, it's Lockey's vs. Normals to start junior finals, followed by Nurses and Neill's in senior scraps. Saturday eve in the Collegiate, Clifton colleens of Toronto—sporting two players six-foot-three—bring a goodly lead into LOBA semi-finals against Towne Togs at 7.15. It's followed by a boys' OABA juvenile final, PCVS being down three points to St. Kitts.

A Word In Passing

A word or two about the Trent Valley Hockey League, which recently concluded its season. There were nine starters (a 10th didn't come in) with Tweed, Madoc and Warkworth failing to make playoffs. In the sawoffs, Marmora again won loop honors and went into the OHA playdowns. Hastings was drawn against Frankford, Norwood vs. Lakefield, and Marmora with Campbellford. It looked like Lakefield and Marmora in finals but Norwood won a protest over Lakefield and that team was tossed out. Defying TVL orders, Lakefield and Campbellford—the latter drawing from surrounding centres—also entered OHA playdowns, and were eliminated. Some dissatisfaction after a fine district season and we imagine the next annual meeting will be a warmish affair.

* * * * * *

Legionnaires swept their senior "B" group three straight over Kingston Nylons, but it was a mighty tight fit on Belleville's ice last night. Pulled it out 7-6 after coming from behind late in the third chukker. A fair-sized crowd was treated to by far the best scrap of the sawoffs. Nylons fought desperately and effectively most of the way in an attempt to stave off elimination, but Legion had enough push at the last to yank out the decision. They're idle now till next week when they should step into provincial finals against Grimsby, Brantford, Sarnia or Orillia. A slight chance, though, that they might have to wade through another series ere getting a crack at finals. We don't know yet. Grimsby and Brantford are tied now with the deciding game Friday, while Sarnia (one up in a best-of-three don't play Orillia again till this week-end.

* * * * * * *

He Had To Be Good

Ross Nicholls had to be good between the Legion pipes last eve, as the rampaging Nylons threw a lot of heated rubber his way. Catlin, Gerow, McKeown and Blake were always dangerous. Legionnaires all battled, too, with Bob Greenlaw, Bill Crowley and Ned Vitarelli worked like troopers at the blue line, and the customers got their money's worth throughout in this torrid tussle. Some of the winners looked a trifle below their form of the two previous matches, but you couldn't take it away from the Kingston puckists—they went down fighting furiously.

* * * * * *

Plenty of action, also, up along Brock Avenue last gloaming as the merry pro maimen battled it out. The Maskeu Marvel won a questionable decision over Earl McCready in the main go when the Earl persisted in trying to de-hood the mystery man and was given a disqualification by the ref. The Marvel faded from the angry aftermath in nothing flat as McCready gave his version of that ditty: "Give Me Five Minutes More". Wee Willie Davis—if 280 pounds of rough stuff can be termed "wee" — won the lively semi-final bout o'er Abe Yourist with a hok to the pantry as Abe bounced off the hemp, while the prelim went to Nick Vicchiarelli of this borough over Sammy Gotter. The Whip is on his way back from down Texas way and may be seen on an early card.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

Playing up at the Granite Club, Toronto, on Wednesday, in the big mixed rink bonspiel: Gar. Braund's rink, after dropping the first game, sailed through the next two and qualified for the finals of the second competition, to be played on Friday.

N. Hamley's rink won their first game and then lost a hard one to Mr. Hickson of High Park.

Ray Best's rink lost both of theirs. It seemed as if they could not get going.

Playing in the same bonspiel today are S. Lowe, Dr. R. Clark and Dr. C. McKee.

That our curling season is coming to a close there is no doubt. This Saturday may be the last Saturday for the week-end bonspiel. However, the men's bonspiel for this Saturday is set for 2.00 o'clock.

Play in the Sturgeon Trophy will continue on Saturday evening at 7.00 o'clock and 9.00 o'clock.

The rinks playing up in Toronto yesterday were:

Mrs. H. R. Martin, H. R. Martin, Mrs. O. Steer, G. Braund, skip.

Mrs. H. Bletcher, Dr. D. W. Clark, Mrs. M. Holt, N. Hamley, skip.

Mrs. G. Green, K. Bissett Mrs. V. Selkirk, Ray Best, skip.

Douse Wildcat Fire

EDMONTON, March 24 (CP).—Flames from a "wildcat" natural gas well that blew wild on Tuesday and caught fire in the remote Lac La Biche district of Northern Alberta are out. It is not immediately known whether the flow of gas has been checked, but, with the flames extinguished, officials believe the situation is in hand.

Gardella Waits Two Weeks For Ball Ruling

NEW YORK, March 24—(AP)—It will be at least two weeks before Danny Gardella will get an answer on his plea for baseball reinstatement but an earlier showdown is expected for two other banned former major leaguers, Max Lanier and Fred Martin.

Federal Judge Edward A. Conger said he probably would rule next week on the temporary injunction asked by Lanier and Martin, two former St. Louis Cardinal pitchers who are suing baseball for $2,500,000.

The former Cardinal players and Gardella, the onetime New York Giant outfielder who is suing for $300,000, have asked that their playing rights be returned pending settlement of the cases.

The players, among nearly a score who were banished for five years for jumping to the Mexican League in 1946, are suing the game on the grounds that their suspensions have denied them a chance to earn a livelihood.

They contend in their suits that baseball is a monopoly which operates in violation of the anti-trust laws because the reserve clause in the standard contract binds a player to one club for life.

While announcing that he may rule next week on the request for a temporary injunction brought by Lanier and Martin, Judge Conger advanced to April 23 the date when the 16 major league clubs and the high officials of baseball must answer the complaint in the multi-million dollar suit.

Ethel Stanbury Leads In YM Lasses Loop

The Glengarrys were the only team to make a clean sweep in the YMCA Senior Ladies' Bowling League this week, taking all points from Hurricanes. Lucky Strikes took two from Bombers, Tigers two from Commandos and Y's Menettes two from Corvettes.

Ethel Stanbury was high in the individual scores rolling 787 for three and 291 for best single.

With only two more weeks of the schedule left the standing to date:

By JACK HAND.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24—(AP)—How about Joe DiMaggio?

The doubtful condition of the Yankee clipper is the most disturbing note of the spring training season.

There is no definite assurance that DiMag, hobbled by a tender right heel following an off-season operation, will be able to open the American League schedule. In fact, there is no positive word that he will play at all.

Nobody knows. The doctors are optimistic. DiMag wants to believe them, but he knows the heel still sends jabbing pains through his body when he tries to run.

So far he has appeared in exhibitions as a pinch-hitter only. If he gets a hit, a runner takes his place. The Yanks are taking no chances with their $90,000-a-year star.

"I don't think they'll be very good without him," manager Casey Stengel admits sadly. Casey knows the Yanks can't win without DiMag.

"Pitching and outfield are my strong points," he said.

Glaring Weakness

First base is a glaring weakness. Chances are right fielder Tommy Henrich will wind up with the job. Babe Young, Jack Phillips, Joe Collins and Dick Kryhoski failed to impress in the early games.

George Stirnweiss is the second baseman with Phil Rizzuto, nursing a sore arm, at short. Bill Johnson, a veteran with good power, appears to have the edge over Bobby Brown at third. Brown, a .300 hitter, can't break into the line-up as a regular.

If DiMaggio can't play centrefield, it will be impossible to shift Henrich to the infield. The outfield is strong, but not that strong.

Charley Keller, another question mark, probably will alternate with Johnny Lindell in left. Right will be a scramble among Gen Woodlong, .385 hitter at San Francisco, Hank Sauer and Cliff Mapes.

LOUIS TO PROMOTE FIGHT

Promoter Joe Louis will stage the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott showdown for his vacated heavyweight title in Chicago—right where he won it from Jim Braddock in 1937.

The date, probably in June, and the site—either at Chicago Stadium, or one of the major league ball parks—will be worked out by Joe's International Boxing Club with the Illinois Athletic Commission. The selection of Chicago was announced at a press conference in Chicago Wednesday.

Masked Marvel the Victor As McCready Disqualified

The Masked Marvel won over Earl McCready in the main bout at the Brock Arena last night before a good sized wrestling crowd when Earl was disqualified. It went just six minutes in the third round when McCready retaliated for hair-pulling by the hooded one by jerking the Mask's head cover. He kept at it to the fans' approval but Referee Ernie Powers took a dim view of such work and, with the hood half off, the official called a halt. Earl rushed the Marvel again but the latter disappeared rapidly through the crowd.

McCready had pinned his rugged opponent for the first fall in 32 minutes with his punishing rolling cradle splits. But even the battling Earl had to resort to terrific elbow smashes to soften up the mystery man before he could apply his favorite grip. He weighed a little over 240 against 230 for the Marvel. The latter roughed it up plenty but at times was in considerable danger of having the hood hoisted. The crowd enjoyed the hot mat action.

Marvel Won

The Marvel won the second fall and he was lucky in doing so. Both charged through the ropes on a turn-buckle run and both were being counted out. The Mask (whose real name is Lou Reynheer) got back into the ring just a split second ahead of Earl, who was barely counted out. All through the Mask played it rough, tough and nasty, but McCready was a worthy opponent as he kept plowing in. He out-wrestled his meaty opponent and he looked better at the finish. Earl kicked plenty when disqualified and he had a lot of fan sympathy.

Abe Yourist, 233, subbing for Mickey Gold—out with a broken shoulder—met tough semi-final opposition in 280-pound Wee Willie Davis. There was an argument over tape on Davis' wrist, which he used to rasp his opponent's eyes and the big guy made it a rough session from the start. Yourist looked good in spots but Davis kept ahead with unethical tactics. The crowd really howled when Abe tossed Davis across the ring several times, but Willie resorted to finger bending and then biting. Fans kept yelling at the action with Yourist later showing his power but running into hair-pulling. Abe finally removed the contentious tape and gave Davis a dose of his own medicine. Davis then conked Yourist with his fist as Abe was coming off the ropes in a series of tackles and Willie won in 24 minutes.

Nick Triumphs

Nick Viccharelli of Peterborough, weighing 173, scored a prelim victory in 14 minutes over 178-pound Sammy Gotter with a series of headlocks and a top spread. It opened slowly with Gotter roughing things up. After a few exchanges, Sammy got Nick on the mat and got away with a bit that Powers missed. Viccharelli took over for a time to crack Gotter about with whip holds but Sammy shook loose by kicking his opponent on the jaw. He then punished Nick plenty, using the ropes for leverage. He had all the best of it for a time in a fair tussle, but Nick came on strong at the finish to win out.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Walt McElroy, 21-year-old Vancouver shotmaker, was ranked first Wednesday in the annual amateur golf ratings appearing in the Canadian Sport Monthly magazine and which are recognized as the official listings by the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

The Vancouver ace, whose sparkling 288 topped all Canadians—amateur and professional—in the 1948 Canadian Open, took over top spot from Rudy Horvath, Windsor veteran.

Phil Farley of Toronto, Ontario amateur champion, was ranked second, while Horvath slipped to third place.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener was ranked 12th and Don Varey of Brantford 15th.

Rinks skipped by Cully Schmidt of Kitchener and H. F. Gorrie of Hamilton Thistles on Wednesday reached the finals of the Brereton-Raw Trophy event in a mixed bonspiel at the Granite club. Schmidt's rink beat H. A. Dickson's Toronto High Park rink 11-8 in the third round while Gorrie trounced Dr. A. S. Elliott's Toronto Granites foursome 10-6.

Six Ontario Secondary School hockey squads will meet at Barrie Friday and Saturday in the Ontario Interscholastic hockey tournament. The teams are Copper Cliff High School, Northern Ontario winners, Toronto Runnymede Collegiate, Barrie, Huntsville High School, Bracebridge High School and Windsor Vocational.

Toronto city council decided Wednesday to protest to the Federal government over the planned erection of a floodlit harness racing track in suburban Thornhill. Mayor Hiram McCallum said that Toronto's four tracks are "surely enough to satisfy the gambling instincts of our citizens."

More than 100 Badminton players from Eastern Ontario and Northern New York State will gather in Cornwall Friday and Saturday for the third post-war tournament of the St. Lawrence Badminton Association. Players are expected from Massent and Malone, N.Y., Huntingdon, Que., Brockville and Kingston. Kingston shuttle experts swept the field last year.

Marlies Sweep First Tilt Whip Black Hawks 10-1

TORONTO, March 24—(CP)—The powerful Toronto Marlboros today hold a one-game lead over North Bay Black Hawks in the best-of-three series for the all-Ontario senior hockey title—thanks mainly to a product of the north.

It was stocky Ray Hannigan's three goal splurge that paced the Dukes to a 10-1 decision over the Black Hawks and gave them high hopes of sweeping the series in two straight games. Next game is slated for tomorrow night in North Bay.

The Schumacher-born right-winger, who left the Northern leagues to join Toronto St. Michael's College Juniors three years ago, was a tower of strength as the Marlboros took a 1-0 lead in the first period, lengthened it to 7-1 in the second and then outscored their rivals 3-0 in the third.

For the Black Hawks, it was a bleak start in their first try for the Provincial championship. However, they were strangers to the large ice surface at Maple Leaf Gardens and will have a chance to show to better advantage in the second game on home ice.

Couldn't Cope With It

Even in the opening stages, Black Hawks failed to cope with the precision-timed passing plays and fierce back-checking of the Toronto squad. But for the superb work of netminder Harry Lalande, the score would have been higher.

The 8,786 fans saw veteran Flash Hollett garner two goals for Marlboros. Johnny McCormack, Scotty Mair, Lorne Pirie and Alex Davidson counted one apiece. Dave Morland scored for the Black Hawks.

Mair sent the Dukes into the first-period lead when he converted on a three-way play with Hannigan and McCormack.

In the second period, Hollett made it 2-0 at the six-minute mark and within six minutes the Toronto squad added another five goals, before Morland got his.

Then Hollett got his second mid-way through the final chapter. Hannigan followed up with two more.

Eight penalties were handed out, five to Toronto.

ADDED STATURE

In the Greek theatre, important actors were given added height by wearing built-up shoes.

Dit Clapper Promises Things Be Different

BOSTON, March 24—(CP)—Coach Dit Clapper promises that "things will be different" tonight when his Boston Bruins face Toronto Maple Leafs in the second game of the series "B" semi-finals of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Clapper himself admitted that the Bruins didn't do anything right Tuesday when they were blanked 3-0 by the Leafs in the first game of the best-of-seven series.

Conn Smythe, major domo of the Leafs, said his team played its best game of the season.

Much credit for the Leafs' reversal of form, after three straight losses towards the end of the regular season, was traced to the recall of several minor leaguers.

Eels in the vicinity of the West Indies grow to be seven feet long.

WAR EXCISE TAXES HAVE BEEN REMOVED now 5¢

BEARER OF GOOD NEWS—Finance Minister Abbott leaves his office with a long smart step to tell a crowded House of Commons of his new tax-cutting budget. Tucked under his arm is the black portfolio containing all the well-kept tax secrets. The bright smile on his secretary's face reflects the way Canadians generally greeted Mr. Abbott's announcement of taxation relief.

When Wheat Was Sold At 65 Cents a Bushel

CAMPBELLFORD, March 24 — (ENS) — The Campbellford Herald of 50 years ago reveals that wheat was selling at 65 cts. a bushel; barley, 43 cts.; rye, 50 cts.; oats, 27 cts. and tea sold over the counter at 19 pounds for $1; butter, 15 cts. a pound and lard, 10 cts.

Potatoes sold on the Campbellford market at 70 cts. a bag; apples, 50 cts. a bag; eggs, 10 cts. a dozen; pork, 10 cts. a pound; hams, 12 cts.; hard wood, $2.25 a cord and comb honey at 7 cents a pound.

A news item of the same date states that a large fish of the maskinonge pecies was taken from the waters of the Trent below Percy Boom by the LeBarr brothers of Myersburg. In length the monster measured a fraction over four feet and its weight was 36 pounds.

The same edition records the following story of a monstrosity.

"Mr. Wm. Nichols, who lives near Heely Falls, a few miles north of Campbellford, brought to town on Monday forenoon a calf that is a peculiar malformation from the fact that it has a head exactly resembling a pug dog; its legs are as short as a pig's; and its tail only about half the ordinary length. It was purchased by a man in Peterborough who had it preserved and it is still regarded as one of the curiosities of the age."

A Lindsay newspaper in 1899 reported the birth of a baby weighing 18 pounds and one ounce to which a Peterborough paper replied that a child of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien of Dourc had been born a few years previously weighing "an ounce or two" more than the Montreal child.

Another item was a letter received by Mr. W. H. Dean of Moira from London, enclosing a dollar to pay for a chicken which the writer had injured and probably killed 30 years before. The letter was reported to have stated: "I want no chickens in the way when I meet my Saviour."

Jailed For Strangling

HARROWGATE, England, Mar. 24 (AP)—A man who said he strangled his wife because she nagged him while he was reading the Bible was sent to prison Wednesday for five years. Donald Lobban Yarrow, 45, was originally charged with murder, but an all-male jury reduced the charge to manslaughter. He told police when arrested that he "saw red" when his wife, holding a table knife, told him she would throw him out of the house if he didn't get a job.

Liberal Omnibus Bill Provokes Controversy In Senate

OTTAWA, March 24 (CP) — The Omnibus Controls Bill, just finished with a heavy siege in the Commons, provoked new controversy in the Senate Wednesday with two Liberal Senators chiding the government of which they were recent members.

The legislative measure embodying rental, price, steel and timber controls was only considered after protests from Senator Ian Mackenzie(L-British Columbia) that the senior chamber was being used as a rubber stamp because of the bill's "tardy" arrival from the Commons "at the last moment." Its deadline is Saturday.

The former Veterans Minister was joined later by Senator T. A. Crerar (L-Manitoba), former Resources Minister, who protested against the bill's late arrival, and blamed it on the fact "that the government didn't arrange its business very well for the session." He hoped, too, that there would be no necessity in 1950 for further revival of the controls.

The general reception of the Bill, however, was far calmer than the storm which broke two years ago over its predecessor, one sheltering 57 orders-in-council under one Act. The new measure contains 12.

It was introduced by the government leader, Senator Wishart Robertson, and will go to committee today for study. The companion measure, a bill to extend foreign-exchange controls for two years, was also explained by Senator Robertson.

Need More Time

Senator Mackenzie's protests were based on the argument that the chamber should not proceed to consider a bill it had not had time to look over. He said he had only seen his copy five minutes.

He relented after Senator Haig said the explanation by Senator Robertson would give the chamber the information it needed to form its decisions. There would be ample time for detailed study later.

Senator John T. Haig (PC leader), in debate, mainly attacked continuance of rental control on expensive homes. He said there were tenants living at relatively cheap rents in costly homes when they could afford to pay more. In effect, the landlords couldn't sell because the tenants were there.

Senator Iva Fallis (PC-Ontario) objected that one measure, rent control, which she favored was tied up with others which she opposed in such a way that she had to take them all or none. This, she said, smacked of dictatorship but was "smart politics."

GEOGRAPHICAL FACTOR

Crop failures are more likely to occurr in India than in any other country in the world because of its tropical location and dependence on monsoon rains.

Women! Try This "LIFT" FOR YOUR WEARY FEELING

Loss of some of the vital iron content of the blood often accounts for the persistent feeling of tiredness that makes so many women miserable.

See how restoring needed iron with pleasant-to-take Dr. Williams Pink Pills usually brings relief from that awful weariness — a pick-up in energy — an improvement in the way you sleep as well as a definite step-up in your general appearance. Dr. Williams Pink Pills contain the same type of easily assimilated iron often recommended by doctors to weak, run-down, anemic patients. In addition they contain Vitamin B_1—the nerve-nourishing vitamin. Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today and let them help put you back "in the pink".

Investigate Book

TORONTO, March 24 (CP).—Police officers and officials of the Crown Attorney's Department said Wednesday they will investigate whether "Toronto Doctor," a new book by Toronto theatre executive Sol Allen, is immoral, indecent or obscene. The book, with a gyneacologist as the central character, goes into medical details of examination and treatment of ailing and pregnant women, refers to living political figures and mentions law cases in which Allen has been involved.

PLACED IN ASYLUM

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Elmer J. Stanford, 40, who was charged with shooting a Roman Catholic priest in a church confessional Jan. 29, was committed Wednesday to a State hospital for the criminal insane. The priest was injured slightly.

Change In Tax For Wives, Noted In Budget

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP) — A change in income tax regulations—chiefly of interest to wives who support disabled and pensioned veterans—is contained in the budget, finance department officials said Wednesday.

The clause provides that "the exemption from income of an individual in respect to a spouse supported by him shall not be reduced because of the exempt income of the spouse."

This does not change in any way the provision of former years under which a person could claim full exemption for a spouse not making more than $250 a year.

Any amount of $250 earned by a wife, for instance, is still subtracted from the husband's exemption. Thus, if she earns $350, he can only claim $1,900 exemption for her.

Where the clause does apply is in a case where money received by the dependent is tax-exempt. The most frequent example is a husband on pension.

Pension Size Unimportant

Under this provision it doesn't matter how big the pension may be, none of the amount need to be subtracted from the exemption claimed by the wife who supports her husband.

Previous to the change, a veteran's pension was considered in the same class as earnings. If he received a pension of say, $600 a year, his wife's exemption would be reduced by $350—the difference between $250 and the pension.

The finance department brought out another point on income tax which hasn't been decided yet.

Last year a wife could earn up to $750 without her husband losing his married status as an income taxpayer.

A department official said it is possible the figure may be raised to $1,000 this year.

No School Holiday

TORONTO, March 24 (CP). — Special activities in Ontario schools will mark Newfoundland's entry into Confederation March 31 as Canada's 10th Province Education Minister Porter said on Wednesday night that classes arranged specially for that day and, in many schools, probably for the entire week during which Newfoundland becomes a province, will deal with Newfoundland's geography and history. There will be no school holiday.

Turns Up For Trial

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Harold Bretnall, a missing figure in the current city wire-tapping investigation, turned up Wednesday. The short, stocky Bretnall, 51, has been sought in 13 states since the alleged wire-tapping plot against high city officials was disclosed more than a week ago. Bretnall in a court appearance was released in $2,500 bail as a material witness in the probe.

Extend Rent Controls

WASHINGTON, March 24 AP) —The United States Senate Wednesday night passed a "home rule" bill to extend rent controls 12 to 15 months and allow some rent boosts up to 10 per cent. The vote was 68 to 10. Under the "home rule" provision, States would be permitted to remove rent curbs. Cities and towns would also be allowed to end control in their areas when the State Governor approved

Bee Hive Syrup is So Yummy and so Comfy in the Tummy!

FEWER DIGESTIVE UPSETS WITH EASILY DIGESTED BEE HIVE GOLDEN CORN SYRUP

Because it is rich in dextrose and maltose—a most desirable form of carbohydrate for the modification of milk—Bee Hive Syrup is widely used and recommended for baby's bottle. Another reason for its popularity in infant diets, and in the diets of growing children and adults, is that it is so easy to digest, and provides energy food in quickly usable form.

Bee Hive Syrup is convenient and economical, too—for extra saving order the five-pound economy tin.

Couple Honored At Gay Party

NORWOOD, March 24—(ENS)—One hundred friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miles on Friday evening. Mrs. Miles was formerly Doris Munro.

Dancing, card games, a step dance by Archie Miles Sr., and songs by William Crowe formed the evening's entertainment.

Gifts including a purse of money were received by the couple.

Leslie Crowe was in charge of the arrangements and lunch was served by the women.

A RARE TREAT INDEED—All political parties were represented when the Easter Seal Campaign was officially opened in Ottawa with the Prime Minister St. Laurent buying the first sheet from "Timmy," eleven-year-old crippled boy who is represented on the Easter Seals as being typical of the work done by Service Clubs and their Society for Crippled Children in alleviating the crippling conditions amongst afflicted youngsters. Autographing the Seals for "Timmy" are left to right Prime Minister St. Laurent; Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative Party Whip; Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, and M. J. Coldwell, C. C. F. Leader. Eighty-five million dollars worth of Easter Seals will go on sale to raise $225,000.00 to aid crippled children.

Smuts' Party Loses Control Of Senate

CAPETOWN, March 24 (AP)—Jan Christian Smuts' United Party lost its one-vote control of the South African Senate Tuesday by expelling one of its own members.

He was Senator M. J. Van H. Brink, who refused to support the United Party's opposition to Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan's color policy.

Malan's Nationalists have demanded the end of native African representation in the parliament, and removal of colored persons from the voting lists.

The United Party's control of the Upper House had been the only bar to this program. The Nationalists now will have control of the Upper House as well as the Lower to push it.

Peace Talks Near, Reds Say

NANKING, March 24—(AP)—The Communist radio heard here said "peace negotiations will take place very soon."

It was the first public announcement by the Communists' that they have decided to talk peace, although other broadcasts have hinted at such a move.

The statement was incorporated in a scathing attack on Acting President Li Tsung-jen and Premier Ho Ying-chin and his new cabinet. The radio asserted the "Kuomintang (Government Party) leaders will now have an opportunity to prove their real desire for peace."

Earlier an adviser to the President had said the negotiations would take place shortly after the government names its peace delegates.

Board Of Trade Holds Ladies' Night Dinner

NORWOOD, March 24 (ENS) Seventy people sat down to dinner in Norwood Town Hall for the Board of Trade Ladies' Night on Monday. Seated at the head table with the president, Dr. A. R. Atkinson and Mrs. Atkinson, were: Mrs. T. Dewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Caskey, the Rev. C J. Carroll, Don Landry, Arthur Jones, Mr and Mrs. Earl Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brethen and Miss Jean Stenton, guest speaker, who chose as her topic Behind the Scenes in China.

Don Landry of Peterborough, sang to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. J. H. Caskey.

Dr. A. R. Atkinson stated that last year's arrangements for swimming in the dam would be repeated this year and steps would be taken to engage the same instructress.

J. J. Stewart moved a vote of thanks to the members of the Catholic Women's League, who served the dinner. G. A. Brethen proposed a vote of thanks to Miss Stenton.

Two films were shown with Mr. Earl Hamblin at the controls.

Three Train Coaches Derailed, None Hurt

TORONTO, March 24—(CP)—A three-car Canadian National Railways passenger train was derailed today near Georgetown, Ont., 30 miles west of here, but no one was injured, company officials reported. Cause of the mishap was not immediately known.

There were few passengers on the train, en route from suburban Burlington to Allandale, Ont. They were transferred to other cars sent from Beeton, 32 miles northeast of Georgetown.

The engine, an express car, mail car, and day coach were derailed, tearing up more than 300 feet of track.

Officials said the local line would be repaired by midnight.

Film Actress Busy 'Till 1950

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 24 (AP) —Whether or not she wins the Academy Award tonight, Jane Wyman will have a loaded schedule.

"I figure to have my first day off about Jan. 2, 1950," she told me. As soon as she finishes "The Octopus and Miss Smith," she sails for Britain to do an Alfred Hitchcock thriller, "Stage Fright." Then she returns to Warners for the daughter role in "Glass Menagerie."

Lina Romay, who left Xavier Cugat's South American tour in Venezuela, denied having a tiff with the maestro. However, the singer-actress indicates she won't appear with Cugie again. She reports the Latins preferred United States tunes to the Cugat-style rhumbas. "They're wild about 'Buttons and Bows,' " she said.

Roy Rogers is getting ready to convert to a new Trigger, his famed hoss is pushing 12 years of age and getting near retirement. The Ohio cowpoke will introduce a Trigger, Jr., in "The Golden Stallion." Actually, the young nag is no relation.

Nelson Eddy and Dorothy Kirsten again replace the Al Jolson Show this summer. Jolson quits on his birthday, May 26. Just which birthday is a matter of local debate. Jolson says it'll be 61. Other estimates range up to 67 or more.

Says Law Courts Ignore Hansard

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Eng., March 24—(CP)—Members of Parliament have come face to face with the harsh fact that, officially, it doesn't matter what they say in the Commons.

In brief, the courts which interpret the law are not interested in Hansard. The law is concerned only with the austere votes and proceedings which reports the decisions of Parliament and ignores the debate.

Speaker Douglas Clifton Brown reminded the House of the true position when a member protested that Hansard had made a mistake in its report of proceedings by showing as lost, York city building on the site of the 1939 World's Fair at nearby Flushing Meadows. Commons staff.

Between performances there, rehearsal stages will be operating at U. N.'s permanent headquar- instead of carried, a bill amendment.

The votes and proceedings correctly showed the amendment was carried.

"I want to point out that Hansard has no effect whatsoever on the proceedings of this House and no authority" said the speaker. "Neither is Hansard accepted in the courts of law."

Hansard was correctly called "the official report of Parliamentary debates." This meant it was report prepared by reporters officially appointed as part of the WHEELCHAIR WEDDING—Warren Coffer, 26, paralyzed by a German sniper's bullet in 1944, refused to let crutches bar his romance as he took as his bride Miss Virginia Maserang, paralyzed by polio at the age of ten. Rev. J. Frank Norris, who performed the marriage ceremony in Fort Worth, Tex., here holds out the Bible so that both can place their hands on it though seated in wheelchairs.

Witnesses Give Description Of Shooting

COCHRANE, March 24—(CP)—The trial of Romeo Brassard, charged with wife-murder, resumed here today after the court Tuesday had heard two crown witnesses describe the revolver-shooting of Marie Brassard in a cabin near Hearst.

Mrs. Fernand Lambert, common-law wife of the cabin-owner, quoted Brassard as having said "she deserved it," after Marie Brassard lay fatally shot on the living room floor.

The woman, who is expecting a child and gave her testimony with her physician standing by, said Mrs. Brassard had called out to her earlier from the bedroom in which she and her husband had gone after returning from a hotel in Hearst.

She said that although Brassard had stood with his back against the door, Fernand Lambert had managed to push it open and grasp Brassard's left wrist. A shot was fired and Lambert ran outdoors, she said.

"Mrs. Brassard staggered out into the living room and fell to the floor," the witness said. Brassard fired at her.

Denies Prostitute

Asked by defence counsel W. Inch if she knew Mrs. Brassard was a prostitute, Mrs. Lambert replied: "No."

She said she had heard that Rachel Daigle, who lived with the Lamberts, was a prostitute. "But she didn't practice at my house," she added.

"Are you a prostitute?" asked counsel.

"I stopped when Rachel came to the house," said Mrs. Lambert.

Earlier Lambert had told Mr. Inch that Rachel Daigle came to live at the cabin because of his wife's condition. That was about three weeks before the shooting February 19.

He denied defence counsel's suggestion that there were two men in the house when the Brassards and Lamberts returned home from Hearst.

Two Accidents Occur At Street Corners

Driving at the intersection of Charlotte and Downie streets in the rain Tuesday night, John Evans, 360 Armstrong Drive, did not see John Cavanagh, 320 Maitland Ave., who was crossing the road. When Mr. Maitland signalled to the driver the bonnet of the car struck his hand, cutting his thumb. Mr. Evans took Mr. Cavanagh to a doctor who put three stitches in the thumb.

Another street accident in the city during Tuesday night's rain storm occured at Hunter and Aylmer streets. Two cars driven by Mrs. Nora Ruth, 1216 Kenneth Ave. and Kenneth Cardwell, 220 Brock St. collided. A fender of Mrs. Ruth's car was crushed, a head lamp and bumper were broken and the radiator was damagd. In addition to a crushed fender and broken head lamp, the engine head of Mr. Cardwell's car was cracked, the radiator was damaged, the steering wheel was bent.

To Make Clothing For Indian School

MILLBROOK, March 24—(ENS)—St. Thomas' Women's Association decided at the March meeting Monday to make two girls' dresses and knit boys' knee socks for the Old Sun Indian School in Manitoba in answer to a request for these articles.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Westmacott with Mrs. A. F. Chevis in the chair and Mrs. W. E. Massey-Cooke assisting the leader with the worship service.

The treasurer reported a letter from the Diocesan W. A. asking for an increase in pledge money for the current year. A discussion on finances led to the decision to remit half the pledge money now, and to make a special effort to meet the added obligation.

Mrs. J. W. Hilton reported that all articles for the bale to be sent in April are ready.

Mrs. MacLean reported Junior W. A. meetings held regularly and an undertaking to hold a public meeting after Easter, when there will be a display of the juniors' work and a program.

Mrs. H. A. Turner reported for the visiting committee and, with Miss M. L. Collins, will continue in this office for April.

India was the subject of study, Mrs. Chevis covering the chapter from the book, and Miss Rose Macnamara adding up-to-date notes from the Living Message and the Canadian Churchman.

Supper hostesses were Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Chevis.

Horticulturists Study Ornamental Shrubs

Leslie Hancock, of Port Credit, will discuss ornamental shrubs for the home at the meeting of the Horticultural Society Monday, March 28 at the YWCA.

"We have never had this subject presented before," W. C. Wilks, secretary, comments. "For that reason it should be all the more interesting and attractive. Mr. Hancock is a landscape gardener and proprietor of a thriving nursery. This is the first time he has spoken in this area, and we are hoping for a large attendance. Non-members of the society are cordially invited. This applies also to new home owners, and generally to all those planning to improve their home surroundings. The meeting is at 8 o'clock."

Mr. Wilks says that Miss Evelyn Scott of the Department of Agriculture office is accepting membership fees again this year. She has received a number already. Preparations are under way for the annual flower show.

'In cooperation with the Peterborough and District Gladiolus Society it will occupy two full days and will include several commercial displays that should be of interest to all flower lovers."

Reducing Oleo Coloring Will Not Affect Sale Grocers, Housewives Say

Plans of the Government of Ontario, as announced in the Legislature on Wednesday by Welfare Minister Goodfellow, to restrict the color content of oleomargarine will make little or no difference in its saleability, so long as the present considerable difference in the price of margarine and butter continues. This appeared to be the consensus of opinion of a number of retail grocers and housewives queried on the subject today by the Examiner.

"I will definitely still continue to buy margarine," said Mrs. Joseph Brown, 816 Water Street. She stated that she had been buying some butter since margarine went on sale, but that her purchases had been mostly of margarine and would continue in that ratio as long as the price differential remained. She said, however, that there would have to be at least some coloring in the margarine; it would really make a difference to her if there were no coloring at all.

"I can't understand why they are doing it," was the reaction of Mrs. M. E. Berg, 499 Albert street. "It won't make any difference to me; even if they took the coloring out altogether I would still buy more of it than butter and color it myself." The big difference in price would still be the determining factor with her, she said.

Opinion of Grocers

Most grocers called by the Examiner thought that reducing the coloring of margarine would make practically no difference in sales of the product, which they said had taken a firm hold on the consuming public since its sale was legalized. It might affect sales to some extent, as there is still a big difference in the prices of margarine and butter, in spite of recent reductions in the price of butter.

Sales of creamery butter had slumped very considerably since oleomargarine went on sale, several grocers informed the Examiner, with sales of the butter substitute far exceeding butter sales. They expressed the view that there would have to be a still further narrowing of the price gap before butter purchases would jump again.

When it comes to the angle of taste, nine-tenths of his customers say they cannot notice any difference between the two, one grocer stated.

Don't Want Ivory Coloring

Another grocer said that if the coloring of margarine was reduced too much it could well affect its sale, as people buy "more through their eyes than their mouths." If the final result turns out to be some shade of ivory, such as has been predicted in British Columbia where similar legislation was also introduced Wednesday, sales would be very apt to fall off.

Several suggested that the bill was an obvious attempt to placate the dairy farmers, bitter foes of margarine sale for 50 years or more.

38 Businesses Added In Six Months

Dunn and Bradstreets, the financial credit registry firm, has counted 38 new businesses of all kinds in Peterborough during the last six months. Most of them have been in the retail category, as reported by the company's representative today to City Clerk Outram.

Apparently demand for retailing accommodation here is still in excess of supply, and it can hardly be said that the business saturation point has been reached here.

The assessment department in their summary for the year ending Sept. 30 last listed 1018 businesses of all kinds in the city. Their group numbers were: stores and shops 452; offices 190; banks and loan companies 18; hotels 8; theatres 4; manufacturing plants 158; garages and service stations 76; funeral parlors 7.

Greenhouses 5; laundries 7; wholesale businesses 19; ice, coal and wood firms 30; oil depots 6; restaurants and refreshment stands 37.

REPORT FROM GERMANY

The Peterborough Examiner's story on the first German war bride to settle here, Mrs. Paula Manley of 356 Armstrong Dr., was picked up by her hometown newspaper, the Nordwestdeutsche Rundschau. Reporter Wilhelm Werner of Wilhelmshaven sent a tear sheet of his story to the Editor which ran about a quarter of a column. It was headed "From Voslapp to Canada". Voslapp is a suburb of Wilhelmshaven. He also sent a very nice letter with it expressing appreciation of the publicity given Mrs. Manley.

NEW CANADIANS GET CERTIFICATES, grade three class, for proficiency in their studies of basic English and citizenship in Peterborough night school at the PCVS classes. Out of a class of 60 students, 30 were presented with their certificates on Wednesday evening at the Queen Mary School auditorium. Sponsored by the Home and School Association, His Worship Mayor Max J. Swanston, Board of Education members and church dignitaries proffered congratulations and inspiration. Typical of the group, shown above, Left to Right, are Mrs. (Dr.) A. Jung, Mrs. Jolana Horvarth and Maria Marziarczyk.

English Course Certificates Given New Canadians

Thirty new Canadian citizens who have been studying basic English and Canadian citizenship at Peterborough Collegiate, Wednesday became proud possessors of grade three certificates. At an informal meeting at Queen Mary School sponsored by the Home and School Association the certificates, which are presented to students reaching a certain standard of proficiency enabling them to converse in the English language, were presented by Harvey Wilson, instructor of the senior class, and Miss Helen Bonnycastle, also responsible for a class.

B. W. Switzer, assistant principal of PCVS night school classes, said that the classes had been held since September, 1947. Students who had reached grade three standard had mastered a vocabulary in basic English of 800 words. The certificates did not signify graduation, and he hoped that the students would continue their studies.

Mr. Wilson wanted the new Canadians to have every facility for becoming well acquainted with life in a democratic country and he thought there were a number of organizations in Peterborough which could contribute towards the welfare of these people.

Mr. Switzer remarked that the Y.W.C.A. and the National Employment Service had done a great deal to help the newcomers.

Bishop Gerald Berry told the students "we want you to become good Canadians." No one in Canada could not say that his ancestors were not, at some time, new Canadians. It just happened that those who came after the war, were the newest.

Canada was not asking these people to shake off the habits of gaiety, songs, religions and customs of their native countries. He did, however, hope they would continue to work towards becoming Canadians. They could not achieve this in a few months. It took many years but when they became good Canadians, they would have a prize they would want to keep.

Max Swanston, Mayor of Peterborough and Frank Jobbitt, chairman of the Board of Education, congratulated the students on reaching the first milestone.

The presentations were preceded by songs sung by Helen Hajnik accompanied at the piano by Gwen Craw.

Roman Chimiak, who received a certificate, had a 100 per cent attendance record for two terms and Miss Edwarda Zacharko had attended every class for one term. Others to whom certificates were awarded were:

Maria Marziarczyk, Frank Baranowski, Miss Grasilda Gladutyte, John Horvath, Mrs. Jolana Horvath, Miss Jolanda Houck, Jan Karas, Miss Aldona Laugaliene, Jan Reszka, Miss Agnes Ranniste, Mrs. Velta Rokis, Francis J. Sobotka, John Tokarz, Josef Wolski, Stefan Wedrinski, Mrs. Elisabeth Yung, Dr. Anton Yung, Milan Zecevic.

Mrs. Zuidersma van Thul, Cyeril van Thul, Francha Zidar, Josie Pugely, Maria Maziarazyk, Veronica Lionowics, Marianna Cieptucha, Barbara Stachowick, Anna Medvd, Wirwe Muttick and Aaltja de Vries.

Mrs. Clare Collins, president of the Home and School Association, received a bouquet of carnations, presented by one of the students.

The evening's entertainment included a film. Conveners of refreshments were Mrs. Ralph Honey and Mrs. Robert Allen.

Lodge Complaint On Parked Cars

Residents of Prince St. have asked the council to restrain Williamson Brothers, garage and service station proprietors, George St. south, from "parking cars on Prince St. and using it for business purposes".

They complain in their petition that both used and new cars are parked on the street, as well as other vehicles awaiting repair. The appeal Monday was signed by 26 residents of Prince St., including John H. Johnston, E. Burton, Elgin Williamson and F. C. Leach.

Mr. Leach personally represented the signing residents. The petition was referred to the board of works. It was suggested in council that Williamson Bros. might possibly secure necessary parking space in the Exhibition property, only a short block away.

Council adopted a recommendation of the legal committee limiting to half an hour the parking of cars on George St. between Prince and Princess Streets.

TRAPPING POOR

Veteran trappers report results in muskrat trapping have been poor during the first few days. They blame the slow start on the run on the ice which is still in the marshes. The rat season began on Monday and runs until April 21.

CYCLISTS WARNED

City police have noticed a number of children riding bicycles for which they have neither lamps nor licences. A group of boys found cycling in the dark without lamps is being warned by City Police Chief Thompson that in future, offenders will be prosecuted.

PASS FIRST TESTS

Douglas Gledhill, James Knox, Larry Stewart, Robert Hornal, passed their first swimming test at the YMCA Wednesday. They swam one length of the pool. This qualifies them to attend the Tadpole class, leaving the non-swimmers class.

FORMER LINDSAY RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Amos Wright, a former resident of Lindsay and Oshawa, died on Monday at the home of her daughter in Cartwright Twp. Mrs. Wright was born in the Swamp Lake district of Haliburton 75 years ago. While her husband was alive she resided in Lindsay for a time and then for 15 years in Oshawa.

PLAYING ON ICE

Several children were seen playing on the ice at the edge of the Otonabee River at Inverlea Park Wednesday evening. After two or three people on the bridge had called to the children to stay off the ice, a man had to go over and order them away.

END FOX BOUNTIES

Since the beginning of the year hunters have found a bonanza in red fox pelts; but there is soon to be an end to that. On March 31 the county will discontinue paying the present $3 bounty on each pelt brought in. By that time it is expected that more than 1,000 pelts will have been brought in for the bounty money. After that date foxes may be killed but there will be no cash award.

Warm Reception Given Kinsmen Play

By ROBERTSON DAVIES.

Lennox Robinson's comedy of Irish country life "The Far-Off Hills" was performed in the PCVS auditorium by the People's Repertory Theatre under the auspices of the local Kinsmen Club on Wednesday night. The audience by no means filled the hall but those who were present gave the play a warm reception and showed that they were well pleased with it.

The theme of the play, summed up in the adage from which the title is taken, is that "Far off hills look green." Marion Clancy, who is tied down by duty to her blind father and her younger sisters, imagines that she wants to be a nun. Harold Mahony, whose wife is in a hospital for the insane, thinks that his happiness would be complete if he could marry Marion. But when all barriers to the achievement of these desires are swept away, they find that they were deceiving themselves. The play is in the vein of pleasant Irish humour which Lennox Robinson uses with so much skill and taste.

The company was an able one. Dawn Kerr played the chief role of Marion briskly, and contrived to be domineering without being unpleasant. Dedena Morello gave a well-rounded performance as the amiable Susie Tynan, and Jane Acker showed splendid attack and humour in the small part of Ellen Nolan. The men were all good, and Jack Merigold, Robert Bland, Andrew Anthony and George Luscombe deserve special mention. A word of praise must also be said for the imaginative and pleasing settings.

If we may venture a word in criticism, it might be suggested that the pace of the play was a little too slow, and that the rather odd costumes worn by the women were hardly characteristic of rural Ireland at any time in the present century. The play was written in 1931, and there is little to suggest that it is a period piece.

The People's Repertory Company have made a good beginning in Peterborough, and we hope to see them here again.

Concrete Drain Will Cost $30 a Linear Foot City Engineer Tells Council

Thirty dollars a linear foot is the estimated cost of the Park St. concrete drain as reported to the council by City Engineer A. E. Chalmers. This is one of the projects which Mayor M. J. Swanston with members of the council have placed close to the top of the list of municipal works to be done this year. At least that is the present wish and intention.

For the filling of the deep ditch on the west side of the road south of A. Wander Co., Ltd., to the river, Mr. Chalmers has suggested a reinforced concrete conduit, six feet by four feet. He told the council that this type of drain would require strength of construction to stand up against weight of traffic that has been developing in surprising volume during the last five years.

Present estimated cost is $98,700 for the 3,290 feet. This was an indication to the council of the outlay involved in the laying of a concrete drain and filling the old ditch as requested by some hundreds of citizens in the area south of Lansdowne St., on either side of Park St. The intentions of the council is to have this job done this year, if possible. The financing would have to be arranged by borrowing money on a debenture issue.

Diversion Of Creek

Ald. Jas. Gillespie asked whether the long proposed diversion of the creek that crosses Western Ave. would reduce the required capacity and cost of the Park St. drain.

"If we had that diversion job done," said Mr. Chalmers, "we would still have half the water in the Park St. drain to take care of."

He said that the creek at Western Ave. wanders over the North Monaghan township boundary. The proposed diversion becomes a somewhat complicated drainage affair by reason of involving the two municipalities. The creek along the west side of the city crosses No. 28 Highway and then turns east over Western Ave. and continues east by south across Monaghan Road, Outboard Marine and Peterborough Lumber and De Laval lands to the corner of Park and Lansdowne Streets.

Successive councils have glanced at the idea of a southbound drain, as mentioned by Ald. Gillespie, but some impending obstacles have so far held up definite and practical consideration.

ATTEND SWIM MEET

Nine members of the YMCA swimming club, Ross Dobbin, Robert Hollingsworth, Barry Hollingsworth, Alec Baptie, Scott Pearton, James Starr, John Boorman, Louie Taylor and Louis McClennan, are going to attend the amateur swimming meet in the Toronto West End YMCA Saturday. They will be accompanied by Harry Baptie, Gordon Dobbin and Gordon Minty.

Badly Crushed Veteran Dies In Hospital

After waging a valiant battle for his life after being jammed between a truck and a freight car at Bancroft, Leo Baptiste, 48, of Toronto and formerly of Bancroft, died in Sunnybrook Veterans' Hospital, Toronto, on Wednesday, where he was rushed following the accident.

Baptiste was injured on Saturday afternoon while unloading lumber from a box car on a siding at Bancroft railway station. The truck in turning around to pick up a load slewed on the icy ground, pinning the victim between it and the freight car. It took section men and workers from the nearby grist mill of Canada Packers, Ltd., some minutes to free him; meantime he was suffering much pain.

Removed to Toronto

The victim was treated at the Bancroft Red Cross Outpost Hospital by Dr. S. S. Lumb before being taken by ambulance to the Toronto hospital, where he underwent an emergency operation, in a futile effort to save his life, on Sunday afternoon. He sustained serious abdominal injuries and chest injuries, doctors said.

Baptiste was a big man, weighing about 250 pounds, and was a veteran of the First Great War. He was unmarried and was the owner of a trucking company. He was born in Baptiste, 60 miles northeast of Peterborough, which was named after his great-grandfather.

Told To Watch Municipalities Gov't Handouts

LONDON, Ont., March 24 — (CP). — Local municipalities are fast losing their right of self-government by perpetually petitioning the Provincial Government for financial "handouts," K. Grant Crawford, director of the Institute of Local Government at Queen's University and former London city clerk, said here Wednesday in addressing the second annual meeting of the Middlesex Municipal Association.

Mr. Crawford, now an alderman in Kingston, warned nearly 100 councillors and officials in Middlesex and its municipalities that "as municipal men, they must resist the temptation to grab for every bit of bait that appears in sight. Even the wild animal, whose intelligence we rate far below our own, learns in time to be wary of the trap.

"We must come to realize that, in the field of government as in every phase of life, it is pretty reliable rule that you can't get something for nothing," Mr. Crawford said.

Mr. Crawford reminded his listeners that provincial subsidies and grants might look like "easy money," but actually was "coming out of our own pockets as provincial taxpayers."

Mr. Crawford did not accuse the Provincial Government of deliberately setting out to lessen the autonomy of government of the local level. He also admitted there were certain advantages to be derived from increasing provincial control and direction among them economy and, in some cases, better service.

Gromyko To Play Every Scene In United Nations' Biggest Show

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 24—(CP)—The curtain goes up April 5 on the United Nations' biggest show—"The General Assembly."

The dramatic conflict this year as previously, will be: East vs. West.

The cast is largely unknown, too. Star of the show is bound to be Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet Union's Chief Deputy Foreign Minister with a propensity for saying "no." For people in the western world, he'll be the villian.

But the hero's role hasn't been definitely cast. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of the United Kindom, outspoken former union organizer. Scholarly Dean Acheson, United States Secretary of State, may be part-time performers. They're naturals for the main contra-Gromyko billing.

Act I (Africa)—

Scene 1—What nation gets Italy's former colonies in North Africa?

Scene 2—Are South Africa's Indians getting a fair deal?

Act II (Europe)—

Scene 1—Why can't the big four get together in Germany?

Scene 2—What can be done to resettle Europe's millions of war refugees?

Scene 3—Were recent trials of churchmen behind the iron curtain an infringement of human rights, and what can U. N. do about it?

Scene 4 — Is Generalissimo Franco of Spain a good man or a bad?

Act III (Asia—

Scene 1—Has the Netherlands been handling its Indonesian problem correctly?

Act IV (Western Hemisphere)—

Scene 1—How can the living conditions of American aborigines be improved?

Act V (Scene Indeterminate)—

Scene 1—Shall U. N. have its own police force to help keep the peace?

Scene 2—How can co-operation among the nations be increased?

Scen 3—What can U.N. do to make sure information passes freely among nations?

In Every Act

Gromyko, recently appointed to his post as Senior Deputy Foreign Minister, is expected to be in the cast from beginning to end. His understudy will be Jakob Malik, Russia's permanent delegate on U. N.'s Security council.

Bevin's understudy will be Hector McNeil, Britain's Minister of state and full-time U.N. delegate. Acheson's supporting cast from the United States will probably include Warren B. Austin and John Foster Dulles, with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at backstage.

Stage for "General Assembly" will be the same used previously in New York—the former New ters at Lake Success. Scenes for the big show will be thrashed out first at meetings of the six permanent committees: Political and Security, Economic and Financial, Humanitarian and Cultural, Social, Trusteeship and Legal.

The American robin is not a robin, but a thrush.

Young Veteran Dies In Own Electric Chair

ARLINGTON, Mass., March 24 —(AP)—A young war veteran attired in black pyjamas was found dead Tuesday night in a self-rigged electric chair in the attic of his home.

Medical examiner David C. Dow said John Costa, 21, was a suicide by electrocution.

Police said that Costa strapped himself in the chair before sending a powerful shock through his body.

The electrical contact was made by rigging electrodes at his neck and feet to a radio set.

When the set was snapped on, police said, the full load of electricity passed through his body.

The medical examiner expressed the opinion that death was instantaneous. There were deep burns in the neck and feet.

FOOD FOR STRIKERS—Montreal members of the Confederation of Catholic Workers of Canada are rounding up food to be sent to striking colleagues and their families in Asbestos, Que. Left to right, Camille Periard, Guy Magnan and Leo Boucher, three officials of Montreal CCWC affiliates, are shown carrying some of the foodstuffs into Assistance Publique Hall, where it is being stored.

Consider Rail Fare

MONTREAL, March 24 (CP)—Whether the railways will follow the lead of Trans-Canada Air Lines and decide on an increase in fares equal to the reduction in transportation tax was unknown to-day after a meeting of the Railway Association of Canada Wednesday night adjourned without announcement. A spokesman said the meeting of Canadian railway representatives, called to consider the effect of the Federal budgt, would continue Thursday.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, March 24—The history of food preparation is the happy story of constant simplification of meal preparation. That, and the improving of flavour enjoyment. And one of the most wonderful developments in the world of food is SHIRRIFF'S GINGERBREAD MIX! It's truly delicious — tastes even better than the gingerbread grandma was so proud of — but unlike grandma's gingerbread, you don't have to buy a lot of ingredients . . . molasses — flour — eggs — spices — they're all there! And you don't have hours of work with a lot of clearing away and washing up to do! All you do is add water to Shirriff's Gingerbread Mix, beat for a few moments and then pop it into the oven. It's so very simple! Once you've "discovered" Shirriff's Gingerbread Mix — you can have all the fun of making gingerbread — none of the fuss and bother!

Yours For The Asking . . . a complete set of standard-size recipe cards . . . each card featuring delicious ways to use LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK in your cooking! To "cook with Libby's" is one of the surest ways I know to boost your "Good Cooking Quotient"! For Libby's Evaporated Milk is so rich it whips — it adds a world of flavour — smoothness — nourishment — to any milk dish! Libby's is pure, country-fresh milk with all the original cream left in and half the water removed. It's ideal for your cooking, baking and beverage making — when the recipes call for milk or cream. So for easy-to-find tips on how to make scrumptious ice-cream, sauces, desserts . . . simply write to me for your free set of Libby Recipe Cards! Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Over The Tea Cups . . . Across The Bridge Table, women love to pass on their favourite recipes. Here is a favourite of mine — these delicious Brownies. But to get the really thrilling chocolate flavour you want, be sure to bake them with BAKER'S UNSWEETENED CHOCOLATE — the chocolate that's all pure high-quality chocolate.

BROWNIES

2/3 cup sifted flour
½ tsp. Calumet Baking Powder
¼ tspn. salt
1/3 cup butter or other shortening
2 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
½ cup chopped walnut or pecan meats
1 tspn. vanilla

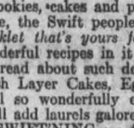
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt; sift again. Melt shortening and chocolate over boiling water. Add sugar gradually to eggs, beating thoroughly, then add chocolate mixture and blend. Add flour and mix well, then add nuts and vanilla. Bake in greased pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches, in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 35 minutes. While still warm cut in rectangles. Remove from pan; cool on cake rack. Makes 2 dozen brownies.

A New Dress For Just A Few Cents? Yes, you can make an old, faded dress look like new with the "colour magic" in a package of Tintex! For All-fabric Tintex Tints and Dyes are those miracle household dyes that transform faded fabrics of all kinds into colourful beauty. Just think! A wardrobe of dresses dyed to this Spring's newest shades . . . Navy Blue . . . and colours that complement Navy . . . Lavender — Old Rose — Ensign Red. Or you can have — overnight — a bright, new-looking chair cover to bring Spring right into your home . . . and stockings dyed to Fashion's favourite shades! Small wonder I hear of more and more women who keep their homes and wardrobes looking like new with Tintex! And for a complete colour change, there's Tintex Color Remover. Ask for All-fabric TINTEX next time you're shopping — it costs only 15c a package!

Here's A Tempting W, to serve this favourite-for-flavour dish . . . HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS! So good—so mealy and mellow and drenched with a luscious spicy sauce . . . they'll taste "like more" when you serve them this way:—

HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS WITH ONION RINGS

Cut 2 or 3 white onions into thin slices and separate into rings. Lightly brown onions in 2 tbspns. fat. Add 2 tbspns. Heinz Tomato Soup. Heat until onion rings become coated with sauce. Heat contents of a tin of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce. Pour into serving dish. Arrange onion rings in a circle over beans.



How Can A Breakfast Cereal Be So Smoo-oth? I don't know how they make "CREAM OF WHEAT" so lusciously "creamy"... but I'd suggest that you try it for yourself and see what folks mean when they say "It's so smoo-oth!" Truly delicious! And 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" is so very easy to prepare. It cooks to complete digestibility — even for baby — in just five minutes of boiling. It's good for you, too . . . for 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" contains blood-enriching Iron, and provides extra Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. That's why it's such a good idea to make a family habit of smo-o-oth "Cream of Wheat"!

Fun Isn't It, to bake your own cookies, cakes and pies? And to add to your pleasure, the Swift people have put out a new recipe booklet that's yours for the asking! I counted 75 wonderful recipes in it and it made me hungry just to read about such delightful sounding things as Danish Layer Cakes, Egg Rolls, Apricot Nut Bread! All so wonderfully easy to make — these recipes will add laurels galore to your prestige as a good cook. They call for SWIFTNING — the new kind of shortening, which makes baking easier and quicker. Martha Logan, Swift's Home Economist, tells me Swift'ning makes the lightest cakes and flakiest pies imaginable, quickly and easily! She says: "It's both digestible and nutritious." To get your free copy of the Swift'ning Recipe Book — print your name, address, and send with one Swift'ning carton top to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

You'll Want To "get in on" this new discovery too! More and more women are "discovering" delicious KRAFT DINNER, that marvellous macaroni - and - cheese combination that cooks to tasty lightness in only 7 minutes! Yes, it's certainly easy to prepare . . . and it's wonderfully economical! One package of Kraft Dinner contains enough for a main dish for four . . . at just a few pennies a serving! You'll find several helpful suggestions for main dishes on the Kraft Dinner package . . . all of them delicious . . . all of them money savers. So ask your grocer tomorrow for Kraft Dinner . . . it's ideal for Lenten meals . . . and you'll find it now at a new low price!

Cool March Sunshine shows up winter-soiled fabrics rather disconcertingly. But don't worry about that grease stain on your living room couch . . . or the soiled spot on your favourite pastel wool . . . simply use ENERGINE! It's so very simple to use . . . cleans safely without leaving tell-tale rings! For Energine Cleaning Fluid is certain death to grease stains . . . and at the same time, so wonderfully gentle with fabrics of all kinds! Cleans dresses — hats — handbags — upholstery in a jiffy! Just follow the easy instructions for best results. You'll find that, with Energine, you can keep furniture fabrics spot-free and clothes looking like new! You can get Energine for as little as 25c at your drug or department store.

Of Course You're Thrilled over those plans for your early Spring wedding! There are so many exciting things to do — so much shopping — guests to invite . . . and here's something to remember! When it comes to feminine hygiene, thousands of women have found ZONITORS most dainty — most convenient — most effective! Zonitors are greaseless, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories — powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues! You'll find them at drugstores all across Canada . . . and here's something else to help answer your questions about feminine hygiene . . . a FREE BOOKLET giving frank facts on this so-important-to-brides subject! Simply write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q., and I'll send the booklet to you in a plain wrapper.

Blouses Take A Bow when you take to suits in Spring . . . but in order to look their very best, blouses should be fresh as the first Spring crocus! And it's so very easy when you know how! Keep them lovely with LINIT, the "Perfect" Laundry Starch! It's "magical" the way Linit puts the "new" back in clothes! Clothes laundered with Linit stay cleaner longer — and actually wear longer! This is because Linit gently penetrates and protects the fibres of the cloth. It covers and holds down the tiny surface hairs that catch the dust. So for that "daisy-fresh" look that goes so well with Spring sunshine . . . launder your blouses with Linit! It's the very starch for your home furnishings, too! Curtains — bedspreads . . . look perky and pretty after a Linit-laundering!

Find Missing Pair

MINNEAPOLIS, March 24 (AP) —Milton Babich and Kathleen Birmingham, sister of a slain West Allis, Wis., girl, is wanted in West Allis on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He and Kathleen, who is 17, eloped last Friday—two days before the body of Patricia Birmingham was found in the Milwaukee river.

Cancel Laski Talk

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Prof. Harold J. Laski, former chairman of the British Labor party, arrived Wednesday for a lecture tour and was informed that the University of California at Los Angeles had cancelled his two scheduled appearances there. Laski said "I have done nothing to make the University of California mad."

Fear Butter Damage

VANCOUVER, March 24 (CP) —The National Dairy Council Wednesday at its annual meeting predicted "serious damage" to the dairy industry from the sale of margerine. Lea Marshall of Fergus, Ont., said the butter substitute was responsible for a 10-14 cent drop in first-grade butter prices in Ontario, and "butter sales have dropped 50 per cent in some places."

Turn Down Request

LONDON, March 24 (AP) — A high government source said Wednesday Britain probably will turn down a request by King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan for British troops to patrol a 50-mile sector of that country's frontier with Israel. Trans-Jordan made the request for help from Britain last Thursday under their military assistance pact.

Rule Out Foul Play

WHALEBONE CORNER, Essex, England, March 24 (AP)—Police Wednesday night ruled out foul play in the death of a woman whose body lay undiscovered for 10 years in a crumbling, secluded cottage. The skeleton, clad in old clothes, was found in the debris-strewn home of Ada Constance Kent, 66, actress-recluse who was last seen in 1939.

2 Sisters Asphyxiated

MONTREAL, March 24 (CP)—Two middle-aged sisters who left notes saying they "were tired of living" were found asphyxiated in a west-end apartment here on Wednesday night. Police said death was caused by gas emanating from five open jets on a gas stove. The victims were Mrs. Jean Douglas, 52, and Mrs. Jessie Delaney, 56.

SAVE THE COUPONS FOR VALUABLE PREMIUMS

STAMP MAN—Kasimir Bileski of Winnipeg was the major purchaser among stamp dealers at Hamilton, Bermuda, recently when the government auctioned off a billion stamps seized as contraband during the War. Mr. Bileski paid more than $20,000 of the $40,000 the prize court realized from the sale. In 1946 he purchased part of the famous collection of President Roosevelt. Apart from stamps, he also has collected letters once saved by Hitler.

Stamp Hobby Full-Time Job

By SAMUEL SOLOMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, March 24 (CP)—Forty-year-old Kasimir Bileski is a man who made a childhood hobby pay off.

A "bug" on stamps in his youth, Bileski now is regarded as one of the foremost stamp authorities and operators in the country. Millions upon millions of stamps pass through his hands, and that's in a literal sense.

Only a few weeks ago, Bileski purchased approximately 300,000,000 stamps at an auction in Hamilton, Bermuda. He was the major buyer at a government sale of contraband stamps. His purchases—their weight ran to about 1½ tons—cost about $20,000.

Bileski, who received about 1,000 letters weekly in his mail order stamp business, was a school teacher in Saskatchewan before he decided in 1931 to turn his avocation into a full-time job.

Doctor Clients

Bileski says that most of his clients are "older people" and that they include "an enormous amount of doctors." Bileski considers that one of the values of stamp collecting, where children are involved, is that it served to "counteract this comic book craze."

He calculates that there are about 120,000 varieties of stamps—that would be the single collection with one of every possible type of stamp. And he estimates the value of such a collection, if it were possible for any one person to gather all the stamps involved, at $1,500,000.

Bileski has his own private stamp collection as well as an assortment of letter covers. In the latter category, he prizes a number of envelopes and notes once in the hands of Hitler.

One envelope carried no address. It has a cartoon of Hitler's face atop a gorilla's body and apparently was delivered to the German leader without trouble. Another envelope that Hitler apparently had saved was addressed to: "Adolf Hitler, Master of the World."

Says Corporation Tax Violates Agreement

TORONTO, March 24—(CP)—Provincial Treasurer Frost said Wednesday in the Ontario Legislature the Federal Government's action in increasing corporation taxes was a "direct violation" of the spirit of the Dominion-Provincial tax agreement.

The agreement provided that the Dominion undertook to reduce its rate of tax on corporation incomes by "at least 10 per cent."

In his budget address Tuesday night Finance Minister Abbott proposed to tax corporations 33 per cent on profits over $10,000. Previously the Federal Government levied a flat 30-per-cent tax on all incomes.

"In the net result, the gain to the Dominion of Canada in revenue from corporations in the amount of $8,500,000 will come mostly from Ontario," Mr. Frost said.

The Minister's proposal would "trespass on the minimum corporation tax reduction to which the Dominion Government agreed in the 1942 Tax Suspension Act."

Parents To Give Prize To Highest Student

MARMORA, March 24—(ENS)—Home and School Association of Marmora Public School will give a prize again to the pupil obtaining the highest standing at the June entrance examination. This was announced by Mrs. G. W. Chrysler, president, at a meeting of the Association Tuesday.

The teachers organized a contest which was won by the Rev. G. D. Young. A. W. McGuire, BA, inspector of public schools for Centre Hastings, was introduced by the principal, E. C. Prentice. Mr. Young spoke about the value of education to children and adults. He mentioned the responsibility of parents, in encouraging their children.

Doubts Seaway Action

WASHINGTON, March 24 (CP)—The majority leader in the House of Representatives said on Wednesday he doubts Congress will act on the St. Lawrence Seaway project during the current session. Representative John W. McCormack (Dem.-Mass.) made the prediction in a letter to interested parties in Massena, NY. He held out some hope that Seaway legislation will be studied in the final days of the session. But he added: "It is my opinion that it will probably not come up this session at all."

J. R. Turnbull Heads Chinchilla Breeders

J. R. Turnbull was re-elected president of the Trent Valley Chinchilla Breeders Association on Monday evening. Their annual meeting was held at the Department of Agriculture conference room G. R. Schwab was elected vice- president, F. G. Leahy, secretary-treasurer, S. M. Ward and K. Finnie, directors.

Main speaker of the evening was Eric Gunter, inspector for National Chinchilla Breeders of Canada. He gave a very interesting address on activities of the Association based on observations of his first tour across Canada.

Mr. Schwab spoke on the procedure of show judging and was able to give his talk impact by showing a large collection of trophies which his animals had won. There are 25 members in the Trent Valley Association and officials estimate that at present they are raising about 400 animals.

NEW CUSTODIANS—The graves of four Canadian airmen who died during the war in British Guinea have new custodians. Located at Atkinson Field, Hyde Park, the graves have been attended by US troops stationed at the field. Now with the departure of the US force, this duty has been assumed by the British Guinea Volunteer Force. A Canadian flag, gift of Viscount Alexander, Canada's governor-general, has replaced the Stars and Stripes flying over the cemetery. The Canadians, who flew with the RAF Ferry Command, were Fit. Sgt. F. A. R. Milbury of Centreville, NB; Sgt. H. D. G. Ward of St. Lambert, Que.; PO K. F. Probert of Moose Jaw; and PO R. F. Stubner of Million, Man. These photos show the US flag being lowered, left, and the Red Ensign being raised, right.

British Guiana To Tend Graves Of Four Canucks

By BURCHELL O. WILLS
Canadian Press Correspondent

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (CP)—A Canadian flag, the gift of Canada's governor-general, flies over a small plot containing the graves of four Canadian airmen killed in British Guiana during the Second World War.

The Canadian flag — given to United States authorities by Viscount Alexander when he visited the base last year—replaced the Stars and Stripes in a simple but impressive ceremony in which U.S. and British authorities participated recently.

The ceremony was in line with a general U.S. policy to de-activate the base at Atkinson Field, where the four airmen were killed in two separate air crashes.

It marked transference of the care of the graves of the victims from the Americans to the British Guiana Volunteer Force.

The Canadians, who flew with the R.A.F. ferry command, were Sgt. F. A. R. Milbury of Centreville, N.B., and Sgt. H. D. G. Ward of St. Lambert, Que., respectively pilot and navigator of an aircraft which crashed here in May 20, 1943; and PO. K. F. Probert of Moose Jaw, navigator, and PO. R. F. Stubner, of Million, Man., wireless air gunner, of a Marauder bomber which crashed April 11, 1944, when their engine cut out during a take-off.

Buried in the same plot were PO S. Blackburn of the RAF and Capt. H. C. Weibene, a US civilian, who were killed in the latter crash.

To participate in the ceremony, Col. William B. Keese, chief of staff of the Antilles Air Division, flew from Puerto Rico. Others present included Sir Charles Woolley, Governor of British Guiana, and Lady Woolley; Col. E. Reed, commanding officer of Atkinson Field; N. A. Worley, Chief Justice of British Guiana; Col. W. A. Orrett, commandant of the British Guiana local forces, and tL.-Col. E. J. Heywood, officer commanding the colony's volunteer force.

Ceremony At Grave

Units of the British Guiana Volunteer Force and airmen from Atkinson Field and the British Guiana Militia Band formed a hollow square around the graves.

"As we pay homage in our small way to the Canadians buried here" Col. Keese said, "We cannot but try to analyze the feelings and the sentiments behind the planning for this occasion.

"In addition to an overt act of honoring the Canadians who perished in this vicinity in the recent war, I feel that there is a desire on the part of the people at Atkinson to express respect and friendship not only to the Canadians but to all of the people of the United Kingdom. Our statesmen have realized for a long time that our futures were inseparable.

"Here in British Guiana, on land leased to the United States, we have a Canadian cemetery. The complexity of the real estate situation is unimportant, but the symbol of the relations is most important."

"These men," Sir Charles Woolley said, "fought not only for Canada, their country, but for that great common cause — defence of human freedom and liberty — which is so dear to all of us. It is that which made us once again devoted allies with the great American people."

HONOR RESEARCHER — David Aylmer Scott, research member of the Connaught Laboratories at the University of Toronto, who has been elected a fellow of the Royal Society. Mr. Scott is distinguished for his contributions to the chemistry of insulin, heparin and carbonic anhydrase.

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER

Monthly meeting of Municipal Chapter, IODE, was conducted by Mrs. A. W. Turner, regent, prior to the annual dinner meeting held Wednesday evening in the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. W. G. Hall was appointed delegate to the annual meeting at Hamilton in April.

All members of the Order were asked to be available for several hours' work in connection with the TB Chest survey next month.

* * *

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER ANNUAL MEETING

Special commendation was given the work of Mrs. Wm. Nash, Child and Family Welfare convener of Municipal Chapter, IODE, by the regent, Mrs. A. W. Turner, and by secretary Miss Mary Medd in her report of the year's work. Mrs. Nash has been particularly mentioned by the Health League in connection with a nutrition survey made in the local public schools, for carrying out a great deal of the clerical work in this project. From her own report it was noted she had been very active, attending all meetings of the Dental and Health Leagues, as well as attending to all welfare work under her convenership. She reported $2,048 already set aside by the Chapters for furnishings at the new Civic Hospital.

Post war service convener, Mrs. H. Northrop, was given special thanks for her work collecting and packing clothing and food parcels for shipment overseas. Her report listed 237 food parcels valued at $802 and a total of 912 knitted and sewn articles valued more than $600 and 38 quilts and afghans made.

Jeanette Scott Chapter reported the highest average attendance at meetings, 62 per cent.

Organizaion secretary Mrs. G. A. Barns reported an increase of 50 members during the year, to 450. She recommended forming another junior chapter.

Honor to the Chapter was the appointment of Mrs. R. E. Clarke as Provincial standard bearer. Also the acceptance of a corsage of orchids by Lady Alexander, honorary National president, during her visit to Peterborough.

Careless handling of the flag during the Santa Claus parade was reported to the Business Men's Association and a satisfactory and co-operative reply was received. An Empire Day service and flag raising was held at the Little Lake Cemetery by the 57th Regiment Chapter.

Competitive prizes were presented in the PCVS by 57th Regiment and Peter Robinson Chapters. To help finance a promising student for her first year in University, Peter Robinson, Major Bennett, Jeanette Scott and Agnes Neill Chapters have each given $100 or more. Also Lieut.-Col. Agnes Neill Chapter has set up a bursary of $200 to enable a girl to enter training as a nurse. This chapter also arranged a two-week camp holiday for two girls, and the secretary remarked that great credit is due this chapter for it's good work in only four years' existence. Catherine Parr Traill Chapter has donated to the cost of an inhalator for Lakefield village and contributed to worthy projects.

Other reports read were: Standard bearer, Mrs. M. E. Clarke; education, Mrs. C. L. Upper; Echoes, Mrs. G. R. Melton; press and publicity, Miss M. Benson; empire study, Mrs. H. Baker; films, Miss M. Preston; ex-service personnel, Mrs. H. Wilson; and financial, Mrs. J. F. Richardson.

Mission Band Meets

Under supervision of superintendent, Mrs. Keith Fairbairn, Nettie McKenzie Mission Band of Knox Church met in the Primary Room for work book period. Forty-four members attended.

Dorothy Ann Johnston, president, conducted a short business period. Mrs. C. H. Ross was pianist.

Jack Godfrey gave a reading "Here Comes Merch."

Linda Thompson conducted worship service with the theme "Praise God for Doctors and Nurses." Carol Douglas and Karen Osborne lighted candles while Linda gave the call to worship. Arlene Williams read scripture and Maurietta Rosborough led in prayer. Paul Ross and Bobby Barry took up the offering, which was dedicated with prayer.

Member Writes Play

A large crowd attended the concert given in May's School by the Home and School Association Monday evening. Highlight of the program was a three-act play called "Laura's Legacy," written by a member, Mrs. R. Gauntlett, and directed by Mrs. W. McLarnon. Characters were Mesdames E. Ephgrave, R. Williams, E. Succee, J. Todd, C. Porter and J. entertained with a piano medley Chamberlain. Mr. Jim Abraham and was accompanist for soloists. Mabel McLarnon sang "Magic in the Garden" and "Good Night, Sweet Jesus." Mr. A. Marshall sang "Galway Bay" and Mrs. Ed. Johnston contributed a solo. Selections were given by G. Rutherford on the violin and J. Frizzelle on the piano accordion. Tap dancing by Peggy Johnston was much enjoyed. Chairman was the principal, Mr. G. Ball. Those taking part were served refreshments by the social committee afterward.

Tortoises sometimes are found in the desert 60 miles from water.

Mrs. W. G. Hall New Regent Of Municipal Chapter IODE

Mrs. W. G. Hall was installed regent of Municipal Chapter, IODE, at the annual dinner meeting Wednesday evening in the Empress Hotel. She succeeds Mrs. A. W. Turner who was instrumental in organizing the Chapter four years ago and who was the first regent.

To express appreciation to Mrs. Turner for her active and intense interest in the work of the Order for many years, members of Municipal Chapter and the IODE in Peterborough presented a certificate of life membership and a Municipal Chapter life member's badge. An address read by Mrs. Hall before making the presentation spoke of primary chapter activities during two world wars when she served in various offices including regent and post war convener. Mrs. Turner has assisted in organizing several chapters in the city and given advice to those of Lakefield as well as bringing them into Municipal Chapter. To the latter and to the Mary K. Birdsall COE she has presented standards.

With the new regent in the chair, the following slate of officers was installed: first vice regent, Mrs. G. A. Barns; second vice regent, Miss Mary Medd; secretary, Miss Marjorie Benson; assistant secretary, Mrs. D. W. Clarke; treasurer, Mrs. Harold Baker; organizing secretary, Mrs. Robert Allin; educational secretary, Mrs. C. L. Upper; Echoes secretary, Mrs. G. R. Melton; standard bearer, Mrs. M E. Clarke.

Mrs. Hall made a brief address pledging loyalty and service befitting Daughters of the Empire. She asked for continued unity in the ranks and increased interest in IODE work. Before retiring Mrs. Turner expressed appreciation to the officers for splendid assistance and said she was delighted to see representatives of each Chapter present. Mrs. J. F. Richardson, former treasurer, also retired from executive office.

Pleasing Program

The Misses Myrna and Faye Schwartz, consecutive winners in the Kiwanis Music Festival, each exhibited her facile mastery of the piano keyboard, in selected classic numbers.

Mrs. G. H. Cutmore entertained delightfully with two solos. Mrs. R. R. Baker played a group of Easter tunes, "because it's spring" she said, and they were as happily received.

Tables were effectively enhanced with red candles and decorated with trailing greenery entwined with daffodils. A handsome bouquet of spring flowers centred head table. Miss Margaret Preston was responsible for this and the program arrangements were by Mrs. G. A. Berns and Mrs. H. Northrop.

The ladies present were:

Mesdames A. W. Turner, G. A. Barns, W. A. Davern, S. H. Mitchell, W. A. Burrell, J. H. Vallery, A. A. McIntyre, B. . McNeely, R. E. Clarke, R. G. Cottrell, C. M. Scott, M. J. Swanston, Wm. Taylor, J. BABY'S UPSET STOMACH QUICKLY CORRECTED

BABY'S little "Tummy" is often easily upset. It is easily righted again, too, if you know just how to do it. Let Mrs. M. S. Alway, of London, Ont., tell you: "Baby's Own Tablets are a great help at the first sign of upset stomach, during teething time or when a cold is coming on. They work quickly yet gently to carry away poisons and promote restful comfort."

And Mrs. W. R. Sharp says: "I nursed my baby shortly after being alarmed over a motor accident and her stomach became quite upset. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she soon stopped crying—and quieted down."

Equally effective for teething troubles, constipation, simple fever. Sweet-tasting, easily crushed to a powder, if desired—prompt in action. No "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effect. Buy a box today for sickness so often strikes in the night. 25 cents.

DOROTHY DIX

Are Girls Foreordained To Be the Family Goats?

DEAR MISS DIX—Why are girls the foreordained and predestined family goats? Why do parents demand so much more devotion and personal service from their daughters than they do from their sons?

A DAUGHTER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER—Why the sex of a child should alter its obligations to its parents, nobody knows. Not even the parents, but they assume that the daughter is about ten times as much a daughter as a son is a son and hence owes ten times as much duty to those who brought her into the world, though, Heaven knows, having been born a girl is nothing to give three cheers about.

Anyway, Father and Mother feel that Susie owes them a lot more than Tommy does, and they show much more energy in collecting the debt from her than they do from him. Take, for instance, the household in which there are no servants. The boys in the family are physically stronger and more able to work than the girls, but does Mother make them help with the cooking and the sweeping and the dusting? She does not. She make the girls do it.

And it isn't because there is something occult about these tasks that makes them a rite that only a female can perform. The best chefs are men. So are the best cleaners. So there is no reason that Mother shouldn't make Tommy do his share of the housework, except that she doesn't like to interfere with his pleasure, and it is so much easier to make Sister pick up after him and clean his room and scrub the bathtub after he has used it.

Expect Support, Too

And when Mother and Father get old, who has to take care of them? The girls. There is never any question in the parents' mind about whose duty it is to support them and nurse them and look after them when they are aged and feeble. It is their daughters, and it is a curious fact that more men are supporting their wives' fathers and mothers than are taking care of their own.

And Father and Mother accept this as being perfectly right and natural. Daughters are born to be the family goats.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX — I am a widow with two children who attend high school. A man who is 20 years my senior has asked me to marry him. He has a pleasing personality, but has not had a job for the last 10 years. His mother does not want him to marry me, and my children think that he just wants to marry me for a home.

Frankly I do not know what to do. Will you please help me?

MRS. A. B. C.

ANSWER—I don't see why you should be undecided about marrying a man like that. If you have any gumption at all, you will leave him to his mother to support and not take upon yourself the burden of a man who has nothing but a pleasing personality to offer you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX — I have two daughters. One of them is not popular with the men and has no beaux. She is a very pretty girl, but just isn't the type the boys like. My other daughter is very popular with the young men.

Now this is my problem: My daughter, who is not popular with men, is very jealous of her sister. Shall I keep the younger girl from having boy friends because her sister has none?

A DISTRACTED MOTHER.

ANSWER. Certainly not. Why sacrifice your younger daughter to the older one? Why penalize her for something that is not her fault and for which she is not to blame? Perhaps if your unpopular daughter would curb her jealousy and cultivate a sweet and generous disposition, the young men would like her also.

Vinegar catches no flies, and there is nothing that repulses men so much in a woman as for her to be bitter and disgruntled.

HARBINGERS OF SPRING—Despite wintry setting and cold winds, pretty Montreal co-eds smilingly modelled clothes by Irving at a fashion show recently at St. Marguerites in the Laurentians, in aid of the Red Cross. At left, Barbara Ann Fee models a gold gabardine slack suit with smart Dior collar, zippered all way down the back, and completing it are matching shorts and skirt. Centre, Ann Spearing is a "slick" chick in two-toned shorts with turquoise trim and contrasting adjustable half belt and cuffs. Right, Cynthia Plant's coral gabardine short sleeved top with matching shorts is part of four-piece ensemble which includes slacks and skirt.

WIN A YEAR'S SUPPLY!

Here's All You Do! Try FAB for all your family washing. See how FABulous FAB washes everything Faster And Better than anything you have ever used!

Then read below why Canadian women prefer FAB. Check off the one reason you think is most important. Mail your entry form today—along with a FAB boxtop or facsimile—to FAB, TORONTO, 8.

100 WINNERS

The first 100 correct entries drawn from all entries received by April 1st, 1949, EACH WIN A YEAR'S SUPPLY OF FAB

The reason chosen by the majority of entrants will be considered the correct essay for the purposes of this contest. Each entry must be accompanied by a FAB boxtop or reasonable facsimile. Decision of judges is final.

FAB—Colgate's NEW WASHING DISCOVERY with SUPER-WETTING ACTION!

HERE ARE THE REASONS WHY WOMEN PREFER FAB

You may win a year's supply of FAB simply by checking off the reason you think is the most important and sending your entry to FAB, Toronto, 8.

- ☐ FAB washes dirtiest clothes—even greasy overalls—faster, cleaner than any soap!
- ☐ FAB, in hardest water, does twice as much family wash as any soap!
- ☐ FAB washes everything! You need no other laundry soap!
- ☐ FAB gives more suds—longer lasting suds—than any soap known!
- ☐ FAB leaves no bathtub or sink ring—no scum in washes or dishpan!
- ☐ FAB washes clothes so white they need no bluing, no bleaching!
- ☐ FAB makes white clothes whiter —no soap film to gray or yellow your clothes!
- ☐ FAB makes greasy pans, dishes, glasses sparkle, in half the time!
- ☐ FAB keeps woolens soft, like new, without stiffening or matting them!
- ☐ FAB has a pleasant perfume—gives your clothes that sweet, "fresh-air" fragrance!
- ☐ FAB washes dirtiest clothes, yet is so gentle it makes a beautifying bubble bath!

Contest open to residents of Canada only. Employees and agents of Colgate-Palmolive not eligible. Contest closes April 1st, 1949

6—In Memoriams

BREEZE — In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Margaret Breeze who passed away March 27, 1936.
No one knows the silent heartaches.
Only those who lost can tell
The grief the one bears in silence.
The one we loved so well.
—Missed by her loving Daughter.

DAYNES—In loving memory of Marie Daynes who passed away two years ago to-day, March 24, 1947.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.
Her weary trials and troubles are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore
'Til God called her home to suffer no more.
—Ever remembered by her husband and family.

DAYNES—In loving memory of our Dear Marie who left us March 24th 1947.
Only a memory of bygone days.
And a sigh for a face unseen.
But a constant feeling that God alone
Knows just what should have been.
—Sadly missed by mother, sisters and brothers.

HELICOPTER RESCUES FOUR FROM WILDERNESS—One by one, this helicopter brought four victims of a plane crash out of the rugged Tennessee mountain country where they had spent two freezing nights. Piloted by J. N. Newcomb, the 'copter brought the four to Calderwood, Tenn. It is shown as it landed in an area near the scene of the crash, which had been cleared by ground workers.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Patrol Leaders to meet:—Next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in All Saints Parish Hall a conference will be held. Many items of interest are on the agenda. Field Commissioner Art Jackson will be in town to conduct this affair and it is hoped that every Troop will be sending a full quota of leaders.

Paper Drive:—It is hoped that the members of every Group Committee in the Association will get out to assist the Packs and Troops in collecting paper on Thursday evening April 7. The price of paper is down and we need to fill every car possible to raise those funds for camping etc.

Going Good:—According to report the reception of the Craft committee has been good and all things point to a real show at the Market Hall on May 11 and 12.

Date Changed: — Owing to High School examinations it has been thought best to bring the Camporee forward one week, the date now being May 28 to 30. For full information get in touch with the following: General Chairman A. Hope, Camp Chief—George Houghton., Camp Secretary—Fred Ford, Publicity Secretary—G. Groombridge, Quartermaster A. Ingham.

Scout Camp reservations:—The latest list of dates reserved for the Nassau Camp Grounds is as follows. June 10-12—All Saints Pack., June 17-19, St. Lukes Pack., June 24-26—Trinity Pack., July 1-3, Park Hill Pack, July 8-10, St. James Pack, July 15-17, St. Paul's Pack, July 22-24 K of C Pack, Aug. 5-7, Salvation Army Pack.

If you are thinking of using the above Camp why not phone 5368 at once for reservations.

Gilwell Summer Camp:—Leaders who wish to attend the Gilwell Training courses would be well advised to send in their applications to District Commissioner E. J. Wolff at once.

Cub Leaders Course—August 6 to 13.

Scout Leaders' Course—September 10 to 19.

Badge report:—The first report of the badge committee is very encouraging but still far from complete. Only five Troops and four Packs reported showing a total of 60 badges all proficiency, not including first and second star or second class scout.

Canadian Jamboree:—Ottawa July 16 to 24. No new names have been added to the Peterborough list but we understand that several boys are doing their utmost to qualify for the trip.

At St. John's:—District Rover Leader Pete Dominik took over control last weekend in the absence of Akela Gordon Clegg who is spending a couple of weeks recuperating in Bermuda. Test on first and second star work were carried out with Peter Falkner and Walter Blackwell passing their Homecroft badge whilst Ian Falkner and Terry Mulcahy proved that they could tell the time.

With St. Paul's:—With Mother and Dad present new chum R. Laws stepped ahead along the Jungle trail when he was fully invested as a Wolf Cub taking off the white kerchief and donning the regular colors of the Pack. Two other members of the Pack also had their parents on hand to witness the presentation of badges they had earned as Alex Eastwood and Bob Findlay received their swimmers badge. On Saturday 17 members of the Pack went on a hike through Jackson Park and surrounding country.

Salvation Army:—Thirty-four members were at the last Pack meeting to welcome three new Chums into the Jungle life. These were Kenneth Wagar, Doyle Cox and Donald Livingstone. They were fully initiated into the Pack through the games of "Spin the Platter" and "The Farmer and the Apple." The evening was not without its portion of advancements as Robert Gilpin passed his cleanliness test and Ken Vogessang with Hugh Smith completed their Cub knots. The craft work will continue every Saturday afternoon.

Trinity:—Another gala night was spent at the Pack meeting as Brian Malcolm step out on the Jungle Trail as a full fledged Tenderpad through the investiture ceremony. Brian's Dad was present to witness the ceremony. Then followed the presentation of badges at which Mrs. Ross handed her son David with his First Star. Mr. B. I. Burgess, President of the Local Association presented Jack Dafoe with his First Star and Toymaker's badge. Mr. Burgess and Mrs. J. N. Perry assisting with this tes work. Sonny Hutton was promoted to sixer of the Brown Six with Peter Chown as his second. Sidney Dinsdale went as second to the White Six and Jack Dafoe is now sixer of the Gray Six. Tests passed as follows: Cleanliness—Bobby Richey, Somersault—Peter Ballantyne, Leap frog—Garry Rishor, Brian Malcolm, Skipping—Dick Burgess, Homecraft badge — Jack Freeman.

Trinity Troop:—This Troop is looking ahead to more action.

The Secret:—In a good Troop or Pack is in the Leadership—One good man is not enough—he wants help and plenty of it. If your Troop Leader or Cub Leader is working on his own or with little help, why not get some help for him. There is plenty around, but like everything else, it is "Seek and ye shall find".

Overtired, Rundown, Had Many Aches and Pains

Troubled with Indigestion, Gas, Headaches and Dizzy Spells. "Felt Completely Worn Out," Says This Man. Praises Syntona

Whether you are 18 or 80 you may at times begin to feel tired, listless and rundown. Appetite is lost, nerves on edge, and sleep is neither sound nor restful. In addition you may suffer from impaired digestion, headaches, backache and rheumatic pains. This is the experience of Mr. Nelson Childs, 51 Elgin Street, Hamilton, Ontario, who tells how he got relief by taking a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound.

"I was always feeling over-tired and had aches and pains all through my limbs, joints and muscles. My back was particularly lame and sore and I would get bad headaches and dizzy spells. I was troubled with indigestion. I could hardly eat a full meal without having a lot of gas, sour acid risings and heartburn. I became nervous, couldn't sleep well at night and everything seemed such an effort to me.

"One day I read in the paper about a person who got good results by taking Syntona and I decided to try some. In a very few days I began to feel an improvement, so I kept right on taking it and I never felt better than I do now. I sleep soundly, eat well, and am free from all the troubles that I had had for so long. The aches and pains are gone away and I can work all day without tiring as I did before."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough by Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

Paper Proprietors Fined $40,000 For Court Contempt

LONDON, March 25—(Reuters)—A high court today fined the proprietors of the London Daily Mirror £10,000 ($40,000) for contempt of court, and ordered the editor, Silvestor Bolam, to be detained in prison for three months.

The contempt consisted of an article published in the Mirror, held to prejudice the trial of John George Haigh, 39-year-old company director charged with the murder of Mrs. Olive Durand-Beacon, rich, elderly widow who disappeared from her London hotel.

Lord Chief Justice Goddard said "There never has been a case approaching such gravity as this. It is of a scandalous and wicked character."

Embroider Details

At an earlier hearing the judge said the Daily Mirror had alleged that Haig was guilty of "murder after murder."

"With a man held on one murder, the most horrifying details are given of other murders which are said to have been committed," he declared.

Sir Valentine Holmes, appearing for the editor and proprietors, said he desired to repeat on behalf of the proprietors what he had said previously for Bolam.

At the last hearing Sir Valentine expressed the editor's "sincere and unqualified regret" for his grave error.

Lord Goddard said the Daily Mirror's article "violated every principle of justice and fair play."

It was not a error of judgment, but a "matter of policy pandering to sensationalism for the purpose of increasing circulation."

100 Die On Ship InMineExplosion

CANTON, March 25 — (AP). — The motorship Miss Orient exploded today after striking a mine, killing an estimated 100 persons.

The ship was en route from here to the crown colony of Hong Kong. The explosion occurred six miles east of Canton.

A dispatch from Hong Kong said there were 500 passengers abroad.

Pirates were blamed for laying the mine after the ship's owners refused to pay extortion money to them.

Another ship, the river steamer Shihmen, escaped destruction by a mine Wednesday in the same vicinity. Its 300 passengers were thrown into panic by an exploding mine the owners said was set off after they had ignored a pirate threat of extortion.

4 Minden Travellers Rescued By Rowboat

BARRIE, March 25 — (CP) — Four persons, rescued from their automobile by rowboat Tuesday, were marooned in a farmhouse near the flooded Nottawasaga River, 25 miles southwest of here, until Thursday night.

The four, all from Minden, Ont., were Mr. and Mrs. Rod Ward, their son Earl, 18, and Edwin J. Yanch.

The four had been visiting Mrs. Ward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Davidson.

Seeing their plight, Davidson rowed along the highway to take them back to the farmhouse

Five other farmhouses in the district are cut off by the overflowing rivers, but all are reported to have sufficient supplies on hand.

34 Theft Charges

TORONTO, March 25—(CP)—Six juveniles and a 16-year-old youth were arrested in suburban New Toronto today on a total of 34 theft charges. Police said the arrests will clean up a month-long wave of petty thefts, car thefts and shop breaking.

Four of the youths face seven charges each of theft from parked cars and parking meters and shop-breaking.

Jail Population Doubled Within 13 Years

TORONTO, March 25—(CP)—The number of persons sentenced to reformatories, industrial farms and jails in Ontario last year—30,613—is almost double the 16,356 sentenced in the year ending March 31, 1936, the annual report of the Reform Institutions Department showed today.

During the last year the 20-24 age group made up 1,090 prisoners—the largest proportion. Second largest group involved 14-19 age group with 1,029 convictions. There were 77 persons over 70 years old committed to institutions.

Burwash Industrial Farm with the third largest population in the province, has the largest guard of staff of 162. Forty men escaped from the institution last year with 37 recaptured. Twenty-one of Brampton's 334 inmates escaped and all were recaptured.

The province's most populous reformatory is at nearby Mimico where 3,138 served terms. There were 2,286 inmates at Guelph during the year.

CCL Fears Unemployment Want Bigger Rainy Day Plan

OTTAWA, March 25—(CP).—Warning that unemployment is striking Canada, the Canadian Congress of Labor today called on the Government to enlarge its "rainy day" public works program and immediately put it into operation to provide work. In its annual legislative submission to the Cabinet, the 360,000-man CCL also urged Government action on housing, lower taxes, renewed price controls, measures against inflation and deflation, extension of the Federal Labor Code, social security measures and legislation in a wide range of other labor and social matters.

Chief recommendations in the C.C.L.'s 6,500-word brief:

1. A large-scale housing program.

2. Action against inflation through price controls, subsidies on essential commodities, a revised excess profits tax and higher corporation income tax.

3. No devaluation of the Canadian dollar.

4. Measures to guard against deflation, through public investment and social security programs.

5. Enlargement of the scope of the Federal Labor Code and other amendments in line with previous C.C.L. recommendations.

Want More Exemptions

6. Further hoists in personal income tax exemptions beyond those provided in Tuesday night's budget. The Congress would have these raised from $1,000 to $1,500 for single persons and from $2,000 to $2,500 for married persons.

7. A national security program covering the whole field of health, invalidity, old age pensions and other aspects in line with Britain's social security system. It would include free medical, hospital and dental services, along with sickness and accident insurance.

8. Amendment of the British North America Act to give the

Oshawa Cattle Sent To Italy

TORONTO, March 25—(CP)—A shipment of Canadian-bred Holstein-Friesian cattle will go to Italy shortly to help improve milking herds in that country.

Twelve bulls will be shipped by airplane, leaving Toronto next Monday, and 200 heifers will be sent by boat. The shipment is being made by the world commerce corporation, an international organization set up 2½ years ago to develop world trade.

Ontario suppliers include the Elmcroft Farms at Oshawa, owned by R. Ray McLaughlin.

The Elmcroft Farm will send Elmcroft Rag Appel Tryrine, out of the famous Elmcroft Stylemaster, reserve all-Canadian heifer for 1948 at the Royal Winter Fair.

3 Consulates In Iran Closed By Russians

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., March 25—(AP)—Informed sources reported today the Russian government has decided tentatively to close its three consulates in neighboring Iran, which has been under frequent verbal attack by Moscow. There still is a chance the situation will be ironed out without closing of the consulates, it was said.

The three Russian consulates are said to have asked the Iranians to close their consulate in Baku, Russia.

Strict censorship at Tehran has prevented any transmission abroad of the facts. The version reported here is that there has been no break in diplomatic relations and that the two countries are retaining their embassies in Moscow and Tehran, respectively.

Planes, Police Cars To Aid Red Cross Disaster Units

TORONTO, March 25 (CP) — RCAF planes, Air Force wireless and radio-equipped Provincial Police patrol cars stand ready to help the Ontario division of the Red Cross speed assistance to a disaster-stricken area.

Lastest developments in the Red Cross program of preparation to meet emergencies, even in remote and isolated sections of the province, are outlined in a report prepared for delivery today to the Ontario division's 29th annual meeting.

Leopold MacAulay, chairman of the Red Cross Ontario Disaster Services committee, told 600 delegates that Ontario has been divided into 30 zones, each with responsibility for its areas in case of emergency.

He said that with the inauguration of the blood transfusion service in Ontario, adequate supplies of whole blood and plasma will be available in Toronto for immediate transportation—by air if need be—to any stricken area in the province.

In addition to Provincial Police co-operation through radio-equipped automobiles, the Red Cross is completing arrangements with the RCAF to supply wireless communication.

Leslie G. Mills, chairman of the outpost hospital committee, reported that substantial progress has also been made in construction of outpost hospitals at Wiarton and Burk's Falls. Some 27 now are operating in Ontario's remote areas, including those at Nipigon, Huntsville and Bancroft.

The Red Cross blood transfusion service, already inaugurated in four provinces, will be extended to Montreal and western Quebec province early in April.

Permanent Expulsion

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP). —Permanent expulsion from the Canadian Congress of Labor faces the suspended International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, it was learned today. In addition to Thursday's indefinite suspension imposed by the CCL Executive Council, Congress sources said, the council also intends to recommend expulsion to the organization's national convention in October.

Coach-Class Rates Likely To Go Up Too

This Raise In Price Equivalent Of Tax Dropped By Ottawa

MONTREAL, March 25—(CP)—The Railway Association of Canada today announced that it had filed with the Transport Board an application for a 15-per-cent increase in first-class passenger fares.

The association also announced that Canada Steamship Lines and its subsidiary, Northern Navigation Company, operating steamship passenger services on the St. Lawrence River and Great Lakes, had joined in the application.

The announcement by J. A. Brass, general secretary of the association which represents all Canadian railroads, said the railways will also file with the board, "as soon as practicable," new tariffs increasing by 15 per cent coach class and other fares which now are lower than first-class passenger fares.

The announcement followed a two-day session of the association which considered the effect on the railways of removal in Tuesday night's budget of the 15-per-cent federal transportation tax.

Financial Relief

Mr. Brass said: "This action follows a policy outlined before the board last Jan. 11 when C. F. H. Carson, association counsel, stated that if the federal tax on passenger fares were removed and the carriers allowed to increase the rates by the amount of the tax, they could obtain a measure of financial relief without it being felt by the public. Other transportation interests, including bus lines, air lines and inland steamships, were parties to the application submitted to the government for removal of the tax."

It was considered "fair and reasonable" that passenger fares should bear an increased share of the higher cost of operation referred to in transport board hearings on increased freight-rates.

Falling Off

"Last year there was a falling off of 2,151,134 passengers carried by the lines of the two principal railways with a consequent loss of $3,314,031 as compared with 1947," said Mr. Brass. "This situation, added to the fact that cost of materials and increased wages have added $114,274,924 to railway operating costs during the past year, makes an application for higher passenger fares imperative."

Trans-Canada Air Lines, simultaneously with the budget announcement, said it would seek an increase in fares to offset the tax removal.

MacKinnon Refuses To Be A Candidate

EDMONTON, March 25—(CP)—H. A. Dyde, President of the Edmonton West Liberal Association, today said Resources Minister MacKinnon has informed him he will be unable to offer himself as a candidate when a nominating convention is called.

A letter from Mr. MacKinnon to Mr Dyde said that "following medical advice to the effect that I must take things easier, I regret that I shall not be able to offer myself as a candidate for Edmonton West. . ."

It has been rumored that Mr MacKinnon will be appointed to one of the two Alberta seats vacant in the Senate.

Find Tension Eases As Miners To Return

PITTSBURG, March 25 (AP)—The tension was off in the American coal fields to-day.

It was off, too, in industries, such as steel, which depend on coal for their operations. It was off among employees of coal-carrying railroads, among river workers who transport coal in barges.

For John L. Lewis had ordered his miners to return to the pits next Monday, ending a two-week work stoppage of 463,000 members of tht United Mine Workers in pits east of the Mississippi.

The reaction to the return of men to the pits was almost immediate.

Keays' Dislike Of Officer Termed Hatred

By GEORGE FOSTER.
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

BELLEVILLE, March 25—(CP)—Cpl. Sam Ervine of the Provincial Police said today that Constable J. E. Keays' dislike for him "is absolute hatred."

He made the statement during the course of a Royal Commission hearing into charges made by Constable Keays against Crown and Provincial officers.

The two men continued a verbal fight before the Commission they started Wednesday, the day the Corporal was called to testify.

Cpl. Ervine laughed off a suggestion that Cons. J. E Keays had once put him to sleep after a drinking bout by playing Beethoven and Chopin on the piano.

Too Drunk to Drive

The constable said he once drove the Corporal home when he was too drunk to drive a police car himself.

"That is a lie," the Corporal said.

A few minutes earlier, the Corporal looked at the constable and said "you are absolutely unreliable, antagonistic towards those who don't agree with your theories; most unwilling to co-operate.

"I think possibly I'd better stop," Cpl. Erkine added.

Constable Keays said he found Cpl. Ervine drunk in uniform, drove him home and played him to sleep with the piano.

Cpl. Ervine grinned broadly and said "Constable Keays, please don't lose your self-respect. You were never in my home."

"Cpl. Ervine," the constable snapped. "Please don't laugh.

Jail Axis Sally 10 To 30 Years

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP) —Mildred E. (Axis Sally) Gillars today was sentenced to 10 to 30 years in prison for treason.

Federal Judge Edward M. Curran also fined her $10,000.

Loss of citizenship is automatic on conviction of treason.

Before passing sentence, Judge Curran remarked that the trial evidence showed that Miss Gillars did not take part in high level Nazi propaganda policy conferences as was the case of Douglas Chandler and Robert Henry Best.

"You are now going on 49, is that correct?" Judge Curran asked. "Yes," Miss Gillars replied.

The judge then pronounced the sentence.

Radio Contact Established With U.S. Plane Which Crashed In Arctic

Report Seven Men Aboard, But No Word About Any Casualties; Edmonton Takes Over Command Of Search

HALIFAX, March 25—(CP).—An unconfirmed report reaching search and rescue headquarters here this afternoon said that radio contact had been established with the crashed United States Air Force C-84 Fairchild Packet in the Arctic and that there were seven aboard. There was no word on casualties. Meanwhile, search and rescue officials announced that the northwest air command search and rescue co-ordination centre at Edmonton had taken over direction of the search and a large number of planes from various United States and Candian bses was converging on the search area.

First hint that the plane was in distress came last night when the twin-engined plane reported she was going to crash land on a flight inside the Arctic Circle.

At that time the plane said she had one hour's fuel remaining and was lost.

The plane was on a supply flight from Baffin Island to Resolute Bay. Number of men aboard was not known here.

The search will also be carried out by American planes based at Resolute Bay. An RCAF Lancaster left for Goose Bay, Labrador, today to join the search and another aircraft probably will leave later today.

The Baffin Island-Resolute Bay flight normally takes about four hours.

Jane Wyman Olivier Winners

HOLLYWOOD, March 25 — (AP)—Silence and Shakespeare won academy awards for Jane Wyman and Sir Laurence Olivier Thursday night.

Miss Wyman, 35-year-old graduate of BI Pictures, was named best actress of 1948 for playing the raped deaf-mute in "Johnny Belinda." Sir Laurence was given Hollywood's highest honor for his performance as "Hamlet." His British production was also named the best picture of the year, marking the first time the award has been handed across the seas.

It was also a great night for the Hustons. Son John walked off with two gold stauettes for his writing and direction of "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre." The Toronto-born father, Walter, sprinted down the aisle to claim his award as best supporting actor, as the wily prosecutor in the same film.

Claire Trevor was selected the best supporting actress as the drunken gun-moll in "Key Largo," also directed by John Huston.

Miss Wyman, formerly Sarah Jane Folks of St. Joseph, Mo., accepted her award the same way she won it—"by keeping my mouth shut." Her co-star and Beau, Lew Ayres then escorted her to J. L. Warner's celebration party at the Mocambo. The British "Hamlet" bettered United States films by copping five awards. Sir Laurence's statuettes were received by friend Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., since the British star is in London.

Charges Police, Not Strikers Been Assaulted

MONTREAL, March 25—(CP)—Deputy Director Hilaire Beauregard of the Quebec Provincial Police in a statement today charged that members of his force have been "brutally and criminally assaulted" during the six-week-old strike of asbestos miners in the Asbestos, Que., district.

The director issued his statement following a tour Thursday of the district where some 5,000 workers are on strike. He went to investigate charges of "certain persons" that provincial police sent there for duty during the strike were guilty of abuses and intimidation.

He found "these reports and rumors come from persons who are certainly not inspired by the spirit of truth."

He reviewed disturbances and injuries that have developed since the strike began and said "it is not the strikers who require medical treatment but members of the provincial police."

"There were numerous abuses during the strike. First of all, part of a railroad track was dynamited; then, several planks covered with nails were hidden, in the snow, on a public road leading to a 500-foot precipice. . ."

Company Pleads Guilty On Tax

MONTREAL, March 25 (CP)—Counsel for wealthy Albert Sansoucy's Textile Company today pleaded guilty to five charges concerning failure to pay income and excess profit taxes.

Sentence was postponed until April 8 when it is possible 10 other charges, with which both Sansoucy personally and his company are faced, will be dealt with. Today's plea was only on charges involving the company.

Crown counsel said Sansoucy has already paid into the revenue department sums the department claims he previously avoided paying.

The crown also indicated that between now and April 8 the full amounts owed will be paid.

Originally 45 complaints in all were signed by a representative of the income-tax division of the revenue department charging evasions amounting to $2,500,000.

The amount of money involved in the 15 charges before the court today was not immediately known.

Planning Judicial Inquiry Into Windsor Hospital

TORONTO, March 25 (CP)—Health Minister Kelley of Ontario said today he would advise Mayor A. Reaume of Windsor that the city council should take steps for a judicial inquiry into charges of maladministration of the Metropolitan General Hospital.

He said following a meeting with the provincial cabinet that the proper procedure was for the council to pass a resolution requiring an investigation, then appoint a judge to conduct it.

Earlier today, Judge Albert J. Gordon conferred with Mr. Kelley, M. C. Davies, Progressive Conservative member for Windsor-Walkerville, and Dr. J. T. Phair, deputy health minister at the Ontario legislature buildings. Mr. Kelley then reported to the provincial cabinet.

Judge Gordon's visit here was prompted by investigations into reports circulating in Windsor that nurses attended drinking parties with city officials. The reports started shortly after Miss Mildred Maybee, central figure in the investigation, resigned a month ago as Superintendent of Nurses at the Windsor hospital.

Thursday, Mr. Kelley said he had received a telegram from the President of the Windsor Chapter of the Imperial Daughters of the Empire, requesting investigators sent to Windsor be able to take oaths and affidavits under oath.

As personnel in his department did not have such powers, Mr. Kelley said it appeared a judicial inquiry would be needed.

2 Highway Sections Under 7 Inches Water

TORONTO, March 25 —(CP)—Sections of two Ontario highways are still flooded to a depth of seven inches, the provincial department of highways reported today.

Highway No. 9, which stretches from Schomberg, 20 miles north of Toronto, to Kincardine on Lake Huron, is flooded near Orangeville. The highway is the only direct road route from Orangeville, 38 miles northwest of here, to Arthur, 20 miles away.

Traffic is being detoured from Highway 35 where flood waters cover the road south of Lindsay, 10 miles northwest of Peterborough.

In general, all roads and highways throughout the province were bare and dry except for those in the extreme north.

Legislature Sits Till 3 A.M. Studying Bills

TORONTO, March 25—(CP) — The Ontario Legislature sat until 3 a.m. today considering estimates and debating opposition bills which proposed amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act.

In its marathon sitting, which started at 3 p.m. Thursday and was broken only by the two-hour dinner recess, the House wandered into discussion of such widely-separated topics as picket lines, western movies and Long John Silver.

Mention of western movies brought Acting Premier Leslie Frost to his feet to confess smilingly that he has a yen for rangeland films with "hard riding and plenty of shooting."

He also liked old-fashioned adventure yarns such as Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island"—"Long John Silver Stories" Mr. Frost called them. Motion pictures which depicted the smart set drinking cocktails "just about nauseated" him.

The talk about literature and the drama arose during a discussion on the motion picture censorship board. Mr Frost said enlargement of the three-member board is under consideration.

Reject Compensation Changes

The Legislature passed through the committee stage bills extending aid to municipalities for operation of [illegible] and police departments Then it approved treasury and public works estimates and finally voted down the opposition bills dealing with Compensation Act amendments.

The bills, all defeated 44 to 34, would have provided for payment of 100-per-cent compensation, for raising the maximum salary at which compensation will be paid to $3,500 from $2,500, for reducing the waiting period for compensation from seven days to three, for providing X-ray examinations for workmen exposed to silica dust and for payment of compensation to workmen whose jobs have aggravated physical disabilities existing before they took the jobs.

Greater compensation for injured working men and women is provided for by a Government-sponsored amendment to the Compensation Act. Given first reading, the measure establishes the basic rate of compensation at 75 per cent, compared with the previous 66 2-3 per cent. The maximum salary at which compensation will be paid is raised from $2,000 to $3,000.

Defeat CCF Plan

The Legislature Thursday defeated a CCF amendment to eliminate from the police bill a clause which permits Ontario Provincial Police to be sent to a municipality at the request of the Crown Attorney.

Mr. Park said the section prohibiting police from joining unions "reflects the government's lack of confidence in the policemen of the province" and was a reflection on organized labor

He said the government apparently did not think police could associate with union men "without. . . undermining their ability to serve adequately law and order."

C. H. Millard (CCF-York West) described the measure as "an anti-labor bill" which infringed on the right of free association.

J. G. Brown (Lib-Waterloo North), who opposed the amendment, said he believed policemen, while performing their duties were "not citizens but the law."

Attorney-General Blackwell said the section of the bill was not intended to infringe on civil liberties of policemen but "to maintain all civil liberties."

Face Conflict

There was a danger that policemen who were also trade union members might, in the case of a strike, be faced with "a conflict between their duty and their interest."

H. C. Nixon (Lib-Brant) said there was "no use saying the duties of the police forces were the same as those of an ordinary workman." It would be "unthinkable" to put a policeman in a position where he might be obliged to accept orders from a union while supervising a strike.

J. L. Easton (CCF-Wentworth) moved deletion from the act of the section giving crown attorneys authority to summon provincial police to a municipality. He said the Police Act of 1947 empowered the crown attorney to request only one policeman to assist in criminal investigation. The section, as amended, gave the crown attorney authority to call as many police as he wanted without consulting elected municipal authorities.

He described the section as "an unwarranted interference with municipal authority."

CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe said power to request police was invested in the crown attorney who was responsible to he attorney-general's department.

Detective Arrested

HORSHAM, England, March 25—(AP)—The detective assigned to investigate a burglary at a doctor's home here was Sgt. William J. Wykes, 41. He didn't solve the case. Thursday other officers told a court they had succeeded where Wykes failed. They formally accused Wykes of committing that burglary and 19 others in the last year.

Ask National Food Market Act Passed

Must Extend Boards To Compensate Farmers For Price

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 25 —(CP)— New demands for a national food-marketing act were advanced in the Commons Thursday as members neared conclusion of debate on the government's control legislation.

The demands were made during debate on second reading of a bill providing for a one-year extension of the food purchasing boards established to buy the products needed to fill contracts with the United Kingdom.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said a national marketing act now is on the order paper, but he was promptly told by Benoit Michaud (L — Restigouche - Madawaska) that the measure would not meet the needs of the Maritime potato producers.

The debate set off a wordy legal battle of the constitutionality of the legislations. Participants included Jusice Minister Garson, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre), Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) John T. Hackett (PC—Stanstead) and Mr. Gardiner.

Mr. Garson started the argument with a declaration that it was the courts, in the last analysis, which decided whether legislation was constitutional. He said it must be assumed that the government—or a private member, for that matter—had delved into the question before presenting a bill. This was the sponsor's responsibility.

Dangerous Principle

Mr. Diefenbaker charged Mr. Garson with enunciating a "dangerous and iniquitous" principle which could mean the destruction of the Canadian Constitution. It could, he said, reduce the Constitution to a "shadow" and make the provinces, in their civil and property rights, dependent on the "whim" of a Federal Parliamentary majority.

Mr. Drew told Mr. Garson his views were wrong. It was Parliament, not the government of the courts, that had responsibility for legislation. Leading cases before the courts had made it clear that Parliament accepted the responsibility to say whether or not it was constitutional.

Mr. Fleming said it was a "monstrous injustice" to the intelligence of members to contend that Parliament did not have to worry about the constitutionality of the laws which it passed.

Mr. Gardiner said the Dominion is taking powers which rightfully belong to the provinces, but added that the legislation contained "no single authority and no single power" that was not already in provincial marketing acts

Stresses Emergency

No one could argue, as had Progressive Conservatives, that there was no emergency requiring the legislation. There was an emergency and it stemmed from the controls which Canada had to impose in the war and post-war periods. There was an emergency in that Canadian foods had been sold to Britain at low prices and that farmers now had a right to compensation.

Mr. Hackett said Mr. Gardiner's argument might be a "rather telling argument when you are talking to a farmer," but it was no valid reason for breaking the Constitution. There was not a national emergency which justified departing from the Constitution.

The agriculture legislation produced a recorded vote when the Progressive Conservatives opposed a motion to give study to the preliminary resolution. In the ensuing division, the motion carried by a count of 130 to 50, with the CCF and Social Credit parties siding with the government.

Mr. Drew called for the vote on the agriculture measure. He said he was opposed to it because it was another of the measures which asked parliament to declare that a general emergency arising out of the war still exists.

Must Be Compensated

Mr. Gardiner said that extension of the life of the purchasing boards was necessary if Canadian farmers were to be compensated for the low prices at which their foodstuffs were sold during the war and post-war years.

The government, he said, does not believe that the farmer should carry the whole load.

The government, he added, does believe that all the consumers of Canada should share the cost and that is why it is seeking continuation of the wartime food boards.

Through their high prices, the contracts with the United Kingdom brought Canadian farmers a better rate than was obtained now by their counterpart in the United States, thus compensating them for the lower-than-world prices they received a few years ago.

If the boards were not continued, the government could not fill the contracts and the price range would drop.

Goldie McInroy President Of Threshermen

Of their twenty-three annual conventions, Eastern Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen have held eleven in Peterborough, a long unbroken succession which probably ended here Thursday with suggestions that rotation should be resumed.

Consideration for other communities of their eastern area was proposed by Vern Campbell of Douro, retiring president after two years in the chair, and J. Arthur McIntyre, veteran secretary of Peterborough, who also asked that some other member be appointed in his place. The nominating, committee, however, was reluctant to recommend both these changes in office, and Mr. McIntyre was retained in the acceptance of the committee's report. He was given an assistant, Vincent Farrell of Stirling, an appointment that indicated a move probably to Hastings county next year.

The officers elected were: Past president, Vern Campbell, who had announced his presidential resignation early in the meeting; President, Goldie McInroy, Stirling, RR 2; 1st Vice-President, Earl Dunn, Cameron; 2nd Vice-Pres., Fred Robinson, Corbyville; secretary-treasurer, J. A. McIntyre; assistant sec.-treas., Vincent Farrell.

Executive: Theodore Cooney, Stirling; Ralph Garbutt, Lakefield; Vern Campbell.

Legislation committee: Clayton Cosh, Bobcaygeon; Oscar Merrick, Stirling; T. Osland, Port Hope.

Directors: Ed. Dunn, Cameron; Ross Disney, Greenwood; Charles Mills, Omemee; W. W. Dawson, Otonabee; Robert McAdam, Peterborough, RR 2; James Reynolds, Foxboro.

Visitors included Harvey Lyons of Oakwood, president of the Western Ontario Threshermen; Byrell Harris, Chatham, president of the Threshermen's Mutual Fire Insurance Co., and Fred Armstrong, of Chatham; and the guest speaker at the evening dinner in the Canadian Legion Hall, R. F. Wilson, Toronto, manager for the Canadian Federation of Mutual Companies.

Make $100. Grant

The Brotherhood granted $100 to the Central Ontario Grassland Day to be held in Peterborough area June 29, and $25 to the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. The convention attendance in the office of Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, was the largest in years, and the assembly at night was around 300. The dinner was prepared and served by the women of Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, and was another of their achievements contributing to the satisfaction and success of the Peterborough conventions of the Brotherhood.

In the afternoon, Harvey Lyons complimented the convention on its financial grant to Grassland Day, It was first proposed by Vern Campbell who said the Threshermen should endeavor to extend their co-operation with the provincial Department of Agriculture in promoting agricultural projects. Grassland Day was one, and another suggestion by Mr. Campbell was that the membership might authorize the executive to arrange some kind of Farmers' Day next year similar to the successevent here a year ago in which the Threshermen joined hands with the Quinte Seed Fair. Both recommendations were put into effect by the convention.

Mr. Lyons remarked: "Grassland Day is a treat to see, and I am glad you are helping. It is a fine way to help in promoting good relations in agriculture, especially between our Brotherhood and other farmers. It provides a great display of modern machinery and demonstrates the best ways of putting up hay and developing pastures."

Mr. Harris reported the insurance branch in strong financial condition.

Explains Regulations

Sergeant Price Morris of the Provincial Police discussed the regulations of the Motor Vehicles Act with particular reference to threshermen and their equipment. The larger machinery, including combines, should not be more than 50 inches in width, and combines and cornpickers not more than 110 inches in height, for compliance with the rules. The larger machines called for additional lights and reflectors, and generally greater precautions to maintain safety in traffic. Machines hauled by a truck fall into the trailer category and require a licence for that purpose.

Sergt. Morris answered many questions from the meeting about details of the traffic regulations, and was heartily thanked for the practical manner in which he reviewed them in his answers.

Frank C. Paterson expressed appreciation for the support volunteered by the meeting toward Grassland Day, and emphasized the importance of restoring humus in the land for the best results in conjunction with fertilizer treatment. Increasing attention to the factors of fertility and pasture development was shown by farmers of this district in recent years, and it was significant that the Central Ontario Grassland Day had been applied for by Peterborough farmers, particularly the Crop Improvement Association, supported by the Federation of Agriculture and the Threshermen.

Estsblished Event

Vern Campbell was chairman of the dinner. Mayor Max Swanston said it was his turn to extend the usual civic welcome to the visiting Threshermen and their wives. Their convention dinner had become an established social event, and Peterborough was grateful that the Brotherhood had returned to the city so often for their meetings. His Worship spoke of the importance of the work of the threshermen during their 23 years of organization, concluding the harvest on a broad scale as in the years before many farmers had purchased their own machines. They had also helped in the battle against weed seeds. If their next annual dinner was held elsewhere, Mayor Swanston said he was certain that its quality could not be a match for the expert cookery of the ladies of Stewart's Hall.

Greetings from the county were expressed by Warden William Darling.

Art McIntyre introduced Mr Wilson with a license of personal comment. It wasn't like any other introduction heard here in a long time, and it seemed to suggest something perhaps of pre-arrangement.

Mr. Wilson interjected a vein of humor on his own account, and settled down to a talk on the business and economic horizon of the new year. Backlogs were diminishing, supplies were coming into production more freely, but there was still a great need in the building industry. Steel orders had not caught up on the market and demand, and Mr. Wilson said there was no evidence of any impending recession in the present adjustments that were taking place. Valuable deposits of iron were found in Labrador and Quebec, and the resource of oil in Alberta was a great promise of new wealth in the nation.

Canada Better Off

Canada was better off than any other country in the world, Mr. Wilson said, but there was still an essential need among its people of enthusiasm and energy. Canada had acquired its standing by its effectual use of human energy. Natural resources were available here and elsewhere in the world for ages. It was only in the last century and in recent generations that man's energy had made great use of those resources.

Freedom of opportunity, of inventive ability and the spirit of industry and work, had been basic in the progress of this country. It was not in the disposition shown by some young people today to work as little as they could, and also get as much as they could by blackjacking employers.

Thanks of the dinner gathering was expressed to Mr. Wilson David McIntyre of Otona Piano duos by Miss D Whatley and Frank He were much enjoyed. Th vention concluded with dancing

Brilliant Warrior, Tactician Marshal Vasilevsky Soviet Defence Minister

Succeeds Bulganin In New Russ Shake-Up, Did Great Work During War Engineering Strategy In USSR Drive On Berlin

MOSCOW, March 25 — (AP). — The shake-up of Russian leadership gave the Soviet armies a new chief today—Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky, brilliant warrior and tactician. As in other recent shifts, the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet announced without explanation that Vasilevsky was taking over from Marshal Nikolai A. Bulganin as Minister of Armed Forces of the Soviet Union, highest military post in all Russia.

(Six portions of Gilmore's story, telephoned to London from Moscow, are missing, presumably held up by the Soviet censor.)

Bulganin, who has held the ministry since he took it over from Prime Minister Stalin March 4, 1947, will retain his post as Deputy Prime Minister in the Council of Ministers. He apparently also will continue as a member of the powerful, policy-shaping Politburo.

Vasilevsky, personally well known to allied leaders, ran up an impressive record in the war. From the rank of Major-General he rose in not much more than a year to General of the army Jan. 18, 1943, and became a Marshal and Chief of Staff not long afterward. His new promotion raises him from the post of Deputy Minister of Armed Forces.

Smashed Germans

His troops smashed the German Veronezh front Jan. 17, 1943, and he led the successful Soviet campaign in the Crimea in 1944 which liberated Sevastopol. He is one of the most decorated of Russian soldiers.

He sat among the top half-dozen members of the Supreme Command which mapped strategy in the critical days of the war and engineered the Russian drive to Berlin.

The new change is interpreted by observers outside Russia as fitting into the same pattern as earlier ones which relieved Politburo members of active administrative work, apparently so they can give full time to policy problems.

MORE ABOUT—

Keays' Dislike

You're in uniform, a very good uniform."

Restrain Language

Mr. Justice Keiller MacKay asked the men to restrain their language. He was not conducting a court, he said "and the question of privilege may very well not obtain here."

As the day's session opened, the constable asked the Corporal for details of the arrest and prosecution of Allen Mitchell who was convicted of careless driving in April 1946 and acquitted of drunk and dangerous driving.

Cpl. Ervine testified he believed Mitchell was drunk when arrested after an accident involving a fatality.

The constable then returned to his allegation that Cons. Purdy altered an accident report he sent in after an accident involving Leroy Woods in November, 1947.

He asked if the alterations had been made because of his allegations that Commissioner Stringer and Inspector Page had failed to investigate the Woods case.

"Definitely not," the Corporal said.

"If anyone made that erasure, was he not being unfair to Cons. Purdy?" asked Cons. Keays. Cpl. Ervine said he did not know if the report had been altered, but when the question was repeated, agreed that it would be an "unauthorized act."

Cpl. Ervine said he found an improvement in the morale of the Belleville [illegible] Police District Headquarters after Inspector Page took over command.

Duties of Stenographer

Cons. Keays asked if Dorothy Dowdell, the office stenographer, was authorized to issue instructions to officers. After the question was clarified by the Commissioner, Cpl. Ervine said Miss Dowdell might convey instructions from one officer to another but could not initiate instructions.

The Commission was interrupted briefly when one of the spectators suffered an epileptic attack. He was carried from the court room by police officers and Dr. C. S. Tennant, Provincial Health Department psychiatrist, who is attending the inquiry.

"What is your opinion of Cons. Keays?" Cons. Keays asked the corporal.

"Is that a question that should be asked?" said the Commissioner.

"It is apparent that your dislike for me is absolute hatred," the corporal said. Constable Keays repeated the question.

"My opinion of you, Keays, is that you are absolutely unreliable; antagonistic towards those who don't agree with your theories; most unwilling to co-operate," the corporal said. "I think possibly I'd better stop."

"Oh no, please go on," Cons. Keays said. "Do you want to talk about adultery?"

Mr. Justice Mackay interrupted that his inquiry was not a court "and the question of privilege may very well not obtain here. I am asking that any language used shall be restrained and rather an understatement."

"Go on, corporal," the constable prodded.

Cpl. Ervine nothing more to say."

"Mr. Commissioner," said the constable, "I demand that he continue."

"If he has expressed his attitude," the Commissioner said, "there is no power in the Commission to say he must go on."

"Do you believe Keays was a man who squealed on a brother officer?" the constable asked.

"I do," said Cpl. Ervine.

Probe Bancroft Jail Break

Cpl. Ervine said the differences between the constable and himself began during the investigation of a jail break at Bancroft in 1946.

He said Cons. Keays tried to put words into a prisoner's mouth during the interrogation of the prisoners.

"I objected to it in no uncertain terms," the Corporal said. "Cons. Keays became excited. . . Cons. Keays was so wrought up he was sick all the way back to Belleville and from that day on it was obvious that Keays and I did not agree."

"There was a tension" whenever the two of them were in the office together.

Cons. Keays said the evidence of the jail guard, injured during the break, was suppressed.

He was asked who suppressed the evidence. It was disclosed that S. G. Robertson, Hastings County Assistant Crown Attorney, handled the prosecution.

Constable Keays asked Cpl. Ervine if Constable Purdy had been guilty of "one of the worst conducts becoming a police officer" while on duty at a plowing match at Lindsay.

"Not at all," the Corporal said. "It was very minor."

Cpl. Ervine denied that he had ordered an officer not to prefer charges against E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF leader, for an alleged traffic offence.

"You weren't directed by Inspector Page to refer the Jolliffe matter to the Commissioner?" Cons. Keays asked.

"I was not," Cpl. Ervine replied. "This thing became a joke, that Mr. Jolliffe was picked up for speeding."

"I don't think there was ever any intention of prosecuting."

Give Death Penalty To Donald Perreault

MONTREAL, March 25—(CP) —Donald Perreault, third member of a gang to be convicted for murder in the holdup slaying of two policemen, was sentenced to be hanged July 8 here after a King's Court Jury deliberated for 38 minutes Thursday.

Perreault received the death penalty calmly from Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure, thus ending murder trials against three gunmen which started six months ago after two constables were slain in a $2,000 bank holdup.

Donald, who appeared confident of an acquittal during his four-day trial, paled slightly when in the death sentence was pronounced, but quickly regained his composure, showing no other outward signs of emotion.

Why Seagram's sells Canada first

This is an adaptation of one of a series of advertisements designed by The House of Seagram to promote the prestige of Canada and help sell Canadian products to the markets of the world.

The campaign is appearing in magazines and newspapers published in various languages and circulated throughout the world. The peoples of many lands are told about the quality of Canadian products and see Canadian scenes illustrating these products.

The advertisements are in keeping with the belief of The House of Seagram that the future of each business enterprise in Canada is inextricably bound up in the future of Canada itself; and that it is in the interest of every Canadian manufacturer to help the sale of all Canadian products in foreign markets.

◆ ◆ ◆

A campaign such as this not only helps Canadian industries but also puts money in the pocket of every Canadian citizen. One dollar of every three we earn comes to us as a result of foreign trade. The more we can sell abroad the more prosperous we will be at home. It is with this objective that these advertisements are being produced and published throughout the world.

Verse Speaking Entries Receive Praise

Participants in the verse speaking division of the Kiwanis Music Festival on Thursday, came in for warm praise from their adjudicator, Miss Mary A. Lockhart, director of choral speaking chouses in Grade 7 and 8, Ottawa schools, who said that many of the young orators had outstanding speaking ability. Particularly was this the case in respect to those entered from Port Hope. About 80 children took part altogether, from such places as Peterborough, Baltimore, Millbrook, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Port Hope, Lakefield and Apsley. The winners in the various classes showed real aptitude as public speakers, Miss Lockhart declared.

Four Main Points

Miss Lockhart's scale of judging covered four main points. In the first place, she stressed personality development; that is, the ability of the contestants to make a friend of the audience, their poise, and their freedom and naturalness. These things can be determined within the first few moments of their reaching the platform.

The second point emphasized by Miss Lockhart was interpretation, or ability of the speakers to make their selection live—by the feeling expressed in the voice, their clear understanding of the selection, and their phrasing and pausing.

The third point is the quality of the voice, including the projection of the voice to fit the type of room competitors were speaking in, tone and pitch of the voice, and articulation which includes both enunciation and pronunciation.

Fourth point was the degree of perfection of memorization of the verse to be spoken.

Miss Lockhart said that she used this scale of judging because it was the best way of giving an interpretation of what "we are trying to do in the speech field."

Following were the winners in the various classes:

Verse Speaking, Grade 5—1 Yvonne Smith, Port Hope; 2 Roberta Mumby, Port Hope; and R. Dixon, Peterborough; 3 Roy Fisher, Port Hope.

Verse Speaking, Grade 6—1 Patricia Smith, Port Hope; 2 Barbara Malsch, Peterborough; 3 Marilyn Laurie, Port Hope and R. Turnbull, Peterborough.

Verse Speaking, Grade 7—1 D. Baulch, Port Hope; 2 B. Lauchlan, Peterborough; 3 E. Ross, Port Hope.

Verse Speaking, Grade 8 —1 Norman Galbraith, Port Hope; 2 M. Hayward, Peterborough; 3 K. Kearns, Port Hope.

Verse Speaking, Grade 9 —1 J. King, Peterborough; 2 J. Myers, Peterborough; 3 F. Schwartz and J. Copp, Peterborough.

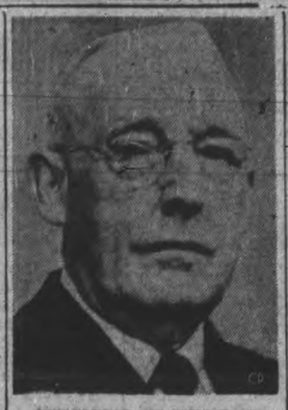
Verse Speaking, Grade 10 —1 B. Jones, Peterborough; 2 R. Thompson, Millbrook; 3 N. Bond, Peterborough.

Verse Speaking, Grade 11 —1 L. Keeting, Peterborough; 2 E. McCausland, Peterborough; 3 K. Grier, Peterborough.

SA Band Plays In United Church

BETHANY, March 25 (ENS)—Peterborough Salvation Army Band played at the United Church on Wednesday evening under the direction of Bandmaster Gerald Routley, assisted by Junior Leader A. Shadgett. The program included Chime Prelude by Harold Barton, a march played by the entire band, and an Irish Melody, with Ronald Routley playing the cornet solo. The band also played a suite entitled Songs of the Morning, composed by Eric Ball. Reg. Jones played the cornet solo in Memories, and an arrangement by Bandmaster Mountain of A Little Ship, was played by the band.

In Songs of a Brother, Alfred Mills was outstanding with his euphonium solo work, in which the variations were brilliant and unusual. Another outstanding performance was Good-bye, Egypt, depicting the story of the deliverance of the children of Israel from the bondage of Egypt. There was also a reading by John Hodgson, singing by Leslie French, with band accompaniment and selections by a male voice choir led by Ben Smith and accompanied at tht organ by Ashton Fife. Major Watt read the Scripture, and spoke briefly of the work of the Salvation Army.



The band was officially welcomed and thanked by the Rev. W. Crandall.

Mr. H. A. Monk, superintendent of the Sunday School, under whose auspices the evening had been arranged, expressed the thanks of the members to Major Watt and Bandmaster Gerald Routley. Allan Beer moved a vote of thanks to Karl Monk of CHEX broadcasting station, who had announced the program.

A parting gift was presented to Ronald Butcher, a member of the band who had joined the Canadian Navy and is leaving for the Pacific coast.

An 1877 edition of the War Cry, yellowed with age, which had been found by Walter Price in the back of an old picture he was having reframed, was presented to Major Watt.

Sunday School staff served refreshments.

MEMORIAL PLANNED—Dr. H. C. Griffith, headmaster at Ridley College, St. Catharines, has disclosed a memorial Great Hall and memorial hospital will be built to honor the memory of the 81 former Ridley students who died in the Second World War. The buildings, to cost $450,000 will be ready by autumn, 1950. The memorial hall will contain a new science department with laboratories for chemistry, physics and biology. The hospital will be named after Richard Reynolds Schmon who served in the US Third Army and was killed in France in 1944.

Minstrel Show At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, March 25—(ENS)—St John's Young Adult Club presented a humorous old-fashioned minstrel show, produced and directed by George Nicholls, in the High School auditorium, Thursday before a capacity audience. The orchestra was under the direction of Don Bennett and Mrs. George Nicholls was at the piano.

The program consisted of two parts with Don Meyers as the interlocutor. There will be a repeat performance tonight.

Part one opened with a chorus by a group of singers with Bones, Bill Bateson; Beulah, Mrs. E. Bates; Rastus, Henry Oliver; Sambo, Gordon Walroth; Vanilla, Eunice Sayers, and Sambo, Fred Palliser, the end fun makers. The vocal numbers were well chosen and brilliantly executed by Rastus, Isobel Wallace, Vanilla, Sid Hopping, Tambo, June Bennett, Sambo, Beulah, Earl Nelson and Bones.

"Figures Don't Lie," introduced the second part of the program followed by "A Bit of Telephone Nonsense" and "Specialty." Fred Palliser's monologues, "Saxophoolen," displaying the rich humor of the Negro character, was well received. Perhaps the outstanding contribution to the evening performance was the "Bathing Beauty Chorus," which evoked much laughter from the audience.

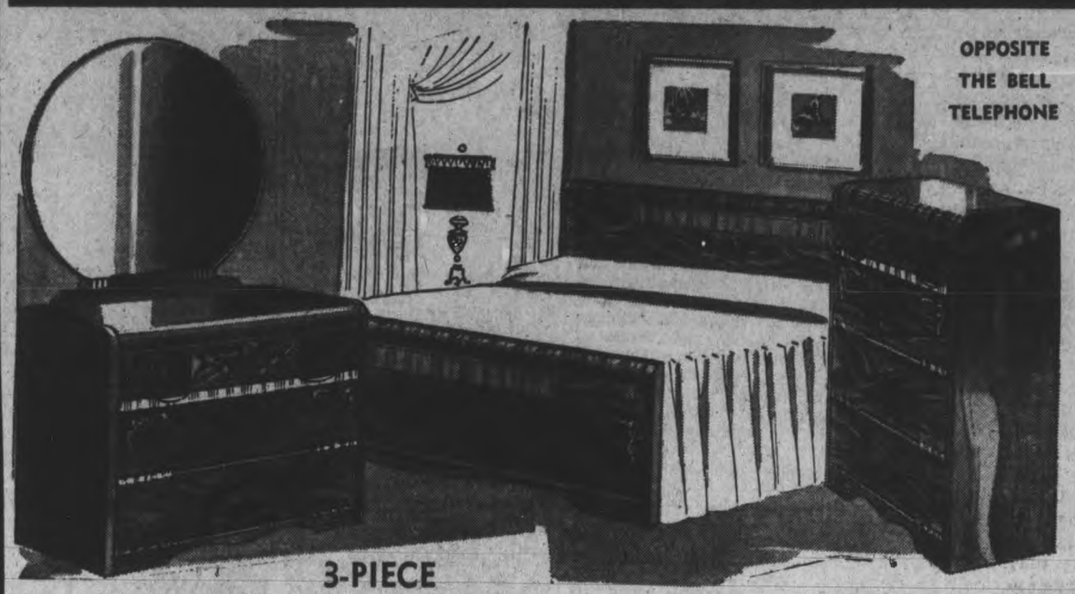
"Too Lazy to Fight" was a witty dialogue between Bunk, Mort Sayers; and Skunk, Clayton Robertson. Dr. D. M. Smith, acting the part of Professor I. M. Smart in "School Days," discovered some excellent talent among his unruly pupils. Eileen Hazell sang, Ross Richardson played a trumpet solo and Patricia March and Jack Connor sang "The Boy Who Stuttered and the Girl Who Lisped."

Ask For Ruling On Fish Smelting

COBOURG, March 25—(ENS)—A wait-and-see attitude is being held by officials of the Northumberland Fish and Game Club in regard to a decision on whether smelt fishing in Northumberland County will be prohibited this year.

Local vendors of fishing licenses have been advised that they can sell no licenses to would-be smelt fishermen, as this county is among those barred to smelt fishing. This word comes at a time when men and boys are planning to get out the nets in readiness for the spring run of smelts.

The annual smelts season is usually particularly beneficial to families finding it hard to meet the budget and is appreciated by those who like a mess of the succulent fish and are satisfied to let it go at that. But for many during the weeks of the run, it means less drain on the pocket book and these are the ones who will be most affected by the announcement from the department.



Win Fisher, treasurer of the Northumberland Fish and Game Association, said that the only information he has is based on press reports. He advises fish and game club members to wait and see if the announcement is clarified.

Not All Good Care Is State Care

In the Ontario Budget for 1949 a proposal is made that the provincial government should pay half the cost of maintaining municipal homes for the aged, and it is estimated that this would cost $200,000 a year. It is further proposed that the Province should pay half the cost of new homes for the aged, and this expenditure is estimated at $850,000. We approve of the government's desire to assist with the important work of caring for the old, but we disapprove of the provision that only municipally-owned establishments should receive government aid.

* * *

Every citizen of Peterborough will understand our disapproval at once, and will probably share it. This city has two homes for the aged, neither of which is a municipal institution, though their chief support comes from this community. Anson House is supported by endowments and bequests, by payments from some of the men and women who live there, and by a yearly grant of $1500 from the city. The House of Providence receives $1000 from the city. Both of these establishments are well and economically managed. Anson House has been the particular care of some of our most public-spirited men and women, and it enjoys a fine reputation. The House of Providence is owned and managed by the Sisters of St. Joseph, who have had long and honourable experience in this sort of work. Are they to be left out in the cold when the new generosity of the Province begins to manifest itself in increased grants? We hope not.

* * *

At present Anson House and the House of Providence receive aid from the provincial government to the extent of a grant of ten cents a day for each person housed there. Every housewife knows how far ten cents a day will stretch in such work with the cost of living at its present level. Both Anson House and the House of Providence comply in every respect with government regulations governing such institutions, and are periodically inspected to see that they satisfy government requirements. Are they to go on meeting government standards without receiving any of the new government help because they are not municipally owned?

* * *

Are we unduly suspicious in thinking that the new system of government grants is designed to force all homes for the aged into municipal ownership. The Ontario Government has for many years been carrying on a campaign to bring municipal governments closely under provincial direction. No doubt Queen's [illegible]rk thinks that if all homes for the [illegible]d in Ontario were under its direct [illegible]rol (for a grant of money implies [illegible]at power) the standard in many of them could be raised. We do not doubt that there are homes for the aged in Ontario which are susceptible of improvement, but we must point out that the two Peterborough homes have long been well above the standard set by the government, and we should not like to see them forced to change their character in order to get government aid. The Ontario Minister of Finance, and the Minister of Health and Welfare are reasonable men and we think that they will see that there are cases in which the new proposal will work unfairly. The humane resolve to protect and shelter the aged existed in the human heart long before the Province of Ontario existed, and in this city that resolve has brought into being two institutions which have for many years exceeded the Ontario government in generosity. Is it necessary that they should come under the government thumb now, as though they could not be trusted to carry on the good work which they have done for so long?

The Indians of Guatemala buy their wives on the installment plan, and if they are discontented before the payments are complete they can return the woman to her father and get their money back. Not even a small deduction for shop-wear.

Mr. Truman In A Bathing-Suit

Some time ago a news photographer took a picture of President Truman in his bathing suit, as he played on the sands in Florida. Mrs. Truman does not think that it is wise that pictures of Mr. Truman in his bathing-suit should be published, and she caused the President to have the film taken from the photographer, and suppressed. Some people appear to feel very strongly about this; they think that Mr. Truman was dictatorial, or that Mrs. Truman influences him unduly, or that photographers should be permitted to take pictures of anyone at any time—we are not quite sure what it is that they feel, but the strength of their feeling is unmistakeable. Our own opinion on the matter is divided.

If Mr. Truman does not want to be shown to the world in his bathing-suit, surely that is his business. Perhaps Mrs. Truman's decision was the wisest possible one, both on political and aesthetic grounds. It is true that Mr. Churchill allows people to take photographs of him when he wears nothing but an ill-fitting pair of trunks, and that the photographs are very funny. But people in the Churchill-Truman sphere of public life may safely be permitted to make their own rules in such matters.

On the other hand, we think that at least one photograph of Mr. Truman in a bathing-suit, or perhaps without one, should be preserved for posterity. Several years ago Bernard Shaw caused a picture of himself to be painted, showing him completely nude. Most portraits, he said, were chiefly concerned with the clothes of the subject; posterity would want to know what he looked like in the flesh, and he meant to give posterity that opportunity. There is great good sense in that point of view. After all, most of what we see of our contemporaries is the work of tailors, haberdashers and bootmakers; the real man lies beneath all that clever shamming, and it is the real man we want to see. We have often thought that Canada would be able to put a more accurate value on the deliberations of our Parliament if all the members were compelled to appear in the House as naked as God made them.

A Touch Of Yellow In Provincial Parliaments

The battle to continue the ban on margarine having been lost, the puttering and scared governments of Ontario, British Columbia and other provinces are running for cover—to cover margarine with decontaminating wrappers.

The Ontario and British Columbia legislatures have decided that margarine shall have a colour content of 1.6 per cent. yellow. Yellow, it seems, is a holy colour. However, margarine in Ontario is now to have a colour-mixture of 1.6 per cent. yellow. It will be the colour of ivory, a pale, cold, marble colour. This margarine will be the triumphant tombstone to the battle of the ban which the butter-pure people lost.

A further regulation against the execrated food is that it be wrapped in packages clearly marked "Oleomargarine" or a similar trade name. On each package there will have to be a legend explaining that this margarine is a "substitute for butter". The phrase is a lie, of course, but if it is officially said on thousands of packages, people may come to believe it true. Margarine is not a substitute for butter. It is a food in its own right. It is an alternative food to butter.

Now that margarine must be labelled "substitute for butter" we may expect to see ladies wearing nylon hose with the words clearly stamped on the nylon "Substitute for Silk". We may be blowing our noses in cotton handkerchiefs with the words indelibly inscribed on them "Substitute for Linen". Young ladies will be going to dances in mouton fur coats with the plainly red-inked legend on the coats: "Substitute for Seal Skin". Perhaps we may find the worthy Ontario legislators sitting at their desks in the Legislative Assembly with yellow bands wrapped around their foreheads bearing the words "Substitute for Brains".

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Kingston Whig fears that "the plunging neckline may some day meet the bare midriff". If this were to coincide with a really sharp rise in skirts, a new simplicity would be attained.

A writer on the movies says that Hollywood is never afraid of overdoing a good thing. Hollywood is in no such danger. But we wish it would stop overdoing so many corny things.

A news note from Moscow says that Russian is to be the new world language—the universal language of socialism. This will be rough on some of the comrades who are poor linguists. Why, some of them haven't yet mastered the comparatively simple language of moderation!

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

ALPHA: Why is the season called "spring"? I am seeking a linguistic reason.

ANSWER: Because of the springing of the year, the time when the new growth of vegetation begins. It is the spring or fount of the year. All our seasons excepting autumn have old Anglo-Saxon names, and on this continent we prefer the Anglo-Saxon "fall" to the Latin "autumn", and, I think in so doing, are to be commended. Our use of the word "fall" for autumn is graphic, and probably a continuation of an archaic usage. A long, soft word like "autumn" may suit England and other countries where the season is soft and long. Our "fall" is sudden, dramatic as a fall, and the leaves do fall, the winter falling hard behind them.

WHICH is the larger city, London or New York?

ANSWER: London. New York's population is 7,888,000 (1948 figures), including its five boroughs: Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond. Its area, all boroughs told, is 365 square miles.

London's area depends on how you look at it. If you think of the County of London, that is the area under the jurisdiction of the London County Council, it is 117 square miles with a population of 4½ millions. "Greater London" includes the city, the counties of London and Middlesex and parts of the counties of Kent, Surrey, Essex and Herts. It is made up of all parishes of which any part is within twelve miles of Charing Cross or of which the whole is within fifteen miles of Charing Cross. It is 693 square miles in extent, comprises about 7,000 miles of streets, and has a total population of 8,700,000.

Had you asked me which is bigger, the City of London, or New York, I would have answered New York.

The City of London is much smaller than Peterborough. It has an area of only 677 acres. Peterborough has 3,189 acres. Its permanent population is less than 11,000. Peterborough's is 35,000. The "City" of London, the London of history, of finance, and of the cathedral of St. Paul's (in England no place is properly a city unless it has a cathedral; that is why, when referring to the larger London, "London town" is often used) is centred on St. Paul's. Its western entrance is at Temple Bar on Fleet Street at the Law Courts. When the reigning sovereign enters the city officially, he has to ask for admission to his own capital. According to the ancient custom, the Lord Mayor receives him at Temple Bar, Holborn Bars or at the boundary of the embankment, tenders the sword of state, and His Majesty is expected to return it immediately.

The City of Paris is also small. It is the island in the Seine from which Notre Dame Cathedral rises.

KIND READERS: I am being rather swamped with questions now — and I welcome them all. If sometimes my answers are slow in appearing it is because as often as not there is no room in the column as that I cannot find answers for them immediately. You who archly write in without giving your names usually go to the bottom of the list. It seems to me reasonable to assume that the folk who sign their real names are more interested in having an answer than those who do not.

Two questions have been bothering me of late. One is: "Who are the 'first' families of Peterborough?" I shall welcome your suggestions and remarks. Another is: "Is it true that one of the earlier aldermen of the city had a pet skunk which was trained to follow him around town? If so, did it go to council meetings with him?"

SIR: In a recent Examiner editorial "Point St. Charles" was mentioned and described as the "newly-landscaped park south of George Street wharf." This particular park has for longer than I care to divulge, been known to me and other long-time residents of the district as "The Point" or "MacDonald's Point". When did it acquire the name St. Charles Point? Who named it? What is the significance of the "St. Charles".

ANSWER: I shall have to call for help in answering these questions. MacDonald's Point it certainly has been for many years, because of the former MacDonald Lumber Company's location there. I have heard, however, from unusually reliable official sources' to whom I peddled your question, that Point St. Charles is an old name for the place, and antedates "MacDonald Point".... Any specific information readers can provide will be gratefully accepted.

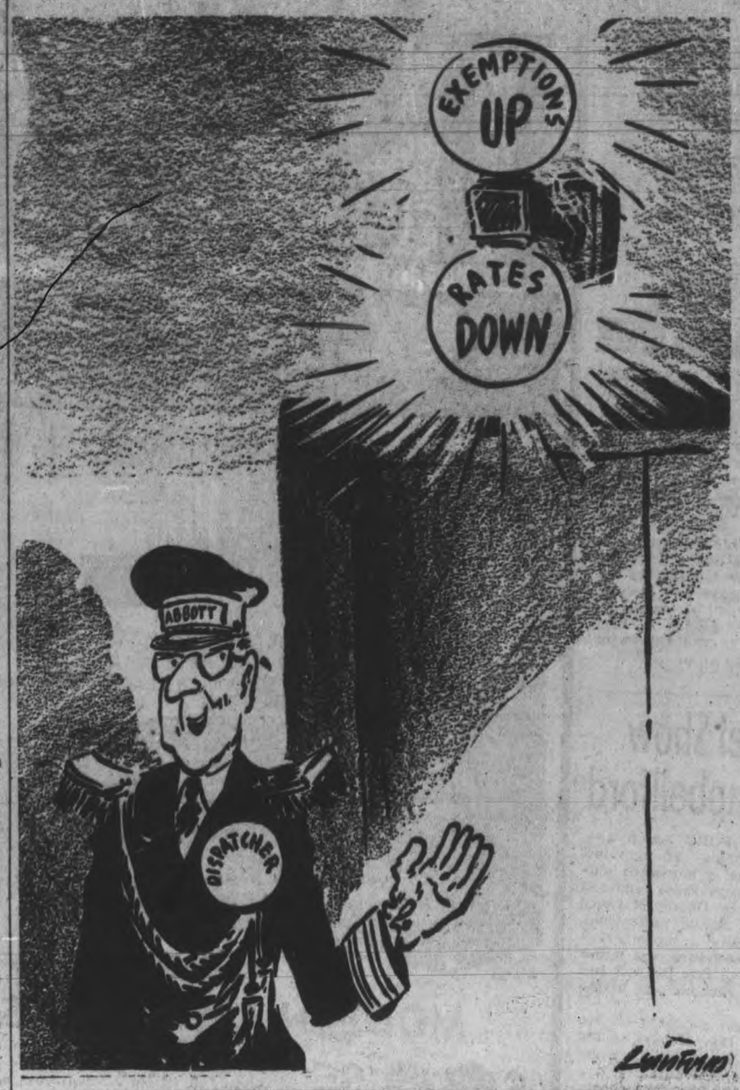
DEAR ALPHA: During the recent trial of Cardinal Mindszenti there was a headline to the effect that the whole world was shocked by the trial. A learned Asiatic gentleman of my acquaintance commented that this headline would have been more accurate if it had referred to a minor portion of one of the lesser religions of the world as being shocked. This comment prompts me to ask what proportion of Christians belong to the Roman Catholic Church and what are the largest religions in the world today?

Arising out of this, it would be interesting to know whether these religions teach that there is Hell, and whether non-believers are ren-ded.



ANSWER: According to the best figures I can find, your Asiatic friend would not make an accurate headline writer. The Roman Catholic church is the largest religious body, and there are more Christians than Hindus, Buddhists, Jews or Mohammedans. There are, so my astonishingly precise "World Almanac" records, 329,[illegible]9,603 Roman Catholics in the world. It does not say how many people there are of the Hindu religion, but I learn elsewhere that there are 232,000,000 Hindus. The precise "World Almanac" gives these further figures: 137,949,530 Protestants, 127,629,986 Orthodox Catholics, 220,978,848 Mohammedans, and 15,753,638 Jews. Agnostics seem to be included under the heading "Other Religions". It is a 1949 edition to which I refer. The precise day, hour and second on which the exact count was made is not told.

Your titillating final probing is in the realms of comparative religion and eschatology, too far beyond my earth-bound mind.

Letters To The Editor

HIGH TAXES, FOR WHAT?

Sir: I would like to voice my opinion in regard to the service rendered to some of the taxpayers of this so-called fair city. The taxes for '49 I understood will take another shot upward. I realize the city needs more money to carry on with police, fire department, looking for higher wages and so on. But do they give the people full service in exchange for the high taxes imposed upon them? In regard to the taxes on a wartime house (or should I call it a house?) after the Central Mortgage contractors were finished with them after putting a cement wall under them for the amount of $600 or more. I think if my taxes were $60 it would be plenty. Instead they are $79 now. I have a four-roomed house at the present time. I would need a boat to enter by my front door. The back door we have to wallow through mud up to my ankles. Why, because the city cannot keep open the so-called drain that runs along side the lot. Is it because they have no money to pay the men, or they just don't give a damn about the taxpayer? But they don't seem to forget to raise the taxes just when they feel like it regardless what kind of service they give the people.

In regard to the police, well they take a hop, skip and a jump down this way about once a month. They don't want to take notice of the gang of boys running wild, stealing milk bottles and the money to pay their way to the Saturday morning shows. They are not satisfied at taking the change, they take the bottle then sell them to the nearest stores and dairies. Why do not the dairies and stores ask these hoodlums where they got those bottles? No they just don't bother. Let the taxpayer suffer—they don't mind.

Then there are dogs running loose all over your lot upsetting garbage cans, howling all night and so on. The school children making short cuts across the lawn, bending and climbing on the young trees that are planted to make the place look a bit decent. But what is the use when the police are blind and the city council is only concerned in raising taxes and catering to the well-to-do? Let them wake up to the fact that they have a duty to perform if they expect the people to pay the high taxes which they impose on them.

Thanking you for the space in your paper,

Sincerely,
DISAPPOINTED HOME OWNER.

FLOGGING AND THE UNREPENTANT SINNER

Sir: I take exception to some of Mr. Albert J. J. Strange's remarks re the question of flogging. While I do not advocate for one minute, that all who break the law deserve to be flogged, I still think that there are certain crimes that call for a good whipping; there is no need for me to enumerate them. Mr. Strange takes the same attitude as many misinformed or misled people take—that is they quote or misquote the scripture and ask is it Christian?

In the first place the law does not exact vengeance or revenge on wrong-doers. For every crime or misdemeanour there is a penalty, and all law breakers know that fact before they break the law. So it is not a matter of revenge but of justice. There is not an instance in scripture where the Lord deals lightly with sin or the sinner, the only ones whom God will deal with are repentant sinners. Have you ever been in a courtroom Mr. Strange and seen some of the prisoners being sentenced? Very few of them are sorry for what they have done; they are only sorry that they were caught. As far as treating them in special sanitoriums, and engaging scientists (I presume you mean psychiatrists) to treat them, that wouldn't make much difference, as man does not sin with the mind, it goes much deeper than that; sin is a heart disease and the only one who can cure it is the Lord Jesus Christ. Read Romans 1: 18 to the end of the chapter and find out man's true condition towards God and his fellow man. No, Mr. Strange, Christianity does not mean a soft view of crime or sin, it means just the opposite for God will certainly deal with the unsaved and the unrepentant sinner severely.

Yours sincerely,
THOMAS MILLER.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. (Matt. 5: 8, 9.)

* * *

Thy word is very pure: therefore thy servant loveth it....

Great peace have they which love thy law: and nothing shall offend them. (Ps. 119: 140, 165.)

* * *

At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me....

Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven. (Matt. 18: 1-5, 10.)

How Far Is Out?

The first experimental photographs made with the new 20-inch telescope at the Mount Palomar, California, observatory have a visual reach that goes farther out into space than anything seen up to now.

These pictures reveal stars that are about a billion light years away from the earth. When it is considered that a light year is the distance over which light can travel in a year —more than 63,000 times the distance from the earth to the sun — one can gather that 1,000,000,000 times that much again is some distance.

Even that far away, however, the new telescope finds no outer edge to the universe, and the astronomers forecast that further adjustments will reveal still more stars beyond the present limits of visibility.

Albert Einstein and others have advanced theories to show that the universe is limited. Maybe it is, but the Mount Palomar instrument has not given any such indication—so far.

This may be perplexing or even annoying to Professor Einstein and other mathematicians (though they are a pretty equable lot as a rule) but it will come as a relief to ordinary laymen. To them the idea of a closed universe has always been bewildering, because, not being scientists, they have naturally asked what lay beyond the enclosure. If it now turns out that the universe is not fenced in but, like Old Man River, just keeps rolling along, another and equally stumping question arises, however: How far is out?

Kiwanis Club Congratulated For Backing Music Festival

Members of the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough are exhibiting "a remarkably correct appreciation of the value of music in life" in their sponsorship of the Peterborough Music Festival, the third annual presentation of which is now in progress here declared G. H. Heath-Gracie, adjudicator of the festival, when he addressed the Kiwanians at their weekly luncheon Thursday in the Empress Hotel. He said that the festival was "marvellously well organized" and was proving "a great inspiration" to him.

Mr. Heath-Gracie was honored by the members in being made an honorary member of the club, a membership button being pinned on his lapel by President V. M. McCabe, who tendered the club's appreciation of the adjudicator's fine work at the festival. Mr. Heath-Gracie expressed his appreciation of the honor, saying it had come to him as a very pleasant surprise.

Surprise to Adjudicator

The adjudicator, who was introduced by Past President E. G. Pridham, said that it was a revelation to him to find after his arrival in Canada that men of the business world were so interested in music education. It pleased him greatly to discover that "leaders of thought and action in the city," such as Kiwanis members appeared to him to be, were showing such "a degree of foresight" as their sponsoring of the festival made manifest.

Mr. Heath-Gracie said that the festival had a "good syllabus" and able direction behind the scenes. He was much impressed by the "ease and spirit of friendliness" which characterized its operation. He also paid tribute to the fine work of the "Kiwanis ladies" at the festival and said the hospitality which had been bestowed on him since arriving in Peterborough was "overwhelming."

Vital Part of Education

In a brief discussion of the function of music in the scheme of things, Mr. Heath-Gracie said it was no longer being regarded simply as just another leisure time activity or as a means of keeping boys and girls out of mischief. Music is now accepted as a vital part of the educational process. He noted the interest being shown in music by the Ontario Department of Education and said that the Kiwanians in sponsoring the festival were doing work that the department could not do for itself. The members would reap real dividends, which would begin to show themselves before many years had elapsed. He particularly stressed the importance of rhythm bands for the little ones and urged the Kiwanians to do all they could to speed their development, as they were basic to a proper development of music appreciation.

Mr. Heath-Gracie was thanked by Stan Northrop, chairman of the Festival Committee of the club, who said that the adjudicator's work was being much appreciated by the entrants, who regard his criticisms of their work as "very fair". His remarks have won the admiration of all the competitors Mr. Northrop said.

"V" FOR VISIT — Winston Churchill, Great Britain's wartime prime minister, greets New York with his famous "V1 for-Victory" sign as he and his family arrive aboard the Queen Elizabeth. With him are, at left, his daughter and son-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Christopher Soames, and, at right, his wife.

Like Old Times With Churchill

WASHINGTON, March 25 — (CP)—Top-ranking United States officials talked over old times Thursday with the man with the cigar and the victory sign—Winston Churchill.

The scene of their reunion was the swank British Embassy where the wartime British Prime Minister was guest of honor at a special reception.

Following the reception, the Churchill party were guests of President and Mrs. Truman at a small dinner at Blair House.

Among the invited guests to the Embassy party were Vice-president Alben W. Barkley, cabinet members, congressional and military leaders. The list included four one-time secretaries of state—Cordell Hull, Edward Stettinius, James F. Byrnes and Gen. George C. Marshall.

Practically all had been associated with Churchill during the war period.

Playing Politics With Food Gardiner Told

OTTAWA, March 25—(CP)—J. A. Charlton (PC-Brant) charged during debate Thursday on the government's control legislation that the government had "played politics with food."

He said in a debate on second reading of a bill providing for a one year extension of the food purchasing boards that the government had "gambled with the farmers' money and had lost."

Mr. Charlton said Agricultural Minister Gardiner had stated that Canadian farmers are receiving more for their cheese than farmers were receiving in the Unitd States.

However, the United States recently, sold Britain 7,000,000 pounds of cheese at 32½ cents a pound. That was more than Canada received from Britain.

Mr. Charlton wanted to know what the government was going to do about butter. The agricultural department had been offered hundreds of boxes of butter at 58 cents a pound, but so far it had not bought any.

He said farmers were worried about the future. Farm prices had been kept down while other prices were allowed to rise. Now agricultural prcies were beginning to drop.

Mr. Gardiner interjected that the net income of farmers in 1948 was $500,000,000 higher than in any other year.

Pearson Declares Peace Hope Brighter

COLLINGWOOD, March 25—(CP)—Prospects for world peace look much brighter now than they did a short time ago, External Affairs Minister Pearson said Thursday night.

Addressing a non-political gathering of 200 local and district residents in this Grey County town 80 miles north of Toronto, Mr. Pearson said he believes the Marshall plan and the North Atlantic Pact will succeed in stopping the spread of Communism.

Earlier at nearby Stayner, Mr. Pearson addressed a Liberal nomination meeting which chose Gladstone Currie, Barrie lawyer, as Liberal candidate for North Simcoe in the next federal election.

In his address here Mr. Pearson said:

"We have leaned over backwards to co-operate with Russia, but it seems impossible. Russia and the countries under her influence will co-operate only on their terms."

Home And School Sees Sports, Health Films

MARMORA, March 25—(ENS)—Home and School Association of Marmora separate school met Tuesday at Sacred Heart School. The president, H. A. McNally was chairman.

Films on sports and health and an educational film on fishing in Nova Scotia, were shown by Clarence Seeney of Stirling.

Joseph O'Neill was nominated as representative of the Marmora and Deloro Recreational Committee.

A nominating committee was appointed for the election of officers at the May meeting. Those appointed were the Rev. H. J. Farrell, V. M. Lynch and Mrs. James Black.

Bears Eliminate Capitals 4-3 In Playoffs

By The Canadian Press

The supposedly weak eastern-division teams in the American Hockey League's playoffs are raising mercy Ned with the stronger western-division clubs.

Coach Terry Reardon's eastern-division champions, Providence Reds, downed St. Louis Flyers 2-0 Thursday night for their second straight victory over the western titlists, in their best-of-seven series.

The East's second-place Hershey Bears edged the West's runner-up Indianapolis Capitols 4-3 to eliminate the Caps from the playoffs. The victory was Hershey's second straight in the best-of-three series.

Springfield's Indians, eastern half third-place occupants, put up a stiff fight before bowing to the west's third-place Cleveland Barons, 6-5, in overtime. The victory enabled the Barons, defending title-holders, to square the best-of-three series. The deciding game will be played in Cleveland Saturday night.

Ray Laplante and Roger Bedard scored Providence's goals. Laplante's goal broke a scoreless tie shortly after the half-way mark of the middle period.

Break Tie

In the second period of the Hershey-Indianapolis game, veteran Herb Cain and rookie Phil Maloney scored for Hershey to break a 1-1 stalemate. Nels Podolsky got one back for the Caps before the period ended. Cain then clinched matters with his second goal of the game early in the last frame. Cliff Simpson pocketed two of the Cap's goals.

Frank Porteous save Cleveland from elimination when he netted at 1.32 of the first overtime period. Springfield held a 3-1 lead late in the second period but Roy Kelly and Johnny Holota connected to tie it up for the hard-pressed Barons.

Ken Schultz gave the Barons a short-lived 5-4 lead early in the third period. The Indians' Rene Trudel and Bill Summerhill followed with goals and Holota then came through with his second goal of the game with less than four minutes to go to send the contest into overtime.

Prexy Ted Naish of the PCAA is calling an open meeting for 4.30 p.m. Sunday in the Murray St. Church hall to take entries for the Church Softball League. Prospective coaches have been sent copies of new rules—others may get them by phoning Harris Glen at 4264. Any objections should be aired at this next meeting. Bats will be given to each entry. Ted expresses appreciation for co-operation during the past church puck season—in which more than 300 boys participated—to the recreation commission, Jack Dane, the press, Alf Townsend, referees, coaches and executive members. He hopes for a good turnout at the Sunday session.

Tonight's basketball activity is of the feminine gender, so to speak, and on two fronts. PCVS senior and junior lasses are engaged at the Collegiate with Uxbridge opposition in COSSA semi-final return tussles. Local senior lasses spot a 10-point lead whilst the junior PCI-ers are down to two points. At the YWCA, Lockeys and Normals open three-game junior loop finals, followed by Nurses and Neill's in a second senior struggle. These series are three games, total points to count for the championship. Saturday eve at 7.15 in the Collegiate, Towne Togs are hostesses to Toronto Clifton's in LOBA semi-finals, Toronto toting a hefty lead. It's followed at 8.15 by St. Kitts and the juvenile PCVS boys in OABA finals, St. Kitts having a three-point lead from the first fray.

Startle The Natives

Annual meeting of the Ontario Lacrosse Association will be held April 23 in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. Nominations for office and proposed rule changes must be filed with Secretary Gene Dopp before April 14. The Petes, of course, have stepped up to senior "A" company this year and will soon be out for spring training. As a matter of fact two of them already worked out in the sunny south. Mick Magee and Rowan Chute, recently returned from a sojourn in Florida, startled many natives there by swinging the webbed sticks around on the beach different days as they loosened up. Most folks there hadn't the haziest what they were doing. Lacrosse isn't known in the deep south.

Didn't see yesterday's Whig yet, but Mike Rodden wrote after that 13-2 game in Kingston: "With Joe Rochetta at centre and Bill Crowley and Bob Greenlaw on the wings, the visitors presented one of the trickiest and most effective front lines seen here in years. Greenlaw did by far the most damage but Crowley and Rochetta were vital cogs in a brilliant and systematic machine. While Peterborough's power was carried mainly in the starting lineup, there were no weaklings among the others. Ned Vitarelli and Johnny Godfrey formed the cleverest checking and most resourceful defence seen here since Locos were mowing down all opponents three years ago. Ross Nicholls guarded the net with coolness and brilliance when he was severely tested."

Leafs Are A-Rollin'

Harry Watson again led Toronto Maple Leafs to victory over Dit Clapper's Bruins in Boston last night, 3-2, to put the Smythe squad two up in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-finals. Bruins battled hard but Leafs are hot now as the gravy train gathers steam and they'll be tough to stop from taking four straight as the scene shifts back to Toronto ice. Canadiens broke even in Detroit by edging the Wings 4-3 in overtime to give each club a win in their serial ere moving to Montreal. That looks like a close one all the way. Reardon is getting in Goalie Lumley's hair with his old screen trick. When Canadiens put on a power play, big Reardon parks at the crease edge smack in front of the goalie and move up and down, back and forth with the goalie, waving stick and arms as his buddies blast the rubber toward the goal. Most disconcerting.

Men's softball meeting at the "Y" last night, under Prexy Pat Calladine, decided to take one new club this season, with either three or four of last year's entries. B-A, the Knights and Stew Richardson's teams—latter hasn't named his yet — will be sure starters, and Legion have another week to decide. The new entry is Cosmopolitan Club, so the loop will operate with either four or five teams in '49 at the Bowl. A meeting at 7.30 p.m. next Tuesday in the YMCA will close this matter of entries, and then other pre-seasonal business can go ahead.

Curling Notes

By HERB MARTIN

As your writer had to pull out early for Toronto, this will be just a brief note today.

The main thing is the big closing bonspiel for local curlers on the Charlotte St. ices tomorrow afternoon. Just 56 curlers can be accommodated, so it's first come first served. Prizes? Oh, say four cars (not side-cars, surely) of the racey type! Come and see.

Millbrook had several rinks with us last night in regular friendly play by the fellows. Nothing too important transpired.

Garth Braund's rink is in Toronto today. In the Brereton-Raw Trophy play first round there yesterday, Stan Lowe's men won from N. Greene of Midland 11-5 and Dr. C. McKee's men won 12-7 from R. MacIntosh of Bobcaygeon, while J. H. Curtis of Fenelon Falls was losing 12-7 to Dr. Ralph Clark. In the second round, Clark nosed out Lowe as McKee won from Thurston of Bobcaygeon. The third round saw Devitt of Bobcaygeon defeat Clark as McKee took an extra end to win from D. H. Charlton of Lakefield 9-8.

Russelle's Roll 1507 Single In City League

Russelle's were the big team in the Men's City Five-Pin League last night as they downed the second-place Riley squad two games to one. Ned Vitarelli with high three of 867 and high single of 382 led his team to victory as they rolled a huge 1507 to cop the single game honors.

Fashion Craft rolled high pinnage of 3821 as they took six points from Ostranders and practically erased any chance the latter squad had of finishing in first place. Shockey's won two games from Clappers to extend their first-place margin to four points.

King George kept in the running for a fifth-place position with a four-point win over Marino's Lunch.

Bond Clothes, Esquires and Empress Old Timers all took four points from Charlotte Credit Jewellers, Cavanagh's and De Laval. McCannan Electric blanked Sunocos in the other contest.

Bill Martin with 828 and Joe Denault with 823 were the only other bowlers beside Vitarelli to beat 800.

Some fine single efforts were turned in: Joe Denault 377, Ed Starr 358, Tom McPhate 344, Tic Caccavella 317, Buck Fleming 312, Doug Abraham 310, Ed Young 309 and Bill Martin 305.

With two nights bowling left and six pay-off spots the following teams will be fighting it out: Shockeys 120, Rileys 116, Ostranders 110, Fashion Craft 108, Charlotte Credit Jewellers 98, King George 94, Bond Clothes 88, Russelles 86.

The annual banquet will be held April 14 at the Empress Hotel.

ROOKIE DOES IT—Rookie Max McNab, centre, who scored the winning goal for Detroit Red Wings at 4:52 in the third overtime period of their opening Stanley Cup playoff with Montreal Canadiens, receives congratulations from goalie Harry Lumley, left, and captain Sid Abel. The NHL champions won the 105-minute marathon 2-1 on their home ice on Tuesday, March 22. Canadiens won 4-3 Thursday night in Detroit after 2 minutes 59 seconds of overtime.

Canadiens Square Series Edge Wings 4-3 In Overtime

DETROIT, March 25 (CP) — Gerry Plamondon and Billy Reay, a pair of pint-sized sharpshooters, were the toast of Montreal Canadiens' camp today.

They combined Thursday night for all four goals as the Habitants squared their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series at one game apiece Thursday night with a 4-3 overtime victory over Detroit Red Wings before 13,718 Olympia fans.

It was a big night indeed for Plamondon. He fired three goals, including the winner at 2.59 of the first overtime session, and set up Reay for the other Montreal counter.

Since Plamondon was called up for the playoffs by Canadiens in the 1946 season, he played all his hockey for Montreal Royals in the Quebec Senior League until making the jump to the big time again two months ago.

The fact that he has only been playing on the same line with Reay for the last three weeks makes the feat even more remarkable. Plamondon took over Norm Dussault's left-wing spot on the trio with Reay at centre and Joe Carveth on the right flank when Dussault was injured.

Tough To Lose

The nip-and-tuck battle was a tough one for the Wings to lose, just as it was for Canadiens when they dropped the 105-minute marathon opener 2-1 Tuesday night.

Big guns for Detroit again Thursday night were their veteran captain Sid Abel, and his aggressive left-winger, Ted Lindsay. They each figured in all three markers, Abel scoring twice and Lindsay once.

Each club hit the target once in the opening session. After battling through a scoreless second period, the Wings forged ahead 2-1 early in the final but a penalty to defenceman Red Kelly proved disastrous for Detroit. While he was off the Habitants punched home two goals to lead 3-2. But the Wings were far from beaten yet and Abel's counter at 16.49 sent the teams into extra time.

On Montreal's first rush of the overtime, Plamondon took Reay's pass at the left side of the Detroit cage and flipped the puck over goalie Harry Lumley's falling body.

The tally sent the happy Habs into a war dance and they waltzed off the ice to pack for the trip to Montreal where the third contest will be played Saturday night.

Believe Dodgers Pennant Team In National Loop

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 25—(AP)—Manager Burt Shotton has sold Brooklyn Dodgers on themselves as the team that should win the National League Pennant.

There are no mincing sidesteps in Shotton's pronouncement of "we should win, why not?" Nor is there any lack of confidence among Dodger players who missed last season after slicing a world-series melon in 1947.

The confused kids of yesteryear are arriving.

Shotton hopes to go with Duke Snider, a powerful farm product, in centre field. He has moved Carl Furillo, the boy with the rifle arm, to right. In left he probably will start Gene Hermanski.

Snider may be the "long ball hitter" the Dodgers have been chasing for years. In 1948 he hit .327 at Montreal but only .244 with the Dodgers. But he is only 22, and a key to the future.

Sorting the outfielders is one of Shotton's main problems. Cal Abrams, a .337 hitter at Mobile, has been slugging the ball in the exhibitions. Tommy Brown, now definitely an outfielder, is another contender.

Marv Rackley, the club's top hitter, at .327 must get a shot. George Shuba, part-time Dodgers last year. Then the club has Mike McCormick, .303 batter with the champion Boston Braves last year. Six will stay.

Leafs Edge Boston 3-2 On Watson's Timely Goals

BOSTON, March 25—(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs, hampered all season by the retirement of Syl Apps, today heaped praise on big Harry Watson whose timely goals have sent them into a two-game lead against Boston Bruins in their best-of-seven semi-final series for the Stanley Cup.

The 200-pound left-winger, a former linemate of Apps', last night sniped two goals and led his Leafs to a 3-2 win over the Bruins. It sent them homeward-bound to take up the third game tomorrow night.

The Leafs have registered six goals in their last two games and Watson has fired in four of them. His two-goal display last night duplicated Wednesday's splurge when he led Leafs to a 3-0 win.

Watson, who appears to have taken Apps' duties of pulling the club through in the clinches, came through with the tying counter mid-way through the last period and minutes later got the pay-off goal.

Bruins Stunned

After digging into defensive play with a 2-1 lead, the Bruins were stunned when the bullet-shot Watson flipped the puck into the nets with nonchalant ease.

They made a last ditch attempt to get the tying goal before the 13,909 fans. They benched goalie Brimsek in favor of six forwards at 19:21 but the Leafs held on.

Toronto scored first early in the initial period, Rookie Ray Timgren getting his first playoff marker on a wild, goalmouth scramble. Woody Dumart tied it up a couple of minutes later with a similar goal.

In the second period, Paul Ronty sent the Bruins into a 2-1 lead when he converted on a three-way play with Milt Schmidt and Johnny Peirson.

Watson got his first goal midway through the third period, when he beat Brimsek on a pass from Cal Gardner and then followed up with the game-winning tally.

Dallas Triumphs 5-3 Eliminates Rangers

By the Associated Press.

Dallas Texans are past their first hurdle in the United States Hockey League playoffs and are ready to invade Tulsa for their second.

Dallas won its second straight game in the best-of-three playoffs at Fort Worth 5-3 Thursday night to eliminate the Rangers.

Dallas will open their second round best-of-three series at Tulsa on Saturday night. Tulsa finished the season in first place in the Southern Division.

Gordie Petrie scored twice in the first period to start the Texans off with a 2-0 lead and they never fell behind.

Omaha invades Kansas City to-night for the second game of the best-of-three Northern Division playoffs. Omaha won the opening game to take a 1-0 lead.

How To Celebrate Birthday Of King George Problem

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, March 25—(CP)—How the King's birthday will be celebrated next June is receiving serious attention at Buckingham Palace. The time-honored ceremony of trooping the color will be performed by the Brigade of Guards, but it is considered unlikely that the King will be permitted by his doctors to take the salute and inspect the parade.

Normally this is always done by the sovereign as Colonel-in-Chief of the Guards, wearing the uniform of whatever regiment is trooping its color. He rides back in procession with the other guards' Colonels—among them Princess Elizabeth who is Colonel of the Grenadiers.

The ceremony is fairly lengthy and would be a strain on the King, especially as he has not ridden a horse for some time.

General impression in court circles is that Princess Elizabeth will deputize for the King. She deputized for him on one trooping parade in 1947.

Race Meeting Too

Another matter receiving serious consideration at Buckingham Palace is whether the King will be able to attend this year's Royal Ascot meeting.

Though a race meeting is less tiring than riding horseback at a military parade, it still involves a good deal of walking and standing—two things the King is forbidden to do except when absolutely necessary.

Here again Princess Elizabeth would be a willing deputy; for she is keen on racing and has arranged to make her Ulster visit with the Duke of Edinburgh by air to enable her to get back in time for the Ascot meeting.

Meanwhile, the King will begin a new phase of his convalescence at Easter with a six weeks' stay at Windsor Castle. He will go for drives in the extensive grounds and will also walk in the gardens.

Members of the Royal household say it is even possible the King may be able to do a little riding, one of his favorite pastimes.

Choirs Compete Lindsay Men Top In Songs

Music festivals should not be regarded as simply "trials of strength" and those with limited opportunities for practising, such as competitors living in rural areas, should not feel diffident about entering them. So declared G. H. Heath-Gracie, adjudicator of the third annual Peterborough Kuwanis Club Music Festival, Thursday evening as the festival concluded its fourth day in Murray Street Baptist Church. "I want to see everybody enter these fastivals; the main purpose of them is to give help where it is needed," he said.

Outstanding among Thursday evening's performances was that of William Perry, of Lindsay, who was awarded the high mark of 91 in Class 32, male voices, oratorio. The adjudicator said he had a voice "with a very cultured quality" and exhibited "supremely fine dramatic talent."

Mr. Heath-Gracie extended high praise to the whole of this class, saying that all those entered in it did "very good work and gave thoroughly sincere performances."

Another Lindsay entrant, Bruce Davidson, took second place in this class with a mark of 90. He was described as a singer of "great sensitiveness, capably portraying things in a bitingly clear way," and his rendition as an "extremely beautiful one," with fine diction and a beautiful tone.

In Third Place

Third place in the class went to H. Pyle, of Peterborough, with 89. Mr. Heath-Gracie said he had "an extraordinarily fine capacity for singing" and sang his number very nicely, although he needed to develop "contrasts" in shades of tone.

Another leading feature of the evening's program was the keenly contested Church Choirs Open, Class, in which there were two entries, Mark Street United Church, under direction of Mrs. Olive Searles, and Murray Street Baptist, of which the leader was Stanley Northrop. Each choir sang two numbers, the first number in both cases being "Come O Thou Traveller Unknown" and the second number the competitors' own choice. Murray Street Choir was given first place, with 163 points, Mark Street choir receiving 161 points.

In his adjudication Mr. Heath-Gracie said that the bass section in the Mark Street choir was too light, a condition which he had found to be generally true among Canadian choirs. "All the harmony depends upon the bass section being really solid," he said. He urged both choirs to be careful not "to sing in chunks, but to develop a long sweep of sound."

The following are the complete results of Thursday's classes:

Piano Duet (under 9 years) — 1 A. Reid and G. Robinson of Peterborough; 2 W. Collins and M. Triggs of Peterborough; 3 W. Outram and W. Vandervoort of Peterborough.

Piano Solo, Sight Reading (under 15 years)—1 N. Schwartz, Peterborough.

Violin Solo (under 10 years)—1 C. Brumell, Bobcaygeon; 2 G Crawford, 3 A Mandel, Peterborough.

Connie Mack took his second airplane ride in 16 years Thursday as Philadelphia Athletics left West Palm Beach, Fla., by air for a three-game exhibition series with the Havana club of the Florida International League.

All of the regulars except Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene, Ont., and Dick Fowler of Toronto, made the trip. The two pitchers are Canadian citizens and United States immigration laws do not permit them to leave the country. Marchildon, an RCAF gunner shot down during the war, also has been forbidden to fly by his doctors.

At Liverpool, England, Scotland's Jackie Paterson has announced an end to his turbulent boxing career after losing his British and Empire bantamweight championship. Paterson was soundly beaten in a 15-round title fight Thursday night by Stan Rowan, 24-year-old Liverpool fighter. Each weighed 117. "I've fought my last fight," declared the Glasgow veteran after his defeat. He formerly held the flyweight championship of the world.

At Vero Beach, Fla., outfielder Gene Hermanski of the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday rescued rookie infielder Bobby Morgan when a strong undertow swept the latter out to sea. Morgan clutched at a wooden piling and suffered cuts of the body before Hermanski caught up with him. Eddie Miksis, also in the party, helped in the rescue.

Postpone Ceremony

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., March 25—(CP)—United Nations officials Thursday postponed the cornerstone ceremony at their New York headquarters site after President Truman said he could not attend because of pressure of work. The ceremony at the 17-acre permanent headquarters area was scheduled for April 10. A new date will be set when and if Truman says he will attend.

Rooney Weary Of Hardy Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 25—(AP) — Memo: Don't mention Andy Hardy to Mickey Rooney.

We were talking about his new career away from M. G. M. the explosion came when I asked if he had trouble escaping from Andy Hardy.

"They make me sore," he said, referring to film reviewers and other critics. "They're always harping on Andy Hardy. You'd think that was all I had ever done. What about 'Boys Town,' 'Young Tom Edison,' 'Babes in Arms,' 'National Velvet'?

"Why don't they let Andy Hardy die? I haven't done one in three or four years. I'm an actor, not just an Andy Hardy."

The brash Rooney has cast off from his longtime home port, M.G.M. he is reportedly supposed to return for one film a year, but he hinted that he may not even do that. He said he would free-lance and not sign up with any studio. What kind of roles would he seek?

All Roles

"I'll do everything—dramas, musicals—any good story that comes along. That's the way I made my name: Doing all kinds of pictures."

He said he had no new film deals set as yet. One he'd like to do is remake of Jimmy Cagney's "Public Enemy."

Lacrosse Champions Prepare For Action

HAMILTON, March 25—(CP)—Hamilton Tigers, defending Canadian Senior Lacrosse Champions, already are preparing for the coming season.

Most of last year's championship squad will be back in harness and officials said that six or seven new players would probably be signed up before the Mann Cup race starts.

Joe Cheevers, popular playing coach is expected to rejoin the outfit but will stick to the coaching end. Meanwhile, Doug Flavell of St. Catharines, who played an outstanding game in goal last season, has indicated he would return.

Two more St. Catharines players are being lined up, officials said. They are Barney Welsh and Leo Teatro, a star with the St. Catharines Juniors last year.

SWEDEN'S MONARCH, vacationing at Nice on the French Riviera, watches a tennis match with one of his entourage. He doesn't enjoy being a spectacle; he'd rather be just another spectator.

King Gustaf, 90, Finds Life Of King Too Public

By DAVID S. BOYER

NICE, France —(NEA)—Living like a king isn't all it's cracked up to be.

Some kings—and Gustaf V of Sweden is one of them—would gladly trade places for a while with an ordinary citizen.

At age 90, King Gustaf, who is here soaking up Rivera sunshine on his annual vacation, makes no bones about the fact he'd like to slide into a porch chair without a doctor and nurse and half a dozen other assistants hovering around him. He'd like to go to a tennis match and be just a spectator, not something for the spectators to speculate about.

Speculation is in the minds of the thousands of Frenchmen and tourists in Nice who occassionally catch a glimpse of the tall, gaunt titular head of the independent Swedish nation as he motors along the beach drive in his 12-cylinder Packard. Everyone is wondering how much longer this venerable old man, who still musters a smile and a royal wave for the crowd, will be able to maintain sufficient health for public appearances.

Th king, meanwhile, coughs raspingly against the bronchial tickling in his throat, and recalls the days, not so many years ago, when he wasn't a tennis spectator, but a full-fledged participant. This is the first year in 41 consecutive visits to the Riviera (not including the war years) when he has not staged a vigorous show on a tennis court.

This year, the king, who was French-born and whose father came before him to the same Hotel d'Angleterre in Nice, is confining his activities to tea parties, knitting, motoring and bridge Even for these pursuits, he is pursued.

More than 500 anxious people silently watched him step falteringly onto a royal carpet from his special railroad car on his arrival here. Each day, they watch with concern as he hobbles to his limousine, helped usually by his personal physician, Dr. Hjalmar Casserman, and bundled into a furry auto robe by his private nurse.

King Gustaf won't allow an escort to precede him on his drives. He pretends not to notice the entourage of police, reporters and friends who drive after him.

Half a dozen of France's best secret service guards surround and follow him wherever he goes.

This is a vacation for the plainclothesmen, too, for the king only goes out for two hours a day. Jean Baldy, who has trailed important persons through France for 15 years, can remember the days before the war, however, when guarding King Gustaf was no vacation.

"We used to start early in the morning," he remembers, "and finish early in the morning. The king could stay with a party or over a Monte Carlo roulette wheel with the best of them. I've guarded Trotsky, the Duke and Wally, King Leopold, Boris of Bulgaria, the president of France, King Farouk and Madame Peron. None of them could hold a candle to Gustaf."

Leaves For Washington

LONDON, March 25—(CP) — Foreign Secretary Bevin left Thursday night for Washington to sign the North Atlantic Treaty. Bevin will sail from Southampton for the United States aboard the Queen Mary today, along with Premier Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium and Foreign Minister Joseph Bech of Luxembourg, other allaince members.

Have No Announcement

MONTREAL, March 25—(CP) —The Railway Association of Canada, meeting to consider the effect of removal of the 15 per cent federal transportation tax, ended its two-day session Thursday night without making any announcement. A spokesman said a decision had been made at the meeting but its nature could not be made public until the 40-odd members of the association had been consulted.

Pair To Stand Trial

SUDBURY, March 25—(CP)—A former Burwash Reformatory guard and a prisoner Thursday were committed for trial on a charge of conspiring to assist in the escape of prisoners. The guard, Joseph G. Lapierre, 25, said in a statement admitted by the court as evidence that he gave Louis John Jones a soap impression of a key "because I felt sorry for him."

Huge Gas Fire Burns In Ground

HOUSTON, Tex., March 25 —(AP)—A huge gas fire burning in the ground near here was uncontrolled Thursday, but there was no immediate danger to life or property.

The fire was in the Houston oilfield, about 10 miles southwest of Houston. Police circled the fire with a cordon of men to keep the curious beyond the danger zone. No evacuations of residences was necessary.

One theory is the fire originated from the blow-out of an abandoned gas well. The flames caught about 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Light from the fire lighted much of Houston and rumbles and small explosions could be heard from the burning area. Police said the air in the vicinity of the fire was filled with small chunks of cement and mud.

Fifty Years Master Mason

MARMORA, March 25—(ENS)—The jewel given by Grand Lodge to Master Masons of 50 years' membership was presented to Bro. Royal Thomas Warren of Marmora Lodge on Monday. Bro. Warren received the jewel from Right Wor. Bro. S. C. Wood, DDGM of Prince Edward district, at a meeting of the Marmora Lodge.

Bro. Warren was raised to the degree of Master Mason on March 2, 1899, when Richard Prout was master of the lodge. His father, Thomas Warren, who later became master of the lodge, was the first to be initiated as a member of AF & AM 222, which met for some time in the old Orange hall which stood on the site of the present building.

Have Withdrawn Bill For Public Accountants

TORONTO, March 25—(CP)—Education Minister Porter Thursday withdrew from consideration by the Ontario Legislature a bill to incorporate the Institute of Accredited Public Accountants of Ontario.

The bill was sponsored by William Murdock (PC-Essex South), who agreed to its withdrawal.

Mr. Porter said the Institute made no progress in arranging with a recognized Ontario University to establish courses. There were apparent differences between the Institute and the two accountant organizations allowed at present to confer degrees—the Chartered Accountants Association and the Certified Public Accountants.

JAILED IN RAPE CASE

PORT ARTHUR, March 25—(CP)—Kenneth Cain, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Thursday was sentenced to seven years and 10 lashes on charges of raping one woman and attempted rape of another. Both offences occurred within a month.

ABBOTT FINANCING ENABLED William Riley, New Toronto, to buy a soft drink Thursday with cheque for six cents he received from finance department at Ottawa as refundable part of his compulsory savings. Waitress Elsie White gave him back a cent change. Postage on cheque was 11 cents.

New Disease Killer

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J., March 25—(AP)—Dr. Selman A. Naksman announced Thursday the discovery of a new disease killer which he said might go farther than streptomycin in combatting tuberculosis. Dr. Naksman, who discovered streptomycin five years ago, said he is calling the new substance neomycin.

Blame Officer For Mistake

TORONTO, March 25—(CP)—Provincial Treasurer Frost suggested that a committee of the Ontario Legislature investigating alleged irregularities in the election last June of Education Minister Porter report that returning officer Daniel McCabe "cannot be excused for his carelessness."

Mr. Frost, chairman of the committee, said there was no evidence that Mr. McCabe was dishonest. CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe contended there was "strong circumstantial evidence of more than carelessness."

Mr. Frost suggested to the committee that it draw up a report which should include: That results of the recount established that Mr. Porter was duly elected; that all three parties and all deputy returning officers be absolved of any knowledge of irregularities; that the committee does not know who was responsible for changing figures or what the motive was: that election machinery might be improved to prevent a recurrence of such incidents; and that McCabe "cannot be excused for his carelessness."

Mr Jolliffe said that McCabe "lost or destroyed" returns submitted to him by deputy returning officers of the subdivisions where changes in totals were made suggested that "things like that are not accidental."

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

Europe was hungry and John Cabot brought back news, in 1498, of great catches of fish along the Grand Banks. Soon hundreds of ships sailed to the waters just off Newfoundland—to bring back the largest catches in their history.

When Britain claimed the Island, fishing ports grew up along the coast. For many years the honour of governing the colony was given to the Captain of the first ship entering port each year. It was a strict rule. Then, in 1855, Newfoundland won responsible government of elected representatives.

It took a war for the world to recognize the rich resources of Newfoundland. The demands for the Island's products—fish, seal oil, minerals and lumber—led to a prosperity never before known.

On March 31st, 1949, we welcome into our confederation of provinces a neighbour whose road has always run parallel to ours—Newfoundland. Our interests are common . . . our ideals the same. Together, we shall go forward to greater achievements. We'll prove anew there's room to grow—in Canada Unlimited!

Just how much room is told in "Canada Unlimited" an illustrated 144-page book published by the O'Keefe Foundation. You may obtain your copy by sending 25c in cash (no stamps or cheques, please) to "Canada Unlimited", Dept. N5-5, O'Keefe House, Toronto, Ontario. Please print your name and address clearly. All monies received will be donated to the Canadian Citizenship Council*.

Parents Hear Health Talks

OMEMEE, March 25 (ENS)—Health talks by three members who are also nurses, were given to the Home and School Association Monday.

There were 38 members present out of an enrollment of 52. Miss Lamb's room had the highest representation tof parents.

L. M. Curtis reported the cooperation of the Board of Education in ordering an automatic record player and radio for the school, which was the main 1948-49 objective of the Association.

To meet a deficiency in the treasury, it was decided to hold a euchre party on April 22, for which Mrs. H. Green was appointed convener.

President Mrs. S. Northey reported having attended the Home and School Council meeting in Peterborough, March 16. She had been accompanied by Mrs. D. Hicks, Mrs. J. B. Hough and Mrs. W. D. Weir.

The Home and School creed was read by Mrs. A. Stephenson. Mrs. F. W. Pooley reported that she had forwarded 10 subscriptions to the Ontario Home and School magazine and had a quantity of literature at the disposal of the members.

Mrs. Northey thanked Mrs. C. G. Shaw for her work as convener of the school lunch committee during the winter. Arrangements were made to attend the Ontario Federation convention in Toronto, April 20.

Explains Dental Health

Mrs. W. G. Earle, who spoke about dental health, dealt with reasons for tooth decay in children and prevention through diet and proper use of the tooth brush. It was important to familiarize the child with its use as early as two-and-a-half to three years of age. She also recommended familiarity with the dentist's office to eliminate fear when the time came for a compulsory visit.

Mrs. V. E. R. Zufelt and Mrs. H. Bent demonstrated practical nursing. Mrs. Zufelt dealt with prevention and treatment of common colds and Mrs. Bent described treatment for fainting, convulsions, poisoning, choking, bleeding, sprains, dislocations and fractures. Together they demonstrated bandaging.

The meeting included community singing conducted by Mrs. W. D. Weir. Mrs. Lamb moved a vote of thanks to those contributing to the success of the program. Lunch was served.

The next meeting will be April 11.

Two People Killed In Tennessee Blaze

WAVERLY, Tenn., March 25—(AP)—Two persons were killed when fire swept through the Dixieland hotel here Thursday.

One man was killed in a leap from the second floor of the two-storey frame structure. The other was found dead in his room from smoke and fumes.

Some 20 persons escaped from the blazing structure without injury.

Find Livestock Market Much Stronger

TORONTO, March 25 (CP). — The Toronto Livestock Market this week took quite a healthy turn. Cattle receipts were some 100 head heavier than last week and prices gained 50 cents to $1. Hogs gained 50 cents, and lambs were up 50 cents. Only calves were weaker, dropping $1.

The cattle run totalled 5,619 head. They moved briskly and medium to choice weighty steers sold at $20-$2.25. Good light steers were $20 $21.50 and plain steers sold downward to $18. Good heifers were $20-$20.25 and plain heifers sold downward to $18. Good cows sold at $16.50-$17.50, with canners and cutters mostly $10.50-$13.

Bulls were $16-$19, according to quality. Choice fed yearlings were $22-$23.50 and mediums sold downward to $19. Small lots of plain to good stockers brought $16-$18.50. Ordinary quality milkers and springers sold at $150-$190 each.

Calf prices dropped $1 on a run of $1,298 head. Good to choice vealers were $27-$29 with plain to medium lights at $1y-$26.

Hogs totalled 2,167 head. Grade A closed at $31.75, with Grade B1 at $31.35. Sows were up 50 cents at $24.50 dressed.

Sheep and lambs receipts of 389 head included two cars of Western lambs. The Westerns sold at $26 and good local lambs were $25.50 with plain kinds at $16-$24. The few sheep offered sold at $5-$11 according to quality.

Influenza Outbreak

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., March 25—(CP)—The worst influenza outbreak in 25 years today was reported swelling in this industrial city with some 60,000 persons confined to bed. Three wards in the Birmingham isolated hospital were opened in the emergency and three of the 60 patients sent there this week have died.

Cancel Dinner

PHILADELPHIA, March 25—(AP) — The Broadwood Hotel Thursday cancelled a reservation for a dinner for Russian Composer Dmitri Shostakovich. Two days ago Town Hall rejected a proposed concert booking in honor of Shostakovich. The hotel management said its action was taken after receipt of a number of protests.

Honor Prison OC

LONDON, March 25—(AP)—A German prison commander is going to be honored by Britons he kept under guard because he was "so decent" to them during the war. Prince Wilhelm von Hohenlohe, who commanded the prison at Blechhammer, Upper Silesia, has accepted an invitation of a committee arranging a reunion to honor him next October.

NEW STYLE DOORMAN—In contrast to the burly giants traditionally seen, Marcel Gauthier, 3 feet 11 inches, of efficient courtesy sets a new style in doormen. Pint-sized and popular Marcel guards the entrance to an east-end night club in Montreal and has no trouble at all with the customers.

Acquit Driver Drunk Driving

Frank Scott, RR 9 Peterborough, was acquitted on a charge of drunk driving by Magistrate W. R. Philp K. C. at city police court Thursday.

Scott was involved in an accident with another car March 11 at Hunter and Roger Sts. and was subsequently charged with drunk driving.

Constable Trayner said that when he arrived at the scene of the accident, he spoke to Scott, who smelt strongly of alcohol. The constable said Scott staggered and was unable to keep things clearly in his mind. He agreed with W. J. A. Fair, K.C., defending counsel, that although he did not see the accident, it appeared that Scott's car might have been pulled to a stationary position before the impact.

John Tinney, driver of the other car involved, said he did not see Scott's car stop. He said Scott looked "all right to me" after the accident. He agreed that Scott had been drinking.

Scott said he had had three and a half pints of beer and supper between 5 p.m. when he left work and approximately 7 p.m., when the accident occurred. He said this was no more than he usually drank.

Michael Scott, the accused's brother, and two young nephews also said Scott was not drunk. They had been with him only a short time before the accident occurred.

When Crown Attorney John Bradshaw cross examined the accused, he suggested to him that he had since made a deal with Tinney in return for which he modified his evidence. Scott denied this.

Don't Like Boss

SALFORD, Lancs., England, March 25—(Reuters)—All 180 employees at an engineering works here staged a strike Thursday after Miss Mary Dugdale, 40, a former typist at the plant, arrived to take over the governing directorship, to which she was appointed under the will of the firm's head. Miss Dugdale also was left the bulk of the £133,000 ($532,000) fortune amassed by John Anderson, head of the St. George's Engineer Company.

Ottawa Approves Grants To 5 Hospitals

OTTAWA, March 25—(CP)—The Government has approved Federal grants to five Ontario hospitals, Health Minister Martin announced Thursday.

The hospitals are located in Peterborough, Cornwall, Oshawa, Oakville and Dunnville. The money is to be used for adding a total of 276 beds to their capacity. In each case Ontario must match the Federal grant under terms of the National Health plan.

The grants are calculated on the basis of $1,000-a bed, Mr. Martin said. In the cases of the Cornwall and Oshawa hospitals, however, part of the construction was completed when the Federal plan came into operation last April. Thus, they were not eligible for the full amount of the grant. Part payments have already been made on the amount allotted to these projects.

Cornwall General Hospital is adding 90 beds to its capacity, increasing medical, surgical and obstetrical services, and installing a new X-ray department and outpatient accommodation. Construction is expected to be completed this spring.

St. Joseph's General Hospital, Peterborough, will receive assistance to help pay for addition of 65 beds, construction is expected to be finished by the fall of 1950.

Oshawa General Hospital plans to increase bed capacity from 137 to 155.

The Oakville-Trafalgary Memorial Hospital is a new institution. Construction started last fall and is expected to be completed next spring. The hospital will have a bed capacity of 50 and will receive $50,000 from Federal construction grants.

The new Haldimand War Memorial Hospital in Dunnville will replace an old hospital. It will have 53 beds and equipment to handle medical, surgical and maternity cases. About $53,600 each from the Federal and Provincial Governments will add to public subscription and county grants to pay for the hospital.

Birthday Resolution

TORONTO, March 25—(CP)—The Ontario Legislature Thursday passed a resolution extending greetings to the people of Newfoundland on their impending union with Canada. The resolution was moved by Agnes MacPhail (CCF-East York), only woman member of the legislature, who was extended the privilege of moving the resolution to mark her birthday. She was 59 last Monday and Thursday she found a large bouquet of spring flowers on her desk from members of the legislature.

Moose Shot In Anstruther Brings Fine Of $100, Costs

Two convictions under the Ontario Game and Fisheries Act, one for illegal killing of a moose and the other for illegal possession of moose meat, were recorded in city police court Thursday morning after charges were laid by Game Overseer Robert H. Trotter, of Apsley. Gilbert Gilliland paid a fine of $100 and costs, maximum penalty provided under the act, for killing the moose, while George Trotter, brother of the game overseer, was fined $30 and costs for illegal possession of the meat. Both reside in the Apsley district.

The game overseer seized the moose meat at Clanricarde about 50 miles north of Peterborough, on March 5. He told the magistrate that Gilliland had previously been convicted under the Game Act for illegal trapping and fishing, in asking for the maximum sentence.

Scene of the offenses is located in Anstruther Township. Both accused pleaded guilty to the charges laid against them. Gilliland has been working at Eel's Lake sawing lumber at a mill there.

Gilliland, acording to the overseer, admitted killing the moose when the officer found the meat in his possession, and also giving some of it to George Trotter, who also admitted receiving it from Gilliland. Both offered written pleas of guilty, as provided for by the act.

VOL. XCVIII, No. 71 — PRICE FIVE CENTS — FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1949

Seven-Cent Bar A Glum Bite May Go Higher

Chocolate bars are down to seven cents, but only after much searching of merchandising hearts and prodding from customers. When the one-cent tax was removed Tuesday evening after the Budget had been tabled, candy-counter men, shops, chocolate-bar distributors, manufacturers and their commercial travellers were in a dither. They did not know what to do about the eight-cent bar.

The Examiner had words on the subject with one of the commercial travellers who was having words with one of the merchants. The merchant had only recently laid in a large stock of bars, on which the tax had been paid. He is now glumly selling them at seven cents, thereby losing a cent on each bar.

They were a disconsolate pair. The merchant was angry because he had a large stock on hand, angry that the Government had not given him any warning, angry that the salesman and manufacturers were apparently going to do nothing to help him meet the loss.

Taking a Loss

Another cigar and candy store man was more cheerful. "Some of us made a killing when the tax was first put on. I guess we can afford a bit of a loss now that the tax is taken off." The tax is paid at the depots, not directly as each bar is sold over the counter. So when the tax was put on, the man with a good stock made an extra cent on each bar. Now that it is off, he loses a cent on his stock. One chocolate bar wholesaler in town is rumored to have such a large stock on hand that he may lose $1,600.

The commercial traveller tried to convince the merchant that he was foolish to reduce the price now to seven cents. The merchant was unconvinced. He couldn't sell an eight-cent bar next to a bin in which there was five-cent pop.

Prices of chocolate bars have not yet been determined by the manufacturers, the salesman said. "Chocolate bars are decontrolled. The manufacturers have the right to absorb the tax reduction if they want to." He said that heads of firms were now meeting in Toronto to decide what to do about prices. The salesman has no authority yet to offer new stock for sale at a reduced price.

No Five-Cent Bar

His opinion was that manufacturers wanted to increase the size of the bar and sell it at ten cents retail.

There will be no return to the five-cent bar, he said. "But what about the big drop in the cost of cocoa-beans?" said the retailer. The traveller skipped around that. The merchant was referring to a large price drop recently commented on in the Examiner. Last autumn cocoa-beans were costing 39-40 cents on the New York market laid down in Canada. Now the cost is 25 cents. However, before the war, the cost was 6½ cents a pound. Cocoa in chocolate bars now being manufactured was bought at the old high price.

Seven cent bars may not be here to stay. The salesman hinted that they might even go higher again shortly, although, as he admitted, present day bars are small, the tax has been removed, the government subsidy on sugar is still being paid, and the cocoa-bean will cost much less.

REPRESENTS LEADER

Hon. Wishart Robertson, leader of the government in the Senate, has requested Senator J. J. Duffus to represent him at the funeral of Hon. G. N. Gordon here today.

ST. ALBAN'S ANGLICAN CHURCH, Cameron St. and Monaghan Rd., is the third church erected in Peterborough's expanding South End during the past 12 months. The best of traditional church art in the modern design, its architect was Sidney H. Watson, OSA, CSPWC, director of the Ontario College of Art. The rector, Rev. E. C. Moore, is shown lighting altar candles in the photo at the Left. The complete Nissen hut-type building and furnishings were accomplished by parishioner labor.

Leave Is Asked To Prosecute Lindsay Firm

Claiming that Knitters Ltd. of Lindsay is not living up to its agreement with the union, Local 837 of the Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO-CCL) has asked leave of the Minister of Labor to prosecute the Company. Albert E. Johnston, TWUA representative made this announcement today.

According to the union the company agreed to accept the findings of a Conciliation Board, but failed to implement that agreement. Piece rates were to be set and pay made retroactive to March 1, 1949, and on that date an adjustment in the cost-of-living bonus was to be made, a union spokesman said today.

He claimed that neither of these agreements had been observed.

The union contends that the company is deliberately flouting the agreement to discourage union membership which is claimed to be nearly 100 per cent.

The decision to ask leave to prosecute the company was made on Thursday night at a special meeting called by the union. According to Johnston strike action was discussed but rejected in favor of the application to the Minister of Labor.

Kinsmen Club Honors Treasurer Pat Iley

Two members of the Kinsmen Club, Dr. James Perry and Al Wilson spoke at the meeting of the Kinsmen Club Thursday night.

Patrick Iley, club treasurer and accountant at the Bank of Montreal, who is leaving for Hamilton, was presented with a gift by James King on behalf of the club.

Beacham Boucher was appointed new treasurer for the balance of the year.

Stanley Gilmour, president, was in the chair.

CLEAN UP STREETS

For the past several days city workmen have been busy cleaning city streets from the winter's accumulation of sand and grime. The hard remnant of curb-side ice has been broken up and carted away and the dirt underneath has also been removed. Today George St. received its first wash of the year from the street flusher.

Southend St. Alban's Rises Through Devoted Labor

To take care of the spiritual needs of Peterborough's growing South-End, three new churches have been established during the past 12 months. The last to reach completion is St. Alban's Anglican Church at Cameron St. and Monaghan Rd. It is a parish church of St. George's, and although services have been held in it since Christmas Day, the altar appointments were only completed about two weeks ago.

The story of its building is one of pioneer fortitude and the manual labour of devoted parishioners. Forseeing the need of enlarging his parish, the rector, Rev. E. C. Moore, went into the matter about two years ago with his superior, the Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Anglican Church. Through the latter's whole-hearted co-operation and that of his own parishioners, Synod funds and small grants were accumulated to enable St. George's to expand.

A lot on the corner of Cameron St. and Monaghan Rd. was purchased in June, 1947, which included a house. The building was occupied, and it was necessary to hold services in a tent until the house was available. It was then used for a parish hall until it was decided that a small church was the only way to accommodate the growing parish.

Professional Artist Designs

Sidney H. Watson, O S A, CSPWC, director of the Ontario College of Art, Toronto, a friend of Mr. Moore's, designed a suitable church. He has done a great deal of church art and his design of St. Alban's is considered by Mr. Moore as the best of traditional church art interpreted in the modern manner.

The building is of Nissen hut construction with a facade of cement block and brick design inlay. Dormer windows on each side let in sufficient light and the walls and ceiling are of pressed wallboard.

The altar is of simple modern design faced with native Canadian red cedar plywood which contrasts pleasingly with the warm grays and black. The altar unit is covered with long white drapes from floor to ceiling when the building is being used for other than spiritual services.

Plan Bowling Green

Labour on the project was supplied by Mr. Moore, his son, Edgar C. L. Moore, a divinity student, and members of the congregation. Cyril Barnes with the assistance of Arthur Knott, Albert Cuffe, Sam Parks, Jr., and Mr. Bailey did the masonry work and Mr. Barnes also fashioned the altar appointments.

The congregation is very pleased with the overall effect and were enthusiastic throughout. There is still a great deal to be done in the matter of landscaping and future plans call for a bowling green.

Boy 8, Injured Struck By Car

Running from the sidewalk onto the road between two parked cars, eight-year-old Fred Cribbes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cribbes, 269 Townsend St., was knocked down Thursday by a car which Roy Beeler, 569 McCannan Ave. was driving along Rubidge St. His head was badly cut and it was at first feared that he was seriously injured. Civic Hospital reported, however, that he is in a satisfactory condition, with no broken bones. He is expected to remain in hospital only a few days.

The accident occurred less than 24 hours after seven-year-old David Mahood was killed in a street accident in the south of the city.

Mrs. H. V. Elliott, 157 Rubidge St., who was looking out of a front room window, saw Fred Cribbes dash out to the road after chatting in front of the house with her son, George.

When he was thrown to the ground he lost one of his rubber boots.

Another street accident Thursday which resulted in only minor injuries occurred on McDonnel St. in front of Fuller's Drug Store. Harvey Delahaye, 544 Bethune St. ran onto the coad between a stationary truck and car and was struck by a bicycle ridden by Bernard Withers, 332 Parkhill Rd. He tore ligaments in one leg but escaped more serious injury.

SPEAKS OVER CBL AND CHEX

For the second time a Peterborough minister has been chosen to speak over the "Church Of the Air", Sunday from 4.30 until 5 p.m. The Rev. Dr. James Semple, George St. United Church, will speak this Sunday. It will be heard over CBL and CHEX. The Rev. Ivan Morgan, Murray Street Baptist Church, had the same privilege more than a year ago.

CURIOSITY

A distressing incident occurred at the corner of George and Hunter Sts. Thursday evening when a man took a fit on the sidewalk. The incident was in itself, unpleasant, but the most appalling feature was the degree of morbid curiosity which was displayed by a crowd of some 60 or 70 spectators.

There was no way in which any member of the public could have assisted the situation and to pass along rather than to stand gazing on the scene, would have been a more fitting manner of conduct.—H.P.

Drivers Appeal To Parents Of Little Folk

Speaking of recent traffic accidents involving children, several bus drivers said they wished they could direct an appeal to parents to keep warning the little folk of danger in the streets.

"Of course it is our duty to be careful and keep our attention on the streets, but even at that you never know when some child is likely to dart out into the street from behind a car or truck," one of the drivers said. "I don't think all the worry should be left to the drivers. There is one street I could name where you have to drive slowly because there appears to be more playing in the street than in most other sections of the city."

OBITUARIES

MISS SOPHIA JANE (JENNIE) BROWNE

Miss Sophia Jane (Jennie) Browne of 514 Aylmer St., died on Thursday at the home of her nephew A. B. Hood. She had been ill for some time. She was born in the city, daughter of the late John Browne and Margaret Bradshaw, and has lived all her life in Peterborough.

She leaves two brothers in the city, C. Fred and G. James Browne, and was a member of St. John's Anglican Church.

Funeral service will be held from the Comstock Funeral Home on Saturday at 3:30 p.m. The Rev. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. JANE CLIFFORD

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Jane Clifford, McDonnel St., died in hospital today. She is the former Jane McRoberts.

Mrs. Clifford was born in Warkworth, daughter of the late Ann Hibbert and John McRoberts, and lived a lifetime in this district.

Mrs. Clifford's husband, the late Robert Clifford, died two years ago. They had no children.

She was a member of George Street United Church, and an active member of the WMS.

Funeral will be from the Comstock Funeral Home on Monday at 3 p.m., the Rev. Dr. James Semple officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

NEW TOURIST BILL

Information bureau for tourists may not be set up without permission of the Department of Travel and Publicity, according to the terms of a bill introduced Thursday in the Ontario Legislature. The bill also provides that municipalities are responsible for all tourist establishments within their boundaries and that all must be licensed.

Legs Paralysed Learns To Walk By Daily Swim

Swimming, physiotherapy treatments and a grim determination to enjoy life in the full is restoring the use of his legs to Chris Graham. Over a year ago Mr. Graham, a well-kown sportsman in Peterborough and former owner of the Empress Hotel broke his back in a fall on his attic stairs.

Along with the broken back, several vertebrae were crushed at the base of his spine, resulting in paralysis of his legs. He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital. After several weeks he was taken to the Toronto General Hospital. August 1 he went to Lyndhurst Lodge. There at the rehabilitation hospital his condition improved so he could use crutches.

Since Mr. Graham has returned to Peterborough, he has been gradually getting back the use of his legs. Much of the credit for this he gives to his daily swim which he has been taking since January 10. Every week since then he has taken a swimming period five times a week, Monday to Friday.

When he first went to the YMCA, Gordon Minty had to carry him from the bench to the edge of the pool. Once in the water he could stand. Standing in the water up to his neck he was able to walk across the pool. But he was unable to stand in water up to his waist. Now he can walk across the pool with water up to his waist.

Daily Exercise

It took Mr. Graham 52 strokes to swim the length of the pool the first time he tried. His time was one minute. Now he can do the length in 15 strokes in 33 seconds.

Fifteen minutes each day are spent with the flutterboard. He kicks his legs imitating walking. Back and forth in the pool he swims, limbering up his legs.

Both Mr. Minty and Mr. Graham feel that the swimming has softened and at the same time strengthened Mr. Graham's legs.

Gradually Mr. Graham's legs are gaining strength. Where he couldn't walk to the pool at first, now he can walk there without braces on his legs. He holds Mr. Minty's arm but only for confidence. He does not rest on him.

Spurred on by thoughts of trout fishing and horseback riding this 70-year-old man churns the water for about 400 yards every day. Few men of even 30 years old ever swim 400 yards in a year.

D'Arcy D. Hill Dies Suddenly

Following a short paddle on the Otonabee River on Thursday afternoon, D'Arcy Deyncourt Hill 46, of Lakefield, died suddenly at his home at supper time. He had been visiting his leased muskrat marsh on Lake Katchewanooka before the fatality occurred. Born in Lakefield, he was son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Hill, and has lived in the village all his life.

Besides his wife he leaves two daughter, Betty and Loretta and four sons Claire and Donald, all at home and Carl of Bridgenorth and Stafford of Belleville. There are five brothers, Harry of Lakefield and Joseph, Roland, Percy and Francis, all of this city.

In June, 1948, Mr. Hill received the Dow Award for rescuing Billie Coleman of Lakefield Park from drowning. He attended village public and secondary schools and was employed for some time at the CGE. He was a member of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church and of its Holy Name Society.

Funeral will be held from the Tedford Funeral Home on Monday to St. Paul's Church where Requiem Mass will be said by the Rev. Dr. J. V. Masterson at 9 a.m. Burial will be at St Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

FISHING GOOD

Jess Airriess, Peterborough fisherman and guide, caught 11 whitefish and three herring while fishing on Lake Simcoe Tuesday. It took him two hours to catch them. He said when he stopped fishing, the water on the ice was ankle-deep.

DEFEATED AGAIN

Sergeants' Mess cribbage players suffered their third straight defeat in three weeks when they lost to the Lawn Bowlers Wednesday night. The score was 4108 to 3901 for six tables. A week ago the Brinton Carpet Company defeated them.

SEND CONDOLENCES

Before the County Council adjourned on Tuesday two motions expressing condolence were passed. One was to Mrs. T. Dalton Johnston, on the loss of her husband, the late governor of the jail and the other was to Harold Cathcart of Springville on the loss of his wife.

LOST HIS TERRIER

Has anybody seen my mouse? That is how Wayne Rodregue feels today after searching for his Toy Terrier. Wayne, son of Constable L. A. Rodregue, 526 Bonaccord St. has had the terrier since his fourth birthday and his loss has caused great grief to the family.

MAY GET POSTOFFICE

The Honorable Ernest Bertrand, postmaster-general, in a letter to the Oshawa and District Labor Council has expressed the hope that there will be enough funds in the supplementary estimates for the building of an Oshawa postoffice. He said he had recommended such a building to the minister of public works.

GUEST OF KIWANIS

Guests introduced at Thursday's weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel by President V. M. McCabe were:—Mrs. Charles Allen, Les Woodruff, Lloyd Hale and Rev. Ivan Morgan, all of Peterborough; and Miss Mary A. Lockhart, of Ottawa, adjudicator of verse speaking at the third Kiwanis Music Festival now in progress in Murray Street Baptist Church.

PUT NAMES ON BIRD HOUSES

Officials in charge of the birdhouse Building Contest sponsored by the Fish and Game Protective Association are urging entrants to label their birdhouses with the name of the appropriate bird. Otherwise judges will have a difficult time deciding the class they should be entered in. This may be done by painting the name of the bird on the house or attaching a label.

Frost Damage To Roads Heavy This Year

Roads in the district are being badly damaged by the relaxing and departure of winter.

"There is serious heaving by the outgoing frost," Sgt. Price Morris of the Provincial Police informed the Examiner today.

"Constable Bert Howden of Apsley was telling us he could hardly get through to Peterborough this morning, and other information indicated breaking roads between Hastings and Warkworth. The last bad spring was two years ago, and it's beginning to look as if conditions might be worse than that."

Sgt. Morris repeated today his tribute at the Threshermen's dinner Thursday night that "we get great co-operation from farmers and truckers, and the lumber men too. They work with us and the government in trying to cause as little damage as possible at this season of the year. I said that last night and I meant it. It has been my experience. I could add that we could do with more of that spirit from some wholesale grocery drivers."

"The farmers and the lumbermen conduct themselves as if they understood that roadbuilding and maintenance costs a lot of money. Just as soon as the district engineers say that roads are in fit condition again we immediately lift the temporary ban."

Sgt. Morris recommended the slogan to the Threshermen Thursday: "Care, courtesy and common sense". They all go together. One begets the two others, and all add up to safety in traffic and the lessening of accidents.

DIES IN WINDSOR

GEORGE AND BROCK

Havelock Couple Aged 80, Wed 53 Years

HAVELOCK, March 25 (ENS) —Mr. and Mrs. Edward Forbes celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary today. They were married in Norwood by Mr. Weaver, minister of the Baptist Church, on March 25, 1896. Both are 80 years of age.

Mr. Forbes is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cory Forbes of Oak Lake, and Mrs. Forbes was formerly Minneta Puffer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Puffer of Norwood.

After their wedding the couple lived on Mr. Forbes' farm at Oak Lake, later moving to Glen Alda, where Mr. Forbes operated a saw mill for some years. Their next move was to Haliburton County, where they lived until 23 years ago when they came to Belmont township to farm in the Round Lake district. Some 10 years ago Mr. Forbes retired from farming and he and Mrs. Forbes moved to Havelock.

Since coming here, Mr. Forbes has been engaged in gardening but ill health last summer forced him to give up this occupation. His special hobby is woodworking and since Christmas, owing to an improvement in health, he has been almost daily employed in his workshop. Among other articles he makes axe and hammer handles.

Mrs. Forbes' hobby is sewing and although only in fair health, she is making a quilt.

Mr. and Mrs. Forbes have five daughters: Mrs. May Adams, Mrs. Gavin Buchanan (Feea), Havelock; Mrs. Harold Yeo (Maude), Toronto; Mrs. Percy Fike (Blanche), Weston; Mrs. George Karila (Mildred), Port Arthur, and one son, Ray, of Belmont Township.

Funeral In Hastings Of Thomas McGuire

A largely-attended funeral for the late Thomas McGuire was held from the family residence, Hastings, to Mount Carmel Church on Thursday morning. Requiem mass was sung by the Rev. K. Malane, who also officiated at the graveside service. Pall-bearers were Frank Daly, Fred Cleary, Charles Lynch, Fred Barry, Don O'Connell and Russell Flagler. Burial was at Mount Carmel Cemetery. There were a great many spiritual and floral offerings and friends and relatives in attendance came from Belleville, Warkworth, Campbellford, Tillsonburg, Toronto and Peterborough.

Mr. McGuire died on Monday in a Peterborough hospital, following a short illness. He was born on Hastings, son of the late Thomas McGuire and Sophie Sucee, and had lived there all his life.

He was employed by the Breithaupt Leather Company for the past 35 years. He was a member of Mount Carmel Church and one of the oldest members of its Holy Name Society.

MILLBROOK, March 25 (ENS) —An outbreak of 'flu has many ill in the village. The Rev. F. W. Pooley of Omemee, took the services in Cavan parish on Sunday owing to the illness of the Rev. C. M. MacLean. Mrs. MacLean has also been among those confined to bed. The mid-week Lenten service on Wednesday evening was withdrawn On Monday morning 13 junior pupils were absent through illness and the principal, P E. Hamilton, is still unable to resume his teaching duties.

HAROLD BRETNALL, 51, of Katonah, NY, private investigator sought for questioning in the New York "wire-tap" case, surrenders to the Brooklyn, NY, district attorney. Bretnall had disappeared after his name was mentioned in connection with the alleged plot to tap the phones of high city officials.

Just one week short of a year later, he showed up at the door of his Cincinnati home after a 250-mile journey. This time, the twins will keep Snowball.

Oldest Graduate

MILLBROOK, March 25 (ENS) —At a recent meeting of the Victoria, BC branch of the alumnae of Bishop Strachan's College, Toronto, Miss Alice Turner, sister of Dr. H. A. Turner of Millbrook, was the oldest graduate present. Now in her 92nd year, Miss Turner's graduation took place in 1874. She cut the birthday cake served during the lunch hour. Among those present was Mrs. G. R. Hackett, niece of the late Judge Emily Murphy, first woman magistrate in the British Empire.

A lecture taken from the study theme, "One Family" was delivered by W. J. Cottrell. James Rice operated the lantern.

Lindsay Plans Water Plant To Cost Quarter Million

A new $250,000 water plant designed to double and eventually treble Lindsay's water supply has been outlined by the town engineer, W. B. Redfern, at a meeting of the Water Board.

According to plans the system would be capable of pumping 3,000,000 gallons a day when fully operating; at first the flow would be 2,000,000 gallons. These figures are double and treble the present flow and if plans go through it is expected that the town's water problem will be solved for years to come.

If work on the building begins immediately it is estimated that construction would take a year. Cost estimates includes the savings effected by using some of the equipment, such as pumps, from the present plant.

Filter 500,000 Gallons

Blueprints call for a new modern building 107 ft. by 106 ft. and 25 ft. high. It would be of brick, concrete and reinforcing steel with a flush front.

The water would be pumped from the filters to an external reservoir with a capacity of 500,000 gallons (a half day's consumption at the present rate).

The main structure would house the superintendent's offices, laboratories, heating system, pumps, the rotary chamber, slum bed and the filters.

Mr. Redfern assured the Board that the water would be almost colorless, odorless and tasteless.

N. Monaghan Woman Aged 98 Laid To Rest

If your family doesn't agree you bake the flakiest pastry with SWIFT'NING*—the New kind of shortening!

Baking is quicker and easier with SWIFT'NING!

You'll be delighted and amazed to find how much easier and quicker it is to bake fine-flavoured, fresh-keeping cakes, and such tender fluffy pie crusts with this completely new kind of shortening.

DIGESTIBLE AND NUTRITIOUS, TOO

Swift'ning saves you icebox space. It keeps without refrigeration, and it is so digestible and nutritious! Get a pound or two of Swift'ning today!

LEMON POSY PIE

YOUR PIE CRUST WILL BE FLAKY, MELT-IN-YOUR-MOUTH-TENDER WHEN YOU USE SWIFT'NING AND THIS HELPING HAND RECIPE.

Preheat oven 450° F. Use a 9-inch pie pan and only standard level measurements. Sift 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour and ½ tsp. salt in a bowl. Cut ⅓ cup Swift'ning into flour with pastry blender or 2 knives until particles are size of small peas. Sprinkle cold water, a little at a time, over different parts of flour mixture, tossing lightly with a fork. ☛ Use as little water as possible, enough to make dough hold together (3 tbsp. or less!) Place dough on waxed paper. Press gently with the paper into a ball. Let stand at room temperature for a few minutes.

☛ Cover board with pastry canvas, rolling pin with knitted cover, both lightly floured. Roll dough in circle, ⅛" thick. Use light strokes, work from center out. Lift rolling pin as it nears edge. Invert pie pan on dough, cut dough 1¼" beyond edge of pan. Fold dough in half; lay fold in center of pan; unfold. ☛ Fit pastry in pan. Press with finger-tips from center out to remove air bubbles. Prick with fork in several places. To form standing rim, double under the pastry extending over edge of pan. Flute with fingers. Cut 10 leaves from remaining crust. Bake until light brown, allowing 12 to 15 minutes for pie, about 5 minutes for leaves.

LEMON FILLING

Soak 2 tsps. unflavoured gelatin in ⅓ cup cold water about 5 min. Put 3 slightly beaten egg yolks, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup lemon juice, ¼ tsp. salt in a double boiler. Cook over boiling water until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add gelatin, stir until dissolved. Add 1 tbsp. grated lemon rind, remove from heat, chill until beginning to set. Beat 3 egg whites until fairly stiff; gradually add ½ cup sugar, beating constantly. Fold into cooled gelatin mix. Pour into cooled pie shell; chill till set. Trim with prepared strawberry halves or other fruit, and the pastry leaves sprinkled with green-coloured sugar.

PEI Provides Non-Compulsory Insurance Plan

By The Canadian Press.

Prince Edward Island's Provincial Parliament is scheduld to prorogue t[illegible] after a session lasting lit[illegible]an a month.

The Island Legislature, which assembled February 22, Thursday approved legislation providing for a system of non-compulsory liability insurance for motorists. The insurance plan is similar to the ones in effect in Manitoba, British Columbia, Ontario, Nova Scotia, and 26 States of the United States.

British Columbia's Legislature Thursday ended its 1949 session amid reports that plans were under way for a provincial election. The House had been in session since February 8.

When the House at Charlottetown rises, only six of Canada's nine Provincial Parliaments will be still in session. The Quebec Legislature completed its 1949 business more than a week ago.

Apparently aiming at prorogation before Easter, the Nova Scotia Legislature Thursday cut short its Throne-Speech debate. The Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was adopted without a dissenting vote but with the two CCF Opposition members in the 30-seat House abstaining.

Manitoba Premier D. L. Campbell said his government will take the initiative in asking that a Dominion-Provincial conference be called as soon as possible after the next Federal election. He told the Legislature at Winnipeg that while his province had obtained "immense benefits" from the present tax agreement with the Federal Government, it was clear the agreement was "far from perfect" in its present form.

103,000 Cards Failed In Mails

One hundred and three thousand Christmas cards were destroyed last year because they were not addressed properly, R. L. Sabourin, Public Relations representative, Canada Post Office, told the Y's Men's Club Thursday night on "How to mail properly."

"Most of the cards never had any addresses, some no names, and others with improper addresses," the speaker said.

Mr. Sabourin illustrated how to address a letter properly with a large drawing.

George Moore introduced the speaker who was thanked by Jack Thornton.

Gordon Truzel played the accordion and sang a couple of songs. A sing song was led by Quirt McKinney and Arthur Dollack.

A film on the Post Office of Canada was shown by Mr. McKinney.

Wild Life Exhibit At Show Commended

Probably one of the most effective and interesting exhibits at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show, held this week in Toronto is the display of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. When one approaches the dense grove of Scotch Pine he is startled by the call of a Whippoor-will and then the raucus call of the crow and many other birds. This realistic effect is from a wire recording of the actual birds made near the haunts of the feathered songsters. A dramatic setting of a forest fire serves to warn careless campers of the hazards of cigarette butts or camp fires left smouldering in the bush country. On every hand wild life from Ontario's forest are found. Live young elk, deer, two comical bears, skunks, foxes, wolves, beaver, rabbits, porcupines and muskrats. All the game fish are represented and laze around in their tanks of lime colored water. Birds of all descriptions are there from the common crow to the great Canadian goose.

Mrs. Gilbrt Grosvenor and Mrs. David Fairchild, both of Washington, DC, are expected to officiate at the unveiling scheduled for June.

Olivier Says Co-Workers Deserved Honor

LONDON, March 25—(AP) — Sir Laurence Olivier, whose movie conception of Hamlet swept five Hollywood academy awards, said today the honor belongs to his associates, not to him.

"I personally have not deserved this honor, but my associates have," he said. "I am happy, proud and most grateful, for their sakes and for my own.

"It's incredibly generous of Hollywood to confer their honors upon the British film industry."

Roger Furse, art director of the picture, said the awards "will be a shot in the arm for the tired British film industry," which faces an economic crisis. Seventeen of 26 studios have closed their doors recently.

Sir Laurence, one of London's busiest men, is nursing a case of flu between his multiple jobs.

Six nights and three afternoons a week Sir Laurence acts in repertory plays of the Old Vic Company at the New Theatre. Tonight and tomorrow he also will play crusty old Sir Peter Teazle in Sheridan's "The School For Scandal." He is rehearsing to play the title role in the Shakespearean play, "Richard III" next week, and is backing a comedy, "Daphne Laureola" which opened Wednesday night at Wyndham's Theatre.

Remand Patient On $5,000 Bail

TORONTO, March 25—(CP)—Henry R. Hall, 71-year-old president of Woodhall Mines Ltd., Thursday was remanded from his hospital bed to April 8 on eight charges of Securities Act infractions. He was released on $5,000 bail.

Hall, suffering a stomach ailment, was arrested following a five-months investigation authorized by the Attorney-General's Department into affairs of the mining company.

Walter Cameron, senior solicitor of the Securities Commission, said seven other company officers and directors have been summonsed on a total of 33 charges and will appear in magistrate's court March 28.

The charges involving methods of sale of securities to the public, were all breaches of the Securities Commission Act of 1945 and 1947. Hall is charged with theft of $1,800 in company funds.

Woodhall Mines, incorporated in 1943 and capitalized at 3,000,000 shares of $1 par value operates a crude barite property in the Nighthawk lake area in northern Ontario's Porcupine district.

Light-headed Easter Forecast

Airy Hats Lead Parade

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The Easter bonnet which weighs an ounce is an extreme example of the light-headed look and feel of this spring's hats.

This ounce-light hat—a Hattie Carnegie design (upper left) with silk flowers tucked into the folds of its skyscraping brim—is made of new cobwebby sheer brown "lacelon." But hats made of traditional straws and silks look airy and feel light, too.

Most hats are freed from burdensome trimming. One designer—Sally Victor—goes on record as dividing the burden between the head and the neck. She comes up with a ribbon-trimmed pink ballibuntal straw "profile hat" (center) for which she makes a new whimsy in neckwear: a ladies' Byronesque cravat of matching taffeta already tied and looped for easy wearing.

A Victor hat of cocoa brown lace straw (lower right) is feather-light because trimming is limited to loops and streamers of brown velvet ribbon.

Red and white polka dotted silk makes a John-Frederics hat (lower left which puts no more weight on the head than a scarf. Drapery released from this heart-shaped turban and caught up in the back by a pearl barrette, gives this hat the look of a scarf worn with superlative chic.

A simple beige milan, trimmed only with brim-edged fringe of contrasting red straw, is another John-Frederics hat (upper right). It's one more example of the hat which carries a lot of style weight but adds very little to the burden on your head.

"Fortune My Foe" Read To Art Association

Literary Study Club provided an extremely pleasing evening on Thursday for fellow members of the Women's Art Association and guests they read read the comedy-satire "Fortune My Foe" at a studio meeting in the YWCA. This prize-winning play is by the author playwright, Robertson Davies of Peterborough, so had a special appeal. It has not been presented in this city but has been played in Kingston, Ottawa and points in Western Canada. The Ottawa Drama League production of it recently won the Eastern Canada Drama Festival.

Mrs. W. G. Ovens described the play's setting in detail for the audience: Buckety Murphy's joint, with a kind of bar arranged which appears to dispense only fruit juices, situated on the Cataraqui River, near Kingston. To aid in distinguishing the players without benefit of costumes, ladies of the cast were wearing frocks and hats, and those portraying men had dark suits. Each wore a large name card which was turned from the audience when not "on stage."

Mrs. W. R. Philp's characterization of "Buckety Murphy" or "Bucket O'Slops" caused much laughter at every appearance. Though reading the part she used a form of speech and attitude that portrayed the dissipated frowsy character and an "unspeakable" hat complete the illusion. Part of a shy, middle-aged puppet master the lines of Franz Szabo, a displaced person who had entered Canada unlawfully, and hiding from Ottawa officials, was splendidly read by Miss Leone Walsh who had made her own "Mr. Punch" and spoke as the puppet on several occasions.

The proprietor, called "Chilly" by his friends, was represented by Mrs. J. E. R. Munro. His habitual customers included a disillusioned professor of noble bearing, taken by Miss Helen Staples, a young instructor at the University (Miss Ila Giles) and a pleasant appearing newspaper man (Miss Jean Buck). Mrs. H. L. Banforth took the part of an attractive haughty young lady, angling for the young instructor, then spurning his love.

A plan to make Franz famous in Canada with his puppet show brings an exuberant, busy committee man, represented by Mrs. N. D. Seaton, into the second act, accompanying Mrs. E. C. Philpott (Miss Linden Hall), president of many clubs and self-styled authority on handicraft. They fail to appreciate the art of the puppet show, and in the third act Chilly scornfully ejects them. Mrs. H. G. Carleton took the part of an older woman whose aim was to enlighten the Canadian people on political matters but hearers "boo" and shout "Commie".

Most difficult stage setting to present in this manner was the marionette show, but it too was taken in stride by keenly interested listeners. Refreshing, down-to-earth language of typical Canadians, expressing every-day opinions, frequently caused a stir in the group.

Tea was served at the conclusion by the Art Study Club.

Social Situations

SITUATION: Your date takes you to dinner at a very nice restaurant to which you have never gone before.

WRONG WAY: Spend your time looking around at the other women, seeing what they are wearing, etc.

RIGHT WAY: Concentrate on your escort. It is a letdown for a man to pend his money to take a girl to a nice place and then have her more interested in her surroundings and in other people than she is in him.

Winners at the weekly card party held on Tuesday were Miss Mae Moncrief, Mrs. L. Hewitt, Mr. Walter Moncrief and Mr. Fred Elliott. Six tables and 10 games were played. Lunch was then served.

Bailieboro YPU will present the play, "Grandpa's Twin Sister," in Fraserville United Church on March 31.

Extremes of Fullness Ignored In Classic Tailored Lines

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Stafff Writer

LONDON, —(CP)—Ease is the key-note of line.. styles in London's spring fashion shows.

All garments are easy to move in. There are no exaggeratedly tight skirts, no hip padding or exaggerated fulness. Instead, the classic tailor-made, with softer and more feminine lines, is preeminent.

Jackets are easy-fitting, of classic length, with neat—but not tight—waistlines. Peplum fulness is slighter and concentrated at the back or front, leaving a clean hipline.

Hip emphasis is again on slimness. Skirts, however exuberantly pleated, are smooth at waist and hipline. A popular skirt style is a pencil front with back fan pleating. This gives a slim line in repose and an attractive fluid movement in action.

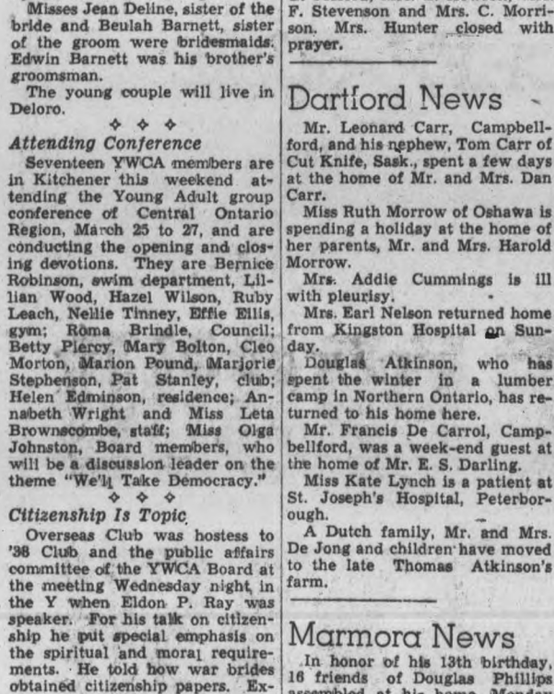
Pleats are popular, particularly stitched pressed pleats. The bulky, unpressed pleat is out. Unpressed effects used are the full straight skirt gathered minutely into a tight waist band, or skirts pleated by numerous tiny gores

Skirts With Slits

Pencil skirts are still in vogue, with slits for ease in walking. An example in rust-colored linen with plain classic jacket and rounded peplum had slits that buttoned or unbuttoned to please the whim of the wearer.

Trouser suits and slacks are definitely man-tailored. A cream linen suit with plain turn-up trousers has a square man-tailored jacket with long revers caught by double-breaste, waist buttoning. Effectively casual are the sea-blue slacks combined with a vermilion Chinese coolie jumper top with optional belt.

Dresses follow the suits in slimming design. Full flares and pleats alike leave a clean untrammelled waist and hipline and give a fulness of skirt.



Button-up dresses are popular for beach wear. Buttoning—either back or front—is done in attractive ways.

Dress sleeves are squarely tailored or cut in one with the bodice with nice roomy under arms to give a fluid look. These too are gently padded. Cuffs are important, often winged, sometimes in contrasting colors.

Some beach dresses are merely calf length, usually with the full circular swing skirt of skating suits. Others are definitely "new look." A lovely example in brightly patterned Moygashel has gathered bodice, round gathered neckline and tiny puff sleeves.

Colors are soft pastels, creamy whites and pearl greys with a sudden accent on navy royal blue. Patterned materials have a pastel effect of coolness and ease

During the Civil War, aluminum was considered a precious metal.

SHIRLEY MacCALLA likes paddling about in this inflatable plastic boat. Weighing only two pounds, it fits into a small space when deflated and can be blown up like a football for beach frolicking. Both Shirley and the boat were on display in New York, but Shirley doesn't go with it.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Marriage Does Not Change People Who Are Jealous

DEAR MISS DIX: Ever since I have been engaged to my fiancee I have lost almost all contact with my best friends and other people whom I have known all my life. When I go out with him I cannot look at or talk with anyone, not even my best girl friend, without making him furiously mad. He thinks I plan meeting boys and having affairs with them. When I am dancing with him, he accuses me of looking for someone to cut in, and when I smile at an old acquaintance to show recognition he thinks I am flirting.

Dorothy Dix

He is always threatening me that some day he will catch me with another man. We have bitter arguments over the way he treats me; but he tells me it is because he loves me, and that after marriage he will be different because then he will know that I belong to him. How can I cure him of this disease?

BEWILDERED GIRL.

ANSWER: There is no cure for jealousy because it is founded on the meanest traits of human nature. Men and women who believe that marriage is going to change them from selfish, suspicious, tyrannical spies into tender, loving, trusting wives and husbands are simply befooling themselves.

Can't Help It

Probably the jealous cannot help being green-eyed. They were born without any of the nobler attributes of character, and they cannot believe that any man or woman is honest or trustworthy and loyal. So we have the husbands who think that their wives are two-timers who are carrying on affairs with every man they meet, and wives who make their own lives and that of their husbands miserable by their vile suspicions.

Jealous men and women we will doubtless always have with us, but fortunately we do not have to marry them, and wise are the lads and lassies who step high, wide and handsome around the matrimonial candidates who promise to be Mary's little lambs after marriage, but who are devils to get along with before marriage.

Every girl has the chance to find out before she says "yes" whether the boy friend is a tyrant, a tightwad, a wife-beater, or lazy lout whom she will have to work to support. Every man gets a pre-marriage sample of his girl's temper and nerves and livability. And if they do not take the tip that is given to them, it is their own fault.

And may the Lord have mercy upon them.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What do you think of men who want to date a girl, but insist that she pay for the date or go 50-50 for all expenses? I say that any man who asks a girl to do this is not a gentleman, and if he wants a girl to go out with him he should do the paying. Now, Miss Dix, am I right in refusing to go with a man who is a tightwad?

ANNOYED.

ANSWER: It is a delicate financial problem that you have raised, Annoyed, in insisting that when a man takes a girl out for a good time he should pay all the expenses. There are several ways to look at the matter, for nowadays when practically every girl has a job and makes a good salary, there does not seem to be any valid reason why she should not pay her quota of the evening's entertainment.

Of course, the Dutch treat will never be popular with girls, but all the same it has its merits—one of which is the fact tha girls would have a lot more dates if they went 50-50 with their escorts, instead of the boy friends having to pay the whole score Many and many a girl-loving youth skimps on his food to take his girl out, which is both pitiful and heroic.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a boy of 13 and am planning to get married this month to a girl who is my age. But on account of the girl's mother going off on a visit we have had to put it off, because the girl's father wants her to wait until her mother comes home. I don't want to wait. What shall I do?

HENRY.

ANSWER: Well, Henry, considering your age and the girl's age, I think you might stretch a point and wait a couple of weeks or so until the girl's Mama returns from her visit. Of course, there is no use in trying to persuade a couple of 18-year-old kids to put off their wedding until they have cut a few wisdom teeth, but nevertheless the very angels must weep when they see immature children taking upon their weak shoulders the responsibilities that they are so ill-fitted to bear.

Plane Company Starts Suit For $1,400,000

MONTREAL, March 25 (CP)—Two actions seeking recovery of more than $1,400,000 and orders restraining further alleged violation of agreements were filed Thursday in Superior Court by Douglas Aircraft Company of Santa Monica, Cal., against Canadair Limited, Montreal aircraft manufacturers.

In statements of claim attached to the writ the American Company charges that Canadair violated two contracts

One was said to be originally made between Douglas and the Canadian government in 1944. It was subsequently assigned to Canadair, a subsidiary of Electric Boat Company of New York which took over the former Crown - owned manufacturing plant at suburban Cartierville after the war.

In this action, in which Douglas seeks $300,000 damages, the American Company alleges that Canadair violated provisions of this contract under which the Canadian government was licensed to build four-engine transports of Douglas design and to sell parts made under the contract.

The second contract was signed between Douglas and Canadair in 1946. It licensed Canadair to make and sell spare parts for Douglas C-47 planes upon payment of agreed royalties. It also provided that Douglas should supply the Montreal firm with essential technical information, guidance and co-operation.

The statement of claim in this case, in which more than $1,000,000 is claimed, alleges that Douglas subsequently ended the contract but that Canadair continued to make spare parts which it has sold in the US.

Blind Man Executed

—(AP)—Buster Snead, a blind MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 25 Negro, was executed in the electric chair today for hacking a woman to death as she lay asleep. Warden George Garner of Kilby prison said it was the first time a blind man had ever been executed in Alabama.

WHILE TWO of his buddies stand in formation at as much ease as possible, Sgt. Shelby Charles, a Battle of the Bulge hero, is singled out for an unofficial Hollywood welcome by French actress Denise Darcell. Charles, with 20 other Bulge veterans, arrived in the film capital to be tectnical advisers for a new movie.

Sons Of Pioneers Dies In Marmora

MARMORA, March 25—(ENS)—John O'Neill, highly esteemed resident of Marmora Township, died at his home on Wednesday at the age of 70.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill, pioneer settlers in the township.

After spending a life time as an agriculturist, his health had been failing for several months.

Mr. O'Neill was a member of Sacred Heart Church and the Holy Name Society. He leaves his wife, the former Annie McGrath and four daughters the Rev. Sister Mary Josephine of Arnprior, Mrs. William Carter (Dorothy) of Toronto, Mrs. Norman Stover (Margaret) of Peterborough, and Mrs. Cecil Kilpatrick (Mary) of Marmora. He also leaves three sisters: Mrs. William O'Keefe of St. Catharines, Mrs. Thomas Doyle of Campbellford and Mrs. John Callan of Campbellford; and two brothers: Robert at home and Richard of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held on Saturday leaving his home at 9:30 a.m. for Sacred Heart Church, where requiem mass will be celebrated by the Rev. H. J. Farrell. Burial will take place in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Will Restrict Use Of Planes For Hunting

TORONTO, March 25 (CP)—A two-year closed season throughout Ontario on hunting of moose was recommended Thursday by Fish and Game Committee of the Ontario Legislature.

The whole province has never before been closed to moose hunting. During the closed season the lands department would make a scientific study of the moose population. At the end of the first year, if the department decided the close season was no longer necessary, hunting might be resumed the following year.

F. O. Robinson (CCF—Port Arthur) said he thought the decline in the moose population went "beyond the hunters' take."

It was "a matter for a real scientist."

Lands Minister Scott said Northern Ontario outfitters were "reaping their biggest harvest ever." This would be a good time to close the season and restore the moose population before hunting dropped off.

The committee also recommended that the deer-hunting season in the Parry Sound district be shortened. How much it should be shortened would be left to the discretion of the department. Present season is 15 days.

Restrict Use of Planes

The committee agreed with a recommendation by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters to introduce legislation to restrict use of airplanes in hunting areas to transportation only. Hunting by planes would be forbidden.

Mr. Scott said similar legislation was in effect in the Northwest Territories and "it strikes me as sound."

The legislation would prevent hunters from circling an area, spotting moose or deer from the air and then landing on a nearby lake to make the kill.

Mr. Scott said he planned to amend present legislation to permit use of planes for killing of wolves.

Ask Suspension At Hospital

WINDSOR, Ont., March 25—(CP) — The Windsor District Trades and Labor Council today asked for the "immediate suspension" of the present management at Metropolitan General Hospital.

In a resolution prepared by its executive, it suggested that management be taken over by the Ontario Department of Health until a thorough investigation is made into the administration of the hospital.

Earlier this week the council repudiated its representative on the hospital board, M. F. Wigle, declaring the man no longer acted for the council.

Judge Albert J. Gordon, chairman of the board of the city-owned institution, is to confer with Health Minister Kelley tomorrow morning to press for an investigation in hospital affairs.

He left for Toronto today while rumors of nurses parties with city officials continued to circulate in the city.

Meanwhile hospital nurse sstuck to their posts despite repeated telephone calls from citizens suggesting the resignation of the staff.

93-Year-Old Woman Falls, Breaks Arm

MILLBROOK, March 25 (ENS) —Mrs. Robert Gibson, who is in her 94th year, fell in her home Tuesday evening, suffering a fractured left arm.

Some time ago, Mrs. Gibson had a fractured hip, from a fall, but had made a remarkable recovery, and was able to be about the house with a fair degree of comfort.

The fall on Tuesday night caused a break above the elbow, and is likely to mean considerable pain, with a slow knitting of the bone. At present her general condition is as good as can be expected. A son, John, and daughter, Mina, are at home and take care of their mother.

Baby Recovers After Bad Burns

Barbara Ann Black, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black, of Omemee, is now almost fully recovered from burns about the head which she sustained on Feb. 11 when her 4-year-old brother Lewis lit an oil burner which ignited the lace on the bassinet in which she was lying. Barbara Ann owes her life to Lewis, as with great present of mind, he quickly grabbed her from the bassinet and took her in a bedroom, pushing the burning basket from the table as he did so.

The baby was rushed to the Lindsay hospital, where she remained for four days undergoing treatment for first degree burns up on her head, and second degree burns on her forehead.

Lewis, after depositing his sister in the bedroom, rushed to his mother, who was outside the house at the time, screaming: "Mommy! Baby's basket is on fire". Mrs. Black hurried into the house and hurled the blazing bassinet outside before the fire could spread further.

The baby is four months old.

Nationalists Pick Peace Delegates

NANKING, March 25—(AP)—Nationalist China's cabinet named a peace delegation Thursday but Communist troop movements indicated the Communists may be loading a pistol to hold at the conference table.

Government spokesman Teng Wen-yi warned, after the peace delegates were announced, that Communist troops were being deployed toward the Yangtze River. The heaviest movement seemed to be centred seven miles from Nanking. Others were scattered up and down the river, which now divides Nationalist and Communist China.

Such tactics would strengthen the victorious Communists' power to back up any demands they might make at the peace table.

War-sickened Chinese sighed with relief when the Nationalists delegates were named.

They are: Shao Li-tze, elder statesman and a member of the unofficial Shanghai peace delegation that went to Peiping last month. Huang Shao-hun, close associate of Acting President Li Tsung-jen and a power in the Kwangsi Province political clique. Chang Chih-chung, cabinet member without portfolio and political administrator for Northwest China. Li Cheng, Minister of Education and former head of Peiping Normal University.

None of the delegates is on any Communist "war criminal" list. Most government officials are on the list.

Council Faces Problem Of Second Floating Bridge

Peterborough County has eliminated one floating bridge, but it is now faced with the problem of a second. Reeve Gale Elliott of Harvey reports that the 1,175-foot floating bridge at Gannon's Narrows, between Pigeon and Buckhorn, is waterlogged.

At present it is badly in need of repairs, he says, and by next year "it will require a whole new top."

He told the Council he thought it would be good business for them to fix the bridge, as it would attract many new tourists to that section of the county.

Acting on Reeve Elliott's suggestion Council decided that the Roads and Bridges Committee should investigate the state of the wooden bridge and report at the next session.

John Chase, maintenance man at the bridge, said that certain sections needed repair immediately and some of it was waterlogged.

Consult Department

Before any major changes were made in it, the Department of Transport would have to be consulted. Through the Narrows passes the boat traffic on the Trent Canal waterway. The Department maintains the swing span of the bridge.

Nears Smith Shore

Only about 230 feet now remain to be filled in before the Chemong Causeway fill reaches the Smith pier. It is expected that the gap will be closed in the first week of April. J. D. Kean, county engineer, estimates that the Causeway will be open by June 1. The rock fill is calculated to be 6 feet above the summer water level, and by the time another layer of clay and earth is laid on top the overall height should be 7 feet.

Contract for 500 posts to bear the guide rails has been awarded to Harold Mace of Burleigh Falls. Altogether 560 are needed to line both sides of the Causeway however, the county owns the remainder.

Abutments of the swing span were finished in December, and the steel portion of the span is now being riveted into place. It had to be reassembled after being transported from the Welland Canal where it was used previously.

The eight-foot culverts allowing a free flow of water through the Causeway have still to be installed.

Family Of Five Dies In Farm House Fire

CIRCLEVILLE, O., March 25—(AP).—A family of five persons burned to death Thursday when fire destroyed their tenant house on a farm, 12 miles northwest of here.

The victims were:

Leonard Estep, tenant farmer; his wife Frances, 26, and their three children, Jean, six, Beverly, four, and Lee, 17 months.

A neighbor discovered the fire about 5 a.m. and called the Circleville fire department. The neighbor said he observed no activity about the house until the firemen arrived.

Navy Inquiry Under Way On Carrier

Say 32 Ratings Fail To Heed Call For Muster On Deck

ABOARD H.M.C.S. MAGNIFICENT, March 26—(CP)—An investigation is being conducted aboard the Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent into an incident in which 32 ratings failed to heed a call to muster on the flight deck, it was announced today.

The incident occurred March 21 as the Magnificent, in company with ships of the Canadian and Royal Navy plied the Caribbean en route to Cuba.

The 32 aircraft control ratings disregarded the order to indicate their apparent disgruntlement with some of the conditions aboard the aircraft carrier.

One of the ships accompanying the Magnificent on a spring training cruise was the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan aboard which a similar incident occurred last Feb. 26.

Individual Interviews

A report from the Magnificent received at naval headquarters in Ottawa today said the commanding officer, Commodore G. R. Miles, had later interviewed each man individually regarding their complaints.

These included long hours and little shore leave due to the nature of the exercises; also irregular hours and shortened meal hours with late meals being less palatable than those served at the proper times. Trades pay changes within their branch were also sore points.

The report said the 32 ratings were the only ones failing to muster on the flight deck when the ship's crew was called out. Purpose of the muster was to detail them to clean out the messdecks.

On being informed of the occurrence, Commodore Miles went to the messdeck. He found that while the men had not responded to the pipe they had started scrubbing the mess and work was well in progress at the time.

The ratings had known what they would be detailed for and had ignored the pipe to bring to light their feelings about certain conditions. However, their protest did not go as far as to include failure to carry out the assigned task.

The ratings were instructed in the proper method of stating complaints and the captain told them he would see each man individually. All points brought forward are being thoroughly investigated, the report of the incident said.

2 Regiments Mutiny

NANKING, March 26—(AP)—A mutiny of two government regiments garrisoning this anxious capital was disclosed today. A government announcement said the mutiny broke out on Thursday night. It said most of one regiment was brought under control and the other was being pursued.

Rescue Priest With Hands, Feet Frozen

CHURCHILL, Man., March 26—(CP)—A 35-year-old missionary who has worked among the northland's Indians and Eskimos since 1940, today rested in the Roman Catholic Mission here, worried far more by his absence from his charges than by the condiiton of his frozen hands and feet. They were frozen in a trek with an Eskimo tribe over thousands of miles of trackless wasteland.

Since last September, when he set out to pay a round of visits to northern settlements, Rev. Joseph Buliard's movements had been known only to the Eskimos with whom he had lived and travelled.

Gunnar Ingebrigtson, noted northern aviator who had been searching for Father Buliard for two days, flew him in to this Hudson Bay port Friday.

When the young missionary was found by Ongebrigtson and Rev. R. Herron, a member of the Roman Catholic mission here, he argued strongly against being flown to Churchill.

Father Buliard protested that he could recover at Baker Lake and get back sooner to his flock. He froze his hands and feet during his winter travels.

Fell In Water Hole

About five years ago he froze both hands during a two-hour fight to drag himself out of a water hole into which he had fallen while crossing a lake. In about four months he returned to his northern mission.

To pick up the missionary, Ingebrigtson flew his ski-equipped Norseman into a territory put under quarantine because of a recent outbreak of poliomyelitis which claimed the lives of 13 Eskimos.

Ingebrigtson was authorized by the federal health department to enter the 40,000-square mile polio-quarantined area northwest of Hudson Bay to search for the priest, who in September was taken by plane to Garry Lake, 530 miles northwest of here. A combination of weather, the freeze-up and the long Arctic darkness made subsequent trips to supply him impracticable.

Guests Taken From Hotel, Questioned

Immigration Officials Investigating Background Of Trio

NEW YORK, March 26—(CP)—Three Canadians were seized by Federal agents last night at the World Peace Conference here.

The three—two men and a woman—were taken into custody by eight immigration agents on orders of the Justice Department. They were held for questioning on their immigration status.

The Canadians had been regarded as guests of honor. They were Mr. and Mrs. Barker Fairley of Toronto and John Goss of Vancouver.

Fairley is vice-president of the Canadian Council of American-Soviet Friendship. His wife, Margaret, is a member of the Cultural Committee of the Labor-Progressive Party, formerly the Communist Party of Canada.

Theatrical Producer

Goss is a theatrical producer. He had been seated on the dais as a "distinguished guest" and protested vigorously when accosted by the Federal agents. The Fairleys, seated at a choice table, left quietly.

The three Canadians were taken from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where they were delegates to the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace. They were taken to immigration headquarters here.

How long they would be held was not revealed by immigration authorities. Immigration department and Federal Bureau of Investigation had "no comment" on the detention of the Canadians.

Plane Hits Arsenal

DENVER, March 26—(AP).—A United States Air Force transport plane crashed into a building at the Rocky Mountain arsenal during a blinding snowstorm Friday night, killing all three aboard. The aircraft's wing struck the corner of the post engineer's building, a frame structure in the warehouse section of the arsenal more than two miles from any stores of explosives.

Charities Bill May Force Sale Of Toronto Star

TORONTO, March 26.—(CP).—New Ontario legislation seeks to ensure that assets of an estate are distributed to specific charities within three years if they have been exempted from succession duties on the ground that they are being devoted to charitable purposes. Provincial Treasurer Leslie Frost, who introduced the bill Friday, said it also is intended to prevent businesses owned by charitable foundations from discarding the profit motive so as to obtain an unfair advantage over rival firms. It does not apply to a business left to a religious denomination.

William Dennison (CCF—Toronto St. David) asked Mr. Frost:

"If it is not aimed at churches, then who is it aimed at?"

"Use your imagination," interjected A. A. MacLeod (Lab.-Prog.—Toronto Bellwoods) and Harry C. Nixon (Lib.-Brant) put in:

"Why, the Toronto Star."

Mr. Nixon's reference was to the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, set up in 1942 with the avowed intention of donating profits from the late Joseph E. Atkinson's Toronto Daily Star and Star Weekly to charitable, religious and erducational organizations as determined by the board of trustees controlling the Star publishing Company. The foundation became operative after Mr. Atkinson died last May.

Value of the Atkinson estate was put at $8,767,854, with $7,688,495 of that amount in cash and property going to the foundation. The property included the 22-storey Star building on downtown King Street West.

Will Be Affected

Alexander Stark, a trustee of the foundation, said Friday night that he believed the legislation would affect the foundation.

"It looks as though this government bill is aimed directly at the Star," he said. "The bill is a big surprise to the directors of the foundation. We were not consulted or informed of the government's intention to carry out this legislation. We intend to carry out the provisions of the (Atkinson) will as closely as possible.

"The unfair part of this proposed legislation is its attempt to

Toronto Man Gets $100,000 In Irish Sweepstakes Russian Hero Wins Race

Jinx Follows Cromwell Favorite, Comes 4th In Field Of 43 Horses; Only Canadian To Hold Winning Entrant

By The Canadian Press

George Grieg of Toronto won $100,000 in the Irish Hospital Sweepstake on the Grand National at Aintree today. He held a ticket on Russian Hero, the horse which won the classic. Of the Canadians who have made known their ticket-holdings since the draw in Dublin last week, Grieg is the only one to hold the winning horse. None of these held the second or third-place horses, Roimond and Royal Mount. However, there may be Canadians holding tickets on these horses who haven't talked about it in advance.

Twenty or more Canadians who held starting horses which failed to place will get $470.60.

The Irish Sweepstakes tickets sell for $2.50 each.

Russian Hero, owned by W. F. Williamson and ridden by L. McMorrow, was 66 to 1 in the betting. The Daily Worker, the British Communist party's official paper, selected the nine-year-old gelding to win the race.

A field of 43 horses started the race, the world's most famous and gruelling steeplechase.

Comwell, the favorite, finished fourth, dashing the jockey-peer Lord Mildmay's hopes of besting a jinx that has snatched a Grand National victory from him twice before.

Just before the start of the 4½-mile event over 30 jumps, bookmakers lengthened the odds on Cromwell to 7 to 1. He had been quoted at 6 to 1 last night in the final call-over at the Victoria Club.

50 Men Fight Fire At Milling Company

MILVERTON, March 26—(CP)—Close to 50 men are fighting a fire this morning that is raging through the top storey of the Milverton Milling Company here. Flames were spreading from the third storey down to the second.

The alarm was turned in at about 7.45. While the cause has not been determined the fire is believed to have started in a feed storage room on the top floor of the three-storey building.

One truck and four men from the Stratford Fire Department arrived on the scene at about 8.45 a.m.

Estimated value of brick and metal covered building and its contents was placed at about $50,000. It is owned by James Richardson of Toronto and managed locally by James Scrimgeour.

Press Gallery Expels Member Of LPP

OTTAWA, March 26— (CP).—The Parliamentary Press Gallery, in an almost unprecedented action, has expelled an associate member.

At a general meeting Friday, Gallery members—about 75 of them active and 10 associate—voted to withdraw privileges from Mark Frank, Ottawa correspondent of the Canadian Tribune, weekly paper published in Toronto. Frank is also Eastern Ontario organizer for the Labor-Progressive Party.

Members of the Press Gallery represent papers across Canada, in the United States, the United Kingdom, France and Russia. Withdrawal of privileges means that Frank no longer will be able to use working space, occupy a seat in the Commons and Senate Galleries, attend press conferences in he Gallery Lounge, or participate in other activities to which correspondents are invited.

It was understood the expulsion was based on two grounds:

They were:

1—That a story in the Canadian Tribune of March 21 purported to attribute quotations to External Affairs Minister Pearson at an "off-the-record" conference.

2—That Frank misrepresented the Gallery in obtaining speaking quarters at the Chateau Laurier last week for Tim Buck, the Labor-Progressive Leader. The hotel subsequently cancelled the reservation.

In a prepared statement Frank said action taken by the Gallery was "completely undemocratic, unwarranted and discriminatory."

He intends to appeal the suspension.

Regarding the hotel registration for Buck, in a letter to the Press Gallery Frank said he had explained that the leasing of the hall was "arranged for in my own name as an individual and not for purposes involving the Press Gallery."

Tributes, Impressive Rites At G. N. Gordon Obsequies

Peterborough placed among its memories one of its outstanding citizens, the Hon. George Newcombe Gordon, with his funeral Friday afternoon. The community in which he began his eventful career 45 years ago paid its last hushed respect to him only a few days after his career's sudden close. Trinity United Church was largely occupied by many citizens of diverse walks in life along whose ways at some time or other he had gone. Local tributes of presence and remembrance, recalling activities and associations in his Peterborough past, were eloquently united with others from a distance, including the beautiful Talisman roses bearing the card of W. L. Mackenzie King, significant of the day Mr. Gordon was called by his political leader into the Cabinet of the government of Canada.

His church gratefully recalled his laymanship during the service that brought together representatives of the judiciary of this district, practitioners of the law courts, delegations of the city council, the municipal service, City and Provincial Police, the Local Council of Women, members of the Ministerial Association, men who had been with him in his political campaigns and others who had been against him. There were also men of business and of the professions other than the law, with other friends and acquaintances who were reminders of the wide variety of his interests and contact in a long span of local history. Among those who were noticed among the congregation were some to whom he had been drawn by the Scottish ancestry he shared with them and in their common spirit of pride in the land of loch and glen.

Congress Turns Table On Truman

WASHINGTON, March 26—(CP). — It looks as though the "honeymoon" is over.

Less than two months after his triumphant inaugural, Harry Truman is dodging the body-blows of a Congress he had expected to be just about as "friendly" as a President could ask.,

The roof started to cave in this week. As he enjoyed a short vacation in Florida:

1—Administration forces in the Senate lost the battle to end filibusters.

2—The House passed a watered-down rent control extension.

3—The Senate Armed Services Committee pigeon-holed the nomination of Mon C. Walgren, a close friend of the President, as head of the National Security Resources Board.

It was like a throwback to the "co-operation" he got last year from the Republican-controlled 80th Congress. But if it is hurting, Truman is not showing it; not for the time being, anyway. Chances are he will be able to roll with the punches for a good while yet.

Mississippi Tornado Kills Six, 34 Injured

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 26—(AP)—Tornadoes roaring through Mississippi and Louisiana Friday left six persons dead and 34 injured.

Oak Grove, La., caught the first impact Thursday night. The wind then skipped into Northwestern Mississippi killed six persons and injured 33 others.

At Jamesville, a little Louisiana community, two farm homes were levelled and a woman was injured. Two mules and several cows were killed by flying debris.

Total property damage has not been estimated.

Predict Price Boost For Canadian Bread

OTTAWA, March 26 (CP)—A boost in the price of bread—bringing it to a new post-war price peak—appears to be in store for the Canadian housewife. What the price advance will be depends on the "individual" baker. It may range from one to two cents to a loaf.

The price increase was indicated Friday night in a statement by the national council of the baking industry, following an announcement from Montreal earlier in the day by the Quebec League of Independent Bakers, hoisting bread prices two cents effective Monday.

Tito To Make Speech

BELGRADE, March 26—(AP)—Premier Marshall Tito will make a major speech next month which may chart Yugoslavia's future role in tense world affairs. It may mark a shift toward improved economic relations with the west. The speech is expected to be delivered about April 10. It is likely to cover this country's increasing difficulties with its Communist neighbors since the regime was blacklsited by the Communist Information Bureau (Cominform) eight months ago.

Bulgarian Red Boss Builds Vest-Pocket Model Of USSR

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

SOFIA, March 26 — (AP). — Communist boss Georgi Dimitrov has built himself here just about the tighest little police state outside the Soviet Union. And he's still working on it.

The 66-year-old dictator who, according to western diplomats here, rouges his cheeks and paints his moustache black to give an appearance of youthfulness and vigor, aims to create a vest-pocket model of Russia.

Moscow-trained and a confidant of Stalin, Dimitrov preaches that only by maintaining the closest ties and greatest reliance upon Russia can Bulgaria survive and prosper. He has decreed that anything running counter to this must be smashed as "a direct danger to our people's democracy." He has outlawed nationalism, like Tito's in Yugoslavia, as "treason to the Soviet Union."

In Dimitrov's Bulgaria all things Russian are held up as good and virtually all things American and British are condemned. Dimitrov tells Bulgarians that the United States and Britain have "from the first been antagonistic toward our people's democracy." His government is promoting hostility toward the western legations here and trying to get their personnel reduced. Legislation such as the projected new church control law is designed to sever remaining ties with the west.

By western allied estimates Dimitrov has about 400,000 men—uniformed and civilian—under arms in a population of about seven million. The government refuses to give figures on armed personnel as a state secret.

The reason given for keeping a force of more than 300,000 armed civilians is "protection of our people's democracy against subversive elements."

Youth Drowned In Sluiceway

FENELON FALLS, March 26—Spring flood waters racing through a sluiceway here claimed the life of Tommy Jones, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jones on Friday.

Tommy, accompanied by Jim Jainer and Lloyd Raby, was just out of school The three were playing at the edge of a six-foot sluiceway, which carries flood waters at the rear of a row of stores to the canal. The boy was trying to let loose a jammed log when he tripped and fell into the water. The flood was rushing through about a foot deep and the youngster was carried down to the canal and into the river.

Shortly afterwards Joe Gamsby and Don Gordon grabbed a boat and with a rough dragging outfit located the body and brought it to shore. The Ontario Hydro artificial respiration outfit was used for half an hour without success.

Charge Torture Used

BELGRADE, March 26—(Reuters).—The Yugoslav Communist Party newspaper Borba today alleged that Bulgarian police had tortured four Yugoslavs, two of them women, found guilty of espionage in Sofia two days ago. Borba said the trial was held in secret and the defendants were denied their own lawyers. Witnesses were recruited among Yugoslav deserters.

Joint Committee May Heal Breach

OTTAWA, March 26 (CP)—A joint committee representing warring factions in the Trades and Labor Congress may bring an end to the fight over Communism in the ranks of the 500,000-man Congress.

Decision to set up the committee was announced Friday night in a joint statement issued by T.L.C. President Percy Bengough and Frank Hall, Montreal rail union chief and outspoken battler against Communists in the T.L.C.

It said the joint committee would get down to its first session within the next few days.

Representing anti - Communist unions will be Hall, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks; Archie Johnstone, vice-president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union, of Toronto, and Bernard Shane of Montreal, vice-president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union.

It appeared earlier in the day that little progress had been made at the meeting, called by T.L.C. executive and which brought together Canadian chiefs of international unions.

Mr. Hall replied with a flat "no" when asked whether "any progress" had been made on resolving the issues between the two factions which have kept the Congress in turmoil during the past year.

Brassard Will Hang For Shooting Wife

COCHRANE, March 26—(CP)—Romeo Brassard will be hanged June 15 for fatally shooting his 210-pound common-law wife whom he accused of stepping out with another man.

The 37-year-old Northern Ontario bushworker was convicted late Friday of murder. A jury which deliberated three hours and 40 minutes recommended mercy.

Evidence, including statements which police and a handwriting expert said were written by Brassard, was that Brassard fired two revolver shots into his wife's body as the climax of a bedroom quarrel Feb. 19 in a tiny cabin near Hearst. He had accused her of going with another man to a hotel in Hearst, an accusation the woman denied.

Will Prosecute Pyramid Clubs

TORONTO, March 26—(CP)—Prosecutions will be launched against persons in Toronto connected with pyramid clubs, Inspector Albert Lee of the police morality squad said Friday.

His statement followed reports that pyramid clubs, a variation of the old chain letter craze, were being organized in Toronto.

Developed in the United States, the clubs, designed to beat postal regulations which stamped out chain letters, are held as parties in homes instead of using the mails.

Mrs. Frances Campbell, a charter member of a newly-organized Toronto Pyramid Club, said she expects to collect approximately $2,000 when she reaches the apex of the pyramid.

7 Die, Liquor Poisoned

NEW YORK, March 26—(CP)—Seven men were dead today in the worst poison-liquor episode here since prohibition days. Police feared several more, as yet unlocated, were violently ill. It is believed the death liquid was a drink known as "smoke," a mixture of wood alcohol and water.

U.S. Asks Ban In New Black List

Confidential Schedules Sent To 19 Lands Receiving ERP Aid

LONDON, March 26—(AP)—Britain is moving to tighten up on the shipments of potential war materials to countries behind the iron curtain.

Officials disclosed Friday night a list of commodities having possible military value is being drawn for addition to the list of articles already forbidden for export to Communist-dominated countries.

The informants said the new restrictions will be based on a confidential schedule of goods and materials which the United States feels should not be allowed to reach areas in the Soviet orbit. They said Washington has sent these schedules to the 19 countries which receive American assistance under the European Recovery Program.

Two of the American schedules asked for bans on the shipment to "iron curtain" countries of arms, munitions, radar equipment, atom-bomb materials, or anything which might be used in the manufacture of jet engines and certain precision instruments, the sources said.

Far-reaching

A third schedule, which they said is the basis for the proposed new restrictions, is more far-reaching. They declined to disclose its contents or to state whether Britain has agreed to ban everything it mentions.

They said several western countries, especially Sweden, have objected to some sections of the American schedules. One official said complete compliance would affect Britain's trade with eastern Europe "seriously."

The new restrictions probably will affect British trade agreements with Russia, Poland and Yugoslavia.

Disclosure of the impending new export restrictions follows statements by Republicans in the United States Senate urging tighter restrictions on trade with the east. They had criticized a statement in the House of Commons by Harold Wilson, President of the Board of Trade, that "considerations of economic advantage" guide Britain's trade relations with the Russians.

J. H. MILES, 556 Homewood Ave., nominated federal candidate of Peterborough C.C.F. in the approaching general elections. Maurice E. Ketcheson moved the nomination be unanimous after the ballots had counted a majority for Mr. Miles.

Building Trades Hold For Youth Plenty Of Scope

"There are excellent opportunities for young lads with a mechanical turn of mind to enter the building trades today," J. B. Metzler, Deputy-Minister of Labor told the Supervisory group of the Outboard Marine Co. on Friday night.

The Deputy Minister was speaking on the administrative functions of the Department.

For some time to come he felt there would be scope for those who wished to enter the building trades, particularly in view of the housing shortage which must be overcome.

At present he said there were some 3,000 apprentices in the building trades, barbering and hairdressing and other trades which are conducted by the Department.

Classes For Young Veterans

The Department is also supervising the last contingent of an equal number of young veterans in these designated trades, he said.

Included in the work of the Department is the administration of legislation which controls the safety factors and working conditions of employees in industry, stated the Deputy Minister.

Under the Factory, Shop and Office Building Act the Department examines and approves plans for all industrial construction in Ontario. During the last fiscal year this amounted to $57,000,000, he said. And over the last 20 years this has amounted to $500,00,000.

Under the Hours of Work and Vacation Act the Department expects to redeem credits in 1949-50 of $5,500,000, compared with $375,000 which was the figure in 1945.

C. B. Neal, general manager of Outboard Marine, outlined the future of sales and told of the reduction of staff in "non-productive labor" at the plant.

Hy Wood introduced the Deputy Minister and he was thanked by Robert Gibbons. The chairman was Reg. Reid.

MP's Clean Up Legislation On Control Bills

OTTAWA, March 26—(CP)—The Commons Friday night completed [illegible] of the government's emergency control legislation and Monday will return to its normal afternoon and evening sittings.

Throughout this week the members met three times a day to discuss five control bills, due to expire before the end of the month. The last of the measures provided for a one-year extension to th life of government boards empowered to requisition farm produce needed to fill contracts with the United Kingdom.

The bill was given second reading by a vote of 120 to 36, with only the Progressive Conservative opposing it. It was adopted on division—without a formally recorded vote.

The measure now goes to the Senate where approval and Royal assent has already been given to four of the control bills.

One provides for the continuation of controls on domestic rents, on some food prices, on steel, lumber and building priorities. Another extends the life of the Foreign-Exchange Control Board for another two years and another continues the life of the Crown-owned Canadian Commercial Corporation.

The fourth makes the wartime bonuses paid to rural mail carriers part of their contract price for making rural deliveries.

Wouldn't Guess

Finance Minister Abbott declined to hazard a guess as to the possibilities of a bread price increase as a result of the subsidy withdrawal.

Prime Minister St. Laurent declined to indicate when federal by-elections will be held in Newfoundland.

In the agriculture debate, Mr. Gardiner quoted from a Canadian Press interview with Sir Stafford Cripps. Sir Stafford had stated that in 1948 Canada supplied three-quarters of the British imports of wheat, flour, bacon and dried eggs. This country also supplied one-third of British imports of shelled eggs.

He asked the opposition to name him any year, other than a war year, when Canada had such a large share of the British market for those products.

Conservative Agreement

He reiterated that one of the reasons why Britain was going to Europe for food was the empire trade agreements negotiated by "the Tory party of Britain and the Tory party of Canada" in 1932. The agreements fixed quotas on British imports from other countries. Now Britain was buying from those countries under the quotas set out in the agreements.

Mr. Bracken, former Progressive Conservative leader, urged the government to get out of the business of making food contracts and leave it to those who grew the produce. At the same time, it should make efforts to overcome the currency problems which were blocking sterling markets.

KING'S SCOUT BADGE WAS PRESENTED to Patrol Leader Douglas Woodman, Left, at a father and son banquet at St. Andrew's Church hall on Friday night. Safety Rally Held At PCVS

A near-capacity audience of 800 attended an accident prevention meeting held in the PCVS auditorium on Thursday evening. The Peterborough-Lindsay executive of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations sponsored the meeting as one of their activities in a program of educating industrial employees to the need for the removal of hazards in order to reduce accidents. The program was entertaining and educational and brought to a climax a successful year of activity.

Harry A. Baptie, personnel manager of Western Clock Co., and chairman of the Peterborough-Lindsay section, acted as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Baptie first introduced L. H. Ingram, vice-president of the Quaker Oats Co. of Canada Ltd., and president of the IAPA, who brought greetings from the associations, and in a short address explained the connection between the Workmen's Compensation Board and the IAPA. The Salvation Army male chorus, under the direction of Ben Smith, sang three numbers and their singing was roundly applauded. Dr. Ralph Honey delighted the audience with two readings in Lancashire dialect, "The Parable of the Dangerous Cliff" and "Little Albert at the Zoo." The Salvation Army Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Gerald Routly, played two numbers with efficiency and harmony that would be hard to equal anywhere.

Explains Costs.

O. J. Pressen, personnel manager of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Bowmanville, and the chairman of Central Ontario Division, addressed the gathering, emphasizing the cost of accidents and what it means not only to the companies who pay compensation costs, but also to the individual who must purchase merchandise in which this cost is, of course, included.

The meeting closed with the showing of a film entitled "The Miracle of Paradise Valley." The film brought a story of the need for foresight and thought along accident prevention lines that was realistic.

The Peterborough - Lindsay executive extended thanks to J. E. Girven, assistant works manager of Canadian General Electric and his program committee who were responsible for arranging the program.

Vote $100,000 To Assist Alcoholics' Care

TORONTO, March 26.—Applause greeted Health Minister Kelley's announcement in the legislature Friday that the government is to establish a research foundation on alcoholism, with the help of leading individual members of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Under a measure introduced by Mr. Kelley, the government will make a grant of $100,000 to the foundation to enable it to establish a 25-bed hospital in Toronto for the treatment and care of alcoholics. The government is acting in conjunction with Alcoholics Anonymous.

The foundation will consist of a seven-man commission headed by J. Earl Lawson of the J. Arthur Rank organization of Canada. Others on the commission are: Judge Hawley S. Mott, juvenile court; W. T. Sutton, E. L. Ruddy Co. Ltd.; Isaac T. McNab, Dominion Life Assurance Co.; Dr. Hugh T. Kerr, Harold Sewell, Pringle & Booth, and J. J. Page, McCarthy Milling Co. All are from Toronto.

The legislation sets out that no member of the foundation shall receive any remuneration for his services, but each shall be paid travelling or other expenses in connection with his duties.

A large home in Rosedale is expected to be converted into a hospital. It will be eligible for maintenance grants that the government now makes to public general hospitals.

Blockade Running?

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, March 26 — (CP) — A group of Nicaraguans, presumably on a trial run with a converted military carrier which a group of British Columbia students had up for sale, were seized Thursday night 20 miles from here on suspicion of carrying arms and ammunition to Nicaragua. The students, who are travelling through Mexico and Central America, ran into financial difficulties and offered their carrier for sale to finance their junket by other means.

Shakes Off Guards

NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—Winston Churchill shook off his police guard Friday to mingle with a crowd of admirers in Pennsylvania station. About 300 persons shouted "Hooray" as the stocky wartime British Prime Minister walked among them, nodding and smiling.

7 Men Safe In Arctic Plane Crash

Search Planes Scour Barrow Strait For Aircraft From US

EDMONTON, March 26—(CP)—Search planes today scoured the barren Arctic waste in an intensified search for a United States plane that crash-landed on the ice of Barrow Strait, some 350 miles north of the magnetic pole.

The seven men aboard the crashed plane, an American Air Force C-82 Fairchild Packet, have kept in touch with civilization by radio and it is understood that all are safe and uninjured.

The plane was forced down on a 1,100-mile flight north from Frobisher Bay to Resolute Bay. Frobisher Bay is on Baffin Island and is divided from the northernmost tip of Quebec Province by Hudson Strait. Resolute Bay is on Cornwallis Island, some 1,200 miles north of Churchill, Man.

Plenty of Equipment.

(A dispatch from Goose Bay, Labrador, last night said that all seven men were safe and uninjured, following a successful belly-landing. The men were reported to have plenty of equipment and supplies).

Meanwhile, a specially-equipped Dakota is scheduled to leave here today to take part in the search. Aboard the plane will be Air Commodore Martin Costello of Winnipeg, who will direct the search.

Another Dakota from Edmonton yesterday was sent to aid six other planes already in the area. More aircraft are expected to reach the area as the search for the missing craft intensifies.

The first Edmonton-based Dakota was diverted to the search from a mercy flight to Fort Ross on Somerset Island on the south side of Barrow Strait. The plane had left Edmonton earlier in the week to bring a number of sick Eskimos to hospital here.

Beef Producers Market Plan To Be Set Up

TORONTO, March 26—Establishment of a beef cattle marketing scheme under the Ontario Farm Marketing Products Act got the go-ahead sign Friday from the Ontario Beef Cattle Producers' Association at the annual meeting. The executive was instructed to take steps to set up such a scheme.

B. B. Warnica of Barrie, who was elected president of the association, said previously such a provincial scheme had been considered impractical, because much beef is marketed outside Ontario. Now a bill before the House of Commons proposes empowering of provincial marketing boards to deal with marketing of products in either interprovincial or export fields. Passage of such a bill would make the scheme practical.

With deductions of 20 cents per head of cattle, Mr. Warnica estimated the organization would have funds available for analyzing beef to determine nutritional value; to promote community sales and encourage raising of good feeder cattle in Ontario and to replace importations from the West.

V. S. Milburn, secretary-manager of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, recommended early organization of the scheme.

Demand Changes

Continuation of orderly marketing would mean continuation of present market levels until midsummer, Stewart Brown of Sheddon felt. He noted that consumer demand recently had been for lower class beef, and Holstein bulls had been selling at better rates than beef animals.

He recommended culling of herds during the period of good prices and low production costs, and said he felt pork would not provide serious competition for beef for the consumer's money. W. P. Watson, Ontario livestock commissioner, told producers to replace fat cows that were sold with heifers.

Officers elected were: Honorary president, Stewart Brown; president, B. B. Warnica; vice-president, Harold Huffman, Blenheim; executive, T. E. Carroll, Dunrobin, W. K. Janes, Watford, Rennie Caldwell, Fergus, Robert McKercher, Dublin, McKenzie Burt, Paris; secretary-treasurer, E. M. Bateman, Mount Brydges.

alter the terms of a will. I know of no law like this in the civilized world. Mr. Atkinson's will disposed of his estate as he so desired. Now, after his death, the government proposes to pass retroactive legislation to disturb the terms of that will."

The legislation will not affect the St. Lawrence Foundation, incorporated to handle the entertainment earnings of Ottawa skater Barbara Ann Scott. Mr. Frost said in an interview that he did not consider that foundation formed when Miss Scott turned professional after winning the Olympic figure-skating crown, "a business company."

At Sudbury, a charitable foundation similar in some respect to the Atkinson Foundation became operative following the death last year of W. E. Mason, publisher of the Sudbury Daily Star. The bulk of the $1,652,382 Mason estate was left to the W. E. Mason Charitable Foundation, with about 40 per cent of the proceeds set aside for a proposed Sudbury district hospital.

The rest of the proceeds go to various charitable, religious and education undertakings.

Must Dispose of Excess

Under the bill's terms, if a charitable trust or foundation holds more than 10 per cent of the interest in any business, it must dispose of the excess. No charitable trust or foundation may own more than 10 per cent of the capital stock of any undertaking. Trusts and foundations now established have until April 1, 1952, to comply.

Mr. Frost said the bill in no way imposes any additional taxes, nor does it attempt to tax charitable foundations.

"The whole policy of the government is to the contrary. It desires to encourage charitable trusts and foundations but desires them to be such and not merely charitable trusts and foundations as a cloak for something else."

Community Fund Hits Objective

Peterborough's Red Cross and Community Fund has now surpassed its objective for 1949. A total of $75,175.21 has been raised, Campaign officials state.

The objective was $75,000—25 per cent higher than was asked for last year

Of the ubscriptions which have come into the Fund more than 56 per cent have been in cash, or a total of $42,151.06. This is regarded as a good sign by those in charge of the drive, as it is a greater percentage than normal.

The following is a list of the objectives of the Divisions, the total subscribed to date, and the actual cash returns: Special names $22,500, $23,113.75, and $20,-543.75; Industrial $32,000, $32,-724.75, and $3,546.30; Retail $16,-000, $13,665.70, and $12,699.40; Womens $4,000, $5,184.76 and $4,-895.36; and Penny Collection $500, $486.25, and $486.25.

The only division that has not yet reached its objective is the Retail, but it is believed that it will not fall short when complete return are in.

Beneficiaries of the Fund are the Canadian Red Cross Society, Navy League, Salvation Army (local work), Children's Aid Society, St. Vincent's Orphange, YMCA and YWCA (local work), Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Victorian Order of Nurses, Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation, and the Humane Society.

Plane To Fly Body Of Trapper From Bush

MATTAWA, March 26 (CP)—A Lakeland Skyways aircraft with a Quebec provincial constable aboard Firday is preparing to fly deep into the Quebec bush country to bring out the body of a 25-year-old trapper, Harry Duhaime, who died Tuesday in an abandoned cabin on the shores of Shanty Lake.

Coroner William Irwin of Timiskaming, Que., revealed today the story of how Conrad Duhaime, 19-year-old brother of the dead man, tended Harry for four days before he died then carried his lifeless body through the dense undergrowth to the cabin.

After leaving the body in the cabin, Duhaime then trekked through more bush for two days and a night to bring the news to their family home here.

Carlin Says Exoulsion Move To Kill Union

SUDBURY, March 26—(CP)—Robert H. Carlin charged today that suspension of his International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIP) by the Canadian Congress of Labor developed from an outright attempt to destroy the organization of which he is Eastern Canada director.

He issued a statement on his return from Ottawa where the CCL took the expulsion action Thursday. It said that charges of Communism domination of his union and of failure to organize gold miners in the Timmins area are cloaks for the activities of "power-mad" individuals who attempted to capture the Mine-Mill Union from without after failure to do so within its ranks.

U.S. May Be Trying Aussie Rocket Range

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP)—Possible American use of the 3,000-mile rocket range in Australia may be discussed when the defence chiefs of the two countries get together here next month.

Sir Frederick Stedden, permanent head of the Australian Department of Defence, is expected to visit Washington about April 7.

An Australian government spokesman said last week that the United States undoubtedly would be given use of the guided missile testing range, on request. Up to then, no formal request had been made, it was explained.

However, it is understood here that a United States survey board has returned from Australia where it studied the advantages and disadvantages of using the site.

Fiction Writers Entering A Golden Age

By PAT USSHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 26 (CP)—English-language fiction writers in Canada may be entering upon their "golden age."

John Farrar, head of a publishing house and a former editor of The Bookman, says he believes Canadian authors now are showing "the same vitality, power, imagination and drive that American writers showed after the first World War."

"The golden age for United States writers was in the 20s and the 30s, particularly the 20s," he said in an interview. "Canadians are, I think, entering their golden age now."

Puffing on a cigar, Farrar, chairman of Farrar, Straus and Company, said that literature in Canada prior to the second World War could be classified roughly as in the romantic vein.

"I suspect the Canadian public now is readier for the more realistic writing. The Canadian writer probably feels these same impulses sooner than the reader and develops them."

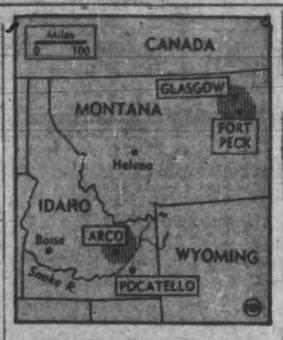
English Writers

Farrar emphasized that his views applied to the work of authors writing in English.

He said his opinions—and he stressed that they were merely opinions, not proved facts—were based on talks with authors, on reading their manuscripts and their published books.

An illustration of the new trend in Canadian writing was a new novel by Robert Christie called "Inherit the Night," which is shortly to be published. Another one was "The North Star is Nearer," by Evelyn Eaton.

Hugh MacLennan, and W. O Mitchell illustrated the point equally well.



"They are not afraid to tell a good story and yet they do it with art and what I choose to call power," Farrar said.

Other post-war writers he named as showing this realistic trend were Scott Young, Ralph Allen, John Clare Robertson Davies, Henry Kreisel, Jean Burton, and Len Peterson.

"The Canadian writers now is looking to himself rather than to England or the United States," said Farrar. "That is what I feel is giving him his power."

BUY CABINS

Four pre-fabricated cabins, 12 feet by 18 feet, have been bought by the Y's Men's Club for Camp Kawartha. Each cabin will house eight boys and a counsellor. They will be put up by June 1, ready for the opening of the boys' camp on July 1.

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION announced it has chosen 400,000 acres near Pocatello, Ida., as the best site for its mammoth new atomic power reactor plant. The area includes the Navy proving ground at Arco. Second choice for a site was the Fort Peck-Glasgow area in northeastern Montana.

5,000 Union Members Ask 34% Increase

VANCOUVER, March 26 (CP)—A 30-per-cent wage increase is being sought by 5,000 members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers (CIO) in British Columbia.

Harvey Murphy, Regional Director, announced Friday the wage demands are for the workers employed in Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company plants at Kimberley and Trail. Negotiations for a new contract will start April 1. The present contract expires June 1.

The Union, which has 8,300 members in B. C., was suspended Thursday by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

"The suspension bill will not in any way hold up our wage or organizational programs," said Murphy.

Power Cut-off Gone Forever

RAPIDES DES JOACHIMS, Que., March 26—(CP)—The old bogey—power cut-offs—may be gone forever form Ontario. At least Robert Saunders of Toronto, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission hopes so.

During a visit this week to the H.E.P.C.'s big dam-construction site near this Upper Ottawa Valley town, he said the final decision rests with the weather and changing conditions of the rivers.

In any case by "June or July of 1950" the Des Joachims project which lies 140 miles northwest of Ottawa, will be turning an additional 100,000 kilowatts into Ontario's power reservoir.

By that time half the development will have been completed, and "by 1951 we expect to have the entire project finished," said Mr. Saunders who personally conducted a party of women reporters the length and breadth of the giant development.

The development, when finished, "may be even a little larger than the power plant at Queenston," said project manager A. A. Richardson of Peterborough, Ont.

In the one-day excursion the women were given a glimpse into practically every aspect of the development.

The Poor Estate Of Provincial Parliaments

A change has come over Provincial Parliaments which should not go unremarked. An example is provided by Ontario, the richest, most central of the provinces. The Province of Ontario is being run by civil servants and a large number of Cabinet Ministers who should now be called Departmental Heads. The Ministers—fourteen in all—are fairly well paid for their services, that is, according to public service payment-standards. A Minister's salary and allowances total $11,000. Below them, far below, are 76 ordinary members of the Legislative Assembly who receive a stipend of $2,000, with expense allowances of $1,000, which is less than many parish ministers receive. It happens that the 'parish' of an M.P.P. is considerably larger, and, in dollars and cents, considerably more important. In Drew times Ontario was of course run by Premier Drew. He has now larger fish to fry. Premier Kennedy is a stop-gapper, a worthy gentleman and honest, but whose task is not to administer the Province, but to keep Parliament going until another Administrator is chosen by the Ontario Conservatives.

* * *

"To keep Parliament going" seems rather a wry phrase in view of what the Ontario Legislature does as it keeps on going. Almost the only people who seem to know where and how it is going are the Departmental heads, the Cabinet Ministers. That is obvious from the debates in the Legislative Assembly. With few exceptions the speakers in the Assembly make a poor showing. The Ontario Hansard is mainly a record of inept, vague and uncomprehending speakers who flounder and fuss or praise and seem not to know whereof they speak, unless they speak of purely local matters. Probably never before in the history of the Ontario legislature has so little been said and of such little account. The criticism, favourable and unfavourable, of the Ontario budget, has been appallingly, revealingly weak. Mr. Frost, Provincial Treasurer and Departmental Head, is able to sit in his seat and say oh and ah without fear of contradiction and without elaboration.

* * *

This is happening in a Legislature which, according to the expenditures it controls, is twenty times more important than the House of Commons in Sir John A. Macdonald's day, and more important than the House of Commons in 1914. The Ontario provincial expenditures last year were $204,902,000. In 1914 the national (Federal) expenditures were $186,241,000; in 1868, $14,071,000.

Is this state of affairs bad? Is a remedy needed? If so, what remedy?

* * *

The state of affairs is bad as Canada is now constituted. A Parliament should not have so much and so extensive business and jurisdiction if its control passes into the hands of one or fourteen men. If provincial parliaments are to become unparliamentary, that is, politically undemocratic and impotent, their jurisdiction should be restricted. Professor Lower of Queen's proposals that Canada have more and smaller provinces may provide a remedy. Provincial government could then become a sort of aggrandized municipal government and the present kind of M.L.A. would be a good representative, since he would not have to deal with very wide and large problems. Ottawa's overall jurisdiction would be greater, but the M.P. type seems better able to cope with bigger problems than the M.L.A. type.

* * *

As Canada is now constituted, the people of Ontario and other provinces should have better things from their provincial legislatures. A remedy may be not to increase the Ontario Cabinet Ministers' salaries, but to increase the stipends of M.L.A.'s, and more particularly, to lengthen the time during which Provincial legislatures sit. The trend now is to decrease the time. In Ontario, of course, the Official Opposition (C.C.F.) is so numerically weak, and likewise the runners-up, the Liberals, that government by the Cabinet—that is by the Departmental Heads—goes almost unchallenged. The real weakness will appear if a strong Premier like Mr. George Drew should take office. The premier plum is hanging there for the grasping. Ontario's present best hope is that the man who fastens on it is not a dictator at heart.

* * *

It should be restated that the legislature of this Province controls the spending of more money than did the Federal Government only 35 years ago. We need M.P.P.'s who understand and are competent to deal with Ontario great concerns. We need not 'yes' men, but 'why' and 'no' men.

A Pay Increase Without Strings

One effect of the Budget has been to give hundreds of thousands of workers in this country a pay increase with no strings attached to it. Every raise in pay that workers are able to get by union bargaining or by private arrangement is worth less than appears on paper, for the receiver must share his increase with the tax-collector. Since employers have been forced to collect taxes at the source—in effect, to take the taxes out of a man's pay envelope before giving it to him—a new spirit has affected all union bargaining; the worker is concerned, naturally enough, with the sum of money which he gets for himself and from which he must pay the expenses of his household and his family, and sometimes he forgets that the employer must find not only that money, but the portion of tax which the workers never sees. It is this fact—the fact that the worker never holds in his hand the amount of money which is paid on his behalf in taxes — that the disadvantage of the system lies. Very often employers feel that the true effect of the system is to make them pay a tax on the wages of every man in his plant.

The adjustment of Income Tax in the new Budget relieves a great number of workers of the necessity to pay any Income Tax at all, and lowers the Income Tax of the remainder. At a time when the cost of living appears to have halted its upward flight, this is good news indeed. We do not suggest for an instant that employers should use the lowered tax as a means of whittling any wage adjustments which may be just and necessary. We do feel, however, that when unions negotiate they should feel that their workers are better off than they were a few months ago, and that labour-management relations should be sweetened by this circumstance.

New Lease Of Life For Foreign Exchange Control Board

The House of Commons has extended the Foreign Exchange Control Act for another two years. That is as it should be. Only the Conservatives voted against the bill. Conservative opposition was a matter of policy, a policy laid down last autumn at the party's national convention. The Conservatives are opposed to many of the financial controls exercised by the Foreign Exchange Control Board, and while admitting the Board's use during the war, would like to abolish it now. However, Conservative M.P.'s are sufficiently realistic to know that it has some present value, and on Tuesday opposed the two-year extension, but favoured a one-year period.

No Government Board has rendered more valuable service to the people of Canada than the Foreign Exchange Control Board. It is still doing necessary and exceedingly important work. Amidst the complication of international trade and foreign exchange, the Board is steering a wise, careful and successful course. We need it now, we need it two years from now, and, unless there are remarkable changes in international affairs we shall continue to need it ten years hence. It is to be hoped that such brilliant men as Mr. Graham Towers and Mr. L. Rasminsky will continue to serve on it and to have the assistance of the able young experts who now help to chart Canada's international financial course.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A clergyman says that one-third of the people in the world are "amiable nonentities". True, and we rather like them. It is the unamiable nonentities who get our goat.

A Washington news item says "it's getting harder and harder to throw a silver dollar across the Rappahannock". Another instance of the dollar not going as far as it used.

An experimenter finds that a mouse in a rotary cage travels about 20 miles a day. Like a lot of people, he gets around, but it doesn't do him any good.

Our national railway shows a deficit of $30,000,000. The reasons are good, but too much public ownership on those lines would be bad.

Diary Of A Non-Gambler

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Read an unusually good novel this afternoon, called "Herself Surprised", by Joyce Carey; was particularly struck by the skill with which the principal character was given life; I shall remember her for years. When I laid the book down I reflected for a time on the rarity of such novels; how few of the books which are pushed at us by modern authors contains any really interesting or memorable people. Yet there are books, not of the first quality, which give us such experiences. Consider "Lorna Doone", the darling of our grandfathers; how real Lorna seems, and how potent her charm is, compared with the heroines of most modern novels, about whom we are told so much more! We do not know how Lorna looked in bed, or the state of her digestion, or what parts of her tingled when John Ridd kissed her, but we love her still. Magic, not psychology, is the stuff of which great stories are made.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: From time to time I am bothered by the thought that I ought to take some exercise. Usually I am successful in fighting down this ugly notion, but sometimes I toy with the idea of getting one of those machines which exercises a man against his will by rolling, hauling, squeezing and folding him. What I really want is a series of searching exercises which can be done while sitting in a chair. Years ago I read that caged lions and tigers keep themselves fit by stretching, and for a while I used to stretch whenever I had a spare minute, straining my halliards and squirming my binnacle to the accompaniment of alarming cracks, creaks, and pops. But it is awfully easy to stop stretching. I think I shall re-examine this theory, and perhaps evolve Marchbanks Torso Tensions for the Sedentary. Advertisements will appear of me wrapped around my office chair, with the message: "Puny? Flabby? Torpid? In Thirty Days You can be like this Masked Marvel! No Costly Equipment! No Time Required! No Effort! Tear the Seat Off your Chair and send with Five Hundred Dollars for Trial Booklet! Be Muscular the Marchbanks Way!"

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Business calls me to Toronto and while passing through the university section I admired the snow sculpture with which the students have decorated the lawns of their residences. Was particularly impressed by a mermaid, who was pleasantly coloured.... Obviously this is the way to treat snow. When the stuff first falls it is pretty, but after a day or two it becomes shop-worn and dingy. Why not scrape it into heaps and mould it into pleasant sculptural groups? Canada could develop a wonderful school of native sculpture with so much free material to hand, and the beauty of the plan would be that all the pieces, good and bad, would disappear before we had time to grow tired of them. Instead of putting up any more irrevocable monstrosities in stone and bronze, sculptors could try out their ideas in snow; if the idea proved good, the artist could be commissioned to make it permanent.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: Examined a library of about five thousand volumes today. The owner had caused all his books to be bound in a uniform binding of brown calf, stamped in gold. It was a handsome sight and a most uncommon one in our day, when comparatively few people can afford to buy books at all, much less to have them bound in fine leather.... I have often wondered why Canadian publishers do not put out their books in paper covers, as the French do; this cuts down the cost, and anyone who wants to have his book bound could then go to a binder, choose his leather or his cloth, and have his book done to suit his own taste. I am told that at least a third of the cost of producing a book is paid for binding it. There are many books which I would be quite happy to have without a binding, for once I have read them it is unlikely that I shall ever look at them again.... Driving home was stuck in a snowdrift, but the aid of a kind farmer, and an army truck, and a couple of passers-by soon put me on the road again. There is nothing that looks and behaves so foolishly as a mired motor car.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: At a small dinner party this evening a lady asked me why a little wine is always poured into the host's glass before his guests are served. I believe that this is so that he can see if there is cork or other nastiness in the wine, and, if there is, pretend as well as he can that it is not so. The days when bottles of wine were sent from the table because of a little cork have gone, perhaps forever.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: Was reading the story of Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves to two children this evening, and they listened with the most gratifying attention. When we came to the part where Morgiana poured the boiling oil into the jars and killed the thieves, they were deliciously horrified. But another adult, a Beefer, was present, and engaged me in the following exchange:

BEEFER: Doesn't sound likely to me. She only had one jar of oil. That wouldn't be enough for forty thieves.

S.M.: At this point there were only thirty-seven thieves.

BEEFER: Still not enough. She's need at least a quarter of a jar to fill up a jar in which a man was hidden.

S.M.: I did not write this story. I am merely reading it. Shall we go on?

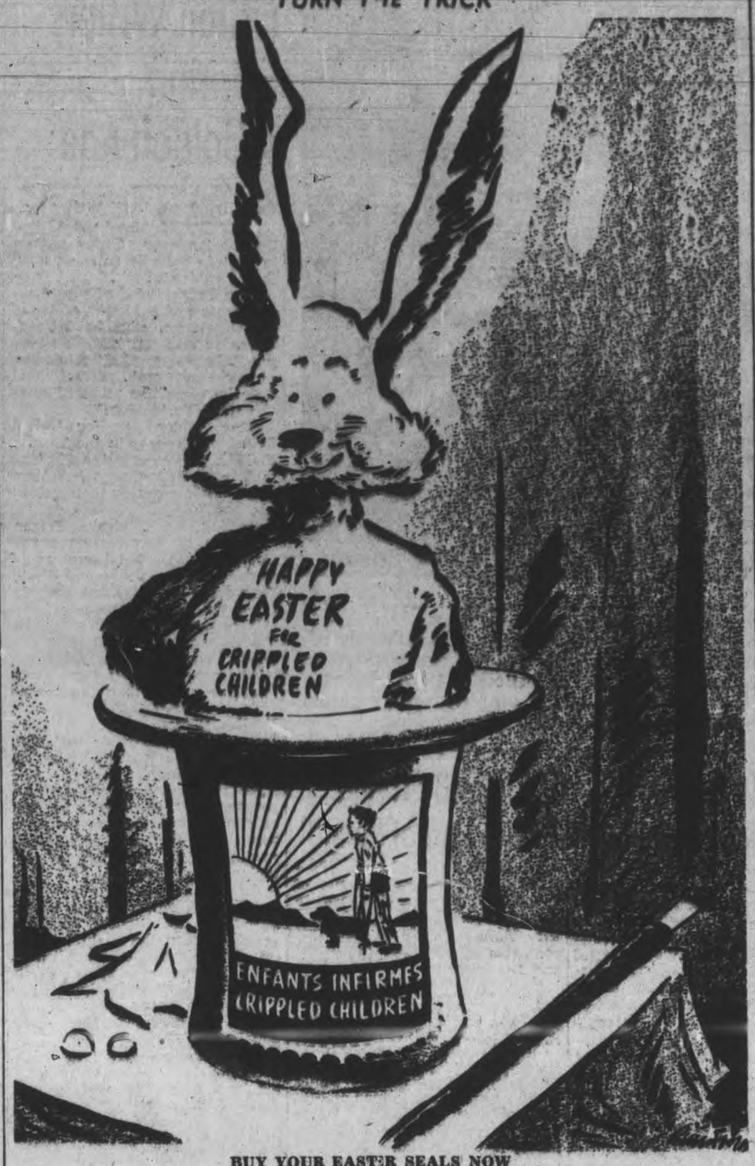
BEEFER: Well, I think it's silly to say she did something which is clearly impossible.

CHILDREN: Maybe she poured it right into their mouths when they looked up, and scalded their insides so that they squirmed and wriggled with torture! Oooh! Just imagine!

BEEFER: They would have screamed, and the others would have known.

S.M.: I am sure that there is some completely satisfactory explanation, but being a mere mortal, and having only one pair of hands, and having only what is in this book to go on, I do not know it. Shall we go on!

CHILDREN: Go on! Tell more about the boiling oil!



BEEFER: Well, just the same I think it's silly.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: At a party this evening a man was showing a number of card-sharper's tricks. What amazed me was that he handled cards very clumsily—almost as clumsily as I do—and under cover of his dropping, spilling and fumbling he performed his knaveries, dealing himself flushes and full houses with remarkable skill. I have seen slick fellows who could make the cards behave; a clumsy sharper is something new to me. Not that I ever play cards. Once, in my university days, I got into a poker game and lost sixty cents within an hour. This taught me a lesson which I have never forgotten, and if ever I am ruined it will not be by gambling. I have too great a respect for money to put the lovely stuff in jeopardy.

Letters To The Editor

CONTROVERSY FURTHER EXPLAINED

Sir: May I have the privilege of answering statements made to the press by Mr. M. J. Fenwick, district representative of the Steelworkers' Union on Tuesday, March 22. These statements were, to my mind, a misrepresentation of the facts, and misleading to the public.

First of all, certain correspondence was received at the regular January membership meeting of Outboard Marine Workers Union, which was considered too lengthy for discussion at that time. Consequently a motion was passed to call a special meeting to deal with the matter, no mention being made of inviting an outside speaker.

At least two weeks before this special meeting was scheduled, it was announced on the bulletin boards in the Outboard Marine factory, stating that the meeting was to be held to discuss the aforementioned correspondence. The place—Legion Hall, and the time—March 22 at 8.00 p.m.

Now, Mr. Editor, let us remember the date, time and place and the fact that it was called by the Outboard Marine Workers' Union.

On Friday, March 18, leaflets announcing a meeting to be held at the same date, time and place, were given out at the gates of the plant, inviting all employees of Outboard Marine to hear Mr. C. H. Millard, M.P.P. Confusion existed. Did the O.M.W. Union have the hall rented for that evening, to discuss their own business, or did the U.S.W.A. have the hall rented to present Mr. Millard? A check-up ascertained that we, the Outboard Workers, did have the hall rented. The same announcement was made the next day in an advertisement in the Examiner.

Tuesday evening the meeting was called to order by the president of O.M.W.U. Without preamble he called upon M. J. Fenwick, district representative of the Steelworkers' Union to introduce C. H. Millard to "the 60 that were there (there were at least 160). Before Mr. Fenwick began, the writer requested to have the motion read that was responsible for the calling of the meeting. This was done by the secretary, and was received as correct. I then made a request that the meeting be carried on as a business meeting to discuss the correspondence, and was ruled out of order by the chairman. In spite of general opposition from the floor, the chairman insisted that the speaker be heard. It was then pointed out that if the meeting was going to be broadened out to include a speaker, then it was only fair to invite one from each of the organizations trying to become the accredited bargaining agent of the Outboard Marine employees.

The writer made a motion to this effect, and was promptly ruled out of order. I then proposed a vote of non-confidence in the chair, which was seconded. Mr. Fenwick grabbed the mike and, amid shouts of "sit down," "order," "you're not the chairman of this meeting," etc., tried to outshout the members. The chairman had lost control of the meeting, and I requested Fenwick to leave the mike alone as he had no business being in the hall in the first place. Another member also came forward and asked Fenwick to get away from the mike so that order could be restored. Mr. Fenwick sat down and the confusion ended.

Someone then reminded the chairman that a motion of non-confidence was before the meeting, so the chairman called upon the vice-president to take over the chair. Order prevailed from that time until adjournment. It was proposed that since the meeting was going to hear a speaker representing one side, it would only be fair to have another speaker present the other side, to which the members whole-heartedly agreed. The speakers were then given a courteous hearing.

In his statement to the Examiner Mr. Fenwick referred to myself and the other member as "drunken hoodlums", with which I was jokingly hailed on entering the shop this morning. I should think that a man in Mr. Fenwick's position would realize that such absurd mis-statements are no credit to his organization. However, I have asked my wife not to make my after dinner coffee so strong in future! Yours truly,

J. H. HIGGINS

MORE ABOUT FLOGGING

Sir: More people should take time to write their opinions on flogging in thanks to the courtesy of your invitation. Have read 'Strange's' letter with interest.

Why not have a 'delinquent anonymous', in the same way as 'Alcoholic Anonymous'. Surely that would be more in line with Christianity. And as a preventive, change our present soulless education to one that prepares for the experiences, adventures and exigencies of life. Our present world condition is a 'defeat' for our so-called 'culture' and the 'good old days', for yesterday was the parent of today. So is today's pains symbolic of tomorrow—a 'new tomorrow' (?) but flogging could be abortive.

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the propnets which were before you. (Matt. 5: 10-12.)

Fleet Feats of Local Harriers A 34-Hour Walk To Toronto

By DON GRANT

The Peterborough Harriers' Club is an infant as athletic clubs go. It was formed only a year ago. But it has an interesting ancestry. Before the turn of the century Peterborough was buzzing with walkers, runners ar cyclists.

In 1883 when bicycling was new to our world the Peterborough Cycling Club was formed and members of the Club rode high, wide and handsomely. Long-distance walking attracted the strenuous efforts of athletes about 1900.

Walking had its greatest season in Peterborough's life in 1907 and 1908. November 18, 1907 will be remembered as the day when David Hartley made the trip from Peterborough to Toronto and back, walking, in 34 hours and six minutes. The distance in those days was about 93 miles. James Reynolds was second coming in two hours and 15 minutes after Hartley.

In April or 1908 Peterborough was singled out of all the towns and cities in the world to be the host for the World Walking Tournament. It was held in the old Brock St. Arena from April 20 to 27.

O! that this too too solid flesh would melt
Thaw and resolve itself into a dew;
Or that the Everlasting had not fix'd
His canon 'gainst self-slaughter! O God! O God!
How weary, stale, flat and unprofitable
Seem to me all the uses of this world.
—Shakespeare's 'Hamlet'—Act I, Sc. 2.

Peterborough's first Harriers' Club was formed by the YMCA in 1900. Some of the charter members of the club were W. Campbell, W. Richardson, R. Dobbin, John Long and C. Kemp. This club did little field and track work. But from a look at the basketball records of that time one would wonder why the other teams played. They hung up decisive victories over team after team, taking home the championships year by year. Having played their basketball in the winter the members kept in condition with long hikes over the rocky countrysides of Peterborough, Hastings and Victoria counties.

Incentive was given to running by the Examiner Trophy first offered for competition in 1908. The course stipulated was ten miles from Lakefield to Peterborough. The trophy was first won by Ray Best out of a field of 17 starters. His time for covering the course was a hot 57 minutes, 50 seconds. Ernie Wilson, another great runner of the time, finished a close second.

Membership of the club rose to 50 in 1907, including such racing notables of the time as Ben Howard, 100-yard sprinter and Fred McGrath, 200-yard sprinter. Ernie Wilson won the Examiner Trophy that year and was also chosen along with Fred Simpson to be on the Canadian Athletic team to visit the United States tournaments at New York and Boston. Peter Wallace was the captor of the Examiner five-mile trophy. Ray Best represented the club in the Montreal Athletic meet, finishing 25th in a field of 260 stars of the track and field of the States and Canada.

La vanite est la mere des ridicules comme l'oisivete est la mere des vices.
—Marmontel.

Many of the older residents will remember well the first indoor meet of the Harriers' club held in December of 1907 in the Brock Street Arena, before a crowd of 1,500 people. That was the night Ernie Wilson lost his five-mile indoor championship to Jack Tait of the West End Y of Toronto. That was the night when the famous Tom Longboat, who died recently, entered the competitions. That was the night Toronto athletes carried away all the honors.

Field and track clubs began to to waste away thereafter. One name is outstanding, that of Albert Smoke, a Curve Lake Indian who captured the Examiner trophy a number of times. The Harriers' Club was reorganized in 1922. The greatest achievement of the club then was the carrying of a message from the mayor of Toronto to the mayor of Peterborough to open the Peterborough Exhibition that year. Over 30 runners took part, some running for two and a half miles and others five miles. Outstanding members of the club at that time were Aubrey Adams, Herbert Tranter and Newton Hamilton.

From 1922 until 1946 little was done in track and field sports in Peterborough. There were no outstanding clubs or members. The Second World War really put kaput to track events.

In 1946 a youth aged 15 gave running a local injection. Off his own bat James Flowers, a former Nottingham track club member, entered unattached the Dominion Scholastic Meet in Hamilton. He was in competition with 600 others. Even Oshawa put up fifteen entrants. Peterborough had Flowers alone. He made such a good showing, although not winning an award, that others were attracted to the sport. In the next year Flowers and new enthusiasts like Jack Martin, under the coaching of Al Clark, Physical Supervisor of the YWCA, competed in various track meets in Ontario.

During the winter of 1947-48 a 26-mile marathon race was held on the YMCA track, in laps and gaps, since the track is not 26 miles long. There were twelve entrants. These young men reformed the Peterborough Harriers' Club, with President James Flowers; Vice, Dean Reed; Sec.-Treas., Ronald Douglas. The club sponsors teams, and the Kiwanis Club gives some backing. Last year members competed in Hamilton and saw Gil Dodds break the Canadian mile record there. A three-mile race was held through Peterborough streets later in the season. Ray Donnelly, formerly of the Glasgow Athletic Association, won it.

Club membership has increased and there is great optimism as well as training. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite, former Olympics contestant, is assisting. Peterborough District Track and Field Games were held during the summer. Members have competed in Toronto, Hamilton and London.

In August the long-forgotten Lakefield - Peterborough road race was re-established, and was run off in one of the hottest days of the summer. Thistlewaite of Norwood won it. Time: one hour, 18 minutes. The Club has elected 1949 executive and its coach is Bill Morewood, a professional whippet, formerly of Toronto.

Now that Peterborough has again a Harriers' Club it is fitting to enquire what harriers are. They are (a) hounds for hunting (b) the people who hunt with them (c) members of clubs who go with hares and hounds (d)—and this is where Peterborough comes in—members of a club devoted to crosscountry running. It is pleasant though a little curious to find the word surviving or resuscitated in Peterborough. Harriers' Club are so-called fairly commonly in Britain, but not here.

"THIS FLOURISHING TOWN now possessing seven thousand inhabitants." Here is Peterborough as it appeared to W. F. G. Canning when he sketched it in the 1870's. The sketch was reproduced in the November 6th, 1875, issue of "Canadian Illustrated News," and is here reproduced by permission of the Public Archives of Canada. From what spot did the artist make his drawing? How many of the buildings can you recognize? The Examiner would be pleased to have its readers' identification of them.

Ambulatory Ambulance

It appears that the Dan Spence memorial ambulance, which served the city of Peterborough in the early nineteen hundreds as the only publicly-owned ambulance, was not doomed to the rubbish heap quite so ignominiously as at first seemed likely when the Examiner last week endeavored to trace the whereabouts of the vehicle.

It has been remembered that the ambulance was sold during the 1939-1945 War to raise money for the British War Victims Fund. James Hamilton, former Mayor of Peterborough, says that the ambulance stood for a long time at his storehouse on King Street. Frederick G. Mann, organist at St. John's Church, and wartime organizer of the British War Victims Fund, recalls that it was one of the many sources of income for the fund.

The timekeeper's bell used for wrestling matches at the Summer Gardens is the bell which was once heard through the streets of the city as the ambulance carried the sick to the hospital. Laurie Mitchell, the bus operator, has the two oil lamps from the vehicle, which he intends to convert into electric lights for use at his house.

Goodly Mansions, Peculiar People 1885

(This account is taken from a chapter in a History of the County of Peterborough, published in 1885).

Lakefield is the largest and most prosperous village in the county, and may almost be considered a part of Peterborough, with which it is connected by an extension line of the Midland Railway, about nine miles in length. It is situated on either side of the Otonabee River, where it receives the vast volumes of water that flow through Lake Katchewanooka. The early history of Lakefield has already been given in speaking of Col. Strickland, who settled on its site in 1831. To that gallant and gifted officer this beautiful lake-town owes its origin, while to the business energy of two gentlemen of the same family, Messrs. R. and G. Strickland, the present prosperity and the large prospect of the future progress of Lakefield are in no small measure to be attributed.

Fifty years ago this fair scene—where the goodly mansions of the Stricklands, amid lawns and gardens overlook the blue expanse of lake; where many another tastefully built villa nestles among such woods as are spared to adorn the landscape; where the steam and noise of lumber mills, and the glitter of gaily-furnished stores attract visitors to the rising village—was a wilderness of sombre forest into which the settler's axe began to hew its way. To the energy of one family all this is due, proving with all deference to the now venerable author of "Roughing it in the Bush", that culture and social position are not always inseparable obstacles to successful settlement and triumph over the perils and hardships of pioneer life.

Mr. James Thompson was one of the first settlers at Lakefield then known as Nelson's and afterwards as Herriott's Falls, until in 1851, when it was known as Selby; some years after that it received its present name. A bridge was thrown across the Otonabee at this point, at an early date, being built entirely by private subscriptions; but like most other pioneer bridges it succumbed to the jams of timber passing down the rapids which flow past here. The river is now spanned by a most excellent structure of iron and wood. The first saw-mill was built on the Douro side of the river; this was destroyed by fire and the village which had begun to prosper, fell into a decline, from which it did not recover for several years. Other mills were built by Strickland and Reid, Shaw and Waite and John Sherin. These being solidly established did the village invaluable service. The first store in Lakefield was opened by John Sherin and the first tavern in 1835.

In 1662 the Wesleyan Methodists built a frame church. This was followed in 1863 by a stone church, erected by the Episcopalians, and dedicated to St. John the Baptist. It is now used as a Sunday-school, a much more commodious and elegant stone church having been built almost opposite it. There is also a Presbyterian, a Baptist and a Bible Christian church in Lakefield.

The first school was opened in 1853 the teacher being a lady. The Public School is now a large building, accommodating over 400 pupils, who are under the charge of Mr. F. A. August, the efficient principal, assisted by three lady teachers.

The present Reeve of Lakefield is Mr. Roland Strickland; the Clerk is Alexander Bell, M. D. The population, which is evidently on the increase, is fully 1,500. Besides stores of all kinds, there are four licensed hotels, the principal of which are those kept by Richard Pruser and George Berube. There is one Masonic, one Forester's, one Royal Templars of Temperance, and two Orange Lodge; there is also a branch of the Y.M.C.A.

A most delightful trip for the tourist is from Lakefield—by either of the steamers Cruiser or Fairy, which leave daily—through the clear waters of Katchewanooka, from whose level rise hills dotted with cozy farmhouses on past the Polly Cow Islands, below Young's Point, where may be seen the resting place of the beautiful Indian maiden, Polly Cow, and on through Clear and Stony lakes to Burleigh Falls.

The principal business in Lakefield at present is sawing the abundant supplies of lumber which are carried in barges, or floated down the back lakes of Peterborough, and from the vast area of lake which traverses Victoria.

While in Lakefield the writer paid a visit to Mrs. Catharine Parr Trail, a sister of Col. Strickland who founded the village. This aged lady, as well as her equally gifted sister, Mrs. Moodie, has published several works on pioneer life and nature as found in Canada; even now she preparing for press a valuable work entitled "Floral Gleanings from Forest, Lake and Plain", which will be published shortly. Among many other interesting things of a literary character, Mrs. Trail has proof-sheets of "The Tudor Princesses of England", annotated and corrected by the author, the world-known Agnes Strickland, made famous by her "Queens of England". Agnes Strickland, who died in 1874 was Mrs. Traill's sister.

The visitor to Lakefield in the month of September will notice in its streets the presence of a "peculiar people", who somehow do not seem natives of the place. Young men, for the most part tall, in all cases powerfully built, saunter through the street dressed in blue or scarlet shirts, their trousers tucked into huge top-boots and tied around the waist with a scarlet sash. These are lumbermen, who are making ready to go to the shanty to make the various perparations for the winter's work; some to "prospect" for the best localities to cut logs of the stoutest timber some to make "rollways" from the shanty to the nearest stream; some are "river drivers", and will adventure in those red painted boats—that you see there, pointed at each end—on creek and river pulsating with the fierce life of spring. Many of the finest young men are French from the Lower Province—French with a stray dash of Indian blood derived from the earlier days when so many a stout 'coureur des bois' was certain to woo and wed the dusky nymphs of the forest. What a noise they make; someone is singing one of the national chansons so characteristic of their mode of life. Hark! it is "Vive la Canadienne". Do our readers know that fine old refrain? The following is a verse:

Vive la Canadienne!
Vole! mon coeur, vole!
Vive la Canadienne!
Et ses jolis yeux doux!
Et ses jolis yeux doux, doux, doux,
Et ses jolis yeux doux!
On danse avec nos blondes!
Vole! mon coeur, vole!
On danse avec nos blondes!
Nous changerons tour a tour!

The Messrs. Strickland have greatly increased the value of their unsurpassed extent of water power by the raceway they have lately constructed, which enable them to offer to manufacturers facilities which elsewhere could only be obtained at a great outlay. It is thus likely that the present era of "tall chimneys" will see a great extension of manufacturing enterprise to this beautifully situated village, which is also so advantageously situated with regard to the Trent Valley Canal, now under construction, and of which it is the base. There is no reason to fear for the Lakefield scenery, when one remembers that the construction of a number of handsome stone and brick factories on the Grand River has, if anything, enhanced the natural beauties of picturseque Brantford and Paris; and he would be no presumptuous prophet who should predict that the near future will see this charming village become a most important industrial centre.

PETERBOROUGH PERSONALITIES

Escott Reid Is New Deputy Was Born In Campbellford

Mr. Reid, the newly-appointed Deputy Under - Secretary of State for External Affairs, was born in Campbellford, Ontario, January 21, 1905, son of Rev. Alfred John and Morna (Meredith) Reid. His association with Peterborough, even with Campbellford, is rather limited. Nevertheless he is personally remembered in the district.

He attended Model School and Oakwood Collegiate Institute, Toronto. After graduating from the University of Toronto in 1927 with first class honours in political science, he went as a Rhodes Scholar to Oxford University, where he secured first class honours in Modern Greats (Politics, Economics and Philosophy) and the Junior Medley Scholarship in Ecomonics. From 1930 to 1932 he held a Rockefeller Foundation Fellowship in the social sciences. At Oxford he was Secretary of the Oxford Union and President of the Oxford University English Club. His college at Toronto was Trinity and his college at Oxford was Christ Church.

After obtaining Junior Matriculation at Oakwood Collegiate, Mr. Reid worked for two years as a clerk in the Audit Department of the Ontario Government, and secured senior matriculation by attending night school at Harbord and Jarvis Collegiates in Toronto.

From 1932-1938 he was National Secretary, Canadian institute of International Affairs, and attended 1933 and 1936 conferences of the Institute of Pacific Relations and the 1933 conference on British Commonwealth Relations. In 1937-38 he was acting professor of government and political science at Dalhousie University.

Mr. Reid joined the Department of External Affairs in January, 1939, and was posted to Washington as second secretary. He served in Ottawa from 1941 to 1944 in the American and Far Eastern Division and returned to Ottawa as counsellor and Chief of the European and Commonwealth Division of the Department. He was promoted Assistant Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs in April, 1947. From September, 1948, to March, 1949, he was Acting Under-Secretary.

Mr. Reid was adviser to the Canadian delegation at the Chicago Conference on International Civil Aviation in 1944 and at the San Francisco Conference of the United Nations in 1945. In the same year he was alternate Canadian delegate to the Executive Committee of the Preparatory Commission of the United Nations. He was adviser to the Canadian delegation at the United Nations General Assembly in London, January, 1946, and in New York, October, 1946, and alternate representative to the Second Session of the Assembly in New York in 1947. He was Chairman of the fifteen-nation committee on Procedures and Organization of the General Assembly in 1947.

Mr. Reid married Ruth Herriot of Winnipeg in August, 1930. They have two sons. Patrick and Timothy, and a daughter, Morna.

Think Indians Escape Jinx Team To Beat

LOS ANGELES, March 26—(AP)—The odds against a pennant-winner repeating in either major baseball league appear to be getting longer all the time, but Cleveland Indians have so much solid class that they should escape the jinx which has tripped the last five American League champions.

The Indians are an infinitely stronger and more confident outfit than they were in the spring a year ago, and they boast more pitching and reserve strength than when they beat Boston Braves in the world series.

Even Manager Lou Boudreau, who wouldn't predict better than a third-place finish for his club last spring, now says firmly that "we are the club to beat—not the Boston Red Sox."

Bobby Feller, Gene Reardon and Bob Lemon, the "big three" of the mound staff, are going to engage in a serious rivalry for the distinction of winning the most games.

Some observers close to the club predict that Steve Gromek, who pitched a much-needed victory in the world series, will be right up there with the top three. Boudreau intends to carry 10 pitchers.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

Congratulations to Dr. C. McKee and his wife who took part in the big mixed bonspiel up at the Granite Curling Club during this past week. True, they did not win the Dafoe Trophy, but they were runners-up. And when you consider that there were 64 of the best mixed rinks in the province competing, their glory is all the greater.

Gar Braund's rink also deserve credit for their fine showing. They got as far as the semi-finals in one of the trophies, and then were defeated by Dr. Laidley of Lindsay.

Our club was well represented at the presentation of prizes and the tea served at the conclusion of the bonspiel. Among those we noticed were Mr. and Mrs. R. Best, Dr. D. W. and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. N. Hamley, Mrs. A. Janes, Mrs. L. Browne, Mr. and Mrs. S. Lowe, Mrs. H. Hamblin, Mrs. O. M. Steer, Mrs. H. R. Martin, Mrs. H. R. Scott, Mrs. J. Watts, Dr. M. McCartney, Dr. C. McKee, Gar Braund, and yours truly.

Runners-up in the Dafoe Trophy: Mrs. H. R. Scott, Dr. M. McCartney, Mrs. J. Watts, Dr. C. McKee, skip—each received a Hudson Bay blanket.

Each member of Gar Braund's rink received a memento in the form of a miniature curling stone —Mrs. H. R. Martin, H. R. Martin, Mrs. O. M. Steer, Gar Braund, skip.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Winnipeg Blue Bombers ended weeks of speculation Friday night by disclosing that Frank (Butch) Larson, one time All-American football end from University of Minnesota, had been signed to a two-year coaching contract.

The 36-year-old Larson, nominated to the All-American team in 1933 and again in 1934, succeeds Jack West, another American.

Some 80 young hockey players turned out Friday at Guelph under the watchful eye of New York Ranger experts for the first day of the National League club's spring hockey school. The school, first of its kind to be instituted by the Rangers, will continue for eight days at Guelph Memorial Gardens. Manager Frank Boucher, Ranger coach Lynn Patrick, and Neil Colville, coach of the Ranger farm team at New Haven, Conn., were present to look over the players.

At London, Sudbury Wolves defeated the United States 7-3 Friday night in an exhibition hockey game at Harringay Hall. Bill Dimock scored three of the Sudbury goals.

At Toronto, Andy Grant of the Toronto Royal Canadian Club Friday captured the Brereton-Raw trophy of the Granite Club mixed bonspiel, defeating H. F. Gorrie of Hamilton Thistle 15-9 in the final. Grant, skipping the rink for Roy Smith who was called out of town on business, entered the final by winning 15-8 over Stew Graham of Toronto. Gorrie downed T. G. Devett of Bobcaygeon 8-7 in the other semi-final.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Height is a handy thing to have in many sports, but it is by no means a necessity in most. However, tallness is highly important in basketball. And cage fans at the Collegiate at 7.15 tonight will see two of the tallest girl basketeers they're likely ever to see. Irene Aldred and Gloria Jones, Toronto Clifton's tower six-foot-three, which accounts for the hefty lead Clifton's took o'er our Towne Togs in the first LOBA semi-final. Return one here this eve, and Hilly Yudin's squad face a tough task in overcoming that margin. At 8.15 there, St. Kitts—toting a three-point lead in OABA juvenile finals—will find it hard going to maintain that against the PCVS boys.

Intensive competition, desire to win and gate receipts are masking our vision as to the more important functions which sports should serve. This is the opinion of Dr. A. S. Lamb in an article in Health, official magazine of the Health League of Canada. He is director of the Dept. of Physical Education and Athletics at McGill. "It is unsound and unhealthy to think in terms of compensation every time an athlete steps on the field," the Doctor says, adding that he is not opposed to pro sports but feels that amateurs should be amateurs. The rules of the game, he empsasizes, are the rules of life.

* * * * * *

Naught To Worry

We can go along with Dr. Lamb a piece of the way, but believe that he views with unnecessary alarm. It is true that amateur sports in the senior brackets often aren't amateur at all—from a financial viewpoint. But that's the fault of the governing bodies which permit pay in various forms yet insist on calling the sport amateur. And it is only in the sports drawing huge crowds—like senior hockey, baseball or lacrosse—that the players get any cash to speak of. Most amateur sports are just that, of necessity. And even the paid amateurs—pros, too—play for the love of the game as well as for dough. If you can play your favorite game, and also get paid something for doing so, what's wrong with that?

An item from the Brantford paper—Legionnaires may yet play either Grimsby Peach Kings or Brantford Nats—says: "The Nats all claim that Goaler Leeson of the Kings is good on drives from well out and also fast on rebounds. The Nats claim he is a sucker for a slow floater on the ice. He seems to freeze on those easy-to-stop shots. On Monday, Billy LeConte scored the fourth Brantford goal on a puck that a baby could have handled." It might be, but Legion puckists know that you've got to experiment with various types of shots, and lots of 'em, to find any goalie's weakness —provided he has one.

* * * * * *

Peach Kings Win

Last night in Grimsby, the Peach Kings left no doubt as to their superiority, sweeping Brantford Nats into the discard with an 8-2 whisk. It was the seventh game of the hectic serial. The report from the peninsula centre this morning said that Grimsby would now meet either Peterborough or Sarnia in OHA senior "B" semi-finals. As a matter of fact, Orillia is still in the race, Sarnia being slated to play Orillia either at Barrie or Bracebridge tonight in the second of their best-of-three series, Sarnia having won the first. So, at the moment, it is uncertain whether the local Legionnaires will be thrown into another semi-final series against either Grimsby or the Sarnia-Orillia survivor, or if Legion will get a bye into provincial finals. Likely nothing definite on it before Monday.

Had a private showing the other day of a half-hour film: "Hockey Cavalcade" and enjoyed it thoroughly. Aimed at educating young Canads in hockey, it shows oldtime and modern shots of young puckists and NHL-ers in action, along with blackboard talks by big league coaches, scenes on the birth of hockey, the Hall of Fame at Kingston, old relics of the game and modern greats, and in general it would be a fine film for the PMHA, the Church League or the School League here to obtain next autumn when thoughts turn again toward winter sports. This film can be obtained free on a few weeks' notice by writing Lowney's Hockey Cavalcade, 149 Alcorn Ave., Toronto.

CITY CARPETBALL

By defeating the Glengarrys two games in the final set of the series King Billie and his Orange Squeezers climbed to the top of the ladder to win the Hope Cup and first prize whilst the Treasurers must now be satisfied with the Bleasdell Shield and second money. This put the Thistles in third money position, with the Fighting Parsons winning the Elsie Bennet trophy for the highest average out of the prize monies.

Final standings:

Team	W	L	D	Pts	Avg
3	19	10	3	41	5238
1	20	12	0	40	5594
2	18	14	0	36	5591
5	19	11	1	39	5375
7	15	17	0	30	4977
4	13	18	1	27	4830
2	12	18	2	26	4434
9	12	19	1	25	4444
8	11	19	2	24	4635

The standings of the Bill Gracie Memorial Trophy is still in doubt and there has been a slight mix-up in the play of games.

The games to be played are as follows and if any team cannot play they should notify the secretary at once.

W. Morley—M. McMahon vs. A. Sims—S. Cummings the winners to play J. Douglas—P. Gahagan.

D. Bartley—T. Nice vs. A. Robinson—R. Ralston the winners to play the winners of F. Leether—G. Palmer vs. L. Jackson—A. Price.

In the semi-finals F. Parson—A. Bromley meet F. Honer—G. Whitehead.

In the games played this week N 22 ousted No. 19 in two straight 12-2 and 9-5.

No. 14 and to go three games to put out No. 12 with the scores 12-4, 9-2, 8-5. The same happened between No. 2 and No. 20 with results 4-6, 9-6, 11-5 in the other game. No. 22 put out No. 1 in tow straight 7-6, 8-7 in well-fought contests.

If there are any result cards for either of the above games that have not yet been submitted, please turn same in at once.

Normals Take First One In Girls' Loop

In Girls' Basketball League playoffs last evening in the YWCA gym, Normals defeated Lockeys 24-16, while Nurses and Neill's battled to a 29-all tie in the tightest game of the season. It was their second tilt of the three-game senior series, while the Normal-Lockey scrap was the opener of the junior three-game series. Total points count in these playoffs and they will resume next Friday night.

Lockey's were shorthanded but put up a good fight in the neat junior number. Normals had a 13-8 edge in the first half but were only ahead 11-8 in the last part. Play was keen throughout, with Normals clicking on two of eight free tosses, as Lockeys got four in 13. M. Pearse turned in a good offensive game for Normals with M. Bayne also strong, and M. Brown effective on defence. For Lockeys, M. Knox and B. McIlwain were best. The teams

Normals—R. Dougherty, M. Brown 1, M. Pearse 10, R. Lytle, J. Smith 2, V. Jameson, M. Bayne 11.

Lockeys—J. Wilson 2, D. Jackson, B. McIlwaine 7, S. Weese 1, M. Knox 6.

Senior Tilt

The senior tussle was a dandy with Neill's leading Nurses 22-13 at the half but Nurses outscoring them 16-7 the rest of the route. For Neill's, Vilma Floyd was terrific on the attack, aided by Jean Vass, as Joan Dunk and M. Freeman were strong on defence. Anita Davis, Bev Pringle and Shirley Curtis were good for Nurses up front and Agnes Bowler swell on guard. Nurses sank nine of 20 foul shots and Neill's got seven of 16 in a wide-open and exciting battle. Neills carry a three-point lead into the final senior fray. The teams:

Nurses—J. Plunkett 2, B. Pringle 5, S. Curtis 6, B. Deyell 1, L. Coones, J. Deyell, A. Bowler 3, M. Collins, A. Davis 12.

Neill's—D. Callan 2, J. Dunk 4, M. Freeman 2, W. Floyd 11, G. Poast, F. Floyd, J. Vass 8, J. Smedmor 2.

Referees—J. Cooper and H. Smith; timer, S. Ecobichon.

Psutka Goes South For Tiger Tryout

TORONTO, March 26—(CP) — Harry Psutka, Kitchener baseball player who recently finished hockey with the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American League has gone to the Florida spring training camp of Detroit Tigers for a tryout.

Recognized as one of the leading catchers in the Ontario intercounty senior league, Psutka last year turned down an offer to sign with the Detroit American League team. A member of his family said Friday that Psutka had not signed any agreement with the club but went down on an invitation from the club.

Keene Victorious

NORWOOD, March 26—(ENS)—Keene secured their first win in the three-of-five final series in the Rural loop in Norwood arena Wednesday night, the score 4-3, standing in the series Warsaw 2-Keene 1.

It was agreat game. Play started rough in the first few seconds with Evans and McCarthy going to the penalty box for roughing, G. Payne followed in a few minutes, Jim Houle was gated at 17 minutes, E. Payne took advantage and banged home the first goal of the game.

In the second Mackness scored on a nice pass from Kempt, who was given a penalty a few seconds later, while R. Payne was having a two minute session in the penalty box, Pryde scored, then Mackness made it 3-1 for Keene with a few seconds to go in the period.

With Darling of Warsaw in the cooler, Pryde and Mackness combined to make it 4-1. Warsaw really tried hard, E. Payne scored at 12.00, and I. Watts from G. Payne, Heath, Warsaw goalie was kept busy the Keene players found him hard to beat. Dalton and Anderson, were good on defence.

Line up: Keene; Goal, Musgrave; defence, Dalton, Anderson; centre T. McCarthy, wings, J. Houle, B. Thomson, alternates, Whalen, Mackness, Hawkes, Kempt. Doughty, Robertson, Pryde, W. Thompson, B. Kumpf.

Warsaw; Goal, Heath, defence. L. Short, Don Sharpe, centre, S. McQuaig, wings, E. Darling, V. Clemen.ts, alternates, Joe Watts, I. Watts, E. Payne, Doug Evans, Bill Judge, R. Payne, G. Payne.

NOSING OUT UXBRIDGE junior girls' basketball team by four points in the semi-final Cossa round, PCVS juniors earned the right to play in the COSSA finals in Toronto, April 8 and 9. They defeated Uxbridge, 18 to 12, in the school gym Friday night. The girls are, Back Row (Left to Right), Dorothy Woodcock (manager), Donna Howson, Miss M. W. Bell, Mary Craw, Jane Tivy. Two PCVS Girls' Teams Win Way Into COSSA Finals

Girls' junior basketball team of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School made the Cossa finals by defeating Uxbridge juniors, 18 to 12 Friday night. This gave them a four point lead over Uxbridge on the two-game points to count series. Last Friday Uxbridge defeated Peterborough 20 to 18.

Play was as close as the score indicates. It was 6 to 6 at the quarter, 9 to 9 at the half, 13 to 11 for Peterborough in the third. In the last quarter PCVS juniors pulled out well in front with classy teamwork and accurate shooting to outscore the Uxbridge girls 5 to 1.

On a quick passing play from the throw-in Betty Jaquith sank the first two points. Two fouls on Peterborough players failed to help the Uxbridge girls. Helen Willis finally came in range to tie the score. Immediately Peterborough pulled ahead on another basket by Jaquith. Peterborough peppered the Uxbridge basket. Finally on a break Kay Crosby again tied the score for Uxbridge. Play became rough with the close checking resulting in a foul shot for Peterborough. Mary Craw made it good. Uxbridge turned on the pressure to be rewarded by a basket by Helen Willis. Peterborough ended the scoring for the first quarter when Dorothy Penhall sunk a foul shot, Score 6 to 6.

In the second period foul shots were featured. Patricia Nixon guarded the basket as though it was made of gold. She checked well, intercepting passes and starting plays. Betty Jaquith got her next two points after one of Nixon's passes. Mary Craw sunk her second foul shot of the evening. Again and again Uxbridge girls spun the ball on the Peterborough hoop. Near the end of the quarter Helen Willis sank a foul shot and a beautiful one hand shot. Score half time, 9 to 9.

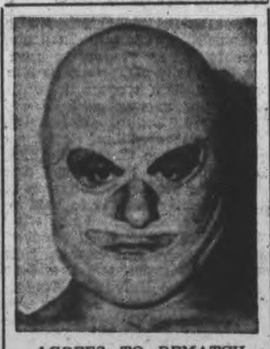
Play remained close in the third quarter which became rugged at times. Several foul shots were missed by both sides. Donna Howson looped one through to put Peterborough out in front. Carol Draper followed up with a basket from close in. Jeanne Pearson retaliated second later with a similar shot. Score third quarter, 13 to 11.

Peterborough team came to life in the fourth. Willis and Pearson for Uxbridge turned in close shots which just failed to register. Penhall, Jaquith and Howson tallied points for Peterborough while Helen Willis got the lone point for Uxbridge. Final score, 18 to 12.

Helen Willis was easily the best player on the floor for either team. She got eight points and was also in there trying for more. She played the whole game. Patricia Nixon starred for the Collegiate team with her defensive play and setting the forwards up for plays. Betty Jaquith led the scorers of PCVS with eight points.

Lineups:

Peterborough—Penhall 2, Draper 2, Howson 4, Jaquith 8, Hutchison, Craw 2, Tivy, Nixon, Magee.



Uxbridge—Crosby 2, Pearson 2, Leask, Androvich, Wills 8, Noble, Kennedy, Westgarth, Rand, Arnold.

Referees were Winnifred Toten, Cobourg and Mae Smith, Port Perry.

Starting the game with a ten-point lead from last Friday PCVS senior girls won their round with Uxbridge senior girls 23 to 11 Friday night in the school gym. Doing so they qualified to play in the COSSA finals in Toronto April 8 and 9.

Both teams only played fair basketball with poor passing and shooting. Even with what seemed to be a lack of co-operation between guards and forwards on the PCVS squad the junior-packed AGREES TO REMATCH—The Masked Marvel, pictured above, who has agreed to a rematch with Earl "Moose" McCready next Wednesday at the Brock Arena. McCready's demand for a new referee and that the match be a no-time-limit affair have also been agreed upon. With any kind of luck this week, the Aurora Farmer would have unmasked the mystery man, whose real name is Lou Reyhneer. The unmasking should take place next Wednesday.

For the semi-final spot on the card the sensational and terrific Ray Villmer will meet the Hollywood badman, Wee Willie Davis. Fans are in for a treat when they see Villmer in action. Pat Flanagan and Mike (Prince) Mahalakis have the opening spot on this all-star mat card.

Cambridge Wins Boat Classic

LONDON, March 26—(AP)—Cambridge raced from behind to win the 95th Oxford-Cambridge boat race by a quarter of a length today before huge crowds lining the circling Thames course.

The victory today was the 51st for Cambridge in the classic event, which has been held off and on since 1829. Oxford has won 43 times, with one dead heat.

The time today was 18 minutes, 57 seconds, one minute and seven seconds slower than the record set by Cambridge last year.

A crowd estimated at close to 1,000,000, ranging from elderly colonels to cap-on-the-head cockneys, lined towpaths and bridges between Putney and Mortlake to watch the two shells flash past.

The route lies over 4½ miles of tricky river, with the wind and the tide uncertain allies.

The crews raced neck and neck for the last quarter of the course after Oxford had snatched an early lead.

Cambridge, a full length behind after the first three or four minutes, made spurt after spurt, but Oxford held on grimly. Then they tired.

Say Villemain Robbed In N.Y. Fight

NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—Three fighting-mad Frenchmen gave out with a Gallic version of "we wuz robbed' today, and they had a lot of people on their side.

Among them apparently is Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, who promised he would investigate the official voting which gave Jake Lamotta, the 2-to-1 favorite, a split-decision victory over Robert Villemain of France Friday night. Obviously angered at the vote, Eagan said immediately after the 12-round bout in Madison Square Garden that "the Commission will look into the matter."

"They gave the decision to the actor and not the fighter," manager Jean Bretonnel said as he tried to soothe the disappointed little Villemain.

A crowd of 11,491 fans hooted and hollered after the decision was announced.

Judge Charley Shortell voted for Villemain, seven to four with one round even. But Judge Harold Barnes and Referee Harry Ebbets cast the decisive ballots for the fading, 29-year-old Lamotta. Barnes scored it 6-5-1 while Ebbets had Lamotta ahead, 6-4 with two even.

The Associated Press gave the fight to Villemain, 7-4-1. Ten of 11 boxing writers polled at the ringside said they had scored the bout in Villemain's favor.

To eliminate glare caused by the brilliant sunshine, many Miami Beach sidewalks are tinted rosy pink.

Marlboros Win OHA Crown Edge Hawks In 4-3 Thriller

NORTH BAY, March 26 (CP)—Toronto Marlboros today hold the All-Ontario hockey championship, but in winning the second game of their best-of-three game title series from North Bay Black Hawks they ran into a brand of opposition which not many expected.

Smarting after a 10-1 licking on Toronto's home ice Wednesday night, the Hawks came through with their best fighting performance of the season before dropping a 4-3 thriller here Friday night to give the Dukes the Ontario crown in two straight games.

After the game Toronto Coach Joe Primeau gave a murmer of relief: "We had trouble all the way and were a trifle lucky taking that one."

The Toronto squad will stand by now to take on the winner of the series between Sydney, NS, Milionaires and Pembroke, Ont., Lumber Kings, in the second round of the Allan Cup fight.

Lanky Johnny McLellan Friday night strengthened his claim to the title of Toronto's best goal-maker. He shot the precision-passing Dukes into a two-goal lead with a double-scoring performance in the first period. The Hawks fought back and got their first goal late in the first period when 38-year-old Willie Meloche snapped the puck past Howie Harvey in the Toronto cage.

In the second session Toronto's Red Johnson slid home a goal from a wild scramble in front of Harry (the Cat) Lalande, North Bay's able netminder.

Jim Dewey, a Sudbury recruit for the Hawks, climaxed a starring role for North Bay by notching their second tally but Ray Hannigan pushed the Marlies two goals up again before the period ended.

The North Bay fighters were rewarded in the final period as they outscored the invaders for the only period in two games. Terry Talentino put a bullet drive behind Harvey on passes from linemates Dave Morland and Ray Maisonneuve. A sustained North Bay offensive up to the final bell could not gain them the tying goal.

With any luck the Hawks might have gained either a tie or even a victory. They were seriously handicapped by the loss of fast-skating Frankie Ringler, who was sick in bed.

Dewey was one of the best men on the ice, playing a brilliant two-way game for the battling Hawks.

Jewish Leaders Received Inspiration In Wilderness

REV. E. R. JAMES

Immediately The Spirit Driveth Jesus Into The Wilderness. St. Mark 1; 12.

The terrible wilderness lay on the east side of Palestine. A Jew standing on hill looking at the rising sun could not help gazing at the wilderness, which spelt to him a weary land. Yet it brought its blessing, separation from the invader from east, and spiritual quietness for those who needed it. It is good to remember that the finest Jewish leaders received their inspiration and revelation of God's character from their stay in the wilderness.

Immediately the Spirit driveth Jesus into the wilderness" that He also following in the footstep of the great prophets may receive strength and inspiration. The Carpenter of Nazareth was privileged as a member of his synagogue to read the Scriptures which were in the care of Rabbi, the professional teacher. His mind was filled with the vision of these ancient prophecies. The Spirit of God was working in His mind and He John the Baptist, who had spent his life in the wilderness. He left His home and went to hear John. His mind responded to the call and He offered Himself for Baptism, though He was sinless, that He might be one of us.

At His Baptism He heard the Voice of the Father saying:—"Thou art My beloved Son, in Whom I am well pleased". This was enough for Him. It was natural that The Spirit should drive Him into the wilderness to think over the whole matter. It was the revelation to Him that He is indeed the Son of God in a mysterious sense of the word.

What has the wilderness to teach? Two deeply moving truths Solitude and silence. In the wilderness man is alone, far from his fellows. Moreover in that wilderness there is an awful silence. The wilderness produces either faith in God or unbelief. The man is alone with God. His trust in Him must deepen. As a modern thinker reminds us "The wilderness produces either faith or fear."

In the wilderness the man discovers God in the silence. In that awful quietness he is able to listen to the STILL SMALL VOICE of God. Like Elijah of old he will be deeply moved. It is God speaking to him—a person—one of a multitude. There comes into his soul the sense of awe. that has enabled man to stand fast in terrible persecutions and be sure God has spoken to him.

I am far from the wilderness. Are you. Do you remember your long sickness, when you were not only alone but you felt the silence. You are still before God and Jesus Christ is taking this opportunity of revealing Himself to. He is bone of your bone and flesh of you flesh. Offer the prayer:—"Lord, open Thou mine ear that

This writer owes a great debt to the long four months illness and quietness. May you also find similar benefits from your stay in the wilderness of illness.

MY SOUL IS ATHIRST FOR GOD:

YEA, EVEN FOR THE LIVING GOD.

No Religious Prejudice In Teaching Of Christ

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

One of the most amazing and revolting incidents of our time is the spectacle of certain people preaching and practicing racial and religious prejudice in the name of Christ. And much of this prejudice has been directed against Jews, of which religion was Jesus himself, and from whom we received, not only the riches of the Old Testament, but the records of the New, and the church itself.

When Paul spoke of the Gospel of Christ, he emphasized its universality. His mission and ministry, he insisted, were to Gentiles as well as to those of his own religion, both to the Greek and to the Jew. It was his boast of the Gospel that it had power to change any man.

Was Paul in this a true interpreter of his Master? Or did Jesus in any way limit His mission, or the benefits and privileges of the grace of God?

There are one or two incidents that viewed lighly, or thoughtlessly, might indicate that. But the whole story of Jesus, the revelation of His spirit, and the general records of the four Gospels, are so much against any such interpretation, that these incidents must be seen in the light of the full evidence.

One of the most puzzling incidents, if we read the record without insight and imagination, is that of Jesus and the Syrophenician woman, in Mark 25-30. This troubled Grecian woman had brought her demented daughter to Jesus, beseeching Him to heal her. Jesus had retired to a house, hoping for privacy and rest, but the woman heard of His being there, and was persistent in her effort to see Him.

Her imoortunity must have impressed Him, but evidently to test her faith He put in her way stumbling blocks that seemed harsh, and even cruel. Voicing the common religious and racial prejudice, He said, in effect, "Do you ask this of Me, a Jew? It is not meet to take the children's bread and give it unto dogs." But He was voicing, not His own thought, but the sort of thing that racial and religious prejudice thinks and says, for He was about to bless the woman and her daughter.

Had we been there, we would undoubtedly have seen the look in His eye, and observed the manner that belied the seeming harshness of His words. And He drew from the woman the reply that pleased Him. Dogs must be fed. Human need transcends prejudices.

So the incident, and the healing, actually rebuked those who would have turned the woman away. There is no place for racial or religious preiudice in any phase of Christ or His Gospel.

Historic Church Recalls Pioneers Of Northwest

THE PAS, Man., March 26 — (CP)—There's a little white building on the banks of the Saskatchewan River here crammed with enough historical significance to more than satisfy any student of Manitoba's northern past.

This undistinguished - looking building—Christ Church—is actually one of the oldest established churches in the entire province. Its first minister was a full-blooded Indian who also was the first Cree convert to Christianity in the immense Anglican diocese of Rupert's Land.

Its first baptismal service was performed by a clergyman who had been the sweetheart of the world's first nursing sister. Its carved pews, pulpits and other interior fittings were built by Englishmen engaged in northern Manitoba's first "mercy" mission more than 100 years ago.

On the site of the little church have camped such famous men of Canadian history as John Kelsey, first white man to see the buffalo, and Pierre de la Verendrye, adventurous Frenchman who establisher one of his forts there in 1741.

The actual history of the church began, however, in 1840. Rev. Henry Budd, a Cree Indian, and at that time an unordained but zealous churchman, formed a mission on the spot which now is the foot of The Pas' main thoroughfare.

The Pas was then Cumberland House, Hudson's Bay Company trading post and centre of a thriving settlement whose commercial activity was widespread

Indian Congregation

At first Mr. Budd, who was trained by Rev. John West, first Anglican missionary to the Red River Valley, had a congregation of only three Indian families. But his flock increased.

In 1842, Rev. John Smithurst of Red River, once betrothed to Florence Nightingale, visited the mission and baptized 38 adults and 49 children, Mr. Budd's first converts.

Rev. James Hunter, later Archdeacon Hunter, reached the growing mission in 1844, and Mr. Budd stayed on as his assistant. The Indian was ordained some years later and returned to the mission as its rector.

Archdeacon Hunter's wife, Anne, was the first white woman to make her home in the area. She died in 1847 and was buried in a vault under the church. The original plaque over her grave hangs on the wall of the new church.

Archdeacon Hunter, who translated the prayer book into Cree, later was rector of St. Andrew's Church in the old Red River Settlement.

A party under Sir John Richardson which was spending the winter at. The Pas waiting for the ice to go out so it could search for the missing Sir John Franklin and his party of Arctic explorers, found time heavy on its hands.

The English making up the party jumped at the chance to help to build the first Christ Church, which was officially opened in 1850. A new church replaced it in 1896. Twenty different clergymen have officiated at the church during its 100-years history, three of them full blooded Indians.

Maori Cult

WHANGAREI, N.Z., March 26—(CP)—A strange new Maori cult is thriving in a remote corner of the Bay of Islands in the far north of New Zealand.

In an unproductive scrub-covered wilderness 10 miles from the nearest township, 300 Maoris have set up a communal religious settlement which aims at eliminating vice and encouraging the virtues.

Maoris who became members of the settlement must pledge themselves to refrain from gambling, swearing, drinking, fighting playing football or going to cinemas. Smoking and dancing are allowed, but the pursuits banned represent a truly remarkable list for the Maori people, including as they do several of the modern Maori's favorite pastimes.

The sect, formally known as the Absolute Maori Established Church of Aotearoa, Waipounama and Wharekauri, was established only two years ago but already it has made remarkable progress. It was started by a religious leader, Rapana, who broke away from a Maori sect, the Ratana Church and attracted adherents from parts of New Zealand as well as the far north.

Already a large area has been laid down in crops which are worked on a communal basis. At first the people lived in ramshackle palm leaf huts, but these are being replaced with cottages A central block housing the church, a recreation hall, dining-rooms and kitchens has been built by the community and a park laid out around it.

The sect has established branch churches in four other settlements in the north and seems likely to spread further. After two years of voluntary living according to the rules, the Maoris seem happy and enthusiastic about their new way of life. They are convinced that the movement will grow to embrace a large proportion of the race.

VOL. XCVIII, No. 73 PRICE FIVE CENTS SATURDAY, MARCH 26, 1949

FIRST SAP IS SWEET, especially when tasted for the first time. The above young lady, Miss Hazel Paull, found a Canadian sugar bush very interesting. She arrived from England a few months ago and was intrigued with the operation of syrup-making and the spring beauty of the woods. Viewing operations she readily understood why syrup this year is selling from a top price of $6 a gallon. This is the current price asked in Brantford district.

Sign of Maple Means Canada But What About the Bush?

By HAZEL PAULL

Wherever the sign of the maple leaf appears in Britain it is recognized as symbol of Canada. Before I arrived in this country four months ago I thought I knew all there was to know about the maple—it was a tree which grew in Canada as profusely as the oak in England—and was therefore, somewhat logically used as a national emblem. Never had I tasted maple sap and am still looking forward to my first taste of the syrup and sugar.

When general conversation turned to the various theories and minor controversies concerning the making of maple syrup as farmers started work in the sugar bushes a day or two ago, I found I had not been as quick to become familiar with things Canadian as I imagined.

Started Out for the Bush

In an attempt to hide my ignorance, I set off on a visit to the country, to find out for myself just what was a spile and what kind of a "bush" it could be that had branches sturdy enough to tap. I had always understood a maple to be a tree, not a bush, but when I was told I would find Richard Earle, a Cavan farmer, not only at work at his bush, but ready to explain the process, I dared not risk causing further exasperation by my ignorance and so set off in search of a "bush."

"Keep walking through this field and you'll see the bush in the middle of the next one" said a helpful passer by. "All I can see is that copse" said I, "is it somewhere near there?"

Never before did anyone give me such a quizzical look and I have since become fully aware of the wisdom of the old proverb Ignorance is Bliss. It was not until I arrived at the 35 acres of trees that I realised the comical figure I had cut.

Like most English children, I learnt at school about the rubber tapping in Malaya but had not expected to see sap flowing so freely in this country. Trees which had been bored only a couple of hours before my visit had already yielded half a gallon of sap. A team of horses was drawing a sledge loaded with buckets and three men just started the two-day operation of boring 600 trees.

Weather no Difference

I questioned Mr. Earle about the theory I had heard advocated that cold nights followed by warm days were necessary for an abundant yield but he regarded that as just a superstition. "I've known it to freeze at night and rise to a high temperature in the day during very poor seasons" he said and he also recalls a good season with early spring weather and warm nights. He says it all depends on the quality of the crops at last year's harvest. "It is last year's sap which is now rising from the ground," he declared although some people maintain the sap drops in the spring after spending the winter at the top of the tree. Mr. Earle figures he knows as much as any man about the subject. He has been making syrup for 40 years and "you can learn these things just by being so close to nature" he says.

Piano Recital Highlight Of Concert Series

By ROBERTSON DAVIES.

The highlight of the 1948-49 series of the Community Concert Association was the pianoforte recital given by Menahem Pressler on Friday night. By the time he had finished Mozart's D minor Fantasia, which was the first number on his program, it was clear that he was a great pianist, possessed of fire, sensibility and poetic understanding. Mr. Pressler then proceeded to thrust home this impression by a magnificent performance of the immensely difficult Variations on a Theme of Paganini, by Brahms. In this, the distinction between the pianist we call "fine" and the pianist we call "great" was at all times apparent; it was not his mastery of the technical difficulties which impressed; it was his mastery of the inner meaning of the music, and his ability to keep that meaning always clearly before his hearers.

One of the advantages of the Concert Association system is that it sometimes makes it possible for us to hear a great concert performer before he has achieved a world reputation, and a scale of fees which puts him outside the Peterborough budget. Unless something unforseen happens to him, Menahem Pressler will be, in ten years, one of the world's great pianists. And Peterborough has heard him as he is at the age of twenty, with all his first youthful energy. He will improve, of course, but young artists lose, in the course of perfecting their art, a freshness and a youthful glory which nothing can recapture. The ripening which comes with age is a wonderful enrichment, but the bloom of youth and the exultation of a young artist in his power is something which is as precious as it is short-lived.

If it were necessary to find a single adjective to describe Menahem Pressler's playing the only word which would serve would be "poetic." In the Chopin selections and in the four short pieces by Debussy he showed us new beauties in every phase of the familiar music. And yet, in the most delicate passages there was no hint of anything that was weak or over-refined; his playing was marked at all times by masculinity and clarity of meaning. In the Liszt Rhapsody which ended the scheduled part of the program he showed a fine bravura style and that sense of musical showmanship —but always controlled and always in perfect taste — without which no pianist can hope to reach the heights.

The Peterborough audience must be complimented on the generous manner in which it rose to a great occasion. Fine artists need fine audiences. Peterborough did not fail the finest pianist to play here since Malcuzynski.

County Now Owns 3,285 Acres Of Forest

Peterborough County now officially owns the County Forest Area, located 10 miles north of Norwood in Dummer and Belmont Townships. The deed for the original 3,285 acres arrived from the provincial government on Friday.

Since that time purchases of adjoining lots of land have boosted the size of the area to 4,600 acres.

The original parcel of land was leased from the Crown for 10 years on condition that the county make certain improvements each year. It is believed that this is one of the few counties that has been able to obtain outright ownership of a Forest Area; the others mainly hold them on a lease-basis.

SAP'S RUNNIN', and once more the sound of early spring birds is disturbed in Canadian sugar bush lots by ringing blows of tapping mallets. On the farm of Richard Earle, Cavan township, tapping operations started on Thursday. It is an ideal year for working due to an absence of snow in the woods but lack of frost may make a short run of sap. In the Left photo, Don Chambo, Left, pauses with a load of buckets to talk to Norman Earle. In the Right photo veteran syrup maker Richard Earle demonstrates how the maple tree is bored for tapping. He will not hang another bucket as close to the one shown, but it is common for many large trees to be tapped in two places, sometimes three.

City's Industry, Business Unite For First Trade Fair

Plans for Peterborough's first Trade Fair, to be held in the Armouries from April 26 to 30 under sponsorship of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club, are now well advanced, James M. Fraser, secretary of the committee in charge, said on Friday. Aim of the fair is to acquaint the citizens with what is being made and sold in Peterborough and to enable the industries and business concerns of the city to show the 65,000 people in the Peterborough trading area their products.

The fair will be officially opened on the night of Tuesday, April 26, at 7.30 by His Worship Mayor M. J. Swanston, and it will be open every afternoon and evening during the week.

Booth Booked

Many booths have already been booked by various industries and retail outlets, Mr. Fraser said, but there are still quite a few left. The booths will be of standard size, 10 feet by 12 feet, and eleven of them will be ranged along the north wall of the Armouries, with the rest in four sections in the middle.

Various entertainment features are also being lined up, further announcement on which will be made later. Among exhibits already assured will be a fish and game booth sponsored by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Arrangements for Children

The committee is arranging to have children from the various schools of the city taken to the fair on different days in buses.

The Manufactureres' Committee of the City Council, of which Ald. R. Raine is chairman, is planning to hold a civic reception in the Empress Hotel in honor of the exhibitors and special guests at the fair, who are expected, to include a group of newspapermen from Toronto, The Ontario Minister of Planning and Development, Col. Welsh, is also to be invited.

Chairman of the committee in charge of plans for the fair is ex-mayor William Ovens.

Name J. H. Miles CCF Candidate Federal Contest

J. H. Miles received the federal nomination of the C.C.F. Thursday night in a contest with Maurice E. Ketcheson.

They were proposed for the party honor last February, but the actual decision was left until this week. Mr. Walter Dinesen presided.

The nomination of Mr. Miles was made unanimous in a motion by Mr. Ketcheson.

John Howard Miles was born in Dummer township. His father was John R. Miles, postmaster at Clarina many years, and his mother was Ellen Crowe. In his boyhood he worked on the family farm and in the general store and post office conducted by his father.

Mr. Miles managed a general store in Saskatchewan, then returned to Peterborough and to the auctioneering business in which he has been engaged 25 years. His experience has been wide in the city and rural district of Peterborough. He was one of the first C.C.F. workers in Peterborough, has served on the executive and has been delegate to the Ontario C.C.F. conventions five times.

Mrs. Miles is also an ardent C. C.F. advocate. They have six daughters.

Refund Cheques To Be Mailed To Employers

Wage earners who have become non-taxable as a result of increased exemptions announced in the Federal budget on Tuesday will receive their refunds on taxes paid back to January 1, 1949, earlier than will those who continue taxable though at lower rates. This is the purport of a notice sent out to all employers by Hon. Dr. J. J. McCann, minister of national revenue.

The minister announced that a Special T.4 information return forms will be delivered to employers with the new T.D. 1 forms for this purpose. These are to be completed as soon as possible, the announcement said, and mailed or delivered to the nearest District Income Tax Office.

Employees who continue to be taxable under the tax reduction announced in the budget will not get their refunds until after they file their 1949 tax returns.

2 Officials Step Down

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP) —The two United States officials who have played prominent roles in the cold war with Russia stepped down Friday from key positions in the Truman administration. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, 53, resigned as United States envoy to Moscow, to return to the army. Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, 73, chief-of-staff to the late President Roosevelt and to President Truman, was detached from that White House assignment. He will devote his time to writing his memoirs.

County Pays 97 Bounties To Fox Hunters

Another 97 fox bounties were paid out by the county clerk and treasurer this week bringing the total to well over 1,000 since January 1.

Sampson Taylor of Peterborough and Hallis Taylor of Curve Lake were the two top marksmen with 15 pelts apiece. George Coppaway of Curve Lake Reserve was next with 12. This steady source of income to alert hunters will be ended on March 31 which is the date the county council will cease paying the bounties.

Adjacent counties suspended the payment of bounties on February 28 and members of Peterborough County Council decided at their March session that it would not be advisable to continue payment on pelts under these circumstances.

Those who received bounties this week were: Charles Gordanier, Bonarlaw, three trapped in Asphodel; Ben Irwin, Harvey, four shot in Harvey; Harold Kennedy, Havelock, four shot in Belmont; Kenneth Esson, Otonabee, one shot in Otonabee; Keith Fawcett, Harvey, two shot in Harvey; Vincent, Dunford, Dummer, one trapped in Douro; Percy Succee, one shot in Otonabee; Kenneth Patterson, Asphodel, one shot in Asphodel; A. W. Northey, Harvey, two trapped and five shot in Harvey; D. Windover, Cavendish, one shot in Cavendish; Harold Dunk, Peterborough, one shot in Douro; William D. Henderson, Peterborough, one shot in Otonabee; Hugh Dunford, one shot in Otonabee; Ralph Cook, Belmont, two shot in Belmont; William Ireland, Harvey, one shot and one trapped in Harvey; Paul Howran, Ennismore, one shot in Ennismore; John Hull, Harvey, four trapped in Harvey; Hallis Taylor, Curve Lake, 15 shot in Ennismore; Mark Lonsberry, Dummer, two trapped and five shot in Dummer and Douro; John Moore, Dummer, three shot in Dummer; Sampson Taylor, Peterborough, 15 shot in Harvey, Douro and Otonabee; Marcus Quackenbush, Dummer, one shot in Dummer; Maurice Wood, North Monaghan, six shot in Douro; Bernard McMahon, Peterborough, one shot in Otonabee; William Wellman, Hastings, one shot in Asphodel; George Coppaway, Curve Lake Reserve, 12 shot in Smith; and J. Learn Basic Principles In Correct Use of Nails

While no attempt to provide complete technical data on the correct use of nails for specific jobs, the following general observations provide a good "refresher" on some of the basic principles governing their use.

Harder woods hold nails better than softer woods, although they are more difficult to nail and have a greater tendency to split. Wood that is green or not thoroughly dry may lose most of its nail-holding power when it dries after the nails are driven. This is one of the reasons why green wood is not recommended for building construction. The resistance to withdrawal is higher when nails are driven into the side grain than when driven into the end grain of the wood, and therefore side grain nailing is always to be preferred.

The common wire nail has attained by far the widest use of the many types developed. By varying the number and size, the kind of point, and the type of surface, the common nail can be adapted to cover a wide range both of every-day and of exacting uses.

Facts on Holding Power

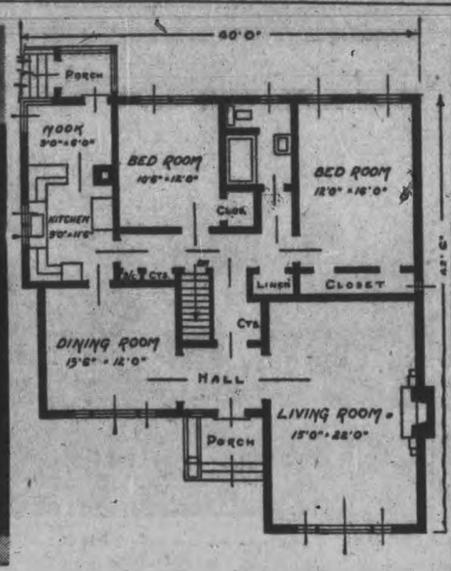
The resistance to withdrawal of common nails increases directly with the depth to which driven and increases almost directly with the diameter or surface area; that is, if the diameter of a common nail is doubled the holding power is doubled, provided, of course, that splitting of wood does not occur. The resistance of nails to side loads (lateral resistance) increases nearly 1½ times as fast as the diameter; that is, if the diameter of a common nail is doubled, the lateral resistance is nearly three times as great. The development of the maximum lateral resistance of a nail, requires a depth penetration into the member receiving the point of from not less than one-half the length of the nail for dense hardwoods to two-thirds the length of the nail for the softer woods.

The softer woods are often preferred for construction purposes because of their greater ease in nailing—the lack of nail-holding power being compensated for by the use of additional or larger nails. For example, in tests of diagonally sheathed panels an increase of about 40 per cent in strength (resistance to racking forces) was obtained by nailing with three rather than two nails at each stud crossing. In tests of wall panels made of soft pine, a 30 per cent increase in stiffness and 40 per cent increase in strength was obtained with horizontal sheathing by a small increase in nail size.

Cement-Coated Nails

The nail-holding power of wood can be increased by changes in the surface condition of the nail. One of the common methods of surface treatment is the so-called "cement coating", which, if properly applied, may double the resistance to withdrawal in the softer woods, the increase dropping off for the denser woods, like hard maple, birch or oak, to no advantage over the plain nail. All cement-coated nails are not subjected to the same treatment, so that nails may sometimes be obtained that will show only a slight initial advantage over the plain nail. The increase in holding power of cement-coated nails is not permanent, dropping off about one-half after a month or so for the softer woods. Because boxes are usually built for short-time service, cement-coated nails have been used extensively in their construction.

Blunt Points Stop Splitting



Sometimes in nailing it is found that the wood splits with the ordinary sharp-pointed nail. One way of preventing splitting is to use nails of smaller diameter, increasing the number, if necessary, to give the required strength. For special purposes, holes may be bored that are of slightly smaller diameter than that of the nail to be used.

When used under conditions favorable to corrosion, a nail of special material or coating is desirable. One of the most common types is the zinc-coated nail. For the most effective holding, an even uniform coating is essential.

Where Nails Won't Do

For many types of fastening, of course, the ordinary nail or even the screw is of little value. In fact it is an easy matter to mutilate walls and to find that the holding power of the nail is in reverse ratio to the damage done. For such jobs fixing plugs especially designed for the purpose are essential. They are available for use in all types of materials—plaster, masonry, etc., and if a reliable make is selected, they can be trusted to do a thoroughly satisfactory job.

HOUSE No. 59—Every feature of this house, whether inside or outside, seems to be just right. In spite of the fact that all of the rooms have their attractions, we remember best our first glimpse of the kitchen and breakfast room. No mere floor plan can begin to do justice for this part of the house! Don't miss the master bedroom with its private bathroom and "husband and wife" closets. Actually closet space throughout the house is plentiful. The covered area connecting the house with the garage is a treat. Notice the almost-square living-room is unusually private, and has an open fireplace in the centre of the wall opposite the hall. Turning to the dining-room, we find it is 14' square and has twin built-in corner cupboards for china. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

May Relax Barriers

WASHINGTON, March 26 — (AP). — The United States State Department shied away from making an announcement Friday that it is easing restrictions on trade with Yugoslavia, but informed officials said such action is being taken. Some officials said the US has definitely decided to relax the barriers in an effort to [illegible] Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and Moscow.

May Visit Ottawa

PARIS, March 26 (Reuters). — Robert Schuman, French Foreign Minister, probably will visit Ottawa during his stay in North America for the signing of the Atlantic Pact at Washington on April 4, it was learned Friday night.

Condemn Russia

LAKE SUCCESS, NY., March 26 — (CP). — Four Western Powers Friday condemned Russia for obstructing majority plans for international control of atomic energy, but then pledged again to study the Russian proposals. Canada, Britain, the United States and France made sharp charges of "misrepresentation" against Jakob Malik of Russia and Vassily Tarasenko of the Ukraine, in the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission.

Shakespeare May Play In Dominion

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, March 26 (CP) - The Shakespeare Festival Company of Stratford-on-Avon may play before Canadian and American theatre audiences next autumn.

The theatre guild and the management of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre worked out tentative plans for the tour at a meeting here. It is subject to approval of the Guild's Board and of the management of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, says Lawrence Langner, co-administrator of the Guild.

The plans calls for a company of 45 players to arrive on this continent late in September. The tour would start with four weeks in Canada, followed by 10 weeks in the United States.

Newfoundland Tone Poem

"Terra Nova," a tone poem based in part on the folk tunes of Newfoundland fishermen, will be given its first performance by the Philharmonic - Symphony Orchestra in a concert at Carnegie Hall April 2. Leopold Stokowski will conduct the orchestra in this rendition of the poem by the Theodore Fitch. It is being played in commemoration of the union of Newfoundland and Canada which comes into effect March 31. Fitch says some of the themes are based on folk tunes he collected among fishermen during a nine-week trip through Newfoundland and Labrador in 1940.

NEWFOUNDLAND WASHOUT— Traffic on the Newfoundland Railway, only trans-island land link, was cut off for 10 days when the bridge at Port Blandford was demolished by surging river ice. The bridge spanned the South River about 140 miles northwest of St. John's. Passengers and mail were taken across the river in boats until a temporary span was erected.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Maple Leafs scored one of the most sensational upsets of Stanley Cup playoff history 13 years ago tonight. Trailing Boston Bruins by four goals on the round, Leafs took advantage of a misconduct penalty to Eddie Shore to score six goals in less than 12 minutes and take the game 8-3 and the round 8-6. They eliminated New York Americans in a later series but lost in the finals to Detroit Red Wings.

MORE ABOUT—

Tributes

The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, minister of Trinity Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. James Semple of George St. United Church, and members of the choir with Miss Mabel Clarry at the organ.

One of the tributary recollections of Rev. Dr. Gordon was in the sentiment and appreciation of the United Church. "The Christian faith was deeply engrained in the mind and heart of Mr. Gordon. He presented the Church Union Bill and guided it through parliament in 1924 and 1925, and thereby helped to make possible the very existence of the United Church in Canada."

Practical Interest

As further evidence of Mr. Gordon's practical interest in his church, Rev. Dr. Gordon mentioned the opening of the new United Church last November in the south end of the city. "It was his gift of property that made that church possible."

And with that was "the kindly service he had constantly rendered across the years in a large spirit of tolerance." In that reference, Dr. Gordon placed a gentle emphasis upon one of the facets of the character of G. N. Gordon that appealed so widely outside his own communion, and broadened his views and his attitudes in the representation of civic matters that were entrusted to him.

"Mr. Gordon's thoughtfulness of others, his kindliness, his love of children, his keen interest in people as people, these were qualities which led to his fine service in whatever sphere of activity that opened to him. He was possessed of a deep faith in Canada, in Peterborough, in people, and in the tomorrow of this country. We are grateful for that life, and with our gratitude is a sorrow equally deep that will be felt in this church, and in this community, by the multitude of his friends and acquaintances."

Honorary Pallbearers

The honorary pallbearers were: Judge Sheldon L. Smoke, Judge J. A. McKibbon, Lindsay; Judge D. C. Coleman, Whitby; Mayor M. J Swanston, Magistrate W. R. Philp, F. D. Kerr, K. C., Col. John A. Dewart, T. J. Carley, K. C., R. M. Glover, James Hamilton, John C. M. German, Cobourg, Sheriff John A. Harstone, W. F. Huycke, K.C., James Dutton, R. J. Kidd.

The active bearers were A. L. Elliott, K.C.; Ralph Standish, Dr. Ralph C. Honey, Frank H. Jobbitt, Eric Westbye, Alan H. Heideman.

Members of the family of the late Mr. Gordon present were: his son, Wilmot B. Gordon; his sister, Miss Edith Grace Gordon, and brother, Ralph W. Gordon, Toronto; and cousins, Clarence and Clayton Dudley, Campbellford.

Among those present at the church service were, attending in groups members of the city council and of the civic departments; members of the Local Council of Women; members of the Peterborough Law Association; and Mr. A. H. Lewis, representing the Hon Louis St. Laurent; Senator J. J. Duffus, representing Hon. Wishart McL. Robertson, leader of the government in the Senate; Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson, of St. John's Church; Rev. F. W. Craik of St. James Church; Rev. M. J. Aiken of St. Andrew's Church; Major and Mrs. C. Watt, Peterborough, and Lt. Col. Beautiful Flowers

Some of the many floral tributes were expressive in their beauty and scope of remembrance of the breadth of Mr. Gordon's attachments, including the following as a cross-section of that joint message of farewell: Peterborough Law Association; Liberal Association, City Council, Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Legion, Curve Lake Sunday School, the Silver Moon Cafe, Peterborough Real Estate Board, Woodmen of the World, Peterborough Liberal Women's Association, Sons of Scotland, Quan Lee and Lee Kam, Trinity Church, Canadian Order of Foresters, Hugh Wong, Peterborough Lodge, IOOF, Kinsmen Club, Churchill Restaurant, Official Guardian and Accounting Offices.

One of the men from out of town was Thomas Mikel of Consecon, who was one of the senior boys in the school which Mr. Gordon taught for a year, after completing his high school studies.

The prayers in the chapel at Little Lake Cemetery were offered by Rev. Dr. Semple and Rev. Dr. Gordon. The funeral procession was led by the police detachments who formed in parallel lines at the main gate of the cemetery. As the hearse approached them they presented a final salute to 'G.N.' as they had known him affectionately through the years.

Plan Self-Improvement

NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—Editor and Publisher said Friday a panel of newspaper men and educationists had approved tentative proposals for a study of the "self-improvement possibilities" of American newspapers. Goal of the survey, the trade publication said, would be to help newspaper men turn out better newspapers and at the same time guide the general public to a better understanding of them.

Bestows Knighthood

LONDON, March 26 (AP). — The King Friday bestowed a Knighthood on the Scottish surgeon who operated on him earlier this month. In a simple ceremony in Buckingham Palace, the King knighted James Rognvald Learmonth. Sir James cut a nerve near the base of the spine to improve circulation in the King's left leg on March 12.

Watch Export Trade

WINGHAM, March 26 (CP). — Canada's economic future depends largely on expansion of her export trade, Health Minister Paul Martin told the Liberal nomination meeting of North Huron here Friday night. Robert S. Hetherington was nominated to contest the riding in the next Federal election. Present member is L. E. Cardiff, Progressive-Conservative.

Gauntlet Lost Seven Years, But Flier Safe

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, March 26 —(CP)— Another mission from the great war of 1939-45 has just been completed. In personnel, it involved a German who was a Russian prisoner of war, an American who was a flyer of the Canadian Red Cross, R.C.A.F. headquarters and the American Embassy in Ottawa

Its crux was an airman's gauntlet that was lost for seven years

In January, the Red Cross in London received a parcel from one Herman Hohn, a German living in Munich, containing a gauntlet he had picked up on the coast of Holland in late October, 1942. It held the name Sgt. J. A. Potts and a regimental number of the R.C.A.F.

A plane, thought to be British, had crashed in the sea the night before. Hohn assumed the owner was lost.

The R.C.A.F. found that Potts had never been in a wreck, had in fact finally transferred to the U.S.A.A.U. and is still alive. It got in touch with Potts

Explanation

An amazed Potts wrote back. He'd been asked to sub for a sick air gunner Oct. 27, 1942, in a Wellington bomber attack on Emden, he recalled. They had done the job, been searchlighted and flakked and come out without a scratch. Enroute home, he took off his gloves and watched for enemy planes. After a brush with a plane he noticed that his gauntlets were missing, apparently hurled out of the turret or blown out by the wind through the partly - removed plastic around the guns.

Mr. Hohn's crashed aircraft, said Potts, must have been German.

He got his gauntlet back through the U.S. Embassy. He said he would write Hohn and thank him personally.

Buffalo horns have annual growth rings, like trees.

DURNAN SHUTS DOOR— Montreal's Bill Durnan saw plenty of action March 24 when Canadiens tied their Stanley Cup semi-final series with Detroit Red Wings in the Motor City at a game each on a 4-3 overtime victory. Goalie Durnan is shown trapping a close-in shot off the stick of Detroit's Gordie Howe (facing camera) who picked up Jim McFadden's (16) rebound. Canadiens' Maurice (Rocket) Richard is shown on the extreme left.

How to R and Not to R; Musical Errurr

Mr. G. H. Heath-Gracie, Mus. Bac., FRCO, this year's adjudicator at the Kiwanis Musical Festival, has definite opinions about the letter R as it is spoken and sung, or should be spoken and sung. It is not surprising that he is interested in R, since it is one of the more difficult consonants for Englishmen, and in Derby Cathedral he has to teach English boy choristers how to sing it.

His own spoken R is a kind of missing cipher, but his singing R is there. But not the way most Canadians sing their R.

"You know, you people have a Gloucestershire R, a very hard one", he remarked to the Examiner after his Friday evening auditions were ended and he had for the second time in the week publicly criticized the R's of contestants. He does not quarrel with the way Ontario people say R in their speech, and he had heard it in Sudbury and Toronto, as well as in Peterborough. He believes that Canadians have as much right to say "gurrl" as Mayfair has to say "gel". But it does matter how R is sung.

'Your R is the only thing in Canadian speech that can't be sung as spoken", Mr. Heath-Gracie said.

And how should the R be sung?

Which R?

Mr. Heath-Gracie demonstrated, sitting in a Murray Street church pew, and the Examiner's representative tried to imitate the sound, sitting in the same pew. The vocalizing went something like this: Ahr, Ehr, Ah, and up and down and around about. A few onlookers, hearing the sounds, fled.

There are three R's, according to Mr. Heath-Gracie. He demonstrates by saying and singing the word "heart". No. 1 R (the Canadian-Gloucestershire is "harrt". No. 2 R, the one that all singers should use, is "hart" with the R amost but not quite missing, just touched on as a point between the sustained a and the short t. No. 3 R is certain Engishmen's spoken R; "haht". That is not good for singing either, because it is missing. He did not demonstrate a Scotch or French rolling R.

Singers' Standard English

As a trainer of English choirs Mr. Heath-Gracie has had to battle against No. 1 R in country lads, and No. 3 R in educated adults. The adjudicator is not critical of Canadian speech. He finds it interesting. It is the enunciation in singing in which he pounces.

He says that properly-trained good singers anywhere should have no discernible accent, that all should enunciate and pronounce in the same way. There should be no hard R's any more than English singers should sing "Holy Ghost" as "Hehly Ghest". As good examples of the universal (or standard) singing enunciation, he cited English Cathedral choirs, the choir of St. John the Divine in New York, and the choir of St. Simon's in Toronto. Their enunciation is indistinguishable from each other's, Mr. Heath-Gracie claimed.

Should Have Hall

This English musician thinks the standards of the Peterborough festival have been high. He thinks that the Murray Street church auditorium has been very good acoustically, but deplores that in a city of this size there is no proper concert hall. "A city of this size should have one. Music might develop enormously".

He has heard 1,500 contestants in the five and a half days of the Festival. "How do you stand the pace," he was asked. "My dear fellow, you just go straight on."

He is delighted with the city socially, enchanted with the kindness and hospitality which he says he has met on all sides. He is proudly wearing a Kiwanian button, given him the other day when the Peterborough club made him an honorary member.

He has one bon mot: "Until I heard your town clock chime, I thought that bedroom china had ceased to exist in Canada". This witticism has a sort of English chime, and the Examiner's representative had no qualms at all about accepting Mr. Heath-Gracie's dare to repeal it in point.

Bowknots and ruching bedeck gloves.

Black sandals air their lacy look.

Handbags hook up for a double-take.

The Victorian influence on Easter fashions is seen in the ensemble modeled above, in the close-ups of accessories described at left. The gray woolen 'butterfly bolero' of the ensemble gets its name from its full, wing-like slit sleeves. Bolero is lined to match the gray and white print dress of silk surah.

Victorian Lady Sets Style Fashion's Idol for Easter

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK— (NEA) —Fashion's idol this Easter is the Victorian lady.

Her influence on finery will be seen in gloves with ruching-ringed thumbs bedecked with bowknots, in the lacy look of shoes and invisible stockings, and in the last feminine word in handbag designs.

More evidence is in the prevalence of the Victorian cape, which bows back as a pelerine, a jib jacket, or a bolero with slit sleeves spreading over arms like butterfly wings.

Designer Paul Parnes interprets the latter with gray woollen, and lines the snug bodice and flyaway sleeves of this "butterfly bolero" with surah silk, matched to the fabric of a gray and white print dress.

Gloves of double-woven cotton, designed to put on a Victorian show of hands, bring back the frills of contrast bows and ruching, eyeleted thumbs, pleated cuffs and scalloped doo-dads.

Handbags designed by Dofan for a double-take, will be looked at twice this Easter because twins are hooked up into one style. One bag is white calf, the other is navy.

Shoes with an airy look owe their delicately interlaced allure to a strap here, a strap there. Black patent leather sandals are teamed with almost invisible nylon stockings.

These are almost as exactingly harmonized to costume colors as face powder is to skin tones. Sheer-as-vapor nylons, Paris-styled by Schiaparelli, are designed to enhance the view seen through the straps of a shoe. To keep stocking welts from spoiling the show, sole, heel and toe reinforcements are almost invisible.

Joining of Minds Required In Duo Singing

Many youthful singers were heard on Friday night as the third annual Peterborough Kiwanis Club Music Festival wound up its fifth day of competitions in Murray Street Baptist Church. They were both boys and girls, in either solos or duets and all received many bits of constructive advice from the adjudicator, G. H. Heath-Gracie, who at the same time extended much praise to those who were adjudged the winners in their respective classes.

First class of the evening was Class 46, mezzo-soprano, under 21 years, entrants singing "Shepherd's Cradle Song" by Somervell. Joy Nesbitt of Lindsay was the winner of this class, with 89 marks, Miss K. Huston, also of Lindsay, coming second with 88, and Miss Eleanor Roche of Port Hope third with 86.

The adjudicator said Miss Nesbitt had "a well developed voice" and her interpretation had "a spiritual content of really convincing intensity." He urged her to still further improve her diction and said her voice was "definitely promising." Miss Huston, he said, gave "a sincere, descriptive interpretation" of the song and had good tone. Miss Roche's singing showed good "emotional content."

Class 88, girls' duet, under 21 years, was won by Joy and Joan Westaway, of Cameron, with 86 marks, while second place went to Joy Nesbitt and Barbara Chase of Lindsay, with 85, and third place to the Misses K. Huston and R. Webster of Lindsay, 84. In the singing of duets, said Mr. Heath-Gracie, there should be a joining of the minds as well as the voices. This, he said, was accomplished very well by all entrants, but with "startling differences" in the way it was carried out.

Tenors Have Innings

Tenors had their innings again in Class 48, all those entered being under 21 years. Their number was "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." Winner was William Perry of Lindsay, with 88 marks, who received high praise for the quality of his diction and tone. Second place went to Bruce Davidson of Lindsay, 87, who sang with "a pleasantly romantic color." Coming third was T. Freeburn of Bobcaygeon, with 86.

Baritones under 21 held forth in Class 49 with the rollicking song, "The Yeomen of England," by Edward German. Winner was Don Landry of Peterborough, who was awarded 88 marks for a "very polished and confident" performance. Second was R. Packer of Fenelon Falls, 85, whose voice was described as having "a nice tone" although still in the "preparatory stage." Third was R. Magahay of Lindsay, 84.

Following are the results of Friday's competitions in the various classes:

Piano Duet (under 14 years)—1 L. Moore, S. Duke, Peterborough; 2 B. Whitton, Billy Whitton, Peterborough; 3 S. Pritchard, N. Schwartz, Peterborough.

Triple Trio (under 19 years)—1 St. Andrew's Triple Trio.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Understand Masculine Ways Way to Hold Husband

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What rules should a woman follow in order to be a good wife? Which rules become most important in rearing a family as the years go by and the children are growing up? How can I please my husband and avoid friction resulting from my faults?

Dorothy Dix

MRS. D. G. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: As long as just plain, ordinary, run-of-the-mill human beings marry each other, no one will ever be wise enough to devise a code of conduct for husbands and wives that will enable them to give perfect satisfaction to the party of the other part. Old Mother Nature settles that question when every baby is born by giving the two sexes different personalities, different tastes and desires.

So-o-o-o, dear lady, there is no follow-this -rule- and-you- cannot-fail formula for being a good wife, as there is for making a good cup cake. There are too many exceptions to every rule to make it a sound working proposition. However, in my humble opinion, the woman who comes nearest to being an ideal wife is the understanding woman.

She doesn't expect the impossible. She doesn't expect a tired and harassed businessman to keep up the tactics of a romantic lover. She doesn't weep when her husband is grumpy and fights about the bills, nor does she pose as a plaster saint. She just takes life as it comes and makes the best of it.

Set Rules Not Practical

And as for rearing children by set rules, that would be a good joke if the consequences were not so tragic. How in Heaven's name are you going to bring up children by a cut paper pattern when they haven't even the same colored hair and eyes or the some amount of brains?

So-o-o-o, sister, quit worrying yourself over trying to live your life according to rules. Take it easy. Don't try to be an exemplary wife and mother. Just be comfortable to live with and God will attend to all the rest.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I married a very pretty young girl soon after returning home from over-seas service. She seemed to have a good disposition, but after marriage I knew I was in for a rough and rugged siege. When she is in a good humor and everything is going her way, she is pleasant; but when she is crossed, she is rude, sulky, throws tantrums, gets sick and goes to bed. She doesn't permit me to have my family come to our house, but expects me to be nice to her people.

She considers herself cute and is always talking about how young she is. And if there is anything more disgusting to me than another, it is the infantile adults. What do you think I should do? I feel that I am on the verge of a nervous breakdown unless things change.

WORRIED HUSBAND

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is no possible chance of that type of woman ever changing and reforming because, in the first place, she is utterly and entirely selfish and, in the second place, she lacks both brains and heart.

The married woman who belies her age and who goes around talking baby talk and acting cunning is one of the most repulsive of her species; but there is no cure for her, and no help for her poor husband outside of the divorce courts.

Why, oh why, do so many intelligent men marry silly women whose only asset is a pretty face?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My sister and mother and I disagree continually on the subject of who will wash the dishes. Since I am the older of the girls, that labor falls to me. My mother thinks that I should clear the table, prepare the dog scraps and take the garbage out. This leaves my sister with only the chore of drying the dishes and putting them in the cabinet. I think that Sis should have to prepare the dog food and feed the dog and take the garbage out.

Please help me to decide this problem as our family is continually bickering over this item and it is causing an awful lot of discord in our home.

BETTY ANNE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: This is, indeed, a terrible problem and my heart is torn with pity at the thought of three women who are forced to perform the exhausting tasks of washing the dishes and feeding the pup. Heaven help the poor creature! But inasmuch as even women have to eat and the family is about to be broken up over fights over the dish pan, why not use paper plates and cups that can be burned up after a meal?

Soroptomist Club Learns Conditions In Two Countries

Peterborough Soroptomists had as their theme "Working for the world we want," at their dinner meeting in the Empress Hotel, Friday evening. The members stressed that it is wise to first of all "know the world", and two steps in this direction were taken at their meeting.

General aspects of China, its people, and the perilous situation they are facing were presented in a comprehensive manner by Miss Jean Stenton. Her work as editor of foreign news at The Peterborough Examiner, keps her up-to-date with the political affairs of this great country. She understands these news despatches probably better than most people because of contacts with the Chinese in this city.

Because of her interest, Miss Stenton's Chinese friends arrange for her to meet friends from China who come here and from them she has obtained first-hand information of the graft and corruption that has reached alarming proportions because of the currency situation. A man who has paid up to $200,000 for bus fare in Canton, recently mentioned government worker making the equivalent of one Canadian dollar per month. Another had been unable to support his wife because his salary was only $10 a month.

These people appreciate Canada and want to be good citizens and bring their families here to enjoy our benefits, Miss Stenton declared. "China has never been a colonial power. Its people are intelligent and with education can occupy important positions."

Asks Broader Vision

She urged efforts to quell the narrow, back-alley viewpoint shown by some citzens of Canada and gave two examples of their attitude experienced by three Chinese, residents for nearly 30 years, who were applying recently for citizenship.

"Gestures count now. In five years, we have missed the boat," Miss Stenton said. "We have a chance to put the mark on China, our mark of good will".

Miss Myrtle Sargent introduced the speaker and she was thanked by Mrs. Mae Thompson.

Insight in the life of Newfoundlanders, about to become part of the Dominion of Canada, was given the Club in a skit written by Miss Myrtle Sargent. The players, Mrs. Enith Scott, Miss Rose Williams, Miss Alice Johnson and Miss Margaret Wolstenholme, discussed the country over afternoon tea cups. It appeared the main industry is fishing, and the people wage a never-ending struggle with the sea, never winning, yet never losing. There is also a large lumbering industry. A plant there produces enough power to supply the whole of Canada.

Education is a jealously guarded commodity and only enjoyed by the well-to-do. Children stop school and go out in the fishing boats at 10 and 11. For this reason they are finding it hard to understand people of other provinces.

Some differences in pronunciation were noticed in the reading. An authority advises that the name Newfoundland is correctly pronounced with emphasis on each word as 'new' 'found' 'land'.

Miss Grace Sargent, president, presided for the meeting.

BIRDS GET BREAK

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 26 — (CP). — Absence of ice in the Niagara River is expected to cut down on the heavy loss normally suffered in the Niagara cataract by the mass migration of swans, which usually takes place about this time of the year. Game Overseer Roy Muma said Friday only a few swans have been recovered from the water below the Falls this year. Normally the loss is heavy as many of the birds which alight on the river above the Falls, are swept over.

HELD IN FATHER'S DEATH

DUNCAN, BC, March 26 (CP) —Provincial Police said Friday night Douglas Cook, 23, has been charged with the murder of his father, M. Winter Cook, merchant, and president of the Chamber of Commerce in this centre 32 miles north of Victoria. Police said the father was shot to death in his store late Friday.

YOU CAN WIN $2000.00 IN THIS BIG 3 FIGURE PUZZLE CONTEST

$10,000.00 CASH GIVEN AWAY

EASY • PLEASING • PROFITABLE

YOU CAN WIN $2,000.00.

You can win $2,000.00 in CASH or one of the 100 cash prizes to be given away. It's a real opportunity for you if you act now.

Here is all you have to do to get started. Look at the Puzzle Diagram below. The figure "3" occurs in the totals, (at the right, and below), only four times. Rearrange the figures in the squares to make "3" occur in the totals as many times as possible. See if you can make every figure in your totals a "3".

When you have your solution, fill in the figures in the solution chart at the right, add your name and complete address in the entry blank and mail to the name and address given.

Then when you have mailed this simple and interesting solution you are definitely on your way towards that $2,000.00. Remember, everybody has an equal opportunity — everybody starts on the same basis, and the contest is absolutely genuine, sponsored by Canadian Vacations, Limited, a reliable publication and a great magazine. You cannot get anywhere without the first step, so send in your solution today — There is extra money for "Promptness".

6—In Memoriams

CASTLE — In loving memory of Thomas Castle, who passed away March 26, 1944.
When days are dark and friends are few
Dear father how we think of you
Friends are friends if they are true
We lost our best friend when we lost you.
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

CROSS—In loving memory of a dear sister, Mary Cross, who passed away March 26, 1946.
You're not forgotten sister dear,
Nor ever shall you be.
As long as life and memory lasts,
We shall remember thee.
—Lovingly remembered by sister

CROSS—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mary Ann Cross, who passed away March 26, 1946.
A wonderful mother, women and aid
One who was better God never made
A wonderful worker, loyal and true
One in a million that mother was you
Just in your judgement always right
Honest and liberal ever upright.
Loved by your friends and all you knew
A wonderful mother that mother was you.
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by son Jim and daughter-in-law Kay and family.

CROSS—In loving memory of a dear Mother, Mrs. Mary Cross, who passed away three years ago today Mrach 26th, 1946
A wonderful mother, woman and aid;
One who was better God never made.
A wonderful worker, loyal and true.
One in a million, that mother, was you.
—Lovingly remembered by Hill, Lill and grandchildren.

CROSS, In loving memory of our dear Mother, Mary A Cross, who passed away March 26th, 1946.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name
In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same.
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by her daughter, son-in-law and grandchildren.

CASTLE—In loving memory of a wonderful Dad, Thomas Castle, who passed away March 26, 1944.
Days of Sadness still come o'er us
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps you ever near us,
Though you died five years ago
—Remembered by son John and family.

BREEZE—In memory of my dear Mother, Mrs. Margaret Breeze, who passed away March 27th, 1936.
No one knows the silent heart aches
Only those who lost can tell
The grief the one bears in silence
The one we loved so well
—Missed by her lonely daughter

DOIG—In loving memory of my dear husband, who passed away March 26, 1944.
No morning dawns, no night returns,
But that I think of him
Those left behind are very dear,
But none replaces him.
And since he's gone, it's not the same
The world is bleak and bare
I miss him every place I look,
And he just isn't there.
I like to think, when life is done
Wherever Heaven may be,
That he'll be waiting at the door
Up there to welcome me.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife Anne.

HAMILTON—In loving memory of a dear Father, Richard Hamilton, who passed away March 26, 1947.
Dear father you are not forgotten,
Though on earth, you are no more,
Still in memory, you are with me,
As you always were before.
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by son Clarence.

HARRISON—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Frank C. Harrison, who passed away March 26, 1947.
'Tis but two years ago today
Since God called you away
And we who loved you most of all
Miss you more each day.
—Sadly missed by his wife Olive and one son Gordon and daughter-in-law Dorothy and grandchildren Bobby and Lynda.

HALL—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Annie Ethel Hall, who passed away three years ago, March 26, 1946.
—Sadly missed by husband Archie, son Elmer, daughter Marjorie and their families.

Two PCVS

Uxbridge team couldn't seem to click around the PCVS basket. Play throughout the game was rough with plenty of fouls.

Two foul shots taken by Uxbridge were missed at the start of the first quarter. With the combination of Mary Braund and Jane Hall Peterborough tore back to sink two fast baskets in a row with Braund getting both. Kay Leask for Uxbridge rolled the ball on the Peterborough rim but didn't score. Jane Hall ended the scoring of the first quarter with a foul shot. Score, first quarter, 5 to 0.

Peterborough gradually crept away from Uxbridge in the second quarter. Katie Clifton and Mary Braund sank foul shots before Uxbridge hit the score sheet when Kay Leask sunk a corner shot. Jane Hall scored a foul shot which was followed by a long shot by Helen Willis to make the score 8 to 4. On a rebound from a foul shot she missed, Jane Hall sunk number 9 and 10 points. On a charging foul by Helen Willis, Katie Clifton sunk her second foul shot of the quarter. Dorothy O'dell played a backhand over the head shot. Uxbridge finished the scoring when Dorothy Willis placed a foul. Score half time 11 to 7 for Peterborough.

Patsy Martyn had the third quarter to herself. With her good backchecking and scoring combination she put Peterborough up to 15 points. Anne Hendreckson scored a basket for the Uxbridge team to make the score 15 to 9.

Hall to Braund combination got clicking in the last quarter for some nice passing plays. Martyn was added to this combination and they scored eight points for Peterborough. Uxbridge's basket came when Dorothy Willis got a rebound from a foul shot to sink the ball.

Mary Braund, Jane Hall, and Patsy Martyn were the pick of the Peterborough squad. Braund had 11 of her team's points. Dorothy Willis, and sister, Helen, who had played all the junior game, starred for the Uxbridge team.

Line-ups:

Peterborough—Braund 11, Hall 4, Paddock, Clifton 2, Estlick, Lawrie, Watson, McElroy, Graham, Westran, Mason, Martyn 6.

Uxbridge—Dorothy Willis 3, O'dell 2, Kay Leask 2, Doris Cummings, Dorothy Commings, Hendreckson 2, Blanchard, Westgarth, Helen Willis 2, Crosby, Pearson, Noble.

Referees for the game were Winnifred Toten, Cobourg, and Mae Smith, Port Perry.

Youths Battle Officer In Making Arrest

COBOURG, March 26 (ENS)—"Yours is one of the worst types of crime of its kind," said Magistrate R. B. Baxter in remanding Maurice Sauve and John Ryan of Ottawa in custody for sentence. Sauve, age 20 and Ryan, age 18, were charged with assaulting Corporal Douglas Wilson of the provincial police, Cobourg, on March 18. They pleaded not guilty on their first appearance but changed their plea to guilty when they came up in court yesterday. Donald Hunter, held as a material witness, was allowed to go.

Corporal Wilson related that while on patrol a few miles east of Cobourg he came upon a car parked in a traffic lane on No. 2 Highway. A man was outside the car and two were inside. Hunter, the one outside, told the officer that he had driven up from Ottawa but wanted to turn back, only his two companions, who were still in the car, wouldn't let him.

"I told him that I would see he was not molested. I questioned the two in the car and told them to get out. When they got out they started to argue and swear and let it be known what they thought of police in general. They said they intended to stick together, the three of them. I could smell wine off them. They squared off, one on each side of me, and Ryan gave me a push. Then Sauve hit me and knocked off my hat and glasses. Mr. Thompson of Colborne came along and tried to get Ryan off but he sidestepped and stepped in again and the three of us rolled into the ditch and I lost my handcuffs. During the scuffle, Thompson handed my cuffs to me but Sauve grabbed one of them. Ryan got back into the fray and jumped on me and kicked me about the back and head. I heard Ryan say once 'use your knife. Kill him.' Later I found a paring knife hidden in a slit in the lining of the car roof. There were some letters to Stewart Marseilles in the car, and some addressed to Sauve. The language was very profane. Mr. Merpaw, a truck driver came on the scene and lent assistance," testified Corporal Wilson.

Was Not Polite

"He didn't ask us politely to get out of the car," interjected Sauve.

"I told you to get out of the car. I was suspicious of their actions and condition," replied Corporal Wilson.

Ernest Merpaw of Toronto corroborated the evidence, adding that he couldn't hold on to Ryan.

Sauve said that he and Ryan had made a deal with Hunter to drive them from Ottawa to Toronto, the two to supply Hunter's gas and oil. They were running low on money by the time they reached Kingston and Hunter said he wanted to go back but they told him they had made a deal and he would have to proceed. At Belleville they stopped and one of them bought a bottle of wine. When Corporal Wilson came over to the car he said 'get the hell out of the car', Sauve said.

"The officer reached for his gun and Johnny hit him. He hit me on the head with the handcuffs. I don't know what happened much after that," testified Sauve.

"What did you have a knife for?" asked Crown Attorney Harry Deyman.

"I don't know. I put the knife away in the car because I know I have a bad temper," replied Sauve.

Rev. R. G. Kitchen Goes To Fort Erie

Rev. Robert G. Kitchen, of the Church of the Open Bible, Peterborough, has accepted a unanimous call by the congregation of the Fort Erie Gospel Centre, Fort Erie, Ontario, to become their Pastor. For a few years, Rev. Kitchen served several United Church to the north of Peterborough, before affiliating with the Church of the Open Bible. Since then, he has assisted the pastor, Rev. Walter S. Crone, in conducting the services in the local church. Rev. Kitchen has already taken up his duties in Fort Erie, and will be moving his family there in the course of a few days.

Obituary

JOHN JOSEPH O'ROURKE

WARKWORTH, March 26 — (ENS).—John Joseph (Jack) O'Rourke of Percy township died suddenly at his home on the Fourth Concession at the age of 59 years. The funeral took place from the family residence, thence to St. Jerome's Church, Warkworth, where the Rev. Father Ferguson said mass. Interment was in Warkworth Cemetery.

Mr. O'Rourke was not married, and he and his sister, Miss Helena O'Rourke, lived together on the homestead that has been in their family for 102 years. One other sister, Mrs. Barrett of Hastings, and a brother Tom near Campbellford, survive.

Destroy Dogs In Deer Country

Dogs found running at large in areas inhabited by deer are liable to be destroyed, A. B. Wheatley, district forester, has announced.

These stern measures have been adopted because Game Overseers claim that dogs, particularly deer hounds, have been attacking the deer. Native deer have little opportunity for protecting themselves in deep, crusted snow, and the Overseers say they are easy prey for the dogs.

Six dogs in the Haliburton, Gooderham and Head Lake areas have already been destroyed, it is reported by the District Forester; and owners have been warned to keep their dogs at home if they reside in deer country.

It's not a case of Department of Lands and Forests officials disliking dogs. Far from it they aver; and in their regular bulletin they concede that dogs "are usually friendly and affectionate creatures when kept in their place."

And that place, they claim, is by the fireside, not attacking harassed deer.

Special Honors List

INFORMATION FOR EMPLOYERS

Concerning The Employment of Immigrants From Displaced Persons Camps of Europe

When a Displaced Person volunteers to accept employment in Canada and is passed by the selection committee of the Dominion Government, he or she is required to sign the following agreement:

DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR—GOVERNMENT OF CANADA
Memorandum of Undertaking with the Minister of Labour for Canada

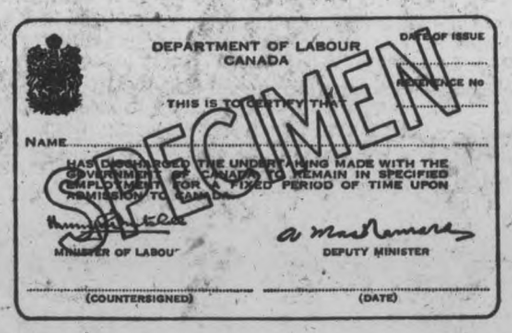
I, _____ (Surname) _____ (Christian Names) _____ (Identity Cert. No.) _____ (Serial No.)

do hereby undertake that on my arrival in Canada I will accept employment in _____ or such other employment as may be selected for me by the Minister of Labour for Canada or his authorized representative, at the wage rate and under the working and living conditions prevailing in the locality of employment for comparable classifications of employment, and that I will conform to the prevailing rules and working regulations of the industry in which I am employed.

I understand that I may be required to reimburse my employer for costs paid by him for my transportation to place of employment, under terms and conditions as to repayment approved by the Minister of Labour for Canada.

I agree that I will remain in the employment mentioned above, or such other employment as may be selected for me from time to time by the Minister of Labour for Canada or his authorized representative, for a period of one year.

I acknowledge receipt of a copy of this undertaking.



Dated at _____ on this _____ day of _____

_____ (Signature of Emigrant)

The above memorandum of undertaking was interpreted to the above-named in his own language. I hereby witness his signature.

_____ (Signature of Witness) _____ (Title of Witness)

On completion of their undertaking with the Dominion Department of Labour, they receive the following certificate:

Every effort is made to safeguard the interests of both employer and employee, to ensure that all Displaced Persons secure a sound foundation for future citizenship.

Canada expects all immigrants under the Displaced Persons Movement to complete their undertakings.

All prospective employers should know this so that they may understand that the newly-arrived DP should not be encouraged to leave a position to which he or she has been assigned, without the consent of the nearest Employment Office manager.

Friends and relatives of the same nationality should impress on these men and women from Europe that any agreement made by them should be carried out. Any other advice will be doing the DP immigrant a disfavour.

Dairy Herd Improvement Plan Explained In Details Of Testing By Ontario Department Of Agriculture—Hereford Auction Thursday, April 7 At Old Orchard Farms — Forum Group Asks Simplified Income Tax Forms.

Frank Paterson, agricultural representative, is recommending to dairy farmers the provincial government's herd improvement policy.

A Dairy Herd Improvement Association consists of not less than 24 or more than 26 members. It is not essential that all members reside in the same county, nor shall there be any limit to the number of associations that may be organized in a county.

Membership shall be restricted to owners of grade and/or mixed herds. A herd consisting of grades and pure breds shall be considered a mixed herd.

No person shall be accepted as a member unless he: (a) owns at least ten cows. If a herd is of more than 30 cows, the owner shall be required to enter two herds and pay two membership fees; (b) maintains a T.B. tested herd; (c) owns or uses a pure bred sire.

The Ontario livestock branch will provide a supervisor for each dairy herd improvement association who shall visit each member 12 times during the year. These visits may be made without advance notice, but in so far as possible will be at monthly intervals.

Supervisor's Duties

At the time of each visit, the supervisor shall:—

(a)—Weigh the milk of each cow under test at each milking and take supplies of each for a composite sample for the Babcock test.

(b)—Provide a suitable box and sampling bottles. When samples are not under the supervisor's eye they shall be kept under lock and key.

(c)—Conduct the test for butter fat. The test may be made at the farm of the member or at some convenient place where facilities are available.

(d)—Record data relative to the cost of producing milk on the farm of the member.

(e)—Identify each grade cow and grade heifer calf by ear tag. All heifer calves must be identified before they are two months of age. The date of birth, name of sire and identity of dam of each grade heifer calf must be recorded in a book for that purpose.

The Member's Duties

Each member shall be required:

(a)—To place each cow in the herd on test, except such cows as may be maintained for the purpose of nursing calves.

(b)—To provide board and lodging for the supervisor at the time of each visit, if called upon to do so.

(c)—To co-operate with the supervisor in furnishing data relative to the cost of producing milk in his own herd.

(d)—To record the breeding and calving dates of each cow in the herd.

(e)—To pay the annual membership fee of $10 required of all members.

Farmers who attended the meeting of the local branch of the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association will remember that R. H. Graham of the Ontario Livestock Branch strongly recommended this new dairy herd improvement plan. He said that the test once a month was found to be practical and acceptable as a reliable means of determining the milk and butter fat rating of the animals of a herd.

Basis of Testing

The regulations set out the following basis of testing. Twelve consecutive test periods of 24 hours duration, approximately one month apart, shall be required during the association year.

Daily milk weights are not required, and credits will be based entirely on the official tests conducted by the supervisor. Members wishing to record daily weights may secure appropriate forms by applying to the Ontario Livestock Branch.

The monthly production of milk and fat will be based on the one day test as reported by the supervisor.

Should the milk weights reported not compare favorably with the average for the preceding and succeeding months, the milk weight and test will be disregarded, and the average of the preceding and succeeding months' milk weights and test shall apply. A similar rule applies to the percentage of butter fat of any monthly test.

Surprise tests may be ordered at any time by the Live Stock Commissioner. Provision is also made for retests.

Certificates

The Ontario Live Stock Branch will issue to the owner of each herd completing a year's record:—

(a)—A herd certificate showing the herd average for milk, butter fat and test. Only cows that were in the herd for 305 days or more will be considered in computing herd records. Herd certificates may be withheld unless 70% of the cows qualify under the time requirement.

(b)—A statement revealing the production of milk, butter fat and test of each cow in the herd during the association year.

(c)—A summary showing milk production costs on his own farm.

These are the main regulations of the government's plan. Their purpose are obvious to every breeder seeking accurate information about his milking cows. There should also be helpful evidence of the effectiveness of the herd sire in regard to the milk production merits of its background. The cost to the herd owner is comparatively light, and the supervisor does practically all the work.

Mr. Paterson reports some breeders interested in forming an association in their localities, following the announcements that have already been made of the herd improvement plan, and is hoping that its advantages will soon lead to organizing action.

MORE PORK—LESS LARD

The March letter of Canadian livestock products offers this advice, in brief "The total supply of fats in increasing, and vegetable oils are starting to exert their nomal influence on values. The livestock industry should seek to supply to consumers meat high in protein. Meat that carries just enough but not too much fat will be sought after because it is the most perfect form of protein food.

We should aim to have more lean meat and less lard per hog than we have. This applies equally whether the products are sold in Canada or the USA. or United Kingdom. We have the best of feeds to produce bacon hogs and we need hogs to give the highest value to our grain production."

THE GOODFELLOW BILL

Of the bill to dilute the color of margarine, which was introduced in the Legislature this week by Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, member for Northumberland, Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore, said it afforded some concession to the dairy farmers of the province. The bill also provides protection for butter by requiring announcement of the use of margarine in restaurants and other places in which the public customarily buys and consumes butter.

As director of the provincial creamery producers, Mr. Gifford says that "if every tub should stand on its own bottom," why should margarine take on the distinguishing guise of butter. Why should it not frankly identify itself? On the other hand, he says, there is the economic factor, and if the consumers of farm products desire to keep farmers as consumers of manufactured products they should be willing to have the industry of farmers maintained on a paying basis.

"People are talking about the importance of our domestic market," Mr. Gifford said. "It is not going to be important if you leave out of it the farmers as buyers."

Margarine should be subjected to the same quality tests that are applied to butter, he said. Mr. Gifford said there was ground for hope in the action of the Ontario government.

AUCTION OF HEREFORDS

Sixty-two Hereford cattle are listed in the catalogue of the auction sale at Old Orchard Farms Thursday, April 7 beginning at 1 p.m.

The consigning breeders are: Col. F. E. Birdsall of Birdsall's, Asphodel; H. J. Hawkey of Indian River Farms; Grant H. Grey of Cairnbrogie Farms, Claremont; Mrs. Nancy W. Stuart of New Orchard Farms, Peterborough; and John Stuart, Jr., of Old Orchard Farms, several miles east of the Lift Lock.

John Stuart's sale last fall was a notable success in its dispersal of top class Herefords, including a polled group from Mrs. Stuart's herd.

The Eastern Ontario Hereford auction next month offers 25 bulls and 37 females that are described as being in good breeding conditions, but not fitted for show purposes.

Both polled and horned cattle are being consigned, and the reputation of the breeders behind this sale is a sound warrant of quality stock. In their signed announcement they refer to the assisting plan of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

"The Ontario Live Stock Branch will pay a premium equal to one-third of the selling price of each approved bull, but not exceeding $150 per bull, to all groups who reside and operate farms in the province, purchasing approved bulls in the sale under the following terms:

One-half the premium will be paid to the group of three upon receipt of an application accompanied by the registration certificate showing same to be recorded in the name of the applicant. The other half of the premium will be paid at the end of twelve months following inspection by a representative of the live stock branch, and providing the bull has been maintained in a satisfactory breeding condition. We, the consignors, are sure that it will be well worth any breeder's time to attend the sale, and that buyers will be more than satisfied with any selection they make."

Col. Bill O'Neil will be back to Old Orchard Farms as auctioneer.

THREE CALVES AVERAGE $762

Shorthorn sons of the junior herd sire of Strathore Farms have been returning consistently high prices to the owners, M. H. Pimmett & Sons, Indian River.

"All Ransom Field Marshall," born Jan. 30, 1948, won first prize in the youngest bull class of 35 entries at the Ontario bull sale March 15 in Toronto. One of the youngest bulls in the sale, he later was awarded reserve championship of the entire Shorthorn show of 60 bulls.

In the 1948 show rings he won first place at the Oshawa regional Shorthorn exhibition; third at the Canadian National Exhibition; was 10th at Chicago in a class of 22 entries, and was one of the 6th prize Strathore pair of calves, the highest placing group of any Canadian cattle exhibitor.

All Ransom Field Marshall sold for $735 at the recent auction. The champion Shorthorn, a two-year-old, brought $810, and another two-year-old sold for $820. Sixty Shorthorn bulls averaged $565 in this highly successful first sale.

"All Ransom" is the fourth calf from the Strathore junior herd bull "Thornlodge Field Marshall" whose first calf topped the London sale last spring at $775. His third was first prize calf at the C.N.E., junior champion at the Oshawa regional Shorthorn show, and grand champion at the Peterborough Exhibition. He sold at the Chicago Congress for $775. The average for the three was $762.

INCOME TAX BROADCAST

Income tax forms should be simplified according to most of the suggestions from farmers commenting on the recent Radio Forum broadcast.

Three forums to one think farmers should file returns when income is not taxable. Of those opposed to filing returns when income is not taxable, eight to one feel they should keep records in any event. Roseville forum in Waterloo spoke for a number of others in their report that "they were willing to file returns as soon as the proper concessions and exemptions are made to farmers, and as soon as the excess profits tax law are re-enacted."

That is a quotation from a summary of the replies received at forum headquarters.

"The majority feel that income tax forms should be filed in order that record may be compiled; to give the government a proper estimate of agricultural income; to record properly the five-year plan; to have available information in settling estates; and to have true facts for everybody."

Many forum groups objected to "complicated forms". Marshall Road in Haldimand expressed a broad opinion that a main difficulty is figuring out depreciation.

The produce tax plan suggested broadcast was rejected in the ratio of five to one.

ORGANIC MATTER IN SOIL

The most effective way to restore the productivity of the soil is by following crop rotation to incorporate all crop refuse in the soil, and by using alfalfa and clovers as green manure crops. This recommendation is repeated by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, quoting preliminary tests at the Woodslee experimental station.

"Farmyard manure is valuable when available. A green manure crop or heavy application of straw or farmyard manure, if turned under, should be incorporated with the top four inches of the soil well in advance of planting. Non-leguminous crop residues should receive a substantial application of nitrogenous fertilizer before plowing or discing to prevent a depression of the yield of the following crop.

"Organic matter supplies the millions of micro-organisms, ever present in the soil, with food. They multiply rapidly in the presence of a good food supply, breaking down the organic matter and releasing plant food which becomes available to crop roots. In this breakdown process a soil structure is built up which is favorable to the penetration of air and water."

"All Ransom Field Marshall" of Strathore Farms, M. H. Pimmett & Sons, Indian River, sold for $735 at the recent Ontario bull sale in Toronto. He was awarded the reserve championship title in the class of 60 Shorthorn bulls and won first prize in the youngest bull class. His sire is "Thornlodge Field Marshall," whose three calves averaged $762 for Strathore Farms.

BAG OF TWENTY FOXES, shot in Northumberland and Durham counties, fell to the expert marksmanship of Jack Wilson and Harold McCallister of Hamilton township near Bewdley. It will net them $60 in bounties and current market prices for pelts.

Canada Plans To Spend $8,000,000 On Radar, Anti-Submarine Vessels

Defence Minister Says Dominion Will Keep Pace With American Program; Construction Includes Sites, Buildings

OTTAWA, March 28—(CP).—Defence Minister Claxton said today at a press conference that Canada will spend in the next fiscal year amounts for radar equipment and construction on a comparable basis with the $161,000,000 American program. He declined to estimate how much Canada would be spending. Mr. Claxton also said that advanced plans call for the laying down this year of three of the new high-speed anti-submarine escort vessels. He said it had not been decided where work would be done.

Mr. Claxton reiterated that none of the US radar program will unfold on Canadian soil. However, the studies of the two countries had been fitted together and Canada would keep pace. The figure Canada will spend this year on radar is believed to be somewhere in the vicinity of $8,000,000 to $12,000,000 and this sort of money is liable to go into that phase of defence preparedness for some years.

The minister said the construction will include radar sites and buildings. He didn't say so, but present plans call for throwing a defensive screen around key targets such as vital cities and strategic points like the Sault Canal.

Mr. Claxton said the regular forces are aiming for a manpower strength of roughly 50,000 and expect to reach it late this year or early in 1950. Their present strength is 40,811.

The construction of the three escort vessels would be the start of a pilot or development program. The ships represented a Canadian modification of both American and British designs and would use equipment from both countries. It would take about two years to complete a ship.

There was no indication yet that the craft would become standard for general Allied use. It was "our approach to the problem."

Mr. Claxton said the opening of the Cornwallis, N.S. base for new recruits "will not represent any net change in the size of the establishment on the west coast as there will be an offsetting increase in trained personnel there."

He indicated that some new types of equipment will be purchased for the army this year but declined to go into detail other than to mention "motor vehicles and various stores." Any new equipment would not be purchased in large numbers.

H. A. Brillinger Pleads Guilty To 11 Charges

BRANTFORD, March 28—(CP)—Harold Arthur Brillinger, 39, who operated a dancing school here under the name of "Murray Keyes" until July 1948, today pleaded guilty to 11 charges including car theft, burglary and false pretences. He was remanded in custody for one week.

He has yet to be arraigned on two separate charges of obtaining $300 from each of two local people through the sale of worthless shares in his dancing school. He asked a week's adjournment on the charges in order to obtain legal counsel.

He pleaded guilty to: Theft of an auto in Etobicoke township, York county; evidence was that he retained the ignition keys to the car which he sold to a used car company and later stole it; two burglaries at Quinlan's, Colborne St. clothiers, above whose premises he operated the school; most of the loot in the two breakins which occurred in January and February of this year, has been recovered; burglary at Sudbury, where he stole three radios and phonograph needles valued at $424, the radios have been recovered; obtaining goods from Swain's Jewellery, at Galt, by means of a $120 worthless cheque; a watch will be returned to the store; obtaining $560 by representing a car he sold as free of incumbrances; the Hamilton firm was reimbursed by "Keyes" in 1946.

Appoint Walsh Lieut.-Governor

OTTAWA, March 28—(CP)—The government intends to recommend appointment of Sir Albert Walsh as lieutenant-governor of Newfoundland, Prime Minister St. Laurent announced today.

The prime minister said Sir Albert has agreed to accept the appointment on the understanding he could be released from the office at an early date after an elected legislature had begun sessions in the new province.

The appointment of the lieutenant-governor would become effective on the date of Newfoundland's union with Canada—April 1.

Sir Albert, 46-year-old native of Newfoundland, was knighted in the 1949 New Year's honors list, and acted as chairman of the delegation which represented the island in negotiations with Canada on terms of union.

Turncliffe Remanded On Counsel's Request

BELLEVILLE, March 28—(CP)—Allen Turncliffe today was remanded for one week on charges of failing to support his five young children.

Turncliffe, now in custody in Hastings County jail, was charged with leaving his five young children alone in a shack near Bancroft for 46 days while his wife was in hospital here giving birth to a sixth child.

The remand was made at the request of defence counsel R. B McCullough of Belleville.

Turncliffe will appear next Monday in magistrate's court at Madoc, 40 miles north of here.

Star's Jewels Taken

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 28 — (AP). — Joan Crawford today reported a $2,250 burglary of her Brentwood home. The movie actress told police the intruder or intruders cut through a screen of a second-storey bathroom window to rifle her dressing room of $1,450 in jewelry and $800 in cash. She discovered the loss upon returning from a trip to Palm Springs.

Plan To Build Reformatory North Of Ajax

TORONTO, March 28 (CP)—A new reformatory for women to cost "several million dollars" and replace the antiquated Mercer Reformatory here will be built north of nearby Ajax, above No. 2 Highway, Reform Institutions Minister Dunbar, announced today.

"We haven't decided on the exact location yet because of a problem in making water and sewer connections with the Ajax system," Mr. Dunbar said. "However our plans are well advanced as far as the building is concerned. I can't say what the cost will be but it will be a fine institution and will cost several million dollars."

The province will take an option on the land as soon as the water and sewer problems are studied. The new building will house the more than 300 inmates serving terms in the 75-year-old Mercer institution.

28 Meet Death In Tornadoes

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 28—(AP)—Tornadoes and lesser windstorms subsided in the south today after 28 persons were killed, about 200 injured and scores made homeless in eight states.

Property damage was heavy, but no one had attempted to estimate its total.

The storms struck mainly in sparsley-populated rural areas. They ranged from Texas on the southwest to Kentucky on the northeast. In fury they varied from Arkansas, where 17 persons died and 98 were injured, to Louisiana, where one person was hurt.

Next to Arkansas, the chief sufferer was Mississippi, where eight were killed and 48 injured.

The toll in the other states:

Oklahoma, two dead, 20 injured Texas, one dead, 26 injured; Tennessee, several injured Kentucky, six injured; Missouri, five injured.

In Washington the Red Cross made a preliminary allocation of $100,000 for the storm-stricken areas. From reports of 15 disaster workers in the field, the agency estimated that at least 300 homes had been wrecked or damaged.

BULLETIN

HALIFAX — (CP). — Four Canadian navy airmen were reported missing following a mid-air collision of two planes over Halifax harbor this afternoon. One plane was a Harvard believed carrying two men while the other was a Sea Fury carrying two men. The planes are believed to have crashed after a mid-air collision near Georges Island in the harbor.

Ungava Steel Plant Cost Will Be More Than Billion

QUEBEC, March 28.—(CP). — Cost of a smelting and steel plant to handle Ungava's proposed iron ore output of 10,000,000 tons a year would be more than $1,400,000,000, Prof. Gerard Letendre, director of the department of mining and metallurgy at Laval University, reported today. Electric smelting would add $300,000,000 to the cost of the plant.

Prof. Letendre's report, prepared after a European tour of steel-manufacturing centres, and submitted to the Quebec Government, said smelting of 10,000,000 tons of iron ore would take 172 electric furnaces with a daily pig iron output of 100 tons each. The cost of such furnaces is about $2,000,000 each.

Production of 6,000,000 tons of pig iron from the 10,000,000 tons of ore would take a 2,000,000 horse-power electricity installation and the cost would be $350,000,000.

"If a complete steel works, including furnaces, rolling mills and other equipment, were added to the pig iron plant to give a completely integrated iron and steel plant, the total cost would be roughly $1,400,000,000," said the report.

"From a technical standpoint," said Prof. Letendre's report, "there would be no overwhelming difficulty to producing by one method or another 5,000,000 tons of steel or more in the province as soon as mining operations start in New Quebec.

"But a plant erected now would have to compete when normal conditions return, with plants erected at one-third present costs and having consequently lower production costs.

"It would be desirable to have an important iron and steel industry in the province," concluded the Letendre report, "but it is essential that a much more detailed investigation be carried out if an appropriate conclusion is to be reached."

Hold 2 Men For Stealing Malton Car

Careening Vehicle Strikes Auto; Driver Badly Hurt

HAMILTON, March 28 — (CP) —A mad chase over provincial highways from Malton to Waterdown ended there Sunday night when provincial police officers cornered a stolen car after it had gone through a stop light and crashed into a passing car, seriously injuring the driver.

As the stolen car, careened across the highway and smashed into a hydro pole, the three occupants leaped out. One of them, drawing a revolver, fired two shots at almost point-blank range at Provincial Constable Douglas Hodgins, Paris, but missed him.

The officer pursued the gunman and emptied his revolver after him but apparently without results and the man escaped into the darkness behind some buildings.

Capture Two Men

Meanwhile, other provincial policemen arrested the two other occupants of the car.

In court this morning, two men appeared before Magistrate Beame W. Hopkins, were charged with car theft, and remanded for eight days. Bail was set at $10,000 cash each or two securities of $10,000 each.

The two men charged were Mervin Breaton, 29, of Guelph, and Joseph Long, 34, of no given address.

Seriously injured in the crash which preceded the arrests made by the police was Murray Bucan, 18, of Waterdown. He was just driving away from a local restaurant when the speeding car smashed into his automobile and wrecked it. He was taken to the general hospital with serious internal injuries and was operated on at four o'clock this morning. His condition was reported as only fair.

Tractor Crushes Manvers Farmer

BETHANY, March 28 (ENS)—Walter Bradley, 53-year-old farmer was almost instantly killed, Saturday night, when he was crushed under the wheels of a tractor.

He had accompanied his nephew Douglas Logan to Oshawa in the afternoon for a load of steel which they were bringing home on a tractor owned by Mr. Logan and had returned as far as the village of Pontypool. Mr. Bradley had been standing on the side of the tractor, and although complete details are not available, it is believed he fell off. When Mr. Logan missed him he immediately stopped the tractor and walked back a few feet to where Mr. Bradley was lying on the road. Apparently the tractor wheel had passed right over his body. He was rushed to the office of Mr. McNeil in Pontypool and was pronounced dead.

Mr. Bradley had farmed in the vicinity of Manvers' Station, Lot 21, Concession 4 of Manvers Township almost all his life, except during the war years when he was employed at Ajax.

The funeral service will be held on Tuesday at 2:30 from his late residence with burial in Fallis Cemetery.

Immediately surviving are his wife; two sons, Maurice and Ross; four daughters, Eileen, Betty, June and Shirley; one brother, Hally and five sisters, Mrs. Ernest Fallis and Mrs. J. Logan of Bethany; Mrs. J. Staples, Lindsay; Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Jackson of Toronto.

Bandits Shoot Clerk

HAMILTON, March 28 — (CP) —Two hooded bandits shot a man through the right arm Sunday during an unsuccessful attempt to rob a downtown Zeller's Store. The thieves, believed to have entered through a skylight during the night, confronted John Walters, a store employee who had gone to the building to check stock. They shot him through the arm, then trussed him with rope and adhesive tape and held him captive while they tried to open

Won't Permit Commission To Drag Along

BELLEVILLE, March 28 (CP). — Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay said today he was not going to permit his Royal Commission to drag on "month after month."

"I have the taxpayer to consider," he told Provincial Constable J. E. Keays as the commission opened is fourth week of public hearings.

The commission is investigating the allegations of fraud, perjury and maladministration of justice that Constable Keays directed against seven Provincial Police officers and a Crown Attorney.

When Constable Keays said he considered the commission a "waste of time," the commissioner told the counsel to get things in their "proper perspective."

"Who filed the allegations?" he asked. "What else could the authorities do?"

Orders Payment

As the hearing opened, Commission Counsel C. P. Hope produced an order for payment of witnesses at the inquest into the deaths of John Miki and Constable Harold Dent at Navan, Ont., in June 1940.

The order said George Smith of Navan was called as a witness.

Constable J. E. Keays had alleged the testimony of Mr. Smith was suppressed at the inquest. Last week an order was produced for payment of witnesses at the second hearing of the inquest. It did not contain Mr. Smith's name.

Constable Keays angrily said: "The authorities should stop

Floods Make Cornwall Roads Impossible

By The Canadian Press

With 15,000 acres of low-lying land under water, Ontario's Cornwall district today bore the brunt of spring flood conditions a Canadian Press survey showed. Elsewhere in Eastern Canada danger points centred in the central provinces.

Country roads in the Cornwall area were reported impassable and flood waters of the Nation river which went on the rampage Sunday were threatening to curtail traffic on Highway 31 which connects Morrisburg and Ottawa.

In some farming areas, milk deliveries were made by boat, and farm stock was moved to second-storey floors of barns.

From Quebec's Beauce County the Chaudiere river was reported to have risen 18 feet in the last 24 hours at St. Joseph, 40 miles southeast of Quebec City. However, the river has not burst its banks and no danger was reported.

St. Laurent Visits Oshawa Dodges Election Issue

By DOUGLAS HOW

OSHAWA, March 28—(CP).—Prime Minister St. Laurent laid lightning week-end siege to industrial Oshawa Saturday and upheld himself as one of the common people who wishes to legislate for the aspirations of all. He descended on this city of 35,000 at noon, paraded behind two bands through streets lined with thousands of people and pitched into a 12-hour program which included four speeches, two dinners, a civic reception, the placing of a wreath on the local cenotaph and a visit to a federal housing project at near-by Ajax.

Adding to the political war of nerves, Mr. St. Laurent told a night audience of 2,000 with a twinkle in his eye: "Nobody knows whether the election will be this year or next."

But he had Senator J. Gordon Fogo, head of the National Liberal Federation with him and the Prime Minister frankly told the annual convention of the Central Ontario Liberal Association that he would like to see this section better represented in the new government he hopes to form after the election. The district largely went Progressive Conservative in 1945.

Saves Fire

In a riding which returned CCF candidate Arthur Williams in a by-election last year. Mr. St. Laurent did not once mention the CCF publicly. He saved his fire consistently for George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, and devoted most of his public address at night to a detailed and biting analysis of Mr. Drew's conduct in the Commons.

Mr. Drew, he charged, is not really concerned with the people's business before parliament but rather with publicity stunts

Charge Kremlin Running Unions

LONDON, March 28—(AP)—Four western labor leaders charged that the World Federation of Trade Unions is, in the final analysis, controlled by the Kremlin.

They were James Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO; Vincent Tewson, general secretary of the British Trades Union Congress; Arthur Deakin of the TUC and former president of the WFTU and Evert Kupers of the Dutch Trades Union Congress.

They made the accusation in a 7,000-word report issued by the TUC to explain why Carey, Deakin and Kupers walked out of the meeting of the WFTU Executive Board in Paris last Jan. 19.

The four men said in the report the WFTU "is now completely dominated by Communist organizations which are themselves controlled by the Kremlin and the Cominform."

4 Boys Go To Jail

HAMILTON, March 28 (CP)—Sentences of 18 months definite and 18 months indefinite in the Ontario reformatory were passed this morning by Magistrate H. A Burbidge on the four boys who staged an armed robbery at the home of Mr. Florence Goodale on March 5.

Cripps Works On Budget, May Announce Big Surplus

LONDON, March 28—(Reuters)—Sir Stafford Cripps spent the weekend somewhere in the West England country working with the British budget due April 6.

Looked on as Britain's most overworked government official, the Chancellor of the Exchequer took little time out from wrestling with the budget figures and an expected internal surplus of probably £900,000,000 ($3,000,000,000).

He kept to his strict vegetable diet and confined his sleeping period to five hours a night.

Vegetarianism, admittedly second nature to him now, was forced upon him by illness. And he cuts his sleep to five hours nightly because he finds that on a vegetable diet he needs only half the slumber that was necessary in his meat-eating days.

Parliamentarians have observed, as a curious commentary upon human nature, that although Sir Stafford is held in great esteem even by his political opponents, people are apt to be more resentful of his "carrot banquets" symbolize for many a cold, aloof personality, brilliant but unfriendly.

Such people have never met him. He is in fact one of the most approachable of political leaders, with a zealot's enthusiasm for "deep down" human causes.

For all his economic brilliance, he loves calculations less than the human problems. Though a rich man, whose salary as a cabinet minister is only a fraction of what he used to earn at the bar, money and power as such mean little to him.

Eleven Saved As Flying Boat Sinks

Picked Up Nine Hours After Going Down In Middle Of Pacific

PEARL HARBOR, March 28 — (AP)—Eleven survivors were rescued from a sinking Flying Boat in the middle of the Pacific Sunday midnight.

A navy L.S.M. (Landing Ship Medium) picked up the airmen nine hours after they went down. Brief radio contact said merely the men were rescued. No further details were given.

The landing ship was ordered to take the survivors to Kwajalein in the Marshall Islands, their starting point. The Catalina went down in the sea with a dead engine, 605 miles southwest of Johnston Island, 700 miles southwest of here.

After putting down on the rough sea the flying boat radioed it was leaking and could not stay afloat much longer.

The navy sent 15 other planes to the area.

An air force B-17 from Hickam Field hovered over the bounding flying boat until the rescue ship arrived.

The LSM was 75 miles north when the twin-engined Catalina went down. The surface craft's radio operator had gone off duty but had left his receiving set on and got the relayed distress call from the navy here. Seven minutes later the LSM was on its way.

The spot where the Catalina went down is one of the loneliest in the Pacific. It was not far from where a plane bearing Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker was lost during the war. Amelia Earhart lost her life in the same general area

Oleo Protests Swamp MPP's

TORONTO, March 28.—(CP).—Members of the Ontario Legislature today received hundreds of telegrams protesting against legislation which would limit the coloring of margarine.

A bill introduced in the Legislature last week would limit artificial yellow or yellow-and-red coloring of the butter substitute to 1.6 degrees. Butter color varies from three to five degrees on the scale.

Agnes Macphail (CCF-York East) said she received 177 telegrams. A. A. MacLeod (Lab.-Prog.-Toronto Bellwoods) said he got 108. Progressive Conservative members said they also received a number of telegrams.

Members' desks were also littered with coupons clipped from newspaper advertisements sponsored by margarine manufacturers urging opposition to the bill.

Most telegrams were similar in form to those sent to members Friday by chairmen of local branches of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada.

Red Party Secretary Charged With Sedition

SYDNEY, Australia, March 28—(AP)—The general secretary of the Australian Communist party was charged with sedition today for pledging support to Russia if Soviet troops should enter Australia.

The Communist leader, Lawrence Louis Sharkey, pleaded innocent at a special session of federal court. He elected to be tried by a jury. Sharkey faces two charges—one of uttering seditious words and one of publishing seditious words on or about March 4.

Opening of the case revealed a split within trade unions generally considered Communist-dominated.

Many thousand members of the militant longshoremen and coal miners union refused to protest the prosecution of Sharkey. Of 23,000 men in the Wharf Laborers Union, only 5,000 obeyed an order of the federal executive to strike at the hour court opened. There were no other major work stoppages.

Rescue 7 Airmen From Desolate Arctic Island

EDMONTON, March 28 (CP).—A joint Canadian-United States rescue mission was ended to-day following the dramatic rescue of seven American airmen from barren Ellesmere Island, deep within the Arctic Circle.

The rescue was carried out with cool, clock-like precision by a ski-equipped US Air Force Dakota on Sunday. The plane touched down on the island where the airmen had been forced to crash-land their plane last Thursday, picked up the human cargo, and took of for the 1½-hour return flight to Thule, Greenland. None were injured in the crash.

From Greenland an American B-17 was scheduled to take the rescued fliers to Goose Bay, Labrador.

The rescue brought to an end a widespread search across the vast, barren stretches of Arctic waste that swung into action last Thursday night, when a distress signal was received from the aircraft. Completely lost and running short of fuel the crew of the US Air Force, C-82 Fairchild Packet message said that they were going to attempt a crash-landing.

Spotted on Island

The following day, as RCAF and US planes scoured the snow and ice fields of the North, a wireless message was received from the crew of the downed aircraft, stating that all crew members were safe. Spurred on by the report, an armada of about a dozen planes continued the search Saturday until a US B-17 spotted the plane on Ellesmere Island. The B-17 dropped supplies to the stranded men and plans that resulted in their pickup were put into action.

The aircraft was about 700 miles off course on its 1,100 miles flight north from Frobisher Bay to Resolute Bay, some 1,200 miles north of Churchill, Man. The region in which it was flying is one of the most difficult known for accurate navigation. The relatively close proximity to the Magnetic Pole makes use of normal compasses practically impossible.

Cafe Holdup Nets Gunman $5,000

MONTREAL, March 28—(CP)—A pint-sized gunman with a big German pistol held up the Pagoda Cafe on West Notre Dame Street today and got away with an estimated $5,000.

The robbery, fourth in Montreal during the week-end came about 5 a.m. when 50 patrons were still in the cafe.

Manager Marc Henri Reniere said he was counting the week-end receipts when the bandit, a handkerchief over his face, demanded "all the money you've got."

Reniere said he handed over the cash and the bandit fled.

The other holdup victims, robbed of about $41 in cash and a $55 wrist-watch, were two taxi-drivers and a messenger boy.

Auto Workers Seek More Pay, Pensions

TORONTO, March 25 —(CP)—Wage increases, pension and medical plans will be sought by unions of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) in their 1949 labor contracts, it was decided at the district council meeting of the U.A.W. which ended here Sunday.

Delegates from all U.A.W. locals in Canada backed a decision to endorse the C.C.F. party and recommended that all members support C.C.F. candidates in the next federal election.

Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the union, said it would seek wage increases giving members "the same relative buying power that they had in 1946."

Other resolutions approved at the meeting included demands for old age pensions of $60 monthly at the age of 60 and for a low-cost government housing program.

Private Enterprise Helps Britain—Bevin

NEWPORT, WALES, March 28. (Reuters.)—Health Minister Aneurin Bevan said at a Labor party rally here Saturday night that private enterprise was partly responsible for Britain's economic recovery and that it had thrived under the "benevolent guidance of a Socialist government."

"This is beginning to dawn upon some business men," he added.

"In 1945 I said we wanted 20 years of Socialist government, and we are going to have it," the former Welsh miner declared. "By that time we shall have made Great Britain so strong that even the Tories can be left in charge."

Jewel Theft Thwarted

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—After an eight-hour, all-night vigil at a loft building, police seized five men in connection with an attempted $200,000 jewel theft yesterday. The men had dug through two wood and concrete floors to get at a safe, so as to bypass burglar alarms, police said.

Red Agitators Blamed For Navy Trouble

OTTAWA, March 28 —(CP) — The possibility appeared today that inexperienced naval recruits, egged on by such subversive elements as Communists, may have been responsible for three recent disturbances aboard naval vessels, involving a total of more than 100 ratings.

It was learned that naval headquarters, puzzled over the disturbances, latest of which was aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent, will launch a general inquiry early in May, after the three ships, the Magnificent and two destroyers Crescent and Athabaskan, reached home ports.

Both officers and ratings aboard the three vessels, it was understood, will be involved in the inquiry. The ships have crews totalling more than 1,300.

At the same time it was also understood counter-intelligence officers at naval headquarters have started a check of their own into the possibility that Communists or other subversive elements may have slipped by screening nets and gained entry into naval establishments. Naval headquarters would make no comment on this point.

Counter-intelligence officers launched their investigation, it was believed, when the first of the three disturbances was reported aboard the Athabaskan Feb. 26. It appeared likely that about 50 took part.

In all three cases the disturbance were cleared up 'on the spot" by the commanding officers of the ships. Reports of these commanding officers are expected to be examined when the ships dock at their home ports.

Hit-Run Driver Gives Self Up

TORONTO, March 28—(CP)—Austen B. McIlmoyle, Toronto lawyer, was charged with manslaughter Sunday night after he surrendered to police seeking the driver of an automobile blamed for the highway death late Saturday of Ernest Wills, 76, of nearby Maple.

McIlmoyle, about 35, went to a police station where he was questioned for an hour. He was accompanied by a lawyer.

The elderly man had left his home on the darkened No. 7 Highway to walk 150 yards to a store to obtain medicine for an ailing grandson.

Death overtook him as walked against traffic with a flashlight on the south side of the highway. Three persons in the store heard the crash. They said they saw the driver get out of his car and walk back, view the fatally injured man, then drive off.

A woman was killed on No. 11 Highway near Bradford, less than two hours after the first fatality. Provincial police investigating the Concord death hurried to where Mrs Elizabeth Jenks, 42, was killed, not far from her home on the Bradford Marsh. The driver of the car which struck Mrs. Jenks was not held.

Mr. Wills was killed instantly.

designed to get headlines in the press. He admitted that this campaign had been succeeding and said Liberals must acquaint themselves with the facts so they could counteract the opinions of those who were swept away by headlines alone.

"The official opposition has taken the same attitude about nearly every measure before parliament," he said. "They have not dared to say our measures are not good measures. In fact you could really sum up the opposition stand this way: The government is doing the right thing but doing it the wrong way."

Mr. Drew had accomplished nothing for the people. "The Conservatives may have more neon lights but, after all, we have the goods."

Pleases Quebec Friends

Mr. St. Laurent contended, too, that the Drew stand on entry of Newfoundland for consultation with the provinces was "no doubt planned to please the friends of the Tories in Quebec." He noted that Premier Duplessis had made the same argument before Mr. Drew had.

The Prime Minister, throwing new light on one phase of the Liberals' social security program, said the government wants to see Canada have more hospital beds and trained personnel before it brings down any such measure as health insurance. The $30,000,000-a-year health grants were aimed in this direction.

At the civic luncheon, he called for labor to identify its objectives with those of the community as a whole, because in that method there lay benefits for all.

He had never seen, he said, any need in Canada for an equivalent of the Taft-Hartley law. These rights of labor to organize and to bargain collectively were essential to the prevention of class clashes which would lay the groundwork for communism.

At the public meeting, he declared, "We (Liberals) are ordinary, everyday people. The Tories are not."

He pictured Oshawa as part of the industrial arsenal of North America, which stood behind the ability of the Atlantic pact nations to present such a front that any aggressor would know he would have to overcome them all if he tackled one.

Obtaining $280 from William Merson, Brantford, by representing a car as free of incumbrances; Merson is still waiting for his money;

The worthless share against charges involve $1,000 he obtained from Mrs. Muriel Winegargden, Kennedy Street, and James Dow, Mohawk Street.

Brillinger was arrested at Peterborough several weeks ago. He was operating a small gift shop at the time and $4,000 in antiques identified as part of a $5,000 burglary from a Montreal art dealer were found in the store. Police have said they believed that charges in the antiques would not be pressed.

Police here said he is also wanted for non-support at Sudbury where he has a wife and child.

COACHES CRY FOR HIM—Billie Hughes, veteran sports trainer and one of Canada's former boxing greats, is caught by the camera in the familiar surroundings of a Winnipeg rink dressing room. Now past 60 years of age, Billie would like to retire but his widspread reputation as a magic healer of ailing athletes keeps him in constant demand. Trainer of six Grey Cup championship teams, the popular Winnipeg sports figure is the only boxer ever to hold three Canadian titles at one time.

throwing in fabricated reports, trying to mislead the court, and I'll prove that today.

"Today should be very interesting, Mr. Commissioner, very interesting."

He picked up from the commission clerk's table a copy of a report put in as evidence and charged that "Mr. Hope and the authorities have seen fit to mislead the court, to erase this document in the last two weeks."

Harangues Commission

For nearly 20 minutes, the enraged constable harangued the Commission. Then Mr. Justice MacKay interrupted: "This Royal Commission is not going on indefinitely. I have the taxpayer to consider."

"This is one Royal Commission that won't be a whitewash," the constable said.

Asks Proper Perspective

The Commissioner told the constable to get things in their "proper perspective," then added firmly: "Let there be no suggestion that this inquiry is not being conducted fairly and exhaustively. Never in 14 years has any one even remotely made such a suggestion, and any one who does make such a suggestion will have the privilege of establishing it."

The constable resumed questioning Cpl. Sam Ervine, who first came to the stand Wednesday.

He questioned the corporal about an allegedly false entry in the corporal's police diary for September 28, 1947. The constable alleged the entry was altered some time in December.

Th corporal insisted the entry was completed September 28 and never changed.

False Signature

Cpl. Ervine charged that a report presented to the Commission and purporting to carry his signature, was not signed by him.

"That is not my signature," Cpl. Ervine said, "and well Constable Keays knows it."

The document was alleged to be the corporal's weekly report for the week ending October 4, 1948.

Constable Keays said that none of the police records showed that Cpl. Ervine and Constable G. R Purdy spent any time investigating a traffic accident in November, 1947, involving Leroy Woods.

"In theory you may be right," Cpl. Ervine said. "But that is trickery, absolute trickery."

Constable Keays asked why Cpl. Ervine had been transferred to Belleville. The corporal said he had had differences of opinion with a police inspector.

Charges Drunkenness

"I'm suggesting it was for drunkenness," said Constable Keays.

"No," said Cpl. Ervine. "It was for some part of duty."

Constable Keays said several times Corporal Ervine had been too drunk to report for duty.

"That is absolutely false," said Cpl. Ervine.

Mr. Hope objected that the questions were irrelevant.

"I must assume the constable is going to introduce something to contradict the witness," said the commissioner. "Otherwise it's completely meaningless."

He said he was giving the constable much more latitude than he could hope to have with a lawyer.

European Council Holds London Session

LONDON, March 28 (Reuters)—Five new member states—Italy, Eire, Sweden, Norway and Denmark — will be represented when the Council of Europe Conference opens at the Foreign Office here to-day for further work on a "constitution" which is already partly prepared.

Plans so far worked out by the original Western Union members of the Council indicate the Assembly of Europe is to have a deliberate but not a legislative function.

It would be empowered to make recommendations to its committee of ministers, which alone would exercise executive power.

It has been further recommended, in the provisional proposals submitted to the founding Western Union powers by the Council's permanent commission in February, that defence and most economic questions shall not be within the Council's terms of reference.

Espanola Man Held In Slaying

SUDBURY, March 28 —(CP)—Albert Quesnel of Espanola was formally charged with murder here today in the strangle-slaying at Espanola last Friday of Mrs. Harry Cleland, 71.

Quesnel, 38-year-old laborer, was returned to the district jail here after being remanded until April 5. He was not asked to plead

The partly-clothed body of the aged woman was found Saturday in a swamp 100 yards from her home by two children playing in a gully by the highway. Quesnel was taken into custody and brought here for questioning late Saturday.

Provincial Police here today said a post mortem confirmed that the woman had been criminally attacked. Death was due to strangulation.

Mrs. Cleland left the bingo game about 11 p.m. Friday and Mrs. E. L. Shaughnessey told police she spoke to her in a confectionery store about 11:10 p.m.

"She was in good spirits and talked about the bingo," Mrs Shaughnessey said later. "I saw her leave for home, which is about a third of a mile away."

Mrs. Cleland came to Canada from Scotland with her husband in 1910 and took up residence at Blind River where the husband worked as stationery engineer for a lumber company before moving here to be chief engineer from 1912-1924 with the old Spanish River Pulp and Paper Company. He also worked in Kenora and Smooth Rock Falls.

The couple returned to Espanola when Cleland retired last year.

French Gov't Swamps Election Vote

PARIS, March 28—(AP)—Interior Minister Jules Moch, a Socialist, today said France has taken a "swing to the right" in the Cantonal (County) elections, in which the Communists took a licking.

The Cantonal elections ended Sunday. Final results showed that 133 Communists incumbents were defeated and only 34 Communist incumbents were returned to office. The parties making up the middle-of-the-road Coalition Government swamped both Communists and the De Gaullists of the extreme right.

In Socialist ranks 150 incumbents were defeated and only 279 of 429 former office holders were returned to their jobs. Socialists have been left of centre, but have not been travelling with the Communists.

Popular vote figures were not released for the present. Last week, in the first round of Cantonal elections, Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Rassemblement Du Peuple Francais carried about 28 per cent of the popular vote, more than any other single party, and it appeared the De Gaullists continued that trend yesterday.

The parties making up the present government won 1,082 seats to 389 for the De Gaullists and 37 for the Communists. Ninety-nine seats went to Independents. The De Gaullists, however, won more seats than any single party.

The election was for the General Councillors who help run the departments and was important chiefly as an indication of popular feeling. However, there was no voting in Paris, where the Communist vote is generally large.

It is difficult to compare this balloting with the last Cantonal election in 1945. At that time the Communists were included in the government and the De Gaullists had not yet formed their own party—Rassemblement du Peuple Francais.

Sunday's voting was the second round in the election. The first was March 20. In numerous districts the issue simply became one of Communism and anti-Communist.

In the first round an absolute majority of votes was needed to elect. On the second round, a simple plurality of votes won. So the week between rounds was filled with scurrying among candidates and parties to make deals —principally at the expense of the Communists.

The four major groups making up the government bloc are the Socialists (Moderates) and a small Rightist group. Radical Socialist Henri Queuille is Premier.

Engine Jumps Rails

HAMILTON, March 28 (CP)—A CNR freight train locomotive ploughed a furrow six feet deep in the ground and completely severed a siding track this morning when it jumped the rails and overturned as it rounded the Bayview curve near the York Street traffic circle.

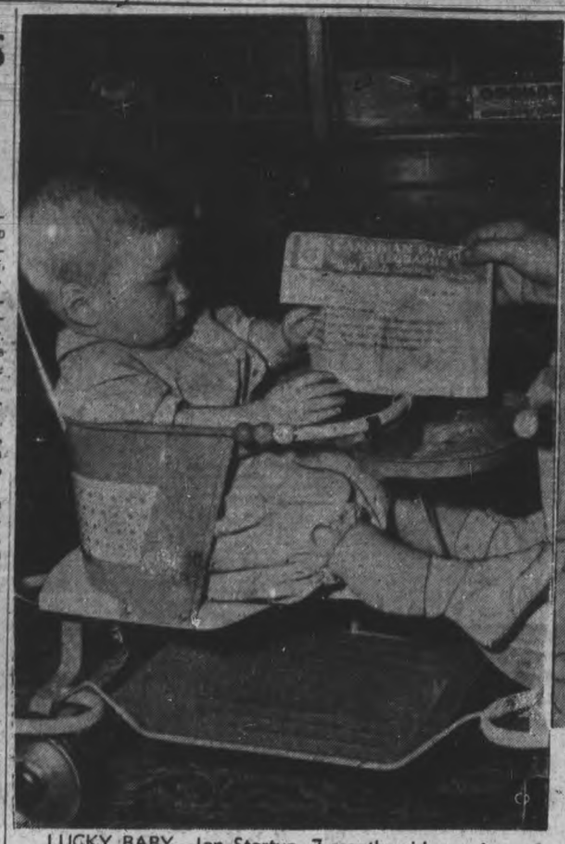
Toronto Families Collect On Irish Sweeps

TORONTO, March 28.—Fortune, riding plucky Russian Hero in the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree, smiled on two Toronto families, Saturday, Mr and Mrs. George Greig of 350 Ashdale Ave. held an Irish Sweepstakes ticket on the 66-1 winner.

You win! You win!" Douglas Greig shouted at the dazed couple as the radio crackled out the news. They gasped with the shock of being $100,000 richer. First words, when they found their breath, were "a home of our own!" Then they dashed out of the house to celebrate.

Ralph Day, former Toronto mayor, also had a ticket on Russian Hero. He was seriously ill with a blood complaint at his Nanton Ave. home in Rosedale. But he roused to listen as the news came from Aintree. "Very pleased," was Mrs. Day's comment on her husband's reaction. "Very pleased, indeed."

For another family, the Grand National was a sad anti-climax. Mrs. Alice Linklater, 619 Coldstream Ave., had a ticket on Bruno II. But she didn't listen to the race. Her husband, Harold Linklater, died suddenly two hours before the race was run.



Straining to catch the BBC broadcast, a dozen families in the Toronto district sat back with sighs of disappointment. Luck had dealt them only consolation prizes of some $470. Their horses "also ran."

Great Rejoicing

But there was enough rejoicing in the Grieg household to make up for the others' disappointment. George, 25, and Gloria, 23, were married June 21, 1947. They had been living with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Greig. Their home was comfortable, but the young couple wanted their own home.

And now they can have it. Gloria is already making plans for picking out a house. Although the sudden acquisition of $100,000 is something of a blow, as George put it, it would be so much easier to understand winning $20. But $100,000—and tax free—wow!

George was a jeweler with a small manufacturing firm downtown. He'd put in four years overseas as a signaller with the Third Division of the Canadian Army. Neither he nor Gloria had ever seen a horse race. And they'd never bought a sweepstake ticket before, either. They felt just a bit uncomfortable about the ticket, so George gave the house telephone number—HA. 2039—as a hom de plume.

LUCKY BABY—Ian Startup, 7-months-old grandson of Ralph Day, former Mayor of Toronto, holds the telegram which means $100,000 to his grandfather following the running of the Grand National on Saturday. Ex-Mayor Day, himself too ill to permit photographs, termed his grandson the lucky symbol for him when told of the victory of Russian Hero on which he held a ticket in the Irish Sweepstakes.

SWEEPSTAKES WINNERS—Mr. and Mrs. George Greig, who this year purchased their first ticket in an Irish Sweepstakes, are pondering what they are going to do with the $100,000 they won Saturday when Russian Hero 100-1 shot came from behind to win the Grand National at Aintree. Married only a year, the couple are both employed in the same jewellery manufacturing plant in Toronto.

Arrest Of Two Youths Follows Shopbreaking

COBOURG, March 28—(ENS)—Two Hamilton youths were arrested during the weekend in that city on warrants alleging shopbreaking in Cobourg and Port Hope. Police said they are Donald Deadman and Donald Wainwright.

With their arrest, have been recovered $300 of merchandise stolen in Cobourg and a $100 rifle stolen from Port Hope. Police are looking for a tthird youth and expect to recover the rest of the merchandise. Two other Hamilton men are charged with receiving stolen goods in connection with the two in custody here.

Investigations in Cobourg by Chief W. J. Carey and Constable H. Pearse formed part of the enquiry which resulted in the arrest of Deadman and Wainwright in Hamilton. Provincial Constable Don Nicol of Cobourg assisted in the investigation of the Port Hope robbery.

Woman Doctor Dies

TORONTO, March 28—(CP)—One of Canada's first woman doctors, Dr. Emma Leila Skinner Gordon 89, died Sunday at her home. She established in 1906 Toronto's first out-patient clinic for women, staffed by women doctors, so that poor patients could receive prenatal and natal care.

Visited In U.S. To Hear Husband

TORONTO, March 28 —(CP)—Mrs. Barker Fairley, 63, of Toronto, one of two persons requested to leave the United States by immigration authorities Saturday night, said here Sunday that she visited the U.S. primarily to hear her husband speak in his special lecture series.

She denied making the trip to attend the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace at New York. The conference has been described as a sounding board for Communist propaganda.

She was arrested along with her husband, Prof. Barker Fairley, 61, and John Goss of Vancouver at the conference by eight immigration agents on orders of the justice department. The professor was released and allowed to stay in the U.S.

"Prof. Fairley has been guest professor at Columbia since Feb. 1," Mrs. Fairley said, "and is giving special lectures on Goethe at Yale, Princeton, Vassard and Bryn Mawr."

Mrs. Fairley is a member of the Cultural Committee of the Labor-Progressive Party, formerly the Community party of Canada. Goss is a theatrical producer.

On his arrival in Vancouver Sunday night Mr. Goss said in an interview the technique used by investigating United States immigration authorities was "similar to that used by the Nazis in 1933."

Says TB Menace Being Reduced Across Canada

COBOURG, March 28—(ENS)—W. C. Stephenson, district supervisor of Casualty Rehabilitation of the Dept. of Veterans Affairs, spoke about his administrative work to Cobourg Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon of the Club. The speaker devoted considerable attention to a discussion of the tuberculosis work of the DVA.

Canada, he declared, was winning the fight against TB. In the early nineteen hundreds it was a top killer with 20,000 in a year. By 1946 it had been reduced to 4,200 a year and TB had dropped from first to seventh place in the death parade. In the past 10 years, 40,000 TB patients had returned to normal life.

The progress that has been made in TB treatment had been due to mass X-rays, adequate medical treatment facilities and sound rehabilitation practices, he said. In industry many plants required medical examinations before employment and many cases were discovered in this manner.

Members of the armed forces were X-rayed on admission and on discharge from service. DVA was servicing veterans who had TB on discharge and of 5,000 vets of World War 2 in hospital, 2,500 were TB cases. In the local military district, 44 TB patients were under treatment.

Eliminate Milk

TB once came from contaminated milk but this was taken care of by pasteurization and it is now spread mostly by airborne germs, Mr. Stephenson said. It was no respecter of age or persons. X-ray examinations revealed three stages of the disease, scars which showed that the person once had it, primary stage and advanced stage. If the disease is caught in time, there is every chance of the patient being cured and returning to normal life.

The speaker told of the hospital routine at Kingston in treating veterans with tuberculosis and of the opportunity afforded them while in hospital, of learning trades and professions.

"These men have served their countries well and hope to return to their communities. . . them help and co-operation when they come home and Rotary can help too in this regard," Mr. Stephenson said.

Escapes As Car Burns East Of Cobourg

COBOURG, March 28—(ENS)—Joseph Suggett of Toronto escaped with a shaking up when his car went out of control just east of here Sunday and crashed into a telephone pole. The car caught on fire after Suggett got out and was almost totally destroyed. Telephone lines were put out of commission until a repair crew connected the break. Provincial constables W. Baluk and H. Woolrich investigated.

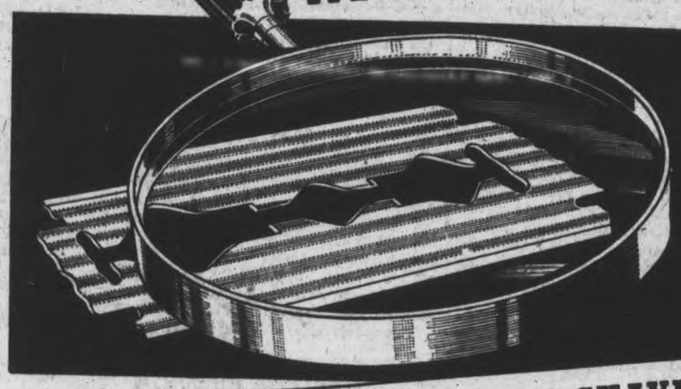
Presentation Party Held For Newlyweds

ROSENEATH, March 28—(ENS)—A dancing party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Davey (nee Doris Spiers) was held recently in the Orange Hall. After refreshments, the couple was called to the stage and on behalf of the community, James Thompson read an address and Kenneth Dowler presented them with an end table and a purse of money.

Four Badly Hurt In Head-on Crash

HAMILTON, March 28.—(CP).—Four persons were seriously injured in a head-on collision on highway two, one mile west of Ancaster, Sunday.

The injured are: Ken MacDougall of Oshawa; his wife, Maxine; his sister-in-law, Winnifred Duncan, 31, Toronto, and Dwight Foregorve, 32, of Cainsville.



Swim Two Miles

CLEVELAND, March 28—(AP)—Two 32-year-old salesmen, dumped into Lake Erie's chill waters when their boat capsized Sunday, swam two miles to shore. Charles Dana Burke and John R. Reddock made the long swim after deciding it might be hours before the bottom of their 18-foot Kayak or their bobbing heads would be spotted in the choppy waters.

Braden Train Wreck

KITCHENER, March 28—(CP)—Passenger service schedules were delayed Sunday as the result of a Canadian National Railways freight train wreck at nearby Braden. One car apparently left the tracks, derailing eight others. The locomotive and about 20 freight cars remained on the track. No one was injured.

New Invention gives "straight-edge" shave with ordinary safety razor

Ever-Ready CORUX ends razor "pull" because it's corrugated!

TRY CORUX SUPER-KEEN SHAVES . . . FREE!

For the first time—you can now get a "straight-edge" shave with your safety razor. For years Scientists have been trying to eliminate vibration from a thin blade as it meets a stiff beard. This vibration causes the blade to "skip" over whiskers . . . to "pull".

Now, a new invention by Ever-Ready Engineers applies the time-proven principle of "corrugation" to double-edge blades. Keen-edged Ever-Ready Corux blades, because they are corrugated, remain rigid against the stiffest beard and hold their edges longer.

The finest surgical steel, used in making Corux blades, is scientifically strengthened by rigid corrugations and is then ground and honed to a super-keen edge. These stronger, more rigid blades cut down vibration. Thus the Corux blade slicks through the beard with "straight-edge" action, gives a cleaner, more comfortable shave. With "pull" reduced, the edge lasts through many more shaves.

The most modern razor blade factory in Canada produces Corux blades. Special machinery makes large volume and low prices possible . . . Corux blades are only 25 cents for five, so that actual "per shave" cost for most Corux users is far less than a cent a shave. The Ever-Ready Corux is the only blade of its kind in the world.

TRY ONE BLADE FREE

The regular 5 blade package of Corux blades has an EXTRA free blade attached to the cover. Use this blade first . . . if you don't agree this is "straight-edge" shaving at its best—take back the unopened package and get your money back.

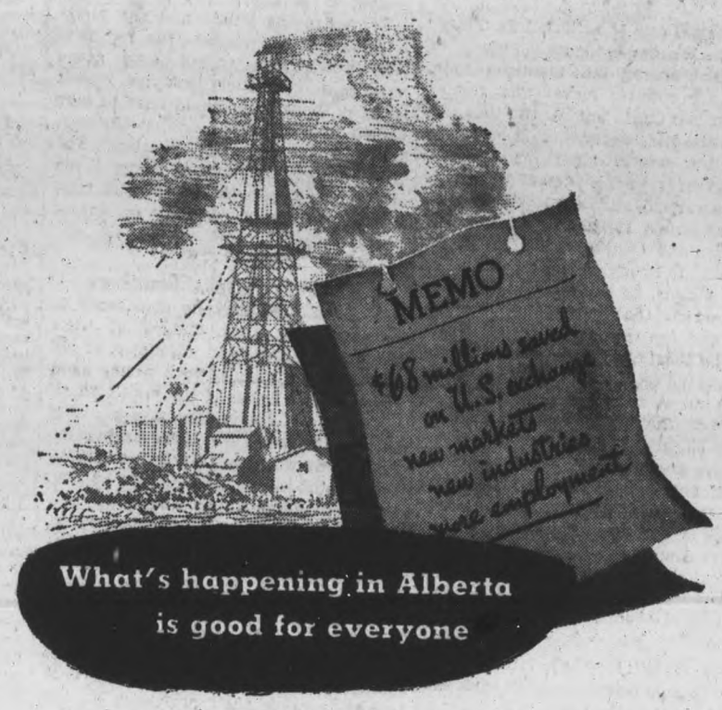
Try this on your friends. Place a crisp bill across two glasses, like a bridge. Tell your friends they can't rest a fifty-cent piece on the bill without it collapsing.



Then show them how it can be done. Crease the bill, lengthwise. You're actually "corrugating" your bridge.

Now the bridge will support the coin! This shows how "corrugation" adds strength. This is the principle that makes Corux blades stiffer, so they vibrate less and hold a keener edge far longer.

What's happening in Alberta is good for everyone

What's happening out in Alberta these days? Plenty! New oil is being sought and found. Money's flowing faster. There's lots of activity, lots of opportunity. And as a result all Canadians are better off.

For instance, oil from Alberta's new wells is expected to save 68 million U.S. dollars this year! That's one of the big reasons for Canada's better trade position, one of the reasons we are able to buy more U.S. goods.

The new discoveries have meant lower cost operation in Alberta and Saskatchewan for farmer and industrialist, and this must ultimately benefit all of Canada.

Then, too, it takes a lot of money to find oil and lots more to develop a field once it's found. Two million dollars a week is being poured into oil exploration and development in Alberta today. That spending creates new markets for the things the rest of Canada has to sell.

And finally let's recall that in the war years—and after—we were dependent on foreign oil for roughly 90 per cent of our supplies. This year prairie production should exceed prairie demand. With continued effort and reasonable success it is not too much to hope the men who search for oil will make Canada self-sufficient in petroleum in years to come.

Everywhere in Alberta you hear about new oil discoveries—all the more because they followed the long years when nature baffled the oil seekers. Years when men drilled holes two miles deep and found only water. Years of million-dollar disappointments.

In 1947 the tide turned. First it was the Leduc field . . . then the Woodbend field . . . next Redwater . . . now, still untested by time, other discoveries give new promise and the hope of still greater benefits for all Canadians.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

If you're interested in facts . . .

Consumption of oil in Canada is the second highest in the world on a per capita basis. United States alone is higher.

Canadians are using twice as much oil as in 1939 and more than three times as much as in 1932.

At the beginning of 1949 Canada was importing 84 per cent of her oil.

During 1948 Imperial Oil drilled a total of 138 wells in its search for oil and in developing the new fields of Alberta.

The oil industry is spending more than $100 million in exploration and development in Alberta this year.

Bringing you oil is a big job—and a costly one

Peterborough Reflects National Union Matters

On Thursday from Ottawa came news that the Canadian Congress of Labour, one of the two national labour organizations in this country and an affiliate of the American C.I.O., has ousted the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union from its membership, was considering a similar rejection of the United Electrical Workers' Union, and did remove C. S. Jackson, Canadian Director of U.E., from the C.C.L. executive. Whatever the given reasons for the suspensions and firings, underlying ones are the tussle for power between the right and left wing unions and members. There is contentious division within individual unions, there is division among unions in both the C.C.L. and the Trades and Labour Congress. The C.C.L., like the T.L.C., is under pressure to clean house of its left-wing, L.P.P. or communistically inclined members.

* * *

This situation is reflected in Peterborough. We see evidence of lack of agreement among U.S. members here. There are counter moves and rivalry between two C.C.L. unions, the U.E. and the United Steelworkers of America, as revealed at several organizing meetings during recent weeks. One of the U.E.'s more important and largest strongholds is Peterborough. It was this union which organized the Canadian General plant. It expects to have the sole right, among C.C.L. unions, to organize plants like the Western Clock Company, the De Laval and the Outboard Marine. However, the Steel Workers' representatives are planning on organizing these plants. This is not at all to the liking of Mr. C. S. Jackson, the district representative as well as Ontario President of U.E. However, the executive and many members of U.E. Local 524 seem less interested than Mr. Jackson in keeping the Steelworkers out of town. It seems that Mr. Jackson is more left-wing than many of the local members, more left-wing than, for instance, a man like John Morton, President of Local 524.

* * *

What this will lead to in labour affairs in Peterborough remains to be seen. It is significant that the C.C.L. is opening an organizing office in Peterborough, in which the Packinghouse Workers, the Textile Workers, and the Steelworkers' unions (all C.C.L.) will participate. This office is being opened despite the fact that the U.E., a C.C.L. union and first in the Peterborough field, already maintains an office here.

Status Of Women In The U.S.

The general opinion outside the United States, we should think, is that women there not only enjoy equal rights with men, but have also managed to retain quite a few of the traditional prerogatives of their sex. The general impression, in fact, is that the women of the United States are the spoiled darlings of their menfolk. It was mildly surprising, therefore, to learn that domestic political history was made in that country last week, when the Senate Judiciary Committee for the first time unanimously approved the proposed equal rights amendment to the United States Constitution.

It seems that although certain political rights were long ago granted to the women of the United States, the amendment assuring them equal rights has a twenty-six-year-old history of promise and no action. It was reported favourably by both major parties in the last Congress; it was part of the platforms of both parties in 1944 and 1948. The emphatic campaign promises died away to a whisper, however, when the question of legislation arose, until this action by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

There is still strong opposition to the measure and, oddly enough, it includes such persons as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, and many other staunch liberals. They argue that the amendment would nullify special protective labour laws for women, that it would be a threat to family support laws, and to social security provisions under which wives and widows now benefit.

Advocates of the amendment, on the other hand, argue that protective legislation for women in industry could conceivably operate to keep them out of certain types of work, especially better-paid work. They add that if such legislation is truly protective, it should be extended to cover men. Their most telling points, however, are the fact that more than one thousand state statutes discriminate against women (these would be wiped out by the amendment) and that "women are still not persons in the Constitution of the United States and do not have full citizenship under the Constitution".

The approval of the Senate committee appeared neatly timed. It was given just before the opening at Beirut, Lebanon, of the United Nations' Commission on the "Status of Women". Before the Commission's deliberations are concluded, the U.S. representatives may be able to report that their country constitutionally recognizes women as persons.

Ripe Peaches Can Be Shipped

An expert peach-grower, Mr. A. L. Brunner of South Essex, says that there is no reason why ripe peaches cannot be shipped without spoiling, even as far as from Ontario to Western Canada. He says, furthermore, that a peach gains one-quarter of its total size and most of its characteristic flavour, in the last twenty-four hours of ripening. Why, then, are so many peaches picked and shipped green?

Mr. Brunner says that this is done because in a green peach the oriental moth, which later becomes a worm, is still in its egg stage. A wormy green peach can be sold, whereas a wormy ripe peach could not. The oriental moth, he continues, can be controlled by proper spraying.

For years the public and the newspapers protested against the red netting which was spread over green peaches to make them look ripe. Now it looks as though we should have to take up the struggle again against the custom of shipping green peaches. The fruit costs enough, and there is no reason why buyers should eat poor fruit in order to save growers the trouble of proper spraying.

Students Assess Teachers

Students are generally considered to be shrewd if severe judges of their teachers' abilities and character. If old So-and-So is said to be a pretty good stick he usually is. If his pupils think his chalk aim sharp, they have probably been on the firing line. However, in some matters we would be reluctant to accept holus-bolus his pupils' estimate of him. We doubt, for instance, how good their judgement would be of his scholarship, his political principles, and his discretion. Officials of the University of Michigan do not seem to be troubled by such doubts.

Recently at that state institution for higher learning an official poll was taken among the students. They were asked to grade their professors on ten points, including difficulty of the course, clarity of presentation of the subject-matter of the course, ability to stimulate interest, and "general ability". A space was provided on the questionnaire for the students' individual comments. Forty-two of the 410 professors were given Grade A's by their pupils. Five failed even to secure a pass. The Assistant Dean of the University said that while the results of the poll were not conclusive enough to form a definite judgement yet, there was a "remarkable correlation" between the students' judgement and the administration's own assessment of its staff. The five who fluked the poll may be fired, the 42 Grade A professors may have their pay increased.

Were we teaching at Ann Arbour we would be tempted to mark all our students' examination papers Grade A, to speak humbly before our classes and to make sure that our tie and waistcoat were fetchingly in the latest mode to attract the favour of our women students. The Michigan students' poll may become a revolutionary yardstick of professional position. No more fawning on deans, no need to exhaust one's brains on scholarly treatises, no need to love learning for learning's sake. Just a dash of colour in the button-hole, a pinch of spice in the smile, and the ambitious professor will soon climb to the top of the popularity pole, and thus to the pinnacle of academic pay and fame. Pah!

NOTE AND COMMENT

A New England movie fan claims to have "sat 33 times through the same picture". We should like to know how many times he paid admission.

A boy of three in London, Ont., hugged his grandmother so tightly that he broke one of her ribs. Obviously he will be a Great Lover by about 1963.

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

"SAMUEL Rogers was a rich banker, a poor poet, a wicked wit and a delightful entertainer, amongst his multitudinous guest and friends being Charles Dickens," writes W. T. Shore in Charles Dickens And His Friends.

Rogers was wealthy, writing poetry for pleasure and with considerable pains. He was also a very slow worker, which gave rise to the following quaint conceit of Sydney Smith, who having told a friend that Rogers was not very well, was asked what was wrong with him:

"Oh, don't you know," said Sydney Smith, "he has produced a couplet, with infinite labour and pain, he takes to his bed, has straw laid down, the knocker tied up, and expects his friends to call and make inquiries, and the answer at the door invariably, is, "Mr. Rogers and his little couplet are as well as can be expected!"

✧ ✧ ✧

AT his dinners, Rogers had candles set high round the room, continues Shore, so that the pictures might be seen to advantage. When asked what he thought of this arrangement, Sydney Smith replied that he did not like it—"above, a blaze of light, below, darkness and gnashing of teeth".

✧ ✧ ✧

JOHN Black, editor of the Morning Chronicle, was every inch a journalist, as is well exemplified by the following story of an interview of his with Lord Melbourne. In the midst of the conversation, his lordship said somewhat abruptly:

"Mr. Black, I think you forget who I am!"

"I hope not, my lord," Black replied, somewhat taken aback and alarmed.

"Mr. Black, you forget that I am the prime minister, and treat me in a manner that is, to say the least of it, somewhat uncommon. Here am I, as I have said, in the position of prime minister, in confidential intercourse with you, and always glad to see you. I have patronage at my disposal, and you never so much as hint to me that you would like me to give you a place. And, Mr. Black, there is no man living to whom I would sooner give a place than to yourself."

"I thank you, my lord," said Black, "but I do not want a place. I am editor of the Morning Chronicle, and like my work and the influence it gives me, and do not desire to change places with anybody in the world—not even your lordship."

"Mr. Black, I envy you; and you're the only man I ever did."

✧ ✧ ✧

DICKENS, so we are told in Fifty Years Of Fleet Street, was quite alive to the peculiarities of John Forster, the British writer, and would mimic in the most amusing way his assumption of infallibility, sometimes even to his face. He told a story, too, of dining one night with him, and that boiled beef was set upon the table unadorned with carrots. Forster rang the bell, the said to the maid, "Mary! Carrots!" Mary replied that there "weren't none." To which Forster, with a dignified wave of the hand, "Mary, let there be carrots!"

✧ ✧ ✧

ONCE when Forster was awaiting a call from Count d'Orsay, he was unexpectedly summoned to his printers. "Now", he said to his servant, "you will tell the Count that I have only just gone round to call on Messrs Spottiswood the printers—you will observe, Messrs. Spot-in-wode." However, he missed the Count, and when next he met him, his explanation was cut short by him saying, "Ah! I know, you had just gone round to Zé Spotted Dog. . . I understand."

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN HOUSEHOLD WORD was sold by Messrs. Bradbury and Evans, "Boz" was represented at the sale by Forster, amongst others. Later, a friend, who had been present said to Dickens. "I cannot resist telling you how admirable Forster was throughout; cool, prompt, and energetic, he won the day with his business-like readiness." When Dickens met Forster, he repeated this to him, and the comment made by Forster was, "I am sorry, my dear Dickens, that I cannot return the compliment, for a damneder ass than your friend—I never met in a business affair."

✧ ✧ ✧

OF the many good stories told at Gore House perhaps this is most characteristic. . . . .a propos of Theodore Hock's righteously losing his temper when over pressed by a vulgar hostess to "perform".

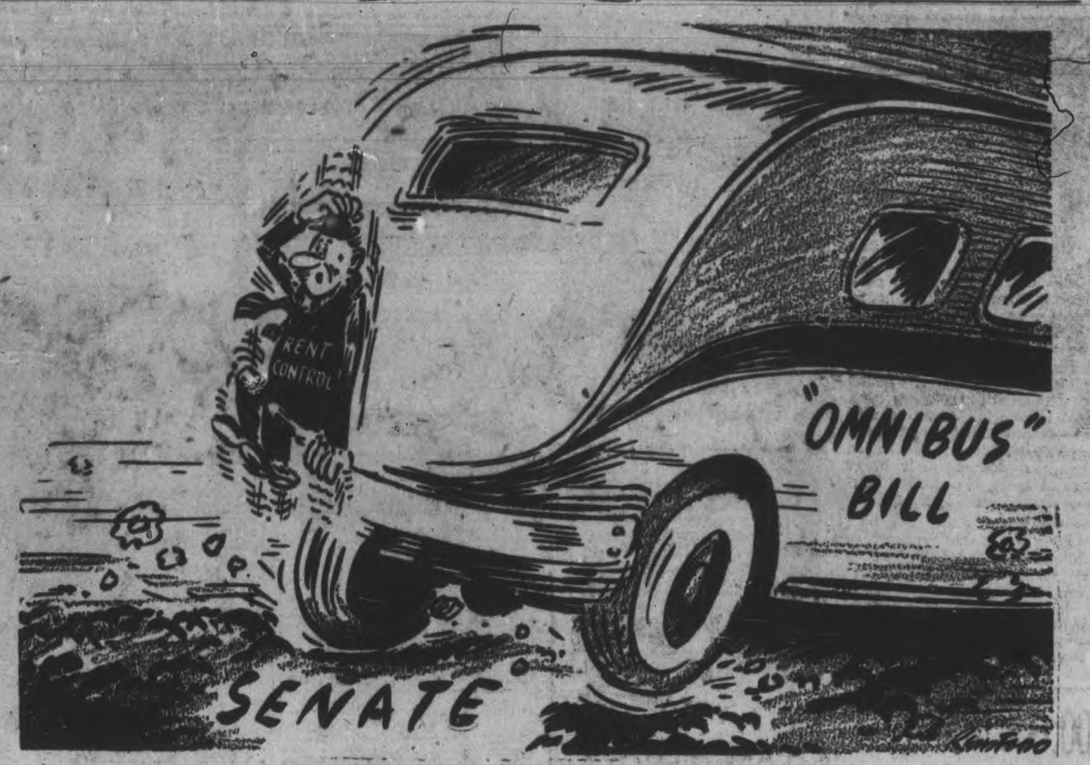
"Do, Mr. Hook, do favour us?"

"Indeed, madam, I can't; I can't indeed. I am like that little bird, the canary; can't lay my eggs wher anyone is looking at me."

✧ ✧ ✧

"I shared the admiration every member felt for Sir James (Sir James Lowther, greatly loved speaker of the British House of Commons) as Speaker and greatly appreciated the generosity with which he always treated me in debates, writes Sir James Sexton, the Docker's M. P. in his Autobiography.

He confesses that he liked the other "none the less because he showed, at times, that he possessed a somewhat caustic wit. It was not generally known", he says, "that he indulged in verse as I myself occasionaly did. When the House was discusing the probability of dispute in the coal-mining industry I perpetrated these lines:



In ancient Rome a bloke called Nero
Fiddled hard to drown the sound,
Though once acclaimed the nation's hero
And Rome was burning to the ground

And here we have the people's heroes,
Underneath the same old moon,
Britain's legislative Neroes
Fiddling out the same old tune.

"The next day the Speaker's Messenger handed me the following lines from Sir James:

In modern England Mr. Smillie,
Disgarding Nero's ancient role,
Would freeze us up, for—willy-nilly—
The population can't get coal.

Blame not the fiddling men of state!
They surely do nobody harm
If, for fear of Cramp by empty grate,
They strive to keep their fingers warm."

Stopwatch On Life

(NEW YORK TIMES)

WHEN he reached his eightieth birthday a Swiss recently took stock of his life with the aid of an unusually detailed diary. He did not reach the conclusion that he was moderately successful, or rejoice in his brief triumphs, or bemoan his many failures, indiscretions and stupidities, or express any opinion about himself in perspective as the sometimes bored, sometimes active, person that he was.

First of all he figured that he had spent 26 years, 312 days, 18 hours and 22 minutes just in sleeping — about a third of his life, which is what is to be expected of any man. Work accounted for 21 years, 85 days, 14 hours and 40 minutes. He was angry or annoyed 5 years, 346 days and 5 minutes. He wasted 5 years, 302 days, 16 hours and 45 minutes in anterooms, hotel lobbies and other places waiting for men and women with whom he had appointments. Eating consumed almost as much time—5 years, 346 days, 5 hours and 12 minutes. Shaving occupied 228 days, 2 hours and 52 minutes; signing his name 42 days, 14 hours and 58 minutes; scolding his children, 26 days, 14 hours and 3 minutes; tying cravats 18 days, 12 hours and 6 minutes; blowing and wiping his nose 13 days, 8 hours and 28 minutes; lighting cigars, cigarettes and pipes 12 days, 16 hours and 4 minutes; looking for collar buttons 6 days, 21 hours, 25 minutes; yawning, 4 days, 2 hours and 26 minutes; telling the barking dogs that he owned during his life to lie down and keep quiet 2 days, 14 hours and 20 minutes.

The saddest item of all is the last. He laughed only one day, 22 hours and 3 minutes.

On the whole this is not a bad way of viewing one's self objectively. The omissions from the table tell as much as the inclusions. A statistician who notes exactly how much time he spent each day merely in eating is not likely to be thrilled by a sunset or exalted by a Beethoven symphony perfectly played. So we have no statistical insight into his spiritual and emotional life. To be sure, there is an entry which reads "in love 4 years, 39 days, 8 hours and 27 minutes", but even the blood of a statistician can be stirred by femininity.

Evidently this recorder of yawns and scoldings was no Franz Liszt, who had 24 grandes passions and at least a hundred minor affairs of the heart, nor a Goethe, who was still kneeling at the feet of inamoratas in his old age.

Letter To The Editor

WHY IGNORE CANADIAN TALENT?

Sir: It is regrettable that the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show which is being held this week at the Coliseum in Toronto has to use American talent and features in order to stage this event.

The opening act of the arena show featured Miss Auna Lee Crusey, 23-year-old Ladies' Casting Champion of the U.S., with a fine display of serious and trick casting. She was followed by a mediocre "Australian Boomerang" performer with a Yankee drawl, an act which was obviously on the Hamid circuit.

The Skating Earls from New York went through the usual roller skating routine, and topped off their act by tossing their plump feminine partner into the pool.

The log rollers gave an amusing exhibition on a 'cork white pine log', lathed in Minnesota for the American star and his Canadian helper. Girard, 56-year-old Log Rolling Champion of the U.S., is from Gladstone, Michigan, and is really agile on the spinning timber. His assistant, Bill Fontana of Fort Frances, Ontario, although a much younger man, is equally adept at this lumbering art. One of Girard's four log-rolling sons, Lowell, is also in the act. Later in the show, the three American log birlers and the lone Canuck hold a tilting contest using the ever-popular Peterborough canoes.

A demonstration of comedy swimming and diving recalls the usual carnival aquacades we have seen so often. A Bostonian competes with a Knickerbocker in a badminton contest, while a nice American chap announces the game.

The most disappointing act of the show was the Girls' Water Ballet from New York. Their routine was weak and static and as far as ornamental swimming is concerned, these girls are not in the same class as our Ornamental Swimmers of Peterborough. We fail to understand why Promoter Tommy McClure ignored top-notch Canadian talent for the over-rated team from across the border . . . .a group of swimmers who had poor timing, a poor entrance and exit, and a definite lack of polish. Let us hope that Canadians will soon have an opportunity to see their own swimmers in action.

C. A. Franks of Ohio had a group of five retrievers which he put through their paces on the stage. This was an interesting act but it took three dogs to retrieve a duck from the pool.

The highlight of the show was the sea-lion, Sharkey, who came originally from the Catalina Islands. This animal is reputed to be the highest paid animal in show business, and the remarkable performance he gave testified to the patient training which was given him by his owner, Mark Huling of New York. Sharkey was indeed well worth seeing and kept the audience roaring at his antics.

This act terminated a real American vaudeville show at the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show.

It is too bad we can't organize a Canadian show without drawing on American talent. The Indian village is a group of American Indians, mostly Senecas in Blackfeet costumes from Northern New York State.

The Eskimo family too hailed from American territory . . . . Wales, Alaska.

The entertainment committee ignored the Six Nations group at Brantford, whom we have seen put on a splendid demonstration of Indian lore in more beautiful and authentic costumes and we are sure that Canadian Eskimos could be found in Northern Ontario, or at least in many easily accessible parts of Canada. Can't Canadian Sportsmen stage a Canadian demonstration with and for Canadians?

MARG. BAILEY.

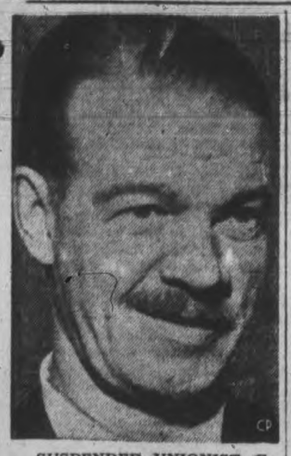
Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit. That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered.



I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten more wisdom than all they that have been before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge. And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit. For in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow. (Eccl. 1: 14-18.)

SUSPENDED UNIONIST—C. S. Jackson of Toronto, Canadian director of the left-wing United Electrical Workers Union, was suspended by the Canadian Congress of Labor following publication in the UEW official journal of an editorial accusing the Ontario Federation of labor leaders of "union splitting" and "war mongering" because of their support of the Atlantic Pact.

500,000 Men Return To Mines

PITTSBURGH, March 28 — (AP)—Nearly 500,000 members of the United Mine Workers east of the Mississippi began returning to the pits today.

They acted on orders of John L. Lewis, president of the UMW who called a two-week work stoppage March 14.

By the end of the day all 463,000 miners who quit at Lewis' orders were expected to be on the job.

A spokesman for the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators' Association estimated the miners lost $55,000,000 in wages during their two weeks of idleness.

Lewis called the stoppage as a protest against Dr. James Boyd's appointment as director of the United States Bureau of Mines. He also termed it a memorial to miners killed and injured last year. The Senate ignored Lewis and confirmed Boyd by a vote of 50 to 11.

Eisler Begins Fight To Kill Committee

WASHINGTON, March 28 — (AP)—Gerhart Eisler, alien Communist, today brought to the United States Supreme Court his legal battle to kill the House of Representatives committee on un-American activities.

The committee called Eisler "the No. 1 Communist in the United States." Now Eisler wants the supreme court to declare unconstitutional the law establishing the committee. Further, he asks a ruling that the committee has no constitutional authority to compel any witness to testify.

If Eisler wins the supreme court to his views, he will escape serving a sentence of a year in jail and $1,000 fine for contempt of congress. He was convicted of contempt on a government assertion that he refused to be sworn as a witness when called before the committee Feb. 6, 1947.

Peace Talks March 31

NANKING, March 28—(Reuters)—A Chinese government delegation will fly to Peiping March 31 to begin peace negotiations with the Communists, a non-partisan delegate, Chang Shih-chao, said Sunday. Nationalist leaders Sunday maintained an official silence on the Communist offer of peace talks, but there was an atmosphere of hopefulness in official circles.

Crew Escapes Injury

PORT ELGIN, N. B., March 28 (CP)—The train crew escaped injury Sunday night when 14 cars of a Moncton-bound Canadian National Railways freight train were derailed here. The train was en route to Moncton from the Prince Edward Island ferry terminal at nearby Cape Tormentine with freight from Charlottetown when the accident occurred.

Denies Interference

STRATFORD, Ont., March 28—(CP)—Harry Wigglesworth, President of the Ontario Section of the Canadian Ship-by-Rail Association, denied here Saturday a charge that the Association was interfering in railway trade unionism. "He's away off the beam," said Mr. Wigglesworth referring to the charge attributed to A. J. Kelley, Chairman of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, in an Ottawa dispatch Thursday.

A rematch between Earl (Moose) McCready and the Masked Marvel, with no time limit and a new referee, is the top offering on the pro mat card this Wednesday p.m. at the Brock Arena. Fans will remember the unsatisfactory finish to the last fracas between these huskies, and don't be too surprised if the Moose doesn't play it plenty rugged this time and perhaps pull the hood off the Marvel's mug. A torrid tussle indicated with no gong shortening it just when things are at their hottest. Wee Willie Davis goes in the prelim against one Ray Villmer—described as "fast and sensational"—while the prelim has colorful Pat Flanagan meeting Mike Mahalakis.

Comes a letter from Detroit, saying: "I am an old Peterborough boy, a great hockey fan and seldom miss a game. Montreal has a good hockey team and so has Detroit, but from what I have seen of the playoffs Montreal has shown poor sportsmanship. After the game ending the schedule, not a Montreal player or coach went to the Wings to congratulate them. In playoffs, they're out to put Howe and Lindsay out of commission. I like to see a good bodycheck but not a team that comes out with blood in the eye to kill or cripple someone because he's good. When Red Wings go to Montreal, I look for injuries. If Montreal played open hockey and not kitty-bar-the-door, Wings would beat their ears off. Red Wings aren't softies. Howe gave the Rocket as nice a trimming as I've ever seen here two or three weeks ago. My prediction is Wings in six games, barring injuries. Penalties will cost Canadiens the cup."

They Average Out

This leter was written by Sylvester ("Vep") McMahon, an old Ashburnham boy, living some 25 years now in Detroit. In fact, we recall him vaguely as a kid, though he was older than this writer. We picked Wings to win this season, too, but have to mitt the Habs for making a great fight of it—they beat Wings again on Saturday. As for rough tactics, there is some keen rivalry betwixt these clubs and they play for keeps. We believe, like Dit Clapper — whose Bruins won a nice one Saturday in Toronto—that no one NHL team gets away with too much rough stuff over a season. These chaps all can take care of themselves, and they average out pretty evenly over the campaign.

Word comes that Grimsby Peach Kings will play the local Legionnaires at 8.30 p.m. Tuesday in Lindsay to open a best-of-three OHA senior "B" semi-final series. Return tilt in Grimsby on Thursday and third, if necessary, possibly in Oshawa the end of the week. Yeah, it's another semi-final for the locals, the OHA refusing to give 'em a bye into the finals (despite a strong argument) but once again giving the break to Sarnia, last year's champs. Legion had first been told that the series with Kingston was a semi-final one, but here they're back in semi-finals again. Grab your ducats at once for this one tomorrow in Lindsay as the place will be jammed when the Kings and Legion tee off.

PCVS Came Through

Two fine basketball playoffs at the Collegiate on Saturday p.m. Congratulations to the classy young PCVS juvenile boys on pulling out a 51-43 victory o'er St. Catharines to win the OABA title series by five points in a great showing. More than 400 fans cheered wildly at the keen competition, and Bev Goulding's squad earned the narrow margin against a good team. They now meet Sudbury here April 4-5 for the all-Ontario title, winner then taking on the Quebec-Maritime survivor. PCVS seniors are in Toronto for playoffs this weekend. Towne Togs faded in LOBA semi-finals but the local lasses went out fighting, winning the game 41-35 but losing the round 84-63 to Toronto Clifton's. They made an excellent showing before bowing out.

Senior "A" lacrosse executive met over the week-end and, as expected, named Red Creighton coach again for this season. The redhead piloted the Petes to two OLA senior "B" titles the past two years and deserves a chance to show his wares as a senior "A" skipper. Clyde Cameron is manager with Mick Magee co-manager. Mick and Red have been checking on such players as Lloyd Wooton, Harry Kazarin and Tom Shordoff of Owen Sound, Curly Mason of Fergus and Jack Dorney of West York, along with a few more, to bolster the local squad for the coming campaign. Another meeting in a week or so to report progress and plan on Bowl improvements, etc. The club is by no means idle these days.

The final games in the Sturgeon Trophy were played Saturday evening. In the primary event it was all Dr. C. McKee. He started off good and was never headed. Tommy Doughty's rink just had an off-night.

In the consolation final F Green, pinch-hitting for H. Baptie, won from N. Hamley. Both these games were of the one-sided variety.

That must have been some bonspiel Saturday when 14 men's rink played all afternoon and each member of the winning rink received an auto, complete with radio, air conditioning, spare tires and a 1949 license. The cars were all lined up along the curb, just outside the rink and the winning curlers just took over from there—and the most amazing think about this 'spiel was that the fee was only 25 cents a curler. The prices of autos sure have taken a drop. The winning skips were I. Moore, G. Clark, H. Richardson, E. R. Shirley and F. Batten.

Our present curling season comes to a close this Thursday, March 31. This information was given to us Saturday. The books will be closed and all accounts paid—but it takes a lot of cash to run this organization and it appears that there are some curlers who have overlooked that important item. If this concerns you please contact R. F. Downey at once. See what we mean?

Togs Bow Out Battling In Cage Series

Towne Togs triumphed over Toronto Clifton's, 41-35, at the Collegiate gym on Saturday night but they lost the LOBA intermediate "B" semi-final series by an 84-63 score. Toronto girls carried a 25-point lead here from the first game and it was too much for the Togs, though they went down fighting in a fine finish. A good-sized gallery saw a swell cage tussle.

The local lassies opened the scoring but as they pressed they were caught guardless in first half as Clifton's broke away to outscore them 18-15 at the half. Togs were down 31-27 as the third quarter finished but all of the Yudin squad fought furiously in the final frame to outscore their worthy opponents 14-4.

With all the losers putting up a great show, it was hard to pick stars. Jean Vass stood out going both ways with Shirley Curtis and Dot Callan also strong throughout. For Toronto, Irene Aldred, Gloria Jones and Sylvia Cameron shone. It was a fine game between two battling teams and the fans liked it. The teams:

Clifton's—I. Aldred 12, G. Kennedy, D. Ibroe, B. Downer 1, S. Cameron 5, O. Romanko, G. Jones 9, G. Wallace 6, G. Norton 2, G. Tinkam.

Togs—B. Pringle 1, D. Callan 4, A. Davis 7, S. Curtis 10, J. Vass 14, J. Dunk, A. Bowler, J. Castle, E. Whittaker 2, J. Plunkett 3, B. Deyell.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Henri Rochon, the Montreal drop-shot artist, was ranked No. 1 by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association for the second straight year Saturday, but the slim French-Canadian had to share top rating as the Dominion's best player with Rene Buser, a smooth-stroking Swiss who now plays out of Montreal.

Selection of Rochon came as no surprise, but Buser's ranking was unexpected. The former Swiss Davis Cup player's only important victory was in the Montreal cup tournament last summer, but he went to the quarter-finals in the Canadian championships and the semi-finals in the Quebec Provincial title matches. The announcement of the rankings came from Montreal.

Midland Huskies eliminated Lindsay Mustangs from further O. H. A. Junior C competition by scoring a 6-4 victory before some 1,200 fans at Midland Saturday. A large delegation from Lindsay saw their favorites drop the deciding match of the three-game series.

At Barrie, W. D. Lowe Vocational of Windsor defeated Runnymede Collegiate of Toronto 7-4 Saturday to win the Eaton Trophy for Ontario Interscholastic Hockey. This is the first year the trophy has been up for competition.

At Sydney, N. S., Hugh MacNeil, former coach of North Sydney Victorias Hockey Club, said here Saturday he would appeal a decision of the full bench of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court, dismissing his claim for damages against the Cape Breton Senior Hockey Club, to the Supreme Court of Canada. MacNeil claimed $5,700 for damages and wrongful dismissal after he was ousted as coach of the North Sydney Club last year.

Brooklyn Dodgers Saturday sold pitcher Hank Behrman to the New York Giants for a sum estimated at $40,000, it was announced at Vero Beach, Fla. Behrman, powerful right-handed thrower, has been in the Brooklyn doghouse for training violations ever since his arrival in the big leagues in 1946. He was sold to Pittsburgh in 1947 and then returned to the Dodgers.

At Chicago, promoter Joe Louis, with a fine sentimental touch, Saturday announced the bout for his vacated world heavyweight boxing crown will be fought June 22 at Chicago's Comiskey Park. Ezzrrd Charles and Joe Walcott are the contenders. Louis, director of the International Boxing Club, 12 years ago at the same place and on the same date, flattened Jim Braddock for the championship.

ANGLING CHAMPION—John A. Carmichael of the British Columbia Utilities Commission, Victoria, poses beside the 65-pound Chinook salmon which won him Field and Stream magazine's international championship in the Chinook class for 1948. The big one was caught at Campbell River, Vancouver Island, August 21.

Canadiens Hold Whip Hand After Trouncing Wings 3-2

By BERT ALLEN.

MONTREAL, March 28 (CP)—It's hard to fathom, but somehow Montreal Canadiens appear to hold the Indian trick over the Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings, who cake-walked to the National Hockey League pennant, dropped their second game of the best-of-seven playoff series to the Habitants 3-2, here on Saturday night. Detroit had won the opener of the Stanley Cup semi-final 2-1, and Canadiens came back to take the second 4-3.

Each of the first two games went into overtime, and for a while Saturday it looked as if a furious third-period onslaught by Detroit would send that contest into extra time. But a guy named Bill Durnan had different ideas and his sensational puck-stopping in the Montreal cage broke the back of the Red Wing offensive in the final minutes of the hectic fray.

No. 2 hero for Dick Irvin's scrappy gang was Murdo McKay, whose first goal in the NHL proved to be the winning counter. The Fort William pivotman who won all-star rating while performing with Buffalo in the American League this season, outraced Leo Reise for a loose puck and whipped an angle-drive into the far corner before Goalie Harry Lumley could move to send the Habs ahead 3-1.

Before that, Kenny Mosdell and Leo Gravelle had given Montreal a lead with a pair of first-period markers, and Gordie Howe's first of two counters cut the margin near the midway mark of the third session.

Just three minutes after McKay's goal, Howe let go a drive from the Montreal blue line and it struck deefnceman Doug Harvey's skate, deflecting into the net past the surprised Durnan who did not have a chance and the Wings trailed 3-2.

Inspired Wings

This goal inspired the Wings to an all-out offensive that had the Habs hanging on the ropes in the last five minutes, especially when Harvey was banished for interference at the 17-minute mark.

Durnan rose to great heights, with his rock-ribbed defence playing a great game in front of him.

After the game the Canadiens learned that centre Elmer Lach, out since the series opener when he injured his tender jaw, will miss Tuesday's fourth game, and probably will be sidelined for the remainder of the season. Murph Chamberlain, who sat out the Saturday tussle with a badly bruised hand, may be able to dress to-morrow night.

Table Tennis Championships

Table tennis championships for Peterborough county and city will be held in the YMCA, April 11 to 16, sponsored by the Y's Men's Club. Preliminaries will be from Monday, April 11 to Friday, April 15. On Saturday, April 16, the finals will be held in the gym. Tennis amateurs from Toronto will put on a display Saturday night.

Tennis players have been divided into six classes, junior, intermediate, novice men, open men, open ladies and men's doubles. Novice men and men's doubles are new classes. Prizes will be given in the first three classes and trophies and prizes in the last three.

Applications for entry are available at the YMCA from Al Clark, physical director.

Winners may compete in the Ontario Table Tennis (amateur) championships if they wish.

Ben Collis Best In Mercantile

Ben Collis was high in men's singles with 286 in the Mercantile Bowling League and Charlie Thomas had high cross of 261-246-257 for 764. For girls, Mary Morton led in singles with 280 and Ruby Pearse had high threesome of 661. F. Meadows' 215 score won the nylons given by A. B. Collis. City Hall and New Centre took four from Loblaw's and A & P, as Bond's, Utilities and Lift Lock each took two from Prudential, Braund's No. 2 and Braund's No. 1.

To date, City Hall has 78 points, with Braund's No. 1 having 69, Loblaw's 61, New Centre 60, Lift Lock 52, Braund's No. 2 49, Prudential 48, Bond's 39, Utilities 16 and A & P 12. The results:

Boxing Crowns Decided At The Grove

Peter Ward of Toronto won the school championship heavyweight title as the finals in the Grove School boxing tourney were held Saturday in the school hall. Prelims had been staged through the week. Ward was challenged by Bill Gibson of Toronto, lightheavy winner, but the latter was no match for his heavier opponent.

The atom weight crown went to J. Binnie of Toronto over R. Morrison of Chatham, with T. Delormier of Toronto taking the paperweight from B. Eaton of Buffalo. R. Fowler of Toronto outpointed A. Hutchison of Toronto for the pin weight, and B. Wren of Orillia won the match weight over D. Johnston of Cobourg. The flyweight went to T. Mackenzie of Toronto against P. Roell of the same city. H. Williams of New York decisioned T. Ryder of Toronto in the bantam division as G. Jones of Vancouver won in featherweight over F. Pearce of Toronto. M. Townsend of Young's Point captured lightweight honors from M. Roper of Ottawa, with T. Sherwood of Ottawa winning the welter from W. Larter of Toronto. H. Shickler of Bancroft was the middleweight victor over R. Minnes of Ottawa, and W. Gibson of Toronto defeated T. Clark of the same city for lightheavy honors.

CGE Bowlers 270 Points Up

In Duffus' Bowling Alleys Saturday after the din of rolling pins and falling pins had cleared, Peterborough CGE bowlers were 270 points ahead of the Davenport-Royce works bowlers. This was the first half of a home and home tournament for the Cotton trophy played annually between the works of Toronto and Peterborough.

Eighty bowlers from Toronto bowled against the 13 teams from the Peterborough plant. The teams from Peterborough were made up of members from the CGE Shop Bowling League.

For the last two years the Peterborough plant has been in possession of the trophy. Reports from the Toronto bowlers after the afternoon's results were disclosed said they plan to wipe out the slim margin held by Peterborough to take the trophy for once in three years. The return tournament is in Toronto April 16.

Roy Suddards, Peterborough works, took honors in the high three and the high single. He tumbled the pins for 385 in one game and a 913 total for three games.

PCVS Cagers Edge St. Kitts To Get OABA Juvenile Title

Before a wildly cheering crowd of four hundred odd supporters at the Collegiate gym Saturday night PCVS Juveniles won the OABA Juvenile championship by defeating St. Catharines Teepees 51-43. The Teepees came here with a three point lead as a result of the game a week ago in St. Catharines. The final round score was a narrow five-point victory for Peterborough, 93-88.

The game, extremely well played throughout by two outstanding teams, had an exciting punch finish which had the crowd on its feet screaming. Trailing on the round through the entire game, St. Catharines exerted increasing pressure on the hard fighting local boys. Finally with three minutes to go the Teepees took the lead on the round by one point. Then Neil Thompson was fouled and promptly tied the score. Al Northcott got a breakaway and went in to score to put PCVS back in the lead.

With slightly better than a minute remaining Don Griffin was fouled in the act of shooting. He scored his first and PCVS elected to waive his second to retain possession at mid-court. A wild scramble followed and Thompson was fouled. Once again PCVS waived the throw. However St. Catharines recovered and shot wildly from mid-court. PCVS took over and set Grafstein up to score at the final whistle.

Meet Sudbury

The Peterborough team now meet Sudbury here April 4 and 5 for the right to entertain the Quebec-Maritime winner for the Canadian juvenile championship

PCVS opened the game in a steady methodical manner and very quickly wiped out the St. Kitts first game lead. Al Northcott had the shooting range and counted three times to help put Peterborough in front 10-4 at the quarter. The Teepees were held scoreless from the floor during this first 10 minuts. The pace increased slightly in the second dominating play. Don Griffin counted seven valuable points and Northcott four more as PCVS went into the rest period well in front on the game 26-14.

The Teepees gradually swung in command as the third quarter progressed and had reduced the game margin to eight points for a 36-28 score at three quarter time. Guard Max Wooley and Forward Wilson had six and four points respectively to stand out for their team. The PCVS foul shooting was an excellent four for four to help maintain the lead.

The last quarter was as exciting as any played here this year as the Teepees steadily chipped away the PCVS lead. Finally two quick St. Kitts hoops reduced the PCVS round lead to one. A third a minute later, directly after Peterborough missed on a beautiful set-up, put St. Catharines into a one on the round lead. The home club finally roused to the situation, came storming back to win.

Good Sniping

All five foul shots, PCVS tried in the last quarter went through the strings and helped materially to keep the Peterborough hopes alive. As matters turned out superior foul shooting won the title as PCVS scored thirteen out of sixteen free throws in the game as compared with only seven in fifteen for the Teepees. On shots from the floor Peterborough scored 19 in 63 tries, while St. Catharines had 18 in 75 attempts. The referees, Bob McComb of Toronto called a total 33 fouls, 17 on the winners and 16 on the Teepees.

Northcott and Griffin were high scorers for PCVS with 18 and 19 points respectively. Le Clair, 6 foot four inch centre for St. Catharines had 10 points as did left forward Wilson. Nooley and Johnston had eight and seven respectively.

The teams:

PCVS—Dinsdale 1, Northcott 18, Young 1, Griffin 19, Hall, Bailey, Thompson 6, Jopling, Evans 3, Ackford, Grafstein 3, Sergeant. Total 51.

St. Catharines—Le Clair 10, Wilson 10, Johnston 7, Dick, Daniels, Pecton 4, Moore 1, Nooley 8, Davies 3, Crothers. Total 43.

Round—PCVS 93, St. Kitts 88.

Referees—R. McComb Toronto; R. Dyer, Peterborough.

IN OPENING BOUT—Pat Flanagan, pictured above, who will open Wednesday night's mat card at the Brock Arena clashing with Mike (Prince) Mahalakis. The sensational performer from Missouri, Ray Villmer has agreed to take on Wee Willie Davis in the semi-final and that one ought to send heat right through the Arena roof. This boy Villmer is good.

The main bout, of course, holds the big interest when Earl McCready meets the Masked Marvel in a no-time-limit match. Earl showed definite superiority over the mystery-man that it seems likely this week's battle could end with a win for the big popular Canadian grappler. Regardless of how he loses the Marvel (Lou Reynheer) must unmask.

Dumart Sinks Winning Goal As Bruins Edge Leafs 5-4

TORONTO, March 28 (CP) — Just when some of the experts figured that Woody Dumart might be the second link of the once famous Kitchener line to come to the end of the hockey road in big-time hockey, the Kitchener butcher boy has become Boston's man-of-the-hour.

Woody scored only 11 goals during the scheduled National League season but he has fired three in the first three playoff games to keep the Bruins in the hunt for the Stanley Cup. His goal after more than 16 minutes of overtime Saturday night gave the Bruins a 5-4 win over Toronto Maple Leafs, after Bruins lost the first two contests of the best-of-seven semi-final series in Boston.

Milt Schmidt, centre of the once-great Kitchener line, figured on one of Boston's counters, but the right-winger of the trio—little Bobby Bauer—has returned to amateur ranks. Schmidt, who made the play for Johnny Peirson's goal, suffered a bruised left shoulder.

A merry gang in their dressing room, the Bruins deserved their victory as they held an edge in play most of the way and outshot the Leafs 35-25. Only the brilliant net-minding of Turk Broda kept the Leafs in the contest.

Had No Chance

The Turk had no chance on Dumart's shot which broke up the game after more than 16 minutes of extra play. The left winger took a pass back from centre Ed Sandford and his shot deflected off the hip of Toronto's Bill Barilko.

Chief worry in the camp of the elated Bruins was the condition of Johnny Crawford. Johnny collided with Bill Ezinicki in the first period and was taken to hospital. X-rays revealed he suffered only a severely bruised chest but he will likely miss the fourth game here Tuesday night.

Dumart's goal was his second of the night and the others went to Grant Warwick, Peirson and Sandford. The Leafs' scoring power was well divided, with Captain Ted Kennedy, Gus Mortson, Joe Klukay and Fleming Mackell scoring in order.

Although the Leafs opened the scoring, they trailed by two goals at one stage of the second period. They were also a goal in arrears when Mackell almost knocked the puck from goalie Frank Brimsek's hand to force overtime at 11.49 of the third period.

Player Strike Almost Halts Playoff Game

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., March 28—(CP)—A player strike almost called off the scheduled Montreal Royals-Shawinigan Cataracts Quebec Senior Hockey League playoff game here Saturday night.

Shawinigan players served club officials with an ultimatum that they would not go through with the game unless their salary demands for an extra week's pay were met.

The strike was averted only 20 minutes before the game was scheduled to start.

Paid on a weekly basis, the team asked for an extra week's pay because their last week's cheques were being held until the conclusion of Saturday's game which the Cats won 3-2.

The team officials reached an agreement after they promised the players to meet their demands only if the players defeated the Royals in Saturday's game.

Flyers Edge Providence 2-1 In Overtime

By the Canadian Press.

St. Louis Flyers today celebrated their first American Hockey League playoff victory since they entered the circuit in 1944.

The triumph Sunday night over Providence Reds—a 2-1 double overtime verdict—by no means clinches the semi-final rounds series for the Flyers, but it certainly bolstered their chances considerably.

Lloyd Doran scored at 5.54 of the second overtime session to give St. Louis its first triumph in three starts in the best-of-seven series. The Flyers, tail-enders in their first four seasons in the League, won the Western Division pennant this year by a single point.

Paul Gladu, the Flyers' top goal-getter during the regular season with 51, started the scoring in the opening period.

The Reds, Eastern Division winners, tied the score midway in the second period when Roger Bedard slammed home passes from Johnny Chad and Jackie Hamilton.

Following Bedard's equalizer, hockey, waiting for a break, Doran finally got through in the "sudden death" overtime.

St. Paul Batters Omaha Knights 8-0

By The Canadian Press.

St. Paul Saints and Tulsa Oilers got the jump on their opponents in opening games of the best-of-three semi-final playoffs in the United States Hockey League.

St. Paul battered Omaha 8-0 Sunday night in the Northern Division. In the Southern Division Tulsa outplayed Dallas 4-1 Saturday.

Ian McIntosh scored two of the Saints' goals as goalie Jackie McGill achieved his fourth shutout of the season.

Flyers Win 4-0 As Combines Battle Gamely

TORONTO, March 28—(CP) — The hopes of the North to-night ride on 17-year-old netminder Lorne Howes in the second game of the best-of-seven series for the all-Ontario junior hockey title between Barrie Flyers and Porcupine Combines. Barrie won the first game 4-0 on Saturday.

Howes, on the amateur list of Boston Bruins, was the bulwark of the Combines Saturday when he performed in sensational fashion. He held the Flyers to a 1-0 edge for nearly 50 minutes of hockey before the snipers caught up with him.

For the Flyers it was a surprise. They did not expect much from the Northerners, who have been given virtually no chance in the series and, above all, they did not count on such a smooth display of netminding.

The Flyers outshot the Combines 56-26 and only in the latter minutes of the third period did they clinch the game with three quick goals.

Barrie went into the lead late in the first period when Sid McNabney scored on a goalmouth scramble. Howes had kicked out three drives in succession and failed to see McNabney flip the puck through a maze of players' legs

Finally Beaten

After brilliantly holding the fort for the second period, Howes was beaten when McNabney got his second goal midway through the third session. Just 24 seconds later Stan Long made it 3-0. Bob Burcham finished off the scoring at the 15-minute mark.

The Combines gave Barrie netminder Gil Mayer some busy moments, and only his usual fine work kept them off the scoresheet.

The Porkies' best attackers were Doug Towers, who picked up 74 points in 24 games this season, defenceman Ab Plouffe and big defenceman Steve Brklacich.

However, the Flyers are not over-confident.

"They gave us a rough time," Barrie coach Hap Emms said. "They wouldn't let us get untracked, and the more we tried the more trouble we had."

Big Item On House Program Draft Of Atlantic Treaty

OTTAWA, March 28—(CP).—One of the major items on the Commons program this week is a debate on the draft of the North Atlantic security treaty. Prime Minister St. Laurent has stated he will give advance notice of when the debate is to take place so that all interested can be on hand.

The Government hopes the debate will be concluded before the signatories of the pact gather in Washington next Friday to put the finishing touches on the document.

Present indications are that the pact will be received overwhelmingly. While there may be some opposition to details, it appears generally accepted that it is a good idea for nations to group together for their mutual protection.

External Affairs Minister Pearson will represent Canada at the final meetings in Washington.

It is expected Prime Minister St. Laurent, credited with first suggesting the Pact, will initiate the debate and be followed by George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, M. J. Coldwell, CCF Leader. Then the debate will be thrown open and all members will have a chance to express their views.

Details of the draft Pact were made public March 18. In it the countries agreed to stand shoulder-to-shoulder against aggression and to keep themselves strong enough to resist it.

Estimate

Parliament Hill will get around this week to close out accounts for the 1948-49 fiscal year and to opening up new accounts for 1949-50.

Finance Minister Abbott will table supplementary estimates of expenditures during the week. They represent expenditures unforeseen when the main estimates of expenditures were passed by Parliament last session.

The supplementaries must be passed before the fiscal year ends March 31.

Also before the new fiscal year starts some provision must be made to meet expenditures until the 1949-50 estimates are passed. As a result, the Government asks members to pass one-sixth or one-twelfth of the budgeted expenditures to cover its accounts until the main estimates can be passed.

Members will also be asked to vote special estimates of the expenditures involved in making Newfoundland a 10th Province. Mr. Abbott has disclosed that the expenditures will amount to more than $50,000,000 in the first year of union.

Story Of Formosa Told At WMS Event

MILLBROOK, March 28 (ENS)—The story of Formosa, and particularly of the work of Dr. MacKay for 22 years a missionary in this island off the south-east coast of China, was vividly told by story and colored slides, at Grace Presbyterian church, Thursday evening, with the event under W. M. S. auspices.

Should the Communists take Nanking, present seat of the Nationalist Government in China, the latter will be moved to Formosa, with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek returning from exile to take charge it was explained. The island is mountainous, and some of th etrees on the slopes are claimed to be over 2,000 years old, and were growing when Christ was on this earth.

No less than five tribes of aborigines still live in the mountain fastnesses, one of them specially having been noted for it practice of head-hunting. However, some influence of Christianity has penetrated to even remote sections, and many former heathen customs have been abandoned. There is a leper colony established at an isolated point, but amid beautiful surroundings, where the inmates live four to a cottage, are taught to do many things for themselves and their own welfare, are given good food under comfortable living conditions, and learn the gospel message through this practical exposition of Christianity in action, the lecture disclosed.

Taiwan is the capital, and while Formosa, whose great natural beauty makes it known as the 'Gem of the Orient', once belonged to Japan, it is now a Chinese possession, the audience was told.

Miss Agnes Johnston, W.M.S. president, took charge of the opening devotions, Mrs. Walter Patterson was at the piano; J. H. Burns manipulated the lantern; Mrs. G. MacKay and Mrs. J. R. Thompson told the story; and Rev. Mr. Patterson offered the closing prayer.

Eastern Canada Death Toll 13 Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press.

Eastern Canada's death toll reached to 13 during the week-end with two double fatalities—an airplane crash at Sydney, N. S., and a hotel fire in Montreal.

A compilation by the Canadian Press showed six deaths in Quebec, five in Montreal and two in Nova Scotia.

Ed Walsh, 19-year-old pilot of a light plane, and his passenger, Bill Penny, 23, both of Sydney, N. S., died a few minutes after the plane rose from an airfield at Sydney.

In Montreal the deaths of Mrs. W. F. Fogarty, 64, of Ottawa, and A. E. Gosselin, 50, of Sherbrooke, Que., were attributed indirectly to a fire which damaged eight rooms in the New Laurentian Hotel. Both died of heart attacks brought on by excitement.

Police in Northern Ontario are probing the strangulation death of 65-year-old Mrs. Jessie Cleland, whose body was found Saturday night near her home at Espanola. A 34-year-old man is being held for questioning.

Two Pedestrians Killed

Two pedestrians were killed by vehicles Saturday night a few miles from Toronto—Ernest J. Mills, 76, at Maple and Mrs. Elizabeth Jenks, 42, at Bradford. Guy Aickin, 27, was drowned in a cab of a truck at Owen Sound when it plunged into 16 feet of water. At Brantford the body of Safrom Krypnick, 70, missing since last Nov. 2, was found in a canal.

Robert Kelly, 85, was asphyxiated by gas fumes in his Montreal home. Howard Miner, 19, was killed by a train near Sutton, Que., and Richard Watkins, five, struck by a truck, died in hospital at Waterloo, Que. Amable de Montigny, 75, died in an auto collision at Ste. Joulienne, Que.

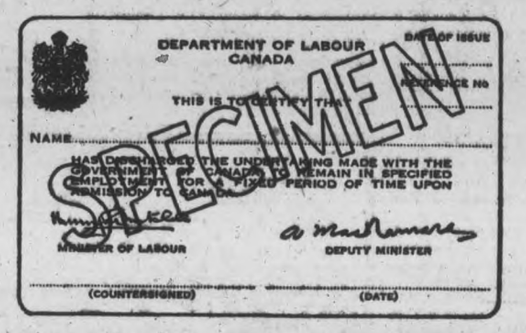
do hereby undertake that on my arrival in Canada I will accept employment in _____ or such other employment as may be selected for me by the Minister of Labour for Canada or his authorized representative, at the wage rate and under the working and living conditions prevailing in the locality of employment for comparable classifications of employment, and that I will conform to the prevailing rules and working regulations of the industry in which I am employed.

I understand that I may be required to reimburse my employer for costs paid by him for my transportation to place of employment, under terms and conditions as to repayment approved by the Minister of Labour for Canada.

I agree that I will remain in the employment mentioned above, or such other employment as may be selected for me from time to time by the Minister of Labour for Canada or his authorized representative, for a period of one year.

I acknowledge receipt of a copy of this undertaking.



Dated at _____, on this _____ day of _____

_____ (Signature of Emigrant)

The above memorandum of undertaking was interpreted to the above-named in his own language. I hereby witness his signature.

_____ (Signature of Witness) _____ (Title of Witness)

On completion of their undertaking with the Dominion Department of Labour, they receive the following certificate:

Every effort is made to safeguard the interests of both employer and employee, to ensure that all Displaced Persons secure a sound foundation for future citizenship.

Canada expects all immigrants under the Displaced Persons Movement to complete their undertakings.

All prospective employers should know this so that they may understand that the newly-arrived DP should not be encouraged to leave a position to which he or she has been assigned, without the consent of the nearest Employment Office manager.

Friends and relatives of the same nationality should impress on these men and women from Europe that any agreement made by them should be carried out. Any other advice will be doing the DP immigrant a disfavour.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

ACCIDENTS HAPPEN AT HOME

Statistics—and hospital reports—show that more people are hurt in their own homes than in any other single location. Small hazards can cause dangerous accidents and painful injuries. Don't expose your family or yourself to these dangers! Check up on faulty stoves; repair the loose legs on chairs; keep the stairs clear of obstructions; and have the electrician replace defective wiring. Observe all the rules of safety and you obey the rules of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVIII, No. 73 — MONDAY, MARCH 28, 1949

Plan To Protest Changing Color Of Margarine

Retail Merchants' Association is asking Peterborough grocers to petition against the proposed change of the color of margarine and to encourage customers to protest to members of Parliament and even to Premier T. L. Kennedy.

Observations and enquiries made by the Examiner reveal that there is little strong feeling about the matter, alhough most shoppers would prefer to see margarine remain as it is at present.

One grocer who has discussed the matter with many of his customers, says that most people are very much against changing the color but others report that customers have raised no strong objections.

Another grocer feels that as butter is colored, there is no reason why the same coloring should not be used for margarine.

Since the introduction of margarine, butter has dropped in price from 73 cents a pound to today's price of 63 cents and a Peterborough grocer told the Examiner that the price would probably be 61 cents tomorrow. This grocer sold more margarine than butter when the substitute made its first appearance but with the decrease in price, demand for butter and margarine has become equal.

Some grocers predict a falling off in margarine sales if the color is changed and others say it will make no difference.

Mark Anniversary Greek Independence

Several members of the Peterborough Greek community joined their compatriots in Toronto over the week-end to mark the 128th anniversary of Greek independence.

Altogether more than 1,100 people from Toronto and other parts of Ontario met for a Sunday service at the Greek Orthodox Church, Bond St., and later attended a special program of drama and entertainment in honor of the occasion at the Victory Theatre, Spadina and Dundas Sts.

Louis Yeotes of Peterborough is the president of the Greek Orthodox Community of Toronto and District.

Others from here attending were Mrs. Yeotes and Gus Yeotes, Spiros Zakos, Nick Douros, Mrs. William Coros, and Nike Mousmoules.

The anniversary date of Greek independence was March 25.

D'Arcy Hill Funeral Held In Lakefield

Pallbearers for the funeral of D'Arcy D. Hill who died suddenly Thursday were Cyril Barnes, James Harron, Joseph Wright, John Sabatino, George Pearson and B. Whitton. He died shortly after visiting his muskrat marsh on Lake Katchewanooka.

Funeral was held on Monday morning from the Tedford funeral home to St. Paul's Church where requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Dr. J. V. Masterson. Burial was at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

Israelis Entrenched

CAIRO, March 28 (AP)—The newspaper Al Misri said today that Israeli forces, including armored vehicles, are entrenched around Arab-occupied Hebron in Southern Palestine. The Israeli forces are the same that previously beseiged Faluja, nearer the coast, the paper said.

Concert Group Canvass Begins

Renewal of old memberships and the enrolling of new members for the Community Concert Association will take place this week. Attendance at the concerts is by memberships only. Therefore a canvass will be made of Peterborough and District. Memberships may be renewed anytime at the YMCA from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. throughout the week. New memberships will be accepted after Wednesday between the same hours.

In the past six seasons the Community Concert Association has brought to Peterborough such artists as Piatavorsky and the Don Cossacks. Attendance is by membership only because artists who appear in the yearly series are selected according to membership obtained during the drive.

Officers of the Association and a large group of volunteer workers are attending a dinner this evening in the parlor of Hooper's Confectionery store to open the membership campaign. Mrs. Albert Robinson, representative of the nationwide Community Concert Service, is the guest speaker. In addition, "A Carnegie Hall in Every Town," a twenty-minute sound film, which presents performances by several Community Concert artists, is being shown.

Membership campaign will close Saturday, April 2, at 6 p.m. No memberships will be accepted thereafter until next season.

Car Sideswiped Driver Decamps

Henry McCallum, a hydro worker from Shelbourne, Ontario, may face a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident as a result of a sideswipe collision on Saturday night with a parked car owned by Kenneth Dale, Lauder Ave., Toronto.

Dale's car was parked on the west side of Rubidge St., near Sherbrooke St. It was struck by McCallum's car which then turned west on Sherbrooke, according to witnesses.

Two unidentified girls gave police what they believed to be the licence number and Dale came out of a nearby shop in time to furnish a good description of the vehicle.

A check-up by Sergeant Percy Sexsmith and Constable E. M. McDonald on cars answering that description resulted in a car with corresponding scrape marks and dents being found on Sherbrooke St. The driver had abandoned it, but police claim the engine was still warm.

On Sunday morning McCallum came to the police station, and police report he admitted the accident and said he drove away because he was excited.

Dale's car had the paint scraped off the right side and McCallum's car also received slight damage.

MARCH WINDS

That blustery weather today was typical of March 1. In the almanac it is predicted as equinostial gales, although the equinox has been left behind.

SHORT CIRCUIT STARTS FIRE

A short circuit in the wiring of a car owned by Dr. B. R. Smyth started a small fire on Saturday shortly before 5 p.m. When firemen reached the smoking car they ripped out the defective wiring, and damage was limited to the wiring.

TRUCK BACKS INTO CAR

Slight damage resulted on Saturday when an Anthony Cartage truck backed into the car of James Brown, McDonnel St., parked on King St., opposite Fanning's Laundry. Damage was confined to the top of Brown's car.

COMPETE FOR TROPHY

M. E. Knox Trophy will be at stake Tuesday night when basketball players from Peterborough try their skill at throwing foul shots in the YMCA gym. Last year the trophy was won by Gordon Burns who made 45 shots out of 50 good. Each contestant will have 50 tries again this year.

GIVES HELPING HAND

Besides lending books, looking after films and records, the employees of the Public Library care for lost children. A postman brought a little girl about six years old into the Library Monday morning. She was lost. Miss Helen Watson calmed the little girl and finally took the child to her music teacher, Charles Allen, in George St. Church.

SHOW MOVIES

Four Seasons, a color film on the Gatineau National Park, and People of the Soviet Republic, a forty-minute film on the Soviet's 100 nationalities, will be shown at the general meeting of the Kawartha Conservation Association, Monday night. Plans for the recreational park in Peterborough County will be discussed.

FIRECRACKER STARTS FIRE

For the past several days police have been harassed by complaints from citizens that children and youths were indiscriminately throwing firecrackers about. On Sunday noon it was the firemen's turn. A prankster of questionable I.Q. unscrewed the top of the gas-tank on a car belonging to L. Tellcock, Lafayette St., and dropped in a firecracker. Firemen found the blaze out when they arrived.

PALLBEARERS FOR SCHOOL FRIEND

Pallbearers for seven-year-old David Mahood, killed last week when he was run over by a road-grader, were six schoolmates: David Parry, Bert Ross, Gerald Dew, Ronald Collins, John MacDonald, and Gordon Boyd. The funeral was on Friday from the Kaye Funeral Home, the Rev. E. C. Moore, St. George's Anglican Church, officiating. Burial was in Little Lake Cemetery.

BANK OF MONTREAL MAKES CHANGE

C. W. (Pat) Iley, accountant of the Bank of Montreal has been appointed accountant of the Hamilton Branch. He is to be succeeded by Al Cameron, present assistant accountant. Mr. Iley came to Peterborough two years ago from the Perth branch. He held the post of treasurer of the Kinsmen's Club. Mr. Cameron has also been in Peterborough for a couple of years, coming here from Kincardine. He is treasurer of the Lion's Club and secretary-treasurer of the Civic Arena Committee. The position of assistant accountant will be taken over by Richard W. Jones, a present employee of the Bank.

TEACHING THIS WEEK

Students of the Peterborough Normal School are doing continuous teaching in the urban schools this week. They are under the supervision of selected teachers in schools located throughout the district from which the students come. This is the second "time they have had a week's practice-teaching in urban schools.

200 HOUSES PROPOSED

The building of 200 houses for rental by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at Kitchener has been proposed at a joint meeting of representatives of the city and Waterloo township councils. Proposed site is in the township, which is offered on the usual financial terms. The problem of education would have to be met by the city.

Boy 6, Injured Struck By Car

When he rushed into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Hazel Killen, 655 Frank St., Murray Maxwell, age six, of 651 Frank St. was knocked down and slightly injured.

An examination by Dr. Robert Young revealed that he was unharmed apart from a few bodily scratches and shock.

Mrs. Killen was driving her car west on Frank St. when the Maxwell boy dashed out of a laneway and onto the road. She said she did not see the boy until he was immediately in front of the car.

PC Harold Mesley investigated.

Small Fine Given Careless Driver

Sequel to a car drive on Saturday night, during which time he collided with another car and later hit a pedestrian, came in magistrate's court today when John Edwards, 21, Toronto, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of careless driving.

Another charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident, to which he pleaded not guilty, was dismissed by Magistrate Philp.

Edwards collided with a car driven by Herbert N. Colmer, Donegal St., at Park and Lansdowne Sts.

At Edison St. and Monaghan Rd. he collided with John Fenton, 26, of King George St.

Fenton, who was on his way home when the accident occurred, was bruised by the impact, but not otherwise injured, and he was driven home.

PC's Leo Murphy and George Gillespie investigated.

County Man Fined $100

A $100 fine or three months in jail was the penalty imposed on Gordon McFarlane, RR 8, Peterborough, who pleaded guilty before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court today to having liquor which was not purchased on his own permit.

Crown Attorney Bradshaw said there were four young boys all under 21 in a car in which the liquor was found.

Sewer Problem May Delay Housing Plan

Board of works may discuss tonight the proposed housing project west of Monaghan Road in the Cameron St. neighborhood. It is being planned by Arnold Steele and Don Ephgrave, employing the integrated housing scheme. Their appeal to the city is for extension of the municipal services into that new section extending as far as Erskine Ave.

City Engineer Chalmers suggests that consideration of sewer work in that direction should be contemplated not simply for the benefit of the one street, but for the future needs of that section of the city on the edge of the township.

"It is necessary to consider the whole area to the west and north from this small area in planning the Cameron St. sewer, and not sufficient time has been given to properly investigate it," a report by Mr. Chalmers notes. "The area has not been completely surveyed; ground and water levels have not been checked. Costs will be higher than in April 7 last year when the first report was made.

"Further investigation may show that a satisfactory gravity system might be installed to sewer most of the large area to the west. Larger pumping capacity at the sewage treatment plant will also influence the depth at which the Cameron St. sewer may be discharged to prevent serious flooding."

Wants To Help

The council is in favor of assisting, in so far as it can, the proposed housing on Cameron St., but is confronted by a sewer problem which becomes part of the city's sewer requirements this year. It is understood that a main laid west of Monaghan Road would require a pump to overcome the flow of gravity in that direction. To the lay mind this pumping hint is a reminder of the larger sewerage problem that has developed with the city's expansion to the west,—a main sewer probably down Erskine Ave., and extending northerly beyond the Peterborough-Port Hope Highway into the area adjacent to Civic Hospital. New building has reached all the way north to the Smith boundary, the Jackson Park Road, an indication of continued spread of housing in that direction, with consequent need of sewer and water lines.

The council has given some thought to that challenge on the western boundary. They even asked Gore and Storrie, their engineering consultants, to consider the advisability of transferring the new sewage disposal plant outlet a mile or more down stream. It seemed that the factor of gravity, combined with the push of population to the west and south, advised removal from the foot of Park St., and the avoidance of any necessity of using pumps in the sewer system west of Monaghan Road. That was a notion of the lay mind of the council, but the engineers, after examining the ground several miles down the river, informed the council that there was nothing wrong with the present site, and that the enlargement of the disposal system could be satisfactorily located there.

Harry Udy Retires 14 Years With CNR

Having reached 65, the retiring age for CNR employees, Harry Udy, 484 Parnell St., today terminated his services with the company after working there for more than 14 years.

After a short address Mr. Udy was presented with a substantial purse by fellow employees and staff. The presentation was made by William Prindible, claim taker at the CNR.

Mr. Uddy began at the CNR as a trucker and at the time of his retirement he was a freight checker. He was 65 on March 22.

Car Climbs Curb

J. M. Beckerman, Charlotte St., claimed he was blinded by the oncoming headlights of a truck on Saturday night and as a result his car mounted the north-west curb at Monaghan Rd. and King St., continued on for 75 feet, and crashed into a parked car.

Beckerman was found to be suffering from shock but was not injured.

P.C.'s Douglas Farthing and George Gillespie reported that both cars received extensive damage, but no estimate of cost was made.

The parked vehicle was owned by James Turnbull, Monaghan Rd.

Invite Little Theatre Group To Present Play At Dominion Drama Festival

TORONTO, March 28—(CP).—Twelve plays from across Canada have been invited to participate in the Dominion Drama Festival here April 25-30, but every region will not be represented. D. Park Jamieson, chairman of the Festival, announced Sunday that because of the committee's desire to insure only the best in the Canadian theatre, it wasn't possible to include winners from every region festival.

A committee, upon the advice of Robert Speaight, regional adjudicator, selected the 12 plays, one of which is the Peterborough Little Theatre with the Taming of the Shrew.

Entrants will compete for 12 awards, six of them offered this year for the first time.

The noted French actor and director, Louvis Jovet, has recognized the growth of Canadian drama by offering an award for the best direction.

Brian Doherty has offered two scholarships, worth $450 each, to his summer school at Port Hope for the best actor and actress in the festival who plan to make theatre a professional career.

Gives Two Awards

Chairman of the Dominion Drama Festival, D. Park Jamieson, will give two mementos for the best individual performances by a man and a woman, and the Martha Festival.

Adjudicator will be Philip Hope-Wallace, drama critic for the Manchester Guardian and for Time and Tide.

Invitations issued yesterday were:

Ontario: Ottawa Drama League with Fortune My Foe by Robertson Davies. La Comedie Nouvelle (Ottawa) with Nationale 6 by Jean-Jacques Bernard. Peterborough Little Theatre, with the Taming of the Shrew by Shakespeare. The Player's Workshop (Toronto) with Another Part of the Forest by Lillian Helman; the Player's Guild (Hamilton) with John Loves Mary by Norman Krasna. London Little Theatre, with Over the Boiler by William Digby.

Montreal: Negro Theatre Guild, with Emperor Jones by Eugene O'Neill. Conservatoire Lasalle, with Phedre by Racine. Course Francois Rozet, with Les Femmes Stevantes (3rd act) by Moliere.

New Brunswick: Mt. Allison University, with Emperor Jones (selected scenes.)

Alberta: Workshop 14 (Calgary) with Hedda Gabler by Ibsen.

British Columbia: The Vagabond Players (New Westminster) with the Glass Managerie by Tennessee Williams.

Motorbike, Car Collision

Mrs. Mary Heard, 146 Park St., on Sunday afternoon received a shaking up and bruises to her left leg when she was thrown from the tandem seat of a motorcycle she was riding, south of Sherbrooke on George.

The motorcycle, being driven by her husband, Clare Heard, was going north on George St. and it was struck by a car driven by John S. Nichols, 323 George St. The Nichols vehicle was making a U-turn when it crashed into the cycle.

Mrs. Heard was taken to Dr. D. W. Clark by Jack Rodgers of Rogers St. for medical examination and she was later taken to Civic Hospital to be X-rayed. There it was learned no bones were broken but her left leg was severely bruised and swollen.

The car had the front bumper broken off and the right fender damaged. Bent crossbars, chainguard and clutch were included in the general damage to the motorcycle which was estimated at $30.

Nicholls said he was parked just south of Sherbrooke St., and started to make his turn when the accident occurred.

Police Constable A. Dalton and Don Mackay investigated and reported the brakes on Nicholls' car were useless.

Lodge Member For Fifty Years

HAVELOCK, March 28—(ENS) J. W. Bryans was honored by the Havelock Lodge A. F. and A. M. recently when he was presented with a gold jewel commemorating his 50th year as a member of that organization.

The presentation was made by V. Wor. Bro. Robert Anderson and R. Wor. Bro. T. P. Lancaster. The former's father, the late Robert Anderson of Round Lake was a charter member of the Lodge.

Mr. Bryans joined the Masonic Order on March 24, 1899 when the late Elias Williams occupied the office of Worshipful Master. The initiatory degree for Mr. Bryans was conducted by the late Wor. Master Joseph Dorricott.

Mr. Bryans is the fourth member of the lodge to receive a 50-year jewel, the others being Andrew Kniewasser of Ottawa, Robert Barlow of Toronto and the late William Mathison.

Havelock Masonic Lodge was organized on October 8, 1895 with the late W. Port as Wor. Master and a membership of approximately 30. Only two of the charter members are living. They are Andrew Kniewasser and Robert Barlow.

Mr. Bryans settled in Havelock prior to its incorporation as a village and is one of the few remaining pioneer residents. He will be 90 in July.

40 Years In Business At Stewart Hall

Rev. E. Rowland, assisted by Rev. F. W. Craik conducted the funeral service of the late Frederick Collins, on Wednesday, from the funeral home of A. Comstock & Sons, 305 Water Street.

Rev. Rowland paid warm tribute to Mr. Collins for his interest in all community activities during his 40 years in business at Stewart Hall, which, he added, was evident by the many friends who attended the funeral and the large number of floral tributes.

The pallbearers were: Dugal Matchett, Beecher Matchett, Willan Hutchison, Stewart Dawson, Frank Savigny and Richard Stewart.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Donald Deyell and Mrs. William Prest, both of Peterborough, and three brothers, John, James and Abner, all of Peterborough.

Interment was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Lindsay Youth Acclaimed In Vocal Class

The third annual Festival of Music sponsored by the Kiwanis Club ended at Saturday noon with high praise going to F. Taylor of Lindsay, winner of the Boys' solo.

Adjudicator Heath-Gracie said the winner's performance "was very artistic and sensitive. It is not the sort of thing we generally expect from such a young boy," he stated.

The final concert consisting of the most outstanding participants will be staged on Wednesday night in the PCVS auditorium. At that time the four scholastic winners—for piano, vocal, violin and verse speaking—will be awarded.

For the past three years the Kiwanis Club has sponsored the Music Festival, to help the cultural development of this area. This year the Festival committee under Stanley Northrop reported a record number of entries for the musical and verse-speaking classes.

Winners on Saturday morning were as follows:

Girls Solo (under 17 years) — 1, B. Chase, Lindsay; 2, L. Stewart, Bobcaygeon; 3, J. Allan, Lindsay.

Piano Solo (under 7 years) — 1, C. Pepe, Peterborough; 2, J. Dibbens, Peterborough.

Girls Solo (under 13 years) — 1, P. Hart, Peterborough; 2, B. Simmett, Lindsay; 3, D. Baulch, Port Hope.

Boys Solo (Secular)—1, F. Taylor, Lindsay; 2, K. Hollett, Little Britain.

$20,000 Premium On Trust Funds

Transfer of Civic Hospital funds from a local trust company to the Board of Governors recalls the fact that the endowment of $240,000 in its par value brought $260,000 in the market.

As the construction of the hospital progresses, the Governors have to draw upon their assets from time to time. They have already received $200,000 of the $300,000 contributed by the City Trust Commission. Recently the Governors informed the council they would require about May 1 the locally deposited funds.

The council in a motion by Ald. Raine arranged to have the money placed at the disposal of the Board. They were also to be paid $14,922.93, described as the 1948 deficit on operations. The City Treasurer was also authorized to pay the Board $55,000 as needed to meet its estimated deficit on 1949 operations.

Requirements of the Board of Education amounting to $440,334 will be financed in the following monthly payments out of the city treasury: Jan. and Feb., $50,000; Mar., Apr., May, $60,000; June, $55,000; July, Aug., $10.000; Sept., Oct., Nov., $25,000; Dec., $10,334.

Former Empress Marries In Egypt

CAIRO, March 28—(AP)—Princess Fawzia, the beautiful former Empress of Iran, was married today to Ismail Shirine Bey, a distant relative of Egypt's royal family.

The marriage was the second for the 30-year-old Princess, who is the sister of Egypt's King Farouk. She had been married to the Shah of Iran until he divorced her last November. She had borne no son to inherit the Iranian throne.

Today's ceremony was a simple Moslem one and strictly private.

GEORGE STREET

Members of the Senior Group brought lunches to the meeting this week so that they would be able to get extra work done on their project. The girls made up stories in their own words on different topics taken from the Bible.

The play, "Janet Informs", was read to the Intermediates, the parts being taken by Barbara Tiffin, Caroline Head, Marnie Ellis, Carol Lang and Donna Brotherstone.

The two groups met together to hear enthusiastic reports from Joyce Copp, Victoria McKim and Miss Betty Brown, who had attended the C.G.I.T. Conference in Toronto last week-end.

✧ ✧ ✧

TRINITY

New songs which the girls had learned at the Conference were introduced by Joan White at this week's meeting.

"Calling All Helpers" was the theme used in the Candle Light worship service, led by Anna Edmondson, assisted by Dale Nichols, Anne Gordon, Joan Metcalfe, Beverly Hutton and Beth Davidson.

The groups were interested in hearing reports of the Conference. Marie Woodgate, Joan White and Joan Krogh each reported on parts of the general Conference and then enlarged on the particular discussion group each had attended. A discussion of leisure time activities proved of interest to those who chose "On Top of My World". Newspaper publicity, as given to "Gang Wars", was considered from the view point of the teen-ager in the topic "Behind The Headlines", while those interested in "The Home I Want" presented different home problems in skit form.

The Intermediate Group decided on the name "Pei-Ping Press" for their Chinese newspaper.

✧ ✧ ✧

MARK STREET

Singing of two Conference songs opened the Mark St. C.G.I.T. meeting. Elva Graham presided in absence of the president, Muriel Rome.

"Those Who Need Help" was the worship theme, Margaret Rome leading in prayer. Mrs. Easson presented the mission study.

Highlight of the evening was Carolee Ferguson's report on the Toronto Conference.

The Rev. R. E. Morton spoke to the girls on the importance of church membership.

Social Situations

SITUATION: Your dinner hostess offers you a second serving and you would like to accept.

WRONG WAY: Say, "No, thank you" out of fear that it is not good manners for a guest to take second servings.

RIGHT WAY: Accept a second serving, and if you wish, say how delicious the dish is. (Most hostesses are pleased when their guests accept second servings, being assured then that the food is being enjoyed.)

Decorating Experts Pick Year's Best Home Design

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK —(NEA)— What do the experts rate as tops in new home furnishing?

For the answer, look at design winners of the American Institute of Decorators' annual international design competition. The five winning designs chosen from 450 entries plus 58 outstanding designs for fabrics, wallpaper, floor coverings, furniture and lamps, will be seen in a nation-wide exhibition tour starting in April.

The seven-man jury which determined winners included noted interior decorators and architects professors, a museum director and a leading retailer.

What did the blue-ribbon judges of design pick as the most outstanding piece of furniture? A coffee table, five feet in diameter. Although contemporary, this design of Muller-Barringer of New York City, is adaptable to traditional interiors, is decorated with black lacquer and gold leaf, has a top covering of tortoise shell paper. Because of its size and unusually heavy construction, the table may also be used as a bench —a point which received special jury comment. The sturdy circular openwork pedestal lacquered black supports the weighted top and prevents tipping should a guest take a seat.

The "simple, refined design" of a double-gooseneck table lamp won a first award for designer George Farkas, Miami Beach. For this winner in the lamp and lighting category, two stems of flexible tubing which can be twisted into numerous position for different lighting effects are mounted on a lacquered plastic base. The glass fibre shades are cone-shaped.

First award in the field of woven fabric went to Los Angeles designer Harold Grieve for a skillfully blended weave of shining metallic thread and dull-surfaced cotton. Against a richly textured blue cotton background, a bold, repeating pattern of stylized airplanes has been worked in glittering silver. This fabrics for use in upholstery or draperies.

In the printed fabric class, "Strata," a sheer white rayon curtain cloth printed with a large-scaled abstract design won top honors for Detroit designer Ruth Adler. When cloth is draped, the pattern of narrow black pennants emphasizes the sheerness of the fabric and gives an illusion of greater fullness to the curtain.

Another abstract pattern "Windmobiles," topped the wallpaper entries. The pattern, designed by San Francisco's Don Smith, looks to a non-professional eye like multi-colored paper cutouts pasted on a gray -green background.

Making of Hot Cross Buns Not Considered Difficult

By MARY MOORE

After I had been in the bakery and smelled them and even bought a dozen, the Hot Cross Bun urge possessed me, so now I'm in the baking business until Easter anyway, for I have promised Peter he can have as many Hot Cross Buns as he wants.

Actually they are so simple to make we should get into the habit of making hot breads oftener. Maybe I should say I should.

Now, I have chosen this recipe because it requires the minimum of bowls, and equipment, and time, and is straightforward. A recipe like this encourages amateurs to "make them again".

Hot Cross Buns

Heat some water in the tea kettle to a little warmer than lukewarm.

Put in a measuring cup
1 teaspoon sugar
½ cup lukewarm water
1 envelope granular yeast (OR 1 crumbled yeast cake)
Let stand 10 minutes and stir a little.

Meanwhile into a large mixing bowl sift
4 cups sifted flour (bread)
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
and add to them
¾ cup washed and dried raisins
¼ cup finely chopped mixed peel.

Mix well and then make a deep well in centre. Into this well pour (after mixing in saucepan)
¾ cup lukewarm water
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons soft shortening
1 beaten egg.

Then add the dissolved yeast. Mix very well with a heavy spoon. Finish mixing with hands for about 2 minutes.

Form into a loaf shape in the same bowl, brush top with melted shortening, cover bowl with damp towel and then a dry towel. Allow to rise at room temperature — away from stove until double in bulk very light to touch. Punch down with fist and remove to floured board. Cover with a towel while you grease a large cookie sheet or 2 smaller cake pans. Cut dough in two parts and roll each part into a long uniform roll about 2½"in diameter. With very sharp greased knife cut these rolls into buns about 1 to 1¼ inches thick. Form each piece into a smooth ball between buttered palms. Each roll will make about 9 buns. Place on greased pan and flatten each bun slightly with palm. Stand to rise until they increase to double their size at room temperature — don't force them by placing near stove. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 20 to 25 minutes. If desired, cut a cross on surface of buns, before baking with very sharp knife.

About 5 minutes before removing from oven brush each bun with a mixture of 2 tablespoons each sugar and milk. Finish baking. If desired, when cold, buns may be marked witha "cross" of butter icing.

VARIATIONS: Use all raisins to replace the peel. Reduce or increase spices. Use hot milk in place of water, except for soaking the yeast. Use butter in place of shortening and 2 eggs to make richer buns.

These buns are delicious split and toasted when one day old.

Trollope-Remmer

In Midland Presbyterian church on Saturday the marriage of Miss Jean Remmer of Timmins to Charles Trollope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Trollope of Midland, formerly of Peterborough, was solemnized.

The bride was gowned in white satin with full length veil of net and carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. She was attended by Mrs. Jean Williams of Midland, gowned in mauve and carrying pink and yellow roses. The groomsman was Mr. Allan Williams.

Following a reception at the groom's home, Mr. and Mrs. Trollope left for Penetang and on return will live in Midland.

Of Interest to Women

FOUR-TIME GRANDMA—AT 33—Mrs. C. L. Chitwood of Jacksonville, Fla., is the grandmother of four children at 33. Here she holds two of them, Gary Chitwood, left, 4 months, and Sandra Kohanson, 3 months. Married when she was 12, Mrs. Chitwood became a mother at 13 and a grandmother at 29.

DOROTHY DIX

Husbands Can't Be Playboys Money-Grubbers As Well

DEAR MISS DIX: I am married to a man who never in our 21 years of married life has let me want for anything. I love him and he loves me. But here is the fly in the ointment: He never wants to take me stepping of nights. His business keeps him outdoors. He gets up at five o'clock in the morning, comes home at night, eats one of my good dinners, watches the television while I do the dishes, and then goes to sleep. That is his only fault.

Dorothy Dix

Now I want to go out in the evenings too visit our friends, or go to places of amusement; but he only wants to go to sleep. He tells me to go out during the day and amuse myself, but that isn't what I want. I want him too beau me around as other husbands do their wives.

Don't you think that I am entitled to some more diversion than just being a cook and a baby-sitter?

LONESOME MARY.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Alas, Mary, we can't have our cake and eat it, too, and there come times in life when all of us have to decide between two things that we crave. We can't have both. And this happens oftener in marriage than it does anywhere else. Indeed, the greatest drawback to marriage is that husbands can't be playboys and money-grubbers at the same time, and that no woman can be glamorous when she is wrestling with a teething baby.

Common Gripe

This limitation on human activities is one of the common gripes of women and explains why so many marriages that started off with every prospect of happiness end so often in the divorce court. Take your case as an illustration of this, Mary. You have a fine husband who works himself to the bone to provide you with luxuries, but it isn't enough that he gives you mink coats and diamonds. You want the poor tired man, who is ready to drop with fatigue, to put on his glad rags and take you forth to dance and have a good time.

It is a common complaint among wives that their husbands don't take them out to places of amusement of evenings, or that their husbands don't talk at home, or that their husbands go to sleep in their chairs after dinner, which the wives attribute to neglect, but which really is physical exhaustion. But not once in a coon's age do you ever hear of a wife saying to her husband: "Let's live simpler so you won't have to work so hard, and will have time to relax."

Think it over and maybe you will see why your husband doesn't want to go gadding at night.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am an orchestra leader in a band of the type that plays for weddings, and I am more and more impressed by the cruel folly of the custom that makes people who can't afford it give their daughters show weddings that practically bankrupts them, for it generally means digging in the reserve that has been laid away for later years and that represents the struggle of half a lifetime.

It makes me wonder why the parents of both the bride and groom do not divide the expenses equally, or else have the bills for the wedding paid out of the money that is usually given the bridal couple. It certainly would be giving Ma and Pa a break.

ONLOOKER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I fully agree with you that it is the height of folly for a family to impoverish itself to give a girl a swanky wedding, but I doubt if anything on earth could make the average girl willing to forego that promenade up the church aisle in white satin and orange blossoms.

For it would be wrecking the dreams of a life. Ever since she was a baby she has planned every detail of her wedding. She knows just how long her bridal veil is going to be, how many ushers will attend, what the bridesmaids will wear, and she would rather die, or be an old maid, than not to have all the flummery that belongs to the occasion.

But it is awfully hard on poor Mom and Pop.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: After 38 years of experimenting, my wife and I have evolved this code of conduct for husbands and wives: (a) Never get mad at the same time. (b) Respect the other one's opinion. She or he could be right. (c) If either one thinks a thing is so, that's good enough. Let it ride. (d) Don't do things you would not sanction if someone else did them.

R. G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Good. I'll bet no husband and wife who follow these rules will ever get within a thousand miles of the divorce court.

BORROWED FROM THE HOBO but glamorized to the last stitch are new stick-slung handbags which swing jauntily from a woman's shoulder. One of two such styles, Paris-designed is the frameless pouch bag (right). Ornamented with a giant-sized gold safety pin, this snap-fastened pouch of cocoa-colored suede swings from a gold-tipped stick sheathed with matching suede. The other bag style whichowes its origin to the hobo's shoulder-slung pack is the oblong pouch of leather (left). This one has an outside compartment for carrying a book and even provides a slit for a lady's pipe. Swung from a leather-covered shoulder stick, this bag, however, is detachable if its owner wishes to carry it in a more convenient way.

Directions

Swedish Meat Balls (These are very good and different from the usual meat balls we make).

If your butcher will do it have him grind ¾ pound each beef and pork trimmings together. (If not buy ¾ pound each of these and grind them yourself). Grind or mix with as much as 1 or 2 cups cold cooked potatoes, and 1 small onion. Mix with 2 eggs, ¾ cup water, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon paprika. Form into balls, and fry in about ¼-inch beef or pork drippings—browning well on all sides and turning often.

Boil packaged noodles in plenty of water containing salt, peppercorns, bay leaf, sage and some mustard seeds—the later may be tied in cheesecloth bag. Boil until tender, drain, add 2 tablespoons butter to 1 package noodles. Serve the meat balls on the herb-flavored noodles.

For the Braised Turnips, pare them and cut into strips about 3 inches long and ¼-inch square (like slim French fries). Parboil in salted water for 5 minutes. Dain well. Place on broiler pan without rack, do generously with butter, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika and finish cooking under very hot broiler, turning them over once to brown on both sides.

To heat the meat pies for the one-burner dinner, place them in top of double boiler over boiling water ½ hour before serving time. When it is time to heat or cook the beans or peas, do so in bottom of double boiler. Tip vegetables into bowl, make sauce in bottom of double boiler and reheat vegetables in it. Meanwhile pies in top are kept hot during all the cooking operations.

Orange Custard for Jellied Prunes is a good sauce you could use on many bland-favored desserts: Mix togeth ⅛ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons flour, and grated rind of 1 orange in top of double boiler; beat in 1 egg, then add 1 cup hot milk stirring, over boiling water, until custard coats spoon. Immediately remove from heat and add 1 teaspoon orange extract. (This may be made without the milk using ½ cup each orange juice and water in place of it.)

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: My husband took me out for dinner one evening this week and we had a delicious egg dish that I would like to make. It seemed to be hot devilled eggs on noodles with a tomato sauce. That is all that I can tell you except that it was delicious. It may be I enjoyed it so much because I did not cook it myself. Could you help me with recipe? —Old Reader.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I may not suggest the very dish you had, but we can come close.

Stuffed Eggs On Noodles

Hard cook 2 or 3 eggs for 2 people. Remove shells, cuts eggs lengthwise, remove yolks and force through sieve. To yolks add ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard, ¼ teaspoon onion juice, 3 or 4 drops Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, ½ teaspoon salt, shake of pepper. Mix very well, and if possible, force through pastry bag and tube back into the egg whites. Keep warm and covered. Have cooked noodles ready.

Prepare sauce by sauteing ½ small chopped onion, ¼ cup finely chopped celery and 1 tablespoon fresh green or red pepper (if available) in 2 tablespoons butter until transparent and tender. Add 1 cup tomatoes, and salt, sugar, tobasco sauce, curry powder to taste. Simmer over very low heat until a bit thick and flavours are blended. Serve over noodles, having stuffed eggs at sides of noodles. This is a savoury, unusual and economical dish.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Could you print recipes for blueberry muffins. So many menus suggest serving them but I cannot find the recipe in any of my cook books. Thanking you, Amy, N.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Blueberry Muffins

Two cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 beaten egg, 1 cup milk, 4 tablespoons melted butter or shortening or salad oil. Sift together all dry ingredients. Combine remaining ingredients. Add wet mixture all at once to dry mixture and stir quickly until just mixed and rather lumpy looking. Do not overstir this. Put 1 tablespoon of batter in buttered muffin tins. Add 2 teaspoons fresh, or frozen or drained canned blueberries, then cover with another tablespoon of batter. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for 25 minutes.

—Always remembered by the Family.

LITTLE—In memory of a dear mother, Ida Little, who passed away March 28, 1947.
"Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
Her weary trials and troubles are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
'Til God called her home to suffer no more."
—Ever remembered by daughters Olive and Myrtle.

LITTLE—Mrs. James Little who passed away March 28, 1947.
More and more each day we miss her,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
—Lovingly remembered by husband James, son and daughter-in-law Russell and Margaret.

MAXWELL—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Eliza Ann Maxwell, who died nine years ago, March 28th, 1940.
Today recalls sad memories
Of my dear mother who is gone to rest;
And the ones who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.
—Very sadly missed by her daughter Elizabeth Montgomery and grandsons Arnold and Noble.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mr and Mrs. Lawrie Mahood, King George Street, wish to express their appreciation to all friends and relatives who offered assistance of any kind during their recent sad bereavement in the loss of their son. Also to all those who sent floral tributes, the Rev. E. C. Moore, the Mayor and members of the city council, members of Confederation School.

Mr and Mrs. Gladwin and son Eric wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to their many friends and neighbours for their kind words of sympathy and also for their lovely flowers during their sad bereavement; and also for further appreciation to the friends and neighbours who kindly acted as pallbearers, the attending physician, Rev. Kibblewhite and Comstocks who gave us such kindly advice and sympathy.

Favoritism Ended

NEW DELHI, March 28 (Reuters)—The Indian parliament today passed without debate a bill abolishing discrimination in favor of Europeans and Americans in the criminal law of India. Main privileges allowed to Europeans and Americans in India were special treatment in prison and the right to demad a jury composed of their own nationals.

More than 4,000 persons died from cancer in Minnesota during 1946.

Girl 16, Laughs At Gun Which Kills Her

MILWAUKEE, March 28—(AP)—Pretty Pat Birmingham, 16, laughed at the gun which killed her.

That was the story told to District Attorney William McCauley Saturday by Milton Babich, 19, who McCauley said admitted the slaying. He has been charged with first degree murder.

Babich eloped March 18 with Patricia's sister, Kathleen, 17. That was just two days before the high school girl's body was fished from the Milwaukee river.

She had been shot twice through the head. A concrete building block was attached to her feet with wire and scraps of a torn blue pin-stripe shirt. She had been missing since Feb. 10.

McCauley quoted Babich as saying the girl was killed because she knew her older sister was pregnant and threatened to tell her parents.

As told by McCauley, these are the details of Patricia's death:

Babich purchased a .22 calibre pistol, made a date with Patricia and, driving his parents' automobile, picked her up on her way home from school.

". . . I told Pat that Kay and I were going to leave and I told her that she knew Kay was pregnant and we wished she would stop making all those remarks about her," the statement said.

Started Laughing

He said she started laughing and then he showed her the gun, hoping the sight of it would frighten her. "She didn't say anything then. She just started laughing and reached with one hand and started to lift it up by the barrel and I grabbed it so that she wouldn't take it." McCauley quoted Babich.

As he grabbed the gun to take it away from her, he said, his finger hit the trigger and the gun went off.

McCauley said when he asked Babich why a second shot was fired he replied: "I didn't know the first shot was fatal."

Babich next stopped at a line of houses under construction and procured the concrete building block and fastened it to Patricia's feet with wire and rags from the trunk of the car.

He said: "I had read in magazines how to dispose of bodies, so I went out looking for water. I figured that by dropping the body in water I would have everything covered up."

Babich and Kathleen went to Kalamazoo, Mich., on their elopement and were married there. They were located in Minneapolis Wednesday and returned here by air the following day.

Winnipeg Employees Will Own Paper

WINNIPEG, March 28 (CP)—The morning Winnipeg Citizen announced today on its front page that "decision to authorize formation of an employee-owned company to take over publication" of the paper had been made Saturday at the annual meeting of the Winnipeg Citizen Co-operative Publishing Company.

The announcement said this action had been taken after discussion of a report by J. B. Brown, chairman of the finance committee of the board of directors. Mr. Brown's report said "all efforts to secure additional financial backing that was urgently needed had failed and there was no alternative except to suspend the paper at the end of March."

The announcement continued: "After further discussion, a motion proposed by Mr. Brown, that as a last resort the employees be given the opportunity of forming a company to continue publication, was carried by a majority of 41 delegates present."

The Citizen started operations 13 months ago.

Appointed Trustee

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(CP).—Donald Rose of Belleville, was elected a trustee of the Kay Club International Saturday. The Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis International, is a club for teen-aged boys. Kenneth Miller, 16, of Cape May, N.J., was elected president.

LT.-GEN. WALTER BEDELL SMITH (Left) arrives at the White House in Washington to present his resignation as ambassador to Russia. He is met by Presidential Secretary Matt Connelly (Right). President Truman said he accepted the resignation with great reluctance.

Christian Science Lecture Religion Of Love, Which Heals

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Norwood, C.S.B., of Brookline, Massachusetts, gave the annual lecture on Christian Science at a mass meeting held on Sunday afternoon in the PCVS auditorium. Mrs. Norwood, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, took as the subject of her lecture Christian Science: The Religion of Love, Which Heals. The lecturer was introduced by Mrs. Mary Moffatt. Mrs. Norwood spoke substantially as follows:

Christian Science is metaphysics, above the physical realm, beyond the range of material vision. Christian Science is divine revelation and is spiritually discerned.

In Christian Science God, who is Love, is incorporeal, that is, without a material body. If God, Love, were corporeal, somehow, somewhere, sometime, someone would have seen God. But in Exodus, (33:20) it is recorded that God says, "Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me and live." Although Love cannot be seen by the material senses, the presence of Love is mentally realized.

It has just been said that God, Mind, is the only creator. Mind creates ideas, for in no other way could Mind find expression. His entire universe consists of ideas, humanly viewed as lesser and greater ideas, all reflecting Him in various degrees. Mind's highest idea is man, His image and likeness. This spiritual idea, man, is as eternal a God: he knows no birth, no death; he is forever complete by reflection, and always at the point of perfection."

Christ Jesus

In Science and Health we read (p. 494), "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need." Almost two thousand years ago the world was in great need of a way-shower, and divine Love met that need by sending Christ Jesus to redeem mankind, to show mankind the way of Life.

Before his crucifixion and ascension, the Master said to his disciples, "And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; . . .I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you" (John 14:16, 18). The teachings of Christian Science parallel the teachings of the Master, therefore it is easy to realize that Christian Science is the other Comforter, promised by the Master. It was necessary for this other Comforter to be discovered in order that mankind might know and understand it, and Mary Baker Eddy, who from childhood turned to God in prayer and steadfastly communed with her heavenly Father, was called by God to reveal the comforter. Christ Jesus was Mrs. Eddy's pattern in her great work, and the Bible was her only authority, teacher, and textbook.

Healing in Christian Science

Christ Jesus demonstrated supremely the religion of Love, which heals, and he promised his followers that they should do the same works, provided they believed on him, for he said (John 14:12), "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also." The Master's treatment was true prayer, and he worked to glorify God. Christian Science treatment is prayer, and every honest Christian Scientist works to glorify God.

The Master said, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matt. 11:28). Christian Science says, "Come to the Comforter, the healing Christ, and all your needs will be met; 'Love never faileth."

Five Men Pay Fines

Five men arrested for drunkenness during the weekend paid fines of $10 with $2.50 costs which were imposed by Magistrate W. R. Philp K.C., at city police court today. They were C. J. Hogan, 585 Rubidge St.; John B. Rocking, Apsley; John Moher, Douro; Howard Brady, 200 Antrim St. and Walter Shearer, 616 Armour Rd.

Ordie Bannon, Vancouver, was fined $10 with $2.50 costs for causing a disturbance on George St. Sunday. Inspector J. Reid said Bannon was holding up traffic in the early hours of Sunday morning.

Donald Mann, Lakefield, was fined $10 with $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to drunkeness on March 2 and Clayton McCue, Lakefield, who pleaded guilty to having liquor in his car, was also fined $10 with $2.50.

Snails Moving Fast

PRAGUE, March 28 (AP) — Snails are moving fast in Czechoslovakia. The ministeries of food and agriculture announced Sunday that the snail growing and gathering industry, established last fall, has progressed so fast that 20 carloads of snails are being exported on orders from France, Belgium and other countries.

British Mothers Return Home

LIVERPOOL, March 28—(CP).—Two British mothers, who encountered misfortune in Canada, disembarked from the liner Ascania Sunday with their children to take up life again in the Old Country.

They are Mrs. Jean Knox, 29, formerly of Toronto, and Mrs. Mary Straughton, who lived a short time in British Columbia. Friends on both sides of the Atlantic helped them get home.

Mrs. Knox, the former Jean McLachan of Greenock, Scotland, last saw her husband Sept. 18 when he gave her his pay envelope and later telephoned to say he would be home at the usual time.

"I have not seen him from that day and I don't know whether he's alive or dead," Mrs. Knox said.

Canadian well-wishers and the Toronto City Council provided the money for Mrs. Knox's passage and that of her five-month-old daughter, plus £1 ($4) weekly allowance "until I get going."

Mrs. Straughton and her husband saved up for years to go to Canada. They sailed with their four children last December and within a week after arriving in British Columbia the husband died.

Approve Peace Pact

ROME, March 28—(AP)—The Italian Senate Sunday night gave the government full parliamentary approval to join the North Atlantic Defence Alliance. Ending 50 hours of stormy debate, the Senate voted 188-112 in favor of the North Atlantic Treaty which the Communists have fought tooth and nail.

New Baby Service

NEW YORK, March 28—(AP).—Baby carriage banking is the latest wrinkle in financial circles here. The Bayside National Bank in Queens hit on the idea. It said Sunday it will have a baby carriage window operating by April 4. Mothers then can wheel their infants right up to window outside the bank instead of leaving them unattended in their carriages. The special window is reached by a pedestrian walk protected from other traffic.

Obituaries

DAVID M. CARNOCHAN

David Mitchell Carnochan, 48, of 203 Rink St., died suddenly in hospital on Sunday following an illness of a few days' duration. He was born in Dorset, Ont., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carnochan, and before coming to the city four years ago lived in Haliburton.

Besides his wife, the former Ida Kirkpatrick, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Alex. Johnson (Audrey) and Miss Blanche Carnochan of Peterborough. There are four sisters, Mrs. Thomas Cassidy (Cora) of Blind River, Ont.; Mrs. Elliott Gunn (Edith) of Thessalon, Ont.; Miss Helen Carnochan and Mrs. Jack Carleton (Norma), both of Toronto. There are also two brothers, Gordon of Toronto and Thomas of Haliburton.

Mr. Carnochan was employed by the Quaker Oats Company and was a member of St. James' United Church.

Funeral service will be held at the Kaye Funeral Home on Tuesday at 3.30 p.m. The Rev. F. W. Craik will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. PERCY S. ZINSTON

Mrs. Percy S. Zinston, 49, of 9 Dumble Ave., died in a Toronto hospital on Saturday following a short illness. She was born in Huddersfield, England, Emma, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George White, and has lived in Peterborough for the past 30 years.

Besides her husband she leaves one daughter, Miss Victoria Zinston, at home, and one brother, George White of Bowmanville. She was a member of Elim Tabernacle.

Funeral service will be held at the Kaye Funeral Home on Tuesday at 2 p.m. The Rev. W. Warburton will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

JAMES ROBERTSON

Many friends and neighbors gathered on Monday at the family home on the second line of Otonabee to pay their last respects to James Robertson, an old and highly respected resident of the area. Mr. Robertson was born in 1864 on the old Robertson homestead near Villiers Corners, on which his sister, Miss Elizabeth Robertson, still resides. For 84 years he had lived in this section of rolling and fertile farm land. Over a period of years he had built up a sound reputation as a keen business man and a good neighbor. Possessed of a fine sense of humor and a great fondness for music, Mr. Robertson up until the very last was always good company and he will be greatly missed by all who knew him. For three days preceding the funeral a steady stream of old friends came to offer their sympathy to the members of the family. Mr. Robertson is survived by one son William and one daughter Mary, both at home; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Dickson of Indian River, Mrs. Isabel Smithson of Kitchener, and Miss Elizabeth Robertson of Villiers; four granddaughters, Mrs. Victor Edwards of Lang, Mrs. Fred Cooper and Miss Wilma Robertson of Toronto, and Miss Dora Robertson of Peterborough, and five great-grandchildren. Interment was at Westwood Cemetery, with the Rev. Geo. Murray officiating. The pallbearers were James Dickson, James Graham, William Robertson, Harry Garnet, Donald and Robert Hope.

Mr. Robertson was a member of Keene United Church.

JOSEPH E. MORAN

Joseph E. Moran, 86, of Norwood, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Hotts, on Sunday following a lengthy illness. He was born in Quebec, son of the late John Moran and Sarah McCann. Before moving to the village eight years ago he lived in Millbridge, Ont. His wife, the former Ann Davidson, predeceased him.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Frank Hotts (Margaret) of Norwood, Mrs. William Ramsay (Mary) and a son, John, both of Millbridge. There are two other sons, Thomas of Sudbury and Robert of North Bay. He was an adherent of the United Church.

Funeral will be from Mrs. Hott's residence on Tuesday to Fox United Church, Eldorado, Ont., for service at 2 p.m. The Rev. A. W. Smith of St. John the Baptist Anglican Church, Madoc, will officiate. Pallbearers will be Edward Holland, Oscar Pidgen, Edward Wannamaker, Stanley Lavender, William Burrell and John Langton. Burial will be at Fox Cemetery.

SIGNS FOR CANADA—Dr. Charles F. Wilson, director of the wheat and grain division of the trade department, signs for Canada as the international wheat agreement, designed to stabilize world prices for the next four years, is concluded in Washington. Thirty countries have already signed and 12 more have indicated they will sign by April 15. Standing in the front row are, left to right: Edwin McCarthy of Australia; Charles F. Brannon, U.S. secretary of agriculture; F. Sheed Anderson of Britain; and J. C. Van Essche of Belgium, vice-chairman of the conference.

Churchill Rides Another Storm, Party With Him

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, March 28—(CP)—Winston Churchill, king of battle has ridden out another storm and goes forward with assurance his conservatives are behind him.

The gossip ran that Churchill, the world statesman, the historian, the architect of United Europe, the painter, the Ambassador of Good Will and good heart to many countries, had too much to do. He should give up his leadership of the party in the House and leave party strategy to someone with more time.

Conservative members had a private meeting where their complaints were heard. Out of it came the realization that nobody else has the stature, ability and power of Churchill, in the Commons or anywhere else and the determination to make the opposition's parliamentary endeavor more imposing. Conservatives are 200 to labor's 400 in the Commons, but every labor argument knocked down and every labor stratagem exposed win the opposition helpful publicity throughout the land.

But none expected the Conservatives to be content with self-congratulation.

Must Become Hard

Now the general election is no more than 18 months away and Conservative policy must become hard. And Conservatives say it must be supported by vigorous action in the Commons.

While Churchill is in the United States, the parliamentary battle is being led by Anthony Eden, his deputy, who has been on a Commonwealth tour in recent weeks.

With Eden absent, the acting deputy has been Oliver Stanley, a former cabinet minister. Beside him is R. A. Butler, also with minister experience.

Behind these leaders are keen back benchers, diligent in house attendance, who have sparked in debates since 1945.

When policy is formulated and announced, political observers said they believed the conservatives will put it before the country both forcefully and attractively.

HELD FOR MURDER—Milton Babich, 19, and Kathleen Birmingham, 17, sister of Milwaukee's slain Patricia Birmingham, enjoy their "wedding dinner" after being picked up by police. They eloped two days before girl's body was found in Milwaukee River. Babich, who is charged with murder, says Pat laughed at the gun which killed her.

Trade Warnings Given Senate

OTTAWA, March 28—(CP)—A man who has been in the export business for decades warned the Senate Friday "I don't like the trade signs on the horizon—they're like the ones of 20 years ago which led to the depression of the thirties."

Senator Neil McLean (L-New Brunswick), delivering the final parliamentary observations on the controversial foreign-exchange controls bill, asserted that the British Commonwealth should be the greatest multilateral trading bloc, internally and externally in the word.

Instead Britain was engaging in bilateral deals deals with iron curtain and Socialist countries and "Canada is fast losing out in her trade with the empire nations."

The bill and the companion measure to extend rental, price, steel and timber controls, both the targets of considerable controversy in recent days, later received final reading and Royal assent.

Senator McLean, a fish exporter and processor, described Canada's foreign trade position as "very serious." Everything possible should be done to "keep it from falling apart."

Debenture Issue Suggested To Finish Arena Payment

LAKEFIELD, March 28 (ENS)—At a special meeting called by the village council on Thursday evening the ratepayers recommended that the council issue debentures to pay off the amount now owing on the Memorial Arena.

Reeve W. C. Grant, chairman said that Lakefield can be proud of the work done by the committee, proud of the surrounding district, particularly Peterborough for the support given and proud and grateful to those in the village who have suported the campaign to raise money for the new arena.

"But" he said, 'Out of the $13,-242,77 that has been collected directly in cash and pledges $3,600 of this money was received ed from outside the village which leaves the actual cash received from the village itself less than $10,000. Many people have given as much or more than they ought to, but many have not done as well as they could have done.

"The meeting," said Mr. Grant, "was called because T. A. Wilson, contractor is contemplating taking action against the rink committee for $8,545.99 still owing him. He may either sell the rink, or sue the committee, but I hope neither course will be necessary. The rink is of great importance to the community as shown by the number who attended it this year. There were 11,226 adults and 4,487 children. In Keene the farmers in Otonabee contributed nearly all the money, for the new rink while in Lakefield the farmers of the district have not felt the same responsibility.

B. F. Blake asked if Mr. Wilson would wait until fall for the money.

Mr. Grant said Mr. Wilson wanted his money immediately.

R. J. Knox suggested a five year mortgage.

Debentures Only Way Out

Reeve Grant stated the only way the village could raise money on the rink was by issuing debentures.

J. McKenchar reported 12 days skating had been lost throughout the season due to mild weather.

Councillor A. Buchanan made a motion that those present vote on whether on not a further canvass be held to raise funds.

Charles Bickell stated he did not feel the canvass should be turned over to a new committee the original committee should finish the job.

Ken Jakins expressed the opinion that another canvass could not be completed in time and moved that the meeting recommended that the council issue debentures. This was seconded by J. Knox.

Charles Hunter moved a hearty vote of thanks to the rink committee composed of W. S. Grant, Harry Stabler, Everett Sloan, W. J. Morrison: and also to J. McKerchar who had taken over the ticket selling

Harry Stabler mentioned the splendid co-operation received from Young's Point especially Dave Darling, and Charlie Young who donated trucks and shovel, and William Fairbairn who donated all the gravel.

Asks Investigation

WASHINGTON, March 28 —(AP). — Senator Herbert O'Connor (Dem.-Md.) said Friday he will ask the State Department to investigate reports that Joseph Cardinal Mindszeny, convicted by the Communist-dominated Hungarian government on treason charges, is being mistreated in prison. He wants visits of United States representatives to the cardinal's place of detention.

Adult Society Plans To Hold Saturday Tea

LAKEFIELD, March 28 (ENS)—The Lakefield Young Adult Society met Wednesday evening in the United Church with 28 members present.

After a short worship service a business session was held during which Mrs. George Tanner Miss Jean Millar, and Mrs. Margaret Graham were appointed to arrange a Saturday afternoon tea. The coat-hangers for the church will soon be installed.

The group went to the bowling alley for an evening's bowling returning to the Sunday School room for lunch served by Calbert Calwell's group, which had planned the evening's entertainment.

Son Shoots His Mother Then Turns Gun On Self

SAULT STE. MARIE, March 29—(CP).—Mrs. Hilda Liikala, 51, was shot to death and her son, Henri Nurmi, 27, committed suicide at her home in the west end about mid-morning. Chief of Police I. L. Robertson declared that he believed that mental derangement was the cause of the shooting.

Police found the body of Mrs. Liikala seated on a chesterfield and the body of her son on the floor close by. Both had been shot through the head. A .32 calibre revolver was found near the body of the man. Mrs. Frank Sleep, a daughter of the dead woman, and her husband heard the shooting from the kitchen.

Police Chief Robertson in a statement a short time afterward declared:

"It looks like a case of murder and suicide.". He was of the opinion that the shooting could be attributed to a case of mental illness of Henry Nurmi.

District Coroner Dr. J. E. Gimby and Crown Attorney Ian Munro both were called to the scene of the shooting.

None of the relatives were able to say immediately the cause of the shooting. Mr. and Mrs. Sleep who were in the kitchen at the time were not able to tell of any argument or quarrel between the mother and son.

The living room showed no signs of a struggle.

Nurmi was married and had one son, aged five years.

REJECT CLEMENCY PLEA

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP) — A plea for clemency in the case of Stanley Donald McLaren, 23, of Calgary and Toronto, sentenced to be hanged tomorrow, has been turned down by the Federal Cabinet, it was announced today.

Boy's Life Saved By Phone Talk

HORNEPAYNE, Ont., March 29 (CP)—Instructions on artificial respiration given over the telephone by a Hornepayne doctor were credited today with having saved the life of a four-year-old boy at the isolated northland station of Missonga, 129 miles from here.

The child, Freddy Pawliw, had been rescued by T. E. Gunia, Canadian National Railways telegrapher, from the icy waters of a small lake after crashing through the ice. Gunia had been attracted by the cries of the boy's mother whose rescue efforts were impeded by her skiis.

The boy was taken to the station where the operator on duty, K. G. Clarke, telephoned the dispatcher's office in this Northern Ontario town. Dr. W. W. Martin happened to be in the office and took over.

"I did just what the doctor told me," Clarke said. Dr. Martin held on to give added instructions after Clarke and Mrs. Pawliw had alternated some time working on the boy.

When the youngster finally let out a whimper, and this information was relayed to Dr. Martin, he said: "That's it, that's it, you've made it."

Former Toronto Mayor Frederick Conboy Dies

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Dr. Frederick Joseph Conboy, 67, former mayor of Toronto, died in hospital today. He had been in failing health since last April when struck by an auto in North Toronto.

His wife is still confined to hospital after undergoing a serious operation two weeks ago.

The son of a Toronto market gardener, Dr. Conboy became a leader in his profession as a dentist, in his career in politics and in the United Church.

He was elected mayor of Toronto in 1941 and served four consecutive terms as chief magistrate. He previously served four years as a controller, two years as alderman and five year on the board of education.

SPORTS ORGANIZER DIES

TORONTO (CP). — Patrick Michael Kennedy, 83, active in Ontario sports for many years, died here Monday. He devoted most of his sport career to baseball, organizing the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, but also was a lacrosse player, boxer and oarsman.

Legislature To Keep Ivory Oleo

Only Two LPP Men Opposed To Bill; May Have Changes

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Ivory-hued margarine for Ontario is favored by an overwhelming majority of members of the Legislature.

The House Monday voted 79 to 2 to give second reading to a government bill limiting yellow or yellow-and-red coloring in butter substitutes to 1.6 degrees, the same amount as proposed in British Columbia. Only the two Labor-Progressive Party members were opposed. CCF and Liberal members said they plan to introduce changes when the bill is taken up in committee later this week.

Hopes for prorogation by Friday faded after Provincial Treasurer Leslie Frost appealed to members to complete study of estimates by March 31, the end of the fiscal year. The government indicated earlier that it expected all sessional business would be finished by Thursday or Friday. The session started Feb. 10.

The House sat 3¾ hours Monday night, spending most of that time on consideration of mines department estimates. It also gave second reading to a government bill to increase workmen's compensation.

The Legislature today continues debate on bills and study of departmental estimates. There will be a night sitting.

Lively Exchange

Introduction of a CCF bill to limit creation of King's Counsel to 20 a year sparked a lively exchange between E. B. Jolliffe, leader of the CCF opposition, and Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell. The House voted down the measure.

In the last five years, 443 Ontario lawyers were appointed K.C.s.

Mr Jolliffe said some deserved the appointment, others didn't. But there was always "a great deal of pressure for their appointment." Mr. Blackwell said the lawyers appointed were chosen "by rough and ready rules" based mainly on their experience and

Rubber-Stamp House Looms For Hungary

NEW YORK, March 29 (CP).—The New York Times said today in a Vienna dispatch that new general elections are expected in Hungary within the next few months and will "rivet the Communist dictatorship on Hungary so firmly that it will be impossible to overthrow it by peaceful means."

An amended election law, which disenfranchises a large number of persons for political reasons, "will ensure a rubber stamp parliament," the dispatch said.

Says No War Coming

VANCOUVER, March 29—(CP).—Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, said Monday the allies are winning the cold war. "The Atlantic pact has the Russians stumped," he said in an interview. "I disagree with Laski's suggestion that we explain to the Russians our purpose — to maintain peace. I think the Russians know this too well, and that the pact means they will have to stop shoving Communism down western throats. There will be no war with the Soviet," he said. "We don't want war—neither do the Russians."

Prime Ministers To Meet Apr. 21 In Great Britain

OTTAWA, March 29 —(CP)—A meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers is to be held in London, beginning April 12, it was announced here today.

The announcement, made from the office of Prime Minister St. Laurent, said that it is proposed that External Affairs Minister Pearson represent Canada at the opening meetings.

"If developments occur which make it desirable for the prime minister to go to London subsequently, he will endeavor to fly over at once," said the announcement.

It added:

"Matters not fully discussed at the meetings of prime ministers held in October, 1948, involving certain constitutional questions, will be considered at a short series of private meetings which are expected to last a week."

India Has Turn

NEW [illegible], March 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru today told the Legislative Assembly that constitutional questions relating to India will be discussed at the Commonwealth Conference in London next month. These constitutional questions would refer to India's relationship to the Commonwealth after she declares herself an independent republic.

Indian Leader Safe On Plane

NEW DELHI, March 29 (CP)—A plane carrying Deputy Prime Minister Sardar V. Patel and six others has reached Jaipur safely, Indian air headquarters announced tonight.

The announcement said the plane made a forced landing but none was injured. Patel and his party covered the remaining distance by automobile.

The Maharanana of Jodphur, Sardar Patel's daughter, Maniben, and his secretary, V. Shankar, were also on the plane.

The 74-year-old Patel is regarded as the "strong man" of India. In addition to being deputy premier, which makes him the No. 2 man to Prime Minister Pandit Nehru, he is home minister, which gives him control of the police.

Port Arthur Invaded By Jobless Bush Men

PORT ARTHUR, March 29 (CP)—A request for provincial assistance was being considered today by civic officials here following a weekend which saw nearly 200 jobless bush workers flock to the lakehead seeking food and bedding.

The officials added, however, that outside aid would be sought only if the situation grew worse and they were hopeful that what Monday was described as the worst mass unemployment picture in years soon would right itself.

The Port Arthur situation developed when bush jobs ended a month or two earlier than usual, with the woodsmen running short of funds before normal summer jobs were available.

In their descent on Port Arthur over the week-end they thronged the Sailors' Institute and Salvation Army hostel. The Port Arthur branch of the Canadian Legion also opened its doors to provide accommodation.

Game Wardens' Salaries Can't Be Raised Scott Says

TORONTO, March 29 —(CP)—Lands Minister Scott said today it was not feasible to raise game wardens' salaries to a level comparable with those of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Mr. Scott told the Ontario Legislature fish and game committee there was "quite a difference" in standards of discipline and living conditions of the police and wardens.

Starting wage for wardens was $1,440 a year plus $180 cost-of-living bonus. Wardens were supplied with uniforms and food while in the bush. Most of them were doing a job which "they would love to do on their vacation if they were employed in industry."

The committee recommended that the creel limit on speckled trout be reduced from 20 a day to 15. The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters had recommended that the limit be reduced to 10.

The committee accepted a suggestion by James White (PC—Kenora) to set the figure at 15.

No Spears Allowed

The committee also recommended that no one shall have a spear in his possession while angling except in April and May when suckers are running. Mr. Scott said his department had asked the Federal government to prohibit "snagging" of fish.

The committee was not prepared to allow archers an open season on deer two weeks before the season for taking deer with guns as recommended by the Hunting and Field Archers of Ontario.

Mr. Scott said the archers stalked their game and the noise of rifles frightened deer away. They were also afraid of being shot by "trigger-happy" hunters.

The committee recommended that the archers get permission of a township council or private landowner to use a special archery hunting preserve. The archers could then seek approval of the department.

Judge Says Evidence In Poor Form

Brussels' Appeal For Extradition Dismissed By Court

TORONTO, March 28—(CP)—Judge Ambrose Shea today dismissed an application from the Belgian government for the extradition of 28-year-old Arthur Matthys to face a charge of murder in Belgium.

The immigrant, who works in Tillsonburg in a tobacco factory, rushed toward his wife after the decision was announced and both burst into tears as they hugged their three-year-old daughter.

Matthys testified Monday that the man who signed a warrant for his arrest was a Nazi collaborator. He was wanted in Belgium to stand trial for the murder of Armand Devos, alleged Nazi collaborator who was shot to death during the German occupation.

The young man, who came to Canada in 1947, told the court of his activities as a member of the resistance underground band and identified documents in his name showing him to be a member of "good standing" in the Belgian partisan movement.

The final decision came after two days of involved legal procedure on political and military background.

Poor Evidence

In his final judgment, Judge Shea said certain depositions admitted by M. H. Fyfe, K.C., of Ottawa, representing the Belgian ambassador to Canada, were not evidence that could be submitted to the court.

He stressed that it was not a trial that was being held but a preliminary hearing, and the evidence should be such that would determine the disposition of the case.

The depositions, testimonies made in Belgium, failed to comply with the Treaty or the Extradition Act, Judge Shea said. Only one affidavit was sworn, dates were not shown, and residence of those signing were not shown, he said.

"Even if the depositions were in proper form," he said, "I could not accept them as there are many omissions—words left out and pages left out."

Believe Peterborough To Be Iron Ore Centre

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—Mines Minister Frost said in the Legislature Monday that recent discoveries of iron ore bodies in Ontario would be a great benefit to the province some day.

Communities such as Peterborough and Lindsay, near where iron ore bodies have been found, would some day be "great iron ore centres like Pittsburg," Mr. Frost said speaking during consideration of the Mines Department estimates.

Pleads Innocent

WHITE PLAINS, NY, March 29 — (AP). — Gerard Graham Dennis, 29, today pleaded innocent to 12 indictments charging a series of robberies in Westchester County. Dennis, a native of St. Catharines, also is accused of a series of transcontinental robberies that allegedly netted him $600,000 in furs and jewellery. No date for the trial has been set.

OGDENSBURG, NY, Mar. 29 (AP). — Levi Gedbaw, who visits a local billiard parlor as part of his daily routine, will observe his 101st birthday tomorrow. Gedbaw, a former blacksmith, is a native of Canada, and has lived here for the last 83 years. He was born in Glengarry county near Cornwall.

Declares Keays Failed To Help Young Rookie

BELLEVILLE, March 29—(CP)—Staff Inspector E. T. Doyle of the Ontario Provincial Police testified today that Constable J. E. Keays failed to help a rookie police officer investigate a traffic accident.

Constable G. R. Purdy was "inexperienced," "very green", and "floundering about" during the investigation of an accident involving Leroy Woods in November, 1947, the inspector testified.

Constable Keays charges there has been a miscarriage of justice in the Woods prosecution, one of the cases being investigated by a royal commission.

The commission, now in its fourth week of public hearings, is probing the sweeping allegations of fraud, perjury and maladministration of justice that Constable Keays directed against seven provincial police officers and B. C. Donnan, Hastings County Crown Attorney.

Inspector Doyle said Commissioner W. H. Stringer told him there were reports of interference in the Woods case and ordered him to investigate.

Found No Evidence

The inspector said: "I couldn't find any evidence of interference."

As the 17th day of the commission opened, Harold Phillips of nearby Sydney township said his truck smashed three guard rail posts on Highway No. 14, north of Belleville, on Oct. 31, 1947.

His accident took place just a few days before Leroy Woods was involved in an accident at the same spot. The Woods accident and the prosecution following it—in which Provincial Constable J. E. Keays claims there had been a miscarriage of justice—now is being investigated by the commission.

Cpl. Sam Ervine testified at the Woods trial the posts were broken Sept. 28, 1947. Constable Keays said the testimony was perjured.

Staff Inspector E. T. Doyle of the Provincial Police testified that on Nov. 25, 1947, Commissioner W. H. Stringer ordered him to investigate reports of interference in the Woods prosecution.

Provincial Police Sgt. E. T. Hartleib and Constable Keays both told him there had been interference, the inspector said. Constable Keays claimed interference by B. C. Donnan, the crown attorney, and Cpl. Ervine and that there had been a false report put in by Constable G. R. Purdy.

"I couldn't find any evidence of interference," he said. "Constable Purdy did submit an incorrect report and I reprimanded Purdy . . I felt that what he did was from lack of knowledge of police work."

He said he reported that Constable Keays had failed to give proper direction to Constable Purdy, a recruit.

House Of Commons Gives Unanimous Approval To Atlantic Defence Pact

Best Possible Guarantee Against War All Party Leaders Agree; Members Endorse New Alliance By 149-2

OTTAWA, March 29 — (CP). — The draft of the historic Atlantic pact, binding the North Atlantic community of free states into a defensive alliance against aggressive Communism, received virtually unqualified approval from the Commons Monday. Endorsed by a vote of 149 to 2, the treaty drew these comments from party leaders:

Prime Minister St. Laurent: The pact provides the "best possible guarantee" against war by telling the totalitarian rulers of Soviet Russia in the only language they understand—"the language of strength"—that "we do mean business."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader: It is "really important . . that we indicate very clearly that we want this pact to work and that it is not just being signed as a matter of form."

M. J. Coldwell, CCF Leader—under the present circumstances peace can "best be secured by joining with other peace-loving nations in expressing a determination to resist threats of aggression."

Solon Low, Social Credit Leader—Social Crediters are prepared "to work with all our might for the ostensible motives" of the pact, but we are not prepared to work "for any hidden designs of international plotters who may be behind a smoke screen."

External Affairs Minister Pearson, expected to sign the pact for Canada next Monday in Washington, told the Chamber it was aimed at demonstrating beyond doubt that "a step against one will mean that the aggressor faces the total and unremitting resistance of all." He hoped to see similar peace-preserving pacts "elsewhere" in the world.

Charge Bootleg Milk Being Sold In Oshawa

OSHAWA, March 29 (CP), — Charges were made Monday night at an area meeting of the Ontario Milk Producers Association that bootleg milk—from uninspected barns and from cows not tested for tuberculosis—was being sold in Oshawa by Toronto dairies.

The charges were made by L. B. Jolley of Brampton who said also that farmers want one price for their milk. At present they are placed on quota with a price of $4.07½ cents for milk within the quota and $3.15 for milk under the quota. Farmers sold the "bootleg" milk in good faith for cheese factory use.

There was also an attack on William Willmot of Sharon, near Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Milk Producers Association.

Czechs Sentence 2 U.S. Soldiers On Spy Charges

PRAGUE, March 29—(Reuters)—The Senate of the Prague State Court has found two American soldiers guilty of espionage against Czechoslovakia, it was officially announced today, and has sentenced them to 12 and 10 years' imprisonment respectively.

The trial took place in secret. United States authorities were not informed of the proceedings.

The statement named the men as "Corporal Alexander Hunter (alias Jones) and Private Clarence Hill, both of the occupation forces in Germany."

Hill received 12 years and Jones 10 years, both with hard labor.

The announcement said the two men, who were sentenced Saturday, crossed the Czechoslovak frontier illegally last December "with the intention of spying in Czechoslovakia."

In "the course of these activities" they were caught by Czechoslovak security forces, it added.

News of the sentences surprised the information section of the American Embassy which had been trying to make contact with the two men since December, the information section said.

American sources stated the men were missed from their unit in Germany early in December and were regarded as deserters.

The Americans denied categorically any foundation in charges that the men were sent on a special mission.

Oppose Charity Gifts Measure

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—The Toronto Labor Council (CIO-CCL) Monday night adopted a resolution calling on the Ontario Government to withdraw its charitable gifts bill. The resolution declared that the proposed legislation was designed to restrict and ultimately destroy the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, which owns and operates the Toronto Daily Star and the Star Weekly.

Murray Cotterill, Council President, said that if the bill, given first reading, is passed and becomes law, "The sale of the Star must not be restricted to the highest bidder." He added:

"Organized labor must stand ready to buy that 90 per cent (which must be disposed of under the proposed legislation) and keep political opposition alive in the Toronto press."

Further Meat Ration Cut Faces Britain

May Suspend Argentine Purchases Rather Than Pay Higher Prices

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—A further cut in the meat ration was foreseen in government circles today if Britain suspends its purchases in Argentina rather than meet a demand for higher prices.

Reports from Argentina, bannerlined in morning papers, said suspension of meat shipments was being discussed. Argentine government officials said the shipments would continue during the Anglo-Argentine negotiations for a new agreement.

The meat ration was cut only Monday from 10d (17 cents) worth of fresh meat to 8d worth a person weekly. The allowance of 2d worth of canned corned beef remained the same.

Roughly one-third of Britain's meat supplies come from Argentina. If purchases are suspended, a further one-third cut in the ration might be imposed.

The current Andes agreement for 400,000 tons of meat expires Thursday. About 70,000 tons remain to be shipped to Britain under this agreement.

Authoritative sources said Argentina is demanding double the present price for its meat.

Silent on Price

It is the policy of the ministry of food not to disclose the price being paid for Argentine meat, or the amount of stocks on hand. Argentina's minister of economy, Roberto Ares, has said, however, that Britain is paying about 5¼d a pound.

A British government official said the negotiations in Buenos Aires are "at a critical stage, with the question of prices and dollar convertibility the two stumbling blocks."

The meat shortage is swelling the ranks of the vegetarians. In November 1945, there were 42,100. In January this year vegetarians had increased to 106,904. Now vegetarian foodstuffs are becoming scarce.

To get the extra cheese ration allocated to vegetarians, it is necessary to fill in a ministry of food form declaring that you are a vegetarian and have it certified by a "person in a prominent position," such as a doctor or lawyer.

Rides Mile On Floe Down St. Lawrence

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., March 28—(AP)—Donald C. Tulloch, Jr., rode 1½ miles down the St. Lawrence river on a cake of ice—and didn't even get his feet wet.

The 17-year-old youth stepped on the ice Sunday as he alighted from a boat to visit an island owned by his father. A 15-foot section of the ice broke away and off floated Tulloch.

His companion, Joseph Connor, couldn't get the outboard motor of the boat started again to go after Tulloch.

Joseph Crawford of Cornwall spotted the youth near Cornwall. Crawford rescued him with a boat.

4 Naval Airmen Killed In Plane Smash

HALIFAX, March 29—(CP) — Four naval airmen spun to their death in Halifax harbor Monday when a Sea Fury fighter plane collided at 1,000 feet with a formation of four Harvard training planes.

The Sea Fury, piloted by Lieut.-Cmdr. R. A. Monks of Toronto, commanding officer of the operational training squadron at HMCS Shearwater, and two of the Harvards twisted seaward in a fatal plunge.

Dead besides Monks were Lieut. Glen H. Hutton of Dartmouth, N. S., Lieut. C. J. Pulfer of Balmoral, Man., and air mechanic J. R. Cambrai, of Cap de la Madeleine, Que. Cambrai was in Pulfer's plane.

Pilots of the two Harvards that escaped the collision were Lieut. Roger F. Harris of Edmonton and Lieut. D. H. MacNicol of Toronto.

Harris said the crash happened "just the same as a car accident or any other accident. Nobody's to blame."

Navy and RCAF crash boats sped to the spot where the planes disappeared. Dragging operations continued tonight in an effort to locate the four bodies. An investigation will open immediately.

Details of the crash were sketchy. The four Harvards were flying in formation over the harbor near Shearwater. The Sea Fury approached the formation from astern and above.

Spend $6,500,000 On 4-Lane Highway

TORONTO, March 29—Nearly $6,500,000 was spent on completing the four-lane highway from Highland Creek to Oshawa, it is shown in a return tabled in the legislature Monday. This amount went for grading, paving, structural steel for bridges and underpasses and the installation of culverts and storm sewers.

All the work was let by tender and it went to 20 different companies. Some of the larger contracts were awarded to the following: Bergman Construction Co., $633,649; Don Construction Co., 453,732; Northland Contracting Co. Ltd., $458,320; Brennan Paving Co. Ltd., 606,734 for grading and $1,308,117 for paving; McHaffie-Birge Co. Ltd., $1,003,847, and Curran and Briggs Ltd., $731,846.

Declares Keays

"Constable Keays said he was going to bust things open," Inspector Doyle said. "Then he said the stenographer, Miss (Dorothy) Dowdell, was running the office."

The inspector said Miss Dowdell was instructed to confine herself to stenographic duties.

Commissioner Stringer then took some action on his report, Inspector Doyle said, and issued instructions that provincial constables were not to be put in charge of police detachments at district headquarters.

Perjury Charge

Inspector Doyle said Constable Keays visited him a month later and accused Cpl. Ervine of perjury. He was advised to report to his District Inspector W. A. Page, and Mr. Donnan. Later, Staff Inspector Arthur Moss made an investigation.

In cross-examination, Constable Keays asked what the Inspector did to decide who was telling the truth. Inspector Doyle said it was obvious Constable Purdy was inexperienced and "floundering about," had no directions from Constable Keays and went to Cpl. Ervine for advice.

Constable Keays said if Inspector Doyle had checked the diaries of Corporal Ervine and Constable Purdy he would have found they had made no investigation of the accident.

"Sometimes men don't put all they do in their diaries, even though they should," the Inspector said. "I had no reason to look in their diaries."

"Are you suggesting I never told you they hadn't investigated the accident?" asked the constable.

"You never told me any such thing," Inspector Doyle said.

Commission Counsel C. P. Hope offered to call Magistrate T. Y. Wills, who convicted Woods of dangerous driving and acquitted him of drunk driving, as a witness. Constable Keays said he didn't need any more witnesses.

"Purdy admitted he put in a false report," the inspector said.

More Inaccurate

"Wasn't it more inaccurate than false?" asked the commissioner, Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay.

'It was incorrect," Inspector Doyle said.

He said to Constable Keays: "You told me Constable Purdy had done very good work up to that time and suggested no action be taken against him."

He said Sgt. Harleib agreed with Constable Keays' contention that Miss Dowdell "was running the district, interviewing people on police matters and when officers in the district came to Belleville they asked her for advice."

Inspector Doyle said the constable came to see him the following month and complained Corporal Ervine had committed perjury. He was told to report to Inspector Page.

"Didn't you tell me you would take me to see the commissioner and I said No, I didn't want to go over my inspector's head?" asked Constable Keays.

"That's untrue, absolutely untrue," the inspector said.

Appoint Committee

Opposition members withdraw three bills proposing amendments to the election act after Mr. Blackwell gave assurance that a standing committee on the election act will be appointed.

Second reading was given to two bills aimed at stamping out questionable practices in the tourist business and at giving the travel department increased control over places catering to tourists.

One proposes that only places authorized by the minister will be able to display "tourist information sign." Each tourist establishment also will be compelled to put out a sign saying whether it is closed, open, has vacancies or no vacancies. The other gives the department authority to license and inspect every type of establishment offering accommodation to the travelling public, authority which previously applied only to tourist camps.

Hunting From Airplanes Barred In Legislature Bill

TORONTO, March 29—(CP).—Hunting from airplanes is banned by the terms of a bill introduced Monday in the Ontario Legislature by Lands Minister Scott. In future, planes may be used only to take hunters to their camp sites. They may not be used for spotting deer and moose from the air and then landing to shoot them. Another amendment permits hunting of rabbits without a special licence. The bill takes rabbit out of the category of fur-bearing animals and lists them with porcupines, woodchucks and pests.

Fines for violation of regulations governing hunting of deer and moose are heavier. Fines for shooting female moose will range from $289 to $500; for killing bull moose out of seasn, $100 to $300; for killing deer out of season, from $50 to $200. Present penalties range from $20 to $100.

Fine for illegal taking of muskrat is from $5 to $25 a pelt.

Townships and township organizations approved by the minister may charge fees for licences to hunt pheasants, rabbits and foxes in open season.

Hunters will be restricted to carrying rifle of .22 calibre or less during the closed season for deer and moose. This is designed to effect greater control over shooting out of season.

Persons wishing to keep a wild animal as a pet or for scientific or educational purposes must obtain a permit from the deputy-minister, Frank MacDougall, under another amendment.

Announce Tax Policy Covering Basic Herds

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP). — Revenue Minister McCann announced to the Commons Monday a new policy covering the establishment by farmers of basic herds for income tax purposes. These herds may be for cattle, horses, sheep or swine.

The number of animals in the basic herd cannot at any time exceed the number of animals on hand. Animals purchased for feeder operations cannot be included.

The number of animals in the basic herd may be increased in any subsequent taxation year by the addition of mature animals acquired either by gift, inheritance or purchase, provided no part of the cost was charged against income, or by natural increase if the fair market value of such animals is added to the income of the taxation year in which they gain maturity.

House Of Commons

Hamel of St. Maurice-Lefleche, members of the two-man nationalistic Bloc Populaire Party from Quebec.

In the early stages, Mr. St. Laurent announced that a Newfoundland representative will be sworn into the Federal Cabinet April 1 and outlined plans for ceremonies that day to mark Newfoundland's entry into Confederation.

Revenue Minister McCann announced the government plans to loan $4,000,000 to the CBC to help it develop television stations in Canada, beginning with Montreal and Toronto.

The Senate gave second reading to an oil and pipe line construction program involving expenditure of as much as $250,000,000 and opened study of two government control bills—dealing with rural mail carriers and the export of farm products—which must be adopted before March 31.

Alliance Against War

Mr. St. Laurent piloted the treaty draft through the Commons and said it will "bring together in alliance against war the free nations of the North Atlantic community which share a common heritage, a common civilization, a common belief in the purposes and the principles of the charter of the United Nations, a common desire to live in peace with all peoples and all governments."

He added:

"This is to be far more than an old-fashioned military alliance.

"It is based upon our common determination to strengthen our free institutions and to promote conditions of stability and well-being.

Speaking in French, he said Canada undertook through the pact to regard as an attack on her an attack against any other signatory nation, but reserved the right "to decide ourselves, in this Canadian parliament, to what extent we will participate in the hostilities, and at what moment we will participate."

It was a pact of "mutual" security. Through it Canadians would obtain security for themselves, for their families and for their families' families.

Mr. Drew said words alone were not enough. The pact's effectiveness would depend on whether "the intent, the spirit and the practical operation are given living reality or the member nations forget all the tragic lessons of the last half-century and once again treat the declaration as nothing but a pious expression of good intentions."

He said the world was faced "by the organized forces of the anti-Christ who directs the aggressive plans of the Soviet empire from the Kremlin."

Failure to make the pact a working reality "will mean war," said Mr. Drew, warning that the Soviet armies already were only a short march from the English Channel and the Atlantic seaboard.

Mr. Coldwell, supporting the pact fully, said:

"We must insist that universal peace and security will depend in the final analysis on the extent to which poverty, misery and want are banished from the world."

The CCF supported the treaty as a necessary "defensive instrument," but felt that plans for military aid and security were of little value "unless based upon a determination to build by mutual agreement the positive social and economic conditions of peace which involve wide measures of international planning for the common good."

The treaty was not designed by the United States as a means of bringing the western European states into an alliance to destroy Russia, but rather came from the efforts of those countries to enlist U. S. support in their efforts to fend off Communism.

Mr. Low said the Social Credit party was prepared to support the pact, provided it was not an alliance for "economic or military aggression." The party was prepared to "vote for the woodpile, but not for the nigger who might be hidden under it."

Mr. Heon said there was no one in Quebec Province, whether French or English speaking, who was not willing to surrender that portion of national sovereignty which was necessary to the preservation of international peace. Russia had been guilty of a threat which could not go "unchallenged."

Picket Threats Face Conference

NEW YORK, March 29—(AP) Delegates to the controversial "world peace" conference, embarking on a tour of American cities, ran into new picket threats today.

The second of a series of "cultural rallies for peace" is scheduled in nearby Newark, N. J., tonight, with the New Jersey Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions in the role of sponsor.

The New York conference last week-end was characterized in advance by the United States State Department as a sounding board for Communist propaganda —a characterization which the sponsors of the meeting hotly denied.

Announcement of plans for the Newark session brought from veterans' organizations and other groups a wave of protests similar to those which greeted the New York conference. Pickets were promised by State leaders of the Roman Catholic war veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American War Veterans.

The New Jersey Council sponsoring the Newark meeting as a branch of the national organization which sponsored the New York session.

An "action committee" set up at the New York conference announced that after the Newark meeting most of the foreign delegates would embark on a tour of "as many American cities as possible." A spokesman said the itinerary was not complete, but that cities certain to be visited include Baltimore, Philadelphia, Detroit, St. Louis and Los Angeles.

R. Locke Chosen Conservatives' New President

CAMPBELLFORD, March 29—(ENS)—Ralph Locke of Campbellford was elected president of the Northumberland Progressive Conservative Association at the annual meeting in the town hall, Warkworth, on Monday. Mrs. Ruby Meggs, Harwood, will serve another term as secretary-treasurer.

Jack Erskine, Cobourg, was named first vice-president of the Association executive; Mrs. McCurdy, Brighton, second vice-president; Harry Orr, Stockdale, third vice-president; Douglas Devine, Haldimand Township, fourth vice-president; and Margaret Bingham, Colborne, fifth vice-president.

Hugh Latimer, chief organizer, Toronto, said that Northumberland county was one of the best organized ridings in the province and this was largely due to the excellent work of the ward chairman. He stated that the most important function of a political organization was to get the people out to vote. "The machinery," he said, "should be in perfect running order before election day and the key positions should be given to alert and energetic workers."

Member Speaks

E. Earle Drope, federal member of Northumberland, said that since George Drew had become leader, the Conservative party was marching forward as it had never done before. The convention in Ottawa by its size and enthusiasm, was proof that the country was looking for new leadership and a square and equitable deal for its people.

Strength Growing

He stated that the by-elections in the provinces east of the Ottawa had clearly demonstrated the growing strength of the Conservative party and that the Liberals had eased the tax-structure because of pressure from these provinces. The Prime Minister, he remarked, was urging the newspapers to give more publicity to his party because he was alarmed at the favorable comments on Drew's policies in hundreds of periodicals in Canada.

The following delegates and alternates were named to attend the Toronto convention when a provincial leader will be elected.

Delegates: Frank George, Brighton township; Nesbitt Haggerty, Murray township; Harry Desford, Seymour township; Lilian Nesbitt, Brighton; Clifford Gillespie, Haldimand township; Arthur Terry, Cobourg; Mrs. Russell Johnston, Harwood; Mrs. Arnie Irwin, Seymour township; Douglas Devine, Haldimand township, and George Gummer, Cramahe township.

Alternates: Owen Finlay, Brighton township; Art McConnel, Brighton Village; Clarence Thackeray, Roseneath; Charles Ewing, Warkworth; Jack Mitchell, Harwood; Austin Hall, Colborne; O. J. Robins, Roseneath; J. F. Smith, Cobourg; Art. Hayes, Murray township; Mrs. Tom Bates, Baltimore; Herman Morrow, Wooler; Hilton White, Colborne, and Ross McCracken, Roseneath.

On the platform were Mr. and Mrs. R. Earle Drope, Harwood; Mrs. W. A. Goodfellow, Codrington; Mr. Charles York, Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Locke, Campbellford and Mr. Hugh Latimer, Toronto.

Elgin Edgar, immediate past president, presided and Mrs. Ruby Meggs acted as secretary. The Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, who was billed to address the Association, was unable to attend. Sound pictures of the Ottawa convention were shown at the close of the meeting.

Bomb Scares Village

SALINA, Kas., March 29 (AP)—Gypsum, a small village near this United States air force base, was jarred Monday by the blast of a 100-pound practice bomb dropped accidentally from a B-29. No one was injured. The air force said the release mechanism was faulty.

Protest Assault

VIENA, March 29 (Reuters) — Maj.-Gen. T. J. W. Winterton, British Deputy High Commissioner in Austria, has officially protested to Russian authorities over an incident Sunday when two British Army corporals were assaulted by Russian sentries. The men, who were not badly injured, "unwittingly" stepped past a sentry's barrier, a British statement said.

Cobourg Stowaway Says "Had Too Many"

COBOURG, March 29—(ENS)—Cobourg had its first "stowaway" case, laid under the Shipping Act, when James Reilly of Nova Scotia appeared in police court Monday on a charge of shipping aboard car ferry Ontario No. 2 without permission. He was given seven days in jail.

Reilly related that he had had "one or two too many," on Saturday and decided to go aboard the ferry where he used to work to see some of his pals.

"We were out to sea before I realized it, so I just lay down on the car deck and had a sleep," said Reilly.

Members of the crew found him, took him to the skipper and Reilly was locked up. When the ship returned he was put ashore and this time in custody.

Shopbreakers Held On Remand At Cobourg

COBOURG, March 29 (ENS)—Brought back from Hamilton where they were arrested on shopbreaking charges, Donald Wainright, age 18 and Ronald Deadman, age 19, appeared in police court Monday. Both youths are residents of Hamilton. Wainright pleaded guilty to breaking, entering and theft in connection with a clothing store here and also to the same charge in regard to the robbery of a Port Hope sports shop. Deadman pleaded not guilty to the Cobourg charge but guilty to the Port Hope charge. They were remanded in custody until Monday next.

Find Plane Wreckage

BEYROUTH, Lebanon, March 29 — (Reuters). — The wreckage of a United Nations aircraft missing for six weeks with two British crew members, has been found in the Lebanese foothills, with the two bodies, UN sources said on Monday.

Steal Safe, Cigarettes

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 29 (CP)—Thieves Monday broke into a restaurant in neighboring Stamford township and made off with a safe containing $400 and several cartons of cigarets. Entry was gained through a window. This is the second time thieves have raided the restaurant within a month.

Plan Pipe Lines To Ship Oil Out Of Alberta

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP).—A plan for a network of pipe lines to ship oil and natural gas from Alberta fields to the east, west and south was described to the Senate Monday night by Transport Minister Chevrier.

Mr. Chevrier outlined a bill which will provide a basis for the incorporation of five pipe-line companies, expected to spend between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 in shipping Alberta oil as far east as Winnipeg, west to Vancouver and south to Seattle, Wash.

Pressing the bill as urgent, Mr. Chevrier said he was informed the companies are ready to start work on the pipe lines "immediately" their separate acts of incorporation are passed by parliament.

The bill passed second reading and was referred to the Senate transportation and communications committee after Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, urged that the western provinces, particularly Alberta, be given a formal opportunity to make representations.

The bill would place the administrative control of the pipe lines under the Board of Transport Commissioners, which now looks after railways, telephones, telegraphs and other matters.

The five companies involved, Mr. Chevrier said, plan to build two pipe lines from Alberta to Vancouver and Seattle, one from Edmonton to Regina and one from Calgary to Winnipeg. Location of the fifth was not stated.

To Face Manslaughter Charge At Assizes

COBOURG, March 29 (ENS)—One criminal action and five civil actions are on the docket of the spring assizes which open today before Mr. Justice Urquhart. Three divorce actions are included in the list.

The criminal case is a charge of motor manslaughter against Garnet Cox of Peterborough arising out of a fatality which occurred last November near Fraserville. Richard Mercer, passenger in Cox's car, died after the accident.

Drunk, Gets 3 Months

William Clinton of Lakefield was sent to jail for three months by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., at city police court today when he pleaded guilty to drunkenness for the third time in the past 12 months. He and Amy Edwards were both arrested on Brock St. and the latter was fined $10 with $2.50 costs when she also pleaded guilty to drunkenness.

Two men who pleaded guilty to second offences, Orville McColl and Michael O'Brien were each fined $50 with $2.50 costs.

PATROLMAN ANTHONY OETHEIMER lies dying on the platform of a New York subway station after a running gun battle with a bandit in which two other policemen were wounded. A fellow policeman and a passerby offer what comfort they can, but Oetheimer died on the way to the hospital.

3 Starving Near Food

PAOLA, Kas., March 29 (AP)—Two starving sisters and the body of their brother were found Monday in a farm house cluttered with mountainous piles of food and clothing. Police said the sisters, Mandy and Mattie Stachling, both in their 60s, were found in bed under a huge pile of bedclothes. The brother, Albert, 70, was found on the floor, apparently dead for about 10 days of malnutrition. The sisters are recovering can stifle your spirit and ambition!

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*

DO YOU start the day with a weary, letdown feeling? Have your spirit and sparkle gone into a slump? Is your face too pale to be good-looking? These are often the signs of a blood condition. If you have them, you may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

Your red blood cells may be pale and shrunken—they may be too weak to transmit full energy to every muscle and fibre. Many people—men and children as well as women—go dragging their weary way through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

If your healthy color and vitality are deserting you—due to this Borderline Anemia—take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells to healthy color and size—to help restore your vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other conditions. Always consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood! Then your energy and color can come surging back! Then you can get fun out of life again!

* A mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA why it can make you TIRED • PALE • LISTLESS

Blood that builds energy! This is how energy-building blood looks under a microscope. Here are big, plentiful red blood cells that can release vigor to all your body.

Blood in Borderline Anemia! Many have blood like this; never know it. Cells are puny, faded. Blood like this can't release the energy you need to feel and look your best.

Benelux, Western Union And The North Atlantic Pact

Three important kinds of union have come into being, or to the formulative stage, during the last two years: Benelux, the West European Union, and the North Atlantic Treaty. They are closely related and have a common main purpose to restore the economic health of Europe and to unite for mutual protection against any external threats to their political natures. There is a fourth union — the Eastern Union, — sired and dominated by Moscow, which includes Russia, Roumania, Hungary and Bulgaria. This was signed a year ago. The western unions have come about as necessary counter-measures to the influences which created the Eastern Union.

* * *

Benelux is the most closely knit of the western unions. It is an economic merger of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxemburg, from the initial letters of which national names the word "Benelux" has been coined. The Benelux union has not yet been fully consummated, for there are large difficulties in establishing common customs frontiers, free movement of goods and people, and free interchange of monies. It is now expected that France and Western Germany may enter the union. However, France is reluctant to see her traditional enemy, Germany, included, and will probably demand that Italy be invited into the Benelux union, if West Germany is. On Saturday France signed a trade treaty with Italy, which will reduce and eventually remove tariff barriers between the two countries.

* * *

The concept of a West German nation is recent, and has resulted from the split between East and West, which has occurred physically across the middle of Germany. The British and American occupation zones are unified in practice as well as theory. The French zone is still in many practical ways a thing apart. From these three zones with a capital in Frankfurt it is hoped that a West German state will be formed. The German Ministers-President of the area, now meeting at Bonn, are not in complete agreement with the British-American plan, and the situation is complicated by the French attitude. Before Western Germany enters the Benelux union, there has to be a West German state.

* * *

The second important international western union results from the Brussels Pact signed a year ago. The Benelux countries and France and Britain have united primarily for defence, secondarily for co-ordinating trade and commerce in conjunction with E.R.P. and in preparation for the post-Marshall Plan years. There is a military committee headed by Viscount Montgomery. Plans are being laid, but at the moment there are more generals and planners than arms and soldiers under their direction.

* * *

Mr. Bevin has described the Atlantic treaty as another step toward the consolidation and co-operation of Western Europe: "This new Pact brings us under a wider roof of security, a roof which stretches over the Atlantic Ocean and gives us an assurance of a greater preponderance of power which will be used on the side of peace, security and orderly progress. It will also give much greater confidence and enable economic development to move along more speedily".

* * *

The three unions so speedily formed give a pattern to the western world which, let it be hoped, will shape world peace in our time.

In the U.S.A. several states which already have a state flower, a state gem, a state beauty queen, and whatnot, are choosing a "state dog". If this idea takes hold in Canada there will be great competition as to which province shall get the Dog in the Manger".

Affront To Canadians

On Friday at a New York hotel, three Canadians were accosted by U.S. Federal agents as if they were common thugs or pickpockets. They were Professor Barker Fairley, F.R.S.C., head of the Department of German, University College, Toronto; his wife; and a third Canadian named John Goss, a Vancouver singer and actor. The three were escorted from the hotel hall where they had been sitting among the more distinguished guests, and detained for questioning. Later Professor Barker Fairley was released and allowed to continue his visit in the United States, which had been chiefly for the purpose of giving a series of academic lectures. Mrs. Barker Fairley was ordered back to Canada, as was John Goss.

They had been attending a meeting in the New York hotel of the "World Peace Conference". This Conference is alleged to be communist-inspired. Nevertheless, the American authorities did not forbid the holding of it, and the State Department issued visas to twenty-two Soviet Russian intellectuals who proposed attending this so-called "cultural and scientific conference for world peace". The State Department did say that the U.S. "entertains no illusions as to the manner in which the Communists will attempt to use and manipulate the present conference".

The three Canadians were given permits to enter the United States. They were not stopped at the border. No. They got as far as New York, and were attending a session of this Conference which had not been banned, and for which visas had been given outright communists like Shostakovich, the famous Russian composer. There the finger was put on the Canadian citizens.

This sort of treatment is an indignity offered to all Canadian citizens even though they do not share the enthusiasm for Russia and communism that Mrs. Barker Fairley seems to have. Was this action taken by the U.S. Federal agents with the prior knowledge of the Canadian Government? Has the Canadian Government asked for an official explanation of this affront to its citizens? Is the Canadian Government considering lodging a formal diplomatic protest at the discriminatory treatment of Canadians?

Official America seems to have spun an unlovely web of fear and frenzy against anything that is not coloured true-blue. Have its fears made it morbid? What is the destiny of freedom in the United States? These matters concern us, because the U.S. is the leading western power, and is our neighbourly friend. Our immediate concern is that its fears do not lead it into treating Canada shamefully, through dealing with Canadian visitors in the shocking way it treated the three Canadian citizens last Friday in New York. If the U.S. considered them undesirable, they should have been excluded at the border, not arrested in a New York hotel.

A Good Year For T.C.A.

Trans-Canada Airlines (TCA) belongs to the people of Canada. We can be proud of its development, service and record during the last year. The Annual Report lately presented to the Minister of Trade and Commerce is a bright record, despite its deficit last year of $1,183,022. The deficit, from domestic services was reduced by a third. The deficit from the new overseas services was heavier, but as G. R. McGregor, the President, noted in his report: "In inaugurating these, TCA has been required to proceed in the face of expected operational losses. However, the action taken is considered to be justified by the direct and indirect benefits that accrue to the nation as a whole through the existence of such important transport services—benefits that do not appear on the Company's balance sheet". In these formative years, nearly all overseas airlines companies everywhere are operating at losses, which their respective governments willingly underwrite.

In 1948 TCA carried 27 per cent. more passengers than in 1947; flew 106 per cent. more ton miles of express and air cargo; began the first nation-wide transport of unsurcharged first-class mail by air in any American country; introduced twenty "North Star" aircraft, which increased carrying capacity by 60 per cent.; reduced transcontinental flight time between Montreal and Vancouver to thirteen hours; began air service between Canada and Bermuda and between Canada and the West Indies; brought 6,000 new Canadian citizens from the British Isles and Europe; carried 9,000 persons and 600,000 pounds of essential cargo across the Rockies in emergency service during the British Columbia flood crisis.

Such a record shows that TCA is Canada well.

The Economics Of Family Allowances

By R. J. DEACHMAN

THE Hon. Arthur Roebuck made a speech in the Senate a few days ago. How times have changed! I knew "Arthur" quite well in his younger days. He lived in Toronto—still does. I lived in the West at that time. When I dropped into Toronto, now and then, I called Arthur Roebuck, he took me to lunch. I did a fair share of the talking—so did he. Good Heavens, how he has changed!

* * *

HE was a Liberal then, politically speaking, but somewhat left of Liberalism in his economic views. He was a single taxer, a follower of Henry George and a free trader. He stood, as far as possible, from the maudlin socialism of today. It's hard to measure the changes which take place in two friends as they grew older, years widening the gap between them. Changes which take place within our own minds are imperceptible. We see, sharply and clearly defined, the altered views of others. Our paths have diverged, I lunch with him no more, but sometimes there is, I confess, a wistful feeling, I wish I could meet again the Roebuck I once knew.

* * *

THE Hon. W. R. Davies of Kingston spoke in the Senate on family allowances. He was rather critical of them. Senator Roebuck replied, I quote from the text of his speech:

"Let those who are primarily concerned in business activity and who squawk about taxes not overlook effect of the fact that by June the Government will have increased the purchasing power of the mothers of Canada, by family allowance cheques, to the amount of $1,000,000,000. An average of $5.90 per child has been paid out to 3,873,268 children this fiscal year."

My dear Senator Roebuck this is extraordinary! Purchasing power comes primarily from production, or services—not from the transfer of money from one group to another. When a government takes from the people, in taxes, $1,000,000,000 in order to pay other people $1,000,000,000, total purchasing power is not increased. What some have earned others have spent. The money was taken from the Canadian taxpayers — they then have less—it is given to others, they have more. It is absurd to suggest that the total volume of purchasing power has hereby been altered. If this were true taxing Peter to pay Paul would enrich the entire apostolate and I find that rather hard to believe.

* * *

LET us examine the full facts—they are indeed important. Did the beneficiaries of our largess really gain by this arrangement? Family allowances came into effect in the first year of the war, they were a direct charge upon the nation. We were borrowing heavily at that time. The cost of family allowances came first from borrowed money. The billion borrowed to pay this tax was simply fuel poured on mounting flames of inflation. The standard of living in Canada rose during the war. It was the natural result of full employment and increased production. It did not come from family allowances.

* * *

NOW these divergent points of view have a very simple explanation. They represent two distinct schools of economic thought. There are far wider differences between these than are to be found in our numerous political parties. They may be defined as the distributive and the creative schools. The distributive school wants to redistribute our national income, take from some, give to others. We see it clearly reflected in speeches such as that recently delivered by Senator Roebuck. He wants wider social services, vast expenditures, higher wage rates. It is, in effect, the expression of a desire to consume the seed grain rather than to plan for greater crops and increased production.

* * *

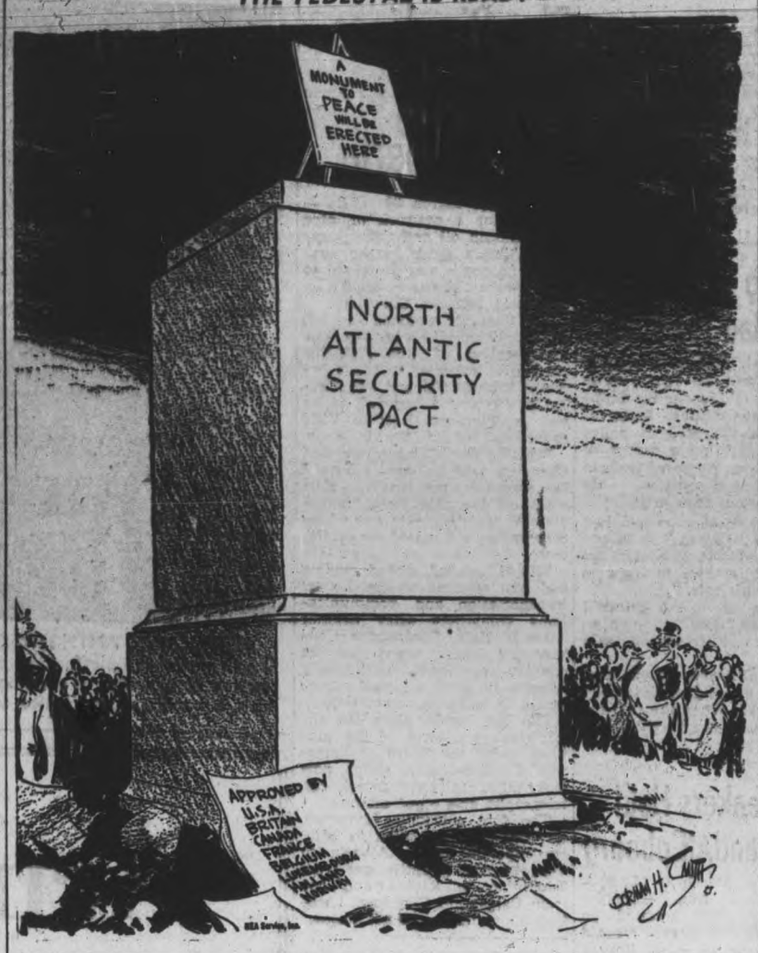
WE see this in Senator Roebuck's attitude toward labour. In his recent speech he searched far and wide for illustrations of low wage levels. He is unaware of the fact that wages depend on production and without increased production there can be no lifting of real wage levels. The fact is—wages are a part of costs. When wages rise, prices rise, and labour must pay the costs of its own gains or take it out of other groups, mainly out of the basic production.

The creative school of thought seeks expansion along different lines. It seeks to increase efficiency, to expand production. It wants to husband the natural resources, to develop them wisely, to expand the national income by conservation and prudent development, so that all may gain from sharing in the fruits of effort, wisely directed towards the end it has in view.

* * *

I AM glad I was born on a farm, it enables me to see more clearly the picture I have in mind. I see two farms. They are a mile and a quarter apart. The farmer who settled on one of these farms hooded the land. He sold the timber, cropped the farm to the limit, finally abandoned it and moved West to repeat the process. On the other farm was a man who loved the land. Production on that farm last year was higher than ever before. A low area has been drained. There is a good sugar bush. The young trees have been protected. Which of these two farmers was the better citizen—which was truly the friend of man? One belonged to the distributive school of thought—the other, to the creative.

The sad reality: "The most melancholy of human reflections, perhaps, is that, on the whole, it is a question whether the benevolence of mankind does most good or harm."—Walter Bagehot."



THE "BOSS."

The enumerator had called for the census paper.

"Ah, I see it is not properly filled in yet," said he, "You've forgotten to put yourself 'Head' in this column.

"No, mister, I didn't forget it," said Mr. Henpeck. Then lowering his voice and nodding in the direction of his better half, "As a matter o' fact, I was going to put that in ... she wasn't lookin!"

Letters To The Editor

DISMISS THE DEVIL FROM HELL?

Sir: Mr. Strange admits, in his recent letter in the Examiner, that flogging has a deterrent effect on crime and has proved effective in the past, but he states that such treatment is sadistic and out-of-date. He suggests, instead, treatment in a sanitarium or hospital. What surgical or mental miracle that is to happen there is not divulged.

The only cure for crime is to revolutionize present day society, but that is merely an intellectual's cloud-cuckoo-land dream. No doubt, if Toronto's 'teenage gangsters were offered flying in the latest jet planes, or hunting trips to Northern Ontario, they would consider these things preferable to hooliganism, but such delights are only for the fortunate few. Fear of punishment is the sole practical means for the prevention of crime, arising from the frustrated lives of industrial youth living in back streets of our big cities. Church, clubs, etc., have evidently only a limited appeal. Moreover, the teaching of the church is also based on the fear of punishment in hell for wrongdoing on earth, in this case by burning, which is surely far worse than flogging.

Although Mr. Strange quotes the scriptures, he evidently thinks their teachings unscientific and, no doubt, sadistic, and he would advise that the Devil be dismissed from Hell and replaced by a psychiatrist.

Yours etc., D.

SUBSTITUTE FOR MARGARINE?

Sir: The snake in the garden of Canada is rearing its head again—the one called margarine.

Could we not oust the interloper—scion of a foreign country — by inventing a purely Canadian product to fit the purse and needs of smaller income groups.

Since butter is made from the most expensive part of milk (pure cream) which is only a small portion (3 or 4 per cent.) of milk it cannot help but be expensive and good. And since margarine is made of only oils and milk it must be lower priced, but considering its content it is not so low.

Why could we not make a butter with say a 50 per cent. content of cream the rest milk —plainly marked as such, and same price as margarine or lower.

In this way, 'save the day', until prices are all more in line, and prove with pride—that Canadians can choose the good and refuse the evil (that is controversies) Isaiah 7: 15.

In the same way, invent a milk drink to compete with 'pop' drinks. Could it not be that our full hospitals are the result of 'what is put in the stomach'. We are constantly advised on radio and in press how to feed pigs. Are humans less valuable?

A would be peace maker. C.E.

THE YELLOW STREAK

Sir: In regard to your editorial in Saturday night's Examiner entitled "A Touch of Yellow in Provincial Parliaments", may I suggest it might also be appropriate for the worthy legislators to wear a matching yellow band extending from the nape of the neck to the seat of the trousers, clearly marked "substitute for backbone" when it comes to dealing with the monopolistic, dictatorial dairy industrialists.

It will be remembered that the Legislators did not work over-time during the "Hungry Thirties" to put through an act that would have forced manufacturers of corn-syrup to mark their products "substitute for honey", when the honey producers were going bankrupt wholesaling honey at 5c per pound—and less. Thank you.

Yours truly,
MARGARINE USER.

Mayor For 40 Years

Just how much of Outremont's beauty and charm and the opportunity of gracious living that it affords derive from Joseph Beaubien's efforts it is impossible to say. Certainly a great deal, for his guiding hand was on the municipality for 40 years. Outremont and its welfare were his constant pre-occupation and if there is a mark of distinction on the suburban city, as there is, Joseph Beaubien put it there.

Canada has few examples of a man holding high municipal office so long. In Joseph Beaubien's extraordinary case his 40-year term as mayor did not represent political acumen, although he had that; it spelled public confidence.

His 84th year found him still possessed of the mental vigour that got so much done. His 85th has taken him from the scene. Of no man in Outremont can it be more truthfully said, as is written of Wren in Westminster Abbey: "Reader, if you seek his monument, look about you."—Montreal Star.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Thus saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him....

Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt and merchandise of Ethiopia and of the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and, they shall be thine: they shall come after thee; in chains they shall come over, and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God.

Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself. O God of Israel, the Saviour. They shall be ashamed, and also confounded all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols. But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else. I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob. Seek ye me in vain: I the Lord speak righteousness, I declare things that are right....

I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return. That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear. (Isa. 45: 1, 14-19, 23.)

* * *

Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written. He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. (I Cor. 3: 18-20.)

Unconsidered Trifle

"I say, you're not still engaged to that Smith girl, are you?"

"No, I'm not!"

"Lucky for you, old man. How on earth did you get out of it?"

"I married her!"

"Why so glum, old chap?"

"I've just had my fortune told by a man."

"But these people don't really know anything."

"This one does. He's my bank manager."

"Who was the first man?" asked the visiting school inspector.

"Adam!" chorused a number of boys.

"Who," went on the inspector, "was the first woman?"

"Eve!" came the general shout.

"Who was the meekest man," went on the inspector.

"Moses," came the reply.

"And who was the meekest woman?" the inspector continued.

The class was silent. The children looked blankly at one another, but none could answer. Finally a grimy little hand went up.

"Well, and who was it?" asked the inspector.

"There wasn't any," came the boy's reply.

COLORFUL MP RETIRING—George Black, Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for the Yukon, says he won't be a candidate in the next Federal election. First elected to the Commons 28 years ago, he cnd his wife, a one-ime Yukon MP herself, have been familiar figures in Ottawa political life. Personal popularity has been Mr. Black's chief campaign weapon as shown by his constant re-election in an area where it is said there are more Liberals than Tories.

Divorce Rate Declines 16% Figures Show

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP) — The first break in Canada's soaring divorce rate in almost a decade occurred during 1948, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Monday.

The decline in the number of marriages hitting the rocks was the first interruption in a steady upward climb that started during the anxious wartime days of 1940.

Preliminary figures showed 6,881 divorces during 1948, a decrease of 16 per cent from the 1947 total of 8,199. However, the divorce rate was still far from what it was in 1940. The 1948 total was 240 per cent higher than eight years ago.

On the basis of the number of divorces per 100,000 population, the rate was 53.5 last year compared with 65.3 in 1947 and the comparatively small figure of 20.8 divorces per 100,000 in 1940.

Every province except tiny Prince Edward Island shared the decreased divorce rate. The island province had a big increase from 18 in 1947 to 49 last year. That was 52.7 for every 100,000 people compared with 19.1 the preceding year and put Prince Edward Island in fifth place in comparative divorce rate figures.

Ontario had the most divorces—3,107 or 45 per cent of the all-Canada total, as compared with 3,509 in 1947.

But British Columbia while following Ontario in the number of divorces, exceeded all the rest of Canada by a wide margin in the rate on population basis. B. C. reported 1,683 divorces as compared with 1,826 in 1947—the figures representing 155.5 per 100,000 people as against 174.9 the year before.

Quebec, the only province without its own divorce court, recorded the lowest rate of broken marriages on the basis of population. Divorces, which can be obtained in Quebec only by decree of parliament, averaged 7.7 per 100,000 people, a decrease from 9.4 in 1947.

In the number of divorces Quebec ranked sixth, with 292 divorces as against 348 in 1947.

3,000 Doctors Still D.P.'s Barred By Many Countries

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA, March 29—(AP).—If any country in the world has areas where doctors are scarce, it need only apply to the International Refugee Organization. Nearly 3,000 highly-qualified physicians and surgeons are living among displaced persons in European refugee camps, with little hope of ever again being allowed to help in the battle against disease and human suffering.

More than half these unemployed doctors are general practitioners. The remainder are specialists ranging from surgeons to psychiatrists.

Many of them are in their thirties or early forties and wish nothing more than to be allowed to use their skill in a new home, anywhere.

But nearly all countries admitting refugee immigrants refuse to accept doctors because of the opposition of local medical associations, the IRO said in a recent report.

The only countries accepting refugee doctors "in very small numbers," the report said, are Norway, The Netherlands, Venezuela and Iran.

Competition Feared

Most countries bar them because their medical associations fear competition or a lowering of medical standards, according to the IRO report. As a result, many doctors have been emigrating as unskilled laborers and carrying on illicit practices in order to maintain themselves and their families during the years necessary to qualify for local medical degrees.

The report stressed the difficulties of long training and examination in unfamiliar languages for persons long past the student stage. The fears of the medical associations "are largely groundless," the report said.

"As for competition, no country in the world has sufficient doctors to maintain the best possible level of health in all its areas."

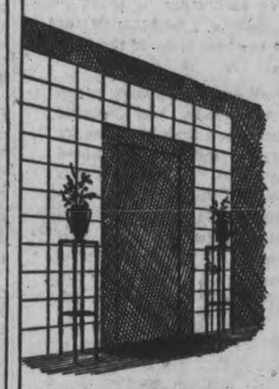
IDLE MINES—Here is a sectional view of Johns-Manville mines at Asbestos, Que., rendered idle by a six-week miners strike. Usually thousands of men decend into this massive pit daily to mine asbestos. However, since the strike only a handful of non-union members have been reporting for work daily.

River Up 16 Feet

RICHMOND, Que., March 29—(CP)—The St. Francis river rose 16 feet above normal Monday and flooded cellars along the main street of this eastern township town of 3,000 people. Mayor Girard Desmarais said, however, "there is no real danger unless there are heavy rains."



May Make Reds Illegal

Hope To Raise Revenue

KINGSTON, March 29—(CP)—Queen's University hopes to increase its revenue without raising students' fees still higher, Principal R. C. Wallace said here Monday. He said the university, aiming to keep admission qualifications "intellectual rather than financial," was seeking $3,175,000 in its current campaign.

What Do These Crests Mean To You?

Canadian Army Crest

Royal Canadian Artillery Crest

The crests you see in this advertisement have a definite meaning for every citizen in Canada and to every resident of Peterborough and its valuable area. THE CANADIAN ARMY, which includes the Active Force, The Reserve Force and other special units, will protect you and fight for the continuance of that liberty we now hold. The ROYAL CANADIAN ARTILLERY is the badge of the special unit which has been assigned to this fair city, so rich in industry and beauty. The home of this unit is your well-equipped Peterborough Armoury.

THIS IS OUR JOB

The job WE have to do for you is to train as citizen soldiers, against the day of any evil aggressor who might try to bend us to his will. The way we do the job, well equipped as we are, depends on our enthusiasm and citizenship—and we can assure you that Peterborough has one of the finest Reserve Force regiments in the Dominion. It is sweeping ahead in its training and is already very proficient in its anti-aircraft artillery duties—most important in any repelling of an air-borne adversary.

THIS IS YOUR JOB

The job YOU must do is to assist US. The way to do this is twofold. If you are in good health, and enthusiastic, we can use you in our ranks of soldiers—soldiers learning how to use the great equipments we have for training. Included are PREDICTORS, RADARS, WIRELESS, VEHICLES, MECHANICS, MACHINE TECHNICIANS, ELECTRONIC DEVICES, GUNS. As well, we need personnel who can do our orderly room work, our quarter stores and our BAND. WE ARE SURE YOU CAN FIT IN SOMEWHERE.

HOW TO DO YOUR PART

If you can join us, come up to our Armoury any TUESDAY or THURSDAY evening and we'll tell you the story and show you around. Don't forget, you get a full day's pay (Active Army rate) for two evening parades and you can make our Reserve Force Army your hobby. There is every chance for advancement, and we are calling especially on those "old hands" who have had their share of experience in the past war. Despite the fact that we are going along well, we need EVERYONE possible to make our force a truly strong unit. Strength is the only way we can discourage an aggressor from any attempt to deprive us of our just and due rights and liberties. IN ANY EVENT, you are welcome to come up and see us train.

Come In and See What Your Reserve Soldiers Are Doing!

Hockey fandom of this borough will be hitting the highway for Lindsay tonight, and Scugog puck followers will be out in force, too. The attraction is an 8.30 p.m. OHA senior "B" semi-final playoff between Grimsby Peach Kings and Peterborough Legionnaires. First of a two-of-three series, return one being in Grimsby on Thursday. As Lindsay has artificial ice, the one tonight will go for sure and the arena should be packed. This ought to be a sizzling struggle as two worthy opponents—they've never seen each other in action—clash in the provincial semi-final opener. Both will be hustling hard to grab the first one, and fans should see the best game of the season.

* * * * * *

The Peach Kings cleaned up all opposition down in the district between Hamilton and Niagara Falls, then knocking out Brantford in playdowns. Legion won their grouping up this way (including Toronto Meteors) and then eliminated Kingston three straight in playdowns. It was listed as a semi-final series but the OHA reversed itself and gave Sarnia Sailors the bye into Ontario finals. So the Grimsby-Legion survivor tackles Sarnia for the provincial crown. As it is, it looks like Legion will last longer this season than most of the NHL clubs, eh? They've had a good season so far and are not figuring on calling it quits for another two weeks, anyway.

A Swell Hoop Record

PCVS basketball has been most successful this semester, too. Four local Collegiate teams remain in playoffs at this late date. Coach Doris Fenner's senior girls and Coach Marion Bell's junior lasses are in the COSSA final tourney now, playing in Toronto the week-end of April 8-9. Same applies to Coach Bev Goulding's senior boys, who also play in the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Association tourney in Toronto this week-end. Besides that, the juvenile PCVS boys won the OABA title and now take on Sudbury here April 4-5 for all-Ontario honors, winner to playoff against the Quebec-Maritimes victory. A fine Collegiate cage record to date.

* * * * * *

A meeting of the men's City Softball League at 7.30 tonight in the YMCA, open to executive members and team managers. Legion may enter at this time, as that club was given till tonight to decide. If so, it'll be a five-team loop. If not, these four will comprise the 1949 circuit playing under arcs at the Bowl: B-A, Knights, Combines and Cosmopolitan Club, the latter a new entry. And, 'tis rumored, it'll be a strong squad. We'll likely wind up by dubbing them the Cosmos, as you can't fit long names into new headings handily. Other business matters will be discussed, too, at tonight's huddle.

Pot Starts Simmerin'

Stanley Cup semi-finals are really warming up now. Bruins go against Leafs in Toronto tonight in the fourth game and the Toronto players are a little worried after the battling Boston showing last time out. Though the Smythe squad, leading two to one in the series, are still favored to win out. Red Wings are plenty worried, too, as they're down two to one going against Canadiens tonight in Montreal. With his jaw busted, Elmer Lack of Canadiens announced he was through with hockey. Wings' officials are threatening to sue Frank Selke and a Montreal sports editor for saying Jack Stewart of Detroit must have had orders to deliberately injure Lach. The pot is simmering. Next game is in Detroit on Thursday, while Leafs go right back to Boston tomorrow.

* * * * * *

From Brantford comes word that the Nats have protested Grimsby Peach Kings to the OHA for using three non-residents, Goalie Leeson and two forwards, Soutar and Dunham. They say these players live in Hamilton, and they also claim the Grimsby goal posts are two inches less than the required eight—Grimsby winning all playoff games from Brantford on Grimsby ice. As we understand it, the grouping down that way settled for six homebrew players (instead of the eight required by the OHA) on each club, so Grimsby let several imports return to Hamilton, though continuing to play for Grimsby. It is another headache for the OHA. Meantime, Orillia yanked out a 5-4 win o'er Sarnia in Midland to tie up their best-of-three series, next one being Saturday maybe in Waterloo.

McCready And Mask Clash In No-Time-Limit Match

What should prove to be one of the most action-packed matches of the season goes Wednesday night in the Brock Arena when Earl McCready hooks up with the Masked Marvel. It will be a no-time-limit affair and with any degree of luck McCready should unmask the hooded terror. Earl was away out in front in their clash last week and would have won had he not been disqualified. His demand for a new referee has been met and that should improve his chances of victory. Any way you look at it the bout appears like a red-hot go and wrestling fans should at long last get a chance to see the Marvel's face.

A scene from "Above Suspicion" shows Wee Willie Davis, Joan Crawford, Basil Rathbone and Fred McMurray.

The semi-final brings together Wee Willie Davis, shown in the accompanying picture, and Ray Villmer. Villmer is rated just about the best wrestler in the business and has all the qualities and ability of Whipper Billy Watson and Billy Hanson together. This bout should be terrific.

Pat Flanagan, one of the most popular matmen to perform here, takes on Mike (Prince) Mahalakis to start things off.

Quakers Keep Hot Pace In YM League

Sparked by the veteran Tom Curvin, Quakers drove to within eight points of top-place by blanking B'nai B'rith 6-0 in the YMCA Men's Five-Pin League last night. It was the seventh consecutive week Quakers have blanked their opposition, although they were not as impressive as usual in so doing. It is a real record of consistency, 21 games without a loss.

The league-leading Artists lost ground when they dropped a 4-2 decision to the third-place Canada Packers. The Packers knocked off high triple of 3236 and high single of 1221.

In the other games Jay Bees defeated Tips Tops 4-2 and Aberdeens won by the same margin from Commercials.

Bill Stanbury topped the individual scores with a smashing 797 mark. George Walton was next in line with 744, Joe Weir 735, Ross Hopkins 730 and Bob White 721.

Stanbury also took down single honors with a hefty 353, just nosing out Walton who had 350. White had 333 as did Weir, Horace Fisher 307 and Hopkins 302.

Eddie Dixon leads in the season's individual scores with a 900 triple and 375 single.

George Walton is top average man with 226, Ab Guerin has 222, Fred Willison 219, Tom Curvin 217 and Ross Hopkins 214.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

Yesterday afternoon R. F. Downey breezed into the Curling Club. He got as far as No. 8, stood with his hat in his hand, sized up the crowd, and then said in a clear and distinct voice: "Gentlemen, on behalf of the curlers of the congregation of Trinity United Church, I hereby challenge the curlers of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church to one 10-end game of curling, to be played at the Charlotte Street Curling Rink, at 7:45 o'clock, Wednesday evening."

Of course we thought he was bluffing, and maybe he had talked a little too loud, but he was strongly supported by Jack Allan and Ira Moore. Quick as a flash S. Lowe and Dr. D. W. Clark answered in one voice, "Accepted".

Just how many are going to take part in this contest we do not know, but Professor Downey has among his supporters I. Moore, J. Allan, N. Hamley, F. Jobbitt, M. Knox, W. Davern, A. Malby, J. Rankine, F. Stenson, R. Huffman, and many others, while the boy from Cavan can call on Dr. D. W. Clark, O. M. Steer, D. Clarke, T. McArthur, A. Clark, G. Clark, B Grant, J. Pirie, W. Moorhead, Dr. R. Clark, and others. There will be light refreshments at the close of the game, and S. Lowe was heard to remark: "If that crowd can beat us,, why—I'll vote for church union," and Jack Allan came right back with, "Start counting the ballots, Stanley."

Although we had not the opportunity to see the final in the ladies' leads and seconds bonspiel, we have been told it was good—only one point different in the final score. The spectators tell us they played like veterans. The rinks:

Mrs. Spencley, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Hollowell, Mrs. Eastwood skip, 8.

Sawchuk Named Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK, March 29—(AP)—Terry Sawchuck of Winnipeg, 19-year-old goalie for Indianapolis Capitals, has been named "Rookie of the year" in the American Hockey League, it was announced today.

Sawchuck polled 45 out of a possible 90 votes to win the Dudley (Red) Garrett Memorial Award and a $300 bonus from the League.

The lanky Terry now has been a "rookie of the year" for the second consecutive season. He took it last year while tending goal for Omaha Knights of the United States League.

Gerry Reid of the Capitals and Hershey's Phil Maloney tied for second place with 24 points each.

Storybook 'Alice' Dies

LONDON, March 29—(CP)—A little girl with long golden hair who 80 years ago entered English literature as 'Alice in Wonderland' has died at the age of 88, it was announced Monday. She is Mrs. Mary Probert, widow of the late Col. H. G. Probert. Her portrait in a photographer's window at Ripon, Yorkshire, attracted artist Sir John Tenniel as he was discussing with author Lewis Carroll the type of child he wanted as a model for the novel's illustrations.

Joltin' Johnny Greco, Canadian welterweight champion, Monday night at Montreal pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over Beau Jack, former world lightweight king from Augusta, Ga. Greco scaled 147, Jack 138.

A crowd of 10,394 Forum fans contributed to a gross gate of $38,428 to watch the Montreal battler earn his first victory over the Georgia negro in four meetings. In previous clashes, Beau Jack won the decision twice and gained a draw in the other bout.

Irvine (Ace) Bailey, 47, one-time hockey great of the National Hockey League, is giving up his job as coach of the University of Toronto Senior Hockey team. He will move to Welland to take over his own business.

He joined the University staff in 1936 and led the team to three Intercollegiate titles in 1940, 1947 and 1948.

No replacement has been named yet.

At Kirkcaldy, Scotland, Fife Flyers Monday night defeated Sudbury Wolves, Canada's touring hockey team, 5-2 in the Canadians final game of their Scottish series. Canadian-born players scored all the goals. Jim and Tom Russell tallied for the Wolves while Bud Scrutton and Chick Mann each scored twice for the Flyers with Bob Joy notching the other marker.

At West Palm Beach, Fla., Philadelphia Athletics closed out their spring training at this base Monday with a 5-3 defeat by Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League. The minor leaguers broke through Charley Harris' pitching for single tallies in the eighth and ninth innings to gain their winning margins. The other three came at the expense of Phil Marchildon, native of Penetanguishene, Ont., in the second.

At Cincinnati the major leagues Monday revised their much-discussed bonus rule to permit the so-called bonus players to be sent to the minors for one year after they are signed by a major league club. Heretofore, the majors couldn't option a bonus player—one signed for more than $6,000—to the minors without asking waivers on him. The rule provides the bonus player must be optioned out the first year after he has signed.

Gordon Delaat, 30-year-old Holland-born golf star, has been appointed as professional at the Weston Golf and Country Club, it was announced Monday at Toronto. He succeeds Elmore Blower, who died recently.

At Montreal, Sidney A. Mr. Dawes stated that Detroit and Melbourne, Australia, both of which are bidding for the '56 summer games have offered to support a Canadian bid for the winter games of that year.

Ben Hogan, famed professional golfer seriously injured in a bus-automobile collision Feb. 2, will leave the hospital at El Paso, Texas this week-end. Hogan's physician said he is strong enough to make the trip to his home in Fort Worth, Tex. Hogan received a fractured pelvis, collar bone, and broken ankle bone in the accident near Van Horn, Tex.

At Clearwater, Fla., Pitcher Floyd (Bill) Bevens, who was within one out of a no-hit world series game in 1947, was returned to New York Yankees Monday by Chicago White Sox, it was announced at Clearwater, Fla. Beyens was sold conditionally to the Sox during the winter. He was inactive virtually the entire 1948 season because of a sore arm.

Midget, Bantam Dates Decided

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Officials of the Ontario Hockey Association have announced plans for juvenile, midget and bantam A series finals. Championships in the nine B. C and D series have already been decided.

In the juvenile A series for the Mitchell Hepburn trophy, St. Catharines Lions, defending all-Ontario champions, will clash with Toronto Marlboros in a best-of-five series. The first game will be played in St. Catharines tomorrow night and the second in Toronto Saturday.

The midget A series, featuring Toronto Marlboros against St. Catharines Mason Dairy will be a best-three-out-of-five series. First game is scheduled Friday night in Toronto.

In the bantam A finals St. Catharines Mason Dairy and Law's Barrie Flyers will tangle in a two-game, total-goal series with the first game slated for Barrie next Tuesday. Date of the second game has not yet been announced.

The all-Ontario juvenile series between OMHA and NOHA champions will be played on the home ice of the OMHA titlists.

2 New Forwards Used By Toronto In Game Tonight

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—The question of whether Toronto Maple Leafs, defending National Hockey League champs, have lost their playoff touch will be partially answered tonight.

The Leafs will clash with Boston Bruins in the fourth game of their best-of-seven semi-final series for the coveted Stanley Cup and the Bruins, still happy about their 5-4 overtime victory Saturday night in Toronto, will be striving to even the series.

Toronto goes into the game with a 2-1 edge in the series, and a victory would put them into a comfortable position for the fifth game in Boston tomorrow night.

There will be lineup changes for both teams.

Boston's ace defenceman, Johnny Crawford, who suffered a bruised chest Saturday, will be replaced by Ed Kryzanowski, former University of Toronto senior star. Captain Milt Schmidt is taking heat treatments for a stiff neck and a sore shoulder but will be playing tonight.

The Leafs, without serious injuries, will have two new forwards from the reserve of six players brought for Toronto's farm club, Pittsburgh Hornets. Manager Conn Smythe said the announcement of the change would be made today.

Charged With Bribery

EDMONTON, March 29—(CP)—Lawrence A. Magee, Calgary insurance man, will be given preliminary hearing Friday in police court of charges that he tried to bribe members of the Alberta legislature not to oppose a bill. The bill Magee is alleged to have asked the members not to oppose was one incorporating the Northland Insurance Company, when it came before the legislature's committee on private bills.

Flyers Swamp Combines 11-2 in Second 'Jr. A' Playoff

BARRIE, March 29—(CP)—The powerful Barrie Flyers, undefeated in 10 playoff games this season, today were only two victories away from their second straight all-Ontario junior hockey championship.

Barrie, Memorial Cup finalists last year went on a scoring spree Monday night to swamp Porcupine Combines 11-2 in the second game of their best-of-seven provincial final. The Flyers won the first game Saturday 4-0.

The next two tilts will be played in Schumacher Thursday and Saturday.

For the sell-out crowd of some 1,500 fans, the Flyers were in excellent form as they outshot the Combines 38-15. They drove into a 2-1 lead in the first period, barged through for four in the second and then outscored the Combines 5-1 in the final period.

Only for a few minutes in the opening period did the Combines look dangerous. A ganging attack led by big defencemen Steve Brklacich gave them a 1-0 lead when the period was only 42 seconds old.

Doug Warner tallied the Combines' other marker. Real Chevrefils and Sid McNabney scored twice for the Flyers with single goals notched by Paul Meger, Gary Gordon, Don Ashbee, Gord Pennell, Bob Bingley, Rick Hoggs and Harold Hopper.

Remarkable Game

Slim Lorne Howes play a remarkable game in the Porcupine nets despite the 11 goals that dented the rigging behind him. He saved at least a dozen goal-labelled shots.

The Flyers gave Howes little chance on their goals. They excel on close-in plays and had the 17-year-old netminder at their mercy time and again.

Gordon put the Flyers on the score sheet mid-way through the first period and Ashbee but them ahead minutes later.

In the second session, the Flyers ran roughshod over their less-experienced opponents, with McNabney, Bingley, Pennell and Meger lengthening the margin.

Chevrefils sniped two quick goals in the final period before Warner got the Combines' second counter but the Flyers then broke out with three goals.

Before the third period started it was announced that Barrie goalie Gil Mayer had been awarded the Red Tilson Memorial Trophy as leading netminder in the OHA Junior Circuit.

Sir Albert Walsh To Form Executive Council

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP) — Sir Albert Walsh, who has had a fling at politics, a term on the bench and a hand in governing a country, has been appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Newfoundland, now less than three days away from becoming Canada's 10th province.

Sir Albert, a native Newfoundlander and now Vice-Chairman of the Newfoundland Commission Government, has agreed to serve as Lieutenant-Governor on the condition that he be released when a Legislature has been elected and begun its sessions.

The 48-year-old lawyer, who helped to conclude the final terms of union, will form an executive council to help administer the island until a government is elected—probably in June or July. There are reports that he will call on Joseph Smallwood, a man largely responsible for bringing the island into Confederation, to head the first Council or Cabinet.

The Newfoundland constitution as it was in force prior to Feb. 16, 1934, will be revived on union and from it the executive council will derive the authority it needs to administer affairs in the provincial field.

It was on Feb. 16, 1934, that Newfoundland formally lost responsible government because of financial difficulties. A commission of government, composed of three Newfoundlanders and four representatives of the United Kingdom, was appointed and has been administering the island since.

RUSSIAN HERO, a 66-1 shot, ridden by jockey LEO McMORROW, is pictured above clearing the last obstacle in the gruelling, four-mile, 86-yard Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England, Saturday. The 9-year-old gelding, owned by W. F. Williamson, went on to win the 103rd running of the historic race by eight lengths in 2 minutes, 23 and 4-5 seconds, one of the fasest times in the history of the event. Russian Hero's legs doubled on the last jump but he recovered and finished in front of Roimond. Royal Mount was third and Cromwell, the favorite, fourth.

$100,000 WINNER—Bill Cowley, 36, of Kinley, a small village 45 miles west of Saskatoon—won $100,000 Saturday when Russian Hero on which he held an Irish Sweepstakes ticket romped home the winner of the Grand National. This photo shows Cowley at work in the grain elevator he operates. He plans to continue working.

Child's Death Blamed On Lack Of Milk

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP)—Dr. E. D. Kindle of Ottawa, a geologist in the Mines and Resources Department, said Monday that failure of Ottawa Civic Hospital to supply mothers' milk had caused the death of his infant child in October, 1946.

Dr. Kindle testified at the opening of an inquiry into conditions at the hospital. The investigation was ordered by Ottawa City Council following editorials about the hospital in an Ottawa newspaper.

Dr. Kindle, testifying in connection with the birth of twins to his wife and the subsequent death of one of the babies, said that had a supply of mothers' milk been available at the time, he felt certain the child's life might have been saved.

He said the attending physician had told him mothers' milk was the only thing which would save the baby. When the Civic Hospital informed him mothers' milk could not be obtained in sufficient quantity, he personally obtained the milk from New York City, and had it flown here. Later he obtained more milk from Grace Hospital in Ottawa and was also able to get "great quantities" from women in the city who responded to an advertisement he placed in a city newspaper.

He said that information he obtained from health authorities showed that 16 infants died in Ottawa last year because of lack of mothers' milk. He felt that as a result of his own experiences no difficulties would be encountered in establishing a milk bank if hospital authorities took the proper steps.

Five witnesses, four of them women and former patients at Civic Hospital, testified at the opening of the inquiry, which is being presided over by Judge G. A. McDougal, senior judge of Carleton County.

Ontario Court Allows Two Sailors' Appeals

TORONTO, March 29—(CP) — The Ontario Court of Appeals, in a judgment handed down Monday, allowed the appeals of Michael Jackson of Toronto and Louis Schmaltz of Thorold, from conviction of a charge of boarding the freighter Gleneig at Thorold while carrying offensive weapons in 1948.

The appeal of Basil Dawson, 32, of Owen Sound, was dismissed. All three were sentenced to two years following conviction of the charge arising from an incident during the Canadian Seamen's Union strike.

Chief Justice R. S. Robertson said there was no evidence to support the charge against Jackson and Schmaltz, reversing a decision made by Judge Fuller of the Welland County Court who dismissed all three appeals.

Nfld. Children Suffer Handicap

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 29 (CP). — Newfoundland's union with Canada will bring into the Dominion some 72,000 school students, many of whom get their education the hard way in outports and villages.

Under a law passed by the Commission Government that has ruled Newfoundland since 1934, education is free and attendance compulsory. Especially in winter, however, it is often impossible for children to maintain regular attendance because of their distance from school. There also are such obstacles to contend with as arms of water across which the children must be ferried.

The system—administered by a body known as the Council of Education—operates on a denominational basis. All schools are controlled by religious bodies except this capital's Memorial University College, where a two-year university course is available, and a few public schools. The island's population of 325,000 is divided fairly equally into Roman Catholic, Anglican and United Church members.

There are more than 1,200 schools in the charge of 2,300 teachers, whose salaries run between $300 and $3,000. Current government grant to education is $4,000,000.

Hears From Missing Son

ST. CATHARINES, March 29—(CP)—A mother who hasn't seen her 21-year-old son since he was four days old, Monday received a dozen roses from him. Mrs. Louis Knoll said her son was placed in the care of an aunt but she has been unable to get in touch with him. A Port Colborne florist reported he received a letter signed by a William Carey ordering the flowers.

Fine Vacation IN FRONTENAC COUNTY

Midway between Toronto and Montreal, where Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River merge, Frontenac County takes in some fine vacation land. If you're historically inclined, you'll enjoy visiting old Fort Henry at Kingston—said to be the greatest colonial restoration on the continent. Then, too, you may like to visit Queen's University and see the Royal Military College—one of Canada's two great service colleges. You can—and should—take the 1,000 Islands cruise from Gananoque; you may fish for muskies, trout and walleyes in the nearby lakes—play golf, swim or just enjoy the scenery. There's pleasant accomodation in Kingston, Gananoque and all points between. Write the Chamber of Commerce in either of these two cities for details.

Senate Hears Control Measure

OTTAWA, March 28.—(CP)—Last of the wartime control measures which are due to expire March 31, if not renewed, received casual consideration from the Senate Monday night.

This was the Agricultural Products Act, which gives the Government powers to negotiate bacon, cheese and egg contracts with Britain under the Meat Board, the Dairy Board and the Special Products Board, respectively. It was halted on its way through second reading after Senator Wishart Robertson, Government leader, pointed out that it need not be passed before Wednesday or Thursday.

Following its introduction by Senator Robertson, Senator R. B. Horner (PC-Saskatchewan) spoke briefly. He objected to the amount of control it gave the minister of agriculture over internal marketing. He adjourned debate and said he would continue his remarks later.

Another bill the Government is anxious to pass before March 31 received second reading and was referred to committee. It is designed to incorporate into the contracts of rural mail contractors certain bonuses paid them during the war.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Smith Married 32 Years

APSLEY, March 29—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, who were married in Hastings, England, 32 years ago, held a party in celebration of their wedding on Friday. Gifts from the community included a woollen blanket, curtains, pillow cases, towels and pyrex ware.

Euchre was played, high scorers being Mrs. Harold Leard and Hugh McColl with Mrs. M. Hastings and M. C. Tucker being awarded consolation prizes. Prize winners for cribbage were Jack McFadden, Kenneth Tanner and M. C. Tucker.

Seamen Lose Out

TORONTO, March 29—(CP) — Lack of government action in dealing with Canadian Merchant seamen on the same basis as other veterans of the Second World War was criticized Monday night by A. J. Heide, National Secretary of the Canadian Merchant Navy Veterans' Association. He said that hundreds of seamen veterans were being refused vocational training because they had served on other than Canadian vessels during the war.

Gunmen Raid Jeweller's

PHILADELPHIA, March 29—(AP)—Two gunmen Monday held up four men in a Philadelphia diamond - setting establishment and escaped with gems valued by the owners at around $20,000. The two robbers also collected more than $500 in cash, trussed up their victims with clotheslines, and sealed their mouths with adhesive tape before fleeing.

Hope Canadians Buy More British Coal

MONTREAL, March 29 (CP)—Hon. David Rhys Grenfell, Mines Minister in Britain's wartime government, Monday expressed hope that Canadians will buy more coal from Britain and enable her to pay for Canadian food.

Mr. Grenfell told the Canadian Club of Montreal that Britain has a program of rehabilitating mining operations that will take four or five years, cost £150,000,000 ($600,000,000), and require 30,000 additional skilled men.

Mr. Grenfell, who is chairman of the Welsh tourist board, once worked in Nova Scotia coal mines. For 27 years he had been member of parliament for Gower, a riding which includes the city of Swansea.

Television Work Placed In CBC Hands

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL.

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP)—Main task of developing television broadcasting in Canada has been placed in the hands of the CBC.

Revenue Minister McCann announced in the Commons Monday that Parliament will be asked by the government to approve a $4,000,000 grant to the publicly-owned corporation to help it meet initial television expenditures.

The CBC will establish national television production centres and transmitting stations in Montreal and Toronto. It will provide a service of television programs for broadcasting by stations which may be established in other areas of Canada.

A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC Board of Governors, said the CBC will be ready to proceed with development work as soon as the $4,000,000 loan has been approved by parliament. It was not possible to say now when the Montreal and Toronto stations might begin broadcasting and programming.

"We hope, and we emphasize the word 'hope' that it will be possible to start operations within 12 to 18 months after the loan has been approved," said Mr. Dunton.

Limit Participation

Dr. McCann indicated that private firms will be allowed only limited participation in the television field.

He said:

"In any city or area in Canada including Montreal and Toronto, a licence to establish one private station will be granted to a private organization giving adequate assurances of financial means and of service.

Six applications for television licences are due to be reconsidered by the CBC Board at its meeting here April 7-9, inclusive. Four of the applications are from existing stations—CKAC and CFCF in Montreal, and CFRB and CKEY, in Toronto. Famous Players Canadian Corporation Limited and Al Leary, former radio commentator, also applied for Toronto stations.

740 Die In Accidents

TORONTO, March 29 (CP). — Some 740 persons were killed in Ontario traffic accidents last year, 14,970 others suffered injuries and property damage exceeded $7,000,000. Ontario Highways Minister Doucett announced the figures in a broadcast speech on Monday night. He said that only if a sense of personal responsibility and good citizenship is aroused among Ontario drivers can the problem of how to achieve highway safety be solved.

Save 150 Plants

LONDON, March 29 — (AP)— Responsible diplomats Monday said Britain and France have agreed to most of a United States plan to save a list of West German industries from dismantling. Informants said the agreement provides for 150 plants to be removed from the dismantling list. The agreement was reached at a three-power conference on German problems.

Plan CCF Support

REGINA, March 29 — (CP)— Pat Conroy, Canadian Congress of Labor secretary-treasurer, on Monday predicted if Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties continue to govern Canada "a revolutionary and chaotic situation will result." To avoid this, the CCL would help elect a CCF Federal Government in the next general election, he said.

To Keep Your Step FULL OF PEP

It's Dodd's You May Need!

Trouble starts when your kidneys slow up. You may feel tired all the time. Backaches, headaches, can soon follow. Help keep your kidneys in good order by using Dodd's Kidney Pills—the 50-year-old remedy with a reputation for quick results. Just say "Dodd's Kidney Pills, please" to your druggist. Look for the blue box with the red band, and the name Dodd's. 158

Prince Philip Said Ready To Give Up Navy

LONDON, March 29—(CP) — The Duke of Edinburgh, whose public duties have been increasing steadily since the King's illness, is said to have given up all intention of resuming his active naval career.

In Royal circles it is believed he may soon ask the Lords of the Admiralty to put him permanently on the retired list.

The Duke is at present on half pay, which means that he is not actively employed, but is on the list of officers who may be called on at a moment's notice to take up a post in any of the King's ships or in shore establishments.

It was at his own request that the Duke was put on this list nearly six months ago when the approaching birth of Prince Charles —and the prospect of taking over many of the King's public duties during his tour of Australia and New Zealand—made it apparent he could not continue active service for some time.

Now, with the King's illness affecting all members of the Royal family, the Duke has told friends he is anxious to have his position clarified.

Obviously with so many Royal duties to perform he cannot be available at a moment's notice as is required of naval officers on half pay.

Except in the event of war, he could not hope to go back to sea, or to take even a shore-duty post for two or more years to come. And the general opinion in court circles is that Philip and Princess Elizabeth will be called on to make a Dominion tour within the next two years.

Housewives Corner Reconstruction Head

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP). — A group of determined housewives Monday cornered Reconstruction Minister Winters in his office and bluntly asked him what the government was going to do about the "terrible depression" facing Canada and the ever-present housing shortage. Shouldering a 2,000-word brief, the housewives—a delegation of the 10,000-member Housewives' and Consumers' Federation of Canada—got to see Mr. Winters after failing in an attempt to get an interview with Prime Minister St. Laurent.

2,880 Germans Here

OTTAWA, March 29 — (CP)— Immigrants of German racial origin in 1948 totalled 2,880, Resources Minister MacKinnon told J. E. Probe (CCF-Regina City) in a return tabled in the Commons on Monday. These immigrants—not German nationals — were brought in under the sponsorship of close relatives.

Prosecute Gubitchev

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP)—The United States has formally advised Russia that it intends to go ahead with prosecution of Valentin A. Gubitchev, 32, Russian United Nations staff member accused of an espionage conspiracy. The state department disclosed Monday that a note was handed to the Soviet ambassador last Thursday rejecting Russia's contention that Gubitchev has diplomatic immunity from the charges.

The early Roman calendar had no January. The year began with March and had only 10 months.

The Reason for This Money-Saving Opportunity

33 years ago, a young Canadian druggist who believed that the actual use of a product offered the most convincing proof of its merits, suggested to the Rexall Drug Company Limited, the Home Office of Rexall, that they inaugurate the REXALL 1c SALE. Since that time, this sale has been offered twice a year to REXALL Stores throughout Canada. Through this sale, money which ordinarily might have been spent in other forms of advertising is used to your direct advantage in money saving prices. For the price of one, plus one cent, you get two regular, full size packages of high quality REXALL Merchandise and YOU save money—WE gain friends.

Ontario Court Given Description Of War Years In Underground

TORONTO, March 29—(CP) —Arthur Matthys, 28-year-old Belgian fighting extradition proceedings, testified Monday that the man who signed a warrant for his arrest on a murder charge was a Nazi collaborator.

Hearing of the proceedings, launched by the Belgian government, was adjourned until today.

Matthys, who was arrested near Tillsonburg, where he worked in a tobacco factory, came to Canada in 1947. He is wanted in Belgium to stand trial for the murder of Armand Devos, alleged Nazi collaborator shot to death during the German occupation.

Speaking in halting English, Matthys told the court of his activities as a member of resistance underground band and identified documents in his name showing him to be a member of "good standing" in the Belgian partisan movement.

Describes Raid

He told of a raid on a Nazi-captured distillery, miles behind the German columns. One of the raiders was Pierre Neirinck, former Belgian resistance army officer, who also testified Monday.

Matthys named the man who signed the extradition warrant as Rommel, "who drove around Belgium in a big limousine bearing a placard 'Deutche Richte (German Judge).' "

The witness denied having known Devos or of having had anything to do with his murder. Matthys said Devos was a "spy" and that he had learned of his slaying in the newspapers.

Neirinck also described the work of the Belgian underground system, his contacts with Matthys, and said he once had placed Devos under arrest.

Fined Month's Pay

TORONTO, March 29 (CP). — The Police Commission announced Monday it had fined Constable Alfred Mullis 30 days' pay after investigating a charge of neglect of duty brought against the officer following the death of two men after a level-crossing accident.

AT WELLINGTON COUNTY seed and export bacon fair in Harriston, Shirley McTaggart and Doreen Avery admire the winning hog carcass, entered in the show by Victor Hagarty, Alma, who also won first prize for flax and timothy in the seed show.

Provincial Jails "Crime Schools"

EDMONTON, March 29—(CP) —J. A. Edmison of Toronto, President of the Canadian Penal Association, said Monday that Federal penitentiary prisoners have been given "a new deal" but that the cards are stacked against those in provincially-operated jails.

Provincial jails are still little more than "crime school," Mr. Edmison said in an interview. Reforms have greatly improved conditions in Federal institutions.

"I am not condemning Alberta jails; I haven't had the opportunity to observe conditions in this province. But I do know that while Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia jails have been improved recently, no similar reports have been made about Alberta."

Mr. Edmison, on a Dominion-wide speaking tour, said that in many provincially-operated jails, particularly in the Maritimes, there is no attempt to segregate young prisoners from older offenders. There is no educational work, no recreational facilities and most prisoners spend their time in idleness.

Mercy Plane Crashes

EDMONTON, March 29 (CP)—An RCAF ski-equipped Dakota aircraft "cracked up" on Monday during a mercy flight 400 miles inside the Arctic Circle. A spokesman for RCAF North-west Air Command said that the plane, piloted by Flt.-Lt. Tommy Benson of Vancouver, damaged its undercarriage while landing on a temporary air strip at Fort Ross while attempting to pick up two Eskimo women from Cresswell Bay who require hospital treatment.

CNR Turns Down 18 Locomotives

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP) — Eighteen locomotives which would have completely "Dieselized" Prince Edward Island have been turned down by the Canadian National Railways, R. C. Vaughan, CNR president Monday told the Commons railway committee.

Mr. Vaughan said the company had given the diesels several trials, but they had proved unsatisfactory and been returned to the Canadian Locomotive Company at Kingston.

He described the locomotives as light engines, developed by the Kingston company in co-operation with a United States firm. Despite several trials, they were finally returned because they could not give the required performance.

He estimated the contract price at "between $1,250,000 and $1,500,000 — a comparatively small order, from a company whose production of steam locomotives for us has been very satisfactory."

He intimated the diesels, sought for the island to save operating costs, including cost of transporting coal from the mainland, might have to be purchased in the United States.

Given 10-Year Term

WELLAND, March 29 (CP).—Willis Pelley, 41, of Long Branch, Ont., was sentenced to 10 years in Penitentiary on conviction of the $5,247 Ridgeway bank robbery on September 2 last. Garth Miller, 46, Hamilton, charged jointly with Pelley, was acquitted on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Plan Air Cadet Week

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP). — The second annual Air Cadet Week in Canada will be held on April 6-13, Defence Minister Claxton announced Monday. During the special week the League will publicize its youth training activities and conduct financial campaigns across the Dominion.

OUTSTANDING CHEMIST—Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, international authority on physical chemistry, has been awarded the gold medal of the Civil Service of Canada Professional Institute, given annually for "outstanding contribution to science." Dr. Steacie, 48-year-old native of Westmount, Que., won the award for his work as director of the chemistry division of the National Research Council in Ottawa.

Taylor, Stewart Slated To Make Westerns Next

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 29 (AP) —When in doubt, make a Western.

This old movie maxim, based on the sure-fire box office of horse operas, is being heeded by Robert Taylor and James Stewart. Taylor's next film after "Battleground" is slated to be "Devil's Doorway," which is one of MGM's first Westerns since the actor's "Billy the Kid."

Stewart tells me he is thinking about getting back in the saddle again in "Blood Brother" at Warners. His last trip out West was "Destry Rides Again."

Musical Notes

Bing Crosby can't seem to escape horses. He is acting with 'em in "Riding High." That should be the signal for Bob Hope to get out his "Crosby's Horses" gag file.

Stan Kenton, now on a six-months rest tour of South America, is said by friends to be planning a change of professions at 38. After being run ragged in the band business, he wants to turn to psychiatry. Some might consider the two fields closely allied.

Tom Drake cuts loose from MGM in a couple of weeks, says he will free-lance....It will be 20 Radio Theatre appearances apiece for Claudette Colbert and Fred McMurray when they do "Family Honeymoon" next Monday....Cass Daley is back in voice after having a baby. Her first record is a raucous "All Right, Louie, Drop the Gun."

RECORD ERUPTION

The two-day eruption of the volcano Krakatoa, Netherlands Indies, 1883, was so violent that actual sounds of the explosion were heard 3,000 miles away.

Speaks To Parents On Mothering Sunday

MARMORA, March 29—(ENS) —The Rev. J. S. Wetmore, field secretary of the GBRE, was the special preacher at St. Paul's on Sunday morning. The fact that it was "Mothering Sunday prompted him to speak of the mother in the home and the home influence uniting with the work of the Sunday School for the advancement of religious education.

Mr. Wetmore said that many people were mistaken in thinking that the summit of religious education was reached at the age of confirmation. They seemed to regard confirmation as though it were a graduation. The scholar in wordly professions did not graduate that early in life and to be informed fully and correctly about God, the most important of all learning, meant a contiaual study with the constant use of prayer, he said. Homes should be more after the pattern of the one in which the Son of God chose to grow up and the religious education of children was a responsibility of great importance.

Park St. Owners To Pay 40 p.c. Cost Of Drain

The financial formula for the Park St. ditch fill, which the Council is thinking of doing this year, was drafted by the board of works last night.

As a local improvement job, the cost is distributed: 40 per cent. to be paid by the residents of Park St. along the drain and 60 per cent. by the city as a whole.

Distributing the expense to the Park St. people, the board proposed that those living on the west side should contribute two-thirds, and those on the east one-third. So, that's the dish.

Financing of the project would be by issuing debentures for 15 years. City Clerk Outram was directed to write the residents of that section of Park St. south, informing them that the work would have to be authorized by petition from their own street. The previous petition, bearing many hundreds of names, appeared to have been signed by most of the south-enders.

Board of works discussion estimated that the Park St. people would derive the most benefit from the filling of the ditch, and for that reason it should be done on the local improvement plan. Focussing the financing on the street itself, it was felt that the residents of the east side should obtain advantage from the city's expenditure, and they should not be left out of the funding, although the most and immediate benefit would accrue to the people on the west side.

The proportions of cost were set out in a motion by Ald. Herbert Young, seconded by Ald. Doug Miller.

"LET'S GET OUT of this cage," says Cephas the Swan. —Examiner Staff Photos

"WISH I COULD TELL YOU how excited I am," thinks Cephas the Swan as his keepers Purdy Young, Left, and Alex. Townsley try to get a statement out of him about his thoughts on spring. Cephas was silent for he is a mute swan, but his violent actions told them he wanted to get into the water, but fast.

Joseph S. Bell Sought To Make City Beautiful

Joseph Samuel Bell, 203 Hunter St., died today in hospital following a short illness. He was born 75 years ago in Montreal, son of the late John Bell and his wife, Hannah Greer, and had spent most of his life in Peterborough.

As a youth Mr. Bell lived with his parents in the large red brick house, Park St. south, at Braidwood Ave., set in a ten acre lot on which some 36 houses of the present building project in that area are being erected. The family was engaged in market gardening for years, and subsequently became quite extensive property owners in the city.

Mr. Bell was an active churchman, an ardent member of St. John's Anglican Church, and of its advisory board, and also a lay reader. St. Alban's Mission in the south end of the city was close to his heart and shared in his generous givings. He was for years prominently identified with the Upper Canada Bible Society. Beautification of Peterborough was one of his main interests as an expression of his public spirit. To that end he took a leading part in the Peterborough Horticultural Society, and particularly its Scenic Drive, and the plan of establishing what were known for a time as the East Gate at Downer's Corners and the West Gate at the No. 7 Highway junuction with No. 28 Highway.

Beautifying City

Mr. Bell devoted a great deal of work to the beautification committee of the Society and in the marking of the route of the drive. His letters to the Examiner reflected his abiding desire to assist in the improvement of Peterborough. Some of his thinking was directed to larger problems of the nation in which he tried to stimulate interest.

He was a member of the British-Israel Society, and during the Second World War he often presided at the services of intercession at St. John's Church. During the First World War he was attached to the 57th Regiment. He had lived for a considerable time in Vancouver, B. C., where he was Sergeant Major of the Seaforth Highlanders.

Mr. Bell leaves his wife, the former Ruby Gwendolyn Fitzgerald, a sister, Mrs. Frank Mace (Hannah Victoria) of this city, and brother, George Maxwell Bell of Carrot River, Sask.

The funeral will be from the Belleghem funeral home, Hunter St., to St. John's Church, Friday at 2 p.m. Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will conduct the service. Burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Cephas, the Swan, Moves Into His Summer Quarters

By NICK NICKELS

Ottawa is making a great to-do over a tramp wild fowl which they have tagged Gregor the Grebe but Peterborough people can become just as excited over Cephas the Swan, pet at the Filtration Zoo, especially if they could witness him being released after a long winter indoors.

Cephas the Swan is a handsome devil but so far has made no impression on the swan ladies because there are none to keep him company. For eight months every year he lords over an open water pen on the Otonabee River and sails around his enclosure preening himself. The mallard ducks that share his pen keep their distance and when bolder ones get too familiar Cephas lashes out his long neck at lightning speed and keeps them away from his private corner. He knows every inch of the netting both above and below water and he is able to explore it all from a sitting position. On windy days he goes sailing by the simple means of raising his long pinions slightly above his body so the wind can fill his curved wings.

Dignity Shattered

Winter is a dismal time for Cephas. He paddles in a small tank beside the monkey house and has had his dignity completely shattered this past winter by having a pair of guinea pigs rustling above him in a small cage. Without being able to see the river he can tell to the hour just when the ice goes out. He gets so restless thinking about his clean open pen that he can hardly eat. Each day at feeding time he tries to tell the animal keeper to let him out but fails because, you see, he is a mute swan and cannot talk.

On Monday the great day arrived when Keeper Furdy Young walked into his cage, caught him in his arms with the strong beating wings safely tucked away and carried him outside. Cephas was so excited he gave out with several hoarse chirps as he strained to get near his pen.

But the keeper held him tightly as he carried him to the water's edge and set him down on a small runway so that he could take a harmless belly-flopper into the pool. After beating up and down the length of the pen several times Cephas stood on his tail and flapped his cramped wings to get the feel of the good clean wind. He then spent some time exploring his plumage either to get his feather-oiling apparatus in operation or to give some of his annoying winter boarders the brush off.

The mallards crowded out of his way as he stole the limelight completely and bolder birds which sailed up to say 'Howdy' found they had best keep their distance.

Cephas did some more cavorting, tacked into the wind, close hauled, and was as happy as any bachelor can be in spring. He dreams all sorts of swan-like things, no doubt, possibly about a fair white mate with two cygnets sailing in the pool beside him. The urge is especially strong on bright nights as he watches skeins of wild Canada geese flying north across the face of a full moon. If he could only tell his keeper about it, it might help, but he can't, for Cephas is a mute swan, you see.

"WHEE-EE-EE, open water at last after being cooped up for four months. It's a grand and glorious feeling."

"THIS IS THE LIFE for me as long as the mallards keep their distance."

Main Street Topics

TRAFFIC NIGHT

Mayor Swanston suggested at the board of works meeting Monday night that Friday evening be set apart for a discussion of traffic matters.

GREASE IGNITES

When some grease boiled over into the elements of an electric stove on Monday at the residence of J. McGee, 552 Howden Ave., it broke into flames. The fire was extinguished before firemen arrived.

DOUSE FIRST GRASS FIRE

Firemen don't look for the first robin, but the first grass fire, to tell them Spring is here. They report that the first one in 1949 was extinguished on Monday afternoon on the CNR right-of-way, at the rear of 450 Mark St. in Ashburnham.

RESIDUE OF SAND

The silt of winter's sanding of the sidewalks is sharp grit to shoe leather these spring days. Many housekeepers have swept the walks in front of their houses, but there are stretches in between where the scattering of the sandman remains. This sand should not be brushed off on to the boulevard grass. Accumulation of it year after year will gradually smother the sward.

HOLE BURNT IN CUSHION

A car pulled up in front of the fire station on Monday afternoon to have a freak fire extinguished. A spark from the exhaust is believed to have blown up through the floor of the car and ignited a cushion in the back seat. The smouldering seat received a few bursts from the hand pump and the brief blaze was out.

CHECK THOSE BRAKES

Constables H. Mesley and C. McGillen, city police traffic officers, are making their annual check up on brakes.

COLLECT CARDBOARD

Victoria Park looks like the Exhibition grounds after the exhibition last year, cardboard and paper everywhere. Children sliding down their icy path left the cardboard on the snow.

EXTRA DENTAL HELP

The Board of Education on Monday night accepted a recommendation of its Health Committee that the Committee be empowered to obtain whatever help necessary during the month of June to enable the school dentist to catch up on some of his work.

PLAY IN ASSEMBLY

PCVS's Bugle Band made its debut before the students of the Collegiate at Monday's Senior Assembly. Twenty-five cadets, dressed in cadet uniform, played three selections on the new valve trumpet-bugles. The new instruments lessen the number of sourer notes, heard in previous years.

Program Of Street Paving Accepted By Board Of Works Of City Council

Board of Works accepted from City Engineer Chalmers Monday night a program of street paving for the season, and then, in the routine of preparation, asked him to estimate its cost.

The streets listed by Mr. Chalmers are: Romaine St. from Monaghan Road to Park St.; Monaghan Road, from Sherbrooke St. to Charlotte St.; Sherbrooke St., from Water St. to Reid St.; Water St., from Sherbrooke St. to King St.; Park Hill Road, from Reid St. to Park St.; Burnham St., from Hunter St. to Charles St.

This work is planned under the Local Improvement Act. The adopting motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Grant Miller instructed Mr. Chalmers to call for tenders, and authorized City Solicitor Huycke to prepare the required bylaw. In the meantime Mr. Chalmers has to compute the cost of this work and submit that information to the Council. He said he had already done some of the preliminary estimating.

Must Go To Municipal Board.

Assuming that the Council decides to proceed with this paving job, the bylaw will be referred after its second reading to the Ontario Municipal Board. City Clerk Outram explained that the board would arrange for a hearing of any objections from property owners on those streets.

Street paving was only one of the chores the board spiked on the Chalmers file, suggesting an accumulation which Ald. J. E. Gillespie said could be obviated by planning one year in advance of construction.

In response to a petition from residents, the board directed Mr. Chalmers to estimate the cost of a concrete walk on the south side of Charlotte St. - Clonsilla Ave., from Monaghan Road to Sherbrooke St.

Asked when it might be done, Mr. Chalmers answered, "We'll attempt to do it this year."

But, extension of this walk to Western Ave. would involve heavier expenditure from the ditch condition of the roadside.

Building Sewers

Cost of sewers on McKellar St. and on two streets in the Sands and Bateman property east of Nicholls Park will also require the city engineer's attention. Joseph Gaskell has been pressing the board for the McKellar St. sewer. Mr. Chalmers remarked that it was laid as far east of Park St. as the petition warranted. The present application has sufficient signatures to authorize continuation of the sewer past the Gaskell residence.

The board decided against a Cameron St. sewer, west of Monaghan Road, this year, in a motion by Ald. Doug Miller, seconded by Mayor Swanston. It had been proposed recently for houses which Don Ephgrave and Arnold Steele were considering, but, with so much other work in sight, that 2,000-foot job could not be recommended in the 1949 program.

Facilities Provided Board In New City Hall Approved

At a special meeting on Monday night the Board of Education approved in principle the facilities provided for the Board in the plans for the new City Hall. Previous plans submitted had been rejected as inadequate.

It is estimated that the space allotted to the Board is now double that previously laid out.

The main floor space is in the eastern half of the south wing, second floor.

Both the board room and the superintendent's offices have been enlarged and a number of other changes made by the architects to provide adequate facilities.

A 60-foot general office has been allotted with a vault. And in the same wing there are offices for the attendance officer, the inspector of schools, and the superintendent of schools.

In the north wing, the board room has been enlarged to 32 feet in length. Use of the committee room has also been offered by the city.

Space In Basement

Chairman Frank Jobbitt said the Board had been assured it could have all the room it wanted in the basement of the new building. The room now set out as a storage room is 32 feet long and 16 feet wide, and this was deemed ample by the members.

It was also suggested that if the centralization of educational stores were continued a special stores clerk might have to be engaged.

Superintendent of Schools K. S. Wightman, G. Wilson Craw and Mr. Jobbitt all paid tribute to the willingness of the city to revise the original layout for educational needs.

"I feel they were really anxious to meet the Board," said Mr. Wightman. "There is certainly adequate space there to work in."

What About 1960?

"It is certainly much more acceptable than the original plan," said Dr. R. C. Honey. There is only one question: What is the malleability for the next decade? In 1960 will we be running an annex or depot down here (at South Central School)?

Mr. Wightman said he did not care to forecast what the set-up would be in 20 years, but commented "I think it is adequate."

After a thorough discussion a motion by Mr. Pitchford and Mrs. Harris passed unanimously: that the Board advise the City Council that it accepts in principle tentative plans for accommodation of the Board of Education in the new City Hall.

Plan To Setup Park In North For Recreation

Plans for the proposed setting up of a new public recreational park area on Big Cedar Lake, about 25 miles from Peterborough on the Apsley highway, near Burleigh Falls, were further discussed at a meeting of the Kawartha Conservation Association Monday night in the Peterborough Public Library. The meeting was told, in a report from the executive, that the next step in implementation of the plan, must await a conference with Hon. Harold R. Scott, minister of lands and forests, who has been unable to meet the members because of demands made upon his time by the present session of the Legislature.

The minister has already allotted some 400 acres of Crown lands for the purpose, and the next move will call for the creation of an organization to develop and control the park. Details as to the specific uses to which the park would be put have yet to be worked out, but the general idea is to provide a place for the general public to fish and swim, and at the same time to make a contribution to the pressing need of conserving the province's wild life.

The park would be a small scale model of the various larger national parks controlled by the Dominion. It is hoped to have it in operation by the beginning of the coming summer.

Well Supported

The association has the active support of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce and also the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the scheme.

Among other items of business the association passed a resolution commending Game Overseer Robert H. Trotter for his efficient work in connection with his recent seizure of a quantity of moose meat. The killing of this animal is illegal under the Game Act. The secretary was asked to write to the lands and forests minister expressing the association's appreciation of Mr. Trotter's work.

Members were entertained with the showing of two films. The first one was entitled "Peoples of the USSR" and the second one "Four Seasons," a production of the National Film Board depicting scenes in Gatineau Park, near Ottawa, at all seasons of the year. Films were supplied through courtesy of Peterborough Film Council.

The meeting, presided over by Milton Clysdale, president, approved several changes in the constitution, one of which provides for the setting up of an advisory committee to advise the association on matters of policy, comprising not more than seven members.

The association also decided to hold a number of picnics for the members and their families during the summer.

CHARLES F. WILSON (seated) director of Canada's Trade and Commerce Department, signs the international wheat treaty at Washington, as chairman of the conference, CHARLES F. BRANNAN, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, looks on. The pact, also signed by the U.S. and some 40 other countries, sets a price floor and ceiling on wheat and provides a guaranteed market for nearly half of the wheat moving in world trade.

Commit Parent For Trial At Brockville Fall Assizes

BROCKVILLE, March 29 — (CP)—Leo Parent, 17, of Cornwall Monday night was committed for trial at the fall assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court on a murder charge in connection with the death of 72-year-old Michael Skelton last Feb. 26.

Two other men, Thomas Dixon of Cornwall and Nicholas Terriah of nearby Elizabethtown Township, taken into police custody as material witnesses, were released on bond of $100 each, to appear as witnesses at the fall sittings.

Decision to commit Parent was made after an all-day preliminary hearing before Magistrate George A. Wright.

Skelton's death occurred five hours after he had dragged himself from his shack in a dazed and bleeding condition and appeared at the home of his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William Dean.

He allegedly told them he had been beaten and locked in his shack at the town's outskirts.

Both Terriah and Dixon testified that they and Parent had spent the night previous to Skelton's death in Skelton's shack.

Dixon testified that Skelton said: "The boy can sleep with me. You two can sleep on the floor." Dixon told the court: "It looked funny to me."

The two, Dixon and Terriah, had gone to Skelton's shack for supper Friday, Feb. 25. There had been a knock on the door and Skelton said: "Come in, hobo."

No Drinking

Parent entered, attired in a blue suit, white shirt, brown shoes and blue overcoat. Both Dixon and Terriah said there had been no drinking that Friday night. They left the shack at 8:45 a.m. EST. There was little conversation but they believed Skelton was to have stomach trouble.

Mrs. Dean said Skelton had entered her house about 11:45 a.m. EST. He had an ax in his left hand. Blood was streaming down his face. She said he did not name his attacker.

However, he was the type of a person, she testified, that "you couldn't take stock of anything he said—he lied so."

Mr. Dean said in testifying that he was not too fond of Skelton. "Several times I kicked him out and told him not to come back."

Dr. W. D. Hay, assistant professor of pathology at Queen's University, said he had performed a post-mortem on Skelton's body. There had been about 17 cuts on Skelton's head. He believed a blunt instrument had been used.

Detective Inspector Allan Clark of the Cornwall police department said he had searched Parent's home a few days after Skelton's death and had found a gold watch bearing the initials "M.S." inside an unused furnace.

R. H. Miller, Brockville jeweler, said he had repaired that watch for Skelton May 8, 1948.

The best means TIMKEN OIL HEAT!

After waiting so long for automatic heat, perhaps you are tempted to buy any oil burner you can get.

But when you consider that your oil burner is a lifetime investment—that you'll use it more and longer than any other appliance in your home—don't you want to be sure you get the best?

Most people feel that way. And that's why they insist on Timken Silent Automatic, "The Accepted Standard" for comfort, for cleanliness, for low-cost operation. Below are four reasons why Timken Wall-Flame Oil Burners last so long, need so little attention, and use up to 25% less fuel than ordinary burners—reasons why Timken is worth waiting for.

Get in touch with your Timken Dealer today for a free heating survey.

The Timken Wall Flame → is a quiet, drifting flame that blankets the walls of your furnace or boiler. Most other oil burners shoot a blowtorch flame into ashpit, waste heat up the chimney and through the ashpit.

← The fuel-thrifty Timken chrome-steel flame rim vaporizes the oil completely . . . burns the air-oil mixture cleanly. Gets all the heat out of the new fuel oils.

Only one moving part → is needed in a Timken Wall-Flame Oil Burner . . . and it is as simple as a spinning top. Moreover, this famous burner is so automatic it even lubricates itself!

← A Timken can be custom-built into your present heating plant, or you may select one of the new Oil Furnace or Oil Boiler models soon to be available. Installation requires only a few hours.

"We designed our own pattern, tile by tile!"

One big advantage with a new floor of Armstrong's Asphalt Tile is that it offers almost endless opportunities for original designs.

It comes in a wide range of plain and marbleized colours. And, since it is installed one tile at a time, you can create your own pattern—to harmonize with any colour scheme, to make a narrow room look wider, to make any room more attractive!

Another definite advantage is that Armstrong's Asphalt Tile costs less now than it did back in 1939. Upkeep cost is a minor item, too. This modern flooring withstands wear, stays new-looking for many years, with only occasional washing and waxing.

Flooring contractors everywhere in Canada are installing attractive modern floors of Armstrong's Asphalt Tile. Ask any Armstrong contractor or dealer in your locality to show you colours and sample floor designs, or to give you an accurate, free estimate.

Deplores Some Marriages

Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, addressed, Monday evening, the Mothers' Auxiliary of George St. Baby Band at the regular meeting. Explaining her work, she pointed out that most trouble with children comes through marriages which are started on a wrong basis. "Some girls get married just for the sake of having 'Mrs.' in front of their name" she said. Mrs. S. J. Rowe, president, opened the meeting with a call to worship and read the "Mother's Prayer." Mrs. R. Sager's group was in charge, Mrs. W. Ward taking the scripture lesson and Mrs. Lloyd Wells followed with prayer, Mrs. E. S. Kingdon gave a reading "On Washing Day." Bobbie Ritchie entertained pleasingly with two solos, "Vespers" and "Song of Peace." He was accompanied by his mother Mrs. R. Ritchie. Mrs. R. Kingdon gave a reading "How It Began." The group in charge served refreshments and a social hour was spent.

Mothers Aid Home Study Teacher Explains

MA Club of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met Monday evening in the Guild Room and had as guest speaker, Miss Margaret Green of the city teaching staff, who gives home instruction to students absent through disability.

Two classes of pupils come under Miss Green's direction: the permanently home bound and the transients. Permanently-bound children are not able to attend classes at any time, while transients are absent for shorter periods due to some illness.

"The mother holds an exalted position in the life of such children," the speaker stated and described how work is made interesting to them at home through the mother's help. "Success of the pupil depends on the ability to read and comprehend what is read. Home guidance, or training, is very important here as the child reaps from school according as he is trained in the pre-school years," she said.

"Solitary play and social play should both be encouraged," Miss Green advised. "Concentration is taught through solitary play and co-operation through social." In conclusion the teacher states "The student of today is the man of tomorrow and he will be a good product of good training or a poor product of poor training."

President Mrs. H. Hewitt introduced the speaker. A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. J. McLeod.

Mrs. F. Whitton led in devotions. A thankoffering meeting was planned for April 25.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. F. A. Montgomery and assistants.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are a hostess to a small group of women and the talk becomes very depressing.

WRONG WAY: Let it go in that vein as long as your guests keep on with depressing topics.

RIGHT WAY: Turn the conversation toward lighter subjects so that your guests will not leave feeling in a depressed mood.

Millbrook Man Marries In London

MILLBROOK, March 29 — (ENS)—At Adelaide St. Baptist Church in London, Ontario, on Saturday, March 19, Albert Edward Stinson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Percy Stinson of Millbrook, married Marian Amy, daughter of Dr. A. F. Barnes and the late Mrs. Barnes of London.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress and short train of white silk crepe with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves pointed over the hands, apron effect at the front of th skirt, and veil of silk illusion held with a bandeau of brilliants and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of pink carnations accented in blue.

Mrs. T. E. Woodsworth, of Toronto, was matron of honor, wearing turquoise blue crepe, with matching tulle headdress and wristlets. Her bouquet was of daffodils and Talisman roses. Jack Stinson of Ottawa was his brother's groomsman and the ushers were David Barnes of London, brother of the bride and Conrad Stinson of Cobourg, the groom's younger brother.

Mr. J. H. Potter of Toronto, uncle of the bride, sang before the bridal party entered the church and during the signing of the register. William Carey was at the organ.

A reception followed at the Highland Golf Club, Mrs. E. Arneil, the bride's aunt, wearing black crepe with matching hat and accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. F. P. Stinson, mother of the groom, wore a dress of wine crepe with hat and accessories in a matching shade and corsage of salmon pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Stinson left on their wedding trip to Hamilton and other points, the bride travelling in a dress of figured silk crepe on grey ground, matching hat and accessories and black Persian lamb coat. They will live in London.

The groom is a veteran of World War II having served with the RCNVR. He was born and brought up at Millbrook.

Home and School Association News

PCVS ASSOCIATION

Regular meeting of PCVS Home and School Association was held Monday evening in the gymnasium in the form of a health meeting. Mrs. E. McIlraith, health convener, had obtained a chart from the Department of Health showing its various functions and had a display of literature. Also a poster depicting the work of the child health clinic was shown.

Miss Doris Fenner of the Collegiate staff directed a physical training demonstration by girls of Grade 12. They were Marney Hollingsworth, Joan Seymour, Carol Roper, Mary Elizabeth Rowell, Rayma Brown, Lois Paddock, Betty Pritchard, Dot Martin, Dorothy Jackson, Jean DeNure and Betty Scollard. The girls did the "Sword Dance" and then gave an exhibition of rhythmics as they are taught in PT class.

Miss Fenner described what is taught in the physical education period. "The training is divided into three parts" she said. "Rythmics and dancing, which includes folk, square and social dancing, gymnastics with emphasis on posture, and games including basketball, volleyball and badminton." Since the gymnasium space is limited the girls get only 18 minutes actual floor practice and it is hard to cover the program in this time. The games are left for after-class teaching, the girls getting two days each week. Swimming is taught twice a week at the YWCA and includes diving and life saving work.

There are also Athletic Associations for girls and boys in the school. These raise money, aside from dues, for the various athletic needs through games and public exhibitions.

Health teaching is started in Grade I with physiology which gives the student reasons for practicing good health rules Miss Fenner said. Respiratory diseases are explained in middle school with emphasis on prevention and in upper school they teach community health, again stressing the preventive angle.

Mrs. O. Laderach thanked Miss Fenner and her pupils.

Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, president, extended congratulations from the Association to the victorious girls' basketball club, also the Dramatic Club which won second prize at Kingston Festival recently, and the Grade Nine Choral Club which won second prize at Kingston recently, and the Grade Nine E Choral Club which took first prize in the Kiwanis Festival.

Mrs. L. Carlyle read a letter from the little French girl, "Collet" which thanked the Association for a Christmas parcel sent to her.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. G. H. Frise and her committee during a social half hour.

Tiny Easter Tintypes

Family album fashions take a bow in Easter finery for small fry. Reminiscent of an Edwardian dandy's coat is the velvet-collared, pin-checked worsted topcoat with matching trousers modeled by the young cyclist (far left). His companion's sporty plaid washable flannel suit combines tall trousers with a short bolero jacket. The little girl promenades in a Victorian-styled, high-waisted coat of pink wool covert with matching poke bonnet.

Little Victorians in Family Album Returned by Children's Designers

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK, — (NEA) —Any resemblance between the small fry's Easter finery and little Victorians in the family album is not mere coincidence.

Dressing up the apple of Mom's eye in revival fashions, which are held in such reverence this spring, is the avowed purpose of designers of togs for both little boys and little girls.

Take the spring collection of Merry Hull, for example. This gifted designer who caters to little fellers—infant-size and up to six — creates "tintype" suits, in which worsted pin-checked suitings are used for velvet-collared topcoats.

A practical feature of the Hull-designed coats for four-to-six year-olds are detachable velvet collars which, when removed from the coat, leave fresh self-collars below.

Ensembled with the topcoat are tall trousers and short bolero of matching "tintype" checks. Construction features concealed inside of these slick ensembles provide for beanstalk growth. This This allowance for rapidly lengthening arms and legs is tucked into cuffs and hems of jackets, and also includes removable side tabs and adjustable shoulder straps on trousers.

As much letting-out allowance is tucked inside suits designed for the boys of four and under. His sporty togs for Easter can be a bold plaid suit of washable flannel with a two-button bolero jacket and tall trousers. Designed for this young gent's shirt needs are specially-constructed white cotton blouses with round collars and plenty of letting-out provisions.

The little girl who wants to wow Pram Row with her Victorian fashions can step out on Easter dressed in a pink coat of wool covert with a poke bonnet to match. These two Bambury-designed nifties—a high-breasted coat and chin-tied bonnet—are trimmed with brown faille.

Treen-Irwin

Mark St. United Church was the scene of the marriage on Saturday of Ilean Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. Andrew Irwin and the late Mrs. Irwin of Peterborough, and Layton Frank Treen, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Treen of Kirkland Lake. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. E. W. Rowland.

The bride chose a gown of white satin with lace, styled with sweetheart neckline and lone sleeves coming to points over her hands. She wore a shoulder veil of fine lace caught to a crown of lily of the valley and carried a bouquet of red roses. Only attendant was her sister Miss Velma Loreen Irwin, frocked in blue and wearing a crown of yellow roses to match her bouquet.

Mr. Norman Treen was groomsman for his brother.

The bride's sister, Mrs. James Dunlop, 217 Mark St., was hostess for the reception and for the occasion wore a black ensemble and corsage of red roses.

For a short wedding trip the bride changed to a pale green dressmaker suit and black accessories. The couple will reside at 517 Glengarry Ave.

Need to "Sell" Democracy YWCA Conference Told

KITCHENER — "If you believe in democracy and in the democratic way of life, it is your responsibility to take leadership and 'sell' democracy all the time."

This challenge was given by Mr. I. G. Needles in a keynote address to the 100 delegates attending the Y.W.C.A. Central Ontario Regional Conference held in Kitchener over the weekend. The conference had as its theme, "We'll Take Democracy."

Should Equal Communists

"The Communists have their line of talk—do we have our line of talk?" he questioned. "Do we know why we believe in democracy?"

For the sake of protecting democracy, thhe Kitchener sales executive urged delegates to become informed about the political workings of the country. He asked them to take an interest in candidates for public office and exercise their vote. Mr. Needles termed the small percentage of citizens who vote as "one of the shames of democracy."

Their interest should continue after an election, he declared, with constituents taking every opportunity to tell their wishes to their elected representative.

Discuss Theme

During the two-day conference, lively discussion groups on the theme were conducted by Mrs. Nelson Chappel, young adult program secretary of National Council; Mrs. Ryrie Smith, Toronto; Mrs. C. D. Foggerty, Galt, and Miss Olga Johnson, Peterborough.

Reports on the findings of these groups were brought in at a panel discussion.

All delegates agreed that democracy was based on the value and dignity of the individual. Both democracy and Christianity were being threatened today, she said, in asking the delegates to meet that threat.

Should Take Action

Miss Ruby Leach of Peterborough reported on the discussion of "Democratic Procedure in the Group." One of the main arguments for democracy was that it was "the only Christian way of life." Y.W.C.A. members, it was felt, could take action against anything they saw to be undemocratic.

From Central Toronto "Y", Miss Elizabeth Thompson summed up the workings of democracy within the Y.W.C.A., which provided a chance to take responsibility and develop free expression of ideas.

Fifteen delegates from Peterborough Y.W.C.A. and two staff members attended the conference.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Need Be No Millstone Around Neck of Husband

DEAR MISS DIX: Two years ago I married a clever ambitious man and, although he loves me and is good to me, I can see at times that he is ashamed of me because I do not know what to say to people nor how to dress properly. My husband would like for me to entertain, but I simply can't do it because I don't know how.

Dorothy Dix

A WIFE WHO IS A DRAWBACK.

ANSWER: You are wise to realize that the most devastating emotion a husband can feel for his wife is for him to be ashamed of her. It will kill his love quicker than anything else on earth, for it touches his vanity to the raw. She represents his taste, his judgment. She bears his name and is part of himself, and he cannot endure for other women to smile covertly at her gaucheries or lift their eyebrows at her appearance.

So, my dear lady, it is time for you too get busy. Have somebody who speaks beautiful English teach you how to talk. Get her to correct your grammar, your pronunciation, and to teach you the patter of the day, for it is just as bad to be too precise and stilted as it is to be too unconventional in your speech.

Read Newspapers, Magazines

Next read the newspapers and the magazines so that you can keep up with current events. Read books. Join a literary club in which good books are read aloud and discussed. Apply yourself to learn what's going on in the world and before very long you will be able to carry on an intelligent conversation with anyone.

As for clothes, go to a good dressmaker and put yourself in her hands. Perhaps the reason you are ill-dressed is because you are overdressed and don't wear the right things at the right time. Then get Emily Post's book on etiquette, which will tell you how to entertain at home.

The American woman is the most versatile creature in the world, and I am sure you can make yourself anything you want to.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a woman of 27, madly in love with a divorced man who has one child, a little girl of 8. When he was divorced the court gave him the child, so if I married this man she would have to live with us.

Now I have a deadly hate in my heart for his former wife and I hate his child because she is also her child. He contends that I should just forget it and that my jealousy is childish. Do you think time will change my attitude when I am married to him?

JANET B.

ANSWER: No, because jealousy grows by what it feeds upon, and the more you brood upon this subject, the more morbid you will become. The more distorted your vision will be, the less capable you will be of seeing things in their true proportion.

But don't marry this man if you hate this little girl. It is a crime against both of them. A stepmother takes a great responsibility upon herself, and unless she can be a real mother and give a mother's love and tenderness to her husband's children, she has no right to take their young lives in their hands.

It seems to me that you are deliberately ruining your life by indulging in this orgy of hate. If you want to be happy, if you even want to keep yourself sane, you must put that away from you or otherwise it will poison you, body and soul.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What can a mother do when she sees her son growing into a spoiled, self-centered, selfish man, all because the girls are constantly running after him? Girls take him to places of amusement in their cars, although he has a perfectly good car of his own. He breaks dates with them when he pleases, with no apologies. When I tell him that I am shocked at his treatment of girls, he says I am old-fashioned and that girls do the chasing now.

Must the girls of today use this method to get their man?

MRS. X.

ANSWER: In every age women have been wise to the love game, and doubtless the modern girl uses drastic measures to get her man, but there is no denying it does spoil him and is poor pre-preparation for marriage. For if a girl has chased a man before marriage, he will naturally always think that she should be so grateful to him for marrying her that she should spend the balance of her life trying to please him.

Many Crippled Children Discovered When Too Late

TORONTO, March 29—"The average crippled child in Ontario is doomed to inadequate care unless outside centres come to their aid. It takes more than an average income to provide care and comfort for a crippled child. And in many cases, even with a fair income parents cannot bear the extra expense."

"It is quite possible, within a few short years for a family to spend in excess of $5,000.00 on a child crippled with polio. This is more than a working many pays off as payment on a purchased home." This statement issued by the Easter Seal Campaign Committee of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children emphasizes further their statement that the aid and work arranged by them through almost 200 Ontario Service clubs is not charity, but a must to alleviate crippling conditions.

Organized by Service Club members from all over Ontario, the Society is selling some 85 million Easter Seals in Ontario to help raise funds for such work. Travelling orthopaedic clinics, special transportation for treatment, survey to discover afflicted children, supplying of appliances, special constructed and operated camps, orthopaedic nursing and physiotherapists and other aids are supported by Easter Seal Funds.

3,000 Given Attention

The Society records show that over 3,000 children received clinical attention through this organizational setup last year. Not all the cases are charity. But unless these clinics were available many children would never have received this individualized and highly competent diagnosis and treatment of their afflictions. In all, over 50,000 children have received aid since the Society was first formed by the Clubs in 1922.

It is estimated that through these agencies medical men have supplied over six million dollars worth of services without fee. As the years go by the work increases children who may have never received aid are discovered through organized surveys. These services are operated through such clubs as Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Kinsmen and others. Value of this work is proven when statistics show that certain types of crippling conditions such as rickets and tubercular bones have declined. The main concern is the discovery of crippled children who may not be known to authorities.

6—In Memoriams

ARMSTRONG—Amie F. Armstrong who passed away March 29, 1948.
One year has passed and since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away
God took her home, it was His will,
Within our hearts she liveth still.
—Sadly missed by friend

ARMSTRONG—Amie F. Armstrong, who passed away March 29, 1948.
A wonderful mother, woman and aid,
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, loyal and true,
One in a million, that mother was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all you knew,
A wonderful mother, that, mother was you.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter Edna and son-in-law and grandchildren.

GRAHAM—In loving memory of a dear dad, Albert Graham, who passed away March 29th, 1942.
You're not forgotten father dear,
Nor ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last,
We shall remember thee.
—Always remembered by his family.

6—In Memoriams

GRAHAM—In loving memory of a dear husband, Albert Edward Graham, who passed away seven years ago.
Just thinking of you, dear Albert,
And the days that used to be,
I miss your loving kindness
And all you meant to me.
For years we were together,
Heart to heart and hand to hand,
But you were the first to journey,
To that fair and better land.
Will you watch and wait my coming,
When my lonely life is o'er,
Will you come and meet me Albert,
When I reach that golden shore.
—Loving wife, Jennie.

KELLY—In fond and loving memory of David J. Kelly, who departed this life one year ago today, March 29 1949.
"A beautiful memory, dearer than gold,
Of a Dad whose worth can never be told;
Above, unseen, he stands by my side
And whispers 'Don't' grieve, death cannot divide.'
Deep in our hearts his memory is kept,
O one we love and can never forget;
And though the years may be many or few,
We will always be thinking dear Dad of you."
—Sadly missed and always remembered by daughter Florie and son-in-law Lynn.

MORROW—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Pilot Officer Harold E. Morrow, City of Windsor Squadron, who lost his life in Italy March 29, 1944.
A tribute of love and remembrance
To a dear one gone to rest;
The joys that he missed on life's highway
May he find in God's garden of rest.
—Ever remembered by Mother, Dad, Sisters and Brothers.

STARK—In loving memory of a husband and dad, Robert P. Stark, who passed away March 29, 1948.
"A tribute of love and remembrance
To a dear one gone to rest;
The joys that he left on life's pathway
May he find in God's garden of rest."
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

STARK—In loving memory of our grandfather, Robert Stark, who died one year ago, March 29, 1948.
"We who loved you, sadly miss you,
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near."
—Always remembered by his grandchildren.

City Plumbing Bylaws To Be Revised

Main traps and breather pipes may be omitted from new plumbing by an amendment of the plumbing bylaw recommended to the council by the board of works Monday night.

"It means a difference of $65 in the cost of a plumbing job," said Ald. Doug Miller, chairman of the sub-committee that devoted many meetings to the revision of the plumbing and building bylaws.

"This optional change is backed up by Dr. Berry, head of the sanitary department of the provincial Department of Health," said Ald. Miller. "Main traps and breathers are not required in the National Building Code and in the new plumbing code the province is bringing out. A lot of municipalities, including Peterborough, have them in their bylaws, but many of those places are now taking them out.

But there is nothing to stop a man from putting them in if he wants to do so.

Ald. Miller said every fixture in a house had its own trap, and in the Wartime Housing plumbing main traps were not used.

Changes Recommended

The amendments to the plumbing bylaw submitted by Ald. Miller were:

"All plumbing jobs must be authorized by permit; two inspections of the work will be given without charge, but, above that number, there will be a fee of one dollar for each inspection lasting 30 minutes or less. If the inspection time is exceeded, there will be an additional charge of $1 for each 30 additional minutes or part thereof.

Section 66 of the bylaw be amended to provide that all equipment, material, power and labor necessary for inspection and testing shall be furnished by the plumber.

The bylaw shall provide that anyone installing plumbing in their own property must deposit a marked cheque for $50, which will be returned to him when the work is completed to the satisfaction of the plumbing inspector.

In new construction or alterations to existing structures, any cutting of floor joists, beams, stringers, etc., must be done by a competent carpenter in such manner as not to weaken the structure."

The final clause of the amendments is: "That the installation of main traps and breather pipes in either new building, or alterations to existing structures, be made at the discretion of the owner or builder."

Ald. Miller said that the amendments proposed for the building bylaw were being withheld for the present, pending issue of a condensed form of the National Building Code that is being prepared for cities of population up to 50,000.

"We can then check our bylaw and amendments with the code, instead of changing the bylaw now and having to do the checking later."

Ald. Miller said the required deposit of $50 was new only in the amount asked of the builder. At present the office of the city engineer demands $100, but the committee considered that half that amount was sufficient for the purpose of the bylaw. One of the wishes of the committee was to continue the general level of quality, but also to afford some financial relief to the people building houses.

Prairie Cities Dub Festival Eastern Show

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—Flurry of protest is blowing over the selection of competitors in the Dominion Drama Festival.

Regional winners from Manitoba and Saskatchewan have been left out. Three productions which did not win regional honors are listed for the Festival here April 25-30.

Hopping-mad over their exclusion from the 12 companies to be seen on the boards during the all-Canada finals, little theatre groups in the prairie cities are dubbing the Festival "an eastern show."

But Regional Adjudicator Robert Speight, who recommended the list of finalists to the Festival executive committee, is standing firm. He insists that the winning regional play should not automatically go into the Festival.

"Many good plays won't be shown in the Festival because the (Festival) standard is so high," he said in an interview. "The plays were chosen on absolute merit."

Festival chairman D. Park Jamieson of Sarnia said that because of the "exceptionally high standard" of three-act entrants and the committee's desire to ensure only the best in Canadian theatre, he regretted it wasn't possible to include all regional winners.

"It seems to me this is an Eastern show, not a Dominion drama festival," commented Norman Browne, Region Chairman of the Dominion Drama Festival from Regina.

Mr. Speaight saw about 65 plays across Canada and of the 10 Canadian-written ones, he selected two for the finals. These are "Fortune My Foe," winner of the English Eastern Ontario Region which was written by Playwright Robertson Davies, Editor oft he Peterborough Examiner, and "Over the Boiler Room" written by William Digby and produced by the London Little Theatre. The London entry was one of the non-winners in the Western Ontario Region.

The other two non-winners in regional festivals which were invited were: "The Taming of the Shrew" by the Peterborough Little Theatre and Moliere's "Les Femmes Savantes," by the Cours Francois Rozet, Montreal.

Strikers Urge MPP's To Join Picket Line

PARIS, Ont., March 29 (CP)—Striking employees of Penmans Limited, to-day sent letters to all CCF and Labor-Progressive members of the Ontario Legislature inviting them to take part in a picket line demonstration as soon as the Legislature has prorogued. The letters denounced the Ontario Government for having chosen "to line itself up with the owners of industry," and also said: "This Government has in effect, given aid and comfort to the company in its effort to defeat our strike."

Blanket Winners

Winners of two blankets each in a drawing held recently by the Parkhill Youth Committee in the Dixon House are as follows:

Mrs. E. M. Piper, 1204 Monaghan Road; C. Kingan, 46 Kingan avenue; Mrs. M. Holt, 469 Water street; R. J. Harper, 581 Gilchrist street; Miss Dorothy Harle, 336 Rubidge street; A. Saunders, 610 Lundy's Lane; Miss N. H. Snowden, 805 George street; Mrs. Abe Septala, 685 Stormont street; Miss Lenore Manly, 243 Princess street; and A. V. Mason, 669 Armour road.

The winners may receive their blankets by calling at the residence of M. Board, 181 Charlotte street.

Ice For Rink Waits Only Toronto Grant

The Park St. Arena refinements were briefly disposed of by the board of works Monday night.

The $43,500 installation of ice-making equipment and terraza floor gets approval when the Council receives positive information that the Ontario Government has approved the expected grant of $10,000 to the rink fund.

That was the substance of a motion by Mayor Swanston, seconded by Ald. J. E. Gillespie. It referred to the report of a special committee appointed to consider some time ago improvements to the rink to extend its usefulness and utility in the community.

Estimated cost of the ice-making apparatus is $34,500, and of the floor is another nine or ten thousand.

The city's contemplated expenditure at the arena is simply made conditional on the $10,000 appropriation by the Government for the rink as a community recreation investment.

Escapes Death Second Time In Car Crash

OWEN SQUND, March 29 (CP)—Cecil Smith of Owen Sound and Park Head who miraculously escaped from a truck which plunged into the Sydenham river Saturday night, carrying Guy Aickin, 27, to his death, was a passenger Monday night in a car involved in a second crash two miles east of here.

No one was hurt and damage was light in this second accident, in which cars driven by William Lister and Nathan Wright, both of this city, collided.

He should walk in future, Provincial Constable J. E. Lightfoot told the 26-year-old Smith.

Prices Irregularly Mixed At Toronto

TORONTO, March 29—(CP). J Prices were irregularly mixed in moderately active dealings on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials climbed in early dealings, reflecting firmness in New York, but showed signs of weakening at mid-season. Base metals held steady and golds and western oils were easier.

Volume for the first three hours was 408,000 shares, about 56,000 shares less than yesterday's similar period.

Early activity in industrials was strong following announcement of a reduction in margin requirements in the United States from 75 per cent. to 50 per cent. A few prices here moved in sympathy with the increased activity and strength in New York and then slackened off.

Base metals showed little reaction to the third reduction in lead by American Smelting and defining in a month.

GIVE $20 BONUS

With a view to bringing salaries into line with the cost of living the Board of Education on Monday night decided to pay a $20-a-month cost of living bonus to new teachers and employees other than janitors. It would be retroactive to the first of the year.

TERRIER RETURNS

Five-year-old son of Constable L. A. Rodregue, who lost his Toy Terrier last week, is all smiles again. He had almost given up hope of finding the dog when Mr. Fraley, a nearby resident, took it home safely to him. The terrier had strayed and had been reluctant to leave Mrs. Fraley's home

Few Turn Out To See Famed Swimming Club

Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club contributed towards the YWCA's campaign to raise funds for the reconstruction of the Association's buildings in Europe by presenting an ornamental swimming revue Monday. This club has a fine reputation throughout Canada and United States and is always assured of large crowds of eager spectators when presenting exhibitions away from home. But Peterborough failed to support the club on Monday and a brilliant display of swimming was seen by only 35 or 40 people.

There were a number of exhibitions by groups of swimmers which were original in their planning and skilfully executed. Perhaps the most accomplished swimming was displayed by a group of nine girls, all AAU champions. Their synchronisation was near perfect and neat formations resulted from excellent timing.

Two 14-year-old girls, Maureen Finn and Mary Ruttherford, who are competing this year in the National Novice Competition at Detroit, presented a well executed duet and Jean Millard, an AAU champion, displayed great skill as a soloist. Norma Grant, Beverley Rumary and Joan Combes were an accomplished trio and the last two introduced a humorous note with an amusing interpretation of two would-be ornamental swimmers.

The display was preceeded by a brief explanation by Mrs. Paige Rowell, President of Peterborough YWCA, of Europe's need for new buildings and YWCA facilities.

The program was announced by N. C. Munro, manager of the club and Jessie Powell, swimming instructress. Pansey Forbes is the club's coach.

Ken Hopkins Heads Motorcycle Club

Kenneth Hopkins was re-elected president of the Kawartha Motorcycle Association Monday at a meetin held at his home. This will be his second year as president of the club. Other officers are: vice-president, Harold Lapp; secretary-treasurer, Robert Brightman; club referee, Clare Heard; social convenors, James McIlvena, Norma Gray and Jack Williams, and in charge of publicity, Mary Heard.

Charter for 1949 is to be renewed with the American Motorcycle Association. President Hopkins was named Assistant District Commissioner for Ontario at a meeting of the American Motorcycle Association in Toronto, February 26. A race date was proposed for July 2.

Next meeting of the Association will be held April 11 at the home of Norma Gray, 151 Stewart St.

Italy Has "Blackout"

ROME, March 29 (Reuters). — Italy's industrial north Monday began a week of electricity "blackout" caused by the winter drought. The power cut will last each day this week from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., and will paralyze factories throughout the big cities of the north.

W. A. Patterson Dies In Hamilton

A former Peterborough resident, Walter A. Patterson, 55, of 101 Arkell Ave., Hamilton, was killed in Hamilton on Friday when his car was struck by a CNR passenger train near the eastern limits of the city.

Mr. Patterson was born and raised in Peterborough and learned his trade with Adamson and Dobbin before moving to Hamilton. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson who resided at 302 Park St.

At the time of his death he was the head salesman for the Empire Brass Co. Just prior to the accident he had visited a factory near the tracks.

Closest relatives of Mr. Patterson still residing in Peterborough are his aunt, Mrs. Sarah Moore, Hunter St. E., and Alex Patterson, Aylmer St.

The passenger train was going from Hamilton to Niagara Falls. According to witnesses, Mr. Patterson did not react as though he knew a train was coming, for although the wig-wag was working and a warning bell was ringing he did not slow his car as he came to the intersection.

His car was flung about 45 feet east of the intersection and Mr. Patterson was found 36 feet past that, police report.

Demands Action On Seaway Plan

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Representative Clarence Kilburn (Rep. N. Y. today said "immediate consideration" by the United States of St. Lawrence Seaway legislation is "imperative."

Kilburn made public a letter to the Public Lands Committee of the House of Representatives asking that the several seaway bills introduced in the house be given an early hearing. He added:

"It is impossible for me to impress upon you the crying need for this long-deferred, worthwhile development."

Kilburn observed that "large segments of industry," heretofore opposed to the St. Lawrence development, now favor its construction and that the project "must be undertaken at the earliest possible opportunity."

Canada's Overseas Market Governs Standard Of Living

A warning to businessmen, farmers and Canadians generally, that our overseas market is declining, was given on Monday noon to a Rotary luncheon meeting by Professor William M. Drummond, an Ontario Agricultural College economist.

"We have a situation at the present moment where our exports to other countries are seriously declining," he said; "and I am not talking about any particular kind of goods, but about goods in general."

"This country is an international trader," said Professor Drummond, "It depends on international trade more than most to maintain its present standard of living."

To illustrate his point he cited trade statistics: In 1944 and the first half of 1945, half of all the good made in Canada found markets outside of Canada. He con- 1948 exports accounted for about mally high but declared that in 1948 exports accounted for abuot a quarter of the Canadian national income; and a third of the population was depending on the export industries for its existence.

"The No. 1 problem facing us now is the establishment of multilateral trading so that we in Canada can convert English pounds into American dollars. At the moment the question of controvertability is postponed."

"Unless we can export our major products in large amounts on satisfactory terms we cannot hope to maintain in this country the standard of living to which we have become accustomed," Prof. Drummond declared.

Internationally Minded

Because of this, he said, the people of the Dominion "have no choice but to be internationally minded."

A hint that all might not be well economically despite the Marshall Plan was dropped. "It may be that right now there is a temporary reverse to international recovery," he stated.

It is estimated that over the four-year period envisaged in the Marshall Plan a total of $17,000,000,000 will be spent by the United States; individual grants will be made each year.

For the first year $5,000,000,000 was granted, and the speaker said that the indication of recovery would be a gradually diminishing grant each year until the 19 nations included would be "standing on their own feet" by 1952.

That time would be when each country is able to pay for the goods it imports with the goods it exports, he stated.

But the joker in this economic deck, Professor Drummond pointed out, was the problem of whom these European countries were going to export to in order to be solvent.

"They must export most to countries with the most purchasing power—and that includes us. The United States, Canada and the United Kingdom are by far the greatest world traders and that means they are not only exporters but importers as well."

Trade Among Themselves

Professor Drummond said that the European nations in order to to conserve precious dollars were tending to trade among themselves. Since the Second World War they have worked out about 300 distinct barter deals among themselves.

By these internal barterings the European nations are not necessarily buying in the cheapest market, and are forcing up the prices of their own finished articles which they hope to sell on this continent, he contended.

The dilemma, he stated, was that we do not want their high-priced produce and they remain unable to buy from this continent because they lack dollars.

He briefly traced the history of the now-historic Marshall Plan. By 1947 the European nations had exhausted their buying power and were unable to produce for export. And they had little gold to offer creditor nations.

Place Trade Restrictions

Because of these circumstances they had no alternative but to refrain from buying and that year they began to put tariffs, embargoes, and other restrictions on goods from the Western Hemisphere. If this policy were continued, the speaker declared, the nations would face the alternative of recovering by themselves or not recovering at all.

There were three aspects to the problem, he said: first, plans for recovery would be slowed up; second, exports from North America—and to a degree South America — would seriously decline; and three, "the hopes of Europeans were going to be replaced by fear and frustration." "And the poor people of those countries were going to be compelled, although reluctantly, to accept Russian assistance."

"If Russia got control of the western European countries its influence would extend to the Atlantic Ocean," said Professor Drummond, "and it was clear that the remaining democracies would be required to undergo a defence effort so large as to make previous ones look like child's play."

Turning to the aspect of self interest, he stated that it was also obvious that if we on this continent could not export, then our export industries would close down.

Disastrous Cycle

He traced the possible disastrous cycle: those employed in the export industries would be unemployed; if they were unemployed they could not consume the products of the domestic industries; this would force employment cuts in domestic industry with a further loss of consumer demand. A general depression would likely follow.

"No party in this country—or in the one of the south—was willing to face the voters with unemployment, and all that goes with it. Thus the Marshall Plan which came at Harvard University in 1949."

After the war, practically no thinking people in business or government quarters thought that the post-war prosperity would last for more than two years. Yet it has lasted longer than the experts predicted.

Cites Artificial Measures

Why? Because "international, artificial measures on a tremendous scale have been undertaken to keep the machine going," the speaker stated.

Outright gifts, low-priced long-term loan, and such agencies as UNNRA were cited. But the greatest "artificial measure" of all was the Marshall Plan which he described as a "demonstration of international assistance the like of which the world has never seen before."

He then made studied observations on Canada's economy.

"This country of ours is supposed to be not only large but extremely rich from the standpoint of natural resources." It was a commonplace, he said, that Canada had full employment, prosperity, and that it could absorb untold number of immigrants.

Variety Limited

He agreed with much of this but qualified the generalization by saying: we do not have an infinite variety of resources; the ones we have are good, but there are not too many."

Large sections of the country depend on one or two industries to maintain them, maintained Professor Drummond. Saskatchewan, and to a certain extent the other Prairie Provinces, are faced with the prospect of raising wheat or nothing. Other regions are equally dependent on producing base metals or cutting pulpwood, he declared.

Because Canada is limited in the variety of its production and because overhead costs is high (such as railways) he said that it is necessary to pay particular attention to specialization and produce more units than the domestic market can consume.

Must Export Products

It follows, he said, that because of this peculiarity in the Canadian economy, the country must export its surplus production and this makes it especially dependent on foreign markets.

For these reasons, and also because of the country's climatic limitations, he said he thought it would be permanently necessary for it to import if the present high standard of living is to be maintained.

"In the long run imports must be paid for by exports. That is one reason why we have no choice but to indulge in international trade."

Professor Drummond was introduced by Frank Paterson and thanked by David Davidson. President Hamilton was in the chair.

Omemee Legion Plan Street Fair

OMEMEE, March 29 — The Omemee Legion held its second regular meeting in the Coronation Hall on Thursday with 40 members present. The president, Ross Widdis, officiated at an initiation ceremony, eleven new members being admitted. It was decdied to hold the regular meeting on the first Thursday of each month and an executive meeting on each fourth Thursday.

Plans were made for a dance to be held on April 8. Each member is to be allowed to bring an extra couple. Tickets will be $1.25 per couple including lunch.

It was also decided to hold a street fair, dance and draw on May 24th which means a continuation of the many exciting times in Omemee on that date before the war. Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt led a discussion on charter night.

The business meeting was followed by cards and refreshments. The meeting adjourned to meet at the big dance on April 8.

Leap To Safety

SIFTON, Man., March 29—(CP)—A mother led her two small sons to safety early Monday and her husband jumped from an upstairs window as fire destroyed three stores here. The fire, which caused damage estimated at $90,000 swept the commercial centre of this small town 20 miles northwest of Dauphin, destroying the largest general store, a butcher shop, a bakery and a large stock of lumber in an adjoining yard.

Italians First To Sign Pact

WASHINGTON, March 29 — (AP). — Count Carlos Sforza of Italy Monday led parade of Foreign Ministers converging on Washington to sign the North Atlantic security pact.

Sforza flew to New York, one week ahead of the time when 11 to 12 Foreign Ministers are scheduled to sign the treaty that would link their countries into a tight defensive alliance.

The Foreign Ministers of four other countries, Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, meanwhile neared the United States aboard the liner Queen Mary to be on hand for the occasion.

A second batch of Foreign Ministers, headed by Robert Schuman of France, is scheduled to reach the United States by plane on Thursday and Friday.

Sforza's early arrival time aroused speculation that he intends to discuss some strictly Italian problems with the State Department. These would include Italy's oft-repeated desire to keep her former African colonies under United Nations trusteeship.

Funeral Service Held For John O'Neill

MARMORA, March 29—(ENS)—The funeral of John O'Neill was held from the family residence in Marmora township on Saturday morning. Requiem mass at the Sacred Heart Church was celebrated by the Rev. H. Burial took place in the Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Plan Hospital Inquiry

WINDSOR, March 29—(CP)—Mayor Reaume expected a report ahead with plans for an inquiry at Metropolitan General Hospital despite lack of official notification from the Ontario Government. Mayor Reaume expects a report Monday from L. Cumming, city solicitor, setting out the powers of city council to conduct an investigation under the Municipal Act.

Transfer Ministries To Jerusalem Site

NEW YORK, March 29 (CP)—New York Times said Monday in a dispatch from Tel Aviv that the Israeli government has decided to transfer five of its ministries to Jerusalem.

The Times says the Israeli move serves notice on all concerned "that the Israeli-controlled area of Jerusalem was considered part of the new state.

The ministries slated to move to Jerusalem, the Times says, are health, education, culture, social welfare and war victims. Sections of other ministries also will be transferred.

250 Wild Ducks Go Over Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 29—(CP)—A flock of 250 wild ducks was swept over the cataract in the Niagara River Sunday night and Conservation Officer Roy Muma has opened an investigation. Nearly all the dead fowl were covered with grease and it is believed they struck a grease sludge in the Upper Niagara River, making it impossible for them to take off. The birds will be shipped to the Department of Lands and Forests.

No More Dosing For Constipation

Famous cereal frees woman from harsh laxatives

Searching desperately for constipation relief? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"For 10 years even strong medicines couldn't help me. At last my doctor in England advised KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I began to eat this breakfast cereal and soon realized I was better. I eat ALL-BRAN regularly now and can definitely say I am free from constipation!" (Name given on request).

You, too, may never have to take another harsh laxative for constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. Just eat an ounce of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily—and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome regulating cereal. Eat as a cereal, or in muffins for constipation relief. If after using one package you are not entirely satisfied, get double your money back as guaranteed on the package. Buy delicious ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Made by Kellogg's of London, Ontario.

Sell Beaver Meat

LONDON, March 29—(CP) — Unrationed beaver meat from Canada was sold by two London butchers Monday for 3s 6d (70 cents) a pound as Britain's meat ration cut went into effect. The cut reduced the weekly ration from 10d (17 cents) to 8d worth of fresh meat a person. In addition, each person was entitled to 2d worth of canned beef weekly.
